Model airplane tourists

PRINCETON - The Jet and Scale Rally held September 25 and 26 impressed members of Town Council.

At the October 4 meeting, Councillor Dan Sulentich was first to comment on the show.

"I'd like to say thanks to Steve Kovacs for putting on an excellent model airplane show," he said.

Councillor Jim Manion added his praise, and urged Council to support future shows.

"They don't have many places to fly their planes. This could be a big thing for Princeton," he Councillor George Armstrong added his compliments to the organizers.

Mayor Randy McLean remarked that the model airplane show is what tourism is all about - activities.

"Council must find ways to get behind these events," Mayor McLean said.

There was brief discussion of ways to improve show facilities.

Rotary wakes dream

Princeton Rotary is waking up Karen Smart's dream of having a grand piano for Princeton's concerts. She began to dream of this a few years ago when she, Maria Mazzarella and Max DeBeeson were practicing for a Cheesecake Concert. "What this town needs is a good piano," Karen remarked.

The others urged her to make it a community project. Since that time, money has come in. Princeton Concerts Society had a garage sale and donated $300 to the fund, Maria raised money at a recital, Max, Maria and Karen put on a concert and raised $400, and an anonymous donor gave $500 at a Classic Decor outdoor entertainment event.

Ernie Lawrence was aware of Karen's dream, and Ernie has "connections" with Vancouver Chamber Choir through a friend, John Powell. Vancouver Chamber Choir had an engagement in Kelowna, and were told they needed three venues to make the trip. Ernie had mentioned Karen's dream to Powell, and Powell told Vancouver Chamber Choir about Karen's dream. The choir decided to do a benefit for Princeton if Princeton wanted it. Powell phoned Ernie, who went to Princeton Rotary Club and asked, "Can we support this as part of our community contribu-Continued on page 2.....

4,000 plants seized

Princeton RCMP, working with South East District Drug Section, made a major drug bust in the Highway 40 (Summerland road) area on October 7. Police seized 4,000 marijuana plants along with $180,000 worth of property and $2,000 cash. Cst. Chris Newell says the operation was "very sophisticated" and the buildings appear to have been constructed "primarily for the purpose of producing marijuana." The building had its own power system, automatic watering and high tech lighting. The property is located 17 km, northeast of Princeton.

The bust came as a result of several months of investigation. Charges are expected to be laid against at least two persons. Integrated Proceeds of Crime from Vancouver were involved. The investigation continues.

Weyerhaeuser controls MacBlo BC timber tenures

Forests Minister David Zirnhelt announced on October 5, "After careful and thorough consideration of all aspects of the MacMillan Bloedel and Weyerhaeuser proposal, I am confident this transaction is in the best interests of B.C. It will increase business confidence and further strengthen B.C.'s economy, which benefits every citizen of this

The minister's decision was based on an evaluation of its potential effects on government policy objectives like community stability and economic diversity, the effect on smaller industry players, and other market effects.

Following a public consultation process which raised a number of issues, Zirnhelt approved the transfer of McMillan Bloedel's timber tenures in B.C. to Weyerhaeuser. In return, Bill Gaynor, president and CEO of Weyerhaeuser Canada, said Weyerhaeuser would honour commitments the company made to continue MacBlo's innovative forest practices on the coast, and to work cooperatively with communities, environmental groups and First Nations.'

On change of control to Weyerhaeuser, five per cent of the allowable annual cut of the Crown timber portion of MacMillan Bloedel's timber agreements automatically reverts to the Crown. Similarly, five per cent of the value of each timber licence is payable to the Crown. Weyerhaeuser may apply for the reinstatement of the five per cent by submitting a job creation plan for the minister's review and

Rotarians were enthusiastic about the idea. Their committee met with Karen and asked her to help organize the event, and suddenly, Karen's dream is wide awake and much closer to reality.

The event will have much more than music. Apparently, there are some plans to make the evening quite a gala event and very different from most concerts. The News Leader will have more details next week, but mark your calendar now for November 19, at the Baptist Church, for The Grand

Candorado pleads guilty to violation

HEDLEY - Candorado Operating Co. Ltd. has been fined $15,000 for violating the conditions of its waste management permit by failing to monitor the environment at the company's mine site near Hedley. The fine was issued after the company pled guilty in Penticton Provincial Court. The judge ordered the fine be directed to the province's Habitat Conservation Trust Fund to help with environmental projects on the Similkarneen River system.

Candorado and its president, Byard MacLean, were charged last December under the provincial Waste Management Act with two counts of failing to comply with a condition of their special waste permit. Between July 1997 and June 1998, the company failed to take groundwater and surface water samples and to submit results to the ministry of Environment, Lands and Parks as required by the permit. MacLean, who also pled guilty, was given a conditional discharge based on a public apology made in court.

