Moose shot and left to rot

PRINCETON - Conservation Officer Al Lay has identified two violations involving moose shot and the carcasses abandoned. Both moose were more than two point and the shootings were in violation of the hunting regulations for this area.

The first moose carcass, reported on September 22, may have been a mistake, Lay says. The moose had three points, and there were footsteps up to it, then away. Lay believes the person may not have intended to commit a violation and realized it only on checking the points. Lay says he would like anyone making such a mistake to call him. A warning will be issued in the case of a mistake.

"At least the meat will be salvaged," Lay says. "If they walk away, it gives hunting a bad name."

The second carcass, reported on October 2, was a 6 and 7 point bull moose.

"It was no mistake," Lay says. "He didn't even walk over to the carcass. It was just shot because somebody felt like killing something."

There were some witnesses to this event and a suspect, who resides at the coast, has been identified.

"Actually, the violation picture is not bad this year," Lay admits. "I'd really like to say how much I appreciate all of the phone calls people have made to give me information on illegal activities. It sure helps."

A complete report will be available when all the statistics are in from this year's hunting season.

Referendum

Mayor wants Area H to vote "Yes"

PRINCETON - Mayor Randy McLean wants Area H to vote "yes" to two upcoming referenda, one on fire protection and one on landfill (waste disposal). The reason he is concerned at the possibility of a "no" vote is that it will strain the resources of people who live in town and pay taxes on town property.

McLean points out that Area H residents use essential services provided by the Town of Princeton, such as fire protection, landfill and cemetery, but do not pay an equal share at this point.

"Town costs rise yearly, but Regional District pays the same," Mayor McLean says. "They have to go to referendum to pay an increased sum for a specified function for Area H."

Town taxpayers have paid extra for fire protection equipment to cover a wider area. While town costs went up, the Area H contribution remained the same. In the matter of the landfill, it is the future that concerns Mayor McLean.

"The landfill will be more costly to operate under new environmental legislation," he predicts. "At some time in the future, the site must be closed and a new site opened. The Town has begun in 1999 to put aside a $10,000 per year reserve fund for 20 years from now, which represents only fifty per cent of the total cost. The referendum will give Regional District some flexibility to help meet those costs. It is not fair to the taxpayers of Princeton to pay somebody else's bills."

The Town spent $85,000 on the landfill in 1999, counting the reserve funds, but the cost in 2000 will be higher because four wells must be drilled to monitor flow-through water.

"Monitoring the water will be an ongoing expense every year, even after the present landfill site is closed," Mayor McLean stated.

Landfill costs have been kept low in Princeton thanks to recycling efforts and the fact that the Town has purchased land for the future. Moving to a new landfill site will cost less than it might, even though it will still be expensive.

Mayor McLean compares costs with Keremeos, where the landfill is open just two days a week, and their budget for 1999 is $182,000, almost $100,000 more than Princeton's costs.

Fire protection costs budgeted for Princeton, even with extra equipment, total $111,000 for 1999. Keremeos has placed $151,244 in their 1999 fire department budget.

This does not mean Keremeos is overspending, it just means Princeton has managed to keep costs down. However, town taxpayers have been carrying some of the load for Area H.

Mayor McLean says he and Linda Allison worked out what seemed to them the fairest way for both Area H and the Town of Princeton to pay for shared expenses, and he would like to see Area H residents support the referendum with a "yes" vote.

Citizen

stops thieves

PRINCETON - On the morning of Sunday, October 17, a local citizen observed a stolen vehicle being driven south on Bridge Street in Princeton. It turned onto Highway 5A, then onto the Osprey Lake road and up Iron Mountain Road. The suspects lost control of the vehicle and went into the ditch and hit a fence. Two males fled the area on foot.

The stolen vehicle was a white 1999 Chev crew cab pick-up. It was followed by a blue Ford pick-up. Anyone who saw the driver or passenger of the white Chev, please call Princeton RCMP.

Warm sun shines on golden day of memory

MANNING PARK - Glorious autumn weather made a perfect golden anniversary celebration of the Hope-Princeton Highway. The air was warm, the music was good, and those who gathered at Manning Park Resort sat or stood in the parking lot enjoying the sunshine along with the speeches.

Mistress of Ceremonies Inga Wilson, one of the organizers from Hope Chamber of Commerce, gave the official welcome. She announced that the ceremonies would be similar to those held in 1949 when the Hope-Princeton Highway was officially opened. Students from Hope Secondary band played "O Canada" and Patti Harrower, of Princeton, sang the anthem.

Mayor Wilfried Viktor of Hope spoke first, saying people should recognize those who created the highway.

Councillor Dan Sulentic of Princeton said, "We appreciate what this highway has meant to Princeton in the past 50 years."

He went on to review the importance to industry and commerce, then gave Transportation and Highways Minister Harry Lali a message: continue to upgrade the highway.

Princeton Youth Ambassadors Krista Szymczak and Candace Smith spoke briefly. Smith recognized workers Carl Stenvold, George Kassa, Bert Lawrence and P.J. Bottaro.

Jim Hart, M.P. for Okanagan-Coquihalla, noted the highway is a symbol of B.C.'s growth and a tribute to the pioneers who made it possible. He spoke of the future impact of B.C. (see page 24)

Harry Lali congratulated the people who organized the celebration, then went on to say how important the highway had been in opening up the Interior to development and tourism. He praised the people who had lobbied to have it built, and the people who built it, noting some of the workers had died on that job.

In response to Sulentic's remarks, Lali told the crowd he has made a firm commitment to upgrade older highways before building any new ones.

When speeches were done, the Hope Legion Pipe Band led the crowd to where a new commemorative plaque was unveiled, and Lali read aloud the inscription, which recognized the importance of the highway to B.C.

Mayor Randy McLean proclaims November 5 to 11 is Veteran's Week in Princeton. With him are Eleanor Sinclair, representing the Ladies Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion, and Ray Jarvis, Legion President. The proclamation recognizes "the achievements and sacrifices of Canadians at home and overseas during wartime and in peacekeeping operations around the world."

