CANDIDATES MAKE DEBUT

The 1998 Princeton Royalty candidates made their debut on January 8 at the arena mezzanine as they came forward to receive their banners.

Seven candidates will undergo the rigorous training program to prepare them to become Miss Princeton or Princess.

As each candidate came forward for her sponsor banner, she was assisted by Miss Princeton Laine Westran and Princess Kim Kerfoot.

The training program began immediately. Last weekend the candidates learned about hair care, cosmetics, and modelling. Their next session will be January 25, when they will learn about the importance of good nutrition, as well as receiving a lesson on deportment.

Lessons will continue throughout the spring in preparation for the pageant at Racing Days.

WORKSHOP PLANS YEAR

A workshop to be held January 28 will plan the coming year for local Chamber of Commerce members. The Chamber directors decided to canvass members for attendance at the workshop via fax.

One of the major topics for discussion at the January 7 directors' meeting centered around the potential for making the Princeton area a destination for snowmobilers. Directors looked at a magazine for snowmobilers and reviewed advertising costs.

They concluded that the rates would be affordable if a number of local businesses bought a share of the advertising. The ads will not be purchased until the next season.

Directors expressed satisfaction with the local events calendar created for the Chamber. The directors praised Lori Thomas for putting it together. Several members bought calendars and one ordered some for his business.

GAMING PROPOSALS GO TO NEXT STAGE

Lotteries Advisory Committee chair Peter Clark released a list last week of the 23 casino and nine bingo gaming facility proposals that have passed the first approval stage. These proposals have received host local government support and will now move to the next stage of the evaluation process.

Ten of the original 49 proposals received by November 28 did not receive local government support by the December 29 deadline. The Lotteries Advisory Committee has returned those proposals to the proponents along with submission fees.

Seven proposals for gaming facilities in the City of New Westminster may be evaluated further depending on clarification from that city on its local government resolution.

Vital components of proposals include a viable business plan (including infrastructure needs such as water, sewer and parking), an economic development component for destination facilities, and a detailed market assessment highlighting the total market potential of the proposed facility as well as the potential impact on any existing gaming facility within the same market.

Both charitable and destination casinos are restricted to a maximum of 300 slot machines.

Casino proposals near our area include First Nations Reserves at Hope, Osoyoos, Kamloops, Penticton, and Merritt. Lake City

Casinos in Penticton submitted a proposal.

Destination bingo halls (7 proposals) include Desert Flower Resort Casino Corp. at Osoyoos First Nations Reserve and another at Westbank First Nations Reserve.

New facilities will be approved only if they do not have a material impact on existing charitable facilities.

SIMILKAMEEN AVENUE GAINS HIGHWAY ACCESS

Residents of Similkameen Avenue will have access to Highway 3 along the former road used for access. The east end of Similkameen Avenue was closed off several years ago. Residents were obliged to turn right, then left, to join Burton Avenue in order to access Highway 3.

Residents lobbied Town Council for an exit to the highway from Similkameen Avenue, pointing out the possible hazard of having no exit during a flood situation.

After consultation with

Ministry of Transportation and Highways officials, Council received an approval to proceed with providing access to the highway via the old road, but only for the purposes of leaving Similkameen Avenue. No access from the highway to Similkameen Avenue will be granted. Vehicles leaving Similkameen Avenue to the highway must turn right onto the highway.

Council will begin work on the exit in the spring. Councillor Dan Sulentic said the signage would cost an estimated $100.

WINTER ARRIVES IN THE 3 LAKES AREA

By Patti Harrower

Residents of Osprey Lake and the surrounding area have been kept busy shoveling snow from roofs and driveways.

After two months of warmer than normal temperatures and below normal snowfalls, Winter has finally arrived. Nearly 30 inches of snow has fallen since Christmas.

Although temperatures are still approximately 10 degrees above normal for this time of year, they have been remaining below freezing for the most part since the holidays. Lake ice, which had been unsafe until recently, has reached a thickness of approximately inches under a snow blanket over two feet.

Area fishermen have been on the ice, but for now, fishing on the Osprey Lake is poor. "It's just a cycle," says one fisherman. "The fish will be biting again soon."

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY ELECTS OFFICERS

Princeton Hospital Auxiliary held its annual general meeting on January 7 in the board room of Princeton General Hospital.

Cathie Orser, giving her year-end report, told members, "We've done exceptionally well."

The Auxiliary welcomed the first man to join the Auxiliary in its 80-plus years of operation. Blaine MacLean, with his wife, Vanessa, have become members after living in Princeton a short time.

Orser told members that there were 21,456 flu shots given in the South Okanagan Health Region last fall, and increase of 6,000 over the previous year. The demand required the work of 30 public health nurses and many on-call nurses, with one of the health units reporting huge numbers of flu shots given daily in November.

High numbers dominated the reports. There were 81 pairs of knitted slippers sold last year, with one knitter having turned in 60 pairs on her own.

