

Keremeos Council seeks land for light industry

by Laurel Arnold
SIMILKAMEEN - Keremeos Mayor J.C. Stranart, who also serves on the Regional District of the Okanagan Similkameen (RDOS) as an appointed director, explained, during public question period at the regular Keremeos Village Council meeting on Monday, May 3, that rural areas B (Cawston) and G (Keremeos Rural Hedley) are working together with Keremeos Council to try and find a solution to the lack of land presently available in the area for light industry. They have already asked the Agricultural Land Commission for a 3 year moratorium on the T.L. Timber mill in Cawston. After the public meeting, Council met privately, in camera, to discuss the proposals they are working on. When interviewed on Tuesday, May 4, Mayor Stranart explained that they are working with the Land Commission throughout the process so if they do agree on things it will be unlikely that the Land Commission will turn them down. Once they all agree on the recommendations, they can identify pieces of land they would like to see removed from the Agricultural Land Reserve and made available for light industrial use only. The T.L. Timber operation in Cawston is defined as light industry. When interviewed on May 4, Dave Lusted of T.L. Timber explained that because they have been instructed in a letter dated Feb. 1/99 from the Agricultural Land Commission to return the land to the way it was before they started the mill by July 1/99, T.L. Timber is holding off on any mill expansion or increase in employees until the matter is settled.

Council agrees to 'Bear'

PRINCETON - Town Council received a letter from Ron McHaffie asking for Council support in naming Snowpatch ski area "Bear Mountain." Council had no objection to any name McHaffie wanted to call it. Councillor Jim Manion commented, "This is way out of our jurisdiction."

Princeton Highway Rescue crew went to school last weekend. They are shown above in their classroom, as they study how to use some new equipment and new techniques for embankment rescue. Left to right, Shelby Smith, Jay Noppe and Doug Pateman, going downhill to the rescue location.

Council supports grant

PRINCETON - Don Coyle made a presentation to Town Council on behalf of the Museum Society, asking for Council's support for a millenium grant application. The museum will apply for funding for an extension to the museum to house the existing collection of fossils and the Pollard collection. Coyle estimated the total cost at $81,000. The grant would cover half the cost.

Councillor George Armstrong said he was "not inclined" to support the grant application, saying construction of the addition to the museum is not in this year's bud-

Names of geographic areas are under the jurisdiction of Crown lands if the area is outside municipal boundaries.

Councillor George Armstrong wanted to know whether the area had another official name. When he found that it did not, he was prepared to support "Bear Mountain."

get and there will be a new Council elected in November. "I can't commit them to spending $50,000," Armstrong said.

Councillor Jim Manion made a motion to support the grant, saying, "If we don't do it, we won't have a chance to get it at all." The motion passed.

Cold weather means 'flood' for Similkameen

SIMILKAMEEN VALLEY - The Ministry of Environment has released the results of the snowpack measurements done May 1. The situation looks serious. No melt has taken place on Blackwall Peak, which is 44 per cent above normal for this time of year. Lightning Lakes, in Manning Park, have just begun to melt, and the snow at the lakes was 90 per cent above normal.

Cooler weather interfered with a melt that began the last week of April, delaying the progress of spring run-off, which means that, when high temperatures arrive for a prolonged period, such as a week, the snow will melt rapidly and rivers and creeks will run high.

Brian Symonds, Water Management Branch in Penticton, warns, "Expect a high volume run-off."

Hamilton Hill shows 95 per cent of normal and some melting, Lost Horse Mountain in the Ashnola area is 20 per cent above normal, and Missezula Mountain is 45 per cent above normal. Hart's Pass, just south of the international border, is 49 per cent above normal.

What this means in the Similkameen Valley is: prepare for flooding. Anyone who lives in a location that has been flooded in the past is likely to have water problems this year.

Farmers and ranchers should remove all livestock and irrigation equipment from bottomland fields as soon as the river shows significant increase in flow levels. People should not ignore the problems of seepage creating problems for livestock. If the water level reaches the height of the field, even if it does not flood, seepage will create problems with mud in which livestock and equipment will become stuck. Early action is advised.

Anyone living in an area behind a dike should expect seepage into basements. All goods on such basement floors should be taken to above-ground locations as a precaution. Sump pumps should be in working order.

Anyone residing in a location where the access road may be covered by water should have emergency food, pet and livestock feed, and should prepare to be isolated for three or four days.

Past experience in the Similkameen Valley have taught longtime residents that creeks may become a serious problem under rapid melt conditions. Creeks may erode or cover access roads, flood fields and homes, and change course unexpectedly. Residents are urged to remove machinery, livestock and any valued possessions from property alongside creeks, although the creeks may be harmless in most years.

Residents of the Similkameen Valley must make every effort to protect their own property, as the provincial government does not have property protection as a priority.

Citizen Roundup!

All business owners and local people are invited to attend another meeting about plans and projects for Princeton. The meeting is on Wednesday, May 12, at the Community Skills Centre on Vermilion Avenue at 7:00 p.m.

Saddle up your horses, polish up your boots, and head on down for another town get-together. Bring all your bright ideas in your saddlebags and share them with everybody.

The Theme Committee is planning something special, so don't miss out!

Trail Relay 2000 will come to Princeton

Marilyn Strong, Community Animator for Trans Canada Trail Relay 2000 attended Princeton Town Council's May 3 meeting to show a video and inspire Council about the relay coming through Princeton in early May, 2000.

The relay runners will be on foot, on horseback, on bicycle, skis, or snowmobiles (and maybe llamas) as they cross the nation from the Pacific, Arctic and Atlantic Oceans. They will carry water (yes, water!) from each of the oceans to Ottawa, where a ceremony will mingle the waters of the three oceans.

Strong asked for Council's support in arranging some kind of special event when the relay comes through Princeton. Council gave support, and a few ideas, such as the relay runner entering town in the Welby Stage, and leaving in a wagon drawn by Councillor Jim Manion's llamas.

Aaron Heuser Memorial

slated for fun and funds

PRINCETON - The second annual Aaron Heuser Memorial Alumni game will be held Wednesday, May 19, at 6:30 p.m. at Princeton Secondary School gym. Admission is by donation and all proceeds will go to the Aaron Heuser Memorial Bursary. This year will be a little different though, with a team composed of Aaron's team mates playing a team of local celebrities. Some of the local celebrities signed on for this year are Princeton Mayor Randy McLean.....

There will be a 50/50 draw, door prizes and lots of fun, with a celebrity shoot-out and three point shoot-out at half time.

The Aaron Heuser Memorial Bursary Fund was designed to help improve the level of basketball played in our community by offering a basketball camp for our area's young people free of charge. The first of these was held last October and was a great success, with close to 30 kids coming out for the camp. Family and friends of Aaron Heuser feel there would be no better way to honour his memory than to help Princeton's young people improve their skills at the game he loved.

Money made at this fundraiser stays directly in town to help the children of our town, so come out and help this great cause, because every little bit helps.

School District receives technology PLNet funding

PRINCETON - Nicola-Similkameen School District has received a $57, 053 technology grant from the Ministry of Education. For the first time, school districts will be able to use part of this year's technology grant for teacher professional development for using computer technology.

The grant is to be used for computer technology in the classroom and implementation of the Provincial Learning Network (PLNet).

"Superintendents, principals and teachers must be familiar with the appropriate uses of computer

Town sets budget, property tax rate

PRINCETON - At the May 3 meeting, Town Council approved the 1999 municipal budget in the amount of $2,957,000.

The tax rates were approved as follows: Residential - 5.0739 mills, Utilities - 38.7985, Major Industry - 29.5263, Light Industry - 14.8329, Business - 17.81, Rec/non-profit - 9.7959 and farm - 4.8744. These rates are for general municipal only.; there are additional taxes for Regional District, Regional Hospital and debt.