Council proclaims Veterans' Week for town

PRINCETON - Town Council has proclaimed November 5 to 11 as Veteran's Week. In addition, they acknowledged the new "Two Minute Wave of Silence" to take place at 11 a.m. November 11. Council approved November 5 as Poppy Day. From 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., the Ladies Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion will be selling poppies on the street. The theme of Veteran's Week this year, "A century of valour" marks the end of the century.

Look for utility trailer

PRINCETON - RCMP are looking for information on the whereabouts of a blue utility trailer loaded with firewood. A trailer, like this, with B.C. license 862941, was stolen from Osprey Lake Forestry Recreation Site on October 17 or 18. Anyone seeing a utility trailer matching the above description is asked to call Princeton RCMP at 295-6911, or CrimeStoppers at 1-800-222-8477.

Remember: CrimeStoppers pays up to $2000 for information leading to an arrest or conviction, and anonymity is guaranteed.

Thief hits Santa fund

PRINCETON - Sometime during the weekend of October 16/17, a person or persons entered the Elks Hall, located on Third Street and stole an undetermined amount of cash. Part of the money was funds raised for the Christmas Hamper Drive.

Any person who saw anything suspicious around the Elks Hall, or observed someone purchasing items with larger denomination bills, please report this information to Princeton RCMP.

Save travel costs Virtual Open House promotes TV meetings

PRINCETON - Talk face to face for less money was the message of a medium called videoconferencing. The Community Skills Centre was the point of contact linking Princeton to 15 other B.C. communities on October 20 during the annual Virtual Open House. Approximately 25 local business people, educators and elected officials participated in a government-sponsored videoconference promoting the concept of holding a face-to-face meeting via telephone and computer technology.

The videoconferencing open house was a commercial presentation for sponsoring companies providing technologies that make videoconferencing possible.

There are definitely advantages to videoconferencing, although the system still has some rough spots when so many groups are "bridged" (brought online together). However, money saved by not having people travel and spending nights in hotels makes videoconferencing a good deal.

Videoconferencing is a great bargain for students who want specialized training which demands that they see as well as hear what is being taught. A teacher may have students in many different locations, remote from college classrooms, but may be able to reach all of them through videoconferencing.

Witnesses are permitted to testify via videoconferencing which saves a great deal of tax dollars by not having to pay people's travel expenses, and it saves money for the individual witness, who does not miss so much work.

Videoconferencing can assist doctors and patients who can consult specialists in a three-person discussion, rather than moving the patient back and forth between family doctor and specialist.

Business agreements, union negotiations, and almost any kinds of discussions result in time and money savings via videoconferencing.

Videoconferencing is available in Princeton through the Community Skills Centre at $130 per hour plus dialing charges for one on one, and $150 per hour for larger groups. This price includes rental for the videoconferencing room.

Rebekahs celebrate Halloween

by Dorothy Stenvold, publicity chair.

As our business meeting was quite short, we had a delightful time during our social hour celebrating the Halloween theme. Most members were dressed in costume.

It is surprising how many different ideas were exemplified. Sisters Reheis and White were appointed judges and they picked three winners: Sisters Betty Golovin, Nancy Holt and Dorothy Stenvold. Each received a small gift.

A decorated pumpkin donated by Sister Stenvold was won by Sister Reheis as she guessed closest to its weight.

Small bags of Halloween candy topped with a plastic bug were given each person and later the Sisters enjoyed hot water activated "animals" swell to be recognized. Candy bears were given to each member.

The table centerpiece featured a pumpkin filled with a bouquet of flowers. Sister Michelle Moore won the table draw - Halloween candlesticks and a decoration in theme.

Keep children safe
as they enjoy Halloween

by Elaine Wilson, Public Health Nurse

Hallowe'en is a fun-filled, exciting time for children. The challenge for parents is to prevent their children from being hurt, and yet let them enjoy the amusement of Hallowe'en. Safe Kids Canada provides the following safety tips to help keep children safe:

Costumes:

- * Make sure drivers can see your child - use costumes with bright fabrics and decorate costumes with reflective tape
- Give each child a flashlight to carry
- Prevent children from falling by having them wear properly-fitting shoes and costumes not longer than ankle-length
- When sewing, use "fire resistant" materials. Buy costumes which are labelled "flame resistant"
- Costume accessories (i.e. swords or knives) should be made of soft, flexible material
- Use face paint or make-up instead of a mask. Hats, wigs, and scarves should be tied securely so they won't block vision

When Trick or Treating

- Children under nine years of age should be supervised by an adult when trick or treating, or join a group of older, responsible children
- Review that children know how to cross the road safely, walk from house to house and stay on the sidewalk or at the side of the road facing traffic
- Children should stay in well-lit areas and only visit homes that have the outside lights turned on. They should not go inside any house
- Before children eat their candy, examine - throw out any candy that has small holes in the wrappers or torn or loose packages. Cut all fruit open before it is eaten. Discard treats that are not wrapped.
- Decorating your home
- Make your home safe for trick or treaters - remove all objects around the outside of your house that cause children to trip or fall. Turn on outside lights.
- Be cautious when opening outside screen doors - small children can be pushed off the top stairs
- Keep candles, pumpkins with candles, matches and lighters in an out-of-reach place
- Candle-lit pumpkins should be placed on sturdy tables. Keep pumpkins away from curtains or other objects that could catch fire.
- Driving
- Remember when driving at Hallowe'en, we can expect that children may become careless in their excitement. Slow down.

Aspen GroveGold looks promising

Christopher James Gold Corp. is proceeding with a fall exploration program as a result of its recently completed flow-through private placement financing. Exploration will focus on three properties in B.C. Big Kidd, located at Aspen Grove, looks particularly promising for gold.

The Big Kidd property is located 30 km. southeast of Merritt, south of the Coquihalla Connector highway and east of Aspen Grove. The company will spend the bulk of its 1999 exploration funds on Big Kidd, where previous work has indicated excellent potential for large breccia hosted gold (copper) zones in a volcanic-centered alkalic porphyry setting. The company's geological consultant and directors believe these zones have potential for million-ounce gold resources.

