

B.C.'s own Steve Nash, NBA player for the Dallas Mavericks, is helping the Aaron Heuser Memorial Basketball Camp. (See story)

NBA star helps our kids

While vacationing at Princeton's Castle Resort, Steve Nash spent time talking with Jim Manion. Manion told Nash about the Aaron Heuser Bursary for a basketball camp for local youth.

Nash is a Canadian basketball player who made it to the National Basketball Association after years of high school basketball in Victoria. He plays for the Dallas Mavericks after two years with the Phoenix Suns.

On his return to Dallas, Nash sent a number of personally autographed 11" X 17" photos of himself (as shown in the News Leader) which will be given as prizes at the first Aaron Heuser Memorial basketball camp to be held this fall.

There is a peculiar coincidence related to Heuser and Nash. Nash was one of Heuser's heroes, and Nash wears a number 13 jersey, the same Princeton Rebels number Aaron Heuser wore, and which was retired following Heuser's death.

Check changes before you hunt

Conservation Officer Al Lay is concerned about hunters who might ignore this year's changes in hunting regulations for antlered game - moose, elk and deer.

"There are lots of detailed changes, especially with regard to antlers and legal dates," says Lay.

Bow hunting starts now and runs to September 9, and bow hunters may shoot any buck. This is not the case for firearm hunting.

"Read the regulations very carefully," Lay warns hunters, "Any hunting license vendor has the latest regulations."

In addition to reading the regulations, Lay warns hunters, "Clearly identify what you're shooting at and make sure it's legal."

Problems and mistakes can arise due to the regulations about the number of points on the antlers.

"The brow tine is not considered a point," Lay states.

If a hunter makes a mistake, Lay says, "Call it in. If it was an honest mistake a warning will be issued. I don't want the meat left to go to waste."

Dear season (firearms) begins September 10 in Okanagan Region. Those hunting white-tail deer may shoot any buck between September 10 and November 10. For mule deer, four point or better bucks are the only legal game from September 10 to 30. From October 1 to 19, hunters may bag any buck, but from October 20 to November 10, hunters are restricted to four point or better. The bag limit is one buck.

Immature bull moose season is extended two weeks: September 10 to October 10 this year.

Cougar season is lengthened six weeks, November 15 to March 31.

Pumpkins sponsor weekend slowpitch

The fun starts Friday evening, when the Mighty Pumpkins host a four-day slowpitch tournament at Memorial Park. This annual event features 21 teams playing all day, every day, and under the lights Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

For added entertainment, Saturday evening offers a home run contest and a few other novelties.

No admission will be charged to go and see the games, and there is plenty of parking. Spectators may want to bring something soft to sit on and a jacket for the evening.

The concession will be operating throughout the weekend and other refreshments will be available.

The Mighty Pumpkins sponsor this tournament for fun and fundraising. The community benefits in many ways from their contributions, so drop in to watch a few games, buy a hot dog, and sit back to enjoy the action in the ball park.

Four local youth arrested for theft

On August 25, at approximately 2:15 a.m., Princeton RCMP Detachment responded to a complaint in Hedley of a suspicious vehicle. Persons from the vehicle were observed by a Hedley resident to be looking through business windows and going through private vehicles. The suspect vehicle, a red Ford Ranger pick-up, departed Hedley eastbound on Highway 3 without its headlights on.

A Keremeos RCMP member was contacted to assist the Princeton member patrols until they contacted or did not locate the suspect vehicle or the six or so suspects associated with it. As the patrols met, Keremeos Detachment was advised of a break and enter in progress at the Olalla Store on Highway 3A. Both members responded to the call sent in by an observant Olalla resident. The witness advised of eight suspects in a red Ford Ranger pick-up having broken into the store and departing north toward Penticton.

Penticton Detachment dispatched a member to intercept the suspects between the patrols. The suspect vehicle was located and stopped on Highway 3A, two kilometers south of Kaleden. As a result of the stop, a variety of items believed to be from the Olalla Store were located and seized, seven males from Princeton and Penticton were taken into custody, four of whom are Young Offenders. The matter is still under investigation.

Manion is ticked

Councillor Jim Manion described his feelings as "ticked right off" when he read a brochure called Rough Guides. Tourists pay the equivalent of $25 to $30 for the brochure, which has little good to say about our valley, and is downright inaccurate and insulting about Princeton.

The brochure describes us as follows:

"Lacklustre low hills ripple around Princeton's dispersed collection of drab, rather jerry-built houses. The motels - of which there are plenty - group around a large and grim lumber mill on the east side of town, but you're better off hanging on for Hope, another 131 km. on. If circumstances dump you in town overnight, try the Riverside Motel (295-6232; up to $40) at 307 Thomas St., three blocks north of the town center, with individual log cabins. The bus depot is at the west end of town by the good-value, cheap and cheerful Village Kitchen Restaurant, not so far from the virtually redundant info-centre (year-round daily 9 a.m.-5 p.m.; 295-3103) which is housed in an old Canadian Pacific rail wagon at 195 Bridge St."

Yes, that's Princeton's blurb in the guide to a general category of Border Towns of B.C.

Councillor Manion remarked, "There is a lot of money being spent on promoting tourism in this area and this thing is on Internet. People are finding lots of attractions here, but if they start out with this kind of guide, would they even stop in Princeton? I doubt it."

Councillor Manion noted that Ming Po, the Chinese language newspaper out of Richmond, visited recently and spent a great deal of time exploring the area. "This newspaper will be recom-

Alan Lawes, a Chamber of Commerce employee, unveils the plaque on the wooden bridge.

Walk highlights history

Eight Princeton landmarks now have plaques attached to them to describe some of the local history associated with each. The plaques were unveiled on the evening of August 24, as Princeton and District Chamber of Commerce led people on the historic walk outlined in their new brochure.

The first plaque was unveiled at the Post Office, followed by the unveiling of the plaque on the wooden bridge. A brief description of the historical significance of each site was given by one or more persons following the unveiling.

Steve Brodie unveiled the plaque on the Princeton Hotel, and he talked about the history of the hotel, which he claims has a "dinosaur liquor license".

The walk continued to the Court House and the adjacent Mine Rescue Building (now the BelAire Restaurant). Nearby, a plaque was unveiled to reveal the story of Driller's Rock, a fascinating relic of Princeton's past.

The Princeton Brewery once occupied the space where the Villager Motel is now and the Village Kitchen Restaurant. All that remains is a concrete wall in the sandstone bluff. In the same location, a cave which sheltered First Nations people and others in the early days, and now is merely history, received recognition as having been part of the sandstone formation.

The historic walk brochure has a map of the streets with a number code. For example, number one is the Post Office. The brochure shows the approximate location on the map, and gives a photo of Princeton's first Post Office as well as a brief history.

The brochures are available at the Chamber of Commerce Tourist Information Centre.

Chamber President Ernie Willis praised Alan Lawes and others who worked on the project, which had been identified as a priority at a meeting early this year. Town Council gave support to the project and helped fund the plaques.

mending a visit to Princeton", Manion said, "And emphasizing Princeton is only three hours from the Vancouver area."

Councillor Manion will be taking the matter to Town Council and to South Okanagan Similkameen Tourist Association for some kind of action to rectify the information being published by Rough Guides.

Racing Days honours members past hard work

George Elliott and Greg Jung were treated to a little party at the August 27 Racing Days meeting. Cake was served, and gifts given to two men who resigned last month from executive positions in the Association. Members wanted to show their appreciation for all of the hard work Elliott and Jung have done.

This meeting was the last until late February or early March. Ev Beale gave members a financial report which showed Racing Days '98 had made a profit.

"Every body was quite pleased," Beale commented, "We didn't expect to make any."

There will be enough money for start-up next year.

No replacement for former President Elliott or former Vice-President Jung has been found, but members expect to hold an election when meetings resume in 1999.

Back to business starts with barbeque

A summer get-together barbecue brought Princeton Business and Professional Women back to the business of the club for another year. They enjoyed a trip to Sandra Gould's country home for the barbecue and potluck supper.

Business matters included discussion of future plans and the fall regional meeting hosted by the Penticton club on September 26.

Merrilyn Huycke passed around photos of her show at the Gallery of the South Okanagan, and gave a brief report on the show's success.

