Axe man threatens campers

Keremeos - An axe-wielding man caused a disturbance at the forestry campsite on Ashnola Road on May 21. Police attended and found 46 year old Dennis James Colbeck was causing a disturbance and brandishing an axe at a number of campers in the area. He was taken into custody and faces charges of mischief, breach of probation, possession of a weapon dangerous to the public peace, resisting arrest and causing a disturbance. He made a court appearance on May 23 and was remanded into custody pending a further court appearance on June 21.

New industry under construction

Leon Siemens and Sean Krahn of Kranco Construction are contractors for the trout farm under construction near Whistle Stop Restaurant on Highway 3 between Hedley and Princeton. The first of three buildings is under construction now, with project completion scheduled for mid-year, 2001. The trout farm is expected to employ four people full-time.

Golfers help Rotary raise cash

Golfers raised a lot of money for the Hospital Foundation and Rotary Club projects through whole-hearted support of the annual Rotary Charity Golf Tournament held last weekend. It was a great tournament, with great prizes, and blessed with outstandingly good weather after a week of downpour. The event was organized by a committee chaired by Ken Blower, and they did an excellent job of organizing all of the events, from the practice round and dinner on Saturday to the main event, the luncheon, and the awards on Saturday. The committee was backed by 29 sponsors, individual and corporate.

Ken Blower thanked everyone who helped with the tournament, with special mention of the work done by Rob Fulton.

Hospital Action Group plans to shake up Kelowna Board

Princeton - Local citizens intend to take their fight to Kelowna. The Save the Princeton General Hospital Action Committee plans to shake up and wake up the Regional Health Board on July 7. They plan a cavalcade to Regional Health Board offices to protest bed closures at Princeton General.

Lynch Bus Lines has donated a bus and a driver, and the committee wants the bus to be full. They are prepared to pick up people and take them to the bus for the 8:30 a.m. departure time. Anyone interested in joining the cavalcade in their own vehicles, or who needs a ride to the bus, should contact Doreen at 295-7198 or Shirley at 295-3607.

The bus to Kelowna will be in the parking lot beside the Skills Centre and those people in vehicles of their own should meet at that location. A map of where to meet in Kelowna will be provided to them.

The Action Committee strongly recommends that people making the trip pack a lunch.

In Kelowna, everyone will meet at 11:00 a.m. at the corner of Rowcliffe and Richter, then proceed to Regional Health Board offices for the rally.

Circus Chimera is coming!

Plans take shape

for local Youth Week

Princeton - Youth Week will be July 3 through 9 in Princeton. There are some really big plans in the works, and any youth from anywhere is welcome to participate. The week is action-packed from the start.

Monday, July 3, is starting day, with a magician at the arena - two shows, tickets at the door.

On Tuesday, the biggest event of the Area 120 summer - Extravaganza Night - features movies, games, food and a sidewalk cafe, all in downtown Princeton at Area 120.

Circus! Circus! Circus Chimera! The biggest event of the week happens on Wednesday and Thursday at the fair grounds parking lot, where the world's tallest bigtop tent will put on a great show. There will be acrobats, tumblers, clowns. The show starts with opening a giant toy box which reveals all kinds of great things for the young at heart.

On Friday, July 7, Youth Week Dance takes place at the arena, with SPL Sound doing the music. Tickets to this event will fit teenagers' pocketbooks.

Saturday's events are still secret, still in the planning stage. For more information, or to volunteer to help, young people may call Jesse at 295-7222 weekdays.

Ridgewood residents enjoyed tea and goodies at their celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the opening of Ridgewood Lodge. Members of the Ladies Orange Benevolent Association and Hospital Auxilliary joined in the celebration, and resident Janet McColman gave a speech thanking these groups for their support, especially for the cake for each resident's birthday.

Ridgewood Lodge resident May Howe (left) and Longterm Care Aide Bev Culbertson, who has been at Ridgewood since it opened, cut one of the anniversary cakes.

Ruth McLeod, Left, representing the Hospital Auxilliary, and Alice Meston, representing the Ladies Orange Benevolent Association, cut one of the Ridgewood anniversary cakes at the celebration of 20 years since the opening of Ridgewood Lodge on June 2, 1980.

Staunch Legion members pass away.....

Jean Smith
 Jean Smith, a member of Royal Canadian Legion Branch #56 executive, passed away in Penticton Regional Hospital last weekend. Earlier this year, she was struck by a vehicle while crossing Bridge Street. She was a resident of Princeton for many years, and much appreciated for her dedication to Legion ideals. No funeral details are available at press time.

Mel Woodford
 Melvin Woodford, a resident of Princeton for the past 40 years, died Sunday in Princeton General Hospital after a long illness. He was a member of the Woodford family of Princeton, pre-deceased by his brothers Bud and Garnet, and nephew Bill Woodford, and his beloved Phyllis. He is survived by his sister, Ruby Baillie, of Princeton. He leaves two sons, Ken and Wayne, and a daughter, Barbara, residing out of town, and niece Maryanne Woodford, grand-nieces Jodi and Sherri, and grandnephew Garnet Woodford, of Coalmont.

Mel loved the outdoors, and worked as a log scaler in Merritt and Princeton. He was in the army in World War II and was a Legion member for over 40 years. No funeral details are available at press time.

Election date set for Cawston

The by-election for the position of electoral area director for Electoral Area 'B' (Cawston) will be held on July 22, 2000. Consequently, the Chief Election Officer for Regional District has established the nomination period for candidates between 9:00 a.m. on June 6, 2000 and 4:00 p.m. on June 16, 2000. Candidates can pick up information packages at Regional District offices at 101 Martin Street in Penticton during regular office hours. Candidates must submit nomination documents before the end of the nomination period.

Rural dogs need licences

To all residents of British Columbia living in rural areas: Under Provincial legislation all residents of British Columbia who own dogs must have an existing dog licence for each dog in their possession. "A person must not keep a dog unless a valid and subsisting licence has been issued for that dog under this Act or under a municipal bylaw." Section 3 (1) British Columbia Livestock Protection Act. This means that if you reside outside of a municipality your dog must still be licenced. Otherwise you could be fined for not having an existing dog licence. For residents living in the rural areas they can obtain the dog licences through their local government agent office.

'Fun fundraisers' install officers

The customary light-hearted, quick-witted evening of fun, known as Lions Club Installation Night, was held Saturday night. John Haayer, about to give up his presidency to Willi Miks, saw the evening as an opportunity to razz Mayor Randy McLean. The mayor bore the brunt of the notorious Haayer humour for failing to appear at Lions Charter Night, and Mayor McLean took all the jibes quite well.

Deputy Mayor Kathy Clement gave the official Town Council speech of appreciation for the Lions Club.

"In 1970, the mine came and the Lions came. The mine left, but thank heavens, the Lions stayed," Clement said. "You are the fun fundraisers. You are an asset in this community - what fun you have given in your parks and playground equipment."

Youth Ambassador candidate Jessie Williams was a guest, with his parents, and he thanked the Lions for choosing him as their candidate.

Bursary winner Amy Pattison, who Haayer said is "probably the most intelligent person Princeton has ever seen," praised the way Lions work together and said, "Bravo to all of you!"

Mel Thistlewaite was the guest speaker and installing officer. The Logan Lake Lion expressed appreciation for the cordial reception given him by Princeton Lions. He challenged local Lions' new executive to come up with a new project which is fun for them, and good for the community.

Mayor McLean was given an opportunity to talk back, and began, "Service clubs are what makes this town. We're not the richest town, but we're the most giving."

He ended with, "Nobody works harder than the Lions."

He appeared to have said the right thing and an atmosphere of forgiveness prevailed.

Before turning over the presidency to Willi Miks, Haayer told fellow Lions he is very impressed with the new members who have joined in the past two years. He thanked all those who served with him, with special thanks to Secretary Patty Vinthers.

He presented an appreciation award to retiring executive members, then made the Lion of the Year presentation to Dennis Herron.

Herron accepted with a gracious, "We all did it."