According to Town Administrator Cornie Froese, the budget is no higher, and actual tax bills should be about the same, but due to the decrease in assessed values, the mill rate is slightly higher.

Province starts count

VICTORIA - A province-wide mail campaign is underway to update voter registration information. The Election Act requires Elections BC to undertake a general enumeration in May of the third calendar year after the last general election.

Voters who have not confirmed their registration since April 1998 will receive a package containing a confirmation card with their current registration information. Voters receiving confirmation packages can simply sign and return the confirmation card or update their voter data by filling out the enclosed application for registration. Anyone wishing to confirm their voter information can also do so through Elections BC Web site at <http://www.elections.bc.ca> or by calling Elections BC toll free at 1-800-661-8683.

technology to support learning," Education Minister Paul Ramsey stated. "They also need computer experience to take advantage of the resources provided by PLNet."

To date, 985 schools are hooked into the network, approximately half of the schools in B.C. PLNet is a five-year, $100 million technology plan for B.C. public schools announced in 1995 to buy computer technology and software, and give teachers in-service training. Another $10 million is allocated to the school districts for education technology for a total of $20 million annually.

Hospital Auxiliary tea put strawberry shortcake with fashions

PRINCETON - Nurses in Florence Nightingale uniforms served strawberry shortcake, tea and coffee at the annual Hospital Auxiliary Strawberry Tea and Fashion Show.

Fashions came from the Thrift Shop, a thriving concern selling "nearly new" clothing. Linda Ashley, Maureen Turner, Carol Seaman, Irene Foster, Joan White and Betty Reheis modelled fashions from Thrift Shop racks and displayed every fashion for casual dress, tailored suits, "cowboy" occasions and the younger, trendy set. The range of fashions was remarkable, and models received a great deal of applause.

There were many door prizes to add to the rewards of the Hospital Auxiliary annual bash. This volunteer organization puts in 500 hours per month of work.

Ruth McLeod, President and Mistress of Ceremonies, commented, "Our first big fundraiser in 1910 brought in $300. This year we expect to make $30,000."

Money raised by the Hospital Auxiliary goes toward items needed for Princeton General Hospital but not funded under the government allocation.

Poison kills Hedley dog

A dog poisoner is at work in Hedley. Police received information on Saturday, May 8, that a 10 year old Labrador cross died as a result of strychnine poisoning. The dog was outdoors for 45 minutes before becoming very ill. The poisoning is believed to have occurred on Friday evening, May 7.

Hedley dog owners should be alert and watch their pets carefully. Warn small children not to touch or eat any form of food found in the street or yard, and watch them carefully when they are outdoors.

Vehicle vandalized:

Asthma camp for kids accepts applications now

The British Columbia Lung Association is accepting applications for the 1999 summer asthma camp. The residential camp at Hatzic Lake near Mission runs August 7-10 for children aged 7-9 years, and August 11-14 for children aged 10-12 years.

Campers enjoy activities like swimming, canoeing and hiking while learning to manage their asthma. Besides 24-hour medical supervision, campers are assured of attention to their dietary, emotional and physical needs. The camp fee is $124 per child and limited financial assistance is available.

Space is limited. For registration forms, call Kelly Ablog-Morant at 1-800-665-5864.

Trout Talk

It's fun to cruise the sport shops

by John Sandness, Similkameen Valley outdoorsman

For me, cruising around a sporting goods store and looking at new tackle is exciting. Almost as much fun as looking at the catalogues I get in the mail. One came this week which had fly tying materials - can you imagine what Bleached Blonde Neck Hackles, Premier Grade #1, no less, do to a fly tyer's imagination?

Some years back, while cruising through the tackle department at Wal-Mart, I came across some lures I just had to try out. I thought my Dad would like one also, so I got two of them. They were croaking frogs.

That's right! You cast these rubber frogs out, and when they land in the water, they will switch on a tiny speaker inside and go "Cro oak, cro-oak," etc. Dad put his in his drawer. I found it after he had passed on. I remember the look on his face when he first saw it. I'm sure he wondered what his son was thinking about, buying that. My frog sits in my box. Someday, when I go bass fishing over at Vaseaux Lake, I'm going to see what those bass think of it.

Modern fly reels now have disc brakes in them. The ads say they are so efficient that a big fish can run hundreds of feet of line off the reel without them heating up, or freezing on you and popping the line! They are made of aircraft aluminum alloys, the same material used in the landing gear of jet airplanes, so they must be strong! And they will also hold 200 yards of backing for those exceptional fish who run across the lake or river. Now, a steelhead of Thompson Rive size might do that. My Pfluger Medalist fly reel with 200 feet of backing has handled any trout quite well, and once, a 45-pound spring salmon I caught in Alaska. I did have to chase the salmon downstream, though. And it was rather chilly, splashing waist-deep through the water without waders. But I landed the fish. My Pfluger still squeaks when I turn the reel handle. The spindle was bent by that salmon.

You know, maybe I should look into buying one of those new fly reels after all!

Aspen Grove gold reports successful discovery

Christopher James Gold Corp. held its annual general meeting in April after its first year as an active, publicly listed trading company on the Vancouver Stock Exchange. The company faced the same challenges as all other companies involved in resource exploration and development, dealing with a short-term negative impact of the markets. The company was able to take advantage of the downturn by continuing to build asset value.

The Big Kidd property near Aspen Grove has been the company's single greatest priority. The company believes the long-term fundamentals of this project are excellent. Results of drilling in 1998 indicate excellent high-grade gold and gold-copper porphyry potential. Drilling indicates breccia hosted gold zones that could aggregate one million or more contained ounces.

Christopher James Gold Corp. states, "One of the most exciting features of this breccia environment is its apparent high gold content compared to better known and presently producing alkalic porphyry systems."

Women golfers start the season with fun

by Sharon Blower, Women's Club Captain

Princeton Women's Golf Club held their spring meeting and social at the clubhouse on May 4. Twenty-seven women attended to enjoy wine and cheese and make decisions about the golf season ahead.

President Jean Trewella called the meeting to order and welcomed everyone. Although Ladies Day competitions officially commenced May 4, many members have been golfing for the past month, as the course has been open and in excellent shape. Some of our members have been to district meetings, rules seminars and outside competitions, and more will be attending tournaments over the next few weeks. The Women's Club voted to allocate the generous gift from a longtime lady golfer to beautifying the garden adjacent to the #7 Teeing Ground. Two hawthorn trees have been purchased and planted, and annuals will be planted this year and for many years to come, with her donation to the Women's Club.

Chamber reports top Trade Show

PRINCETON - This year's Trade Show, presented by Princeton and District Chamber of Commerce, was tops in attendance - 2,001 paid admission to the two-day show. There were 50 exhibitors and 61 booths sold.

Chamber manager Christiane Gosselin says everybody was very pleased with the show and "lots of people have booked for next year."

Although all of the accounts are not settled, Gosselin expects a small profit for the Chamber.

One of the nicest results of the show, for Gosselin, were the many compliments received about the young people who delivered coffee, juice and doughnuts to exhibitors during the show. The exhibitors appreciated the courtesy of the young people and their positive attitude.

Draw winners: Bill Miner T-shirt went to Bill Broderick; Barbecue went to N. Novick, Marg Eyre won the chair, E. Jones of Penticton won the two tickets to Farmers Daughter, Kim Maynard won the notebook, and Bonnie Olson won the scented candles.