As activity picks up momentum during the fall, BPW members will find themselves attending strictly to business, so the barbecue was time to share the summer's events and catch up on what friends are doing.

Hit and run

At approximately 5:00 p.m. on August 27, 1998, a hit and run occurred in the Overwaitea parking lot. A red Mercury Topaz was struck by another vehicle most likely a pick-up truck. The Topaz was parked legally with its front end facing the side of the Princeton Light and Power office.

If anyone has any information regarding this incident, please contact the Princeton RCMP at 295-6911 or CRIMESTOPPERS.

Hart apologizes

Jim Hart, Member of Parliament for Okanagan-Coquihalla, has issued a formal apology to the Reform Party of Canada for his criticism in August of Party leader Preston Manning.

In a letter to Mr. Gee Tsang, Chairman of the Reform Party, Hart said, "I sincerely regret that my comments with respect to the leadership were made."

On August 17, Hart offered his resignation from the Party. Subsequently, Reform Party Executive Council extended an olive branch and requested Hart reconsider his resignation.

Today Hart issued the following statement, "I apologize that my comments with respect to the leadership were made at my press conference and subsequent media interviews. The comments were a reaction to statements and memos made by others, not of the leader of the Reform Party of Canada. At the time, I concluded that the leader's thoughts were being communicated by others. I deeply regret jumping to this conclusion. It was a mistake."

Hart has also apologized to the Board of Directors of the Okanagan-Coquihalla Constituency Association, expressing his deepest regret for the events of the past 12 days.

Stated Hart, "I should have shared my thoughts fully with the directors prior to the press conference. I deeply regret the position that this placed the local Constituency Association."

Hart has asked that his resignation from the party be rescinded and stated, "It is now time to focus on big issues facing the nations: taxes, the falling dollar and defeating the Liberal government at the next election in 2001."

Order of Eastern Star W.G.M. Gladys Pierce (Black Jacket), W.G.P. Walter Verge (Black Tuxedo), Official Visit June 11/98 Masonic with officers.

Star hosts official visit

by Eva Mitrovitz

Order of the Eastern Star, Princeton Chapter, was pleased to welcome our Worthy Grand Matron, Gladys Pierce, and Worthy Grand Patron, Walter Verge, on June 11, 1998, for their annual official visit.

It was a festive evening at the Mason's Lodge with 46 members and visitors in attendance from Penticton, Keremeos, Merritt, Hope, Haney, Port Coquitlam, White Rock, North Vancouver and Nanaimo.

The highlight of the evening came when a 50-year membership pin was presented to Katherine Oxley by the Worthy Grand Matron.

Each year, the elected Worthy Grand Matron and Worthy Grand Patron chooses a special cancer project, to which all B.C. and Yukon chapters contribute, in addition to their usual local cancer projects. Worthy Grand Matron Pierce is also Grand Chapter Stamp Convenor and is very well-known for her work in raising funds for cancer projects. Usually, the B.C. Cancer Clinic is consulted and a special piece of equipment is chosen as our project.

This year, Worthy Grand Matron Pierce and Worthy Grand Patron Verge have approached Children's Hospital in Vancouver and now have a Wish List for the patients in the Intensive Care Unit. It is our goal, as members, to fulfill as many items as possible on the Wish List.

These young people, often in deep pain, often very frightened, often alone, enduring extensive and invasive procedures and therapy, are not always able to have family in full-time attendance. Our donations to this Wish List will go a long way in helping the medical staff make the children's lives easier and more bearable.

This is one of the things we do for our cancer projects. Our beliefs and our efforts come from who we are - members of the Order of Eastern Star.

Worthy Grand Matron Gladys Pierce, in her annual report on fundraising through used stamps, commented on the reduction each year of funds received through our efforts and the need for new members. Our members are aging, and younger, more energetic people are required if our work against cancer is to continue. Few households and families remain untouched by cancer, either through a family member or friend. Each year sees an increase in one type of cancer while progress is made against another. We believe we make a difference through our efforts.

We NEED your used stamps and envelopes, used and unused postcards, and computer paper. If you remove the stamps from the envelopes, please leave 3/4" to 1" of paper, where possible, around the stamp.

After stamps and envelopes are trimmed by the local chapter to a specified formula, they are delivered to Grand Chapter Convenor, Gladys Pierce, who then finds a market for them. The funds are deposited directly with the B.C. Cancer Clinic, which purchases the appropriate material for cancer bandages and supplies each chapter as required. The funds raised in this way are not handled by the local members.

If you wish to participate in this worthy project and require more information or pick-up, please call 295-3237 or 295-3351. Donations of stamps, envelopes, etc. may be dropped off at Princeton Light and Power office.

Dateline Tulameen

A "devolutionary" theory

by Joe Schwarz,
Philosopher and humorist

Devolution is the "in" word now, made famous by British Socialist Prime Minister Tony Blair in his devolution (or "transfer") of political power from London to Wales, Scotland and Ireland. Mr. Blair has reshaped British Socialism and brought it into the real world and England is now the leading (or close to it) economy in Europe, completely opposite to the Socialism practiced in the 40's and 50's under Atlee and Wilson, which compete with Italy for the bottom of the economic heap.

Very similar to what B.C. is experiencing at present. No doubt B.C.'s performance has influenced the fall of the loonie and one has to be aware of the similarity in this respect with the fall of the Russian ruble. Could it possibly be that some of our B.C. officials are successfully tutoring President Yeltsin that Russia's economy is falling and ruble is now crashing faster than ours? Russia is overwhelmed with debt. With the present rise of Canadian interest rates this has exacerbated

B.C.'s heavy debt. We should hope that we do not slide from our recession into a depression where our safety nets such as welfare, UIC, pensions, etc., go under and our money of lack of it will buy nothing.

The B.C. government is giving Princeton part of Tulameen Road. Mayor McLean and Princeton Council are now involved in the big "devolution" of the Tulameen Road and its maintenance. One thing about the Tulameen Road: it has character and movement. Sure, there may be some costs involved, but in Princeton accepting the costs, the Premier will be able to give a cut in taxes, province-wide. Not only will Princeton receive a tax cut, but the Mayor and Council will receive the prestige of being involved in this new phenomenon of devolution, rubbing elbows with its practitioners: Premier Clark, Prime Minister Blair and President Yeltsin. Mayor McLean and Council should consider the tax cut and hey! you can't put a price on prestige.

Fall Fair highlights

4-H Dog Club will welcome entries from Chilliwack and Summerland. Showmanship competitions will be at 1:00 p.m. Saturday. There will be a special event on Sunday at 10:00 a.m. Pet Show will be the regular show open to all at 4:00 p.m. Saturday.

TUG-O-WAR CHALLENGE:

The women who work at the Golden Nugget are challenging any other group of working women to try to pull them off their feet.

Tug-o-war requires a five-person team. There are three divisions: Men, Women and Mixed. To date, the Fair Board has not been advised of any men's or mixed teams. The tug-o-war is slated for Sunday afternoon, around 3:00 p.m., just before the auction. Midway show: Wagner Shows will open on Friday evening. On that evening, there will be no admission charge, as the fair is not officially open. The public is welcome to attend.

Registrations for adults close at 2:00 p.m. Friday, September 11. Junior Fair registrations close at 8:00 p.m. Thursday, September 10. All entries must be in by closing or will not be accepted.

Keremeos residents can pick up booklets with entry rules and categories at various fruit stands. Gordon Schneider will be picking up donated fruit and vegetables and entries at the fruit stands. Keremeos/Cawston/Olalla entries are always welcome.

POINTS OF VIEW

OUR VIEW

The web can kill

The article that annoyed Jim Manion is more important than many people will understand at first reading. In addition to spending a great deal of money on creating a good impression on visitors, we have spent a lot of money to lure visitors to our area. The money we spent on our town and our businesses for the sake of pleasing visitors is not worth a plugged nickel if visitors do not stop to visit. We need to spend money to attract people from a distance.

The article in Rough Guides carries a distinct deterrent to what we are trying to achieve. Had visitors not pointed out the article to local people, we may never have seen it. We are not likely to start looking for ourselves in travel guides on the Internet.

