

Coffin goes to Health Board

This vehicle rolled into the ditch across from the Chamber of Commerce Tourist Information Centre on Saturday morning. The car was from the Lower Mainland.

Six pallbearers took the coffin from the back of the Princeton hearse, carried it into Regional Health Board main office, while a procession behind the coffin chanted, "Save Our Beds!"

Shirley Haker was there. "I think we totally shocked the people at regional office, Haker told the News Leader. "I don't think they expected a coffin to be brought in and plunked in their office."

Council favours parking over trail

Princeton - Discussion became heated at the last Town Council meeting over plans for the downtown portion of the Trans Canada Trail.

Representatives of Subway, A & W and Chevron attended the June 5 Town Council meeting to voice their complaints about the Trans Canada Trail being blocked with logs. Mark McDonald said they had attended the meeting where two trail plans were presented, and Subway owners had real concerns about the area blocked off at their end. They asked Council to consider the impact on business. A concern for A & W and Chevron Continued on page 5

RCMP seize 167 acre drug operation

Princeton RCMP, along with South-East District Drug Section, executed a search warrant on a property located 17 km. northeast of Princeton. The search, conducted on October 7, 1999, resulted in the seizure of 4,000 marijuana plants. The 167 acre property is now under a Restraint Order filed in Supreme Court of British Columbia on May 25, 2000.

The order, pursuant to Section 14 of the Controlled Drugs and Substance Act, prohibits the owners from disposing of the property and Seized Property Management Directorate has been appointed to take control and manage the property. The owner of the property is allowed to reside on the property and must maintain it.

RCMP believe the property is related to the offence. At the time of the seizure of the marijuana plants, a news release from the RCMP stated the buildings on the property appeared to have been constructed "primarily for the purpose of producing marijuana."

The order was filed at the Land Title Office in Kamloops May 29, 2000.

Local IWA sawmill workers hope for no strike as contract ends

Princeton - Employees at Weyerhaeuser will take a strike vote next week as a routine demonstration of support for their negotiators.

Barry Ovington, Plant Representative for Princeton division of IWA, told the News Leader, "All of us are hoping there won't be a strike. We hope they can meet each other's terms and reach an agreement."

The current contract ends June 30, and the strike vote will be taken June 19.

"Pension is the number one issue on the table in this set of negotiations," Ovington said. "The IWA wants a better pension plan." Negotiators have presented employers' representatives with pension amounts they want employers to contribute. At the same time, employers are talking about concessions - what the employees will give up to gain what they want.

"It's the bargaining position," Ovington said. "They could put 15 things on the table on each side, then trade off until they're down to the biggest issues."

Ovington was sure the issue will not be wage hikes.

"Most of the guys know they'll just pay more income taxes if they get higher wages. Benefits are the big thing, like pensions and a better dental plan."

IWA bargains first for the coast, then for the Interior.

Cougar shot

An emaciated 18 month old female cougar was shot near a residence 7 km. east of Princeton on June 7. It had been at the residence. Neighbours wounded the cougar, then Conservation Officer Al Lay called a contract hunter, who tracked the cougar and put it down.

Missing hikers found safe

Keremeos police received a report of four missing hikers on June 2. Five hikers left the lodge area in Cathedral Park in the morning. One returned in the afternoon. The remaining hikers were expected to return by 6:00 p.m. When the group had not returned by 10:30 p.m., personnel at the Cathedral Lakes Lodge became concerned. They started a search.

Keremeos Search and Rescue personnel were notified to begin a ground search. Keremeos received assistance from Oliver and Penticton Search and Rescue personnel. The hikers, all tourists (and doctors) from England, had been caught in an unexpected snow storm. They had gone to Red Mountain and were headed for Quinesco Mountain when they became disoriented in the snow and fog. They had changed direction and were actually headed toward Manning Park. They stayed overnight in the woods and were found the following morning by a search helicopter. They had stamped out a message in the snow and were in a clearing where they could be seen.

Nobody was injured, although they suffered symptoms of mild hypothermia.

The group have since gone on with other plans.

Cst. Rick Ekkel of Keremeos Detachment, in charge of the response, urges everyone to prepare for an emergency when hiking at high elevations. Take extra food, clothing and gear.

A person may not light, fuel or make use of fire unless authorized by a designated forest official. Boundaries of the area are described as from Blue River in the north to the U.S. border in the south, and from Bridge River in the west to the Monashee Mountains in the east.

The intent of the restriction is to reduce the likelihood of human caused fires with special regard to wildland urban interface issues.

People travelled by private car (above) and by bus (below) to Kelowna to protest bed closures. Mayor Randy McLean wears a sign around his neck, and Elizabeth Petryk, next to him, has a heart pinned to her sweater. of the pallbearers who carried the coffin into the Regional Health Board office.

A bus load of protesters, plus the hearse, and several private vehicles, left Princeton at 8:30 a.m. June 7. The protesters arrived at the office in Kelowna at 11:30 a.m. Murray Ramsden, CEO, was not there when they arrived, but did come later. In the meantime, the approximately 70 protesters asked many questions of the next in line, Chris Mazurkewich.

When Ramsden arrived, he received their petition bearing 2,965 names of concerned citizens who are within the area served by Princeton General Hospital. So far as most Hedley residents are concerned, they are in the area, although they are considered part of Keremeos Health Area. Several Hedley residents made the trip to Kelowna.

Haker said Ramsden talked about the local hospital situation and kept referring to Ridgewood Lodge and the expansion taking place. Haker said people were tired of hearing about Ridgewood Lodge when they were talking about the hospital, and made it clear to Ramsden they see the hospital issue as separate from what is going on at Ridgewood Lodge, and promoting Ridgewood Lodge does not answer questions about Princeton General Hospital.

Mazurkewich told the protesters the four 'float' beds would stay in the rooms in which they are now located, but are to be used only when required.

Protesters felt they were not hearing straight answers to straightforward questions, and persisted. They asked for a floor plan of the hospital in the future, and were told PGH administrator, Dorothy Cobb, has those plans.

Ramsden is expected to attend the Action Committee public meeting on Thursday, June 15, at 7 p.m. at Princeton Secondary School.

Those who want to help raise funds for the Hospital Action Committee can join Best Low Net Tournament organized by Monty Raine.

Monty says, "Pick your partner and swing. You can golf all week and change partners when you feel like it."

Play as many times as you wish at $10 a crack. Fifty percent of the money raised goes to the Action Committee, and the rest goes to prizes. Sign up at the Pro Shop at the golf course. Details are on the poster by the Pro Shop entrance.

Tonasket loses jobs

Princeton's Sister City, Tonasket, Washington, suffered a double economic blow ten days ago. Mayor Randy McLean, who participated in Tonasket's Founders Day parade on June 3 with Stan Thompson and Jack Thomas, told Council on June 5 that Tonasket had lost the equivalent of Simileco Mines in terms of local jobs.

A packing plant in Tonasket shut down with a loss of 80 jobs, and a plywood plant in Omak closed, for a loss of another 200 jobs. Many people in Tonasket area worked at the plywood plant.

Ambassadors show talents

Princeton - The Youth Ambassador Talent Show was a display of the ingenuity of the candidates as well as their talent. Each presented something different, and were backed up by the talents of Karen Smart, Laurie Thomas, and Connor Wicks handling the sound system. Alisdair Reid and Kendra Thomas were Master and Mistress of Ceremonies.