POINTS OF VIEW

OUR VIEW

Reaction to tragedy

The murders of students by other students is not only tragic, it is appalling. There are enough cases now where school killers have survived and psychiatrists have had an opportunity to study them, so we have some definitions of what motivates these kids.

First, the students who kill other students are kids who do not fit in and feel alienated. Further, they have been the butt of jokes, derision and humiliation from other students, and have, in one or two cases, been ongoing victims of bullying by other students.

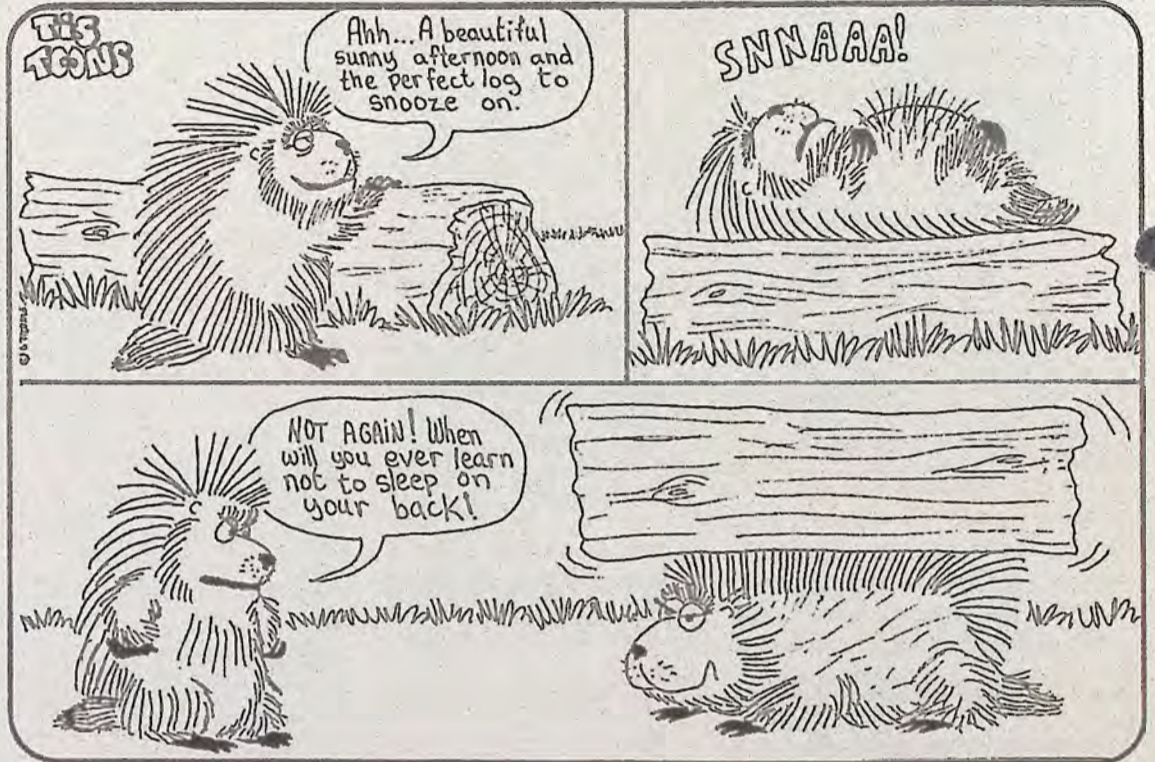

In the Columbine case in Colorado, the alienated students attacked those students they saw as most popular and successful. This is an example of envy or vengeance gone to extremes.

Within the boundaries of what is known of these students' motivation, there is a reason our society needs to look at seriously: lack of respect for others. Students are bullied and humiliated out of a lack of respect for them. Murder is the ultimate act of disrespect.

If we look at our society as it is today, we can see a lack of respect for others as part of a major trend. Today, we have training programs to teach service workers how to be polite to customers. What does this tell us about our society.

We can blame parents, schools, society in general, television, the government, the promise of catastrophes in the millennium, or environmental fatalism, but blaming does not solve the problem. We need to look at trends that determine behaviour.

Perhaps it is time to turn our attention to respect for others. Respect includes good manners, courtesy, politeness, ordinary civility. These elements are sadly lacking in our society. Rough language, "the finger", refusal to listen to others, traffic discourtesy, rudeness, making fun of others is commonplace today, on the street, in movies, on television and in the classroom. Should we change?

YOUR VIEW

A-G wants funds for RCMP

An Open Letter

From Attorney General Ujjal Dosanjh to the Solicitor General of Canada:

Dear Mr. Minister;

Your decision to significantly reduce funding to RCMP police services is threatening the public safety of the citizens of British Columbia. For the second year in a row your government has ignored the critical funding shortfall in the RCMP budget. In July 1998, I wrote to the former Solicitor General, the Honourable Andy Scott, expressing my concern about the impact on public safety resulting from federal cutbacks to the RCMP's budget. In November, we were told that $10 million was restored to the budget for British Columbia RCMP (E Division). The RCMP and your ministry assured us both publicly and privately that the budget crisis was over. You even went so far as to sign a Memorandum of Agreement with Treasury Board of Canada and the RCMP to guarantee that an adequate level of funding would be provided to RCMP contract police services in future years. Despite these extraordinary assurance, British Columbia is still facing a significant cut in the level of police service from the RCMP.

The federal government is refusing to add $7 million to this year's budget to pay for the increase to police salaries in this province. You and your government are insisting the RCMP absorb this amount from within their operational policing budget. The RCMP must also find an additional $1.4 million to pay down the deficit incurred from the previous year. In other words, after restoring $10 million to "E" Division's core budget last year, the federal government is effectively clawing back $8.4 million.

As a result, the RCMP are once again facing severe budget restraints, the effect of which is compounded by the fact that we are heading into the summer months, the busiest time of year for police throughout B.C. This is unacceptable to me and to the people of British Columbia.

Cutbacks to equipment, vehicles, repairs and gas impaired the ability of the RCMP to carry out their regular duties in an efficient and effective manner. These are just some of the examples of the immediate impact of funding cuts. The long range effects of another budget-cutting measure, the closure of the RCMP training depot in Regina, is just now beginning to impact on vacancy rates in "E" Division.

At the end of March 1999, RCMP vacancies (including medical leaves) totalled about 400 in British Columbia. If attrition continues at its usual rate, vacancies will be approaching 600 by the end of the year. Although it was announced in March that the training depot had reopened, the first troop of 24 cadets just began training this week and will not graduate until September. Three new troops of 24 cadets each will graduate two-month intervals over the winter. In total there will be 96 cadets ready for duty by the end of this year. In the unlikely event that all of these cadets were assigned to B.C., the vacancy rate would still be unacceptably high.

The province and municipalities have willingly budgeted for their 70% or 90% share of contract policing costs. By refusing to pay its full 30% or 10% share of contract costs, the federal government is undermining our ability to provide the residents of our communities with an appropriate level of policing. The federal government must meet its obligations under the 1992 provincial and municipal policing agreements. It is my expectation that you will act immediately to honour your government's commitment.

Yours sincerely, Ujjal Dosanjh

Government advertising: Oh Happy Day!

by Joe Schwarz, local philosopher and humorist

This is the time of the year we have the opportunity to pay our taxes for all our services. Taxes come in many forms and usually have no growth problems. Building permits, tax on legal services, increased hunting and fishing license, a fee for forestry campsites, property taxes - you name it, our elected officials we entrusted with our(?) expenditures have something for everyone.

Sometimes though we have to wonder. Our ferry system has gone from a 15 million dollar debt to an $800 million debt even with a 75 per cent increase in fares. Now, you'd really have to work on that one!

That's since the NDP has been in power. Recently, a bureaucrat moved from Victoria to Vancouver - our cost: $75 thousand. It was not for the whole neighbourhood.