Volunteers logged 7,000 hours of work, the hospital gift shop donated $2,000 to the hospital, and countless tray favours were made for special occasions. For Christmas, the Christmas dinner trays for patients carried a Santa Claus made of pine cones.

Diane Graham conducted the election.

Cathie Orser was returned as President, with Ruth McLeod as First Vice-President and Betty Gauvin as Second Vice-President. Patricia Mills will serve another year as Secretary, as will Mitzi Hilmstedt as Treasurer. Audrey Salter is publicity chair.

An excess number of books at the Thrift Shop will be contributed to Tulameen's library.

Tentative plans have been made to enter into a joint venture with the museum to put on a fashion show and silver tea in recognition of the fortieth anniversary of Princeton's museum.

Hospice Society asked for accommodation under the umbrella of the Auxiliary, and was welcomed. The hospice volunteers assist the terminally ill and their families. The Hospice Society will remain a separate entity, but will be assisted by the Auxiliary.

The meeting ended with a social gathering and refreshments.

CHAMBER SELECTS LIGHT-UP WINNERS

Coalmont Hotel took the top award for Christmas lights. Judges were impressed by the community involvement in the project at Coalmont. The historic hotel was outstanding.

There was a tie between Princeton Motel and Golden Hills Grocery.

"Princeton Motel was like a fairy tale when you walked in," one of the judges commented.

"Golden Hills Grocery had its own style. Both were unique."

The Dawson residence on Osprey Lake Road took top residential award.

"You could drive along the road, and there was nothing. You turned the corner, and suddenly, it was like a little town. It was so neat," a judge said.

The Rae Dobson residence featured a Santa's Workshop and a skating rink.

Residential second place was a tie Annarose Powell's residence at #7, 171 Penryn Avenue tied with Terry and Bruce Kiloh at the sign shop across from Coalmont Hotel.

The Powell residence showed a great deal of effort had gone into lighting and decorations. The Kiloh shop was painted with a mural of early Coalmont. The mural was lighted and both the painting and lighting impressed the judges.

Winners will receive plaques from the Chamber later this month.

TULAMEEN CLUB ELECTS 1998 TEAM

The Tulameen Community Club held its first meeting of 1998 on January 8. Following a regular meeting, a new executive was elected. The 1997 executive offered a pair of "diamond earrings" to anyone who would take the position of president. There were no takers, so Gina Hall remained President. Marg Reichert kept her seat as Vice President. Leslie Hassell was voted in as Treasurer and Barb Reichert accepted the position as Secretary. New Directors are Judy Merenick and Loretta McDiarmid.

The Community Club expressed thanks to the outgoing executive, Gina Hall, Marg Reichert, Susan Later and Kathy Koller, for doing a wonderful job in 1997.

The new executive is looking forward to working for the community of Tulameen in 1998.

WOMAN PLEADS GUILTY

Elaine Bond, of Princeton, pled guilty in Provincial Court in Princeton to a charge of common assault. Charges arose as a result of an incident in a local store on April 6, 1997.

Information read to the court on January 8 stated that Bond had grabbed a boy by the neck, bruising and scratching him, because she believed the boy was talking about her when he was talking to another boy in the store.

Crown Counsel recommended an assessment of Bond prior to sentencing.

Judge G. Sinclair ordered a pre-sentence report be prepared.

HEDLEY OAPO SET FAST PACE

Ann Casperson
Hedley reporter

1997 has been a busy year for us! We started our new addition in May, 1997, and completed the building for a grand opening party in September, 1997.

Princeton and Keremeos OAPO members were among the 88 people who attended.

Monthly pancake breakfast and pot luck suppers were held. Our Saturday night weekly bingo games were well-attended and the Wednesday luncheons, run by Mabel Johnson, helped raise money to pay our mortgage.

On December 25, we held our annual "Don't Spend Christmas Alone" dinner, which 30 people attended. Thanks to donations from valley businesses, and wonderful dinner was served and enjoyed. The dinner preparations were supervised by Bonnie Collinge.

The executive sincerely appreciates all of the hard-working volunteers who keep our club going. We had a good year, thanks to them, and we look forward to 1998, Hedley's Centennial Year.

We hold regular meetings each month, open to anyone age 19 or over. Everyone will enjoy our community-based activities.

BRITISH COLUMBIA WILL SUE

A former B.C. Supreme Court justice and one of B.C.'s oldest law firms will prepare the province's lawsuit against the Canadian tobacco industry.

Thomas Berger and the law firm Bull, Housser and Tupper jointly presented the successful proposal in an extensive search for counsel to represent B.C. in legal action against Canadian tobacco companies.

"The American experience has shown that legal action can be very effective in forcing positive change," Health Minister Joy MacPhail stated, "We want big tobacco companies to admit the truth and take responsibility for the damage they cause, instead of pretending to be good corporate citizens while carrying on a deliberate campaign to addict kids to tobacco."