Crystal Mosher, Miss Castle Park Resort, sang "Strawberry Wine," accompanied by Karen Smart.

Karen Smart followed with a piano solo as the next candidate prepared his presentation.

Jessie Williams, Mr. Princeton Lions Club, is a mountain bike enthusiast, and he showed a video of mountain bike daredevil techniques.

Philip LePoidevin entertained everyone with a display of juggling talent while another candidate prepared her solo.

Miss Royal Canadian Legion, Sarah Johnson, sang "Imagine" and was accompanied by Laurie Thomas on piano.

Her talent performance was followed by a Cheerleaders demonstration performed by Veronica Kristan and Cynthia Ogrinc, two delightfully cute cheerleaders.

Chandra Darel, Miss Princeton Rotary Club, showed a video of her talent at figure skating, called

"A Night at the Rink."

Reigning Ambassadors Candace Smith, Melissa Bowen and Krista Szymczak told a newer version of some old fairy tales - very humorous.

Miss Reichert Sales and Service, Leticia Stacey, was the next candidate to show her talent, and it was fitting to her sponsor - snowmobiling. Along with some amusing video clips of how not to do the sport, she included safety tips.

There was no shortage of talent as Bethany Bedard took the stage to sing "Argentina" from the musical "Evita." Later, auctioneer Dean Stinson said he would pay $50 to have her sing it again. It was excellent. She did another song later in the program, and led the evening with the singing of O Canada.

Lions, Elks like pool lift

Princeton's Elks Lodge and Lions Club like the idea of a lift for physically challenged people to enter Centennial Pool, a public swimming pool at Memorial Park.

Councillor Keith Olson told Council at the June 5 meeting that both groups had expressed interest in funding such a lift.

"It looks promising," he said.

Queen, did a hillbilly version of how to bake Granny's chocolate chip cookies. It was an amusing skit.

Mr. Princeton Light and Power, David Bell, took the audience back to figure skating with a video of his performance at the ice show.

Senior cheerleaders Melissa Bowen and Anna Joyner followed with a demonstration of competition level cheerleading routines that left people wondering how they could remember all those moves!

Final candidate to show his talent was Mr. Weyerhaeuser, Robert Cormack, who brought his surfboard and showed the various moves required in surfing.

The evening concluded with an auction of aprons made by the candidates. One apron sold for $71.00! This auction raises money to support the Youth Ambassador program.

Main street market worries some Keremeos business owners

by Sue Alton

It was a feisty evening as opinions were expressed on a number of topics at last week's Village Council meeting. Up for discussion was a bi-monthly Main Street Market sponsored by Similkameen Country Society.

Tjishe vander Meer presented the proposal to Council which would see an all-day Main Street Market operate every second Saturday in the downtown core until the end of September. Tables would be available for home-based businesses, crafters, artisans and local businesses. Musicians would be allowed to entertain in the Village Square.

"It's not a flea market...we want to attract customers to the business area," said vander Meer.

"No food stuffs, no baked goods and no flowers," said Councillor Tom Wilson. "I bake pies for a living so it wouldn't be fair to have someone outside selling what I sell and The Busy Bee has already been told there won't be any flowers sold at the market."

Both Joan McMurray, President of Similkameen Country and Ken Randle, its Manager, spoke up to support what vander Meer was proposing. Frances Peck argued that the Boy Scouts and churches can sell hot dogs and pies and it doesn't harm local businesses.

When Mayor Lee reported that some fruit stands have been in touch with him complaining about farmers selling produce at the market, Vander Meer emphasized that his vision leaned more towards artisans and the like and that this would draw customers for all businesses.

After much heated discussion, it was agreed that the market could have six tables from the hall (Vander Meer said they would be refinished upon return) and that Similkameen Country would be trusted to monitor the businesses accepted as vendors.

Vander Meer stated that the $10.00 fee per table would go to the Society to help with either the Red Bridge project or any other worthy cause.

Keremeos receives $3,000 for more trees

by Sue Alton

The Tree Canada Foundation in Ottawa was so impressed with its entry proposal from the Village of Keremeos that it awarded the community $3,000 to purchase and plant trees.

Eileen Oliver-Bauer will work with Paul Servos, Executive Director of the B.C. Recreation and Parks Association to implement the proposal and bring the project to the attention of the community.

The Village Council commended Oliver-Bauer and Irene ... for their hard, exacting work on the proposal.

Keremeos not only has green streets but clean air! Mayor Lee also announced that Keremeos has been chosen as a testing station for Clean Air Environment due to its - clean air! The testing equipment may eventually be installed on top of the new Health Centre when it is completed.

Logo contest!!

by Sue Alton

Similkameen Country invites community members of all ages to design a logo that "Captures the Spirit of the Similkameen Valley" and win $50.00. The contest is open to everyone.

The logo must be no more than four colours and suitable for reproduction in colour and black and white. The winning entry becomes the property of the society for their exclusive use.

Valley First Credit Union is accepting the entries and will put them on display until the deadline of June 21st, 5:00 p.m.

The society is looking for a logo that depicts life in the Similkameen Valley.

Council sets deadline, looks at summer recess

by Sue Alton

Council announced that all the tax notices have now been mailed and everyone should have received one. If the notice is not received call the Village office.

Council has set a new deadline for grant requests from the community. All grant requests must be received by September 15th, 2000 for the year 2001.

The Oasis Motel is still operating without a business license. Mayor Lee updated councillors on this issue as nothing can be done since the owners have filed a complaint with the Privacy Commission in protest over the possibility of being fingerprinted when applying for a Village business licence.

For the months of July and August, the Keremeos Village Council will meet on the third Monday of each month. This is a repeat of past practices at a time when people are taking holidays and the level of correspondence decreases dramatically.

Lower Similkameen Community Services gives job to Health Board

by Sue Alton

Normally the Lower Similkameen Community Services Society (LSCSS) would hold their Annual General Meeting at the end of June as in other years. This year, however, the Society directors have decided to delay the AGM until the details of the transfer agreement of the Society programs to the Okanagan Similkameen Regional Health Board are completed. The agreement should be completed by September 2000.

When the transfer agreement takes place the Regional Health Board will assume responsibility for: Adult Day Care, Home Support and Meals on Wheels. LSCSS will continue to manage: The Community for Children, Child and Youth Counselling and Support, Sex Abuse Counselling and the Young Parents Program.

To attend the AGM and vote, paid up memberships ($2.00) are required. These are available in the office at the west end of the packing house. Renewals are due before the end of June 2000. This is one way the community can continue to support the society in all the work they do.

was the possibility of large vehicles, such as transport truck, being unable to find parking room near those businesses, and greater concern if access were to be blocked. In addition, some concern was expressed because logs were put in place to block off some areas, and this was done before the plans were drawn up for development of the area. It was noted there is room for one-way traffic alongside the trail.

Mayor Randy McLean told them

Trails society challenges Council decision

Princeton - Members of Vermilion Trails Society are amazed and angry about Town Council's decision to remove the barriers on the Trans Canada Trail and approve a plan for development.

John Byatt, President of Vermilion Trails Society, is quick to point out Council has no jurisdiction over the trail. Vermilion Trails Society has stewardship of the trail between Osprey Lake and Brookmere.

