New wildlife rules take effect in September

Victoria - New wildlife permit regulations to aid conservation will be in place effective September 1. The changes, announced July 7, are the first regulations changes since 1982.

Wildlife permits are issued for the import and export of wildlife, the capture and possession of live wildlife and the possession for personal use of dead wildlife or animal parts not taken under a hunting licence. Approximately 4,500 permits a year are issued under the Wildlife Act.

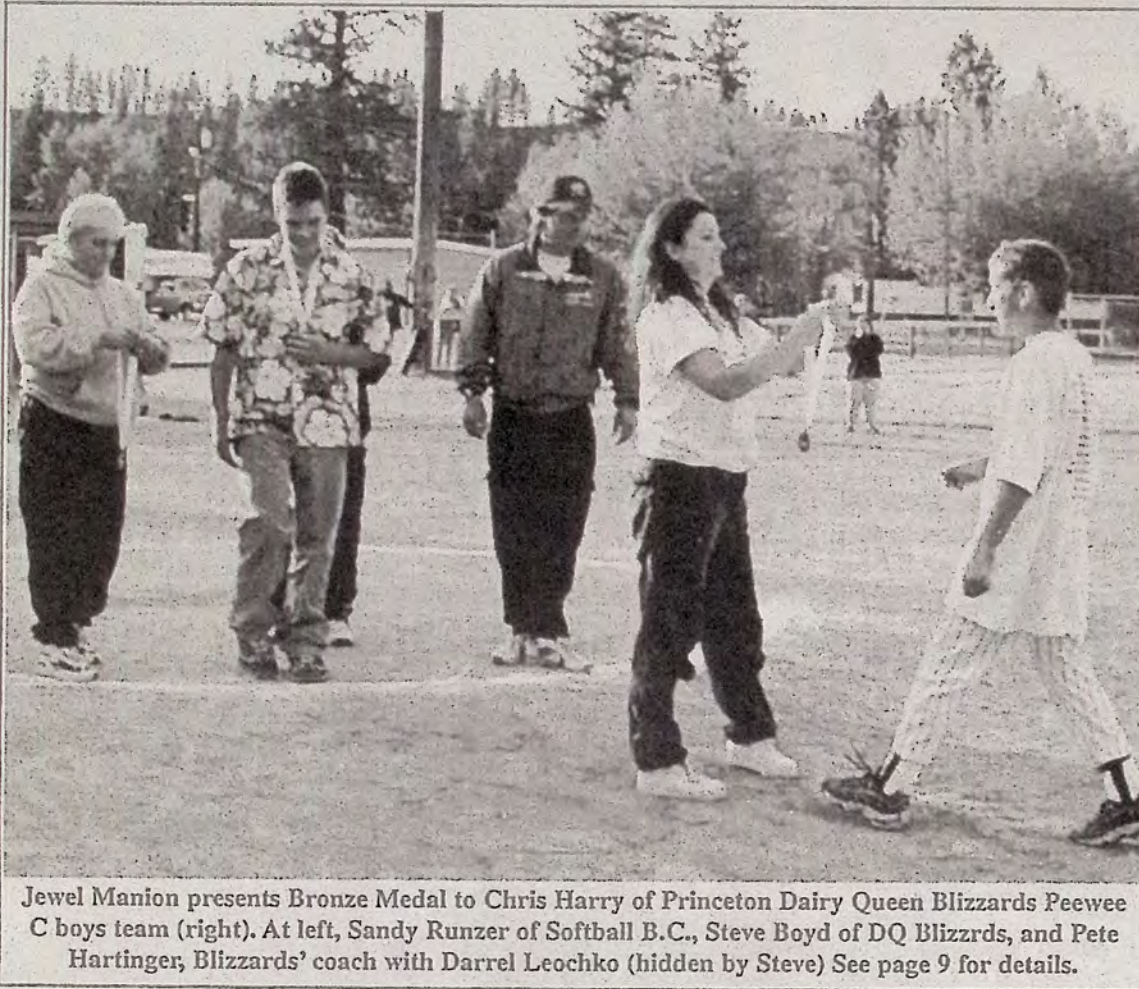

A new 20 per cent surcharge on wildlife permit fees will allow the Habitat Conservation Trust Fund to support more projects that protect, restore and enhance fish and wildlife populations and habitats throughout B.C.

Anglers and hunters contribute to conservation through Habitat Conservation Trust Fund surcharges on hunting and fishing licences. By adding surcharges to wildlife permits, all users of wildlife will help with conservation. Most fees for permits will not change. Regular permits will be subject to a minimum $5.00 surcharge, while commercial permits will have a minimum $30 surcharge.

Free permits will be issued to disabled people to hunt and shoot from a motor vehicle.

No permit will be needed by a food bank in order to accept illegally taken wildlife.

Ownership permits will be issued for dead wildlife and animal parts not taken under a hunting licence.

Princeton - Town Council's answer to a petition for a four-way stop at the corner of Bridge Street and Kenley Avenue was to encourage RCMP to issue traffic tickets to people parked on the yellow line. Councillor Dan Sulentic opposed the four-way stop on the basis of the cost of installing two more traffic signs, and complaints of local citizens that would follow when Bridge Street was no longer a "through" street.

Princeton Rodeo Club hosts finals in B.C. team roping

Princeton Rodeo Club will host the B.C. Team Roping Finals on September 15, 16 and 17 at Princeton fair grounds. This is the weekend after the Fall Fair. The club expects 200 to 250 ropers to come to Princeton for the finals, which should be a great boost for local businesses, as most will bring their families.

On August 19 and 20, Princeton Rodeo Club will host a qualifying team roping event. Winners from this event will qualify for the finals.

Spectators are welcome at both events. There is no admission charge for either. The concession will be open for the weekend.

Weyerhaeuser marks 100 years

Princeton - On Sunday, at Princeton Plaza, a mobile display unit was set up for public access, to see the history of Weyerhaeuser. A large transport trailer welcomed hundreds of visitors with a variety of displays on Weyerhaeuser's history, products, operations in various locations, and the principles that guide the company.

Weyerhaeuser is celebrating the 100-year anniversary of the founding of Weyerhaeuser Company. During the Twentieth Century, it grew from a small office in Tacoma having three employees to an international forest products company employing 45,000 people.

Weyerhaeuser arrived in Princeton with the purchase of the local sawmill from Northwood Mills in 1978. Princeton joined a network of Weyerhaeuser operations that includes sawmills and pulp milling in B.C., the prairies, Ontario and U.S.A..

Weyerhaeuser contracts logging, tree planting, and other services such as trucking, and directly employs sawmill workers in a modern, upgraded mill. Since Weyerhaeuser purchased the mill, employees have seen many changes in the operation, with emphasis on computerized operations. New, more efficient yard equipment and log handling upgrading has cost millions of dollars, and has improved the overall productivity of the plant, allowing it to remain competitive in a highly competitive market. Princeton Town water does not require boiling

Rumours have been circulating saying Town of Princeton water requires boiling due to contamination. This is completely false.

Councillor Dan Sulentic says he does not know how this rumour was started, but suspects people have heard the Health Region warnings about the water in Oliver.