Willi Miks, the new Lions President, called Princeton Lions "a wonderful club, full of great people."

The executive retains Patty Vinters as Secretary, Penny Lott is Treasurer, Dennis Herron is First Vice-President, Wayne Harrop is Second, Fern Cote-Goudreau and Elaine Pattison are Directors, Norma-Jean Krenn is Tail Twister, and Joe Beausoleil is Lion Tamer.

Principal Lawrence Stoochnoff presents a certificate to Sheryl Petschl who was chosen as one of the 21 students in Canada to be awarded the Canadian Association of Principals Student Leadership Scholarship worth $500. The award is co-sponsored by Premier School Agendas who, with the Principals Association, believe very strongly in the values of quality student leaders. Scholarship winners have demonstrated student leadership and participation in various activities while maintaining a high academic standing. The award states, "Sheryl is a worthy winner who has provided such leadership, participation and academic excellence throughout her schooling."

Market idea needs people

Tijshe Van der Meer, of Anna's Bakery, informed Similkameen Country Society he will be presenting a proposal to Village Council that will interest and excite a lot of people who have something to sell. Van der Meer is willing to organize a Saturday Market on Main Street Keremeos to run twice a month at a cost of $10.00 to the vendor.

Van der Meer would like to see the market extend from the CIBC parking lot to Bob & Ev's Framing, Similkameen Farm Supply, down the north side of the street to the Keremeos Business Centre and IGA. Home based businesses, crafters, artists and farmers would all be encouraged to sell at this bi-monthly market.

It was a good time

The first two major events of the year, the Keremeos Elks Rodeo and Music Under the 'K', both had successful weekends which drew large crowds throughout the valley. Even though the weather made organizers very nervous in the end it did not seem to matter as all events were well attended. It was particularly pleasing to see Memorial Park on Main Street being used by so many music festival attendees.

According to Ken Randle, Manager of Similkameen Country, over 600 people stopped at the Information Centre on the above two weekends.

Accident reports

Keremeos- On May 21, Keremeos police attended a single vehicle accident on Highway 3, four kilometres east of Chopaka Road in Cawston. A van drove off the road and struck a business sign and boulders at the side of the road. Damage was estimated at $10,000. The driver left the scene before police arrived, but blood in the vehicle indicated the driver had been injured. Police later identified the driver who now faces a number of charges.

On May 27, a single vehicle accident half a kilometre east of Chopaka Road in Cawston area resulted in $1,000 damage. The vehicle struck a deer which had leapt into the roadway.

On May 23, a vehicle parked along Highway 3 in Cawston was reported damaged overnight. The sliding rear window of the pickup truck was smashed. Nothing was stolen.

Joanne Hait - In her iris garden on Newton Road in Cawston. An amazing variety in all sizes and colours they are at their best now if you would like to stop and see the display. Joanne also sells these exotic rhizomes, and sells them as cut flowers.

Kutschera moves to Penticton Valley First

It's a bittersweet departure for Eric Kutschera, Manager of Valley First Credit Union in Keremeos. On one hand he's received a promotion to the Credit Union in Penticton, but on the other hand he will be leaving a community he has come to care about.

After six years as manager, Kutschera, his wife Lucy and their two children will be moving at the end of June. When asked what he liked best about his stay in Keremeos, Kutschera said, "I like the small community life and being involved in it."

That may be an understatement as Kutschera has been one of the more involved community members: Secretary/Treasurer for the Regional District of Okanagan Similkameen, Fire Department Club Treasurer, a volunteer Firefighter, Chamber of Commerce Treasurer and more recently, Treasurer of Similkameen Country Society. It will be hard to fill such a large gap.

"This has been a great community with a nice atmosphere," said Kutschera, "and I will be back to visit."

Parks Canada rep looks at bridge and mine

Gerry Borden from Parks Canada was in Keremeos last week to meet with Joan McMurray from Similkameen Country Society about preservation of the Red Bridge. Several service organizations have come together to petition Heritage B.C. to designate it as an historical/heritage site to ensure it will not be demolished.

B.C. Highways has made it very clear that they are not interested in spending the kind of money needed to maintain the structure as a heritage site. McMurray said the only hope was to get a temporary order to stop work for a period of 60 to 90 days so it will not be demolished while the society tries to get the status official. McMurray said this is a little difficult as Heritage Trust, "...has no experience with bridges".

On the same day, Gerry Borden also met with Philippe Batini, Band Manager for Upper Similkameen Band, in regards to the development of the Mascot Mine Site. Could there be some progress on construction of a tram to the mine site?

Police respond to several complaints

Keremeos - On May 22, in the afternoon, police responded to a disturbance on the River Road area in Keremeos. A group of family members had had a minor physical altercation in which damage was done to a nearby vehicle. Police are investigating.

On May 23, during the noon hour, police received a report of a mischief to a building on Highway 3 in Olalla. Overnight, an unknown person or persons had tampered with a dead bolt on a door to a building. There was no damage and no entry gained.

On May 24, police investigated a complaint by one 14 year old that another 14 year old had committed an assault. Investigation continues.

In the evening hours of May 24, police attended a report of a disturbance in both the 600 and 500 blocks of Keremeos. Police determined a 23 year old Penticton resident was responsible for breaking windows in both locations. The person was located, arrested and faces charges related to these incidents, as well as being under arrest for outstanding warrants for another police jurisdiction.

Elks, Royal Purple, install officers

by Dorothy Monkman

Princeton - On May 28, the installation of officers for Elks #280 and Royal Purple #82 took place. Members of other lodges attended from Keremeos, Osoyoos, Oliver, Penticton, Kettle River and Grand Forks. Personal guests also attended.

Following the installation, everyone enjoyed a nice dinner.

Merritt Festival will feature Campbell

The Glen Campbell songs are classics: Wichita Lineman, By the Time I Get to Phoenix, Gentle on My Mind.

At first, nobody really knew how to classify Campbell's music. It sounded western, country, folk, and was just too popular with everybody to be classified as any one of those stereotypes. Finally, the music industry began calling him a "cross-over" artist. As a cross-over artist, he added filmmaking to his repertoire with the theme song of the movie True should hear. He loves his audiences, and will perform his best anywhere he plays, and he will play almost anywhere.

Campbell's fans are legion. When he plays at Merritt Mountain Music Festival in July, he will play to a packed crowd hoping to hear Winners will be decided by draw. Entry form must have the correct answer to weekly trivia question to win.

Name: _____ Phone: _____

Trivia Question: GLEN CAMPBELL will go down in history as what?

Answer _____

Congratulations To Allison McDonald our 2nd winner of a Full Event Pass

Glen Campbell will be a featured artist at the Merritt Mountain Music Festival in July.

Grit, in which he starred with John Wayne. He paved the way for the cross-over of Kenny Rogers and Dolly Parton who, like Campbell, went on to have television shows of their own and starring movie roles.

There is one sure bet about Glen Campbell: he will go down in history as one of the best guitarists of his generation.

In the industry, Campbell is a legend. He promotes new talent all the time, sharing his limelight with people he thinks his audience him sing, perhaps, Galveston, The Dreams of the Everyday Housewife, Rhinestone Cowboy or Southern Nights.

Campbell is probably as well-known for his great sense of humour and his love of playing golf and spending time with his family at their home in Phoenix, Arizona. After more than 30 years at the top of the music charts, fans can rest assured that he performs for the pleasure his music brings to others.

Rebekahs welcome Assembly President

by D. Stenvold, p.c.

A beautiful spring day heralded in a lovely day for the official visit of our President of the Rebeckah Assembly, Sister Helen Swanson. The visit began with a lovely luncheon for over 50 members, everyone remarking on the great food, service and surroundings. We then assembled at our regular meeting hall where 60 members took part in our program. The hall had been tastefully decorated with posters representing Sister Swanson's watchwords and pink roses.

Sixteen dignitaries were introduced and welcomed, each receiving a pretty doll covering a roll of toilet tissue.