Further, John Allison Elementary School has adopted the trail between the tunnel and the blue bridge on Highway 3.

"That means they (Town Council) are allowing tractor-trailers to go where kids are playing and planting flowers and trees," says Byatt.

Byatt was surprised at Councillor Dan Sulentic's motion to approve a plan, and go along with removing the barriers.

"Dan Sulentic has done a complete about face," Byatt told the News Leader.

According to Byatt's understanding of what was to happen, Council was to have set up a meeting with Vermilion Trails Society and the Heritage Committee to discuss planning. Instead, Byatt points out, they went ahead with the Council meeting, and did not invite Vermilion Trails Society nor the Heritage Committee to the meeting nor put them on the agenda.

"Just because Councillor Sulentic is in his last term doesn't mean he can get rid of the Trans Canada Trail for generations to come," Byatt stated.

Byatt says the barricades are not

Vermilion Trails Society has responsibility for the trail, but he needed clarification as to the authority the Town exercised over the downtown portion.

Councillor Dan Sulentic said it was his understanding that any plan for the trail would go to Council for approval.

Mayor McLean answered, "We have to know what we're allowed to do."

Councillor Kathy Clement said going to be removed because Council does not have jurisdiction to remove them.

In regard to the two plans Council looked at, Vermilion Trails Society had not made any decision, but was waiting to meet with Council to discuss the plans. Byatt says Vermilion Trails Society believes the Trans Canada Trail is the future of Princeton and has always been in favour of parking and access to the trail for people who want to use it.

"Crown land is Crown land," Byatt points out, "and it's not for businesses to use for their own."

Byatt would like to see Dan Sulentic retract his motion, and Kathy Clement to retract her addition to the motion.

"It is nul and void because Council has no jurisdiction," Byatt says. He phoned Crown Lands office to double check on that fact.

Vermilion Trails Society feels that, if the Town does not want the trail and the society's efforts to beautify the area, then the society should put its efforts "into places where we're wanted, such as Tulameen, Coalmont, Osprey Lake and Brookmere."

Council has a directorship on the Board of the Trails Society, and is represented by Lorne Esselink. Byatt says Esselink has attended half of one meeting of the society.

The new location for meetings is in the Princeton Light and Power Building (use side entrance). PLP has kindly donated their conference room for Vermilion Trails Society meetings. The next meeting is June 21, at 7 p.m.

the trail should be a great asset to the town and the businesses, but "something isn't working right if we can't provide parking."

Mayor McLean and Councillor Clement argued about whether businesses in one part of town should have more of a break on parking than businesses in other areas of town.

Councillor Sulentic insisted Town Council must make a decision as to which of the two plans presented by the planner would be accepted by Council. He presented a motion in favour of Option A, one of the two plans.

Mayor McLean said they should wait for input from both sides.

Councillor Clement asked, "Where do people park if they want to use the trail?"

She did not receive an answer.

Mayor McLean told Councillor Sulentic he did not wish to make a decision, and Sulentic was adamant Council should approve Option A. He made the motion, with the amendment that the existing log barriers be removed. The motion passed, but Mayor McLean asked that his negative vote be recorded and re-stated his position that they should do nothing until talking to Vermilion Trails Society.

Representatives from the businesses did not appear upset by the Option A approval.

PSS students receive Athletic Awards

The Athletic Awards Banquet was held June 7 at Princeton Secondary School. The gym was half-filled with tables occupied by students, parents, grandparents and teachers, there to see who would receive awards for athletic achievement.

Teacher and coach Mike Bertram was Master of Ceremonies. He noted the large number of items donated as door prizes, many from universities and colleges. He thanked the people who helped with the banquet, noting how much effort is required.

Bertram spoke briefly about athletics at Princeton Secondary. He pointed out that one out of every three students was involved in sports during the past year (107 students), a substantial increase over previous years. Eleven teachers volunteered as coaches, and 13 volunteer coaches came from the community. New sports were offered to students. He stressed the importance of attending camps for improving athletic performance.

Bertram made special mention of the Senior Boys basketball team, who donated the money saved from their budget to Riverside Intermediate for a basketball camp this summer. He thanked the Parent Advisory for the grant that enabled the purchase of a travel van for teams.

Guest speaker Jennifer Wheaton, a volleyball coach from OUC, began by saying she was impressed by the large number of parents who attended the banquet and supported students in sports.

Wheaton spoke directly to young athletes when she said athletes have to make choices, and know why they are on the team and in the sport.

"Being an athlete means creating yourself every day," Wheaton told them, emphasizing the importance of maintaining a high level of fitness and an image of one's self as an athlete.

"You need to be your own coach," she told them.

Hedley school stays open awhile

by Sue Alton

According to school officials the Hedley School will not be closing in the near future. It will be looked at on an annual basis so it is not "safe" yet, but the panic has died down.

This year's enrollment was 14 children under one teacher. So far 19 children have registered for the new school year in September 2000 and this number may grow if there are new residents.

More Keremeos Council news

by Sue Alton

It's too bad that the Fire Department Training Officer Doug McLeod, could not make the Village Council Meeting last week as now a decision to renew the lease on the land by the sewage treatment plant at the east end of the Village, has been deferred for the third time.

It is a hot issue for the community. The highly visible piece of property (at the bottom of the hilltop and east) is used for fire training practice which can involve the burning of toxic materials. At least once a year a vehicle would be burned and as Councillor Jeremy Evans (who excused himself from the voting as he is a Firefighter) admitted, "There's a lot of smoke during most of the practices," and this is not good for the neighbours.

Mayor Lee identified two concerns about the site location. The containers for burning and a dismantled car will look unattractive and the actual burning may be a nuisance to residents of the community.

"I'm not opposed to doing it - I just want to do it the right way," said Mayor Lee "We have to support the people of the town but I don't know, it's tough."

Councillor Jeff McMurray was much clearer about his decision not to support the renewal of the lease for this site although he knows the practice is mandatory and would like to help get that going. "I don't like it but am stuck for an answer. I am against it because of the appearance...I find it hard to believe that it has to be within village limits," deliberated McMurray.

Other sites have been considered, notably the new refuse site but it is too far out of town in the event of an emergency. The old refuse site is a possible underground fire hazard as Mayor Lee said, "We don't want a Burns Bog fire," which has been burning for two or more years.

In the end it was recommended that the neighbours around the site be surveyed for their feedback and Fire Training Officer Doug McLeod be invited to present to the next council meeting where he could field questions on the issue.

Work starts on schoolhouse - museum

by Anne Passey

On Monday, June 5, 2000, the ground was officially broken for the Tulameen Museum. The old schoolhouse that now sits at the back of the baseball field is being dismantled and rebuilt on the Community Club property where it will be turned into a museum. Wayne Passey, Vice President of the Community Club, and Tom Reichert, raised shovels for the concrete pad that the old log schoolhouse will sit on. The project is being undertaken as a labour of love by the Community Club. Financial assistance from the Provincial Government in the form of a Project 2000 grant is certainly helping, but as this grant only matches community money, the Community Club still needs to raise approximately $3800. Anyone who wishes to contribute $20 or more to the fund will have their name added to the plaque that will be on display in the museum.

Action Committee will meet with Minister

Councillor Kathy Clement advised Town Council at the June 5 meeting that the Save Our Hospital Action Committee has made arrangements to meet with Minister of Health Mike Farnworth on June 20 in Victoria to talk about the Princeton General Hospital situation and the citizens' concerns. She asked Councillors and Mayor Randy McLean to consider going with the group.