To understand how hard this article can hit us, try to imagine a conference call linking every tourist and potential tourist around the world. On that conference call, a travel guide tells them a certain place is "lacklustre" and not a place worth stopping to see. What is the economic effect on such a community after so many people have been told not to visit it?

Worse yet, the article tells people our motels are grouped around a grim sawmill. How many people want a motel next to a sawmill?

We know the article misinforms people, but if those people have never visited our area, how are they to know they have been misinformed?

As the worldwide web becomes increasingly a tool for finding everyday information, it is important to every community to ensure they have a good web site, and to check other avenues of information to see what is being said about their communities and communities nearby. The way Rough Guides reads, our valley is not worth a visit unless the tourist stops in Cathedral Park or Manning Park. We found ourselves and our neighbours described inaccurately in unflattering terms.

Our Country will be in real trouble if its Economy adapts to the record low dollar as fast as the Prime Minister has.

YOUR VIEW

There is a big difference, says critic

Dear Editor;

There is a great difference between private enterprise and free enterprise.

Private enterprise is what one individual and his or her family can do for their own well-being.

Of late, free enterprise seems to be dominated by the foreign investment of international monopoly finance, for the purpose of providing resources for foreign municipalities. No enterprise is free to be irresponsible.

By and large, Canadians who allow the world financial organization to set the value of their money cannot afford to build their own factories or buy their own resources.

The federal governments under the control of the liberal and conservative political parties gave the control of Canadian money to the free enterprise banks with the privilege of lending it out at interest. Our Constitution states they were breaking our laws in so doing.

If the federal government controlled the issue and value of our money, why was it necessary to borrow foreign money to build the Canadian Pacific Railway?

Why was it necessary to borrow money abroad to finance our war efforts, when we helped pull the international chestnuts out of the German fires?

Who are we helping with our foreign trade agreements when we have most of our own resources and plenty of unemployed people eager to manufacture and grow them? The only healthy trade we could possibly find is for citrus fruit and cotton cloth. All we lack is control of our own money system.

Yours respectfully,
Roy Thomas.

Give credit where its due

Dear Editor;

As you are aware, this has been a bad year for forest fires, and as usual, there are complaints and praise for the firefighters who, like others that work in the public eye are wonderful when things go right and damned when otherwise.

I would like to bring to your attention a sequence of events that occurred on August 14.

At about 11:30 a.m. I was sitting at the table with my wife, mother-in-law and brother-in-law, just having a visit, when a neighbour drove up and advised us that there was a forest fire on the mountain on the south side of the Similkameen River. We all went out onto the street and looked and could see smoke. My neighbour said that we should report it. I phoned 911, who put me through immediately to the Forest Service. I gave them all of the information and answered all of the questions as to the location, size of fire, etc. Within 10 minutes, a helicopter appeared, closely followed by two small planes. About 15 minutes later, the fire was being doused by a large bomber using fire retardant. The bomber made five dumps and then the helicopter took over by dropping water from a bucket numerous times. I supposed there also was a ground crew at work, but of course we could tell as we were quite some distance away and the fire was on top of the mountain.

All of us were impressed at the response to the fire, and all agreed that things could have been bad had the response taken longer.

I feel credit should be given where due. So, thanks to the firefighters, flight crews and dispatchers for a good job well done. I believe the helicopter and planes came from Princeton.

Yours truly,
Harry O'Neill,
Hedley, B.C.

Remember the bright royal light

A year ago, over two hundred Princeton people turned out to Cenotaph Park to honour the memory of a woman who will always remain, for most of us, the shining Princess.

We have had time to gain a new perspective of what her life meant to the public. It seems to me that she shone so brightly in royal circles that we will never see the Royals in the same light again. Those who are left seem dull in comparison.

Diana Spencer became a princess destined for heartbreak, but she found real purpose in life by taking up the causes of those the world would have preferred to ignore. The cosy, coddled life of British royalty was too aimless for Diana. She acted on her best instincts, using her power as a public person to make an impact on the world.

Diana's biographers have depicted her as not too intelligent, but she knew right from wrong. She was a shy nineteen year old when the Prince of Wales courted her. She changed with experience, becoming tougher and more fearless in her efforts to stand up and be counted. Often, it seemed the Royals would have been pleased had Diana shut up and disappeared. She rocked the Royal boat.

Diana's death shocked the public. Most people felt a sense of loss and reacted with personal grief. Tons of flowers were sent to her home, to Buckingham Palace, and to her sons.

The Royals seemed shocked by the public response to Diana's death. Ordinary people loved their Princess in a way the Royals had never been loved since Queen Elizabeth was a young woman. The Royals appeared to have failed to grasp how the public felt about Diana until Diana died.

The Royal Family lives by traditions established in the distant past. They had become objects of public derision. I believe Diana pulled them into the twentieth century and showed them what royalty should be.

She was a thorn in royal flesh with her refusal to sit back and be the dutiful scorned wife. Princes long before Charles had mistresses who were ignored in polite circles as long as appearances were kept up. Diana splashed Charles' adultery and deception across front pages around the world. She wanted more than a marriage made for Charles' convenience. Some people have said the press created Diana, as if her courage was a product of press coverage. If we look back honestly, we see that Diana took the power of the press and used it to fight what she believed was wrong with the world. When Diana was separated, and later when she was a divorced woman, the press followed her. One might say Diana created the press, as they followed her right to her death and beyond, making a living for people who might otherwise have found nothing to write about that was worth the trouble to read it.

For all their wealth, titles, position and tradition, the Royals have never had the shining quality of Diana Spencer, with or without the title "Princess". Even without her title, Charles' ex-wife was still "Princess" to the world.

Fair Board plans plenty of entertainment

The Fall Fair weekend will provide entertainment for youngsters in a big way this year. In addition to the midway rides, Patty Harrower is organizing a number of games such as coin toss, softball and ring throws. The Fair Board allocated $250 for prizes for young winners.

Two clowns, the Moi twins, will be on hand all weekend to move through the crowd and entertain where children gather.

Nearly Normal Jimmy, a local musical group, will be singing and performing band numbers during the weekend and the Scott family, who are entertainers, will be on hand to keep the fun and music going.

Saturday's big event for young people is the Little Britches Rodeo, in which competitors face challenges in the form of managing a horse and going through a number of manoeuvres on horseback as quickly as possible. Pole bending and barrel racing will pit them against the clock. One of the events, goat tying, pits them against lively, un-willing animals. The youngsters must use strategy and strength to put the ribbon on the goat's tail, but first, they have to ride their horses to where the goats are tethered and jump down. For some of the young cowboys and cowgirls, the jump down is a challenge in itself.

For many of the children, part of the fun of the weekend will be taking home prizes and ribbons from the Junior Fair, the 4-H competitions, or the pet show. Youngsters may compete with adults if they choose, particularly in the livestock divisions. Goats, sheep, poultry and rabbit categories present an opportunity for youngsters to show their skills.

The KKK in Princeton

Fear, prejudice and ignorance lead to violence

The Ku Klux Klan still hates communism, and during the Depression, Arthur Evans talked about communism. He was accused of belonging to the outlawed Communist Party of Canada, and dedicated to overthrowing the Canadian government. The fact that miners liked Evans did not mean they supported communism or anarchy. They supported Evans because he showed them how to fight for better working conditions and wages.

The facts were distorted. Testimony of people from Princeton revealed the fear of communism, but a greater fear of the power of ordinary working people who wanted fair wages and safe working conditions. Fear of loss of profit was undoubtedly the motive for some.

The downtown businessmen were shortsighted in their actions, and the KKK can be seen as folly. Nobody stood to benefit more from better wages than the downtown businessmen, who would ultimately have more money spent in their stores, restaurants, rooming houses and hotels.

However, to the credit of the majority of downtown business people, they signed a petition demanding the withdrawal of the extra police from Princeton.

At Evans' trial, a witness for the prosecution claimed that the miners and others who attended meetings where Evans spoke were "mostly foreigners", meaning they were Yugoslavs, Czechoslovaks, Serbians, and some Russians.

Undeniably, the miners of Princeton were comprised of more than Anglo-Saxon types. Princeton's miners had names like Kraetor, Orreskovich, Lucich, Lokie and Cherkosk. This label "foreigners" expressed a prejudice of the time against those who were not English, and those with the prejudice were, for the most part, English.