Councillors toss hats in ring

PRINCETON - Dan Sulentich, Kathleen Clement and Randy McLean have announced their intention to seek re-election to Town Council for another term in their respective positions. Councillor George Armstrong will not run. Councillor Jim Manion was unsure, as he recently underwent foot surgery and was awaiting a report from his doctor.

Board okays RCMP pilot school project

PRINCETON - Riverside Intermediate School will have a pilot project courtesy of RCMP. The project is called DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education).

Trustee Gordon Comeau said Riverside is an excellent school in which to hold the pilot project due to the age of Riverside students, and the fact that all elementary schools funnel to Riverside before going on to secondary school.

Councillor George Armstrong, a retired teacher, receives an apple from teacher Susan Hamilton in recognition of World Teachers Day, October 5.

Corina Avenue house numbers need fixing

PRINCETON - Hartley Buhler brought a complaint to Town Council on October 4 during question period at the end of the meeting. He referred to an incident on Corina Avenue when an ambulance could not find the correct address.

"The ambulance crew was confused because there are duplicate house numbers," Buhler told Council. "This situation needs to be corrected. The cul-de-sac and the street numbers are often the lot numbers, and some are the same as others."

Council agreed to look into the matter.

Judge orders probation for two Hedley residents

PRINCETON - An altercation in Hedley in June, 1998, resulted in charges of assault laid against Terry Adam McFarlane and Keith George Spahan, both of Hedley. The men appeared in Provincial Court on October 7 for sentencing. They pled guilty earlier this year, and a pre-sentence report had been prepared for each of the men.

The charges arose out of an incident that began with youths out camping who taunted McParlane and Spahan. The male youths were name-calling, according to Crown Counsel, when Spahan went after one of them and hit him. A fight followed which involved McParlane. Those involved in the fight are members of Upper Similkameen Indian Band.

After the incident and police laying charges, USIB counsellor Geri Fraser tried to resolve the conflicts through a community circle established for conflict resolution. Everyone involved attended the first meeting, but the victims and their parents did not attend any further meetings, Fraser told the court. She continued the sessions, and both the Spahan and McFarlane families attended. Neither Spahan nor McFarlane were involved in any further incidents.

Defence Counsel Robert Wicks pointed out to Judge G. Sinelair that his clients had been cooperative with efforts to defuse the situation, and one of the victims now spends time in the home of one of the men in the fight.

Despite the best efforts to resolve the matter at the community level, the incident created a 'rift' between USIB members.

Judge Sinclair noted that Spahan and McFarlane had made efforts to resolve the issues, but said, "They were kids and others were adults."

McFarlane, who had no criminal record, was ordered to serve a 90 day probation in which he is to give written apology to both victims, and perform 15 hours of community service work for Spahan, who had a criminal record, will be on probation for six months, during which he is to write apologies and do 25 hours of community work service for the Band.

RCMP launch fundraiser calendar 2000

The Bruce Denniston Bone Marrow Society and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are pleased to announce the arrival of the Bruce Denniston Society's Year 2000 calendar.

The fundraising calendar celebrates the long-standing ties between the society and the RCMP, featuring fine art work created by RCMP members from various parts of Canada. Each work of art is accompanied by a brief biography of the artist.

The calendars sell for $5 each and are available at your local RCMP detachment. All proceeds from the calendar sales will go to the Bruce Denniston Bone Marrow Society.

For over 11 years, the Bruce Denniston Bone Marrow Society, a nationally registered charity, has been committed to raising funds to assist the Canadian Unrelated Bone Marrow Donor Registry. The Bruce Denniston Society's fundraising calendar is one of many projects which allow the society to provide much-needed money to the Registry for lab testing, equipment and donor recruitment.

The Bruce Denniston Society was formed in 1988 when Constable Bruce Denniston of the RCMP was stricken with leukemia and needed a bone marrow transplant to survive. At that time, no national registry of potential bone marrow donors existed. The society was formed to raise money and lobby government for the creation of such a registry. The goal was quickly realized, and now the Canadian Unrelated Bone Marrow Donor Registry, under the management of Canadian Blood Services, holds the names of over 197,000 potential donors.

Looking toward the new millennium, the Bruce Denniston Bone Marrow Society remains dedicated to the goal of helping give hope for the future to all individuals needing bone marrow trans-

B.C. tops tourist list last month

PRINCETON - More British Columbians stopped at the Tourist Information Centre in September than people from any single other location. There were 1,944 "parties" who asked for information. The number of parties averages out to approximately 3,535 people.

B.C. tourists totalled 102 parties, with United States visitors in second place with 70. There were 43 from Germany, 28 from Alberta, 24 from Great Britain, 23 from the Netherlands, 13 from Switzerland, 11 from Ontario, 10 from Quebec, 5 from the Maritimes and 4 from each of Austria, Australia, Saskatchewan. Three parties came from Manitoba, and two from each of Israel, New Zealand, Phillipines and Brazil. Only one party came from each of the following countries: Fra Belgium, Spain and Mexico. France, PRINCETON - In Provincial Court on October 7, two peace bonds were issued. Robert Mark Palmeter was bound by a one year recognizance and $500 bond and a no contact order in reference to Shari-Lyn White without her prior consent.