The Town of Princeton water supply is tested by B.C. Public Health authorities, at the Town's expense, three times a week.

Due to the deaths in Walkerton, Ontario, Public Health authorities in Okanagan Similkameen Health Region decided to step up water testing from once a week to three times a week to prevent anything similar to Walkerton from occurring in our Health Region. Princeton has passed every test to date.

A "boil water" directive has not been issued for Town of Princeton residents. Councillor Sulentic says the water is fine.

Police officers take bike training

Princeton - Recently, three regular members of Princeton RCMP, along with three auxiliary members, took the police mountain bike training course. The course, conducted here in Princeton, covered such things as bike safety, police tactics, riding in traffic, slow speed skills, obstacles and bike maintenance. During the course, candidates learned how to use the police mountain bike effectively in a variety of situations such as vehicle stops, approaching suspects and dealing with persons that may have a weapon. The members also covered aspects that can be passed on to citizens of the community and school students, which included aspects of the Motor Vehicle Act pertaining to bicycles and helmet fit and adjustment. As part of the course, students evaluated how their increased heart rate might affect their shooting. The officers rode a short course that increased their heart rate, then went through shooting course. Obstacles in the course included anything the officer might encounter while on patrol, including curbs, stairs and steep hills.

Three officers, Cst. Darren Kakuno, Cst. Mike Fox and Auxiliary Cst. Mike Neilson successfully completed all aspects of the course. Cst. Steve Barton, and Auxiliary Csts. Brian Hurd and Russ Biagioni were unable to complete all the required components due to scheduling conflicts, and were given the opportunity to successfully complete the course at a later date.

The course instructor was Cst. Chris Newell of Princeton RCMP, who is a certified Police Mountain Bike Instructor and a Canbike II Instructor. The shooting portion of the course was done by Cst. Ray Kinloch, formerly of Princeton.

Cst. Newell expressed his appreciation for Jim Stolth, of Back Roads Bike Shop, for his continued support and contribution to the bike patrol.

Traffic tickets from front page...

"Pedestrians should be educated in this town."

He went on to refer to people who casually step off the curb without considering vehicles and traffic rules.

Marcy Leduc, Neyda Munro and Barb Zieske, students of the Home Support Program, presented the petition, saying they had seen a need for a four-way stop at the intersection by the Post Office to give a more orderly flow of traffic at this busy intersection. Their primary concern is the safety of pedestrians attempting to cross at the intersection where Kenley Avenue and Veterans Avenue join Bridge Street.

They had monitored another problem for one hour, and saw 16 vehicles illegally parked on the yellow line in front of the Post Office, blocking the view of those drivers on Kenley Avenue of oncoming traffic on Bridge Street.

Council's recommendation was that local general duty RCMP officers should watch for the illegal parking and ticket offenders.

Deputy Mayor Kathy Clement said this had been part of discussions with local RCMP, but it was "not high on their priority list." The delegation was given a letter from Princeton RCMP detachment to Council confirming her statement.

Councillor Sulentic said people would stop the illegal parking if they were ticketed.

The delegation then asked for a flashing pedestrian light for the intersection, and Councillor Sulentic said he would look into the cost.

Toastmasters take summer break

Princeton - Here is a question for Princeton residents Dave Brown, Carl Stenvold, Laurie Currie and Dean Stinson: do you recall a raw March day in 1975, when the newly-organized Princeton Toastmasters Club received its charter during a noon meeting in a Bridge Street restaurant?

You can be proud you laid a strong foundation that day, because the club has just reached its 25-year mark. Over the course of those years, the membership list has changed many times but almost all who join, even for a short time, gain confidence in their ability to speak convincingly. There are a few who are emphatic in giving credit to the Toastmasters program for helping them confront serious negotiations and end up winning.

At a recent meeting, when it was Don Darel's turn to propose a toast, he honoured Maggie and Dick Trehearne for their long-time commitment to the local club and for the encouragement they give younger members.

At the final meeting of the spring season, President Gordon Craigie was the recipient of two awards in appreciation of his chairmanship, a plaque presented by Maggie Trehearne and a pin presented by Sue Steele.

Gordon modestly pointed out that a president does not make the club, it is the participation of the Museum nears completion

Princeton - Princeton Museum Society is taking a summer break, but do not be fooled by the fact their last meeting was June 13. The museum will be open. Summer hours apply from June 27 to September 4, daily, from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Society members are hopeful the new wing will be open by mid-summer. The task of moving the fossils from the Pollard basement to the Pollard Wing is phenomenal, but members will attack the job as soon as the new wing is complete.

members and their loyal support of club activities that keep it strong.

Jeanette Craigie was cited for giving one of the funniest speeches of the year, and David Badger was credited by more than one member for presenting the most dramatic speech - about a shipwreck on Canada's east coast.

Club members enjoy each other's company and do all they can to help members grow and improve. They feel they have a happy club of enthusiastic members. Meetings resume in September.

LSIB receives Joint Venture grant

Keremeos - Lower Similkameen Indian Band (LSIB) has been granted $7,500 under the partnership between Forest Renewal BC and the Canadian Forest Service. The partnership was formed to help First Nations communities develop their forest-related economies.

Band manager Dixon Terbasket was pleased to learn of the grant. It is for the Ashnola Watershed Co-management Agreement, which the Band has been working toward for years. Terbasket says the money will be used to develop and work toward co-management of the resources in the Ashnola Corridor. LSIB will have input into all the resources of the Ashnola watershed when the Co-management Agreement is completed.

"This brings us to another level of planning," Terbasket commented.

LSIB looks at the Ashnola watershed as a resource base from what Terbasket calls "a sustainable perspective" but the Ashnola watershed has a heritage significance as well. The Similkameen Indian Bands have a long history of activity in the Ashnola watershed and have worked for twenty years to have a say in how the forest resources are used.

Terbasket points out the economic significance of the forest, and the number of jobs that leave the valley under current management practices. The resource is significant not only to Indian Bands, but to all of the people living in the Similkameen Valley.

The $7,500 grant to LSIB is one of the smallest grants given to First Nations people in B.C. Forest Renewal is investing $91,550 in the federal First Nations Forestry Program, funding nine projects. Only 12 per cent of the people employed through Forest Renewal funding are aboriginal people.

OAPO tackles health issue

One hundred three voting delegates, six proxies, twelve Board members and 34 visitors registered at 3:00 p.m. June 19 in the Sorrento, B.C. Old Age Pensioners Organization hall. They were hosted to a delightful wine and cheese reception later the same evening.

The following morning, the convention convened where 50 resolutions were presented and voted on. The bulk of the resolutions dealt with concerns for our failing health care system, immigration, World Trade Organization and improvement of assistance payments and further income tax benefits for all seniors. That evening we enjoyed a wonderful dinner followed by some lively entertainment.

Sessions resumed the following morning and business was completed by early afternoon. President Wil Holland remains in office to complete his two year term, First Vice-President Ernest Martin was elected for a two year term and Ted Pearson remained in office by acclamation.

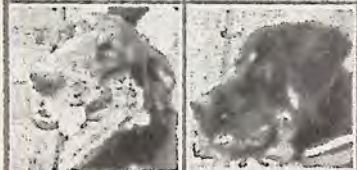

Convention 2001 will convene in Lake Cowichan.