Christopher James directors intend to develop geological reserves as a result of this year's drilling program, and are optimistic about the property in view of the strengthening current market for gold and copper, as well as silver and zinc deposits on their other properties.

Thief tries Country Store

HEDLEY - Sometime during the night of Sunday, October 17, or the early morning hours of Monday, October 18, a person or persons attempted to break into Country Store in Hedley. Locks were cut on various storage sheds, the electric power meter was removed, and an attempt was made to go through the rear doors of the store. The attempt failed. Nothing was stolen.

On October 24, Princeton RCMP were advised of another act of vandalism. Rude comments and expressions were written on the walls of John Allison Elementary School. An employee had to be called in to clean the writing off the wall before students arrived on Monday morning.

Anyone with information on this vandalism is asked to call RCMP.

Princeton RCMP remind everyone that Halloween is this weekend and tends to be a time for pranks and vandalism. Be on watch this weekend for any suspicious occurrences or vandalism taking place and contact RCMP immediately.

"Let's try to enjoy Halloween with less tricks and more treats," says Cst. Tracy Ross.

Sometime between Sunday, October 17 and Friday, October 22, thieves broke into a shed on a property on Teepee Lake Road in the Chain Lakes area and stole a green 1998 Yamaha 600 ATV. It is believed the ATV was loaded onto a trailer.

Anyone who has any information regarding the theft of the ATV or its present location is asked to call Princeton RCMP or Crime-Stoppers.

Judge orders work with no pay

PRINCETON - A youth appeared in court on October 21 to plead guilty to a break, enter and theft charge. He and another youth had been involved in breaking into a home in the Okanagan Valley and removing some items. The youth had no prior record, but break, enter and theft is an indictable offense.

Judge Klinger ordered the youth to pay his share of the damage done to the home, over $700, saying, "It is necessary to right the wrong done."

The youth will serve an 18 month probation and must perform 40 hours of unpaid community work.

POINTS OF VIEW

OUR VIEW

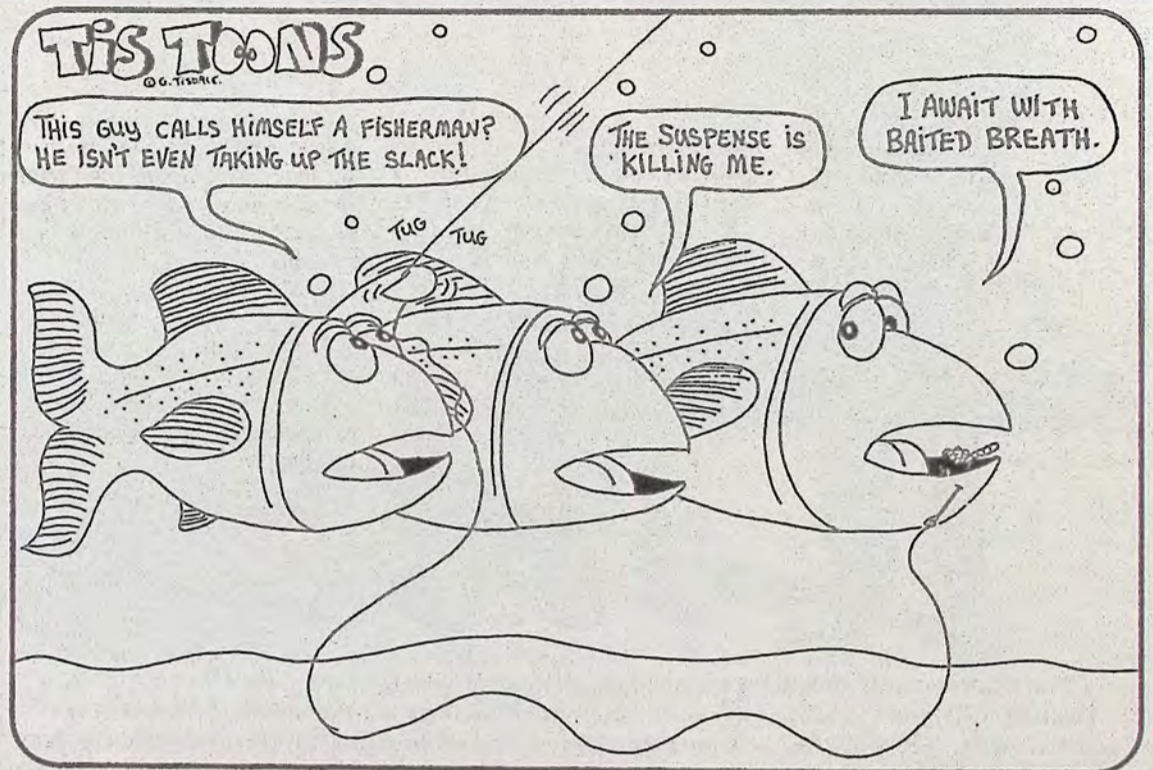

Did you write that letter to Jim Hart?

Last week, our editorial page contained a letter from Ben Swankey. He urged everyone to write to their Member of Parliament to complain about Bill C-80, which would leave food and drug safety in the hands of the food and drug manufacturers. In other words, the companies producing foods and drugs would decide for us whether their products were safe.

Do you remember thalidomide, the drug taken by pregnant women that produced children who had no arms and legs? Canada did not have much of a problem with that drug, because Canada's drug safety program said the drug could not be sold in Canada. What might have happened if that safety department had not been in place? What might have happened if the safety, or hazards, of thalidomide had been left up to the drug company producing it? Would the drug company have decided not to sell it?

Food manufacturers are not always our friends. The big food producers will do whatever makes economic sense to them, just like the drug companies. If it make sense in dollars and cents for them to genetically alter all of our potatoes, carrots, turnips, and lettuce, then they will do it, whether it is good for us or not. If they decide to irradiate all of our food at source so it lasts longer on the shelf, they will do so, whether or not it is the healthy choice.