Judge orders end to drinking

PRINCETON - Mark Bzdel appeared in Provincial Court October 6 to be sentenced on three counts of causing a disturbance. All three counts were a direct result of Bzdel having been drunk, loud and rude. On two occasions, he was in a restaurant and had to be removed from one, and ran when police were called to the other. The third charge was the result of causing a disturbance near Cedars Motel.

Bzdel had entered a guilty plea and a pre-sentence report had been prepared. Judge G. Sinclair took time to consider the report and try to decide on sentencing Bzdel. He ordered an 18 month probation with no consumption of alcohol. In addition, Bzdel is not to enter the two local restaurants where the incidents occurred, nor the motel property, and is to have no contact with two people with whom he had conflict at the time of the incidents in one of the restaurants.

Pharmasave hosts flu clinic to help customers "Live Well"

PRINCETON - There have been a million advances in science and medicine, yet there is still no cure for the common cold and flu. Hose crook strikes again

A truly bizarre, wierd, obsessive type of crime is being committed in Princeton again and again. A person places a garden hose in a position that guarantees it will flood a basement when turned on, then turns the water on and walks away, leaving the homeowner or building owner to contend with the water damage.

The most recent incident occurred at a Community Services building on October 5/6. Anyone with any information that will help police put a stop to this vandalism would be appreciated.Call 295-6911.

also be available by appointment.

At one time or another, we have all suffered the runny nose and cough of a cold, or the headache, weakness and fever of the flu. Despite popular belief, cold weather, wet hair and drafts do not cause colds. Colds and the flu are actually caused by a virus, which is passed on by sneezing, coughing, and touching. Washing your hands often and avoiding crowded areas are the best ways to avoid catching a bug that is "going around."

Since there is no cure, once you have caught a cold or the flu, the goal of treatment is to provide relief from the symptoms while the illness runs its course. This typically takes five to seven days. For most people the symptoms are uncomfortable but not lifethreatening. However, for people with a higher risk of complications, a flu shot is recommended. Eight of every ten people who receive a vaccination will be protected from catching the flu.

Qualified health professions, including the local Pharmasave pharmacist, will be available at the Live Well Clinic to administer flu shots, provide information and answer questions.

Those people interested in attending this clinic are invited to call 295-3383 for more information or to make an appointment.

B.C. is not the worst province for taxation

Most British Columbians feel put upon because of high taxes, but B.C. does not have the highest taxes, nor the lowest. Living next door to Alberta may tend to make us feel deprived of the good life, but living close to Ontario would make us feel worse. Ontario has the lowest taxes in Canada. This information comes to us from the Canadian Taxpayers Federation.

British Columbians pay a tax rate, overall, of forty-nine per cent. Newfoundlanders pay nearly seventy per cent, and the rest of the Maritimers are not far behind. Ontario has the lowest rate, at thirty-nine per cent.

The average family in B.C. pays six thousand dollars a year more in taxes than the average family in Ontario.

We might add to our comments on taxes the results of a study commissioned to find out whether or not our standard of living is rising. It is not. We are losing ground.

Taxation and standard of living are linked. We might look back to the days of the census in Bethlehem, and ask who had the best standard of living, the Israelites or the Romans who collected the taxes?

The absolute worst tax is GST. It hits everybody on nearly everything. The poor are allowed to claim it back, and so are businesses, but first they have to have that extra seven per cent to spend!

What really hurts businesses is the hours and hours of work required to calculate the tax, deduct the deductible, and remit the difference to the government. To add insult to injury, Employment Insurance went up, and then the federal government dared to say they had a surplus. No government is supposed to tax higher than the amount required for any program, and is never supposed to have a surplus. A surplus proves taxes are too high.

Being the only game in town is not an excuse, says reader

Dear Editor:

Princeton is a wonderful small town but the prices can be that of a small town. Recently, I was quoted prices of something I wanted done. The amount was ridiculously over-priced. I phoned out of town, the prices were cut in half. So I phoned back and asked why these prices were so high.

The reasons I was given were as ridiculous as the prices. The person I was talking to defended their quote, which is fine, but this is the only business that does the work I wanted done, therefore they can charge double.

Now, I see competition as a good thing for small towns. It gives better business, keeps customers appreciative and happy, and keeps customers from going out of town. Isn't this the most important of all, keeping customers at home?

Many of the business establishments are fair in prices and are great, but also there are a few which can clean up in prices and service.

Customer service is number one. When I'm in a line for the cashier and I see two or more employees talking or walking past to go make that important pot of coffee, I tend to want to give my business and more important, my money, elsewhere. You have to make it or break it in a small town and unfortunately, some businesses don't realize the customers have the power to do so.