We were pleased to receive a 'thank you' card from our bursary award receiver, Sarah Van Heeswijk.

President Helen Swanson addressed the meeting with warm thanks for her reception here. She had visited Vermilion Court and praised Princeton for having such a beautiful facility, a home away from home, and for Joyce Fraser's hospitality.

Sister Swanson told us about her interest in the lovely new research centre in Burnaby for the help and care of arthritis. Fully qualified people, including specialists, are there to answer questions. Workshops and visual displays are ongoing. Anyone may phone, Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. (1-800-321-1433). Rebeckahs support this facility.

Following the meeting, fruit, goodies, and a special cake were served with coffee and tea.

SPCA needs homes

Would you like to take in a stray dog or cat and care for it? If you love animals and would like to provide foster care, South Okanagan-Similkameen Branch of the B.C. SPCA is looking for temporary foster homes, primarily for dogs, but some cats.

Interested persons should contact the agent in Princeton at 295-6351. The support will be appreciated.

Students volunteer for funds

Kellie Schneider, left, and Lindsey Nesbitt (shown here with Chamber of Commerce mouse control unit named Thumper) have volunteered to work at the Tourist Information Centre in Princeton under a government program for work in the community. The money they would have been paid goes into an education fund for them to draw on for post-secondary tuition. Each must complete 150 hours of volunteer work in order to qualify under Youth Community Action Program. Their work will allow the Tourist Information Centre to remain open on weekends through to Thanksgiving weekend in October. Nesbitt begins the Summer Works Program this month.

New technology in health care and chiropractic

by Dr. W. Gage

Every day we hear of amazing advances in computer technology related to health care. Two such inventions, which have started changing the practice of chiropractic, are called Surface Electromyography (SEMG) and Digital Thermography. More and more chiropractors, including myself, are utilizing these scanners, so I thought I should explain what they are.

SEMG involves similar technology as a heart monitor you would find at a hospital. However, instead of assessing heart muscles and nerves, chiropractors scan along the spine to assess the motor nerves that control your muscles. The SEMG measures how well the motor nerves are working by reading the amount of electrical current found in the muscles.

As the name suggests, Thermography measures skin temperature. The skin is the largest organ of the body and the blood vessels under the skin surface act as the body's thermostat. (They expand to release heat and contract to retain heat controlling the body's temperature.) When the communication between the nerves and the blood vessels is disturbed, it causes the body's thermostat to malfunction producing imbalanced temperatures along the spine. The same nerves that control all of your organs and glands, known as the autonomic system, control these vessels. Thermal scans allow the chiropractor to monitor the autonomic nervous system for proper function.

So, how does this all fit into chiropractic? SEMG and Thermography assists chiropractors in the detection and monitoring of vertebral subluxations in the spine. A Subluxation is a problem in the spine where abnormal positions of the vertebrae (misalignments) interfere occurs, symptoms are simply the body's way of making us aware of problems in that specific region of the body. This includes neck and back pain, headaches, and numbness in the arms and legs. Also, as previously mentioned, the nerves control the internal organs, and if those nerves are interfered with, symptoms may arise in these other areas.

The chiropractor's role is simply the detection and correction of subluxations with the intention of removing nerve interference and allowing the body to function at it's best. Chiropractic is not a specific treatment for the above-mentioned symptoms; however, once subluxations are removed, many symptoms disappear.

For a demonstration of this new technology and to better understand health and wellness, contact Dr. Warren Gage who is a chiropractor practicing in Princeton Tuesdays and Thursdays. His phone number is 295-7015.

As the central nervous system is the master controller of the entire body, it is extremely important to remove any interference (subluxations). When interference

B.C. Fairs gain grants

The B.C. Ministry of Agriculture, Food and Fisheries has awarded a $375,000 grant to B.C. Association of Agricultural Fairs and Exhibitions to be distributed among 55 community fairs throughout B.C. this year.

Corky Evans, Minister Responsible for Rural Development, stated, "Local fairs showcase the talents and Contributions of B.C.'s farmers, crafters and small food processors. For more than 130 years, agricultural fairs have brought British Columbians together to celebrate their heritage and achievements."

It is not known at this time how much Princeton and District Fall Agricultural Fair Association will receive as their portion of the provincial grant, but it should be available soon. The Princeton fair is celebrating its thirty-fifth anniversary this year in conjunction with Princeton's 140th anniversary. B.C.'s agricultural fairs and exhibitions attract more than 1.67 million people each year, reflecting an agri-food industry that employs 250,000 people and generates about $17 billion each year in sales.

Red Cedar book awards

John Allison School Book Club members enjoyed reading a variety of books written by Canadian authors. Two members of the club travelled to Kamloops recently to take part in the Red Cedar Book Award presentation. Claire Bibby and Mary Ann Campbell very ably introduced author Joseph Romaine in a little two-minute skit. The author was very open and went along with the girls' skit introduction.

Although a little nervous and younger than many of the presenters from all over B.C. Claire and Mary Ann did a fantastic job in front of over 700 people. The Red Cedar Awards are given to the top Canadian children's books voted on by their readers. It is prestigious in Canada and it was a marvelous opportunity for two young girls from Princeton to be involved.

The 10 members of the John Allison Book Club were: Grade 4 - Eliza Brodie, Claire Bibby, Brian Shewchuk, Tia Tolmie; Grade 5 - Jordan Hilton, Caitlyne Cvetinic, Mary Ann Campbell, Anayn McWhirter; Grade 3 - Laila Lawrence-Massoudi, Carley Brewer.

Federal retirees meet

The next general meeting of the South Okanagan Branch Federal Superannuates National Association (FSNA) will be held at the Seniors Drop in Centre, 2965 S. Main St., Penticton on Tuesday, June 13. All Federal Superannuates and spouses are invited to attend. An interesting program is scheduled.

Coffee is served at 10 a.m., the meeting starts at 10:30 a.m. Summer branch luncheon follows at 12. Those planning to attend should reserve by June 7. Members who require assistance getting to the meeting should phone the branch office at 493-6799.

Spirited students receive shirts

Students at Princeton Secondary School were called to an assembly on May 31 where the Student Council recognized the achievements and contributions of students who made their mark during the course of the year.

Each student who was recognized received a "spirit" T-shirt with this year's logo on it.

A few of the teachers received spirit shirts for their extra effort on behalf of students.

The following people received recognition:

Lisa Panchenko - for giving lots of help in the office; Miss Hall - for not taking a leave of absence during her pregnancy; Shana Wright, Danielle Naylor, Colby Logan - for all their hard work fundraising for the band trip, and to Colby Logan for Mr. Bowden with the senior basketball team; Alissa Johnson - for making athletic certificates for the athletic banquet, using her own time, as well as helping Mr. Kitts with the career prep web page; Howard Crawford and Bethany Bedard - for creating the grad ceremony program, and to Bethany for providing wonderful entertainment at the Ambassador fashion show.

The following students contributed their time doing scorekeeping and refereeing for school games:

Alert: phony investment plan

Kelowna - RCMP District Headquarters has issued an investment alert for the Okanagan Similkameen region.

Nigerian letters are surfacing again in the Okanagan, only this time around they are arriving via fax and the Internet. The Southeast District Commercial Crime Section has received information that, once again, persons from Nigeria are forwarding business propositions to residents in this area, offering large returns in exchange for assistance in moving funds out of Nigeria.

The assistance requested by the Nigerian fraudsters may assist them in gaining access to the victim's bank account and therefore his/her funds. Extreme caution should be exercised in participating in any investment solicitations from Nigeria.

Students at Vermilion Forks Elementary School enjoyed having their faces painted for sports day last Friday. Due to heavy rain, activities were held indoors.

The water relay race was one of the sports day activities held in the gym at Vermilion Forks. The runner takes a cup, fills it with water at the other end of the gym, carries it back to fill a jar at starting point. First team with the jar full wins.