When the group meets with the Minister, Harry Lali will attend.

In the meantime, Councillor Clement asked for a letter from Council to Okanagan Similkameen Regional Health Board requesting a complete floor plan for Princeton General Hospital in the future and a definition of how the beds will be utilized.

$2 million puts health on video

Chris Mazurkewich, Finance Officer for OSHR, has a $2 million proposal called Telehealth which would link hospitals through video conferencing and x-ray transmission. The system would involve Pentiction Regional Hospital, South Okanagan Hospital, Princeton General Hospital and the Child Development Centre in Pentiction.

The proposal must be submitted to the federal government by June 30, and if approved, will require matching funding which will have to be raised within the health region.

Mazurkewich has presented the idea to Roger Mayer, Chair of Regional District. Mazurkewich says the system may attract medical people to rural areas.

Synergy Pacific wants local timber partnership

Synergy Pacific is looking for an enterprising partner in the Princeton area to produce laminated post and beam products. Frank Deiter, a Princeton resident, created a technique for making very strong, flexible laminated post and beam products from small diameter wood. Synergy Pacific has patented the process.

Mark Pickering and Craig Andrushko of Synergy Pacific have the backing of a $5 million company interested in competing in the value-added wood products market. The laminated products can be sized for the Japanese market in particular, and this type of product is sought after by Japanese builders. The company would direct its marketing away for the United States and would therefore avoid softwood tariff impacts.

"We're trying to do something with small timber," Pickering says.

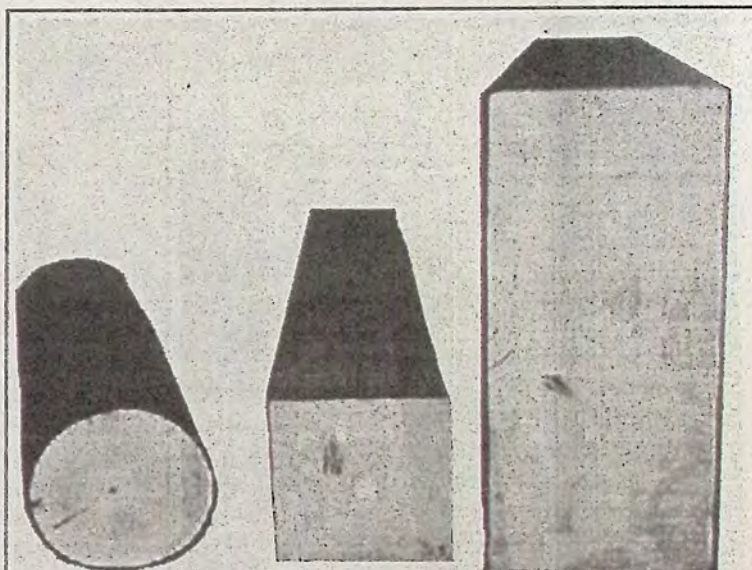

The Synergy Pacific product is composed of interlocking pieces that fit together like a Rubic cube. These are held together with glue. With this process, the company can control the exact size and strength, and can meet the customer's needs. These are "engineered" lumber products that sell for a high price compared with sawmill lumber.

The company controls production from logging to sales, and can thus customize production for each buyer.

Synergy Pacific wants a Princeton partner in order to obtain timber from Merritt Forest District. The company is working on a plant in Armstrong, B.C. and looking at a second and third plant, one of which would be in the Princeton area. Synergy

Pacific needs one million cubic metres of wood per year in order to expand the operation.

The small diameter timber at left is cut through the center in a pattern that allows it to be fitted together, glued, and turned into posts and beams, such as those at right. The grain of the wood can be monitored to go in one direction, giving the product a pleasing finish.

Give up flat circle ideas for Stonehenge

A documentary on television told about Stonehenge, that ancient circle of giant rocks in England. An archaeologist says it was a place of fertility rites where the shadow of the Heel Stone (phallic symbol) at sunrise on summer solstice penetrated the inner circle (womb).

I chuckled.

Culture predicts theory. Thousands of North Americans look at Stonehenge and see Medicine Wheel. The Heel Stone marked the eastern gate, as the Sacred Circle (Medicine Wheel) is entered from the east, the place of the rising sun. The east signifies birth and beginnings. In the endless fog of England, having a marker outside the circle was no doubt a benefit. Many medicine wheels incorporate a solstice marker, too, but they are not places for fertility rites!

"Medicine" in medicine wheel means "power". The ancient people of our continent marked these sacred sites with stone aligned in a circle (or a double circle of tall posts) Many are as old as Stonehenge, and they are places of spiritual power.

The circle is the visual symbol of what is not seen, and what is not seen is the spiral. Each journey around the circle brings a person to a higher level on the spiral. The spiral keeps time. Once around the circle can be a day, or a year, or a lifetime, depending on what the circle is measuring at the moment. In the life of a person, once around the circle may represent one lifetime. The meanings of the Sacred Circle are part of the teachings that Medicine Wheel People pass from generation to generation.

Those who have been to powwow have seen how the dancing begins with the ceremonial entry at the east, and the dancers move clockwise around the circle, spiralling closer to the center as more dancers enter the circle. The "on the ground" dance is the physical representation of ascending the spiral.

The spiral concept implies knowledge far more advanced and enlightened than mere "fertility rites." The spiral goes beyond the idea of a fertile Earth Mother penetrated by the energy of the Sun. The spiral leads to the realm of the Creator of everything. The spiral reaches beyond yesterday and today into eternity, and acknowledges there is no beginning and no end.

The circle on the ground is merely a springboard to the far more advanced concept - the spiral.

Within the Sacred Circle (spiral) we find coincidences (?) echoed in the universe. For example, DNA is arranged in a spiral in the cell nucleus. Solar systems move in a spiral. Energy moves in a spiral (when lightning strikes a tree, it spirals down the tree trunk, leaving a spiral scar). Great storms move in a spiral.

If we let go of our straight line and flat circle way of thinking, we see spirals everywhere in nature.

It was this advanced knowledge that has kept the power of the Medicine Wheel People. Strange as it may seem, for the past 7,000 years, they have believed in a Creator they could not see, and the medicine wheel is the bridge to the power of the Creator. Stonehenge may be the last monument of a truly civilized people who occupied England before the English!

Just for Laughs

A guy named Chris goes over to his friend's house, rings the bell, and the wife answers.
"Hi, is Tony home?"
"No, he went to the store."
"Well, you mind if I wait?"
"No, come in."
They sit down and the friend says "You know Nora, you have the greatest breasts I have ever seen. I'd give you a hundred bucks if I could just see one."
Nora thinks about this for a second and figures what the hell! A hundred bucks is a hundred bucks! She opens her robe and shows one. He promptly thanks her and throws a hundred bucks on the table.
They sit there a while longer and Chris says "They are so beautiful. I've got to see the both of them. I'll give you another hundred bucks if I could just see the both of them together."
Nora thinks about this and thinks what the hell, opens her robe, and gives Chris a nice long look.
Chris thanks her, throws another hundred bucks on the table, and then says he can't wait any longer and leaves.
A while later Tony arrives home and his wife says, "You know, our weird friend Chris came over."
Tony thinks about this for a second and says "Well did he drop off the 200 bucks he owes me?"