But until some business establishments do start charging fair prices and have good customer service, I will go out of town. I would rather give Princeton all my business, but my money isn't to burn. S. Graham

Hart praises wine industry

Dear Editor;

In a province where the government does little to encourage business, it is refreshing to celebrate a true British Columbia success story. That success is found in our wine industry. I wonder if Father Pandosy had any idea what he was starting in the 1860's when he planted the Okanagan's first vineyard near Kelowna?

From that humble beginning, the BC wine industry, through expertise, dedication and commitment of a new generation of grape growers and wine makers, is now flourishing, winning 440 medals in international competitions last year alone. Whether it be our rich and elegant Chardonnay, a subtle Pinot Blanc, an exotic, lively Gewurztraminer of the intense taste of an ice wine, British Columbia winemakers are establishing their mark. The industry has also established the Vintners Quality Alliance rating system. This system rates and certifies Canadian wines according to the origin of the grape and the quality of the vintage, ensuring the highest quality.

One would thing that this would one would thing that this would place our industry in good stead when selling our product to the European market. Unfortunately, it has not. And, much of the blame for that can be laid at the feet of the federal Liberal government. The rating system, which has been applied in British Columbia and Ontario, is missing only federal rubber-stamping to gain recognition abroad. However, Agriculture Canada has yet to recognize the rating system as a national standard.

The Grits have failed to defend Canadian Vintners against the European trade blockade on our award-winning Icewine. It may be the best in the world, but you can't buy a bottle in Europe. The European Union also limits the sale of other superb Canadian wines to a meager $1 million in sales a year. This restriction, which really is only a way to keep a strong competitor out of their market, is in place while Canadian stores sell $350 million worth of European wine. This hardly seems fair. So, where are our free trade federal Liberals on this issue?

Chamber says "taste our valley" by Laurel Arnold SIMILKAMBEN - Keremeos and District Chamber of Commerce President, John Sladen says "Taste of the Valley" is a "go" for October 16, 5 to 9 p.m. at Victory Hall, Keremeos. By October 7, 15 tables had been reserved by Keremeos and 'Hedley food service businesses, artists and crafts people.

The Chamber welcomes participation from Princeton and other areas in the Similkameen Valley.

For a two dollar admission, people can sample food and view and purchase products of the various businesses and individuals. There will be a silent auction for items donated by the business community, and proceeds will go to the Chamber. For info call John Sladen at 499-2612. To reserve a table, pick up forms at Napa in Keremeos.

SIMILKAMEEN -At about 5:15 p.m. on October 5, a male from Halifax, Nova Scotia, driving a 99 Dodge Van did not see a 1985 Buick driven by a Keremeos female who was trying to make a left turn off Highway 3, 100 yards west of Chopaka Road. The van "rear ended" the Buick, causing about $18,000 total damage. There were no injuries. The driver of the van was charged with "following too close."

It appears that, for now, it is up to grassroots Canadians to pressure the Europeans into treating Canadian wines fairly. Consumers and provincial liquor boards should lead a domestic boycott of European wines until such times as the feds stop sitting on their laurels and start defending the Canadian wine industry.

All we want is a level playing field and access to the European market. And, we expect our government to negotiate hard until this is secured. The Europeans are winning this battle with bureaucratic red tape, restrictive trade barriers and a fear of competition.

Perhaps, in the future, BCTV might contemplate the independent gems which I shall describe · Keremeos "the horn of plenty"

- it sells more fruits and vegetables on Highway 3 than any other place in the world

· Ollala "the fastest place to get a speeding ticket"

. Hedley "the off-highway mystery city"

* Coalmont - the historical listening post of the ghosts of Granite City and Blakeburn

* Tulameen - eastern gateway to a future Whistler

* Manning Siding - one of the family of B.C.'s historical memo-

Princeton - the rediscovered inland capital of the Similkameen and Tulameen Valleys, gateway to everything, whether it's trail riding by horse or snowmobile, bird watching or contemplating history through the Joe Pollard rock

Astute TV production would obviously want to show the world what we have. Indeed, this might be a good idea locally. How about a "walk for Princeton", an annual walk by its citizens through the area and discover its surprises, a chance to make Princeton more attractive and economically viable and perhaps raise fund for a cause like a recreation centre. The Leading Story is here!