Without a regulating federal agency to screen the safety of the food we eat and the drugs we consume, can we really trust agribusiness and the pharmaceutical industry to ensure that what they produce will be safe for us, or will they consider a 'reasonable' margin of error as acceptable so long as revenues meet shareholders expectations? If you have concerns, write to Jim Hart. Postage is free to 301 Main St., Suite 203, Penticton, B.C. V2A 5B7.

YOUR VIEW

Community Services says thanks to community

Dear Editor;

Our agency, Princeton and District Community Services, joined many cities and towns in B.C. to celebrate Community Living Month which focused on "overcoming of barriers" and reminds us to appreciate the diversity of people.

We are most grateful to both newspapers for their interest, pictures and excellent coverage of several of our clients, showcasing their abilities, and their talents of giving back something to the community.

As advocates, we are also celebrating the proclamation of the New Adult Guardianship Legislation earlier this year. It will dramatically affect the lives of our adult disabled and senior citizens. The new legislation which comes into effect February 28, 2000, highlights the value of people with disabilities to make their own decisions on legal, financial, health and personal care matters. This legislation represents a huge step forward in an outmoded system.

Our vision has been built on abilities, talents and inclusion for all disabled and senior people. Inclusion means more than living outside of an institution, it allows the individual the freedom to be, have a voice, build relationships and take an active part in all community living.

This year was proclaimed the International Year of the Older Person. To date, we have not read or heard of any reference to the aging developmentally disabled person. Many of our people had to retire from their work at the Mini Chef as they began to demonstrate various health problems.

The week during the interviews with the papers, Paul Gabriel asked, "What will happen to our people as they age?" Good question. We have been facing this dilemma for the past five years.

So what is to come of these people? These are tough issues for our agency now and in the very near future. Going back to an institution is not an option or acceptable!

We would like your comments, ideas or thoughts on this very critical and difficult situation which is currently facing us.

Please phone Princeton and District Community Services at 250-295-6666. We would really appreciate some feedback from our community.

Peace and Happiness,
Joyce Fraser,

Administrator, Princeton & District Community Services.

Region honours veteran foster parents

Dear Editor;

October is Foster Family Recognition Month in B.C. Approximately 135 foster families are making a contribution to children and families in the communities of Penticton, Naramata, Summerland, Kaleden, Oliver, Osoyoos, Keremeos and Princeton. These foster families deserve a big 'thank you' from all of us for the demanding job they do in providing safe, nurturing homes. Five families will be honoured by the Ministry for Children and Families for providing care for 30 to 40 years. The presentations will be made later this month at the 1912 restaurant.

Inger Nielsen and Walter

Thorvalson will receive a commemorative plaque honouring them for 40 years of service, Bonnie and Harry Faasse for 36 years, Carol Yurkowski for 34 years, Vicki and Gordon Laughington for 34 years, and Anne and Adrian Vanvliet for 30 years as foster parents. Other foster parents will be recognized for their years of service at this event.

Social workers and other community service providers will be on hand to thank foster parents. Anyone wishing more information on becoming a foster parent may call Jill Doroshuk at the Ministry for Children and Families (770-2200) or Pat Monahan 495-7840.

Rate yourself in the dimbulb department

by Joe Schwarz, local philosopher and humorist

What level of dimbulb do you consider yourself to be?

You may be of a level higher that you think if you consider the comments and actions by those aspiring to the NDP leadership race for Premier. A quote from none other than former Health and later Finance Minister (both ministries now out of control) Joy McPhail, the "unity candidate", who calls the party "a government that has lost its way" and she will take them back to the days when B.C. looked to the NDP for "ideas, integrity and imagination" and "everyone wants a lower deficit."

When the NDP took power eight years ago, the deficit was approximately $16 million dollars. Now it's working its way up to $1.5 billion and is expected to be $2.5 billion next year, which generally means you and I will pay more tax and get fewer services with more cutbacks and fewer jobs. McPhail's budget was to spend her way out, a complete reverse.

"We've lost the trust of British Columbians," says McPhail.

Can you and I honestly expect investors to come to B.C. and provide jobs in such an insecure climate? And stop the exodus of 20,000 people per month (our biggest export)?

"Ms. McPhail once scandalized the legislature by arranging for a wind-up plastic penis to jump across the desk of an MLA trying to make a speech." (This quote is from a news release.) Perhaps that was an indication of her upcoming austerity plan because the aforementioned item must have arrived without a fig leaf.

Other possible candidates seem to echo Ms. McPhail's new vision or sentiments, discreetly distancing themselves from former Premier Clark and feeling the government has lost its direction. One possible exception is Mr. Sihota, who expressed that the NDP has shown excellent leadership. He is Minister of Economic Security or something like that, a new ministry that does I don't know what, do you?

Mr. Dosanjh, the Attorney General who announced the casino investigation that led to Premier Clark's resignation, a man of integrity, was left hanging in the buff by some of his contemporaries. He will run.

It's unknown if Caretaker Premier Miller of the famous or infamous Prince Rupert Cellulose bailout and the fast (?) Titanicat Ferry-Godfather will run.

Former front-runner Gordon Wilson seems to have some financial and credibility problems of late, and is now viewed by some as a Pinocchio political party surfer. He could quit and become a personal finance consultant but don't rule out his wife, Ms. Judy Tyabji, from running.

Last and least (maybe) is Mr. Corky Evans, probably who has fared the best because as a cabinet minister he hasn't done much and he may as well run for Premier because most others have responsible leadership qualities of equal measure.

However you look at the leadership race, there will be those who will lose, right? So we will still be led by a recycled Premier supported by a bunch of losers. Who's really the dimbulb? Better change it.

Seniors can help youth build personal assets

Growing older can bring many positive things: knowledge, wisdom, experience, perspective. Sharing some of this wealth with young people builds assets in a way no other age group can. Whether you work outside the home or in, have grandchildren or not, have a lot of money or little, you can offer young people support, a sense of history, boundaries, and most important, a positive relationship with a caring adult.