Horoscopes

June 13 to 20

ARIES - You are bothered by adverse news and information. You feel you are making progress until everything stalls on the weekend and you may have to cover ground you covered before.
TAURUS - Difficulties ease up this week. However, everything seems to be coming at you at once. You have your hands full. Push yourself to stay on top of things, it isn't going to ease up that much!
GEMINI - You are still in a turmoil about things that have been bothering you. If you have done a good job of looking inside yourself to identify problem areas, you win. Otherwise, you act from anger.
CANCER - Worries you kept hidden must come to the surface this weekend or you will make yourself sick. Nothing is achieved by worry, and if you do not know what action to take, consult somebody.
LEO - Behind the scenes activities occupy your time for the next few weeks, starting now. You may find yourself worried or secretly angry over something. You will be tempted to manipulate. Don't!
VIRGO - This is the last of a series of trying weeks. By the end of this week, you will feel better and things will run more smoothly. By the end of the month, blessings come your way. Keep your chin up.
LIBRA - Use this week to clear up any backlog of projects while things are still fairly smooth. The rest of the month is a humdinger! You will have more challenges than you know what to do with.
SCORPIO - This week continues the trend, but you can look forward to better times, starting this weekend. Partnership matters continue smooth but demanding of your time. Take care of business.
SAGITTARIUS - People talk to you a lot this week, giving you feedback on who you are and how you appear to others. Mid-week, you may want to take a second look at yourself for future action.
CAPRICORN - Home, property and family require attention this week. On the weekend, work with a partner will prove productive. Interaction with others speeds up for the rest of the month.
AQUARIUS - The weekend and next week are adverse for you, This is a good time to stick around home and make no grand plans for the immediate future. Something needs mending.

Beautiful Kane Valley hike

by Don Burbidge

Kane Valley is well-known as a cross country ski area in winter, and less well known as a wonderful set of hiking trails for use all summer long. In spring, the wealth of birds and flowers delights naturalists, as seven members of Vermilion Forks Field Naturalists, led by Linda Newman, discovered on May 28. The drive from Princeton north along the Merritt highway winds through scenes which used to grace the covers of the old Saturday Evening Post long ago. After the turn-off near Corbett Lake, the gravel road cuts through forest and grassland to some of the liveliest lakes in our area, well-populated with birds, flowers and fish.

The weather was typical for spring, with 15 minute intervals of bright warm sunshine followed abruptly by recurring periods of lowering clouds and a bitter cold wind. The trails around Harmon Lake and nearby ponds are full of life. The forest is a mixture of Douglas fir, Ponderosa pine, white spruce and lodgepole pine, with Fairy Slippers (smaller and more delicate relative to the Lady Slipper) in bloom, while in the aspen groves there were plenty of Chocolate Lilies, Old Man's Whiskers, Larkspur, Woodland Star and a few Yellow Bells. Birds sighted were the Steller's Jay, Great Blue Heron, Red-wing Blackbird, Yellow Warbler and an Easter Kingbird (rare in this area). We noted a couple of Osprey nests with parents in residence. We also watched a Black Tern settle on to her nest in the reeds, and a mother Loon guarding her eggs on an island out in a lake. A Barrow's Goldeneye marshalled a large brood of ducklings, newly hatched. The swallow brigade was out in force, with Tree, Violet Gree, and Barn Swallows scooping up insects over the water.

The group took a break at the campsite at Harmon Lake, and feasted on roasted wieners and buns. On the way home, some of the group had a good view of a huge female Moose, probably pregnant, munching water plants in a slough. We concluded that Kane Valley is a wonderful area to visit - but take your binoculars!

The evening session of the Naturalists is scheduled for Monday, June 12, in the Skills Centre, at 7:00 p.m., and will feature a slide presentation entitled 'Travels in Latin America' by Hans Schmidt. He will report on areas of outstanding beauty, such as Mexico's Copper Canyon. This awesome chasm rivals the US Grand Canyon, and Hans journeyed through it, camera in hand, in the 1970's, when it was virtually unknown. He will speak and show pictures of other natural regions of Central America.

John Belz will lead the next field trip up China Ridge on June 24 at 11:00 a.m., and another shorter stroll beginning at 2:00 p.m. Both hikes will be followed by a Solstice Celebration and potluck dinner, beginning between 5:00 and 6:00 p.m. Phone Lynn at 295-3032 to say you are coming on one of the hikes and/or attending the celebration. Meet at their home on Snowpatch Road.

Free help for firearms owners

If you own firearms, you need a license by the end of this year. You will have to show this license or a valid FAC to buy ammunition. You can obtain help with your application at Penticton Cherry Lane Mall from June 15 to the end of the summer.

A team of trained individuals will answer questions, assist with completing the application form and take the photo required for obtaining the license.

You can obtain a license application form at your post office or by calling 1-800-731-4000.

This firearm License assistance, launched by the Canadian Firearms Centre, consists of travelling teams of trained individuals. Their assistance cuts down processing time.

Personal licensing should not be confused with the registration of firearms. The Firearms Act has two main requirements: personal licensing is one and registration of firearms is another. The deadline for registration of firearms is not until December 2002 while the licensing deadline is only months away.

Al Lay is named for service

Conservation Officer Al Lay has been listed province-wide as an example of a dedicated public servant as part of BC Public Service Week. Lay seemed to find the whole thing embarrassing, but agreed to an interview and photo for the News Leader.

Al Lay's father, Jack, and two brothers, have worked in conservation duties. Their combined service totals 77 years.

The Lay family has been in Princeton a number of years, beginning with Jack Lay's daughter and her family, who owned Bromley Ridge Antiques. Then Jack retired, and he and Elaine moved to Princeton. Finally, Al and his family moved here.

Al Lay loves the outdoors, and he enjoys working with local groups dedicated to conservation and environmental improvement.

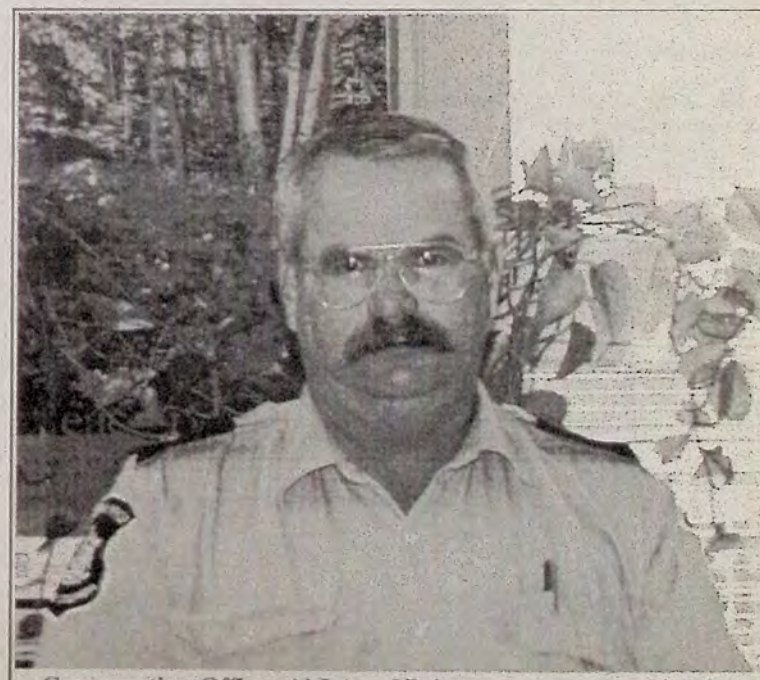

RCMP talk to Tulameen

by Anne Passey

RCMP attended the June 1 monthly meeting of Tulameen Community Club, members were assured the RCMP would be out in full force for the Tulameen Family Fun Days celebration on the BC Day long weekend. This year we can expect once again a strong police presence and a "zero tolerance" policy.