More puzzling is the advertising cost. Advertising our tax cut - remember the one your whole family went to Tahiti on : $700,000. Advertising our recent budget: $700,000. Advertising the Nisga'a Treaty: $7 million.

Let's assume Princeton Secondary School has 700 students and we gave the tax cut advertising money to them. That would mean $1,000 each to further their education. We got nothing.

Let's say we used the $700,000 advertising budget money on Princeton family services to enhance our retirement and challenged community, making it a provincial beacon: we got nothing.

The most puzzling is, of course, the $7 million promotion of the Nisga'a Treaty. Supposing you had sold your house or car or pet turtle and it was a done deal, would you advertise them for sale? (Please use discretion with your answer, this is a family newspaper.) The Nisga'a Treaty was forced through the Legislature with 'closure'. It was a 32-38 MLA vote, hardly overwhelming and considered, by all accounts, negatively by the public. Although it was debated generally nearly half of the treaty was not debated detail by detail. Anyone knows it is the fine print that counts.

The passing of the Nisga'a Treaty was a foregone conclusion of the ruling socialist regime - a done deal - why advertise it at a cost of $7 million? If $5 million of the Nisga'a advertising would have gone to the Vancouver School Board, they wouldn't have to lay off 200 of their staff, affecting special needs children. They got nothing.

The remaining $2 million could have been given to Princeton - $1 million for equipment and needs of the hospital and $1 million for loans to small business. We got nothing.

After all this combined advertising, $8.4 million, we have a Super Nothing. As we are responsible for electing our MLAs in the present election mode, and to ease your "tax rage", you may wish to study two B.C. researched texts, best done by sitting in front of a mirror. One is titled "Government for Dummies" and the other "Dummies for Government." Oh, happy day!

Keeping the zest of youth

Eat less, but eat better

One of the major breakthroughs of modern medical science during the past 20 years has been the discovery that youth can be maintained longer than we believed. Youth is more about how we live than how long our parents lived.

As an example, most people over age 50, today, have their own teeth. Most of their parents had false teeth. Preventive dentistry made the difference. When everyone is taught to use a toothbrush and have their teeth cleaned regularly, serious dental problems are prevented.

Unfortunately, many people approaching middle age are unaware that turning 40 is the time when the most important aspects of keeping the zest of youth become critical. The happy, healthy 40 year old has a better chance of survival than the couch potato.

Habits are formed in youth, and eating habits are those we most need to change as we turn 40. We need less food, and we still need good nutrition. Often, the desire to keep the waistline trim results in eating less, but starving the body.

This column will deal with many of the factors that prevent aging, and give tips on how to live better for a longer, healthier life. We will go beyond the obvious, such as stopping smoking and reducing alcohol intake, which everybody knows about.

The first tip is this: eat less, but eat better. Pack nutrients, especially vegetable nutrients, into every meal. As an example, make lunch a vegetable soup and small salad with whole wheat bread. Make breakfast a whole grain hot cereal and fruit instead of bacon and eggs.

Victoria sends more money for dike repair

Princeton will receive an additional $33,000 for flood protection, according to Attorney General Ujjal Dosanjh and Environment, Lands and Parks Minister Cathy McGregor.

The provincial government has allocated money for 10 more projects in addition to recent announcements of more than $5 million in flood preparation funding for 58 projects, bringing the total of urgent flood protection project funding to $5.3 million this spring.

Heart Food
by Dave Machin

Part I: Jesus came to give you and I a kingdom. A kingdom with resources far beyond those of any earthly kingdom. It's an eternal kingdom. If you receive the gift of this kingdom now, you will reign with Him for all eternity. Great claims you might say! But then Jesus makes staggering promises to those who believe in Him. It is God's intention for you and I to possess the kingdom of heaven now. Yet many say that this only happens beyond or after death and there is always an uncertainty as to whether God will accept you then. He (God) intends for us to know we have received the kingdom as a gift from Him, not because we deserve it, or are worthy, but because of His goodness and grace. He gives us everything, although we deserve nothing. The phrases "kingdom of heaven" and "kingdom of God" are interchangeably used in the new testament and they reflect the nature of the king. For example, the life of a nation reflects the nature of the government of that nation. It may be democratic, or totalitarian, but either way, the policies and decisions of the government will be worked out and reflected in that particular nation's life. In the home, the leadership of the parents and particularly the father will be reflected in the family. For the children are basically the product of the kind of headship exercised over them. So it is with God's kingdom. It reflects the nature of the king of heaven. If we want to see or know what kind of kingdom God offers, we need to see what kind of God He is. Everything about God is positive, there are no negatives in Him. This may not agree with your mindset or you may not understand it all, nevertheless it is the truth. He positively loves you and has a great desire to have a personal relationship with you, so much so that he sent his own son to die on the cross to make this relationship possible. All you have to do is personally receive him as your lord to enter into His kingdom. God is good all the time. Pastor Dave Machin, Similkameen Christian Center, 219 Vermillion Avenue, Princeton, B.C. Rodeo Royalty candidates ride

by Laurel Arnold

KEREMEOS - Three Elks Rodeo Royalty Candidates met at the Rodeo Grounds on Saturday morning, May 1, to demonstrate and be judged on their riding abilities--the first element in the Royalty Competition. The young ladies are all 17 yrs. old, all attend SESS, and all, according to competition organizer Joan Popovich, "display an interest in and love for horsemanship."

Rebecca Carter, in grade 12, spends her spare time riding, running, reading, driving and dancing. Her post graduation plans include owning a ranch and modeling.

Krissy Jolleys, in grade 11, is interested in rodeos, barrel racing and reading. She enjoys meeting new people. After graduating, she plans to attend college or university and to continue her involvement with rodeos and horses.

Kaycie Lawrason, in grade 12, includes in her spare time activities, riding her horses and entering them in competitions, volleyball, working as a lifeguard and teaching swimming. She plans to acquire a B.A. in psychology from Cariboo College and to apply to work in the police force.

This is the first year since 1996 that the Elks Rodeo has had a Royalty Pageant. Crowning will take place after the girls present their speeches at an afternoon tea slated for Saturday, May 15, at 2:00 p.m. at the Keremeos Elks Hall. Tickets are $3.00 at the door.

Police report single vehicle accidents

by Laurel Arnold

SIMILKAMEEN - Keremeos RCMP report two single vehicle accidents in the area both on the same day, Tuesday, May 4. At approximately 3:00 a.m., a Penticton male driving a Ford Explorer north on Hwy 3A, near Stagecoach Rd. by Olalla, veered left, crossing the oncoming lane, went through a ditch, struck a utility pole, and landed on a tree in a ditch. The driver and his four passengers all escaped injury, but the vehicle did not. It sustained about $10,000 damage. The driver was charged with failing to keep right. At approximately 4:15 p.m., a Keremeos male driving a Jeep Cherokee veered off the road to the right near the bypass on Hwy 3A and stuck a power pole. The driver was unharmed but his passenger received minor injuries. Vehicle damage was about $15,000. The driver was charged with failing to keep right.

SESS ARCHERY Students aim for excellence

by Laurel Arnold
SIMILKAMEEN - Through Archery Shoot lessons, Keremeos-Cawston Sportsman's Association volunteers and Similkameen Elementary Secondary School (SESS) staff are collaborating both to teach hand-eye coordination, concentration, and self discipline to students, and to help them improve their upper body strength. Based on the Junior Olympics Program, this introductory course of 10 sessions over 5 weeks is offered for grades 8 to 12 and uses traditional recurve bows of the type that with some additions could be used in the Olympics. According to Sportsman volunteer Rick Ekkel, students who start under this program could work towards the Olympics. Seven of the nine Sportsman Association volunteers who have taken a level one coaching clinic through the National Coaching Certificate Program have been able to regularly assist in the archery classes, four days a week, one to two classes a day.