Along with this "foreigner" prejudice was a prejudice from the class system of Europe and Britain, in which working people were to be kept "in their place". The miners had not left their homelands to be subjugated again under a feudal system in which some have rights and other have none.

The truly bizarre aspect of what went on in Princeton during the miners' strike was the ignorance of world affairs. Many people attended Evans' speeches to find out what was happening in the world beyond Princeton from a man who travelled widely. One of the things Evans, and others, spoke of repeatedly was the danger posed by Franco, in Spain. The so-called left wing warned Canadians to assist those fighting against Franco, because if Franco won, then Hitler and Mussolini would invade the rest of Europe. Little attention was paid to the labour movement speakers who repeated this warning. One outstanding Canadian, Dr. Norman Bethune, did heed the message and went to Spain to help those fighting Franco.

Franco won. Evans lost, and went to jail. In a few years, those "foreigners", "radicals" and striking miners were suddenly considered good enough citizens to wear Canada's uniform and sacrifice their lives fighting Hitler and Mussolini.

Heart Food by Dave Machin

Part 1: See I have set before you today life and good, death and evil, therefore choose life that both you and your children may live. (Dueteronomy 30: 15 & 19b)

The word choice means to determine by an act of my will. God has created every human being to have a free will and that is something that He will always respect. God never has and never will make us do anything that we don't want to do. Many of the things that we choose to do might not please Him, but He always honors the choices we make. Ultimately this absolves Him of any responsibility for the things that happen in our lives, which consequently makes us responsible for our own lives by the choices we make. What we are experiencing today is the direct result of the choices we made previously.

Many people today have problems accepting responsibility for their own lives and would much rather blame someone else, including God. God does know all about life, and about our lives personally. He is patiently waiting for us to get to a point where we are dissatisfied with our life as we have been experiencing it. He wants us to make a choice to come to Him and allow Him to be a part of our life. That's why He advises us to choose life. His kind of life is always fulfilling and satisfying. This is not a hard thing to do, it simply means allowing Him to change our heart.

With this new heart that He gives you comes a desire for His word, which helps daily to make choices that will lead to life, that will lead to success. He still gives me a free choice but now begins to show me how to make good choices, because not every choice

Start millenium right

Does anybody tell the truth anymore?

Is it just me, or is EVERYONE we are supposed to look up to these days as society's role model a liar? Where has our moral value of honesty gone?

We have sports heroes involved in rape cases and drug charges. We have almost every politician facing a sexual harassment case, and TV and movie stars caught with their pants down every week. Of course, they can go into rehab or counselling for six weeks, come out and tell the world they are sorry and were wrong, and then they are our heroes again.

Is it that hard to be a good person these days? Is it that hard to just tell the truth?

We have grown to become such a cynical society that we assume every politician is a liar, every sports figure a womanizer, and every rock star a drug addict. We, of course, do have exceptions to these rules of thumb, but the fact that they are hard to find disturbs me.

We are entering the next millennium with a pretty negative attitude and I don't think that's a good way to start the next thousand years. Is it too much to ask that someone take a leadership role and show the world that you can be a success and a nice person at the same time.

Why not start the next millennium on the right foot and let's have the leaders of our society tell the truth.

Let's get rid of the sarcasm and cynicism that clouds our everyday life and try to see how the world works when you can actually trust somebody.

FDA confirms deaths from drug "Viagra"

The Food and Drug Administration of the United States says 69 Americans taking the impotence pill called Viagra died between late March and July, 1998. Forty-six of these cases were linked to cardiovascular incidents.

More than 3.6 million prescriptions for Viagra were issued between March and July. Of the 69 confirmed deaths, 21 died of unknown causes, two had strokes, and 46 had cardiovascular "events", including 17 cardiac arrests. Those who died had a median age of 64 years.

Can tomatoes: this way is easy

The following recipe takes advantage of the excellent tomato crops of the Similkameen Valley along with ease of method. These canned tomatoes look fancy but the method is simple.

You will need seven litre-size wide mouth jars, with snap lids and rings and 50 to 60 medium sized tomatoes.

Mix together 1 cup each, diced fine: celery, carrots, onion, and green pepper. Cook together in a small amount of water until tender.

Peel the tomatoes. Blanch them for one minute and pull the skins off. Core if necessary.

Put one teaspoon coarse salt into each jar, then three or four tomatoes, then 1/7th of the vegetable mixture. Fill the jars with more tomatoes, pressing them down gently until the juice comes near the top (add water if it does not). Clean top edge of jar, place snap lid and jar ring on it, screw down tight and turn back one quarter turn. Process in boiling water bath for 45 minutes. Allow to cool, then tighten down rings and store in a cool, dry dark place.

Call for Nominations

Regional Health Boards and Community Health Councils

In December 1998, the Minister of Health will again appoint individuals to Regional Health Boards (RHB) and Community Health Councils (CHC) across the province.

This is an excellent opportunity to participate in your community and to play a role in meeting the health care needs of local residents.

Your health authority will recommend candidates based on varied selection criteria designed to meet the needs of your community or region. Health authority members are volunteers appointed for their interest, knowledge, skills and experience, as well as their ability to represent the diversity of the population of their community or region. Health authority members assist in developing policies, setting priorities, and allocating resources for the delivery of health care services in their areas. There is no remuneration for members; however, expenses are reimbursed in accordance with RHB and CHC guidelines.

If you are interested in becoming a health authority member, contact your Regional Health Board or Community Health Council for more information and individual nomination deadlines.

Princeton skaters win at summer school

Princeton figure skaters went to summer school this year, spending hot summer days on ice, learning and being tested.

Nykayla Stevens, Deanna Wong and Kim Houle went to Osoyoos in July, and David Bell went to Calgary for five weeks in July.

Bell earned his Junior Bronze freeskate and two Junior Silver Dances. In addition to personal test achievements, he represented Princeton in the Wild Rose Freeskate Competition in Edmonton at the beginning of August.

Stevens, Wong and Houle passed every test. Stevens achieved her Senior Bronze Freeskate and Junior Bronze Dance. Wong achieved three preliminary dance levels, and Houle achieved two preliminary dance levels.

They are ready to start a new figure skating season. Bell will be skating with the Penticton Glengarry Club this year as his coach is from Penticton.

Figure skaters back on the ice in three weeks

The new figure skating season begins with registration on September 14, and lessons begin on September 20.

There are some changes in the CanSkate program as a result of feedback from across the country. CanSkate is the basis of all skating, so this Learn to Skate program has to be fun. There have been complaints that the skaters get cold standing by the boards waiting for the next activity. It has been a very static program for such a dynamic sport.

The Canadian Figure Skating Association has responded to these concerns and the new direction in the CanSkate program is that of continual movement. It has been tested in centers across the country for the past year and results have been very positive.

The students will be following a circuit designed by the coach. They will improve their balance, gliding ability and the use of edges, as well as increase their power and speed. The circuit will combine these with the elements of - Go forward, Go backward, Stop, Turn, Jump, Spin.

Correction

Two small discrepancies occurred in the "I Hate Princeton" article in the August 25. Miss Kersh advises that she had to change the vacuum bag each time she vacuumed at first, but this is no longer the case.

Secondly, she says her dogs rarely bark early in the morning, but did so on one occasion.

Allisons plan reunion

The descendants of John Fall Allison are planning a family reunion for 1999 or 2000. The first meeting was held at the Parson homestead at Wolf Creek, where Pat Parson, Stuart Meldrum, Linda Allison and Juanita Meier discussed dates, logistics, and the need to contact relatives.

A second meeting has been planned for October 17, when more family members are expected to attend. Anyone wishing further information may contact Juanita Meier at 295-6281.

Home invasion

Sometime between August 24 and August 27, 1998 a home on Corina Avenue in Princeton, B.C. was broken into and several items stolen. A camera, jewellery and coin collection were taken from the home. Entry was gained through one of the rear windows of the residence.

If anyone has any information regarding this incident, please contact the Princeton RCMP at 295-6911 or CRIMESTOPPERS.

Horoscopes

August 25 to September 1

ARIES - New energy surges toward having a good time, but watch your health and beware of accidents. A sudden, unexpected event could put you in jeopardy on Wednesday. Be cautious.

TAURUS - You really want to enjoy life and take it easy, but demands at home occupy your time and you feel irritable about it. Balance your life.