BC SPCA ADOPT A PET

Hi! I am Bailey! I am a neutered male lab / doberman cross. I am 10 months old. I have lots of energy and would need a big yard with a tall fence because I love to jump.

My name is Hobe! I am a big neutered male great dane / lab cross. I am three years old and would love to find a home. I was originally a stray and would need a fenced yard.

Hi! My name is Rags! I am a neutered male pointer cross. I am a year old and love to play. I get along well with cats and would make a great family pet.

Hi! My name is Ghazal! I am an eight month old male shepherd cross. I am a beautiful dog and very friendly. I get along well with other dogs and know my basic commands.

Hi! My name is Patches. I am a beautiful neutered male domestic shorthair. I am two years old. I am fully leash trained and quickly adjust to new situations. I am used to being an indoor pet.

Hi! My name is Tessa. I am a spayed female longhair cat. I am three years old. I love people and love to be groomed. Please come and take a look at me here at the SPCA!

Ron Bilodeau, shown here on Year 2000 Similkameen Cup winner, is no stranger to the Similkameen Cup winner's circle. In fact, Ron is no stranger to the Similkameen Valley, and his father, Rolly Bilodeau, is a longtime resident of Cawston.

Former Cawston resident wins sixth Similkameen Cup

The prestigious Similkameen Cup has Ron Bilodeau's name on it six times. One of the top jockeys of the Interior circuit, Bilodeau entered the winner's circle with a big grin at Year 2000 Racing Days Similkameen Cup race. He earned that grin in a great history of bringing in the Cup winners six times, three of them on the same horse.

The Bilodeau family moved to Cawston in 1972 from Coquitlam. At age 16, in 1975, Ron went to work for the late Bill Cairns, well-known in the Interior racing circuit. Ron was a jockey for the first time in Osoyoos, where Cairns lived. Later, he worked for Merv Nelson, another well-known name in racing circles.

Bilodeau headed for Vancouver, where he found work as a jockey at Exhibition Park.

During his 25-year career as a jockey, Bilodeau has ridden racehorses throughout the southern Interior and Alberta.

Ron's father, Roland Bilodeau, who still resides in Cawston, recalls one time when a horse owner paid Ron's way to Calgary to ride a horse in one race! Ron brought the horse across the finish line first, rewarding the owner.

Today, Ron Bilodeau lives in the Vernon area, where he drives a beer truck on weekdays, but his weekends are devoted to horse racing for as long as the circuit wants him.

Doug Currie, who raised race horses in Princeton, remarked at this year's Similkameen Cup win, "Ronny must own this race by now, he's won it so many times."

Wendell Clifton, presenting the Similkameen Cup, must feel a special bond with Ron Bilodeau. Not only has he presented the Cup six times with Ron in the winner's circle, it must be a source of pride for two men from the Similkameen Valley to have shared the winner's circle so many times.

Cattlemen's President plans to face issues

Princeton - Ernie Willis intends to address the top issues during his two-year term as President of B.C. Cattlemen's Association. Willis was elected on May 27, 2000, at the provincial convention in Cranbrook.

In his view, treaty negotiations and environmental legislation are the top issues for his term in office.

Willis does not hold out much hope for comprehensive land claims settlements, in which B.C. Cattlemen's Association has been involved. He sees more hope for resolution of specific land claims.

Museum

nears completion

Princeton and District Museum was able to loan, to the very large Museum of Anthropology at University of British Columbia in Vancouver, one of our artifacts to be used in conjunction with a world conference of specialists in Indian and Southeast Asian culture. We are fortunate in possessing a four-panel carved screen, painted in natural dyes depicting the mythological story of Rama and his young bride Sita, which was first copied into Sanskrit 2,200 years ago in central India, but is much older orally. The story is known as Ramayana, and continues to be a living cornerstone of south Asia culture.

We hope to have the screen on display, with the complete story, in the near future.

The Association has gone to Ottawa to make a presentation regarding the Nisga'a treaty, but

The Cattlemen's office is in Kamloops, which is more convenient for Princeton resident Ernie Willis than for many B.C. Cattlemen's presidents. He anticipates taking three or four days a month to fulfill his role as President. Environmental legislation pending will define water allocations for fish and wildlife, and the Cattlemen's Association wants input on the legislation and regulations which will affect ranchers. B.C. Weyerhaeuser has contributed to many local social projects and events, such as the Similkameen Cup race during Racing Days, and most recently, the adoption of a portion of the TransCanada Trail.

The beginning

The company was founded by Frederick Weyerhaeuser who, as a teenager, counted lumber for a sawmill in Illinois. He later pooled resources with his brother-in-law, Frederick Denkmann, and formed Weyerhaeuser and Denkmann to operate a sawmill in the Mississippi basin. Weyerhaeuser began listening to the prospects of the Pacific Northwest. On January 18, 1900, Weyerhaeuser Timber Company was incorporated to purchase 900,000 acres of forest land in Washington. For many decades, the purchase would be the largest single private land transaction in U.S. history.

Forest research

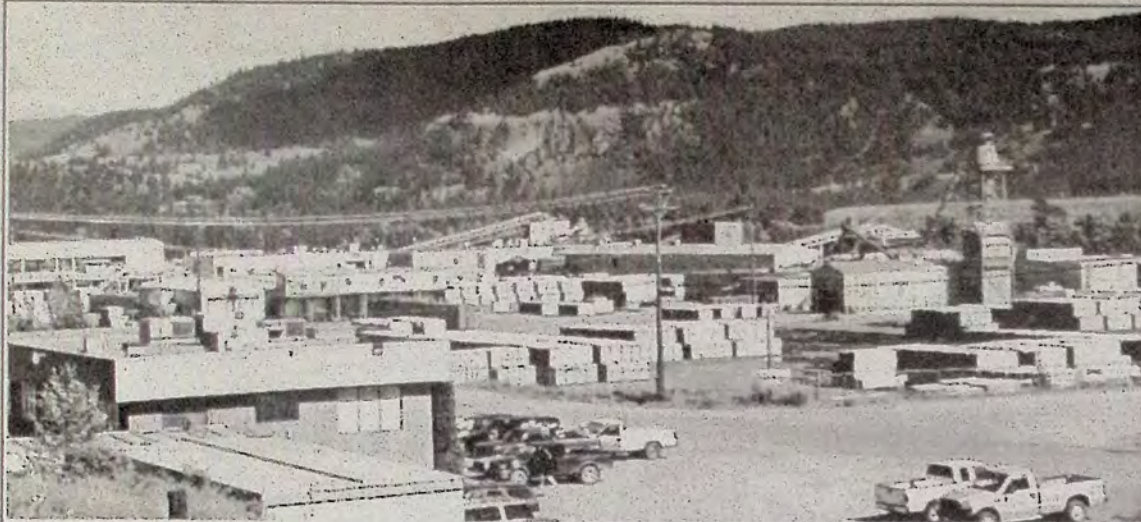

By 1917, Weyerhaeuser was doing research to find uses for sawmill waste. Pulping and Presto-logs turned sawmill waste into usable products. In 1940, plywood and panelling was added to Weyerhaeuser's list of forest products.