Berger will act as senior counsel for the province in this action, working with a specialized legal team with broad experience in health care and products liability litigation.

"Children -- and society as a whole -- have a right to be protected from a highly addictive substance that can kill or injure those who use it," said Berger, "That's what tobacco does. The tobacco industry knows it but it has continued to target children while denying both the addictive property and health consequences of its product. It's time to ensure it takes responsibility for the human and financial toll its product has exacted for far too long."

MacPhail said the lawsuit is an important element of B.C.'s tobacco reduction strategy which funds a variety of education and enforcement activities. These include school-based prevention programs, hard-hitting public awareness messages, an award-winning web site and heavier fines and longer suspensions for violations of the tobacco sales regulations. Annual funding for the strategy increased from $2 million to $5 million this year.

The legal team has been retained on a straight fee-for-service basis, unlike most of the U.S. states where similar cases are being prepared under contingency agreements with the law firms. The legal team will begin work immediately.

PMHA MAKES GOOD USE OF GIFT

A ninetieth birthday saved hockey for Princeton beginners this year.

When Princeton Minor Hockey Association finished final registration last fall, there were only four children in the Tyke program. The mine closure had a devastating impact on families in Princeton.

The Association executive was greatly concerned about the longterm result of four in the Tyke division and only ten in Novice division. There would be no hockey in Princeton in four years.

The executive brainstormed and decided to do "whatever it took" to fund a program for the little children.

Registration fees were cut from $175.00 to $75.00, and equipment was provided for the players.

Sally Nault says, "We knew we would have to work hard to raise the money to offset the reduced registration fees, but we felt we could do it. But we had no money for equipment!"

The Association hoped to have two teams, so they could play each other. Going out of town was not possible, as the families did not have money to cover travel expenses.

At that point, Jaymie Atkinson approached Princeton Minor Hockey Association to present a cheque for $1,000 from her grandfather, Frank Chase. Atkinson had not known of the desperate situation the Association faced, but had complied with her grandfather's wishes to give his birthday money to Minor Hockey. Tara Atkinson had suggested it to her great-grandfather.

Nault went shopping for gear immediately. A Penticton company was so touched by the situation that the company provided enough gear to equip 24 players.

Thanks to Frank Chase, the beginner hockey players will be equipped and should be sustained for the next three years.

"It should help us through to where the families will be back on their feet again," Nault says.

The gift to Frank Chase on his birthday became a precious gift to youngsters in Princeton.

"We could not have done it without the generous gift this family shared with us," says Nault.

COUNCIL OKAYS BUDGET

At the January 5 Town Council meeting, Councillors approved a provisional budget. This budget is a legality Council must observe in order to continue the business of running the Town of Princeton operations.

The final budget will not be approved until the mill rate is set. The deadline for final budget is May 15.

NATURALISTS TAKE QUIZ

Princeton Naturalists will be quizzed on their knowledge of local flowers, birds, grass and mosses at this month's meeting on January 19 at 8:00 p.m. in the museum basement. Trish Reid and Janina Wetselaar are preparing a challenging series of questions. The public is welcome to try their acumen and luck at beating the group.

The next hike on January 25 will traverse the old Kettle Valley Railway line between Spukunne and Siwash Creeks. An easy, level stroll through the wintry wilderness. Meet at 10:00 at the Spukunne Creek crossing of the Osprey Lake road, just north of the 27 km. post. Bring a lunch and warm clothes. Let Madelon know you are coming (295-7078).

Rebels Cheerleaders take a much-needed break during the junior girls tournament January 8. They were energetic, enthusiastic boosters for the Princeton team.

JUNIOR BOYS WIN

Princeton junior boys basketball team played two exhibition games on January 6, winning both.

The first game saw Princeton facing Glenfir of Summerland. Princeton took the game 57 to 43.

Shaun Swanson is credited with 10 points, and 17 rebounds. Clayton Swanson made 14 points, Dustin Pasco 12 points, and Connor Wicks 8 points and 14 rebounds.

The game started with some casual play. The boys seemed uninterested at times, but came back with an outstanding fourth quarter that made the big difference.

The second game placed Princeton opposite Summerland Community Team. The final score was 77 for the home team, and 57 for Summerland.

Shaun Swanson earned 24 points, with 12 rebounds and eight steals. Clayton Swanson made 16 points and eight steals, Dustin Pasco shot 17 points, and Connor Wicks took eight points and 12 rebounds.

The boys played this game with a lot more energy. Our full court press produced a lot of turn-overs.

The boys are improving in every game and their confidence levels keep rising. We are now at three wins and two losses on the season. However, we are 0 and 2 in the league.

TRIAL ENDS IN PROBATION

Maxwell Gordon stood trial in Provincial Court in Princeton on January 8 on a charge of assault.

The charge was laid following an incident on July 18, 1997, when Gordon's wife told police she had been beaten.

The trial was lengthy. Gordon acted as his own counsel. During the course of questioning Mrs. Gordon on cross-examination, Gordon admitted that he had slapped and punched his wife in a dispute over who should have two vases.