Here are some ideas for what seniors can do to build assets for children and youth:

- Speak well of children to other adults. If you hear people making negative generalizations about young people, don't let them get away with it.
- Reach out to the children and youth in your family, whether they are your grandchildren, grandnieces and grandnephews, or others. Send letters, visit, call them, or invite them to your home. Let them know your door is open if they want or need you.

- Introduce yourself to the children and youth who live near you. Learn their names and greet them when you see them.
- make spending time with young people part of your routine. When you're at the grocery store, smile at the young children and say hello to them.
- Volunteer to help with an organization or a school to spend time with children.
- Become a foster grandparent for a family that does not have grandparents nearby.

Heart Food

by Dave Machin

Are you aware that Jesus has unlocked the prison doors of guilt that have kept you captive. We'll all been in that place one time or another. It does not matter who you are or what you have been. I don't care if you've been a prostitute, a murderer, a thief, a drug dealer or even a churchgoer who has never made Jesus Christ Lord of your life. The Bible says that today is the day of salvation. Here are the facts. A new life is only one prayer away. I personally discovered this many years ago. Having gone through a bad situation my own life, I wasn't even sure God would let me start over. But when I allowed Him to have His way, over a period of time, He did more than I was able to even ask or think. If He did it for me, He'll do it for you, too. But what about the past, you might say - I feel so guilty about it. I did too, but the truth is that God doesn't condemn you about your past. Everybody makes mistakes and messes up, it's part of life. When you've been born again and made a new creature in Christ, that past doesn't belong to you anymore. It would be ridiculous to walk around feeling guilty about someone else's past, wouldn't it? I'm not saying you do not have to pay the consequences for past wrong choices. However, your life begins again the day you make Jesus Lord of your life. He has a way of working in your life to give you a new hope and a new future. When those thoughts come around to try to remind you of what a failure you were before, just turn them over to Him and hold your head up high. You have been kicked around enough. There is no need to wait any longer. The prison door is open. Walk through to Jesus and let your life begin again today. God is good all the time.

A-G wants gun rules postponed

VICTORIA - Attorney General Ujjal Dosanjh says Ottawa should postpone the December 1 deadline for implementing new rules for gun ranges.

"People who use ranges deserve to practice in safety, and the public must be assured that being near a range does not put them at risk," Dosanjh said. "However, we believe that the federal government's implementation of the new regulations may create uncertainties for B.C.'s many ranges."

Dosanjh also urged operators to voluntarily make necessary changes in a timely manner to ensure public safety.

The federal government only made its final guidelines available earlier this month. B.C. officials have been working with range operators, the National Firearms Association, the B.C. Wildlife Federation and the Responsible Firearms Owners of B.C. for several months on safety issues.

Scouts will host family Halloween party

by Laurel Arnold

KEREMEOS - Once again, the First South Similkameen Scouts, Cubs and Beavers, will host Family Halloween events, assisted this year by the Keremeos Youth Association, Pharmasave, and O'Neil's Restaurant.

For a $2.00 fee, people can attend both the Family Halloween Dance--costumes optional--and the Haunted House on Saturday, October 30 at the Legion Hall. On October 31, in Memorial Park, the Scouts will host an $800 fireworks display with fireworks purchased from donated funds.

In a letter to Keremeos Council, Scouts' Committee Chair, Thompson, said the Scouts would like to see the event "grow a little each year" and become "bigger and more successful" as time goes on. She said this event is for the "families and children" of the Keremeos area and the Scouts hope it "will be an outlet for our youth by redirecting them away from the potential problems that have been known to occur over Halloween."

Contestants entering the Pharmasave's Pumpkin Carving Contest should bring their pumpkins to the Legion Hall between 12:00 noon and 1:00 p.m. Saturday. The pumpkins will be displayed in the Haunted Pumpkin Patch inside the Haunted House. The Scouts need volunteer Haunted House tour guides, preferably over the age of 18. Call Gail at 499-2803.

Some of the Regional issues that Bush thinks are important are long term care, now addressed by the Health Centre Construction, lack of participation in the Rec. Centre, the Landfill relocation,

Chamber hosts all-candidates meeting

by Laurel Arnold

SIMILKAMEEN - A week or two before the November 20 elections, Keremeos Chamber of Commerce will host an "All Candidates" meeting for Village and RDOS. Ken Randle and Bud Coyston are organizing the meeting. Randle says a date has not yet been set.

Randle says, "It will be an open forum. All candidates will be invited to come and give a short talk."

The meeting will then be opened for questions from the floor. Randle says acclaimed candidates may be asked to speak.

Thieves invade two Sykes Crescent homes

by Laurel Arnold

KEREMEOS - Keremeos RCMP Sergeant Dennis Bauhuis says people who see something suspicious or out of place should, "when they observe it," report it to the police, so police can investigate it right away. While investigating one Sykes Crescent break and enter reported October 7, police found out about another, also on Sykes Crescent. A man told police that, in the early hours of October 7, he had seen lights in a home where the occupants were away on holiday.

Keremeos area school trustees talk about priorities for the future

by Laurel Arnold

SIMILKAMEEN - An election for School Trustees will not be necessary November 20 as only incumbent Trustees filed nomination papers.

Incumbent School Trustee Debbie Marten says "It's hard to believe" she's already been a trustee since 1992. Marten has lived in the Similkameen Valley with husband Jim, and daughters Chantal and Larissa, since 1984 and works as a secretary at the Diagnostic Centre. She has been involved with PAC since her children started school. In 1992, she was approached to become a Trustee in a by-election. In 1993, she won in a regular election and in 1996, she became Trustee by acclamation, as no one else filed nomination papers.

Marten says the reason she ran for Trustee "in the first place and to this day" is she cares about children. She says, "They're the most precious gift we've ever given--not just mine, but all children. I wanted to be a part of helping to give them the best education we have to offer."

Marten says people are "constantly approaching" her as a Trustee, "about issues regarding their children--usually education issues." She directs them to help and sometimes does research for them. Marten says she is always participating in school activities and chairs education forums. School Board meetings are held twice a month, usually in Oliver.