Another area of research was reforestation. Because Weyerhaeuser owned its forest, there was a strong incentive to make it sustainable. In 1941, Weyerhaeuser opened the first certified tree farm in the United States. Weyerhaeuser has planted billions of seedlings through the years, and continues a high seedling success rate, 95 per cent, in local reforestation projects.

Other issues claimed public attention during the 1970's, and Weyerhaeuser made a commitment to environmental clean-up, and has actually contributed funds to some organizations that have criticized the company. The funds have been for contracts to improve forest environment.

Disaster

During the 1980's, Weyerhaeuser dealt with a disastrous recession demanding reorganization, but the worst disaster came when Mount St. Helens erupted. The blast demolished 68,000 acres of prime Weyerhaeuser timberland. Weyerhaeuser began a reforestation program. First, usable logs were salvaged: This took three years.

Weyerhaeuser sawmill in Princeton on July 6, 2000 - no resemblance to Weyerhaeuser, Tacoma, 1900

As salvageable timber was removed, foresters faced the challenge of replanting in volcanic ash. Weyerhaeuser spent $10 million on a project the experts said would never succeed, and Weyerhaeuser proved them wrong. The company planted 18 million new trees. In less than 20 years after the blast, the new forest had thrived, growing to a height of more than 40 feet (13 metres).

Weyerhaeuser began attacking pollutants in the 1980's, and began changing its attitude about forests. The focus shifted from high yield to comprehensive forest values including watershed, wildlife and recreational values. The company took its stewardship role seriously, although its forest grew on private property.

Weyerhaeuser is not a privately owned company. Although it began in the Pacific Northwest with the vision of Frederick Weyerhaeuser, there were 11 original families involved as shareholders, and now there are 25,000 public shareholders.

Weyerhaeuser has generally led the industry in wages and benefits for employees. It is the only forest products firm to be included in both the 1984 and 1993 editions of The 100 Best Companies to Work for in America. Part of the reason for this was a prevailing attitude at the beginning due to the family members who formed the first investors. They placed a priority on family, and extended this to a "family" of workers. The company is well known for a chain of leaders directly descended from founders, and often the employees are third and fourth generation of Weyerhaeuser employees. Even customers become part of the family, with ties that last for generations.

Throughout the past century, the company has seen changes in machinery, logging equipment, the markets, the economy. It has survived through two World Wars, a depression, environmentalist criticism, forest fires, the softwood lumber tariff and a volcano.

In President Steve Rogel's 1998 annual report, he set the guidelines for the future when he stated, "Weyerhaeuser is a great company. It has a promising future. Our challenge is to fulfill our potential."

Sixty years ago, Blakeburn, a coal mining community near Coalmont, closed its doors. Oldtimers at the July 1 reunion watch the screen as old photos bring the Blakeburn days back to life.

Oldtimers recall coal town

People make a place, make history, make memories to treasure, and make a difference. Those who shared the communities of Blakeburn and Coalmont are living proof that it is the people who mean the most about any place.

Blakeburn shut down in 1940. On July 1, 2000, on the sixtieth anniversary of the closure, those who lived there, and their descendants, gathered at Princeton Elks Hall to share memories and friendships. Approximately 100 people enjoyed a banquet and a slide show. They lived in Tulameen, Blakeburn, Princeton and Coalmont, and some still live in the Princeton area, but most were from the lower mainland and Vancouver Island.

The slide show was excellent. It was put together by Jean McFadden's grand-daughter for the occasion, to celebrate Jean's eighty-fifth birthday.

The slides began with the oldest photos of Blakeburn, including the Blakeburn bunkhouse, the mine and rail cars. There was theme music in the background meant to match the image on the screen. For example, a photo of two miners coming from the shaft was matched with "Sixteen Tons" and groups of people in Blakeburn were matched to the Nat King Cole song "Unforgettable."

A series of photos showed Olga Murray being crowned May Queen by Mr. Ovington, with Jean McFadden and Edie Nelson as her Princesses, and there was a quip "and it snowed five minutes after that!"

There were photos of Mrs. McLaren, Mrs. Haddow, and Big Stan Cunningham, who, with his partner Reg Mottishaw, could move more coal in a day than any other miners at Blakeburn.

Children were shown swimming at Otter Lake, dressed for Robbie Burns night, and in one photo, a hockey team featuring Willard Gilmour, Phil Malleck, Doug McFadden, Bob Bond and Jim Bond. Adults were shown panning for gold in Granite Creek, all dressed up for a party or an outing in a 1920's Ford sedan, or just sharing some time together.

From the old photos, the show moved on to more recent snapshots of the committee who have put up the cairn by the Trans Canada Trail in Coalmont, and a few shots of the gang at the Coalmont Hotel and at other reunions.

There are always memories, and stories, but one of the most interesting parts of the evening were the people who never live in Blakeburn or Coalmont, but cared enough about the history to come to Princeton for the reunion.

Local
hits record

Princeton - Racing Days Association has compared betting levels for the July 2 races with other locations on the racing circuit, notably Kamloops. Princeton had the highest betting day this year. Kamloops went as high as $10,000 in one day, but Princeton's day was more than double Kamloops' best day.

Princeton had more races in one day than Kamloops has had. Princeton had nine races, and six races in one day is the most Kamloops has had.

Approximately 1100 people attended the races, near record levels for Princeton attendance.

There is a certain attitude of gloating from the members of Racing Days Association. They believe they have found the formula for successful race meets.

Whooping cough hits valley

Similkameen - What's been keeping Public Health Nurses busy in Okanagan-Similkameen Health Region? Pertussis, also known as whooping cough. Our health region is experiencing an outbreak and this is not so unusual in itself as outbreaks do occur periodically but this outbreak is different in a couple of ways.

From January to June this year there have been 118 cases of pertussis in the Okanagan Similkameen Health Region. This compares with 18 cases in 1999. Most of this activity has been in the Central Okanagan - 42 cases in Kelowna, 43 in Rutland/Winfield, 20 in Westbank/Peachland, three in Penticton, four in Summerland, two cases in each of Oliver and Princeton and one case each in Keremeos and Osoyoos.

Pertussis rates typically begin to climb in B.C. during July and August. This year, rates have been increasing since January. Historically, rates among infants has been highest, then young school-age children, and preschool children. The hardest hit is the school age population with 79 of the 118 cases, the adult population is next with 26 cases, then the 12 month to school age group with 11 cases and only two infant cases. Experts feel that what we are likely seeing is the efficiency of the 2, 4 and 6-month infant immunization with the new acellular pertussis component vaccine, along with the waning of this immunity in teenage and adult years.

Anyone with symptoms of whooping cough should seek medical attention.

Horoscopes

July 11 to 18

ARIES - The extremely active situations in which you have found yourself during the past week take on a less friendly tone this week. Keep your temper when driving or when others say too much.

TAURUS - Increased activity this week includes hard work, but you may find that work done in your neighbourhood environment brings rewards. Be cautious while driving and refrain from arguments.

GEMINI - You need to take a more generous view of yourself and others now. You are entering a time of major change in your value system. Something could change your life permanently this week.