Gordon was subsequently ordered to serve a 15 month probation with recommendations for general counselling and for anger management counselling.

Visitors test Rebels

Princeton Junior Girls basketball team, the Rebels, met a strong test on January 8 as they faced the Summerland girls. The play was too tough for the Princeton girls from the outset, but they stayed with it to the end, cheered on by home fans and the Rebels Cheerleaders. Summerland took the first game against the Grade 8 girls 44 to 8 and the second game against the Junior Girls 66 to 6.

Games are open to the public and extra cheering is welcomed. Playing for the Grade 8 team were Alania Lay, Jana Greeley, Jodie Lewis, Sarah Brown, Michelle Aurther, Sara Liberatore, Colby Logan, Jen Cleven, Shana Wright, Melissa Parolin, and Jen Aurthur.

Players on the Junior Girls line were Erica Timms, Leticia Stacey, Jamie Nesbitt, Jamie Goebel, Kristen Boyce, Krista Szczepanik, Sara Pattison and Merideth Porter.

Ice storms ravage east

The ice storms, or freezing rain, that have wreaked havoc on eastern Canada remind us of the potential for disaster in a Canadian winter. The problems faced by homeowners in eastern Canada are not going to be solved for a month or two.

Downed power lines, collapsed hydro towers, frozen pipes, broken trees, icy roads, and exhaustion of emergency workers have contributed some measure of difficulty to the situation.

On Monday morning, a total of 11,000 members of Canada's armed forces were deployed to various locales hit hard by the storm. Their assistance relieves overworked emergency crews and helps solve some of the most pressing problems. The soldiers can evacuate people from cold homes to emergency shelters, cut away downed trees, and take supplies to those in need.

The armed forces cannot solve some of the problems. The need for heat in homes without power cannot be solved until power is restored. Frozen domestic water pipes will wait until power is restored.

One of the worst problems in any area comes from downed domestic power lines. On street after street, domestic power lines were wrecked due to falling trees or broken branches that fell onto power lines. The proud old maples, beeches and oaks are the pride and joy of eastern Canada, but the old trees are brittle in the cold, and break easily. Many trees split in half as a result of being top heavy.

The plight of people in eastern Canada is serious enough to have kept Prime Minister Jean Chretien and the premiers of Quebec and Ontario from leaving Sunday with other premiers on a trade mission planned for the past six months. The Prime Minister and premiers must be ready to make fast decisions regarding deployment of armed forces and major expenditures to correct the situation.

Dr. Ida Graf-Blaine

M.D. C.C.F.P.(C)

Dr. John Adams and Vermilion Medical Center are pleased to announce the arrival of Dr. Iad Graf-Blaine.

Dr. Blaine comes to Princeton from Comox. She has been working in Comox and various communities throughout B.C. where she has received excellent reviews from her colleagues and associates.

We extend a warm welcome to Dr. Graf-Blaine and hope she enjoys our community as much as we do.

Dr. Blaine is arriving on January 15th and will be available for scheduled and walk-in appointments.

HART WANTS EAGLESON'S AWARD BACK

Nearly four years after a U.S. grand jury indicted him, Alan Eagleson has now been sentenced to 18 months in a provincial jail. Eagleson was the organizer of five Canada Cup series and helped create the 1972 Summit Series. He has been a Progressive Conservative member of the Ontario legislature and president of the provincial conservative Party. He was a hockey agent for Bobby Orr and the executive director of the National Hockey League Players Association. Now he is in jail. The former hockey czar, who is accustomed to wearing a pin-striped, three-piece suits, has been issued a two-piece denim outfit, with T-shirt and running shoes.

Canadians, I still hold great memories of Paul Henderson scoring the most famous goal in Canadian hockey history to win that '72 Summit Series between Canada and the Soviet Union at the height of the Cold War. Few people at that time would have believed that the charismatic organizers of that series would eventually admit to charges of fraud, racketeering and embezzlement after illegally collecting big dollars for advertising contracts and sponsorships. It was money that was supposed to be used for players' pension funds and disability programs. Instead, Eagleson diverted funds, pocketed millions, and, under the guise of helping young rookies start their careers, took them for plenty.

Egleson held a position of trust, not only with the young players, including those who literally came to his rescue during tense moments in a Moscow rink, but with all Canadians. We all had faith in him and trusted him and we showed our gratitude in 1989 by awarding Eagleson the Order of Canada, the highest honour our country bestows. This same honour has been awarded to great Canadians such as Rick Hansen, Dr. Roberta Bondar and Margaret Atwood. We now learn that Eagleson gained this honour through deception and fraud. In my opinion, the House of Commons should take action to strip this award from Eagleson.