GEMINI - Life challenges you this week. Relationships seem to break down and you face opposition to your ideas. There are no simple answers. Talk budget.

CANCER - You need freedom this weekend, so take time off to spend at home. Travel could be dangerous. Watch out for unexpected costs.

LEO - A lover's quarrel could turn into a separation if you let temper flare. Use your abundant energy for constructive change, no anger..

VIRGO - Love does not come easy. Be patient and stop fussing. See the truth and make necessary changes. Fantasy goes nowhere. What you need is constructive organization of your personal life.

LIBRA - You have energy to move toward your goals and little time for fun. Hard work is necessary now. A sudden realization changes your attitude about what is going on in your life. Others' resources are no longer available to you.

SCORPIO - A blow-up this week could cost you plenty. Use your drive to achieve what you need to further your career. Make plans, take positive action toward your goals.

SAGITTARIUS - It's time to act on decisions. You need to focus on your career or employment. There is no easy way now. Events of the past year are catching up and you must face what is happening.

CAPRICORN - Your money picture is unstable now. Proceed conservatively. Review finances and make changes where needed.

AQUARIUS - Events this week may shock you and light up your life. Things happen among friends. Expect the unexpected.

Pisces - Adjust to new circumstances in your employment. If work seems a bit stressful during the week, wait until the weekend to relax. Keep the pace all week.

Harold Nishihara shows off the big one he caught on August 20.

Trout Talk

Nishihara's bloodworm bait

by John Sandness
Local outdoorsman

In the photograph above, Harold Nishihara holds two "typical Roche Lake fish". Those are his words! For anyone but Harold, they sure aren't typical!

Earlier this year, I wrote about his prowess as a steelheader. This ability obviously carries over to his lake fishing.

When Harold unwrapped his fish in the Similkameen News Leader office, of course Dawn covered her countertop with her last week's edition. Besides being a good read, the New Leader is handy for other uses.

The bloodworm Harold uses is a "pattern developed over a five to six year period". He showed the fly to me - it looked a little the worse for wear, but was still hanging together. When you have a four-pound Kamloops chew on it for 20 minutes, and then a three and one-quarter pounder chew on it some more, it is bound to show some wear.

He caught these two beauties casting from an aluminum row-boat, while a belly boater was fishing just 20 feet away.

Harold, whose grandfather owned a fish market in Japan, comes by his skills naturally - and through dedication and observation of the insect ecology of the lakes. His words of advice on fishing techniques are well worth paying attention to.

Latest word I get from my informants is that Dry Lake would be a good place to try. Perhaps you will get a big one like Harold's. As for the bloodworm, you will have to contact him.

Beyond Year 2000: What now?

For the first time, in 1904, a telegraph line transmitted a photograph. We can now send them by e-mail. What will the next century bring?

The Americans began construction of the Panama Canal, first wiping out yellow fever to prevent worker deaths and down time.

Japan attacked Russia in 1904 through an attack on Seoul, Korea and Port Arthur in Russia. The Russians were defeated and Japan ruled new territory.

In Paris, nations joined in a conference on white slave trade.

The first radio transmission of music came from Graz, Austria in 1904.

In New York, police arrested a woman for smoking in public (are we going to return to this soon?)

A man named Henry Ford finished building his first automobile factory. Ford is nearly one century-old, and will probably hold a great celebration in 2003? Will they give away free cars?

The moving picture industry began to flourish in France.

Film, radio, medical advances, cars, aircraft - these were the new century. What will the next century bring?

Science leaped ahead in the 20th century. In 1905, Albert Einstein formulated the Special Theory of Relativity, established the law of mass-energy equivalence, created the Brownian theory of motion and formulated the photon theory of light. His theories would change the face of the world, scientifically, politically, and spiritually. His ideas would lead to the development of quantum physics, which developed into a study that reached almost into metaphysics in the 1970's.

Sigmund Freud was becoming known, and his ideas about what makes people tick would become dominant in the treatment of mental disorders for the remainder of the century, although many other ideas would challenge his. The predominant theme of his work was that parental and early childhood influences shaped neurotic behaviour. This psychiatrist was a cocaine addict and suspected sexual abuser, but these traits were overlooked as his theories about human motivation became famous.

Rayon was invented from viscose. The Mount Wilson observatory in California was completed. The first neon lights were used, and this was to lead to the showy City of Light - Las Vegas, Nevada.

The Rotary Club was founded, and will undoubtedly last into the 21st century.

An artist named Pablo Picasso moved to Paris, and started painting everything in pinks. Who will be the great innovative artist of the 21st century?

Pharmasave's 60th Anniversary added something very interesting to downtown Princeton – people were standing on the street eating cake! Above is the source of the cake, a large cake shared with everyone who wanted a piece. Left to right: former owner Jim Jackson, 26 year employee and cake server Mary Weisman, Sharon and Wen Wong.

Forgetting may not be age problem

Losing memory is considered to be one of the acceptable problems (and excuses) of aging, but very few people should take memory loss seriously unless it is interfering with important matters in their lives.

Serious memory loss may indicate a severe problem, but what is SERIOUS memory loss?

Here are some tips. You have serious memory loss, the experts say, if:

- you lose your way on a familiar street or road.
- you forget important appointments
- you tell the same stories over and over in the same conversation
- you are unable to manage simple finances that you managed easily in the past
- you have a sudden change in your artistic or musical abilities

Forgetting is not limited to old people. People of any age may forget. Children forget things all the time. Those who study forgetfulness point a finger at two causes that have nothing to do with age. They claim forgetfulness may be the result of "information overload" or being distracted by too many responsibilities.

Imagine a worker who is answering the phone, the fax, taking information from Internet, and transferring information to several others, then receives a request to stop a loaf of bread on the way home from work. Chances are, he or she will forget. It is not a priority item of information among all of the other bits of information.

Imagine a mother caring for a two year old child and a six week old baby, trying to cook dinner while the two year old has a temper tantrum and the baby wants feeding. Try telling her to remember to take a suit to the cleaners. It is not a priority.

Everyone forgets things once in awhile. If forgetting persists, the person may need to look first at the amount of chaos in his or her life rather than blame forgetting on "getting older".

Problem bears keep officers busy

Police and Conservation Officer Al Lay have been kept busy for two weeks with bear reports. The reports range from Belfort Road to Old Hedley Road to Bromley Rock, and points in between. There have been sightings in town on Second Bench and along Tulameen Avenue. Other sightings have been along Corina Avenue and John Allison Elementary School. Lay believes only one bear is involved in these sightings.

A bear was shot last week near a residence along Highway 3 approximately 20 km. east of Princeton.

Bears continue to roam around and through areas near Tulameen. The bear problem in Princeton is no different from the bear problem in numerous other Interior communities. The summer has not been kind to the bears and they are unable to find food in their customary locations. The bear problem will continue during the autumn months. Residents should heed advice given by conservation officials and do nothing to attract bears to their dwellings.

Joyce Fraser presents a certificate of appreciation to Vern Dobell of Princeton branch of CIBC. The certificate reads in appreciation for "invaluable and generous donation". CIBC gave $3000 for the creation of a perpetual memorial wall to honor the donors to Vermilion Court, a landmark housing complex in Princeton.

Letters to the Editor

Community helped program succeed

Dear Editor:

Wow! how a summer can fly by! I can't believe it, but I am now in my last week of work for the summer recreation program.

This was my second summer running the summer programs and I again had a blast doing it. It takes more than one person to run these programs and I had a lot of good people helping me.

Lyle Thomas let me have the opportunity once again to run this program with absolute freedom to try anything and he gave me support whether it succeeded or not. He has been just great.

A lot of instructors helped: Clay Simmons, Clint Clifton, Lianne Kruger, Joe McKay, Athan Vergides, Adrea McLean, Tari Clarke, Jason Leslie, Gary Corsi, Doug Cochet, Darren Stallone, Barb Shelton, Liese Plunkett, Alecsis Moore and Lisa Panchenko. They were great!

There was a lot of community support for the summer program. The kids turned out for it, their parents signed them up, businesses gave support (as they do every year), School District helped with facilities, Princeton Golf Club gave us support, Centennial Pool staff helped, the staff at the Community Skills Centre gave us support and assistance, and Jay Hartwick was always there when we needed him and he did a great paint job in my office.