CURRENT COMMENT
by Dawn Johnson

Health Boards are not just a local issue

Thanks to John Sinclair, who brought the News Leader a copy of an article from The Western Producer May 25 edition, we can see we share Regional Health Board issues with Saskatchewan. They do have one advantage: they elect their representatives. Ours are appointed by the Minister of Health.

Although an elected representative seems to be an advantage, the Saskatchewan Minister of Health appears to run the show, having put a gag order on health boards sharing future plans until approved by the minister. Gee! How democratic!

The article comments on how emotional health issues have become since "health reform was instituted in 1993." Reform?

Indeed, Saskatchewan's "reform" of the health care system has included 52 hospital closures since 1993.

"It's the country that is going to be adversely affected by more closures, after all," the writer says.

The Kindersley Clarion is quoted as saying the members of the health boards go along with the undemocratic process, and claims the members are mere puppets "dancing to the strings being pulled by politicians and bureaucrats....."

This sounds all too familiar. What is happening in Saskatchewan is happening in British Columbia, with one difference: in Saskatchewan, they closed the hospitals right away, without warning or consultation. Around here, it seems the closures will come by a steady erosion of services at our local hospital until we have so little to offer that it only seems sensible to shut it down or turn it into something else. What is happening to hospitals reminds me of the railroad. It cut back on service first, then said there was not enough revenue to justify continuing to operate the line, and it was abandoned. Yes, it takes longer that way, but the outcome is the same.

Letter miffs some Hedley residents

Hedley Improvement District Chair, Richard Tarnoff has been dodging bullets from a lot of community members this week for a letter (on HID letterhead) he wrote to the producers of the movie "The Pledge". In it he pointed out that the HID had not been contacted prior to them shooting the film and he indicated his displeasure.

When word got out about this letter, some people were calling for Tarnoff's head! He agreed he should not have used HID letterhead without Board approval and drafted a retraction to the film company. According to one of the store owners whose business was shut for the day, no one ever sought permission from them and they were only compensated a small percentage for their losses.

Complaints are few and far between because the general consensus of the town is it was a wonderful thing to happen to Hedley, many people received cheques and it was a thrill to have such big league stars in town. And, hey, the little church made enough money to buy indoor plumbing for the kiddies!

Just for Laughs

Questions teenagers probably can't answer

- Why was Richard Nixon kicked out of office?
- Who was Richard Nixon?
- How did people make toast without electricity?
- Who was PacMan?
- What was the Cold War? Why was there a Cold War?
- What is The Twist?
- What was the world like before McDonald's?
- When did personal computers become available?
- Who were the Supremes?
- What is an 8-track player?
- Who was Twiggy?
- What was "Roots"?
- Was the Titanic ever lost?
- What was the Cuban Missile crisis?
- Who were The Monkeys?
- Who was Ringo Starr?
- Who was "the sex kitten" from France?

The reason today's teens are not likely to know the answers is because they were not born until the 1980's! On the other side of the generation gap, they probably can answer questions their grandparents cannot, like "what does shocked mean when you're building a webpage?"

Hopes for Swan Lake

by Don Burbidge

The BC Ministry of Environment is currently studying a proposal for turning Swan Lake Wildlife Reserve, just north of Princeton, into a full-scale Wildlife Educational and Research facility, with trails, information booths, and viewing blinds for the public, along the lines of the Osoyoos Pocket Desert Reserve, near Osoyoos. The Swan Lake Reserve is ideal for such a development, as it would present the first opportunity for visitors from the Lower Mainland to the Okanagan-Similkameen to view the magnificent open grasslands for which the area is famous. The lake itself is a natural habitat for waterfowl, while the surrounding meadows host typical grassland mammals and birds - soaring Red-tail Hawks, Western Bluebirds, Pocket Gophers, Mule Deer and Coyotes. There is also a great variety of native flowers on the slopes to the lake.

Unfortunately, the area is also host to that noxious invader from Europe, the Knapweed, a prickly plant which is unpalatable to livestock and wildlife, and which tends to spread into open rangeland where ever the ground is disturbed by wheeled vehicles. An investigation of some plants near the lake shows the presence of maggots in seeds and roots of the knapweed, the offspring of moths and beetles released to control the weed, but more action is needed to keep it thoroughly under control.

Consequently, the Vermilion Forks Field Naturalists are organizing a weed pull day on Wednesday, June 7, when volunteers will visit the area to tear up weeds in selected areas. Anyone wishing to join in this worthwhile endeavour, as well as view the Reserve on a fine June day, should contact Madelon Schouten, 295-7078, and meet at the junction of MacNamara Road and the Osprey Lake Road (Five Mile Rd.) at 10:00 a.m., armed with a trowel or weed puller.

The work will be hard, but rewarding. Knapweed comes up fairly easily, root and all, at this time of year, and can be shoved into black plastic bags and disposed of where it can do no further harm. Native grass seed can then be sown, in the hope that it will keep the weeds in check, although it would appear that we can never completely eradicate them. Lisa Scott, co-ordinator for Okanagan-Similkameen Weed Control Programme, will be on hand to give advice.

If the proposal to develop the area is accepted, it could lead to a significant tourist attraction for the Princeton area, much like the Osoyoos Pocket Desert Reserve, which is said to have attracted 20,000 visitors in 1999! An educational program connected with Swan Lake would emphasize the immense value of the province's grasslands, and the threat posed to them by weeds and excessive motor vehicle traffic.

Western tourist destination opens in Five Mile Valley

by Patty Harrower

Princeton - Pine Valley Resort & Horse Centre, owned by partners David Lowry and Ellen French, is now open and offers a wide variety of activities year round.

Located on the Princeton-Summerland Highway about 29.5 km north northeast of town, the Centre is perfectly situated for excursions on horseback into the back country surrounding the beautiful Hayes Creek and 5 mile valleys. The Resort offers one to two hour trail rides, full day rides and half day lunch or dinner rides, as well as pony rides for kids. There are rental horses available for trail rides, and the Resort hopes to book groups bringing their own horses as well. If you like, you can book a ride in a wagon pulled by a gorgeous team of Belgian horses.

Winter activities include sleigh rides and snowmobile tours.

Pine Valley Resort & Horse Centre boasts a 10 stall barn with a 16,000 sq. ft. indoor riding arena attached where, year round, horses may be boarded and horse training and riding lessons are offered. As well, there is an outdoor sand arena, and a dressage arena complete with a wide variety of English jumps.

Getting married? This is a beautiful place to tie the knot. Say your vows under majestic fir trees beside a clean mountain creek, with plenty of spots for photos. There is lots of room for events such as family reunions as well.

A large, four bedroom log home completes the Resort package as you finish the day's activities and settle into comfortable western accommodations for the night.

Resort Manager Sherri Thomson and staff Ryan Mazur and Kirsty Moore invite everyone to come on out and take a look around the newest Western Resort in the area.

June is Bike Month

Harry Lali, Minister of Transportation and Highways, has proclaimed June as Bike Month in B.C.

"Cycling is a low-cost, environmentally sound method of transportation," Lali said. "It's an activity that people of all ages, backgrounds and regions of our province can enjoy. By setting aside June as Bike Month, we help cyclists celebrate the many benefits of their transportation choice."

Francis Van Loon, President of the British Columbia Cycling Coalition, commented, "This proclamation is another excellent step forward. The coalition encourages more people to cycle more often."

Cyclists are required to wear a helmet.

Lali reminded novice cyclists that some roads, particularly high-speed highways, are not the best choice for beginners.

"Practicing your cycling on quieter roads or bike paths is a good way to gain skills and confidence," Lali said. "Don't take on too much at once. You want to enjoy your ride, not make it into an ordeal."

In recent years, the ministry has ensured that wherever possible road paving projects include improvements to road shoulders, which accommodates cyclists and other users. As a result of extensive consultation with cycling groups, the ministry has established a review process to consider cycling needs when planning new and upgraded highway projects.