Citizens concerned about vandalism and other minor infractions of the law were assured that Tulameen must be a very quiet community because there were very few complaints as compared to other communities in the area.

The subject of Neighbourhood Watch was discussed and it was suggested by Constable Chris Newell that perhaps a Rural Crime Watch might work better in the Community, due to the "spread out" rural atmosphere. This was accepted by the members of the club, who will try to have Rural Crime Watch organized and in place by Tulameen Family Fun Days.

Conservation Officer Al Lay, of Princeton, was named by the Ministry of Environment, Lands and Parks as an example of a dedicated provincial public servant for Public Service Week.

Nothing stops Brakemen!

These days you will not find the Kettle Valley Brakemen (KVB) entertaining passengers waiting for the steam train in Summerland or serenading cyclists trekking along the Kettle Valley Line. Fortunately for us, they can still be seen and heard at community concerts such as the concert sponsored recently by Princeton Concert Society at the Baptist Church of Princeton.

The valuable, crucial role played by railways in the early development of our province is well-known. Fur traders were followed by gold seekers, then by coal miners, with trains forming a vital link in moving people and commodities. Brakemen storyteller Jack Godwin soon had the audience in the palm of his hand with tales such as "Rattlesnake Rain", the story of a blasting operation gone awry, blowing up a giant rattlesnake nest, resulting in annoyed rattlesnakes raining down on the heads of men laying track.

There was the sad story of the "Jessica Wreck." The train began to run away and when the air brakes were applied, there was no air, and the train jumped the rails. There was only one survivor, who would not talk about what happened.

One of the unique features of a Brakemen concert which appeals to a wide range of people is the way the historical events lead into fast-paced, lively, entertaining railway songs in which harmonious voices blend with music of harmonica, guitar, resophonic guitar, bass and piano.

Princeton was promised a bluegrass/folk musical extravaganza with painless history lessons, but the variety of pace and mood did not stop there. "Brakemen Boogie" showcased the jazz piano skills of Keely Kidner.

"Salvation Train" was a gospel tune based on a true incident. Many citizens of Fernie were saved from the horrific fire of 1908 by the bravery of an engineer.

Princeton Concert Society was grateful to have Jack and Keely and fellow singers and musicians Don Grant, Jamie Marshall and Jeff Queen for coming to Princeton on May 25 and inviting everyone to take part in the festivities.

From the time KVB came on stage in their traditional railroad caps and overalls and welcomed us with a rousing chorus, spontaneous applause could frequently be heard throughout the hall, clear evidence that everyone was having a very good time. The audience was reluctant to accept the farewell encore.

The Concert Society was please to support the "Piano for Princeton Fund." Three piano keys were purchased during the interval at the Brakemen concert, and refreshment sales netted another $56 for the fund. For further details about the fund, call Ernie Lawrence at 295-6826 or Karen Smart at 295-3909.

POINTS OF VIEW

OUR VIEW

We need to check out this world trade outfit

The World Trade Organization (WTO) is questioning the Canada-U.S. Auto Pact Agreement made many, many years ago. WTO may consider the Pact outside other agreements on trade and therefore would challenge its legality.

This sort of thing is exactly why people protested WTO in Seattle last fall. WTO appears to be dedicated to dismantling all kinds of agreements. For Canada, WTO has a hidden agenda of opposing, or challenging, Canada's medicare system, educational system and public pension system. You might ask why, and what impact these challenges will have.

One of our problems is that we do not know enough about who is involved in WTO and just what is on that hidden agenda. We really need to know who these people are and what their goals are, because they seem to have too much power. When any organization begins dictating to a nation's government what the citizens of that nation should have as social benefits, then it has far too much power. It assumes a power over and above the legally elected government of the nation.

The original concept we heard about was "level playing field." If that is what WTO wants, then let it tell other nations to bring their social benefits up to our standards, not challenge our right to enjoy our benefits.

However, when it comes to WTO, we have to ask ourselves who stands to make a profit. That is our first clue. Maybe the withdrawal of federal health money is just part of a hidden agenda, one Mr. Klein seems intent on following. Who is pulling the strings in the new international puppet show? Who knows what threats or promises are made behind closed doors? One thing is sure: there has to be some kind of gain behind the motive, or WTO would not bother.

Trails group objects to Council's action

Dear Editor;

We are the Vermilion Trails Society and we have a stewardship agreement with BC Lands to develop the Trans Canada Trail on the KVR right of way between Brookmere and Osprey Lake, Crown Land owned by the people of B.C. Our objective is to develop a trail greenway to be proud of and attract visitors to spend time in our area. We have funding available to us from the provincial government to provide a benefit to the people of B.C.

In developing the trail, we chose to involve the communities. We asked for their input and preferences, not bureaucratic control. We included Town Council, the Heritage Committee, community clubs, ratepayer associations, local businesses, general public, etc. and held a town meeting to review needs and concerns. Twenty people showed up including the town clerk and the mayor. We have communicated our efforts through Town Office as projects were planned. We have offered a director position on our board to Town Council, which they have chosen not to use. Now we find Council is making decisions without attending meetings or even asking for information needed to make them.

In partnership with LUCO (land use coordination office of B.C.), the Town of Princeton, and Vermilion Trails Society, a consultant was hired to give us the expertise needed to plan for trail development within Town boundaries, including provision for parking, green space, trail building and beautification. The consultant is approximately one-third completed and is preparing to present his findings from the first public meeting. The choices presented by the professional planner were two extremes, Option A being mainly blacktop and Option B being mainly green space. The next step in the planning process is to formulate and finalize a plan "C", taking into consideration all concerns. Council has interfered, halted the proper planning process, and wants to reverse the progress made so far. Due process would take everyone's needs and desires into consideration (business and community), formulate our long term goals, and present a plan that would provide something for everyone. Council obviously does not see the value in long term planning for our community. In addition, Council signed an agreement with LUCO to fund the consultant cost which stated clearly that no decisions will be made without the input and approval of LUCO. This puts the Town in breach of their contract. What are they thinking?

Should three businesses make decisions for the Town? What do other merchants and businesses think? Where is everybody? Does Princeton not want the trail? Perhaps we should forget about diversification and just wait for the mine to reopen.

The land being used for access and parking is not our land to use. It is Crown Land that was purchased by the Crown for recreational use.

On a brighter note, one business owner who has land near the railbed offered to donate its use for TCT parking, someone who wants to help out and is making an astute business decision. Several businesses have donated time and materials for the achievements so far and for that we are grateful.

Vermilion Trails Society meets the third Wednesday of every month, 7:00 p.m. in Princeton Light and Power board room. We welcome your input.