Rick Ekkel says "it's been a real community effort." Material to build the backstops that hold the bulls eyes has all been donated from businesses and individuals. The School and Sportsman Association each donated $1,500 toward the purchase of the bows and arrows. They hope to provide archery classes to the general public next winter.

Similkameen Elementary Secondary School Grade 9 & 10 students take archery lessons based on Junior Olympics Program.

Rural flood assistance update

by Laurel Arnold
SIMILKAMEEN - At its regular meeting on Monday, May 3, Keremeos Council received a letter dated April 27/99 from the BC

Government Flood Central Coordination Group, (CCG) addressed to Municipalities and Regional Districts and stating that the risk of flooding in May, June and July exists in virtually all areas of the province. The letter outlines specific provincial gov. response activities that have been initiated such as assisting local govts. and Ministry of Environment Lands and Parks (MELP) to undertake mitigation work prior to flooding, establishing six Flood Sector Provincial Field Response Centres (PFRCs), stockpiling riprap for emergency dike repairs, acquiring sand bags and filling machines, and administering disaster financial assistance payments (DFA) for flood victims. The letter also included current policy and procedures of the PEP (Provincial Emergency Program) Coordination Centre.

Bob Stanley, Keremeos Emergency Coordinator, will be attending a PEP and PFRC meeting in Kamloops on May 11 and will have more info. when he returns. He reminds all rural areas that in a flood emergency, they can call PEP at 1-800-663-3456 or the Ministry of Highways at 492-1300.

Alliance includes about 43 tribes whose lands cover about one third of B.C. According to Chief Louie, the Native tribes in the Interior Alliance are working together because they are all after the same thing, gradually resolving important issues such as land claims and resource sharing, among other things.

When asked on May 6 about the current stage of the the Nisga'a Treaty process, the Penticton Office of MP Jim Hart explained that the treaty still needs Federal Govt. approval. It has to be tabled for debate in the Canadian House of Commons and then signed by the Federal Government. Jim Hart's office explained that though the debate has been delayed until the fall, the Federal Govt. might decide to deal with it sooner.

Indian Bands cooperate toward goals

by Laurel Arnold
SIMILKAMEEN - With the Nisga'a Treaty very much in the news lately, the question arises, "What's happening with the Native Bands in the Similkameen?" When asked on May 4, Chief Moses Louie of the Lower Similkameen Indian Band (LSIB) explained that the idea of land claims was introduced by the Canadian gov. as part of the process of moving Native Bands toward self-government. Chief Moses says that, like many B.C. bands, the Similkameen Native Bands did not sign any treaties, but they do have land claims. He says treaties and land claims go hand in hand. Both the Upper and Lower Similkameen Indian Bands belong to the Okanagan Native Alliance which forms a part of the Interior Alliance. The Interior

Keeping kids safe

by Charlene Seehagel, Public Health Nurse

Welcome to a 4-part series of articles by Public Health Nurses at Penticton Health Centre. Each article will examine a different age range from 0-5 years old and the safety challenges parents face in each period due to their child's increasing abilities and skills. Week #1: Safety tips for parents with babies 0-6 months old.

If corn oil comes from corn, where does baby oil come from?

Many people believe that babies in the first half of their first year of life accomplish very little developmentally compared to older babies and toddlers. Although babies under 6 months are quite dependent on their caregiver, they do learn new skills quickly. Understanding the developmental stages your infant will progress through will help you anticipate and prevent accidents.

#1 - Heads up phase: (0-2 months) - Babies are observant in this stage and love to watch mobiles, shapes and the faces of people closest to them. Their vision is best when looking at people and objects 1/3 metre away. Because they have little control at this age, they need lots of love and protection.

#2 Looker phase - (2-5 months) - Babies at this phase are finding their mouths and learning by using all five of their senses. They will discover their hands and feet, and they start to imitate others' actions. They love to be talked to!

#3 Creeper/Crawler Period - (5-8 months) - Babies at this age are becoming increasingly mobile. They want to explore everything and they learn how to get things out of reach. They love repetition. They progress from a slow creep to a quick crawl, sometimes without much notice.

B.C. Children's Hospital's Safe Start Program has found that babies at this age need special protection from falling from beds or change tables, choking on small objects, and burns from hot liquids. Each year, nearly 300 children under age one are admitted to B.C. hospitals for treatment of unintentional injuries! In this age group, the major causes of these injuries are falls, scalds, poisoning and suffocation.

Preventing falls:

- Keep a hand on the baby during diaper changes to prevent falls from a bed or change table. Keep supplies close at hand.
- Beware of slipping on wet floors, icy stairs or loose rungs when carrying a baby.
- Never leave an infant bouncer chair on a table or counter - a baby's bouncing can kick the chair over the edge.
- Always use a safety strap while your child is in the grocery cart and never leave unattended in the cart.
- Make sure the crib rails are up and secured.
- Baby walkers are dangerous and are not sold in stores anymore.

Preventing Burns:

- Test bath water with an elbow and make sure it is warm and not hot.

- Do not hold the baby while you are eating or drinking anything hot.

Preventing poisoning:

- * Read prescription labels carefully before administering medicine to your infant and measure dose every time.

- Keep diaper creams, cleaning products, medication, tobacco and poisons out of baby's reach.
- Preventing choking and suffocation:

- Keep small objects (coins, buttons, pins, earrings) out of baby's reach. Teach older kids to keep small toys away from babies.
- Never use plastic bags to waterproof the baby's bed or play area.
- Check soothers often for broken or chewed parts and replace regularly.
- Infants are safer without pillows
- Hang mobiles out of baby's reach.
- Avoid ties or ribbons on infant clothing and toys. Never leave a baby alone with a bib around her neck.

The News Leader An Independent Newspaper 295-4149 THERE ARE NO CHAINS ON US

Horoscopes May 11 to 18

ARIES - Partners may become demanding for the next two months. Relationships could become scrappy. Talk through the difficulties to clear the air. Keep your temper. TAURUS - This is a good week for you personally, although bad news may upset you briefly. Watch out for vehicle problems and drive defensively. Learn the value of keeping fit. GEMINI - Worries occupy your mind, and you may feel depressed about news you receive. Troubles you had in February may repeat now. Look for sudden changes next week. CANCER - This week is better than last week, and next week will be much better. Concentrate on communications and stay focused all week. LEO - It's just one thing after another, but there are better days ahead. Hang in there. The long weekend gives you a break. VIRGO - Stay focused on your career this week. Concentrate energy on mental work - effort now pays off later. Your hopes and dreams are favoured. LIBRA - The pace picks up again and partners respond to your positive energies. Push for what you want over the next two months. SCORPIO - If you feel restless and dissatisfied this week, it is a sign you are not getting enough exercise and/or romance. Make the effort to go out and be active. SAGITTARIUS - Hard work this week gives you little time for fun, but friends are good to you and you will enjoy your leisure hours. CAPRICORN - The pace is hectic this week but everything runs smoothly if you stay focused. Partners are good to you and the public pays you many compliments. AQUARIUS - Stay alert. Things go well if you do not let a few disappointments upset you. Think about what is going on and find the answers. PISCES - If life was any better than this week, you would think you were in heaven! Enjoy the smooth ride this week brings. Any problems you encounter are minor and easily dealt with.

Probation breach earns fine

In Provincial Court in Princeton on May 6, Cory Holman pled guilty to two charges of breach of probation. Judge B. Grannary dismissed one charge, failing to pay restitution, when he learned Holman had paid it directly to the business owner rather than through the court.