CANCER - You are full of energy and excitement, and a substantial level of ego. Cool it! You are not an authority on everything, and it would be a good idea to keep your opinions to yourself this week.

LEO - You are developing some important new lines of thought right now, re-framing who you are and how you function. This is a great step forward. Young people challenge your values.

VIRGO - Family matters continue to be challenging, and you may experience some tension about what is going on. There will have to be major change and improvement in the near future. Plan ahead.

LIBRA - Career matters dominate your concerns this week, and that area of your life could be very challenging or disturbing. You need to decide how to proceed and in what direction.

SCORPIO - If things were any more active in your life, you would be totally exhausted. You have too much to do, but fortunately, you have a lot of positive energy right now with which to get it done.

SAGITTARIUS - Tension arises in you this week due to changes taking place in regard to resources you share with others, such as mortgages, loans, or common property. Be very alert to the action.

CAPRICORN - There will be a lot of interaction with others now, and perhaps a confrontation with a person who is an enemy or opponent in some matter. If verbally attacked, keep calm, as it is ego at play.

AQUARIUS - This is a good time to relax and enjoy life. Family matters might be a little picky and frustrating, so distance yourself from them, in a nice way. Watch out for fevers, cuts and burns.

PISCES - Fun, fun, fun! You are a blessed person now, surrounded by a lot of good feelings and pleasant activity. Enjoy it. As you know, good times do not last forever!

Reunion 2000 brought together former students of Princeton High School who attended from the late 1950's through the early 1960's. They had a wonderful time at the campground at Princeton Castle Resort on July 1 weekend. They took part in the Racing Days parade and went to the races.

Reunion 2000 warmed hearts

Princeton - Reunion 2000 was billed as a Princeton High School reunion, scheduled for the July 1 weekend and Racing Days. The organizers began arriving on Thursday, June 29, at the campground at Princeton Castle Resort, where they lined up a number of adjacent sites along the loop at the far end of the grounds. This proved to be an excellent location.

Registration was held Friday afternoon, and was followed by the big event, the float in Racing Days parade. A lot of visiting went on Friday evening, as former schoolmates renewed friendships.

On Saturday afternoon, approximately 110 people gathered for a happy hour and supper. Some went to Las Vegas Night, others just kept visiting.

A Sunday brunch attracted 65 people to Castle Restaurant. Most went to the races for the remainder of the day, and many spent the evening in costume, dancing at Castle Restaurant. All in all, it was a highly successful event.

Registered for the reunion were: Casey Allison, Frank and Darnella (Lawrence) Armitage, Paddy and Jackie (Adams) Atkinson, Dave and Jamie (Mullin) Atkinson, Gary and Carol Atkinson, Nick and Gail (Fairley) Bey, Roy and Lucille (Lutz) Bush, John and Pat Chaplin (formerly Chalupiak), Sandi (Broomfield) Chilton, Dennis and Bonnie (McKay) Cook, Bob and Margaret Cormack, Carol Corsi, Donna Cullis, Doug and Edith Currie, Des (Clyne) Desrosiers, John and Karen (Cook) Dwyer, Marvin Ely6, Joanne (Dixon) Esselink, Jim and Marg (Beck) Eyre, Ron and Marlene Foster, David and Maureen (Erskine) Fox, Shirley Freding, Don and Barbara (Ewart) Fuller, Paul and Maureen (Richards) Gutyán, Alice Hanik, Roy and Myra Harker, Marjorie (Premishook) Hausch, John and Hilary Heim, Don Herrington, Jeri

(McDonnell) Hilton, Sharon (Murphy) Hyland, Ann (Jameson) Jackson, Betty (Lawes) Johnston, Bill and Lynn (Callbeck) Kummell, Gabby and Wanda (Desrosiers) LaVoie, George and Gail (Bain) Madill, Ted and Darnel Madore, Blaine and Arlene Marsel, Cliff McDonnell, Mel and Rita (Gott) McElhinney, Lynne (Cunard) McIntyre, Ken and Nancy (Hudson) Melville, Butch Murphy, Marion Murphy, Fern "Cookie" (McIntyre) Naylor, John and Joyce Novick, John Premishook, Bernard and Marilyn (Gabriel) Price, Helen (Beck) Regier, Ed and Marg (Anderson) Reichert, Lowell and Karen (Armitage) Ritchey, Kathy (Passmore) Rodman, Glen and Charlotte (Hudson) Sellers, Charlene (Muir) Steen, George Stuart, Jack and Pearl (Herrington) Taylor, Lynne (Williams) Taylor, Bill and Joanne Triplett, Geri (Lawrence) Waddell, June

People attended from California, Arizona, Alberta, and all points in B.C. Rita (Gott) McElhinney received a prize for travelling furthest.

Prizes were awarded those who had changed least: Donna Cullis (teacher), Blaine Marsel, Peggy Walters-Doubt and Maureen (Erskine) Fox.

POINTS OF VIEW

OUR VIEW

Liberals have a tough act to follow

The "balanced budget" legislation introduced by Finance Minister Paul Ramsey is guaranteed to rot one plank in the B.C. Liberal Party election platform.

Calls for greater financial responsibility and better control of the budget will fall on deaf electors when the full impact of the new legislation sinks in. The balanced budget legislation demands, by law, that the budget be balanced (no deficit) by the end of the 2004/2005 fiscal year, reducing the deficit consistently over five years to lower levels each year. This is a tax reform British Columbians have been calling for, and it includes penalties for Cabinet Ministers and the Premier if deficits climb above targeted totals.