Lutheran Vicar is installed

Princeton - Pastor Carlson held an Installment Ceremony on Sunday for new Lutheran Vicar Mark Hennig, who arrived on June 1. Vicar Hennig was given a warm welcome immediately, and met half the congregation the first day in town. Vicar Hennig has just completed his first year at Concordia Lutheran Seminary in Edmonton and is doing a summer vicarage for three months. He will return to his studies in the autumn. This year, his brother will be attending first year.

“Was yours a very religious family?” the News Leader asked the new vicar.

He denied they were “very religious.” He was raised on a farm in the Stoney Plain, Alberta, area and admits the family did not always attend Sunday services. His parents were dedicated Christians and raised their children with these values.

Vicar Hennig first thought of being a pastor when he was 19 years old. Now, nine years later, with the agreement and support of his wife, he has been able to follow his calling. He is looking forward to meeting more local people, and to exploring the area.

Former residents have no time for golf

Former Princeton residents Bill and Rose Gross have no time for golf anymore. Both work at Huckleberry Mine, four days on and three days off, and Rose says by the time they do everything they have to do, there is just no time for golf.

Eating well before baby arrives

by Beatrice Bibby, PHN, Princeton Health Unit

There are approximately 400,000 births every year in Canada. Of these, an estimated 10 per cent of births are at risk due to poor health and malnutrition of the mother. If a mother has poor nutrition, it is more likely that her baby will be at risk to have a low birth weight (less than 2500 grams or 5 lbs. 8 oz.). Babies with a low birth weight have a greater risk of developing serious and lifelong disabilities.

In an effort to reduce the incidence of low birth weight babies, Health Canada started the Canada Prenatal Nutrition Program (C.P.N.P.). The C.P.N.P. provides services to pregnant women. A Princeton program, called Positively Pregnant, is being planned as a co-operative service through the Princeton Health Unit and Princeton Childcare Services.

We are planning a drop-in at the Health Unit when there is enough interest. The group will offer a combination of the following:

- a place to relax and meet other pregnant women
- information about healthy eating, pregnancy, and breastfeeding help and support
- prenatal vitamins and food coupons.

A healthy snack will be provided and women will also have the opportunity to speak to a nutritionist and/or Public Health Nurse about any questions they have.

Food coupons and prenatal vitamins may be available to participants who attend the program prior to the birth of their baby, AND up to six months postpartum.

For more information, please call the Public Health Nurse, Beatrice Bibby, at Princeton Health Unit (295-3133) or Laurie at Princeton Childcare Services (295-3126).

Small town kids can compete anywhere

Take a really good look at the achievements of small town young people in our valley. They are competing on a world scale and winning.

There is a prevailing belief, sometimes in small towns and mostly in larger centers, about people who live in small towns. This belief says small town people could probably not make it anywhere but in a small town. Growing up in a small town is considered to be a disadvantage. We can show people that is not the case. Our small town young people have been simply outstanding this year.

A Cawston girl will go to Sydney, Australia, for the opening of the Summer Olympics. Her forte is music, and it is taking her halfway around the world.

A Princeton girl has received one of only two awards given in Canada for a full scholarship to DeVry Institute of Technology.

Other valley students have gone to Ottawa this year as a reward for citizenship, and many others have received scholarships on a provincial level. Our young people prove you do not have to live in a big city to have the talent or the intelligence to be a winner.

If you were to study the backgrounds of Canadian Prime Ministers and American Presidents, you would discover that the majority of them were raised in small towns. The majority came from families who were ordinary, hard-working citizens of no great wealth, but who managed to instill in their children a respect for effort and excellence.

In the Similkameen Valley, our children could fit that description. We can add that they had good teachers and others in their community who cared enough to inspire and encourage them to be the best they can be, and to reach out into the world for what they can achieve.

This is what building assets in youth is all about.

YOUR VIEW

A businessman shares his concerns

Dear Editor;

Regarding recent letters to the editor from the Hedley area:

I can see I am not alone in running a business without police support. My wife and I have operated our business on Highway 3, twenty minutes east of Princeton, for the past three and a half years. After the first year in business, we discovered calling the RCMP office was a waste of time. Response to such incidents as property damage, dumping trash, a car being used to cause damage, and stolen goods from our store resulted in little or no support.

After reporting a theft, including food, to a dispatcher, they responded by saying, "He must have just been hungry."

Well, I also get hungry a few times a day. Does this mean I can walk into a business, fill my belly, and have the option of not paying?

This letter is not a direct shot at the RCMP personally - I'm sure they mean well, and the officers I've met do show their concern. However, it appears to be out of their power to do anything about these incidents. It seems their superiors designate highway patrols above actual criminal offences. On a daily basis, I watch police out in front of our business handing out traffic violations, but call for assistance and there is no one available.

Recently, on April 28, I was hit by a car outside my business. It knocked me over the front of the vehicle onto the windshield, then left. I've called the Princeton detachment three times, and the Penticton detachment once, to ask for an officer to come get my statement and to interview a witness. Now, almost four weeks later, the police still have not responded. I wonder, if the next time a radar officer flags me over on the highway, if I just drive over him and leave, will all be forgotten?

Should I drive into Princeton with a burnt-out tail light or cracked windshield - then will I get a response?

I am convinced that the good, law-abiding, tax paying people in our society need to get a backbone and stick together, speak out, and watch out for one another, as the criminals already know that they can survive without any recourse on their actions.

Lyle Zimmerman.

Open letter to Regional Health Board CEO

Dear Sir;

Re: Board meeting, Wednesday, May 17, 2000 - Princeton, B.C.

I attended the above meeting and extend my thanks to the board for the public nature of the meeting. It is an onerous task for individual board members but of value to the people in the communities involved. Would you kindly forward a copy of the minutes of the May 17, 2000 meeting when available.

I would also like to receive a copy of the Board policy referred to as "Diversion," that is, the policy established to direct management and staff of Princeton General Hospital to "stabilize then divert" patients to other region hospitals.

The large turnout for the Board meeting May 17, 2000, I trust sends a message to the Board of OSHR that a careful review is required before any decision is made to close acute care beds at Princeton General Hospital.

The press release by the Board after the Princeton meeting (Penticton Herald on May 18) was misleading. It was made to sound like investment in long term care expansion somehow offsets the loss of acute care beds. Nothing could be further from the truth. Long term care is the reality of this decade. Existing acute care services, for Princeton, is a life-line that cannot be cut.

I repeat, for the Board members, some comments made at the Princeton meeting:

1. the "statistical" support for acute care bed closures at Princeton General Hospital (found in materials before the Board for the May 17, 2000 meeting) needs careful review by the Board. The "net loss" of population projected for Princeton during the decade 1999-2009 is a very puzzling and we suspect very wrong statistical projection.

This town, and surrounding dependent district, has a steadily rising population. The closure of Similco Mines a few years ago did see a decline in numbers in the town itself, but that was a unique "glitch" in population numbers. Continued next page

Group calls for rally supporters

Dear Editor;
Over the past couple of weeks Princeton and area have had some very dedicated people working together for a very worthy cause. We call ourselves the "Action Committee to Save Princeton General Hospital." At meetings we put our heads together to try and come up with different strategies on what we can do as a community to stop the bed closures in our hospital. So far we have organized a Rally, in which we received media coverage from Kelowna. Considering that the Rally was put together on short notice, we were very pleased by the many concerned residents who turned out to join in the march down Main Street.

The evening, at the OSHR Board meeting held at the Seniors Centre,

If bed closures are to be justified, or rationalized, on the basis of the numbers in your materials, someone has used the wrong figures.

2. The Princeton hospital service area is markedly different from anywhere else in the Okanagan Similkameen Regional Health area. Please refer to the attached map to illustrate the following:

Not one other hospital in the region needs to deal with the distances we must contend with from Princeton.

Not one other hospital in the region needs to deal with the wide-ranging areas that rely upon its services.

Not one other hospital in the region is in excess of 100 kilometres away from back-up or alternate hospital facilities.

Not one other hospital (and its medical staff) in the region has the distance factor to our extent in utilizing specialist diagnostic and treatment services.