Heart Food

by Dave Machin

"O taste and see that the Lord is good." (Psalm 34:7) This sentence is an open invitation from the Bible to anyone regardless of who they are. The word taste refers to the testing of something by means of the primary sense of physical tasting. The thought is developed into the idea of an evaluative sampling of something other than food. As a noun, "taste" refers to discerning with the capacity to choose for yourself whether what you are sampling is for you or not. Hence the term "That sure is good." The Bible promotes the thought that God is good and He is good to all. However, He gives us the opportunity to choose for ourselves. That word good can be defined as "highly beneficial." God is saying to you today that if you will taste of me and ny things, what I have for you will be highly beneficial to you and your life. Every one of us, no matter who we are, have incorporated things into our lives through the advice or encouragement of others. This can work both in a positive and negative way. Tasting carries with it the implication that if I don't like what it is that I am sampling, I can spit it out and refuse to have anything to do with it. Since you do not know me, you obviously are not just going to take my word for it. However, let me encourage you to taste Him for your own self. Every alcoholic, every drug user, just to name a couple of things, was invited to "taste" and then got hooked, even though what they were tasting was not highly beneficial to them. God is not forceful, nor does He put you into any type of bondage. He simply invites you and lets you draw your own conclusions. God is good all the time.

It was a "Great Zucca Day"

by Laurel Arnold

SIMILKAMEEN - Beautiful weather blessed the "Great Zucca Day and Gourd Fair" at the Grist Mill on October 5, where over 400 visitors enjoyed viewing zuccas and gourds submitted for such qualities as longest, heaviest and best dressed.

According to a Grist Mill report, the Zucca melon is actually a bottle gourd, native to North Africa, grown as a major commercial crop in the South Okanagan and Similkameen Valleys from the late 1930s to the early 1950s. In B.C., Zucca melons were used to make the fruit in fruicakes, and as an extender in jams. In California, they were used to make artificial products like melon balls and marichino cherries. The report states other crops such as turnips replaced the Zucca, because the melon's size and rapid growth made it "very consumptive of soil fertility."

A single zucca plant can produce several melons and requires a 25 foot diameter bed. The melons became unprofitable. They also caused back injuries.

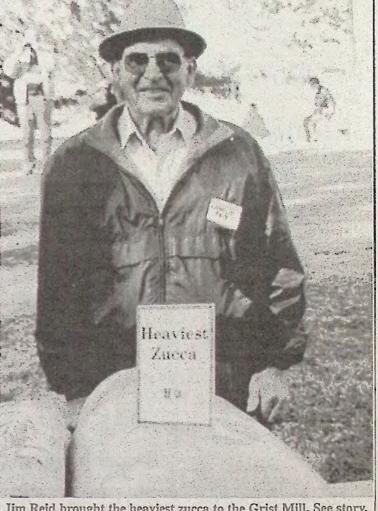

Zucca growing is just for hobbiests now. The Zuccas entered in this year's contest were grown at the Grist Mill and in Oliver. The Grist Mill's seeds arrived in 1990 through the efforts of Sharon Rempel, Grist Mill Gardener. Through the American Gourd Society, she arranged to obtain seeds from Glen Swenson of Sandwich Illinois, who had been growing the Zucca in his back

Firemen visit Cawston Primary

by Laurel Arnold SIMILKAMEEN - The morning of October 6, during " Fire Prevention Week", Keremeos and District Fire Department members arrived at Cawston Primary with lights and sirens going. Bob Thurston, Fire Department Chairman of the "Get out Alive Program," had arranged a mock fire drill. The firemen gave a hose demonstration and all Cawston Primary students assembled to watch a cartoon video on fire safety.

Thurston spoke to the students about fire safety. Bud Coysden, Fire Department Media Relations Officer, said "I couln't believe how attentive the kids were."

Previously, students had been asked to draw their home fire escape route and enter it into a school draw. Rosie Holmes won the "Honorary Fire Chief" title for a day, and Marissa Squakin won "Deputy Fire Chief" for a day. Both girls were presented with certificates, were delivered to school Friday morning on the fire truck, and were given certificates for a free restaurant lunch or dinner.

Jim Reid brought the heaviest zucca to the Grist Mill. See story.

This year Charlie Reid of Oliver won for "Longest," 54 inches, "Heaviest" 91 pounds, and "Largest," length and girth, 86

Best Dressed Zucca" went to Dorothy and Fred Tomlin, address unknown.

In the gourd category, Sue

"All Write" editor Mike Stanley reads a story at Keremeos Library fundraising event by "Friends of the Library" group.

Sales drop at Library

SIMILKAMEEN- The Friends of the Library book sale October 1 at Victory Hall raised $280.00 toward purchase of a new Circulation Desk for the Keremeos Library. According to organizer, Edna Ernst, this was about 50% less than what the last sale netted. There were also fewer participants in the "All Write" magazine reading .

In the raffle draw, Mary Old of Keremeos won two kilograms of Similkameen Apiaries' honey, Mae Simpson of Keremeos won "Write it on Your Heart" by Harry Robinson, donated by Sally Mennell, E Furguson of Kere meos won a "World Geographical Dictionary," and Marianne Swetilik of Olalla won "Doctor's Book of Home Remedies."

The benefits of ETS are realized by shifting energy usage from high consumption (on-peak) hours to low consumption (off-peak) hours. During the off-peak hours, ETS heating equipment converts electricity to heat and stores that heat. When the room thermostat calls for heat, this stored electric heat is discharged into the home or application to satisfy the heating requirements. The amount of heat stored in the core of the heater equipment is regulated in relation to weather conditions. A room thermostat monitors room air temperature and regulates heat delivery as needed, providing comfort 24 hours a day.