What do you think? Write to me, postage free at 301 Main st. Suite 203, Penticton, B.C. V2A 5B7

MINISTRY PROMOTES ABORIGINAL HEALTH

The provincial government is providing $65,000 to the B.C. Association of Aboriginal Friendship Centres to help fund an Aboriginal Youth Conference in Prince George March 16-19, Minister of Education, Skills and Training announced January 8.

Funding will be contributed by the ministries of Education, Skills and Training, Aboriginal Affairs, and Health.

"Research strongly supports the need to address the issues of the aboriginal youth population, including social, economic, educational and cultural barriers," said Ramsey, "A much lower proportion of aboriginal youth complete high school and post-secondary education compared to the general population and a much higher proportion experience unemployment. We want to help our aboriginal youth break down these barriers."

"The is a powerful forum for change," said John Cashore, minister of aboriginal affairs and labour.

EL NINO BAFFLES SCIENTISTS

The El Nino wave remains a mystery to scientists. Theories have formed and discarded as the warm Pacific current returns.

A few facts are proven. Scientists now name the phenomenon El Nino/Southern Oscillation or ENSO. They do know a few things for sure about ENSO. El Nino begins with a change in air pressure over the southeast Pacific and the Indian Ocean. The Indian Ocean is usually a low pressure area and the Pacific is high. When the Indian Ocean becomes high and the Pacific is low, an El Nino begins. Volcanic activity has been a forewarning of the El Nino phenomenon. For the past century, El Nino has followed a major volcanic eruption. When Pinatubo erupted in 1991, El Nino began.

What is not known is whether El Nino is a response to changes in air pressure or to the cooling effects of volcanic dust in the atmosphere, or whether the El Nino is part of a much longer worldwide cycle.

The El Nino is named for the Christ Child, because the early Spaniards who invaded North America noticed El Nino arrived at Christmas time. The El Nino current operates as part of a five-year cycle but is not entirely predictable. The next warm current can begin from two to seven years after the first.

WE HEARD WRONG NEWS

We indicated in our January 6 issue that a local man had died in an avalanche. We took the news from a major media source and learned that source was incorrect.

A young woman, daughter of Jim and Yvette Stolth of Tulameen, was among the victims of the avalanche.

OUR VIEW

We have a good life here

A volcano has come alive in California, where recent rains have created highway hazards throughout the southern half of the state. The same day the rains came, a tornado hit Long Beach and tore apart buildings.

In Ontario and Quebec, New Brunswick, and Newfoundland, freezing rain (called ice storms in the east) have downed trees and power lines. Eighty thousand Ontario homes were without electrical power and nine hundred thousand homes were blacked out in Quebec. The maritime provinces and states suffered the same weather. Further south, the heavy rains brought down the two feet of snow and fed rising flood waters, much like our experience in 1995.

China had a massive earthquake near the Great Wall. Over twenty thousand people are homeless.

Sicily began experiencing tremors as Mt. Etna, an active volcano, began preparations for an eruption.

In Princeton area, we had some snow and a highway was closed. We had a bit of cold weather, but the sun came out and we always like sunshine around here.

The point of this editorial is to make our readers feel really good about where they live right now. Sometimes, when we count our blessings, we forget to count the bad things we did not endure.

We hope you had a chance to enjoy the sunshine. The daylight hours are growing longer, and one of these days we will wake up in the sunshine. Until then, we can feel good about no earthquakes, tornadoes, downpours, freezing rain or volcanoes in our back yard.

YOUR VIEW

SAY THANKS WHEN YOU CAN

Dear Editor;

The recent skiing tragedy and news release that a Princeton physician was missing and presumed dead touched everyone deeply. It was a bittersweet week as we prayed, lit candles, worried and wondered "who was it?"

It made us realize how fragile life is, and how we take people for granted, not just our beloved and skilled doctors, but anyone who touches our lives and crosses our path.

Many of us live with energy and gusto, busy earning a living, caring for our loved ones, and serving our community the best way we know how. In our "busyness" we often forget something: to take time to say "thank you, I appreciate you".

Many wonderful words are left unsaid until it is too late. A small community is like a close-knit family, and each event, happy or sad, touches us.

God bless all those who have touched our lives in a special way, and "thank you for being there".

"There are two ways of spreading light, to be the candle or the mirror that received it." (Edith Wharton).

WHAT OUR PEOPLE ARE DOING

BY LORI THOMAS

CAL SEAMAN

If you have been downtown early enough in the morning after a night's snow, you must have seen Cal with his snow shovel. Cal cleans the sidewalks that nobody seems to care about.

He is also our unofficial evening patrol. Cal makes his rounds to say Hello and to make sure all is going well with the storekeepers.

Thanks Cal, for being one of Princeton's caring citizens.

PATTI HARROWER

You may have seen Patti delivering for Princeton Printers, leading the Princetones Choral Group or singing on her own, but Patti has another side. She is one of our Newsleader writers. Patti covers the news and events that happen on the Osprey Lake Road (Hwy 40) from the Lakes all the way to Princeton. If you have any news for her, she would appreciate a call at 295-0203.