The second charge was failing to complete 20 hours of community work service. As Holman moved to Penticton and found work, and has been working steadily, Judge Grannary ordered Holman to pay a $250 and a $25 victim fine surcharge.

Steele earns CTM award

PRINCETON - At a recent Toastmasters Club meeting, Sue Steele modestly showed an item of correspondence she had received: the certificate recognizing her achievement of CTM "Competent Toastmaster", and was greeted by an outburst of enthusiastic applause. Sue has worked hard to reach this level, completing the required ten speeches. She serves as club president, is a busy wife, mother and lab technician. The club congratulated her.

Don Darel, a fairly new member, very ably conducted Table-topics, the impromptu speech portion of the evening. The trophy was taken home by Avril Tory; actually she shared the honour with Trish Reid and David Badger.

Laughter was frequent at that meeting. Everyone seemed to be in an upbeat mood, emphasizing the friendly club atmosphere.

Toastmasters are now involved in helping the Youth Ambassador candidates ready their speeches for speech night, May 27.

Imperial Metals had a better year

VANCOUVER - Imperial Metals Corporation, owner of Similco Mines, reports increased revenues for 1998 of $94.7 million for the 1997 $10.6 million, reflecting the first full year of production for both the Mount Polley mine and the Huckleberry mine.

Due to ongoing weakness in metal prices and large outstanding project loans, which are non recourse to Imperial, the company decided to write off Imperial's net equity in Huckleberry and Mount Polley for a total of $41.5 million. The company believes the write-off will have a positive impact on future earnings when metal prices improve.

Imperial agreed to sell a 10 per cent interest in Huckleberry mine to the Japan Group, with the result that, if this arrangement is approved by the boards of directors of the four Japan Group companies, Imperial's interest will be reduced to 50 per cent and Japan Group's interest will increase to 50 per cent. During 2000 and 2001, the payment of principal and interest will be dependent on available cash.

Glowinski named to President's circle

PRINCETON - Glen Glowinski of Coldwell Banker Crowsnest Realty has been selected to join the company's International President's Circle, a prestigious honour bestowed upon only five percent of the more than 69,000 Coldwell Banker sales associates world-wide. As a member of the company's International President's Circle, Glowinski will be extended an invitation to attend the company's "Elite Retreat", a three-day conference exclusively for the company's top-producing sales associates.

Glowinski was recently recognized at the company's International Business Conference in San Diego, California.

WELCOME TO THE WORLD!

OBITUARIES

APPRECIATION

"Thank you"
 Ron, Wayne & Kelci Reid wish to express our appreciation to all of our friends & Neighbours who have extended their support to us during the recent loss of our beloved Wife & Mother Joan. A special thank you to Eric & Ruth Goodfellow, the Osprey Lake "Ladies", Fred Netherton and our family for their special care & concern.

The Family Fair Committee would like to thank the following for their support of our event. All monies will be distributed as bur-saries May 29th, 12 p.m. at the Graduation Ceremonies.
 L & L Countryside Bakery, Goldwater Florists, Ladies Auxiliary to Legion #56, Golden Hills Deli, Overwaitea, Roy's Ice, Lions Club, Town of Princeton, Rotary Club, Stedman's V & S, Mac's Auto Parts Ltd., Similkameen Vending, Riverside School, Colleen Stevens, Lois Brooks, Forget-Me-Not Antiques, Lyle Thomas, Ms Taylor - Cafeteria 12.

My thanks to all those who supported me during my 12 years at CIOR. I appreciate my clients trust and friendship, and hope for their support on my future ventures. Thank you!
 W. George Elliot.

Special Thank You

From the Three Lakes Store & Cafe, to all the People for the kindness and support you have given us.

APPRECIATION

A big "Thank you" to Jim Schnase of Tulameen Motors for doing such an excellent job repairing my car after damage from a falling rock.
 G. Mahnke.

George Elliott displays his new Princeton Area Fishing Guide, which he says will set a new standard.

Fishing Guide hits stands

PRINCETON - The ultimate fishing guide for the Princeton area gives details about 95 different lakes between Corbett Lake to Placer Lake on the north-south axis, and from the Coquihalla Highway in the west to Eastmere/Westmere Lakes in the east. Author George Elliott says, "I guarantee this booklet will set the standard for all future fishing guides for this area."

The small book sells for $2.00 at the News Leader, L & S Grocery, The Hut, Princeton Sports, Village Kitchen and the Spotlight.

The guide includes the location of each lake, whether it has four-wheel or two-wheel drive vehicle access, if there are camping sites (if none, the closest), boat launches, and any boating or fishing restrictions. There is some lake trivia and history, such as how the lake was named, and some history, such as conservation projects done on the lake. There is some information on the rivers and creeks.

"While I did the research, I developed a great deal of respect for all of the volunteers who have enhanced and conserved the lake fishery, such as fish and game clubs, and for the Wildlife Branch," Elliott said.

Princeton Area Fishing Guide follows the trend of Elliott's two previous booklets which have sold well: it has Similkameen River water mixed into the ink.

Susan Later was the April winner of dog food at Southern Ridge Trading Company. With her are the real winners: Misty and Blue, standard Schnauzers. March winner was Dave Campbell, who received $6.00 worth of dog food.

Fire calls Firemen, Forestry and volunteers

by Laurel Arnold.

CAWSTON - A grass fire that started on the Chopaka Reserve early Saturday afternoon, April 24, and burned back into the Keremeos Fire Protection District at about 4:30 p.m. the same day, was finally completely extinguished by Sunday afternoon, thanks to the cooperative efforts of the Keremeos and District Fire Dept., the Ministry of Forests, and volunteers. According to Doug Macleod, Keremeos Fireman, his department monitored the fire with Forestry and, when it threatened farm buildings, they took action. The area is a series of swamps, in which years of fuel have accumulated, and old river channels with hay fields in between. Doug says, "It was pretty extreme fire behavior for this time of year. Bulrushes and grass in the swamps were sending sparks three, four and five hundred feet in the air and starting new fires ahead of the main fire."

When the blaze spread into the Keremeos District Saturday afternoon, it came close to a road, allowing the firefighters to get to it. Before that, the Ministry of Forests was responsible for monitoring it because they have an agreement with Natives to take fire fighting action on reserves. Sparks were landing on and inside hay barns and in a calving shed on McCurdy Ranch at the corner of Barcello Rd. and Hwy. 3 in Cawston. The Keremeos Fire Dept. tanker attended the fire and a rescue truck shuttled equipment and supplies out to it. Besides the crew working on the blaze, the Fire Dept. had a crew in town on stand-by to cover other emergencies that might arise.

Doug explained that it felt strange for the firemen to be doing a "burn off", as they did with this fire in cooperation with Forestry. Instead of putting the blaze out with water, they burned a black line between the road and the main fire. The black line burn off brought the fire under control at about 11:30 p.m. They left an overnight fire crew there to mop up and patrol. The next morning, Forestry put a small crew on to mop and clean up.

The Ministry of Forests is investigating the fire.

A couple of Keremeos Firemen suffered minor injuries because of the great distances they had to cover. Several neighbours and passers by offered to help. Though the firemen then had to be concerned about the safety of these volunteers, Doug Macleod says they don't want to discourage help. He said, it was "heartening to see people come out and lend a hand."

This is Diamond Rio, scheduled to appear at the Merritt Mountain Music Festival in July.

The building program in Tulameen continues. Above, Ken Brown's construction crew unloads plywood flooring for the second floor of the new home of residents Barb and Don Young.