Marten says the last three years have been "a lot of work" because of School District Amalgamation. District 16, Hedley, Keremeos, Cawston, and District 14, Osoyoos, Oliver, OK Falls, were amalgamated into District 53. She served as Chair of the District 16 School Board during this amalgamation. She says, "We've tried to make the change as painless as possible."

Marten has been appointed as a Provincial Counsellor for School District 53. She takes concerns or questions to Provincial Council meetings, held twice or three times a year.

Incumbent School Trustee Sally Menzell says, "I was a trustee years ago before I had children. I have always cared about the education system."

Menzell and husband Wilfred have lived in the Cawston area for 21 years. They have three children. Philippa, Olivia, and Roger. Menzell is a freelance book editor. Menzell has volunteered at schools for 12 years.

She says, "I know most of the teachers and staff in SESS and Cawston Primary."

Menzell says, "My main concern at the moment is erosion of education, particularly for smaller rural schools with declining enrollments."

She feels these schools will be penalized by "increasingly formulaic and prescriptive" Ministry of Education funding.

She says, "I'm afraid we won't be able to offer the same range of subjects or possibilities. I see my job as fighting to maintain standards that we've had in the past."

Menzell serves on the Keremeos area Discipline Committee, dealing with students who have been suspended. The Committee devises programs to help these students "benefit as much as possible while adhering to the Board's discipline policies."

The benefits of ETS are realized by shifting energy usage from high consumption (on-peak) hours to low consumption (off-peak) hours. During the off-peak hours, ETS heating equipment converts electricity to heat and stores that heat. When the room thermostat calls for heat, this stored electric heat is discharged into the home or application to satisfy the heating requirements. The amount of heat stored in the core of the heater equipment is regulated in relation to weather conditions. A room thermostat monitors room air temperature and regulates heat delivery as needed, providing comfort 24 hours a day.

Deer in Princeton are well-adapted to downtown traffic. These deer are making their way from Bridge Street, the main street, down an alley by the post office. Further up Bridge Street, a large buck crossed on a crosswalk, surprising a number of pedestrians, and climbed the First Bench trail to find some good things to browse.

Give a pet a new home

Last year, Penticton and District Branch of S.P.C.A. developed a foster program for those animals who require extra love and assistance that the shelter facility and staff is not able to provide. The foster program allows animals recovering from surgery, for example, who may require medication and some extra attention, to be provided with a loving home environment where these animals can recover quickly so they can return to the shelter sooner to find that special home they can call their own. Foster care can provide a new mother with her young a quiet and safe nurturing home. Recently, a young cat gave birth at the shelter and required a foster home to look after both mother and babies for an 8-10 week period. They have now returned to the shelter and are up for adoption. Jake, an Australian Shepherd, was recently adopted from SPCA. He made good use of one of the foster homes after he was neutered. He needed restricted activity and medication for a skin condition. He found a comfortable home to rest for a few days. Since the foster program began in December, 1998, SPCA has placed 38 animals in foster care. Dedicated volunteers give these animals a second chance. Anyone interested in providing foster care to pets should call 250-493-0136 or visit Penticton Branch at 2088 Dartmouth Road.

Flu outbreaks alarm B.C. Disease Centre

VANCOUVER - Serious flu bugs have arrived early in B.C., leading health experts at BC Centre for Disease Control to advise high-risk people to seek flu shots as soon as possible.

"The A Sydney flu, which first hit last year, is a particularly virulent strain," said Dr. Danuta Skowronski, physician epidemiologist for the BC Centre for Disease Control. "We know it's coming, and we want people to be protected."

Flu immunization clinics have started in most regions. High-risk people should take advantage of their free vaccine as soon as possible. High-risk people include those over age 65, as well as people who are institutionalized or who have chronic conditions (especially heart and lung problems but also diabetes, cancer or weakened immune systems).

Health care staff should be immunized. Health care staff who have not been immunized are more likely to contract the flu and pass it on to patients.

Influenza virus causes fever with cough, sore throat and general aches. Unlike other respiratory viruses, influenza can cause prolonged illness, complications, hospitalization and death. Each year in B.C., more than 1,200 people die from pneumonia and influenza. More than 90 per cent of these deaths occur in people 65 years or older. The Centre for Disease Control in Atlanta estimates that more than 80 per cent of flu deaths could be avoided with immunization.

Official visits Royal Purple

PRINCETON - The Royal Purple welcomed their District Deputy's official visit on October 5 in the Elks Hall. District Deputy Ann Zandvliet made a presentation for the Supreme Lodge on their Dream Program. The main point of the program is to increase membership.

The Royal Purple is a fraternal organization affiliated with the Elks. Their main charity is the Elks and Royal Purple's fund for children. This fund is in place to help families with children who need medical care. Another project is the B.C. Elks Auditory Rehabilitation Center in Surrey, which has been formed on the basis of an understanding of the special needs of hearing impaired children. Elks and Royal Purple have several camps for special needs children.

Royal Purple is not an exclusive group. Any female over the age of sixteen years can join the Royal Purple and become a member of the team. For further information, call Dorothy Monkman at 295-7921 or Pearl Driver at 295-7431.

 But when I feel the gentle breeze

 And see the soft clouds floating by Then I remember how you loved to be
 And then I know that you are free.*

Hart talks about the 'new West'

PENTICTON - Jim Hart, Member of Parliament for Okanagan-Coquihalla, was guest speaker at the annual general meeting of Okanagan-Coquihalla Reform Part Association on October 16. More than 120 people attended to hear Hart speak of the different areas in which the west should use its influence during the twenty-first century.

Hart told his audience, "The old west produced less than ten per cent of the total wealth of the country. It had less than ten per cent of the seats in Parliament and it had less than ten per cent of the population. In the twenty-first century, the west will have over one-third the population and produce over one-third the wealth of the country. British Columbia will become the second-largest province in the twenty-first century and western Canada will have about one-third of the seats in Parliament."