KEREMEOS - Keremeos needs Council candidates for the November 20 Municipal elections. Mayor Stranart has made it very clear in past media reports and in a recent interview that he will not run again. As reported in the September 28 News Leader, Councillor Gurevitch will not run again, and Councillor Holley will not run this time. Only two Councillors, Evans and Hecocks. have said they will be candidates. By October 7, no new people had filed nomination papers with the Village office.

SIMILKAMEEN - When interviewed October 6, Bill Bush and Roger Mayer both said they would run again in the November 20 elections. The October 5 opening day for Regional District of the Okanagan Similkameen (RDOS) election nominee registration showed no other candidates for Areas B (Cawston), and G, (Keremeos Rural Hedley).

Riverside elects Prime Minister for 2000

PRINCETON - School has been in for just over a month and the activity at Riverside is bursting! First, we would like to welcome all the new students and 'veteran' students back for another exciting school year. We welcome the return of secretary Marie Anne Roche, who worked at Princeton Secondary last year. Joining us from Princeton Secondary is Bill Lawrence, whom we would like to welcome as our new principal. Teacher aide Linda Neuman joins our staff for the first time and we would like to welcome her aboard! UCC student teacher, Todd Smigielski, rejoins our school for the first 13 weeks of this year. He will then return to campus and graduate in April.

Student Council elections are a top priority each year. Candidates present their campaign speeches to a very attentive student audience. Students then vote for who they feel would best be responsible to initiate and organize many of their activities and ideas. Results for the 1999-2000 year are: Prime Minister - Danielle Hilton, Deputy Prime Minister -Patrick LePoidevin, Minister of Finance - Ashley Silvius, Secretary - Diane Wentland.

Grade 7 Class Reps - Clara Coyne, Ashley Dore, Rylan Mogge, Jake Greening; Grade 6 Class Reps - Jana McKenzie, Kassi Crimmon, Lewis Smith. Blake Tarswell. Congratulations to all of the candidates who ran in the election. Great job!

Our gift wrap Fund Raising has "wrapped up." Students had brochures for gift wrap, ribbon and trinkets. This is the school's big fund raising activity and we would like to thank the community for its continued support.

X-country runners have been . training with Mr. Lawrence twice a week. Their first meet was hosted by John Allison Elementary last Wednesday and Riverside will host a x-country meet with local schools on October 13.

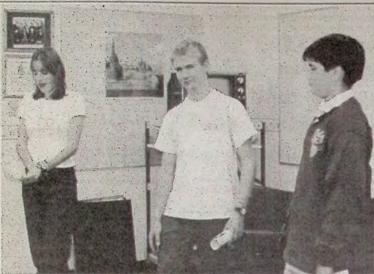

Mr. Smith has been keeping the grade six boys busy at noon with the school's soccer team. They played at John Allison Elementary last week and will attend a tournament in Merritt on October 14. Great work, team!

Our students and staff are looking forward to a rewarding school year as we count down the end of this millennium. Did you know that, on October 12, 1999, the population of the world will have reached the SIX BILLION mark?

Protector Plus Voice Dialer Security System

The Protector Plus Voice Dialer Security System (DS7000) is PASS's most popular security system. It's the perfect security system for the person that wants to have three way protection (flashing lights, screaming siren, and monitoring). When an alarm is triggered, the Protector Plus System will sound a built-in 85dB siren. The Protector Plus Voice Dialer Security System can be armed in instant/delay, home/away modes. In home mode, motion detectors are disabled while door/window sensors are armed. This allows you to walk around the house yet have your doors and windows protected from entry.

Princeton Secondary School students told school trustees about leadership plans for the coming year. Left to right: Tasha Gee, Steven Tory and Chris Newman. See story.

Students plan active year

Princeton Secondary School students attended the October 6 school board meeting to tell trustees about their student activity plans for the coming year. Counsellor Linette Patry introduced Student Council members Tasha Gee, Chris Newman, and Steven Tory.

Tory talked about the 'spirit' logo contest. The person whose logo wins will see the logo printed on school T-shirts that will be given to students and teachers in appreciation for outstanding contribution to the school. Tory advised the trustees the students would arrange a Remembrance Day service for the school, and would collect food for the Christmas hamper drive. There will be three dances for students this year, Tory

Tasha Gee talked about involving students in activities in the community through writing "don't drink and drive" messages on liquor store bags to be used during the holiday season. Student Council will sponsor a Valentines Day flower sale, and a toga day when students must wear a toga to

Chris Newman told trustees about a leadership conference some students will attend to learn how to build leadership skills. He explained about the Thanksgiving turkey draw, the pumpkin carving contest for Hallowe'en, chocolates for student birthdays, and a time capsule for the millennium. This last project will involve students in writing brief articles about their lives now and including it with a photo of themselves. The capsule is to be opened on the occasion of their class reunions.