John Byatt,
President VTS

More Trail objections

Dear Editor;

The motion Council passed last week adopting Plan A of the Trans Canada Trail planning study is both surprising and disappointing. It is surprising that a Council would pass such a motion well before the study was even complete and with such an obvious lack of information. Did Council not read the LUCO contract which provided the funding for the study which stipulated that they consult with other specific groups before making approvals of this sort? Was Council not aware that they did not have authority to make that type of decision over the Crown lands which comprise the Trans Canada Trail?

It is particularly disappointing that Council did not consult with any of the many individuals and groups who have donated equipment, material and have volunteered thousands of hours' time in their efforts to make the trail all it can be and to maximize the

Hart takes PGH to House of Commons

Ottawa - Princeton General Hospital was an issue raised twice in the House of Commons on June 7. Jim Hart, Member of Parliament for Okanagan-Coquihalla, stood in the House of Commons to express the concerns of his constituents regarding the state of Canada's health care system.

Hart said, "Recently, the people of Princeton were told they would be losing eight acute care beds at Princeton General Hospital. That's a 45 per cent reduction, while demand is increasing."

On May 29, Hart had denounced the decision to close any acute care beds, saying it would have a tremendous negative impact on the current and future delivery of health care services to many of his constituents. Hart then wrote to provincial Health Minister, Mike Farnworth, requesting that he instruct his staff to do all it can to prevent these closures from happening. In a subsequent letter to Allan Rock, Hart reminded the federal Health Minister of his government's promise in 1993 to maintain a high level of health care spending for all Canadians.

On June 7, Hart told the House of Commons. "The crisis facing the hospital is clearly the result of a health care system reeling from the $21 billion in federal Liberal government cuts since 1993. The Liberal government's token effort in the budget to increase funding over five years is only a fraction of what is needed."

Hart was referring to the Liberal's promise in February's budget to transfer $12.5 billion over the next five years. Hart notes that, at the same time, by the year 2004, the federal government will have starved the provinces of $35 billion.

"It's time the Liberals stopped playing with the health and welfare of Canadians and restore full funding to the health care system," Hart concluded.

On June 8, following the demonstration in Kelowna by concerned local citizens, Hart spoke with the News Leader about the hospital situation, saying he disagreed with any closures, and put the blame squarely on the federal government cutbacks.

He recognized the trend of moving surgical and other patients from Princeton to Penticton or Kelowna simply puts more pressure on hospital facilities in those communities, and they do not want that pressure.

"I receive many letters from Princeton residents, and most of them are concerns about bed closures in Princeton," Hart told the News Leader.

He promised to keep working on the problem in Ottawa.

Lending laws change

Victoria - Attorney General Andrew Petter announced new B.C. law providing greater protection for people who borrow money or make purchases on credit or by lease. The Cost of Consumer Credit Disclosure Act will require lenders to disclose all fees they charge when they lend money or grant credit in other ways.

Most people pay attention only to the interest rate when they take out a loan like a mortgage, but there are often added administrative, transaction and other fees charged by lenders that boost the total cost of borrowing.

When the act comes into force, all credit grantors will be required to disclose the total cost of credit associated with consumer loans - in other words, the total of all interest and non-interest charges. This figure must be disclosed in dollar terms as well as in annual percentage rate.

The act applies to all consumer loans, meaning loans to individuals primarily for personal, family or household purposes. This includes credit sales and leasing consumer goods. The act does not apply to business loans or to residential tenancy leases.

The act will come into effect as soon as the regulations are drawn up and approved.

Farewell to friends

Dear Editor:

In 1989, I became Secretary Manager of The Royal Canadian Legion. In that instant, I inherited a family. During the following 10 years that I worked in the Legion Office, I became very close to that "family."

Sadly, over the years we have lost many of those dear friends. Bert Taylor, who tried as he may, failed to teach me to swab the deck in the Legion Hall, as we cleaned for many a function. Rudy Kozak, who told tales of his early days as Postmaster, and supervised many renovations in the Legion Lounge. Syd Atkinson, who ventured down for coffee in the mornings to see if any help was needed, and most times had to be called back to get Penny (his faithful friend). My dear friend Bill Kelly, who served as our Padre, Mr. Fix-It, and who was seen every year on Remembrance Day doing our ceremonies.

Mel Turner, always with a smile and the greatest dance partner! And our Mrs. Smith, always there, whether it be cleaning, attending meetings, serving on the Executive, or doing our weekly Meat Draw. I can still hear her say "Are everyone's tickets in the bucket?" and "Thank you very much, ladies and gentlemen."

I will miss her greatly, as I do everyone who has gone before her. And to the rest, you are always in my thoughts. Take care. Linda Henderson.

Heart Food

by Dave Machin

The thing that sets man apart from any other creature is our will. We are sovereign over our own lives just as God is. To be sovereign is to be "independent of all else." If you are a sovereign dictator, you rule like you want to, you are not required to pay heed to anyone else. If you have a sovereign will, you choose for yourself, you go where you want to go, do what you want to do, think what you want to think. No one is in control of your life except you. God is not in control of your life. If He was, you would simply be a robot or a puppet waiting for God to pull your string. But that is not what's happening. You have a will. In Deuteronomy 30:19 it says "I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I (God) have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing, therefore choose life that both you and your seed may live." God does not decide whether you are blessed or cursed, YOU do. The Bible says that your will is so powerful that you can spend eternity in hell if you choose to and He won't stop you. If you choose to disregard God and live separate from Him, He will protect your right to do so. The most powerful tool that God has given you in the "natural" realm is your will. He says "I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing..... You choose." You need to realize that everything in our natural realm falls under one of these two categories, life or death. Is a blessing life or death? Is sickness life or death? Is health life or death? Is poverty life or death? Is religion life or death? Everything you do is involved with one of these two things and you get to make the choice. God is life. God created life. He suggests you choose life but the final choice is YOURS. Thank God for His mercy. Thank God that when we choose the wrong thing and realize it, all we have to do is ask His forgiveness and He will help us because His mercy endures forever. God is good all the time.

Sheila Doughty displays the Team Canada jacket she wore to Berlin when she competed in the international tap dancing competitions.

She went to Berlin for Canada

Oakville resident Sheila Doughty visited Princeton for two weeks for a vacation with her daughter. She is well-known in Oakville as part of the tap dancing team of seniors who went to Berlin to represent Canada in the international tap dancing competitions in December, 1999.

This was the first time seniors were part of the competitions, but they participated last year as it was the International Year of Older Persons. Seniors will now be part of the program every year. The Canadian team took the fifth place trophy for the large group (12) and third place for the smaller group of three dancers.

Sheila says she had "a wonderful time" in Berlin. Berliners could not believe the Canadians had travelled so far to a dance competition. Spending a week in Germany just before Christmas was great, because of the beautiful decorations, craft fairs and the outstanding cakes for which Germans are famous.

At age 72, this six-year member of Oakville Happy Tappers keeps in shape for dancing by weight-lifting and aerobics. She and husband Norm do ballroom dancing and line dancing at seniors' centres. She has been belly dancing for the past year and is currently practising a Celtic type of clogging, as well as doing Scottish country dancing.

When not dancing, Sheila might be roller skating and has competed internationally in the U.S.A. for a number of years. Six years ago, she competed in New Zealand in the Masters (age 35 and up) and won the Bronze Medal.