Patti also writes short stories for children in our Kids Zone section of the paper. She writes the children's stories under her pen name of Patty-Ann Peal as these stories are her own creations.

Watch for Patty & Patti's stories.

AARON HERRICK SCOTT ANGSTADT

Last winter, Aaron, Scott and Brent Yamada curled on a Kamloops team skipped by Cory Heggstad. They went through the Curling Playdown to the final game and the chance to represent BC in the Provincials. It came down to the last rock. The more experienced Barry McFee team had to draw to the button. The beat Aaron & Scott's team by a mere 6 inches. That's what I call close!

Aaron & Scott are with the same team again this year and you can bet they have their sights set on the Briar.

We wish them the best of luck. We will keep you posted on their progress.

If you have any information you would like to share on Princeton's people, past or present, old or young, here or gone, give me a call at the News Leader: 295-4149

LALI SAYS LIBERALS ARE NEGATIVE NELLIES

This year's Christmas and New Year's holiday season was a welcome break for my family and me. In the past, we always seemed to be rushing to do things.

This year Rani, our two children, and I kept it low key. We spent nearly all of our time with relatives and friends in Merritt at Christmas. For New Year's we drove to be with the expanded Lali family in the Lower Mainland.

Unlike in other years gone by, I was actually very relaxed and excited at the same time about going back to work on Monday last. 1997 was a good year for me personally. Being an eternal optimist, I am determined to make 1998 even better.

Not even all of the recent gloom and doom and negativity coming from the B.C. Liberals and the provincial media can deter me. I have witnessed this very same scenario from the Right many times during the last six years I have been an MLA.

While the NDP government continues to make progress and works positively toward a brighter future, nothing, and I mean nothing, changes for the Gordon Campbell Liberals and the provincial media. They are still sore over the results of the last election.

B.C. has had the strongest economy in Canada for four of the last six years. Despite this strong performance, we also recognize that the B.C. economy, as the gateway to the Asia-Pacific, is currently experiencing slow growth.

B.C. clearly faces challenges in our forest industry and a number of other areas that are heavily dependent on trade with the faltering Asian economies. We are working to meet this challenge. However, we do not share the doom and gloom of the B.C. Liberals.

Harry Lali, MLA
Yale-Lillooet

It is a testimony to the fundamental strengths of the B.C. economy (despite the downturn in the forest sector and in the Asian economies) that it continues to grow and jobs are created. Jobs are being created in new areas such as high-tech communications, film industry and tourism. The NDP government has had a hand in helping to create these successes, i.e., in the film tax credit.

B.C. Liberals are quick to overlook our economic successes and to magnify our areas of difficulty. That is what Opposition is all about, but our job is to govern so we get on with expanding our successes and deal with areas of difficulty.

On the success side, B.C. is the only province in Canada to have increased funding for health care every year for the last six years. This increase in spending came despite hundreds of millions in federal cuts to the province to pay for Medicare. These federal cuts were supported by the B.C. Liberals.

Gordon Campbell, in the last election, planned to cut spending in health care by over $1 billion, so that Liberals could give tax breaks to their friends. B.C. Liberals also went to Alberta last month to learn from Ralph Klein how to cut health care spending. Alberta is a province where many hospitals have been closed and health care funding has been slashed by hundreds of millions of dollars. Three hospitals have been closed in Calgary, two in Edmonton, as well as many smaller regional hospitals around Alberta.

Despite massive federal cuts, the NDP government is making progress. As New Democrats actively plan for, and eagerly look forward to the 21st century, Gordon Campbell and his pessimistic band of negative-Nellie Liberals want to turn back the clock to a bygone era.

NEW FEE ON HOME PRODUCTS

Solvents, pesticides and gasoline producers have opened the first eight of 35 industry-operated collection depots in B.C. for the return of leftover and unwanted household hazardous wastes, Cathy McGregor, Minister of Environment, Lands and Parks, announced on January 9.

"Until now, a large amount of leftover household hazardous waste, such as paint thinners and domestic pesticides, has been sent to landfill or down the drain," said McGregor, "This poses a threat to human health and the environment, particularly to fish habitat and water quality."

Over the past two weeks, collection depots have opened in Vancouver, Port Coquitlam, Abbotsford, Chilliwack, Greater Victoria (two depots), Surrey and Richmond.

During the next 12 months, 27 additional depots will be established across the province.

Products that can be returned to collection depots include turpentine, paint thinners, lacquers, polishes, paint strippers, varsol, camp fuels, unused gasoline and a wide range of household pesticides.

The provincial government introduced a new regulation requiring industry to develop and operate a safe and comprehensive collection program. The March 1997 law was requested by industry to ensure that all manufacturers would be required to participate.

"By holding producers responsible for properly managing leftover solvents, flammable liquids, domestic pesticides and gasoline, we are working to ensure that these products are diverted from local landfills, waterways, and sewers," said McGregor.