Trustees commended the students for their school spirit and for demonstrating their leadership

tacids and calcium

We are well aware of the importance of sufficient levels of calcium in our diets; however, not all sources of calcium are as effective as others. For years, the public has been misled to believe that chewing antacids such as "Tums" is a good source of calcium.

There are two major reasons that antacids are poor sources of calcium.

First, taking antacids such as Tums - for upset stomach or as a calcium supplement - neutralizes the production of (HCl) in the stomach. In order for proper absorption of calcium to occur, a high level of hydrochloric acid (HCl) is required.

The second reason antacids are not suitable sources of calcium is related to the type of calcium found in these drugs. The calcium found in Tums is calcium carbonate which is the least digestible form of calcium on the market. Calcium citrate is far more easily broken down for absorption. According to the New England Journal of Medicine, "about 45% of the calcium is absorbed from calcium citrate in patients with reduced levels of stomach acid, compared to 4% absorption from calcium carbonate."

Not only are these antacids poor sources of calcium, they also have many side effects; as found with many other drugs. Natural stomach acid is essential for proper gastrointestinal functioning and research is showing long term use of antacids can lead to very serious conditions.

People relying on them are twice as likely to be hospitalized for ulcers and related problems than people who do not take the drugs. If you are taking these types of drugs, or are experiencing stomach or digestive symptoms, investigate all your options. Simply relying on drug manufacturers for information does not always tell the entire story.

PRINCETON - Secondary schools in District #58 were 40 students over projected enrolment, Superintendent Richie Gage told school trustees at the October 6 school board meeting. The provincial government has put a cap on adult learners returning to secondary school. This means the government will fund adult learners only up to a specified number. Adult learners do not count for funding in the budget allocated according to a formula set by the Ministry of Education.

Trustee Gordon Comeau spoke against capping, saying, "It flies in the face of what they're talking about - lifelong learning.'

Trustees recognized that they may have to turn some adult learners away, and felt that would be wrong. They decided to send a letter of protest to the Minister.

RCMP Sgt. Tom Payne receives a handshake of appreciation from author Georgee Elliott for assistance given in writing Princeton Area Unsolved Mysteries. Sgt. Payne says it may help RCMP close some files and hopes many people read the book.

Book digs into mysteries

PRINCETON - George Elliott has another of his little books on the market. The latest is Princeton Area Unsolved Mysteries. For a toonie, you can read about some remarkably mysterious goings on in the Princeton area, and try to figure out what happened and why.

The book begins with the discovery of dead twin baby girls on Thanksgiving weekend, 1994, in an outhouse at Allison Lake. This horrendous crime has never been solved, and Princeton RCMP are glad Elliott has written the story

"This book could help us a lot," Sgt Tom Payne told the News Leader.

The hole in the wall gang is the title of the chapter on the bank robbery of 1998, when a grapple loader ripped the wall out of the Bank of Commerce on Bridge

The cougar attack on the Parolin family, leading to the death of Cindy Parolin as she tried to save her children, is treated as a mystery, because nobody knows why the courgar chose to attack four people on horseback.

Other mysteries are not so recent but still remain unsolved. Allison Lake figured in the disappearance of Harvey David Anderson in 1983, when his black Ford Mustang was found abandonned near the lake. A witness claimed a man left the vehicle and walked away. Anderson has never been seen since. There is even some question as to whether Anderson was really the man's name.

A skeleton in the river, left over from a motor vehicle accident in 1978? You have to read that story to find out what to do if you find the skeleton.

With a nice new parking lot area behind the Senior Citizens Hall, Senior Citizens asked Town Council for No Parking signs along Angela Avenue to allow better access for emergency vehicles. Town Council agreed.

Mixed messages cause frustration

PRINCETON - In the October 5 edition of the News Leader, we ran a story about the frustration of David Isaacson wanting to establish a business in Princeton. Isaacson claimed he had asked for a letter of support from Town Council for his application to Community Futures and it had not been received.

Councillor Jim Manion was angered by the story, and told the News Leader that Council had done a letter of support for Isaacson, and encouraged Isaacson or any other individual wanting to start a manufacturing

Checking with Community Futures revealed the letter had been sent, and it was dated September 9, 1999.

Further discussion with Isaacson helped clear up some of the confusion, as he claimed he had no copy of the letter, and after his meeting with Council on August 7, had received no confirmation the letter had ever been sent.