Hart recommended three areas in which the west should use its influence. First, it should influence fiscal policy and control spending, balance the books, reduce debt and reduce taxes. Social policy influence would be a call for Parliament to put the principle of equality entrenched in national policy and reaffirm the family in national policy. His third area of influence was to create a bigger, broader entity, a United Alternative, to defeat the Liberals in the next federal election.

China Ridge Society bucks Bear Mountain expansion

PRINCETON - Bear Mountain ski hill has applied to expand its licensed Crown land use area, but China Ridge Cross Country Ski Society is in opposition to the application. The ski club appeared before Town Council on October 18 to appeal for Council's support in opposing the application.

Mary Masiel, Myrna Bosomworth and Sharon Anderson outlined their reasons for wanting no further expansion of Bear Mountain in some directions as the expansion effectively blocks access to China Ridge ski trails.

The owner, Barry McHaffie, attended the same Council meeting and had his say after the China Ridge presentation.

The problem, from the ski club's point of view, is the area of expansion would take in the ski trails at the end of Snowpatch Road on the east, where the trails begin, and would cut into one of the trails on the west. McHaffie's application is for an area to the east, south and west of Snowpatch Road. The road now runs parallel to Bear Mountain property, but should the application be granted by the Ministry of Forests, the access road would be within the Bear Mountain boundaries.

McHaffie told Council he had applied to the cross country club to maintain their trails, but they had decided against it. He says he has liability for people using his parking lot, which is where cross country skiers park. McHaffie pointed out there was nothing in writing to back up the club's claim that they had begun constructing the trails 17 years ago, nor did they have a written agreement with the Forest Service.

There was some discussion about snowmobiling in the area, and whether or not snowmobiles would interfere with the ski trails. McHaffie said he would not be developing anything over the existing trails, but would welcome all who wanted to use his parking lot.

Councillor Jim Manion said both are good for the community, and McHaffie agreed.

Manion commented, "Then we'll have to find a way to keep them."

Council would not make an immediate decision, and tabled the matter pending consultation with Merritt Forest District.

Flett elected president of BC film Association

KELOWNA - Mark Flett has been elected President of Regional Film Commissions Association of B.C. Flett has served as Film Commissioner for Okanagan-Similkameen since 1998.

The Regional Film Commission Association was formed in 1997 to further BC's competitive position in the world film location market and is made up of film commissioners and liaisons from around the province. Recently the group has been active in lobbying the provincial government to provide foundation funding for the film commissions. Most of the regional film commissions are currently temporarily funded by the federal government through Human Resources Development Corporation. Several of the film commissions may have to close their offices early in 2000 unless funding can be found.

With continued phenomenal growth of the province's film industry mostly centered in the Lower Mainland, regional film commissions are attempting to expand their portion of BC's one billion dollars of film and television production.

Okanagan Film Commission is funded by HRDC and is seeking funding from several sources, including Community Futures Development Corporation, Regional Economic Development Commissions and others.

As Okanagan Film Commissioner, Flett has had success at bringing film companies to the Okanagan-Similkameen region. Film production dollars spent in the area in the last 22 months exceed $2.8 million from three major and several smaller productions with over 150 jobs created.

"The film industry is a clean, hi-tech, labour intensive business that provides well-needed employment and economic opportunities. We need to support its growth in this region," Flett says.

Program helps young people build personal assets

PRINCETON - Young people are the future!

How often do we hear that statement? How much do we invest in them, in addition to our tax dollars for their education, health and care?

Princeton residents learned about the way personal assets help children grow into responsible, motivated adults.

Keith Pattinson talked to students, parents, teachers and the general public on October 19. He spoke in school and at the Community Skills Centre, emphasizing the importance of individual personal assets.

Pattinson asked all of us to look at our relationships with young people in our lives - children, grandchildren, neighbours.

What are personal assets? They include family support, positive family communication, a caring neighbourhood, a caring school, a community that values youth, a safe community and more than 30 additional assets.

"The worst sin we commit is not to hate our fellow man, it is to be disinterested," Pattinson told his evening audience, over 20 people from the community at large. "We need to change the way children and adults connect in the community."

Building assets is based on a study done by Search Institute of Minnesota, U.S.A. A team of researchers surveyed 100,000 young people across the United States to find out what their problems were. When researchers examined their findings, they noticed oddball items repeating. There would be dysfunctional families in which one child suffered no ill effects, while others exhibited expected poor behaviour. They went back to find out what things helped successful young people survive and thrive. They developed 40 assets a child needs. When a child has 31 to 40 of these assets, the child does well in school, and does not become involved in high risk activities.

Pattinson said we expect governments to solve our problems but governments are "not equipped to define values and model values - governments can't raise kids."

He pointed out, "We have a shared responsibility. All kids are our kids. All kids are part of the community."

Participants were asked to list reasons why they think Princeton area is a good place to raise children. Princeton came out with a large number of community assets such as less expensive and easily accessible sports programs, a Youth Council, and safe environment.

Building assets for children in our community is what these sessions were about, and worth further development. Anyone who missed the October 19 session may pick up information from Jaymie Atkinson at The Bridge.

During coming weeks, this newspaper will offer some of the ways to help build personal assets in children.

Young hockey players help Silvercrest residents with chores

PRINCETON - Minor Hockey has a Bantam Rep team this year, for the first time in many years. The team has played two league games in Logan Lake to start off their year. The first home game of the season will be on Saturday, October 30, at 7:45 p.m.

There are going to be some special effects as the players are introduced, and the scene will be appropriate for the Halloween feeling.

Princeton will face off against the toughest team in the league - Lumby.

In the meantime, the players, all age 14 and 15, have been learning to see the needs in their own community. On October 21, the boys went to Silvercrest Apartments to rake the leaves off the lawn.

"Our boys were really surprised by how grateful the residents were for this help. One person had had a heart attack and another had an injured leg," says Sally Nault, mother of one of the players.