Not one other hospital in the region contends with an aging population, as a percentage of general population, to the degree experienced by the doctors and medical staff in Princeton.

3. Much discussion took place regarding the "difficulty" in attracting nursing staff to Princeton. This was stated as another reason why acute care beds are to be cut.

It is my understanding that "hiring" of nursing staff is done in a centralized manner and this policy undermines the ability of Princeton to demonstrate the many attractions and amenities to be found in Princeton. There are reasons to permit Princeton to be directly involved in seeking suitable qualified nurses. We are the only ones who can tell, show, and reveal what has the people of this area proud to live here.

The people of Princeton, and the doctors, nurses and medical support staff working in and with Princeton General Hospital are most concerned about the Board making decisions about "the way it is going to be" (bed closures) without being a part of and listened to on decisions of fundamental importance to our survival as a community.

I look forward to the receipt of the requested information.

Yours truly,
Robert R. Wicks

the hall was filled to capacity with concerned citizens.

At this meeting, we had the words "This is the way it's going to be" and "That's not in the plan" repeated to us several times. Well, as we have seen, "plans" can be changed. We are very concerned for the long-term outlook for our hospital and our town.

Each of us has our own personal story of what this hospital has done for us and what it will mean when PGH, little by little, quietly disappears. As most of you know, a petition has been circulated through several of our local businesses, plus door-to-door canvassing has been done. We thank you for your support, however, signing our names to this sheet of paper does not mean that our fight is over! No! It has only just begun.

I have a concern. Out of a population of over 3,000 residents, why don't we see more faces at these meetings? We, as a committee, can plan what course of action we believe should be taken, but we need your help and support.

Where are you, Princeton?

Political smorgasbord

Dear Editor:

The dates for both the federal and provincial elections are expected to be announced sometime after Parliaments return from their hard-earned summer breaks. Once again, Canada's badly flawed election process and parliamentary system will be repeated for another term.

We, as voters, cannot vote directly for our choice of Prime Minister or provincial Premier (sounds unconstitutional, doesn't it?).

We, being allowed to vote only for a representative of the candidate who, if elected by the system, receives the power automatically transferred from his representatives through the majority popular public vote.

After the party leader forms the new government (or next), he in turn uses that given power to dictate and to intimidate his own Cabinet for legislative votes. There is also rewards of favoritism such as appointments

We must be visible and vocal concerning our hospital -- the more people who get personally involved, the better.

Last week as I was making my way door to door with the petition, there was a gentleman who was very vocal in his opinion that I had my "butt" kicked by Mr. Murray Ramsden at the OSHR meeting (I believe he was referring to everyone who was in attendance) and that if I took this fight to the Regional Health Board in Kelowna, I would be asking Mr. Ramsden to kick my "butt" again. Now, I didn't take kindly to being verbally attacked like that, so I politely informed this "gentleman" that if I did indeed go to Kelowna and if I did get my "butt" kicked, then he should consider his kicked as well, because as a resident of this community, this isn't just my fight, this issue concerns every person who calls this place home.

So Please! if you care about your home town and the impending doom that hangs over our hospital, get involved in the fight to Save Princeton General Hospital.

Sincerely, Shirley Haker to executive positions in commissions or to serve as an ambassador overseas, living like a king. The six-digit annual salaries, the expense accountants and gold-plated pensions are a tough act to follow, but someone has got to do it.

The pigs at the trough don't want change. They don't even lobby for a longer 140 minute question and answer period in the House of Commons, as opposed to the present 40 minute session. They don't lobby for secret ballots in the legislatures as opposed to "free votes" as advocated by the Opposition (stand up for nay count and you're toast.)

If the voters want real change, they are going to have to hold the government accountable by legal affidavit, for to support these grandstanders at their word by marking an X on a ballot is putting our very own intelligence in question.

Heart Food

by Dave Machin

"For I know the thoughts that I think towards you," declares the Lord, "thoughts of peace and not of evil, to give you a future and a hope." (Jeremiah 29:11) This scripture reveals to us the fact that God is a thinking being just like you are a thinking person. The thoughts that He thinks toward you are not for your harm but they are for your benefit. Unfortunately, you have chosen to go and do your own thing and forgotten about the very one who knows what is best for you. As you are busy doing your own thing God is all the while attempting to capture your attention and bring you to a place where you will stop and seek Him. Quite frequently this never happens until you find yourself in a hard spot, not knowing what to do or where to turn. The amazing thing about God is that He is there all the time patiently waiting for you call. For the next verse says that when you call upon Him He will listen to you. Most people today are not very good listeners, however, He promises that He will listen to you. Not only will He listen, He will answer and begin to reveal to you the things that He thinks toward you. Then if you will listen and obey His thoughts you will find yourself being led into a place where you can have great peace. He is the only one who is able to bring peace to your hurting heart. That is His number one priority. Why not take Him at His word and allow His peace entrance into your life. Don't do it on your terms, do it on His terms. You will never be the same again. God is good and He is good all the time.

Doctor explains hospital statistics

Dear Editor:

The concerns voiced in the Oliver Chronicle and reported in the News Leader concerning apparent higher utilization of hospital beds in Princeton General Hospital deserve explanation, and I am pleased to have the opportunity to address this issue. No matter how much I may suspect the figures furnished in terms of data collection and population figures chosen, there is probably some element of accuracy in the reports suggesting higher usage of beds per person in Princeton. Indeed, I would suggest that this situation indicates we are doing our job properly.

Princeton Hospital is the only truly rural/remote hospital in the region. In a true emergency the "golden hour" after onset of accident/symptoms is the time when the patient will die if appropriate treatment and stabilization is not achieved. In any other community but our own in this region, that hour can be spent getting the patient to either Kelowna or Penticton. In Princeton the patient must be stabilized and treated here prior to transfer. Consider several scenarios:

1. The patient has a heart attack and has complications. He is given several medications and becomes stable. The Kelowna consultant is contacted and agrees to see the patient for definitive testing, but there is no longer an emergency, so the patient waits in our hospital until stress testing can be arranged, usually several days later. This delay does not occur for patients admitted to Kelowna.

2. The patient falls and breaks a hip. The orthopedic surgeon is already four cases behind in Penticton - all local people with fractures who must be treated quickly to make more beds available. Our patient waits on bed rest and narcotics for a day or two.

3. The patient with multiple medical problems develops fever and severe illness. We can keep him alive but need help in diagnosis from an internist, a CT scan or an ultrasound. It takes several days to get a bed in Penticton.

Our consultants and receiving hospitals give us excellent service. We expect them to manage their own problems first, and they are confident in our ability to stabilize and manage our patients until there is room in their hospital. Our unique function in the region takes extra days and extra beds. Other rural hospitals in other regions have similar utilization figures. This is entirely appropriate. If our figures matched those of urban hospitals we would not be doing our job properly.

Non-emergent problems, of course, take extra hospital time because of the lack of home care (cut by 50 per cent and never restored) and the lack of other volunteer and funded facilities found in larger centers.

A comparison, using the same questionable figures, of other hospital regions, shows lowest utilization in wealthy urban areas such as North and West Vancouver and the highest utilization in northern, mainly rural areas such as the Cariboo. The recent Maclean's poll ranks the former as having the best health care in Canada, while Prince George rates at the bottom of 50 communities surveyed. No surprise to find where all the rural/remote hospitals are, and no surprise to find that health care continues to deteriorate in these areas because administration continues to impose urban financial scenarios upon our rural/remote hospitals.

Yours sincerely,
N.J. Bosomworth, M.D.

Writer sees scary times

Letter to the Editor:

This past week, my husband, Austin Fraser was admitted to PGH suffering a heart attack. To my horror, we discovered that if he would have needed to be transferred out, the Princeton ambulance was downed. From Thursday June 1st to Monday, June 5th, no local ambulance was available from 6 p.m. to 8 a.m. each night. So in the event of any serious complications we would have had to wait for an ambulance to be dispatched from Keremeos, approximately 1 hour. My God, people, what is going on here?