Councillor Manion stated, "Town Council has done everything within its mandate to assist Mr. Isaacson. We advised him of real estate companies he could contact to find a building. We sent the letter of support. I think we've been very responsible in what we've Penticton - The sun was breaking through the clouds as the limo pulled up to start transporting the wedding party to the church. In the lobby of the hotel, an usher was busy loading the various families into the limo for the short trip to the Penticton United The sanctuary was beautifully decorated and as the wedding party, families, and friends arrived at the church, they were warmly greeted by tuxedo clad ushers. As the rich music emanated from the churches majestic pipe organ, an air of expectancy fell over the more than 200 spectators. Reverend Chris

Haugland gave the signal and the groom and groomsmen headed down the aisle. Once in position, the music heralded the entrance of the bride. Maria was radiant as she headed forward to join Bud at the alter and after a brief ceremony, the minister announced the pair as Mr. and Mrs. Sadegur and the cameras started to madly click away! After greeting the well wishers outside the church the wedding party headed for the picture taking session which highlighted a four generation shot including Maria's mother, daughter, and her granddaughter. A quick limo trip along the lakeshore brought the couple to their reception at the Penticton Lakeside Resort. The Grand Ballroom was filled as the newlyweds made their entrance. An evening of incredible food (the likes of which has seldom been seen in this area), excellent speeches, great wine, and wonderful entertainment completed the evening. Following the wedding, the couple flew to P.E.I. Where they enjoyed two weeks of golfing, touring, and feasting on lobster. Maria and Bud wish to thank their families, wedding party, and many friends for their love and support.

Jung dispels myths about CSC

PRINCETON - Sharon Jung, Manager of Princeton and District Community Skills Centre, attended the October 4 Town Council meeting to dispel the myths about the Centre.

"It is not dysfunctional," Jung said, dispelling the first myth. "It has a good board of directors, and a good staff."

She itemized the policy manual in place, the focus on directives, and the strategic planning sessions as evidence of a properly functioning Community Skills Centre.

"Life-changing things happen for people at the Centre," Jung said.

Myth number two is that the Community Skills Centre is an Employment Insurance agent or provides social assistance. It does work under contract for Human Resources Development Canada (HRDC) but it is not an agent for social assistance or employment insurance. The Centre offers a full-time career counsellor and tries to help people develop the skills they need to secure full-time employment.

Jung dispelled myth number three by saying, "The Centre was not established to serve board members' personal agendas."

The fourth myth says the Centrewill close when government funding runs out. Jung told Council that all Skills Centres are negotiating with government because a study has shown Skills Centre are valuable to the community and must be kept.

Myth number five states that the Centre has nothing to offer the business community. Jung pointed to the Hedley Mascot Mine tourist attraction development and the golf course expansion as two projects managed out of the Skills Centre of benefit to business. When it comes to employee training, Jung asserted the Centre meets business needs.

"We can respond faster than colleges," Jung told Council.
"Colleges plan what they will offer. We find out what people need and then we meet that need."

Jung promoted the upcoming leadership seminar, a day of Steven Covey, Ken Blanshard and similar speakers.

"We want to raise awareness of video-conferencing, which can deliver the same seminars without going out of town and at a lower cost."

Jung did not hesitate to remind Council that the success of the Centre depends on community participation. She noted that some companies say the Centre is great but still take their training sessions to Keremeos or Penticton. "You have to walk the talk," Jung said,

Councillor Jim Manion
expressed Council's appreciation for the presentation.

Barb Fraser, left, and Jean Trewella prepare to tee off in the last round of the 18-hole ladies tournament.

Women's Golf Club wraps up 1999 season

by Sharon Blower

Twenty-three members of Princeton Women's Goif Club attended the fall meeting and awards evening held Tuesday, October 5, at the clubhouse. President Jean Trewella chaired the meeting.

The women's club had a very active, successful year, despite some cool, damp weather in the early part of the golf season. Both the Tuesday morning and afternoon women's activities were well-attended by old and new golfers. In addition, there was good participation by local female golfers in outside tournaments, including Osoyoos, Fairview Mountain, Twin Lakes, Merritt Invitational, Penticton Two-Lady Team and Summerland.

Rob Tambellini, the golf course consultant and superintendent of the work currently being done at the Princeton course, was a guest speaker at the meeting. As the majority of those in attendance had not walked the newly designed "nine", Tambellini gave a verbal tour from the perspective of a game played from the front tees. It promises to be a challenging and very exciting addition to our present nine-hole golf course. At the completion of the business meeting, Women's Captain, Sharon Blower, reviewed the highlights of the season, as follows:

Club Champion:

Bone density clinic raises consciousness

hcp 30 to 35 - Marlies Deiter

hcp 23 to 29 - Phyllis Conway-

PRINCETON - Thirty-four people took advantage of bone density testing at Pharmasave in September. Many people found they had osteoporosis, although they had not suspected low bone density. Many went to their doctors after their counselling session with pharmacist Peter Hutt. Some have already begun a program designed to prevent further bone loss, while others have become more concerned about maintaining bone density.

Pharmasave owner Wen Wong says many people are thinking more about calcium in their food than they ever did before. The clinic raised "calcium consciousness. Wong says Pharmasave may hold another bone density testing clinic in the spring.