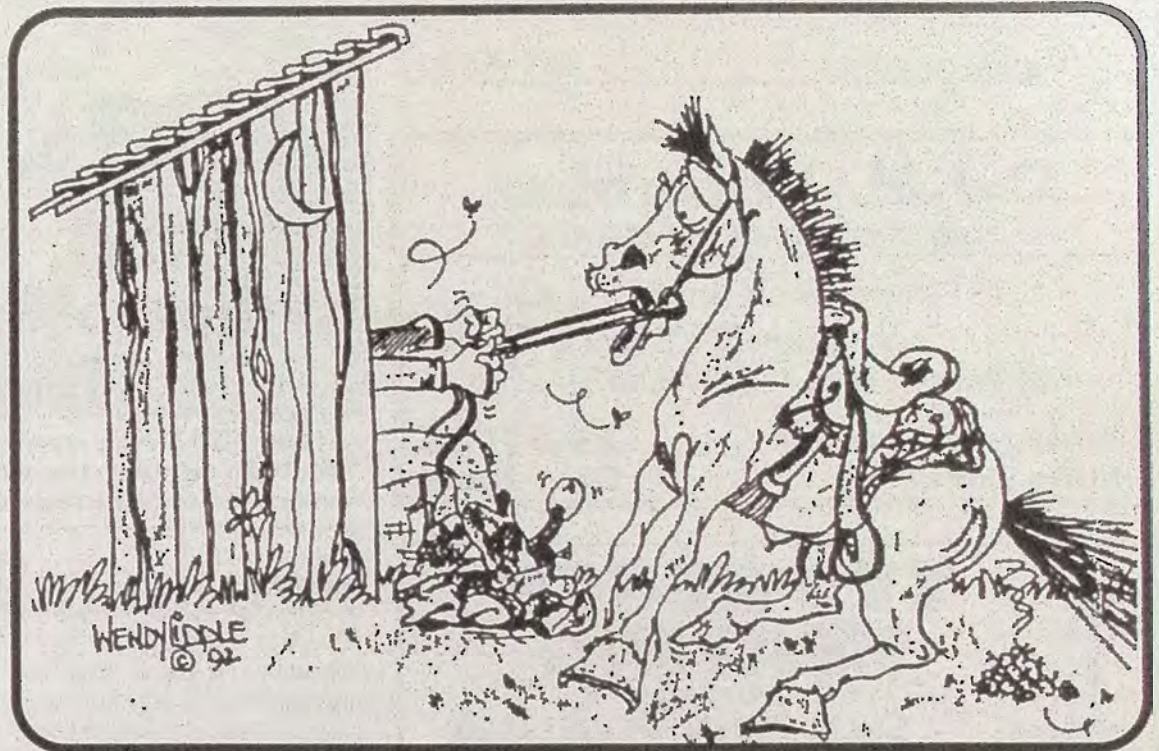

In addition to penalties, the balanced budget bill includes escape routes for spending in emergencies, such as natural disasters and economic downturns when revenue is not as great as anticipated (like our recent case of Asian "flu").

The New Democratic government, like so many other provincial governments, has responded to the steady criticism of Canadian taxpayers and has introduced the legislation, just as other provinces have done.

BC Liberal Party hopefuls looking forward to a snappy election campaign and a big win may have to revamp election tactics. How do you fault a government when it has just drafted a law that will demand responsible spending by any future B.C. government?

Of course, there is always room for criticism, and that is what Opposition parties do best. That is how our system of government works. However, there are few British Columbians who would criticize the balanced budget legislation.

Now, if we yell loud enough and long enough at the feds, do you suppose they will drop that damnable GST?

YOUR VIEW

We can look for the good in people

Dear Editor;
Asset development in our community.

This basically means focussing on the positive or looking for the good in people and building upon that to improve our community. These days it is easy to comment that the world is going to 'hell in a hand basket.' I'm sure we have all heard that a million times. I think it's only fair to show the 'rest of the story' as Paul Harvey would say.

Certainly, we all see signs of hopelessness and deterioration of society. For one thing, different media are good at dramatizing horrific situations or just being looky-loos to tragic ones. At least our community newspapers also report uplifting incidences.

So what about our community? In spite of vandalism, alcoholism, drug abuse and violence, I see people pulling together, be it privately or publicly.

Look at John Allison School. Kudos to the teachers, parents and children who joined together to volunteer to make a difference in the town by cleaning up the rail bed, planting flowers and generally getting ready for the travelling water event. The students also gave up lunch hours to practice singing O Canada for the event, even though they were not an official choir.

Look, too, at all the volunteers in our community. People who join clubs that promote fair days and Racing Days. People who care enough to fight for our hospital and health. People who lobby for economic growth. People in service groups that raise funds to support our children by supplying bursaries and scholarships to further their education. There are also many teens working in youth groups or just quietly volunteering, one by one, as well as youngsters in 4-H, cadets, Guides, Brownies and Scouts.

I believe there is the potential in all of us to make improvements in our relationships and our social and physical environment. I think our children are our future and we need to believe in them and their power to choose wisely. They need to see that we stand behind them.

My Uncle Bob (doesn't everyone have one?) used to say, "Let a smile be your passport to life. It eases tension, smoothes the path, opens doors and it's free."

Perhaps instead of going to hell in a hand basket, we could go to heaven, one smile of encouragement at a time.

We have it in us to choose.

Yours truly,
Karen Smart.

Canada loses out in newspaper strike

Dear Editor;

Just in time for Canada Day another nail has been driven into the coffin of freedom of the press.

The strike at the Calgary Herald is over after eight long months. For people who believe that this strike was for wages, please read between the lines. That newspaper's management has bargained for the de-certification of the union and won. The journalists who believe that only the ownership has the right to determine the newspaper's content and those workers who are willing to relinquish the right to their own opinions will get to keep their jobs while the reporters who believe that all newspapers should print both sides of all issues will lose Editor's note: theirs.

The implications for press freedom are enormous. The owner of this newspaper (Calgary Herald) owns and controls almost all of the daily print media in BC as well as a dominant share in the rest of the market in Canada. The owners has stated publicly that only his views will be editorialized in any of his newspapers. Happy birthday, Canada!

Sincerely,
H.P. Toews.

Editor's note: If this newspaper printed only those views which the owner shares we would likely have a dull editorial page. Maybe a dull paper. Let's see what happens to the Calgary Herald.

News from the Muse

by Don Coyle, on behalf of Princeton and District Museum members and friends.

It seems like only yesterday that I sat down at this wondrous machine to give a report on the happenings at YOUR museum. So much has happened, I hardly know where to begin, so I guess I can tell you first what all the fuss is about at 167 Vermilion Avenue, in case you have not walked or driven that way in the past couple of months.

You will notice the Library/Museum complex has grown and the Fire Hall #1 building has moved sideways (albeit without windows, thanks to some miscreants). You will also see the front porch has been extended and two window openings are evident. Park's Construction have been very busy constructing what will be known as "The Pollard Wing" which will house the Joe Pollard collection as well as numerous other collections of rocks, minerals and fossils the museum owns.

If there is any other space available, we might even be able to display some of our other artifacts in the space left! Hopefully, we should be able to start moving some of the displays into our new quarters by July 15. We have had some of our displays moved and relocated to permit the construction of the new wing. However, we are still open for business and started our summer hours on July 4, with our student in attendance Tuesday to Saturday weekly. Volunteers will cover the weekends so that we will provide service seven days a week until September.

We have receive a number of donations since my last report to add to our Pollard Wing Fund from individuals, corporations and benevolent groups. Names to add to the list since my last news item up to and including June 30 are: BPO Elks, Ken Heuser, J & K Cook, Royal Canadian Legion, D. Stenvold, Les Holmes, Loreen Rice, Marguerite Mundie, Madelon Schouten, art and Diane Thomas, Ruth Kavanaugh. Special mention must go to Dawn Johnson of the News Leader for the advertising she has provided for our addition. The very latest donation, which arrived under the deadline for this report, is from the Vancouver Foundation, which will permit us to purchase new display cabinets and provide security to the Pollard cabinets as well as assist us in moving the display! Our special THANKS to all who have donated and ask that you continue to support us either financially, physically or morally. We can always use more volunteers and members of our Society ($5.00 per year). Think about

Who are the Lutherans?

Anyone who believes Jesus was both man and the true God, lived a perfect life by obeying the Law perfectly, was crucified and His body was raised on the third day which paid for the entire worlds sins past, present and future is a Christian. Lutherans are Christian. Three Creeds (The Apostles, The Nicene and The Athanasian) are pieced together from the Bible confess the Word of God.