Diamond Rio: high on the hit list

In April, 1998, Diamond Rio received the highest honour conferred on a country act. It was inducted into the Grand Ole Opry. Diamond Rio was the first band in 14 years to join the fabled institution.

This tremendous event highlighted a year of career reinforcement and incredible commercial fulfillment. It was named "Vocal Group of the Year" and Number One on Billboard's country airplay chart three consecutive weeks with "How Your Love Makes Me Feel", the only group to do so in 1998.

This top-rated group will be feature performers at the Merritt Mountain Music Festival in July. They have released an outstanding album, Unbelievable, their fifth album. The album features numbers like "Long Way Back" and "Start All Over Again", hit songs the group can be expected to sing at the Merritt festival.

Diamond Rio evolved from The Tennessee River Boys, a country band that worked Nashville's Opryland USA amusement park during the early to mid-1980's. Over the next few years, the band kept changing and taking on new members. By 1989, it had solidified into its current makeup. In 1990, the band signed to the then-new country division of Arista Records and changed its name to Diamond Rio.

From the start, Diamond Rio has involved itself in good works. Its charity golf tournament is now in its seventh year. During the last five years, the event has raised $200,000 for the American Lung Association. The band also serves as national celebrity spokespersons for Big Brother/Big Sister organization.

One of the dreams of Diamond Rio was to mount a bigger stage show for the road and take it to the far-ranging international market, such as Merritt Mountain Music Festival.

Judge says 'stop stealing'

A Penticton couple appeared in Provincial Court in Princeton on May 6 to plead guilty to shoplifting from Overwaita store on November 28. Both Brenda Lee Showers and William Harry Tiahlo had prior records for theft. Tiahlo's was lengthy.

Both Showers and Tiahlo admitted to having been under the influence of drugs and had no money. They both admitted to drug addiction problems. Tiahlo is on a methadone treatment program, Showers is on rehabilitation. Showers was also on probation for a different crime.

Tiahlo, age 44, is employed, and was ordered to pay a $250 fine plus a $25 victim fine surcharge.

Judge B. Grannary remarked on the theft record, and added, "The point of sentencing is to get you to stop stealing."

Showers was ordered to spend one day in jail.

Judge orders more jail

Ronald Steven Gill was driving a stolen Dodge truck and a stolen fifth wheel trailer on August 24, 1998. The vehicles were stolen in Kelowna on August 23. The search for Gill spread from the Okanagan to the Similkameen area, and Gill was seen in Tulameen, where local residents attempted to delay him, without success. Gill was finally arrested in Hope on other charges and was held in custody.

Gill appeared in Provincial Court in Princeton on May 6 to plead guilty to possession of stolen property. He was still in custody, serving time for a different crime.

Judge B. Grannary ordered Gill to serve two months concurrent on two charges, which would add to his time in jail.

Contest captures fresh air

Fresh air is not an easy subject to capture on film but thousands of amateur photographers are expected to try in the British Columbia Lung Association's Fresh Air Photo Contest.

Now in its fifteenth year, the contest is intended to raise awareness of the importance of clean air and the environment. Last year, over 5,000 entries from all over B.C. and Alberta were submitted in the contest co-sponsored by London Drugs.

"The contest is a great chance for amateur photographers to be creative while reminding themselves and others about the importance of having clean, fresh air to breathe," says Marilyn Lawrence of Princeton, the B.C. Lung Association's volunteer president.

The contest has four categories: kids; sports; leisure and travel; animals and nature; and scenery. Submissions are accepted in colour and black and white. Deadline for entries is June 30.

Thousands of dollars worth of donated prizes go to the winning photographers, including a Pentax camera and binoculars, Sony Sports Walkmans, Fuji cameras and film and a Norco bicycle.

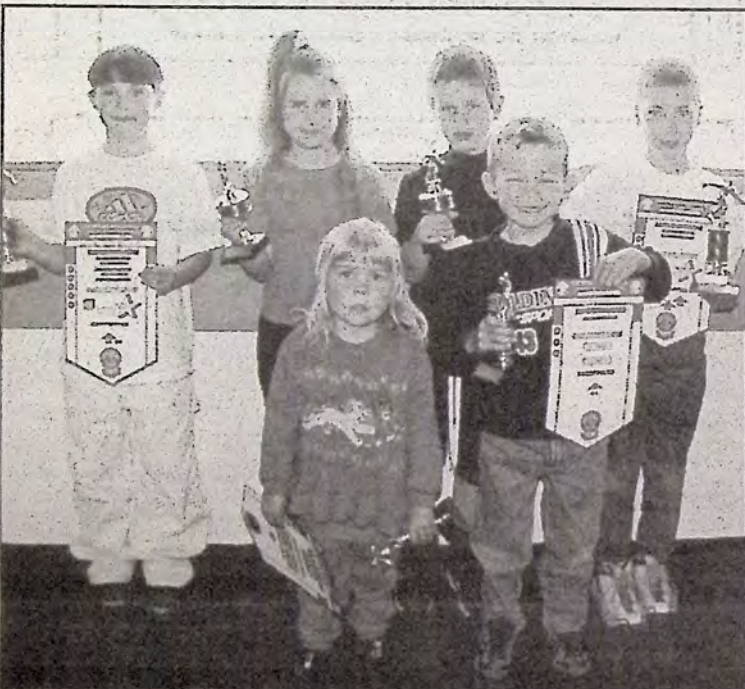

Fresh Air Photo Contest entry forms and contest details are available from all London Drugs locations or call B.C. Lung Association at 1-800-665-5864.

Concert Society chooses new format

by Mary Bedford

Everyone who attended the annual general meeting of Princeton Concerts Society on April 19 was given the opportunity to help decide how the Society should operate in the future. The options were 1) the Society continue with a three-concert series and 2) the Society disband and 3) individual concerts should be offered with a revenue-sharing arrangement with the artists as was done with the recent fundraiser concert featuring Celtic group "Tillers Folly".

Opening the discussion of option 1, Chair Madelon Schouten reminded members that although three excellent concerts given by well-known groups had been offered during the last two seasons, at the reasonable price of $35 for the series, the society had not been able to sell enough seasons tickets to cover expenses resulting in a deficit two years in a row.

Ticket sellers reported that a significant number of people had been very reluctant to commit to the series of three concerts which is required by the provincial government in order for the society to be eligible to receive a grant from the BC Touring Council. Raising the price of the seasons tickets was not considered to be a viable option as it could mean that some of the members who had bought tickets previously would not be able to afford to continue to do so.

It became clear during the discussion of option two that everyone present would like to see the Society continue to promote live performances of music.

Treasurer Ron Denton explained the benefits of option three for smaller communities such as ours as revenue-sharing with the artists instead of paying them a fee limits the Society's potential liability. In the case of Tillers Folly, our agreement was made to share the costs of putting on the performance and after those those costs had been paid the remaining revenue from the ticket sales was divided up with 70 per cent going to Tillers Folly and 30 per cent to the Society.

A total of 223 tickets were sold for the concert and after all expenses were paid and the loan

Council talks Chevron issues

PRINCETON - Councillor Jim Manion reported to Town Council that he had met with two representatives from Chevron regarding work done on Chevron property and future irrigation. He said easements, permits and liabilities are a concern to Chevron as well as to Council to cover the deficit repaid, $510 remained with the Concert Society bank account.

"Chevron was being very cooperative but they let us know it was their property," Councillor Manion commented.

Mary Bedford, who co-ordinates advertising and ticket sales for the Society, said she had recently contacted all the artistic groups who had sent in promotional material for possible future concerts in Princeton, and with one exception, the were all more than willing to enter into revenue-sharing agreements. The decision does not mean the end of community concerts but the beginning of a new way of presenting them.