She added, "In addition to establishing collection depots, producers will also be working on educating consumers on how to properly use the products they purchase. Education and public awareness is key to protecting the environment."

To fund the program, most product manufacturers have chosen to charge an eco-fee on the sales of solvents, domestic pesticides and flammable liquids. The fee, which went into effect January 1, is collected and managed entirely by industry. The fee is 40 cents per litre of solvent or flammable liquid and 60 cents per litre of domestic pesticide and must clearly be shown on sales receipts. Due to the specialized equipment required to meet the strict safety standards for the collection program, manufacturers have indicated that start-up costs associated with establishing the depots will be substantial.

RUMBLINGS FROM RUMPOLE

Christmas '97 has come and gone. A flurry of activity for many, a time of sadness for others, but through it all, a message of Peace and Goodwill as the travels of the Wise Men are remembered.

Heard of a Christmas story to be shared. Let me give it a try.

A family, these days, often must come to grips with, and accommodate, "second" families. These come in various configurations, adding children, new aunts and uncles, and the rest. This story has to do with that rarest of events: Mom and Dad getting back together and sharing with their grown children and many grandchildren, a country Christmas.

It seems that, as happens far too often, Mom and Dad found their differences too many, at a point some years ago. They parted with some of the difficulties that parting brings, but with the ongoing bond of sons and daughters to share and enjoy. These children had children and the grandchildren became another tie that could and would not be severed.

For whatever reason (perhaps He had a hand in it?) Mom won a trip to a sunny spot. What did she do? She invited her ex-husband to come along. What did he do? He said "yes", and only they know the details of that little holiday.

But what of the Christmas story? Well, it seems that Mom and Dad were not really sure how to tell the kids about their trip together. That something was going on became known when Dad called to say he was going with Mom. This happens a couple of weeks before Christmas.

And when Christmas arrives, young children who live some distance away, join their Dad for Christmas. A new baby has its first Christmas. Brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, a whole bunch of kids and teenagers gather in Princeton.

Oh, yes, Mom and Dad return from the vacation and arrive, together, to join the family.

The comment, to yours truly, that is to be shared, went like this:

"The coming together of my parents was a total shock. We all love them both and have and will always. This Christmas, when together they landed at our house, this was the very best Christmas present of all."

Most of us received presents this Christmas. The microwave is wonderful, the slippers are the best, the sweater is suspect (but it was knit by auntie), but the meaning of Christmas sure sounds like it came through to this family.

We always are urged to think, throughout the year, like we do at Christmas time.... of family, of friends and others in need, of small sacrifices we can make to give just a little bit to those less fortunate.

May the glow of "the very best Christmas present of all" help you keep that thought in mind.

From your friend, Rumpole.

HOROSCOPES

JANUARY 13 to 20

ARIES - Information coming your way seems negative this week. Critical remarks may discourage you. Anger this weekend comes from a wounded ego. Guard against self-pity.

TAURUS - Be patient for two more weeks. Good times are coming soon. Stay home this weekend and take life easy with an artistic hobby or peaceful recreation.

GEMINI - Positive energy reaches a peak this weekend. If you have a big project, go for it, but watch out for emotional challenges. Keep busy.

CANCER - Pay close attention to the messages you receive from partners and friends. Be lazy this weekend and guard against overdoing food, drink and fun.

LEO - Guard against people pulling ego trips on you. Don't fight or you will make matters worse. See the funny side.

VIRGO - You find emotional balance this weekend. Make the most of it. Don't take any risks with sharp objects.

LIBRA - Hold steady in spite of adversity. Use your energy to clean house or renovate. Prepare for major changes three weeks from now.

SCORPIO - Challenges reach a peak this week, but there is a silver lining. Use your energies to work through problems.

SAGITTARIUS - Keep your nose to the grindstone. Things will not improve for a while and hard work is your escape valve.

CAPRICORN - Messages become clearer, information comes more rapidly. Things are improving daily, but life is still challenging. Keep your focus.

AQUARIUS - Life is good. Enjoy. Work and fun begin to blend. You are making gains. Things are happening. It is a new lease on life.

PISCES - Look deeply into your inner self this week to identify what is really bothering you. Then ask yourself why you allow it to trouble you.

If you have any information on one of our locals, of any age, that you would like to share, please give me a call at 294-4149. I would like sports, recreation, scholastic, or any exciting developments in their lives.

THE SNOW FORT

by PATTI-ANN PEAL

Molly Jacobs looked out the window at the snow covering the farm where she lived. It was a perfect day for sledding.

"May I go up to the big hill, Mom?" asked Molly. "I want to try out my new sled. There's still lots of time before dark"

"Sure," said Mom. "Just dress warmly. I'll have some hot chocolate and fresh-baked cookies ready when you get back."

Molly quickly pulled on her snowsuit, boots, and mitts, grabbed her sled, and was out the door. Before long, she stood at the top of the hill. She could see her house way across the fields below. Down the other side of the hill was the big forest that Dad had told her was home to many wild animals, like deer and bears. Off in the distance sat the big red barn on the neighbouring farm.