The Lutheran denomination began in the sixteenth century by a Catholic monk named Martin Luther. Martin did not desire to begin a new church, however he did desire to show the existing church the error of their ways through the Bible. Throughout this struggle, Martin finally realised that his was not going to happen in his lifetime and told his followers not to call themselves Lutherans, but to call themselves Christians. Martin Luther brought the Gospel back into the church, proclaiming that we are saved by the grace of God, through faith in Jesus Christ, that works are a result of our faith and do nothing to earn us eternal life. God does everything for us.

The Bible teaches that God is triune, meaning God is three persons, not three Gods but one God, namely the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Through this God, all that exists was created perfectly, created to live in His glory. But when man, Adam and Eve, disobeyed God, they separated themselves from the love of God. This first sin, which is called original sin, is now passed on to all people. As people who have inherited this original sin, we are unable to keep God's Law and thus must suffer the punishment which is eternal death.

However, as we were in this state of helplessness, God sent His Son, Jesus, to joining!

We must also thank Princeton Town Council for the financial support provided to house the museum. We are continually receiving compliments on our displays and our museum from visitors from all over the world. Our visitor rate has climbed and most certainly will climb higher once we have our new displays arranged. Plan on visiting us soon and remember we are ready to accept memorabilia which should be preserved for posterity.

be a one-time sacrifice for every sin that was, and will be, committed. Because we cannot keep the Law perfectly, we need another way to receive eternal life. This way is through Jesus. Everyone who believes Jesus is Lord and Saviour and confesses with heart and mouth will receive eternal life.

As Christians, we interpret the Bible through the Bible itself. We take clear passages of the Bible and use those to interpret ones not so clear. We take each passage in context and develop our teachings from all passages dealing with the same subject. The Bible is the true Word of God, unchangeable. God inspired men to write His Word using the style and gifts of that man.

As Christians, we are not perfect and fall into sin daily. We do not always love others as we should. We continue to make mistakes and at times do offend others. But through Jesus we have strength, someone who is perfect and willing to help us in this life. We have a true hope and through our baptisms have been marked with the Holy Spirit. We receive the true body and blood of our Lord in Communion to strengthen and remind us of His love for us.

Being a Christian is not easy. There are many struggles. We are not alone and do not have to deal with these struggles by ourselves. Jesus has promised to be with us to the end of the age and never leave our side. All people have this opportunity to receive the love of Jesus. If you desire Jesus in your heart and do not know how to receive His love, pray to Him, ask Him to choose you. Jesus is always willing and never turns anyone away. Christ The Good Shepherd Lutheran Church.

Heart Food

by Dave Machin

The thief does not come except to steal, to kill and to destroy. Life is not always working with us in a cooperative way and to make it more difficult, there is an enemy whose plan is to make things more difficult. Picture life as a race and you moving with full speed ahead in that race. Then suddenly "Wham!" You hit the wall. It may be a wall of sickness, financial trouble, family problems, etc. Regardless of the form it takes, the effect of the "wall" is always the same. It stops you cold, which is what it is intended to do. The question is: once you hit a wall like that, what will you do? You'll be tempted to quit, to turn back in defeat. But don't do it. God has made a way for you to break through that wall and keep right on running the race. No one said that it would be easy, actually it is tough, but you must push through the tough times to get to your place of breakthrough. God has provided a way for you to break through the walls that you will encounter in your life's race, no matter what they may be. That way is through His word. If you will look to God's word, you will receive every answer you will need to go through the walls that the enemy places before you to attempt to steal, kill and destroy your life. God is good all the time. Pastor Dave Machin, Similkameen Christian Center, SUNDAY SERVICES 10:30 a.m. 221 A, Bridge Street, Princeton, B.C. Phone 295-0599

9 IN MEMORIAM

In Memory of Clay

Jim and I had a special friendship with Clay. My role in Clay's life was to give him Hell. I'm sure when he seen me coming through the door he would think oh no here we go again. Jim and I were very fortunate to watch Clay grow up over the years, We watched him and his Dad grow into more than just Father and Son. Clay was Charlie's right arm, and that was sometimes a good thing, as we know Charlie always didn't know what his left arm was doing. But the most important part of Clay is that he truly touched alot of lives, and genuinely had a lot of love and a special kindness. If Only Clay Could Have Seen What we all Saw. All our love and thoughts, Jim and Deb.

In Memory of Clay

We've shared the kind of friendship that's grown deeper through the years. We've see the ups, we've known the downs, we've shared the smiles and the tears. Through it all, I've learned one thing, that there could never be, a dearer friend in all the world than the one you are to me. Missing you, Snook, Love, Eva

Thanks from Fran

A big thank you to my husband, Merv, and friend Heather for organizing a surprise Birthday dinner at the Castle. Many thanks to my immediate family: daughter Anita, son-in-law Doug and grandsons Luke, Jesse and Jacob; son Mervyn; daughter-in-law Karen and grandsons Jett and Kristian who couldn't be there because of her work; Merv's Morn and sister Mervagene; my sisters Marie and Angeline and their husbands Wallace and Jim; my nephew Wayne and niece Bernie. I'd like to say thank you to friend and employer Joyce and my supervisor Lyndy, along with their husbands Austin and Larry, for taking time out for my special day. A big thank you to my friends and neighbours Heather, Bob and son Kelly; May; Rodger and Gail, Kathy and Doug, Mary-Anne and Don and friend Dean for coming. Thank you to family and friends who could not come and for the greetings they sent. Each and every one of you gave me a part of yourselves by just being there. Thanks for all the wonderful kind things that were said and all the gifts. Thanks to staff at the Castle for the delicious meal that was prepared, the beautiful Castle cake made by my daughter, Anita. A great big thank you to Jacob for composing and singing a song for me! Another big thank you to May for video taping all evening. Wat a treasure that video will be. This was a truly memorable day for me. God bless each and every one of you. Fran La Brash

Many thanks to all for a memorable retirement! Thank you to my colleagues, friends and family for a wonderful surprise retirement party at the Princeton Castle. It was great to see family, friends and colleagues from the past, present co-workers, friends and neighbours. It was a fun evening, filled with many memories and one I shall never forget. Thank you for all your best wishes, the gift and the "daybook of memories". Thanks to all of those who put their time and effort into organizing the party. Thank you to my staff at John Allison Elementary for their great support and friendship. You've been a wonderful group to work with over the past years. Thanks for your best wishes and wonderful gift which I shall cherish. Thanks also to the John Allison Elementary PAC group for the lovely surprise luncheon! The dishes were superb (can I have the recipes?) and I love the planters. Thank you all for your good wishes. You're a great group! Thank you to the Primary Teachers' for the lovely dinner, the gift and all your good wishes, we had a nice evening together. I hope we keep in touch. Thank you to School District #58 for their retirement dinner. I've enjoyed working in the Princeton District over the past forty years. Thank you for the certificate, gift and best wishes also. Thank you to friends who have also sent best wishes. Thank you to the students and parents I've worked with over the pas years. I've appreciated being part of your lives. I have enjoyed working and sharing friendships with all and I hope to keep in touch. Sincerely thanks, Joann Gabriel

Hedley School kindergarten graduation exercises prepared the students for another step up the ladder of life. Above, students take their seats for the final school assembly before summer holidays.