Memorial Park gains scoreboard

Princeton - The old scoreboard from the arena will go into service at Memorial Park for softball games. Town Council decided at the June 5 meeting to pay the $700 cost of mounting the scoreboard at the park.

Lions plan west end park

Princeton Lions Club members attended the June 6 meeting of Town Council to ask permission to install a basketball court and slide at the park on Auburn Crescent. They received approval after Council ascertained the basketball hoop would be placed at the north end of the playground.

Mayor Randy McLean suggested Lions consider a skateboard park for the future, as a letter was sent to Council suggesting a skateboard, rollerblade area and mountain bike area would be a good thing for the youth of the community. Youngsters riding their bikes down the hill back of the bowling alley were jumping the bikes onto a street and proving to be a hazard. Logs are to be placed around the edge of the bowling alley parking lot to prevent this activity. Mayor McLean thanked the Lions for all they do for the community.

Two plead guilty

William Macey Macdonald and James Ira Melnychuk appeared in Provincial Court in Princeton on June 8 to plead guilty to charges of uttering threats to Kerwin Morton.

Melnchuk had an additional charge of driving while prohibited.

Macdonald had additional charges of possession of a restricted weapon without a permit (a .357 magnum handgun) and unsafe storage of that firearm.

Macdonald has no criminal record. His lawyer requested a pre-sentence report and an electronic monitoring report, which Judge Grannary granted. Macdonald will be sentenced in Penticton on September 25.

Melnchuk's lawyer requested a pre-sentence report and an electronic monitoring report. Melnychuk has a criminal record. He will be sentenced in Princeton on September 28.

APPRECIATION

Surgery and a stay in the hospital is not something that any of us looks forward to, but when it's necessary I can't imagine a better place to be than Princeton General Hospital. Originally, when surgery was discussed, I was given the option of having it done in Penticton or if necessary Vancouver. I asked to have the surgery done in Princeton. I didn't want to be in a strange hospital filled with strange faces, and I wanted to be close to my family and friends.

A very special thank you to Dr David Reid, Dr. Douglas Reid and Dr. Mick Whittle. I couldn't have asked for a better team of doctors. Thank you to all the nurses and hospital staff for doing your best to keep me comfortable during a very busy time at the hospital (every bed was occupied).

Thank you to all who visited, sent cards and flowers, and for all the good wishes & phone calls.

Thanks to Patti Harrower and Dad for filling in for me at the office, and to Mom for taking on extra work to cover for me.

Thanks to Mom and Dad for just always being there for me and a special thank you to my daughter Sarah who has taken over all of the household duties & nursing duties, and still manages to go to school, stay in the running for Youth Ambassador and hold down a part-time job, you're amazing! Don't let uninvited guests spoil summer

by Linda Danallanko, Public Health Nurse, OSHR

Summer fun includes picnics, fast foods, salads, barbecues. Our need for rest, relaxation, and fun can create a climate of complacency when it comes to maintaining safe food standards. Bacteria, such as salmonella and E-coli may then be uninvited guests at your picnic or barbecue.

- To avoid uninvited guests:
- * pack food from the refrigerator directly into insulated containers (ice packs) Juice boxes, frozen overnight, make good ice packs.
 - * bring along wet soapy cloths to wash your hands before eating
 - * wash fruits and vegetables before leaving home

- * wipe lids in advance if you plan to eat or drink straight from the can
- Recognize public enemies:
- * wash hands with soap and hot water before handling food, during its preparation, and after
- * protect cuts, burns and scrapes with waterproof bandages
- * use a separate tasting spoon because saliva carries bacteria

* cover your mouth with your hands when you sneeze or cough, then wash your hands and use a different towel from the one used for drying dishes and wiping counter tops.

For further information about food safety call 770-3434 or visit us and ask for these Health Files at the Health Unit: Hamburger Disease, Raw Milk - A Risk to Public Health, Unpasteurized Fruit Juices: A Potential Health Risk, Home Canning - How to Avoid Botulism, Salmonellosis, Ten Steps to Safe Food.

Have a great summer - and keep those uninvited guests away!

Thief steals pictograph

Sometime during the past three weeks, a person or persons removed a pictograph from a rock face located 12 km. west of the Highway 3 access to Old Hedley Road. The activity of removing the pictograph would have been fairly obvious to anyone passing by and RCMP are hoping somebody remembers this activity.

The pictographs have no sale value, as removing these historic artifacts is a criminal offence and anyone participating in the theft, sale or purchase of the pictograph would be equally involved in the crime.

Anyone who has information pertaining to this crime is asked to call Princeton RCMP at (250) 295-6911.

Blakeburn bunch will be here again

On July 1, that happy group of former Blakeburn residents will once again re-unite in Princeton to enjoy catching up on the news and visiting with old friends.

Anyone wishing to join the group should contact Dorothy Mangano, 1656 Crescent View, Nanaimo, V9S 2N4.

The banquet will be held at the Elks Hall, and visits to Coalmont and Blakeburn are up to individuals.

Hospital Auxiliary members Cathie Orser (left) and Margaret Trehearne present a $1,000 cheque to Nick Goreas, President of Princeton Highway Rescue Society. Auxiliary members believe the Rescue truck is essential to local health care even though it is not funded by government. The donation will go toward the purchase of a new truck ($65,000). The Rescue Society volunteer members work hard to raise money for equipment and a new truck, and appreciate donations made by groups such as Princeton Rodeo Club when the crew serves as First Aid for an event. The Auxiliary also donated $300 to Ridgewood Lodge for outings for the residents.

Old church is newer now

by Sue Alton

Volunteers worked through the day putting a new metal roof on the old (1914) St. John's Anglican Church which is now leased by the Hedley Heritage Museum Society from The Anglican Church of Canada.

Bill Clarke, Trevor Wright, James Unger, Bob Bishop, Gerry Wilkin, Chuck Schmidt, Randy Lee and Bob Palmetier were successful in putting the roof on before the rains came. The next step is to paint the outside of the church, then refinish the interior. When all the work is complete, it will be a new tourist attraction and open to viewing by the public.

Hedley Museum Society expressed their appreciation for all the volunteer work done on the church including the garden.

The Kentucky Headhunters will perform at the Merritt Mountain Music Festival.

Kentucky HeadHunters

Fred Young, Richard Young, Greg Martin and Anthony Kenney make Kentucky Head-Hunters a family affair: two brothers and two cousins, all from Kentucky. They are featured performers at the Merritt Mountain Music Festival this summer, and they are famous for being unpredictable. Nobody is ever sure just what they will do with music.

The HeadHunters turned the music world upside down with Pickin' On Nashville, a record so visionary it became the model for the country boom of the 1990s. Greg Martin jokes, "We're like a hillbilly Beach Boys." Kentucky HeadHunters started more than 13 years ago. They made their own music, stemming from their roots in Kentucky and reflecting the history of the people and the music of their life in Kentucky. They write their own songs and music. On their extensive list of songs is See Rock City, Cowboy Best, Neck of the Woods, Running Water, Kentucky Wildcat, and Mr. Know It All.

Their newest album is Stompin' Grounds, filled with songs they describe as a rediscovery of who they are.

The audience at Merritt Mountain Music Festival will have an opportunity to discover or rediscover the Kentucky HeadHunters.

The cemetery was the scene of a logging operation last Saturday morning. Unsafe trees were removed from the cemetery, and the logging upset several local people until they understood the trees were rotten at the core.