I am outraged! My husband spent 27 years of his life dedicated to volunteering with the Princeton Ambulance Service. Now that he is experiencing serious health problems, he and other residents may be denied life saving procedures because of funding restraints and staffing problems.

This situation does not just affect us and our family, IT AFFECTS ALL OF US.

Joyce and Austin Fraser,
Very concerned citizens.

Open letter to Alan Rock

Dear Sir,

I wish to draw to your attention the proposed closure of eight acute beds in Princeton General Hospital, target date July 1, 2000.

You probably have never heard of or know the location of the hospital. This hospital is located some 80 miles east of Hope on Highway 3 and some 75 miles west of Penticton. The hospital located in Princeton is midway between the aforementioned cities and is the key center providing medical care to highway accident victims, residents of Coalmont, Tulameen, Manning Park, Hedley and Princeton and surrounding district. During the past 10 years or more a great number of retired persons have built homes here with the anticipated thoughts of a peaceful existence close to a hospital. For many years, Princeton was run successfully by its own hospital board. Now it comes under the Regional Hospital Board at Kelowna. Over past years we, the residents of Princeton, contributed monies to the Penticton and Princeton Hospitals for upgrading of equipment etc. Now we are told Penticton wants to increase their hospital by 20 beds and Princeton has to reduce acute care by 2 beds. This does not make sense. Patients needing special treatments have to be sent by ambulance to Penticton or Kelowna, at our expense. We do not have a regular daily bus service to and from Penticton. Therefore many patients who have to be sent to Penticton, where the hospital may not have a bed, must either find lodging overnight (if they have the money) or return to Princeton by whatever way they can (no grace is given).

We, the residents of Princeton, wish our acute beds be retained as was indicated by a rally of Princeton residents and a meeting with the Regional Hospital Board on May 10, 2000 held in Princeton and covered by CHBC television.

In respect to our medical and health care, as I see it we are grossly underfunded by both federal and provincial governments. We, as a nation, are growing annually in numbers of population. People are living longer, and therefore our hospitals need to be expanded. Even a blind person can see this.

Our federal government and provincial government receives huge amounts of money through various taxes. Therefore a greater percentage of the take should be granted annually towards health care on an ongoing basis.

In respect to expenditures made with health care monies, it should be transparent in all departments, and a salary cap placed on administrative and executive positions. There is too much money wasted on excessively high salaries when one considers the amount of hospitals throughout our nation.

Only by getting the spending under control can we realize a healthy health care system.

In closing I humbly beseech you to intercede on our behalf to save our hospital and community.

A concerned resident,
Yours truly, John W. Sinclair

PUBLIC NOTICE
RE-SCHEDULED PUBLIC HEARING

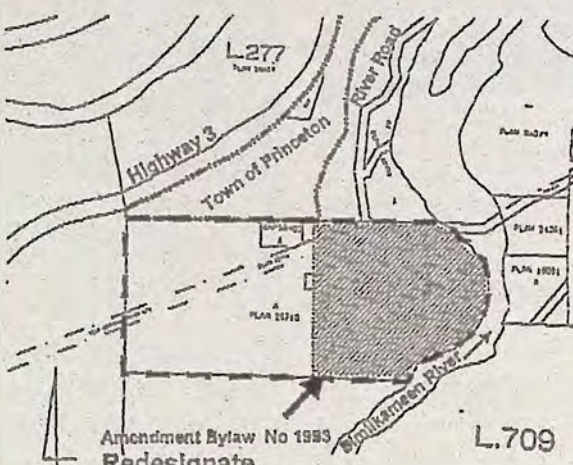

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 892 of the Municipal Act, the Regional District of Okanagan-Similkameen will conduct a Public Hearing on the following Bylaw commencing at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, June 20, 2000 at the Princeton Town Hall Council Chambers, 169

AMENDMENT BYLAW NO. 1993, 2000

That the Official Rural Land Use Bylaw Map, being Schedule 'B' Index Map of the Electoral Area 'H' Rural Land Use Bylaw No. 1725, be amended by changing the designation of the property described as part of Lot A, Plan 29710, District Lots 243 & 473, YDYD, except Plan KAP 52403 (located south and adjacent to the Town of Princeton between Hwys. 3 and the Similkameen River) from RA (Resource Area) to SH1 (Small Holdings).

The applicants are proposing to subdivide a 14.3 ha (35.4 acre) portion of a 32.4 ha (80 acre) parcel into five (5) residential lots.

Permitted uses within the SH1 (Small Holdings) designation include agriculture; forestry; stables, commercial kennels, and animal hospitals; one single family dwelling or mobile home; home occupation; home industry; secondary suite; care centre; public parks; fruit and vegetable stand; and buildings and structures auxiliary to the aforementioned uses.

Amendment Bylaw No 1993
Redesignate
From: RA
To: SH1

A copy of the above Bylaw is available for inspection between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, excluding holidays, from June 6, 2000 to June 20, 2000, both inclusive, in the office of the Regional District of Okanagan-Similkameen, 101 Martin Street, Penticton, B.C. and at the Princeton Town Hall, 169 Bridge Street, Princeton, B.C.

Written comments regarding this application will be received at the Regional District office up to and including Monday, June 19, 2000. At the Hearing, all persons who deem their interest in property affected by the proposed Bylaw shall be given an opportunity to present written information or to speak to matters contained within the Bylaw.

Pursuant to Section 891 of the Municipal Act, this Public Hearing has been delegated to the Director of Electoral Area 'H'.

A look at ICBC and the hospital mess

by Joe Schwarz, a guy with an eye for a funny situation

Recently, I received my ICBC notice. They wrote I would receive a 40 per cent claim discount, a senior's discount of 25 per cent, and a whole bunch of other discounts, so naturally I rushed down to Princeton's business centre to confer with ICBC's agent, expecting to get a shopping cart full of money back. Baloney! They wanted $760 on my '95 Merc Mystique - book value $9,500!

What a letdown! What interested me, though, was a two per cent discount if you had a recognized manufacturer's anti-theft device mechanism installed in your car. I checked with the Ford people and they said it would cost upwards to $625. Did I get it? Pat $625 to save $15? Do you think I'm a graduate of the NDP School of Economics? No!!

So I asked the very personable young lady if they sold private insurance and to my surprise, she said "yes." However, it was only allowed to cover liability, collision, comprehensive and no-fault (road star). This was $50 cheaper than ICBC. It meant I could buy 100 BC/49 tickets (the senior citizen and student special) and possibly become a millionaire.

My insurance was now $710 instead of $760.

It is too bad we don't have equal competition in a democratic society but I suppose you call what we have "new democracy." Besides, we've been taught not to trust anything government.

I understand that ICBC spent $30,000 on a party for their employees because they worked so hard on the Y2K bug program. What bugs me is I caused no problem with the Y2K bug and I wasn't even invited or asked about spending my car insurance money on the party.

I was so happy that this very knowledgeable young lady saved me $50 I was going to tell her boss to put her on steady and give her a raise. Had I been a French Canadian, I would have given her a kiss on either cheek but you know what would happen - she'd punch me in the eye, my wife would punch me in the other eye, and he man would flatten my nose and I'd end up in the hospital.

Let's just explore that thought a little further. I arrive at the Princeton Hospital and it's closed. At the doorway is a booth with a man in it. He introduces himself.

"I'm Big Brother, the Health Ministry P.R. (poor results?) spokesperson."

"Mr. Brother, I heard we were going to lose 10 beds, not the whole hospital!"

"It's Gordon Campbell's and the media's fault for this misinformation," replies Mr. Brother. "You know our government's highest priority is health care and you can see we are working hard and successfully to protect you from it." I ask, "What's inside the building now?"

"Records, files, legal receipts from Bingogate, Hydrogate, Ferrygate, Casinogate, Fiddlegate (budget) and a confidential file Get the Gate, plus Mr. Barrett's $725 a day leaky Condo investigation. Added to this, they stuffed all the obsolete fast ferry parts and equipment in it. You can see it's bursting at the seams."