There was a unanimous vote in favour of Option three.

Brad Hope spoke to members about one of the projects the Heritage Committee had considered: a community theatre in Princeton. Grants had been discovered for putting on workshops for actors and directors, and this might lead to fundraising for an actual theatre. Barb Fraser, a Heritage Committee member, is a contact person for a theatre group (295-7081).

Madelon Schouten will be Chair for 1999/2000, with Dennis Loeppky as Vice-Chair, Joan Kelly as Secretary, and Ron Denton as Treasurer. Directors are Leila Denton, Marilyn Bishop, Linda Neumann and Jim Smart, with Mary Bedford and Yvette Mills continuing advertising and ticket sales.

Volunteer members of Princeton Concert Society once again expressed the community support and encouragement received.

Details of a concert to be offered in the autumn will be announced as soon as arrangements have been completed.

The Uno, Duo Trio expanded to five on Friday night at their fundraiser concert. Left to right: Susan DeBeeson, Maria Mazzarella, Karen Smart, Max DeBeeson and Opal DeBeeson, mother to Max. They performed an excellent selection of classical, folk, and popular favourites to a small but enthusiastic audience. Karen did a piano solo and played flute, Maria and Opal played piano, Susan played the violin and Max played cello.

were full of water pipits, a small sparrow-type bird, migrating north to the tundra to nest. There were plenty of Vesper sparrows singing in the grass, and meadowlarks singing from fence posts. Northern flickers chattered from groves of aspen, and a visitor from Vancouver was thrilled to see a couple of pairs of brilliant western bluebirds. The list included a Cassin's finch, song sparrows, Brewer's blackbirds, a kestrel (our smallest falcon), killdeer calling by the creek, magpies courting the fields, and an indistinguishable buzzard or eagle high above Iron Mountain. In a grove of aspen, there were gray and yellow Audubon's warblers, red-naped sapsuckers (the red-necks of the bird world) and downy woodpeckers.

Yellow bells, early emblems of a Princeton spring, are giving up and turning brown, and now look rather like their cousins, the chocolate lilies (not due for a month yet). There were plenty of spring beauty, woodland star, and spring gold in bloom. There were myriad blue-eyed Mary hugging the ground, easily missed because they are so small - you can only appreciate them if you reverse your binoculars so they magnify close up. Of course, the saskatoon bushes shine like white clouds on the hillsides.

This was a slow, easy walk through a delightful valley. Vermilion Forks Field Naturalists wandered through the Edie and Doug Currie property, grateful for permission granted by the Curries.

The next hike, scheduled for Sunday, May 16, will be up Asp Creek and should be of moderate difficulty, but it might be a bit warmer. Interested participants can meet at the bus depot at 9:00 a.m. and should phone Joan Kelly (295-7743) if planning to attend.

Three good friends share a moment at the Guides and Brownies Blueberry Bash. Left to right: District Commissioner Colleen Kunderman, Deputy Commissioner Cheryl Thompson, and Lianne Kruger, past District Commissioner, who is moving to the United States this year. These three have formed a strong bond during their many years with the Girl Guides and Brownies in Princeton.

Blueberry Bash ends year for Sparks, Guides, Brownies

Pathfinders, Guides, Brownies, and Sparks enjoyed a special awards evening on May 5. There were flying up ceremonies, service awards, and a blueberry bash to end the evening.

District Commissioner Colleen Kunderman was Mistress of Ceremonies for the evening. The Legion Hall was crowded as Brownies and Sparks entertained with songs, then went through their flying up.

Guiders were recognized for their hard work during the year: Carol Mack, Janet Landriault, Elizabeth Willock, Chris Kelly, Joan Walton, Elaine Hoiland, Cheryl Thompson, Lianne Kruger, Ona Onofrechuk, Lisa White and Jewel Manion. Christine Kelly received her 15 year pin.

Special thanks went to Ephraim Kruger (for help with knots), Paul Bedard, Marjorie Brewer, Tulameen Trading Post, Overwaitea, Karen Brewer, Spotlight, The Similkameen News Leader, Princeton Lions Club, Constable Tracy Ross, Order of the Eastern Star, Garden Fresh, John Allison Elementary School, Riverside Intermediate School, and to Sylvia. A special presentation was made to Rosemary Doughty - a large box of non-perishable food for the Cindy Parolin Safe Home.

A special presentation was made to Susie Pond for all of her help.

There was an element of sadness as Guiders called Lianne Kruger forward to wish her well in the future. It was her last year with the Brownies. She will be moving soon to the United States.

Pathfinder Karyn Kunderman was recognized for having achieved her Canada Cord. It will

Judge denies request for wife contact

In Provincial Court in Princeton on May 6, David Ivan Kristan asked for a variance on a recognizance that carried conditions of having no contact with his wife. The recognizance had been sworn as a result of a complaint by Kristan's wife to police that Kristan had assaulted her.

At the time of the complaint, Kristan's wife made an 11 page statement to police which said she had been beaten "about 30 times" during the five years she had been with Kristan. Both Kristans had been intoxicated at the time of the assault and complaint, which was the first time Kristan's wife had made a formal complaint to police. Her injuries were in keeping with what she said happened during the assault.

In making the request for variance, Kristan asked Judge B. Grannary to allow the couple to get together again. Kristan's wife said she wanted to be with her husband, and had been too drunk to remember what she had said in her statement to police at the time of the assault.

Judge Grannary did not believe
Nintendo thief stole dog food

On April 24, between 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., someone broke into a residence in the 200 block of Vermilion Avenue in Princeton. The culprit or culprits smashed the window on the back door. A Nintendo, two controllers and a game were stolen, and a bag of dog food.

Mrs. Kristan. He said the statement was "too lengthy and "too lucid" to have been forgotten. He went on to say she was "acting like it didn't happen", but he believed she was at risk. Judge Grannary said he did not understand women who wanted to go back to these kinds of relationships.

"You will keep doing this 'til you wind up dead," he said to her.

Judge Grannary told Mrs. Kristan he could not grant the request because protection of the community had to be considered, and she is a member of that community.

"You're doing something I think is very, very dangerous and I'm not going to do it," he told her.

The judge made a new recognizance forbidding contact between the Kristans, forbidding Kristan to consume alcohol, and requiring Kristan to take counselling.

The matter of the assault was adjourned to June 3.

Nikic faced tough guys in Moto-X

Riley Nikic, of Princeton, the youngest rider in MotoCross racing, faced tough competition in Tswassen on Oceanside Moto-X track on the April 17 weekend. He managed to win a third and a fifth.

The following weekend, Nikic entered the B.C. Provincial competitions in Summerland at Giant's Head Moto-X Park. There was a record crowd of 256 riders, breaking the 197 riders record of 1997. Nikic had a bad start in his first race, coming from dead last to third place in the first moto.

In the second moto as he had a few wipe-outs. He still managed to make second place, giving him second overall for the weekend.

The past weekend, Riley Nikic raced in the Can/Am Spring Classic in Mission, meeting the fast American competition.

Food exports top $1 billion

VICTORIA - For the first time, annual exports of B.C. agriculture and food products have exceeded $1 billion. The B.C. rate of export growth has led the western provinces for the past five years.

Agri-food exports in 1998 totalled just over $1.1 billion, $70 million in agricultural exports and $638 million in food and beverage exports.

In 1998, B.C. exports grew 21 per cent versus a decline of seven per cent in Canadian exports nationally and substantial declines in all the other western provinces.

Five year old Riley Nikic of Princeton competes as the youngest Moto-X rider in B.C., and he wins. Even in the mud of the Can/Am Spring Classic in Mission, he placed fourth overall against the really tough-to-beat American kids.