The media helped with advertising: George Elliott and Radio CIOR, The News Leader and Spotlight staffs.

This was a successful year, and I hope we can do it all again next year.

Thanks to the community for a great summer!

Jesse McLean

She is tired of U.S. National Soap Opera

Dear Editor,

I am one of a large number of people who are extremely tired of hearing all about the latest episodes in the American National Soap Opera I will call "As The Stomach Turns," starring Bill Clinton and Monica Lewinsky.

In the first place, I really don't give a hoot who did what to whom. So what if Billy-boy had an affair with the Lovely Monica. She is a very pretty girl. I would guess that she may have thrown herself all over the President to begin with, and if so, I am not surprised that he would take something so freely shoved in his face. There are not many men who are strong enough to resist that kind of temptation. There are some men who have admitted to me that "all men, to some degree, are ruled by their sexual organs and hormones."

"Oh, but he LIED about it." some will say, with horrified expressions on their faces. "We can't have someone in a position of such responsibility and influence who would lie about something like that!" Poppycock! I don't think there are very many persons, either men or women, who would not try to cover up having committed an immoral act of this sort. Most people would not have to deal with their sexual indiscretions being splashed all over the news in the first place. It really is no one else's business except those involved and their families. This whole issue effects the ability of the President to do the job he was elected to do only BECAUSE it is splashed all over the world media, not because his sexual escapades hamper his professional ability.

And what about "poor Hillary" and the First Daughter, Chelsea. Give me a break. Does anyone really think that a man can have extra-marital affairs (and I doubt that this one was Clinton's first) without his family at least suspecting something? Dream on. I would imagine the First Family already knew, or suspected something was going on and would rather have had this skeleton stay firmly locked away. Even so, now that Clinton has 'fessed up, his family appears to have forgiven him. If they, who were the most wronged, can forgive, why can't others do the same? I wonder about some of these "holier-than-thou" people. In a lot of cases, those who protest the loudest are those who have something similar to cover up themselves!

Mr. Clinton is, after all, only a man. That's right - he's not a god. Whether anyone likes it or not. Presidents are human, and therefore subject to making mistakes, too. Not only that, but they are also POLITICIANS. And we all know how far we can trust most politicians! What makes anyone think that a politician will somehow miraculously become a paragon of virtue just because he is elected to the office of President of the United States?

Hart says 'restore confidence in loonie'

by Jim Hart, Member of Parliament for Okanagan-Coquihalla.

As I prepared this week's editorial, Canada's Central bank had just stepped in to shore up our beleaguered dollar with a full one-point rate increase. The positive effect was, not surprisingly, short-lived as the dollar still fell to 63.31 cents.

The initial effects of Canada's sliding dollar had analysts suggesting that it was good for the export market and great for tourism. The reality of the long term effects of the dollar will not be as positive, as we will be faced with escalating prices on imports such as food, clothing, furnishings and automotive parts. A low dollar has a severe impact on productivity and our competitive advantage, as they too fall with our farmers and factories incurring higher prices for imported industrial and agricultural machinery used to produce food and consumer goods.

With the dollar spiralling toward the 63 cent level, we must question why the federal Liberal government has chosen to abandon Canadians to a lower standard of living rather than restoring international and domestic confidence in the loonie.

To stimulate the economy and protect Canadians against the volatility of world markets, such as Russia and Asia, the federal Liberal government must reduce taxes. The Prime Minister must then introduce a plan to tackle our national debt, which currently works out to $77,700 per family of four. These two actions, debt reduction and tax reduction com-binated, would create a more attractive environment for investors and greater spending power for the already overtaxed consumer. And that means you and your family.

Since 1993, you have told me loud and clear that the federal government needs to get Canada's financial house in order, namely to balance the federal budget, implement permanent spending controls, reduce Canada's massive public debt, and lower taxes. But in five years, all the government has been able to do is balance the budget, and even that was done by increasing revenues rather than by controlling costs. The result is a weakening Canadian dollar and economy, unable to withstand the external pressures created by the Asian downturn.

The Canadian dollar and the Canadian economy are facing a crisis that will hurt us at home and abroad. The federal Liberal's apathy toward this historic slide of our dollar speaks volumes for a government that is out of touch and out of ideas.

Above, is the web of the fall webworm in a chokecherry bush. The web expands as the caterpillars eat the foliage around them. This is a typical web, now filled with caterpillars which are almost at full growth. Their next stage will be to leave the web, spin a cocoon, and turn into moths next spring.

Rid bushes of pesky fall webworm

If you see a web in a bush, and the web is full of hairy worms, you are seeing the fall webworm at work. These pesky worms attack bushes and trees annually, and do not stop at wild plants. They will invade fruit trees and ornamentals just as quickly.

The fall webworm is the pupa, or caterpillar, form of the creature. In early summer, the moth lays approximately 300 eggs on the underside of leaves. The moth can be identified by predominantly white wings marked with black spots.

The eggs hatch in two weeks, and the little worms begin feeding on the upper side of the leaves. These larvae begin spinning a protective web (or tent) as soon as they hatch. The more leaves they eat, the farther they must extend their web. Occasionally, entire colonies may be forced by lack of food to abandon a host tree and migrate to another, usually during the night.

The worm stage, or eating stage, lasts four to six weeks. The worms then seek a bark crevice, undersides of stones, or just beneath the surface of the ground where they form cocoons.

Ridding trees and bushes of fall webworm can be done effectively during feeding stage by covering leaves with common insecticides Sevin, Diazinon or Malathion as soon as they spin their tents.

THE APPLICATION & REGULATORY PROCESS

West Kootenay Power Ltd. ("WKP") applied to the Commission on March 9, 1998 for approval of its Transmission Access Application ("the TAA"). The TAA proposed wholesale transmission access and retail transmission access for WKP's largest industrial customers. By Order No. G-29-98, the Commission granted interim approval of Tariff Supplement No. 7 and of Rate Schedules 100 to 108 for use by eligible customers seeking wholesale transmission access, effective March 21, 1998. By Order No. G-44-98, the Commission required WKP to refile its TAA together with changes it considered appropriate after reviewing the Commission's Decision on British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority's Wholesale Transmission Services Application. On July 7, 1998, WKP held a consultative workshop and outlined to interested parties the general parameters of its TAA. On July 31, 1998, WKP filed with the Commission amendments to its TAA and separately filed an Access Principles Application ("the APA"). The Commission has reviewed the Applications and finds that the APA should proceed by way of Negotiated Settlement. As well, the Commission has released a revised Regulatory Agenda covering both the TAA and the APA.

The revised Regulatory Timetable amends Commission Order G-44-98 by including locations for the TAA workshop and public hearing. In addition, it establishes dates and locations for an APA workshop and Negotiated Settlement Process, along with relevant filing deadlines for both proceedings.

PUBLIC INSPECTION OF THE APPLICATION

The Transmission Access and Access Principles Applications and supporting material, including Orders No. G-29-98, G-44-98 and G-73-98, are available for inspection at the following West Kootenay Power locations:

1290 Esplanade, Trail (Head Office)	#106, 2395 Gordon Drive, Kelowna
1037 Columbia Avenue, Castlegar	36895 - 71st Street, Oliver
300 Erickson Road, Creston	1260 Commercial Way, Penticton
6351 Highway 3, Grand Forks	100 Bingay Road, Warfield

Copies of the Applications and supporting materials are also available for inspection at the office of the British Columbia Utilities Commission, Sixth Floor, 900 Howe Street, Vancouver BC V6Z 2N3.

INTERVENTIONS

Intervenors and Interested Parties who have not already registered with the Commission are to advise the Commission Secretary of their intention to participate in the proceedings, in writing, by Friday, Sept. 11, 1998 indicating the nature of their interest and whether they propose to be full participants at the Public Hearing and Negotiated Settlement Process.

INFORMATION REQUESTS

Registered Intervenors or Interested Parties requesting additional information on the Access Principles Applications from WKP should do so no later than Friday, Sept. 11, 1998. Information requests pertaining to the Transmission Access Application should be submitted to WKP no later than Friday, Sept. 18, 1998. WKP is required to respond no later than Friday, Sept. 18, 1998 for information requests related to the APA and Oct. 2, 1998 for information requests related to the TAA.