Molly flew down the hill on her new sled. It was fast! When she reached the bottom, she turned right around and went back to the top. Up she went, and back down again, over and over. This was such great fun!

All at once, Molly saw that it was starting to get dark. She had been having so much fun, she had lost track of time. And, it had started to snow. It was past time to start for home.

As she walked, the snow came down harder and harder. Molly could not see where she was going! She had heard of people getting lost in snow storms when they were only a few feet from their houses, and she was still a long way from home!

"If I stay right here until the snow stops, I won't get lost," she thought. She knew she needed to stay warm and dry, too. The wind was blowing hard now, and it was getting colder. This was a real blizzard! "I know!" she thought. "A snow fort!" She and her dad had built a snow fort last year. It had been warmer inside it, out of the wind. Molly got busy. She packed the snow tightly into walls all around her. She built the walls as high as she could reach, then propped her sled against one sturdy snow wall, and sat down underneath it.

Molly wondered how long the storm would last. There was nothing to do but wait it out. She would probably have to stay in her fort all night long, even if it stopped snowing. It was too dark to find her way home now. She hoped it wouldn't get too much colder. Thank goodness she had on her warm, waterproof snow-suit!

Soon, Molly noticed that the storm had passed. She could not hear the wind any more, and the snow had stopped falling. Then she noticed something else. Someone was calling her name!

"Here I am!" she shouted. "Over here, in a snow fort!" She climbed up and over the wall. There was Dad, with a lantern lighting his way.

"I'm so glad you found me," said Molly. "I was afraid I'd have to spend the night in this fort!"

Dad gave Molly a big hug. "I'm glad you were smart enough to make a fort in the storm! Let's go home now, and get some of that hot chocolate Mom has waiting," he said.

Woman dies In collision

Princeton RCMP were called to a motor vehicle accident at approximately 12:00 noon on Saturday, January 12. The accident occurred on Highway 3, 25 km. west of Princeton. An eastbound vehicle lost control on the icy roadway and began fish-tailing. The eastbound vehicle swung into the path of an oncoming westbound vehicle and the collision carried both vehicles into the ditch.

The occupants of the westbound vehicle were taken to Princeton General Hospital with undetermined injuries.

The victim in the eastbound vehicle was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident.

The deceased woman is Elissa Marie Bogie, age 58, of Vancouver, B.C.

The accident is still under investigation by police.

Despite El Nino, snow and cold arrived for a typical Similkameen January.

NOVICES MEET THEIR MATCH

Novice rise to challenge

by S. Clifton

The Mac's Auto Parts Flyers had action both days this past weekend. The team has enjoyed tremendous success this season, to the point of having teams cancel games against them because they are so strong. Manager Dave Smith finally called Kamloops and arranged a Saturday game for our boys against a strong-skating Tier 1 team of all nine-year-olds. The match-up was great and the numerous spectators got to witness young players who played proficiently.

The game was back and forth with great passing and positioning, unusual for this level of hockey. Over six minutes into the action Josh Scarpelli hit winger Shaine Clifton with a perfect pass. Clifton ripped it past the netminder and set the fans cheering! In the closing minute of the period, Josh then set up Kyle Markin for Princeton's second goal.

The second period belonged to Kamloops. Princeton was forced to play flawless hockey because the strong Kamloops team capitalized on any given chances. Clifford Lindley and Nigel Mack played very strong defensive games for the Flyers. Reid Bicknell turned his speed up a notch and was unbeatable, digging for the puck along the boards. Kamloops scored three times and headed into the final period with a one goal margin.

Midway through the third period, Josh finally skated end to end and flicked the puck high to tie the game. The lead was soon relinquished when Kamloops scored a short-handed goal.

Rylan Mogge rose to the challenge of the skillful opponents and guarded his net with care throughout the game. Princeton went for the tie and pulled Mogge to allow them the extra attacker. However, Kamloops resisted the pressure and eventually popped in an empty-net goal to win the close game with an exciting 5 - 3 score. Super work!

On Sunday, an ever-improving ladies hockey team was asked to fill in for a cancelled team. Although the ladies brought in some ringers to aid their small roster, the Novice rose to the challenge. Their last meeting resulted in a tie and the boys, no matter who the ladies padded their line-up with, were not about to accept a tie this time around. On the first shift of the game, Pat LePoidevin blistered down the left wing and slid Lewis Smith a pass to leave the ladies in awe. Josh then scored unassisted. On defense for the ladies, number 13 (who is the mother of number 12 for Novice) scored on a screen shot from the point. Lewis added salt to the wound by notching three more goals and two assists. Rylan Mogge was hot on wing and blistered two goals in, while Shaine added an assist. The ladies relied heavily on Jake Greening to round up their scoring. Jake scored the natural hat trick, while Lorrie Clifton received an assist! The Novice team won this grudge match by a 7-4 score.