Hedley kindergarten graduates

by Sue Alton

A scene repeated all over the valley this week was the final school assembly and graduation. The littlest ones, kindergarten, are taking the important step of moving up to be a full-time student in Grade One while the oldest, Grade Twelve, are taking one of the most important steps of adult life - High School Graduation.

As this is the Year 2000, it has become a symbol of new beginnings for the entire world. The Class of 2000 has been in the public eye since they entered kindergarten in 1988. It would be nice to say the pressure is off, but we know these may be their hardest years. One can only offer words of encouragement and support for a successful future.

Looking at the five year old faces of the graduating kindergarten classes we can see that these children are more concerned about summer holidays and the future is a long way off.

The end-of-the-year awards for Hedley Elementary School are as follows:

- Academic: Most Improved Student Award: Shane Allison
- Reading Improvement Award: Dana Allison, Thomas Hartmann, Carolyn Johnson, Lawrence Johnson, Levi Johnson, Darius Kruger, Brooke MacKay, Lorretta Minshull, and Breezy Whitney.

- Improved Writing Award: Laura Dejanais
- Alphabet Recognition Award: Nathan Johnson
- Artistic Achievement: Brianna Nendick and Rhiannon Seaman
- Music Awards: Recorder & Singing Award: Thomas Hartmann
- Rhythm Award: Carolyn Johnson
- Dance Award: Darius Kruger

Hot dogs!

If it's hot, your pet may be in trouble! Dogs and cats cool themselves by panting and releasing heat through their paws. On summer days, the air inside vehicles can heat up to a high temperature that makes it impossible for pets to cool themselves. If your pet shows signs of heatstroke, supply water immediately and move your pet to a cool, shady place. Promote evaporation by fanning, and take your pet to the nearest veterinarian.

Living past 100

Keep your memory

There is nothing sadder than to see a friend or loved one slip into that awkward condition known as senility. Memory loss seems to start slowly and then accelerate. Much as we hate to see this happen to somebody else, we dread it happening to ourselves. Fortunately, science has some answers for us, and these answers are important not just for memory, but for our entire nervous system.

The brain is the organizer of the nervous system, and if the brain or the nerves deteriorate, a long life is out of the question, because our system of nerves runs everything. Keeping your nerve endings health is one of the ways of preventing memory loss and giving you a longer, good quality life.

There is an entire class of vitamins, called B vitamins, which feeds the nervous system. B vitamins include amino acids and numbered B vitamins such as B2, B3 and so on. These can become confusing, because each numbered B vitamin may be known by some other name as well, such as niacin or riboflavin. If you really want the best advice, talk to your pharmacist or a respected health food store operator to find out about Vitamin B supplements.

Ordinarily, we absorb Vitamin B from meat, fish, eggs, beans and grains. However, as we age, we may not be able to absorb enough. There are illnesses which prevent proper absorption of Vitamin B or of certain B vitamins.

Amino acids can often mean the difference between healthy, robust nerves or such illnesses as depression or chronic fatigue. Choline and inositol, taken together, have been proven at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to improve memory, but improving just your memory is a stop-gap. What you want is to prolong a healthy life, and for that, you need more than just your memory.

Some life situations create stress, or nervous tension, and long periods of such stress (grief, for example) can cause deterioration of the nervous system.

Cliftons take Mixed Open

Princeton - Once again, the Mixed Open Golf Tournament, held in conjunction with Racing Days, was a huge success. The excellent shape of the golf course, the delicious meal and the weather all contributed to a great time for 146 golfers. People travelled from Hope, Vancouver, Penticton, Kamloops, Summerland, Osoyoos, Oliver, Kelowna, Castlegar and Vernon to enjoy the weekend's festivities.

Overall Low Gross winners for the tournament were Clint and Sharleen Clifton, shooting a score of 82. Princeton winners included Mike Hauschild and Barb Gould, Gary and Deb Sicker, Monty Raine and Betty Patison, Joy and Wally Wallace, Dave and Joy Roberts, Jim and Annette Dixon, Dinny and Beryl Mullin, Ray and Betty Jarvis, Rob and Krista Fulton, Jack and Linda Angstadt, Bill and Elaine Harwood, Ryan and Candice O'Neil, Tom and Myrt McLaren, Fred and Joan Gee, Ken and Sharon Blower, and Wayne Lockhart and Loretta Emmons.

Long Drive winners were Susan Later, Barb Gould, Rob Fulton, Larry Barenscott. Winners of the KP were Elaine Harwood and Fred Gee. Jim and Annette Dixon also captured one of four deuces for the day and cashed in on $37 for their combined effort.

Some of the golfers enjoyed their day of golf and company so much that they already signed up for next year. Of course, with the new 18-hole course, we will be able to accommodate all golfers wishing to participate. This event is the biggest capacity tournament held at Princeton's Golf Course and it would not be the big success it is without the help of Diane Rodewoldt, Sharon Blower, Linda Angstadt, Elaine Harwood, Betty Jarvis, Dinny Mullin, Rob Fulton and staff, and Ina and her kitchen staff. They deserve thanks for making Racing Days a memorable weekend for so many golfers.

Princeton hosts Seniors' tourney

Princeton golfers fared well in the Seniors Open Tournament, Friday, July 7, at Princeton Golf Club. Golfers from Hope, Ashcroft, Merritt and the South Okanagan participated.

Monty Raine of Princeton won the overall Low Gross with a score of 75, followed by Stan Jones of Penticton with a 76. The Overall Low Net winner was R. Geenlay of Shannon Lake with 63, and runner-up was Wally Wallace of Princeton with 65.

Other winners were: Group 1 - A. Streight, B. Harris, both from Fairview Mountain club, Fred Gee, Princeton, B. Drinkwater and F. Kuzak of Penticton and Lou Prince of Summerland. Group 2 - R. Mullin, E. Wilkinson, and Tip Anderson of Princeton, T. Fisk from Semlin Valley (Ashcroft), A. Hewlett of St. Andrews, and A. Friesen from Twin Lakes. Group 3 - R. Cormack, J. Welde, and J. Young of Princeton, R. Crippen from St. Andrews, B. Quinn and G. Sanderson of Summerland.

first official pitch of the game. It was a bit wild and tested catcher Clint Clifton.

Princeton's Minor Ball Association did an outstanding job as hosts of the provincials. It was a pity volunteer First Aid attendant Justin Smith was called so frequently, but the games were full of accidental injuries, including an injured umpire in the first semi-final game.

Princeton's Peewees kept on top of the semi-finals with an 18-2 win over Richmond Saturday night, followed by a loss to Abbotsford due to errors, followed by a win of 14-3, which kept them in the running.

In their next game, Princeton met

Barriere, and faced a tough opponent. Barriere won 9 to 2, leaving Princeton in third spot, and went on to win the provincial Peeewe C Boys Championship.

It was a great weekend of softball, and there were plenty of compliments for Princeton - for the excellent facility and for the good treatment of players. Don Mare, as commentator and announcer during the games at Diamond 1 did his best to keep the patter as lively as his musical interludes. Thanks to all of the volunteers, the field was in great condition, the concession kept up with the demand, and everything went smoothly.