SUBMISSIONS BY INTERVENORS

Intervenors must file two copies of their written submissions or evidence concerning the TAA, one copy with the Commission Secretary and other to WKP at PO Box 130, Trail, BC V1R 4L4, no later than Friday, Oct. 9, 1998.

PARTICIPANT ASSISTANCE

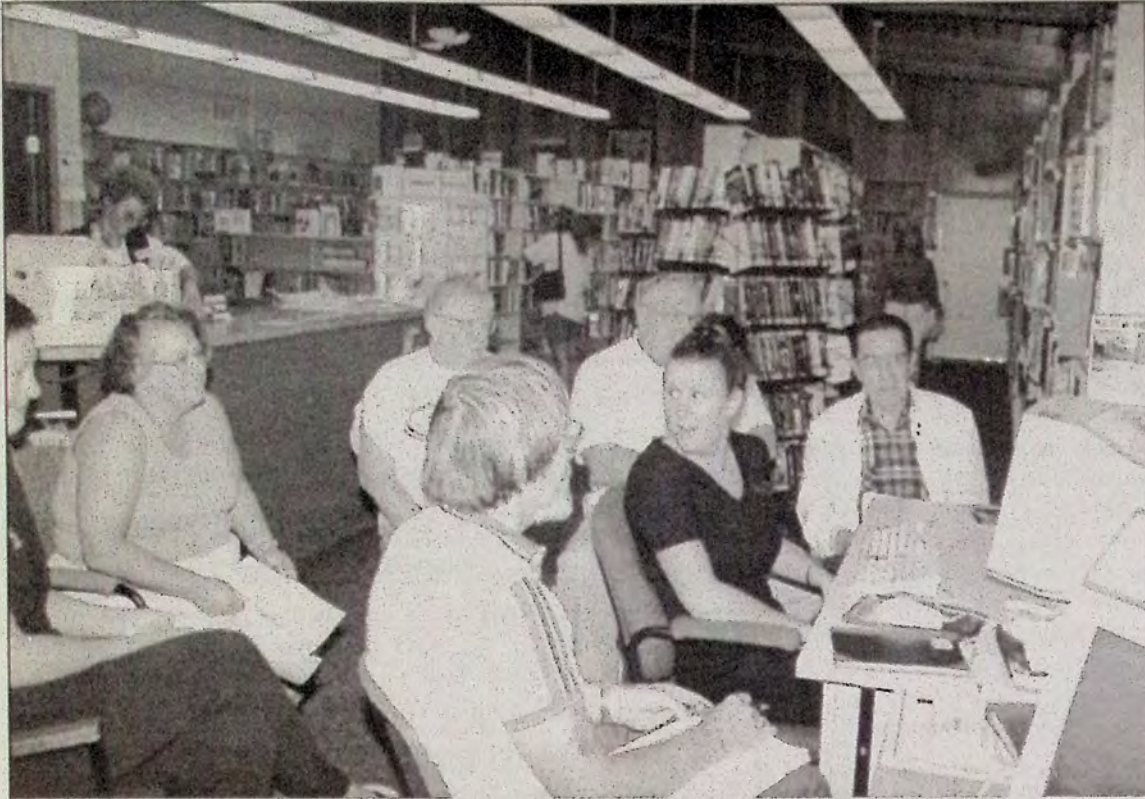

All parties intending to apply for Participant Assistance for either or both proceedings must file a budget by Friday, Sept. 18, 1998 consistent with the Commission's Policy and Rate Sheet as outlined in Order No. G-103-96. Copies of the Participant Assistance Policy and Rate Sheet are available upon request.

FURTHER INFORMATION

Persons intending to participate in the TAA and/or APA proceedings and who are uncertain as to the manner in which to proceed, may contact Mr. Robert J. Pellatt, Commission Secretary, or Mr. Cameron Lusztig, Energy Utility Economist, as follows:

August 25 was Internet training day at Princeton Public Library. An instructor from Okanagan Regional Library (center in front of computer) explained to approximately 20 local residents how to use the Internet, which has now been installed at the Library.

Farmers receive $10 million

All B.C. farmers who qualify will receive full payment under the province's whole farm insurance pilot program for dramatic income losses last year, Agriculture Minister Corky Evans announced on August 26. "The whole farm insurance pilot program will pay more than $10 million to some 550 B.C. farmers hard hit last year," said Evans. To date, $3.5 million has been paid out to 163 farmers for 1997 losses. The average claim is $21,500. The highest individual claim has been $85,000; the largest payout is $150,000 to a corporation. "The payments are going mostly to producers of those commodities we identified as hardest hit last year - tree fruits, berries, grains and vegetables," said Evans. "This is just what the whole farm insurance pilot program was set up to do - help farmers survive an unusually difficult year so they can stay in business." The Minister went on to say,

"The combination of crop insurance, whole farm insurance and the net income stabilization account programs will give our farmers strong protection against the forces of nature." More than 2,225 farmers are to be covered for 1998 farm insurance program.

Agriculture Minister beefs up beef industry

B.C.'s beef industry received a healthy injection of $10,000 to the Cattle Horn Fund last week. "The beef industry is an essential component of British Columbia's economy," Corky Evans, Minister of Agriculture and Food, stated on August 28, on announcing the grants, "The government is committed to encouraging growth within this industry through initiatives such as the Cattle Horn Fund." The funds will be dispersed to agencies in B.C. The Canadian Food Inspection Agency has received an $8,000 Cattle Horn Fund grant to establish a network of part-time livestock inspectors within the cattle industry. Their job will be to safeguard the health of cattle in British Columbia. The North Okanagan Livestock Association is investing $2,000 from the Cattle Horn Fund in a program to educate ranchers about the dangers of rush skeleton weed. This invasive European plant could pose a serious threat to the province's grazing lands if left unchecked. The Cattle Horn Fund manages a $30,000 account used to promote British Columbia's beef industry.

Fall Fair horseshoes

Some wonderful people have come forward to sponsor the annual Fall Fair Horseshoes Competitions. Ruby and John Bey, Ev Beale, the Kreigers, and Brenda Crimmon are sponsoring the Men's Division. The Ladies Division is sponsored by Abe and Mona Willis and the Village Kitchen Restaurant. The Mixed Division is sponsored Dennis and Bonnie Cook, Brad and June Hope and Laurie and Sonja Currie. The draw for partners will take place at precisely 10:00 a.m., Saturday, September 12, at the horseshoe pits at the Fall Fair grounds. For further information, call Arnie Powell at 295-6759 or Danny Kastor at 295-3041.

Princeton summer recreation program hosted a 3 day basketball camp at Princeton Secondary School last week. The training was for boys and girls ages 9 - 12. They learned techniques for dribbling, shooting, and passing, as well as the rules of basketball. They had the opportunity to try their skills in a few scrimmages. Coaches were Joe McKay and Jesse McLean.

Teaching staff prepares for PSS students

Teachers at Princeton Secondary School were hard at work last week, preparing for the new year and return of the students.

Principal Larry Stoochnoff and Vice-Principal Bill Lawrence are looking forward to a great year.

Three new teachers have joined the staff: Paula Barchard (Math and Science), Andrea Blair (Band) and Brent Bowden (Library).

Ginette Beaulieu will teach French, as will Victoria Thompson. Mary Bell will teach Special Education, and Mike Bertram will teach Physical Education.

Science will be taught by Gordon Bibby, Stephen LePoidevin and Alex Dunsmore (Dunsmore will teach Math as well). Paul Carter will teach English, John Kitts will teach Business Education, Steve Fitzpatrick will teach Art, and Diane Rodewoldt will teach Social Studies.

Laurence Newman and Shane O'Malley will once again teach industrial skills.

Sandra Taylor will be back at work in the foods and textiles instruction departments.

Susan McRae will do Pathfinder work, and Joe Nitsch will handle Alternate Program.

Counselling will be done by three teachers. Mr. Stoochnoff will be counsellor for Grade 8, Mr. Lawrence will counsel Grade 9 and 10 and Ms. McRae will be counsellor to Grade 11 and 12.