The players are Dylan Barry, Craig LeMotte, Tyler Hogg, Chance Lintick, Chris Mowry, and Tyler Gunn, all 15 years old. John Quinnett, Clayton Vermette, Ryan Brewer, Bobby Nault, Dwayne Costa, Mitch Gunn, Todd Gereau and Hunter Bond are age 14 years.

Ed and Sally Nault encourage the players to see what is going on in the community and help people who are not as capable as they are with their young healthy bodies.

"We feel this is a really good way to teach them, at this impressionable age," Sally says. "They put back into the community, even though it is a small gesture."

The ostrich family at Fallow Deer Farm: the male (left) is black and white, the female is grey and white, and the chicks are beautifully patterned in brown and white.

Meet the local ostrich family

PRINCETON - Ostriches are two-toed leftover dinosaurs, a species that has survived at least a million years. The local ostriches live at the Fallow Deer Farm on Highway 5A and anyone is welcome to come and take a look at them.

There are eight half-grown ostriches at the farm. They are three months old. When they are six months old, they will be full-grown, ranging in height from 2.5 metres tall to three metres tall, measured with their heads up. They will not be mature (breeding age) until they are four years old.

Ostriches eggs, from which these little ones were hatched, are the equivalent of two and a half dozen chicken eggs. In other words, a cook could make several omelettes from one ostrich egg.

The local ostriches are raised for meat. Dressed weight averages 170 pounds or 76 kilograms. The meat tastes very much like beef. There is no white meat on ostriches, unlike domestic chickens or turkeys.

The ostriches at Fallow Deer Farm have nice new feathers, making them ready for winter. Although these birds originated from the semi-arid areas of Africa, they are not bothered by the cold. They eat more and must be supplied with grit, but they deal quite well with local winters. They do have a lean-to for a dry shelter from the snow. During the million or more years their species survived, ostriches must have lived through ice ages. They appear to be well-equipped to survive most things.

Lynch looks strong

Last year's Atom League champions, the Lynch Bus Lines Flyers, have begun their new season and appear to be as strong as ever. With five veteran players remaining, there were nine new recruits to fill the roster. The rookies brought confidence, good attitudes and dedication to the game.

Two weekends ago, Princeton traveled to Penticton to play the Generals. The Flyers worked hard. The score was close for first period. The Princeton got the momentum and could not be stopped. Nine last period goals saw the score finish 18-4. Next day, the boys faced Westside and won 13-0. Kyle Markin earning the shutout for the Flyers.

This past weekend, the Flyers played on home ice. On Saturday, Penticton girls jumped to a quick lead but the boys beat them with excellent positional play and great passing. The game ended 10-2 in Princeton's favour. On Sunday, the Flyers played another Westside team. Beau Wilkinson earned an impressive hat trick from the point. Tanner Gunn played great goal all weekend. Nigel Mack joined the team for his first game this season. He was solid on defense and helped offensively with three assists.

Statistics: Tanner (goals, assists) 2,0; Beau 5,3; Braydon 3,5; Lewis 10,7; Shaïne 7,4; Brian 0,2; K. Morosse 1,0; K. Markin 0,2; Clifford 2,1; Josh 11,7; Tyson 3,3; Daniel 1,2; Adam 4,1; Nigel 0,3. Flyers play at home for the next four weekends. Cheer them on.

The finals in cross-country running were hosted by Vermilion Forks Elementary School on October 19. Students ran a course that took them around the neighbourhood. Above, the leaders take the corner at top speed, on the first leg of the course.

Back nine budget runs out of money for this year's work

PRINCETON - The nine-hole expansion to Princeton's golf course is 95 per cent complete, but there will be no more work until spring as the expansion budget is out of funds.

Glenn Weissbach, President of Princeton Golf Club, reports that greens and T-boxes have been seeded and the grass is about one inch high on all new greens except tenth and twelfth fairways. "We had a lot of problems with tenth and twelfth fairways due to all the rocks," Weissbach told the News Leader. "It was hard for irrigation to be installed. We took nearly 1,000 dump truck loads of rocks from the fairways."

The rocks were dumped in holes from which dirt had been removed.

Although work has stopped due to lack of funds, plans are in place for completion in the spring. What is needed is a big push to have members out to rake, and a couple of pieces of equipment are needed before the two fairways can be seeded. Seeding should take place early in May, 2000, and if the grass grows well, the new areas should be open next September.

Weissbach is really pleased with what has been achieved this year. It could not have been done without all of the volunteer help from townspeople and some living out of town. Approximately 250 volunteers worked during the summer. The clubhouse is nearly complete, with some work remaining in the basement. This can be finished during the winter. "It's amazing what happens when you get a lot of positive attitude out there," Weissbach commented. "It just flies together."

"The community needs a huge pat on the back for making this happen," Weissbach says.

The club is in good financial conditions. The summer was excellent, with player numbers up and the gross income higher than ever before.

Hay stolen

PRINCETON - A thief has taken 150 bales of hay from a storage barn located at Fallow Deer Farm. The theft would have taken place between Wednesday, October 13 and Thursday, October 21. Anyone having any information pertaining to this missing hay is asked to call Princeton RCMP or CrimeStoppers.

Girls win match

PRINCETON - The senior girls volleyball team came back from a play day October 20 with a match win under their belts. Princeton beat Keremeos in three games to take their first match victory in at least two years. The win was a huge confidence boost to the team, as Keremeos is the team they need to beat in order to reach the valley finals. Strong positional play and improved serving helped secure the win.

This win will go a long way to improve the mental aspect of the team. Princeton has been in many close matches this year and were unable to put the other team away. Now they know they can do it.

More than anything, Princeton girls volleyball team has sown a willingness and desire to compete hard with other teams in the league. The girls are gaining experience and improving every game. Coach Brent Bowden feels, as do the girls, that Princeton has a very good chance to go to the valley championships this year.

While every member of the Princeton team played hard, the serving done by Candace Lowe, blocking by Leticia Stacey and leadership from Erica Timms and Sheryl Petschl was exceptional. It will take a whole team effort again at play-off time. Their coach is sure the girls are up to it.