"Good, heavens, Big Brother, what do we do now if we get sick or have an accident?"

"No problem, Joe. Go to the Government Agent's office and ask for your envelope. In it, it will state what days are yours. You are allowed to be sick once a year, have an accident every five years, and a pregnancy once a year."

"Mr. Big, I don't expect to be pregnant, at least not for awhile."

"Good, Joe, you get an extra half sick day a year. If you fail to be sick or have an accident on the specified days, that's your problem. You'll simply have to learn to co-operate. Now, when you need hospital services, you're expected to bring your own sleeping bag (not your partner), your own bed-pan and a whistle, and we'll put you up in Vermilion Forks School gym across the street. That way, we cut costs both in health and education."

But Mr. Big Brother, what's the whistle for?"

"This is the beauty and core of our program. If you need aid, you just go whistle. A nurse will come along, o - it may be a bit, she has yet to graduate, that is, if she can find an opening for her training first. Isn't our program a dandy, Joe? What do you think of it?"

"I'd say every B.C. community should write and loudly and emphatically shout CUT THE BULL, NOT THE BEDS!"

Ladies "In the Pink" tournament was tops!

The Princeton Ladies Golf Club hosted its annual "In the Pink" nine-hole fun day, Monday, May 29th. The sun came out from behind the clouds as seventy-two women, from golf clubs in the district, began the tournament at the ten o'clock shotgun. The weather proved to be much more pleasant than the weatherman had promised, which made for happy golfers.

In keeping with the "fun day" theme of the tournament, prizes were awarded for entertaining, as well as skillful aspects of the golf game.

Shortest drive on #1: Cathie Orser, Princeton Longest drive on #4 (Hcp 0-30): Penny Rivera, Oliver; (Hcp 30-44+): Blanche Cecon, Princeton
 "Beachcomber" Draw (Bunkers on #6) Inez Wilkinson, Princeton
 KP on #7 (Hcp 0-30) Donna Priest, Oliver, (Hcp 31-44+) Mary Swainson, Edmonton

Most golfers got into the spirit of the day by dressing in pink. Each year the clubhouse staff is invited to study the participants over morning coffee and muffins, and make the selection of the "Lady in Pink." Rumor has it that this year's Pink Lady, Carol Vandeweerd, (Cheryl Grove) was dressed entirely in pink, even items that couldn't be seen! Carol was presented with a beautiful pink gloxinia from Gold Water Florists.

The chip-in/birdie pot was shared by Beryl Mullin (Princeton), Cathie Dale (Twin Lakes), and Jo Schendl (Osoyoos). The draw for a prize for unused "Mulligan Permits" was won by Margaret Dietrich, also of Osoyoos. It was Margaret's lucky day as it was her number that was drawn for the basket of golf goodies that had been on display for several weeks at the clubhouse.

The Overall Low Gross winner, with a score of 44, was Gladys Whiteside of Osoyoos. The Overall Low Net winner was Terry Thiesse, Princeton, with 31. Each winner was presented with a pink wrapped prize and a bottle of wine. The following gross and net winners of the flights each won a pink wrapped prize.

This tournament, one of only two fun days still being held in our district, enjoys a good turnout for a number of reasons. As can be deduced from the flight Hcp numbers, it is a tournament that the higher handicappers can enjoy, and for many, it is the only tournament that they attend. Our kitchen has a fine reputation for wonderful luncheons, and, Ina, and her staff, new this year, did not disappoint. They did a great job and everyone promises to be back again for more.

The Princeton Ladies provided baked goods for the morning coffee, organized by Myrt McLaren and Joan Gee. Club members helped with registration, score cards, tickets sales, cart organization and numerous other jobs. Rob Fulton, Club Pro donated balls and tees for special prizes. (Out of town golfers were spotted in the pro shop taking advantage of attractive merchandise and prices.) The groundskeepers had the course in good shape for so early in the season, and the golfers particularly appreciated having benches at the red/yellow tee markers!

Members of the Senior Men's Club contributed to the event's success by getting the day off to a great start. Ken Blower, Jim Jackson and Bob Cornack met the arriving out of town ladies in the parking lot and carried their bags to the clubhouse and awaiting golf cars and carts. The visitors were impressed! Ken, Dinny Mullin, Tom McLaren, Fred Gee, and Anna-Rose Powell took care of the scoring and did a great job in record time. Anna-Rose also did her "behind the scenes" magic, clearing up after the morning coffee party and readying the clubhouse for the luncheon. A successful event can't be held without a lot of help from local club members and golf course staff, and the "Pink Day" had willing helpers in abundance.

Ladies two-ball fun golf event

The Anne Callander Two-lady Team Golf Event was played Sunday, May 28, with 20 ladies participating. The first group started at 9:00 a.m. with the rest following.

The overall low gross team winners were Beth Norman and Myrt McLaren.

First overall low net team winners were Georgina Longstaff and Elaine Harwood.

Second low gross team winners were Linda Angstadt and Joan Angstadt.

Second Low Net team winners were Joan Gee and Terry Thiesse. K.P.s #7 and #16 were Lorraine Kirby and Phyllis Conway-Brown.

Accuracy #9 and #18 were Joanne Roberts and Myrt McLaren.

The "Birdie" chip in pot was shared by Beryl Mullin and Linda Angstadt.

We would like to thank all the ladies who came out and participated in the annual Two-Lady Team Event. We also thank Sharon Blower and Helen Rogers for all the work they did organizing Pink Lady Day on Monday, May 29. It was a great success - hats off to you both!

The goal of the tournament was to raise $5,000, half for the Hospital Foundation, half for Rotary projects. The total raised will not be known until Treasurer Harold Walsh has done all the accounting, but the picture looks promising.

Each golf team had five members, who played as individuals, but were judged on a combined score. Some prizes were given for individual achievement as follows:

Men's Long Drive - 0 - 17 Glenn Weissbach, 18 - 35 Lucky Luchsinger.

Ladies Long Drive - 0 - 24 - Faye Knowler, 25 - 40 - Candace Fraser-Beswick.

Women's KP - Betty O'Hara and Sharon Elko.

Men's KP - Glenn Weissbach (0 - 71) and Nick Goreas (18 - 35) KP#2 - Dinny Mullin

In second place was the Bob Montgomery team featuring Steve Clement, Randy McLean, Calvin Haw and Betty O'Hara. This team actually thought they were in a rock and roll contest of some sort and asked the News Leader to write about their being the greatest.

However, they won the prizes for golfing and their singing achievements remain unrecorded.

The Rob Fulton team was third, and included Jim Jackson, Ray Carpenter, Harold Walsh and Barrie Wright.

Fourth place was a three-way tie and a putt-off decided the winner. The Kory Krenn team put the putt in place. Krenn's team included Jim Riederer, Trevor Ball, Jason Willis and Mike Hauschild.

Local athletes plan mini-triathlon in Tulameen

A mini-triathlon is in the planning stages. Jim Hardin and Lesley Hassel are planning a 1 km. swim across Otter Lake, a 20 km. bike ride from the public beach at Otter Lake to Coalmont and back, and a 10 km. run from the public beach along Lakeside Road to the campsite and back. There will be rejuvenation (refreshments) for all participants at the end of the run.

Entrants can do the whole thing as an individual, or it can be done by a relay team. Some teams have been lined up already.

All ages are welcome to participate, but participants under age 18 must have authorization from a parent or guardian.

This first mini-triathlon is for fun, says Jim Hardin, "but if it goes well, it will become an annual event."

To apply, or for further information, call Jim at 295-7251 or Lesley at 295-7380.

The B.C. Lung Association is sponsoring a photography contest, deadline June 30, and is asking British Columbians to attempt to capture clean air on film.

The contest has four categories: kids, sports, leisure and travel; animals and nature; and scenery. Colour or black and white prints or slides are accepted.

Thousands of dollars of donated prizes go to the winning photographers. Fresh Air Photo Contest entry forms and details are at London Drugs or phone 1-800-665-5864 or go to www.bc.lung.ca.