Youth Council plans for September elections

The Interim Youth Council plans to make the Council a permanent action group for young people in the Princeton area. At the August 26 public meeting, Area 120 was filled with a lot of young people eager to go forward with organizing. They worked in a spirit of informal co-operation, moving discussion rapidly through the agenda.

The group is looking for Area 120 committee members. Two volunteers agreed to work on the log cabin raffle to be drawn at the Fall Fair. They will talk to others about forming an Area 120 committee. The first meeting is scheduled for September 7 at Area 120 at 6:30 p.m.

The proposal to the Recreation Commission is being prepared for presentation in September. Sheryl Petschl, Interim Mayor, will compose and present the proposal, but asked others to attend with her.

Youth Council members were advised that they could attend the Union of B.C. Municipalities meeting in September. Two are unable to attend, as they have made arrangements for a leadership training program that weekend, but two others said they would like to attend. No information was available as to costs, so they did not make a firm commitment to attend.

The next Youth Council meeting will be held September 23 at 6:30 p.m. at Town Hall. An election of permanent Youth Council members is scheduled for that meeting. Interim Mayor Petschl promised to promote the meeting via intercom at Princeton Secondary School.

Vandals hit sprinklers

Police received a report from the local School Board that the underground sprinkler system at the Secondary School has been vandalized. This incident occurred the evening of August 23, between 8:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. It appears that while the sprinklers are raised and watering the surrounding area, somebody broke off the extended stem of the sprinkler.

Anyone with information regarding this incident is asked to call Princeton RCMP or CRIME-STOPPERS.

Tristen Pederson has spent a lot of time with youngsters this summer as she ran the Tulameen Summer Camp.

OUC and Skills Centre join forces

Okanagan University College, Human Resources Development Canada and the Princeton and District Skills Centre are working together once again.

A three day Trades and Apprenticeship program will begin on Tuesday, October 13th and continue through Thursday, October 15th. This FREE course has been a huge success throughout the Okanagan and OUC is pleased to be able to bring it to the Similkameen.

Labour Market Information indicates that the trades and apprenticeship areas have excellent employment potential over the next three to five years. This introduction to these fields includes the following objectives for participants:

- developing a clear understanding of various trades
- understanding educational opportunities in trades
- recognition of opportunities in trades employment
- determining pre-requisites for entry into trades
- acquiring knowledge of services available

The workshop will encompass the following topic areas:

1. Labour Market Trends: local, regional, and national
2. Types of Apprenticeship Trades: training opportunities and models, requirements, wage levels, working conditions, profile of successful candidates for employment
3. Academic Requirements: entry requirements, upgrading opportunities.

During a field trip to the vocational department at the KLO campus of OUC all students will be provided with a lunch on campus.

For more information or to register, call the Skills Centre at 295-4051

Spending summer with Tulameen camp kids

by Tristen Pederson

Jesse McLean, Summer Recreation Director, told me about the job as a Summer Camp Counsellor for Tulameen Community Club. He set up an interview for me with Gina Hall and Kathi Koller, and I was accepted.

The next day I was on my way to Penticton to buy felts, gluesticks, scissors, craft books, etc.

The next week I was busy with two different groups of kids: 5-8 year olds one day and 9-12 years the next.

Our average day was making a craft such as a pinwheel, mural or macaroni men. Then we would play an active game like tag or hide 'n' seek. Most days, we had a picnic at the school then went to the library to read books for the last 20 minutes.

Occasionally, I had a group of kids aged 2-4. We played at different stations, painting, ponies, dress-up, play dough, etc.

After having such a great experience with the kids, it made me feel a little more secure in my decision to go to University and obtain my Bachelor of Education.

This summer camp program is a great chance for the kids to get to know each other, play, be young and maybe learn a little something along the way. It's also a great way for people like me to find out if they're really cut out for the job!

I will be attending university in Kelowna for two years and Victoria for three years, when I hope to graduate.

Peter Adams

Adams earns Provincial Scholarship

Peter Adams, who graduated from Princeton Secondary School this year, has received a $1,000 Provincial Scholarship. He qualified by doing exceptionally well in his provincial exams.

Adams had to achieve 1600 points to qualify and actually achieved 1749 points. He earned the following scores: History - 89 per cent, Biology 12 - 90 per cent, English 12 - 82 per cent and Math 12 - 86 per cent.

Adams is attending Simon Fraser University, studying computer sciences. His long range plans are to go into Medicine.

REGISTRATION OF HOME SCHOOL LEARNERS Parent Information

The School Act states that all children receiving their education at home must be registered at a school of the parent's choice that is operating in the school district in which the parent resides.

Accordingly, parents who are providing an education program at home are required to register their child at a neighbourhood school or the South Central Interior Distance Education School (1-800-663-3536) in School District No. 58 (Merritt) by September 30, 1998.

To register or to obtain further information, telephone the school where you would normally register your child, or write to the Superintendent of Schools:

WALKING DISTANCE: Primary Grades = 4 km; Grades 4-12 = 5 km.

TRANSPORTATION ASSISTANCE

You may be eligible for transportation assistance if you live beyond the "walking distance" to school or bus stop. Parents are to call at the Board Office and complete an application for assistance form by September 30, 1998. These applications must be renewed each September.

Parents are reminded that road and/or weather conditions may be such that school buses picking up children may not be able to make their regular scheduled run(s). As much notice as possible will be given over local radio and where necessary, the school will attempt to contact parents by phone. However, when weather conditions are such that the buses may be cancelled, parents should ensure that their children do not wait extended time periods at the stop. If parents are leaving home, please ensure that the students have boarded the bus prior to parent departure.

The Princeton Public Library summer reading program ended last Friday with a wind-up party on the Library Museum lawn. Twenty-seven attended – parents, children and one squirrel. Everyone enjoyed hot dogs provided by Overwaitea and a cake. Louise Szecepanik volunteered her skills at face painting and Johanna Nott read a story to the children. It was a beautiful sunny day and everyone had a lovely time.

Valley First helps communities

In the Okanagan area, Valley First Credit Union, affiliated with Baron Insurance Agencies, donates approximately $100,000 annually to a wide variety of humanitarian, community service, cultural, educational, health, sports and recreational activities. Many civic festivities such as Penticton Peachfest and Vernon Winter Carnival receive backing by way of participating sponsorship, while major health/welfare undertakings such as the Kelowna Cancer Lodge, Vernon Abbeyfield House, Princeton's Ridgewood Lodge and the Penticton Hospice House have, among others, benefited from recent sizable donations on behalf of the member owners of British Columbia's twelfth largest credit union.

The size and type of Valley First community participation varies almost as much as the needs and events themselves, with cash donations ranging from a low of about $25, to major grants of $10,000 or more. Other annual offerings include provision of tie-in promotional merchandise for a hundred or more community fund raisers, and in some instances many of the 250 Valley First and Baron Insurance Agencies employees also assist individually through direct participation or organization.

Valley First Marketing Manager Wayne Seabrook, who handles community participation with a public relations component, notes a marked increase in demand, especially during the past two or three years.

"Undoubtedly this has been caused, in part, by a wide array of government funding cutbacks which translate to non-profit organizations needing more and more support from the business community. We are seeing whole categories of formerly self sufficient, tax funded, groups, and even whole government departments such as education and policing, seeking additional funding from the business community. And, while Valley First, on a priority basis, attempts to accommodate as many requests as feasible, it is virtually impossible to budget for the dozens of new fundraising initiatives which arise each and every month. However, we do attempt to meet our responsibility as good corporate citizens and hope Valley First's growth will continue to be mirrored by increased contributions to the Okanagan-Similkameen communities which we serve."

B.C.'s credit unions have injected $4 million into local communities during 1997 through cash donations, sponsorships, educational scholarships, bursaries, charitable contributions and fundraising activities.

Hedley man injured in crash

Bradley Williams, of Hedley, was seriously injured in a motor vehicle accident 23 km east of Princeton on Highway 3. The accident occurred on the afternoon of August 25.

Three vehicles were involved in the accident. An eastbound vehicle crossed the centre line and collided with the rear end of a westbound tractor-trailer unit. The car spun around and lost a tire. The tire hit and eastbound pick-up truck.

The jaws of life were required to rescue Williams from his vehicle. He sustained a broken leg.

Driver fatigue appeared to have been a factor in causing the accident.

Procrastination is the art of keeping up with yesterday.
