

On the afternoon of November 8, in Princeton's first significant snowfall of the year, Lee Naylor lost control of his vehicle on Highway 40 (Princeton-Summerland road) and missed the bridge across Allison Creek. Although his skid marks were clearly visible, many vehicles passed before Bryn Blank stopped to check what had happened and found Naylor still in the vehicle. Naylor was taken to Princeton General Hospital for treatment of minor injuries sustained in the mishap. The Dodge Ram was totalled, but the seat belt and air bag prevented serious injuries, according to Mrs. Naylor.

Two die in crashes

Snow and slush took a toll last week. RCMP, BC Ambulance and highway rescue units from Princeton and Hope attended a two vehicle accident 5 km. west of Eastgate. On the afternoon of November 9, an eastbound car lost control, slid sideways across three lanes and collided with the front of a westbound tractor trailer unit. The driver of the car, and lone occupant, a 52 year old man from Coquitlam, died at the scene as a result of his injuries.

On November 11, at 12:41 p.m., in Manning Park, a westbound vehicle went out of control on the slushy highway and spinning around, was struck by an eastbound vehicle, driven by a 59 year old Langley man who died of his injuries.

Princeton RCMP and the BC Coroner Service continue their investigation of these accidents.

Remembrance Day 2000

"They shall not grow old"

Fifty-five years after the end of World War 2, Canadians turned out to Cenotaphs across Canada on Saturday to remember the sacrifices made by Canadians in all wars. In Princeton, Legion members led a parade of veterans down Vermilion Avenue to stand in the cold while wreaths were laid at the monument to the fallen. In Hedley and Keremeos, similar ceremonies were conducted, honouring those who made the supreme sacrifice.

In Princeton, those who risked their lives to fight for freedom, or to keep the peace in foreign lands, were honoured in a ceremony called "Living Legacy," in which Girl Guides presented roses to veterans.

The large crowd heard prayers for peace given by Rev. Chris Haugland, and bagpipes played as a multitude of wreaths were laid in memory of those who served their country. Following the outdoor ceremony, veterans, Legion members, RCMP, Elks and many other people went to lunch in the Legion Hall.

Maria Sadegur, MC, introduced

Mayor Randy McLean, who described the Legion in two words, loyalty and dedication. He noted they had been loyal to veterans for 75 years, and dedicated to creating the kind of community that the fallen soldiers would have liked to have seen. He commented that the loyalty and dedication would be passed on to young people such as the Girl Guides and Air Cadets seen at the service. He told Legion members the Town of Princeton is "very grateful" for the Legion's efforts in the community.

Sadegur read a letter from Prime Minister Jean Chretien, who said time does not dull the memories of those who "fought to preserve democracy from the dark forces of tyranny."

Legion President Ray Jarvis spoke of "a great transition" in the Legion as veterans and Legion members become older. He urged all members to take the time to "be kinder" to local youth, and communicate with them. He pointed out that the Legion must turn to youth to carry on.

COPS help nab driver

On Friday, November 10, Princeton Citizens on Patrol (COPS) were instrumental in taking a dangerous driver off the road. Cst. Newel was on foot patrol at 11:00 p.m. when he saw a vehicle leave Bridge Street at an unsafe speed. Cst. Newel tried to direct the driver to the side, but it kept going. Shortly after this, he received a call from a COPS team who saw the vehicle off the road just west of Subway. The driver had been drinking and was subsequently given a 24 hr. suspension and several other charges under the Motor Vehicle Act, including no insurance and no licence plate. Had he not been stopped, he would have been a danger to other drivers.

RCMP seek shooter

On November 8, at approximately 11:30 p.m., Princeton RCMP were advised of a gunshot on Bridge Street. An RCMP constable investigated and saw a small hole shot through a window in the upper story of the Princeton Hotel. The hole appeared to have been made by a pellet.

A similar incident had been reported several weeks ago. In that incident, two holes were shot through the windows of a residence on Fenchurch Avenue on Second Bench.

A vehicle was seen driving along Bridge Street on November 8 and several shots were taken from the vehicle as it drove by the hotel. The vehicle was described as a black Chevette type.

If anyone has any information regarding this incident or any other like it, please contact Princeton RCMP or Crime Stoppers.

"Let's think young," Jarvis advised, and went on to describe efforts to form an Air Cadet corps in Princeton, saying 15 have expressed an interest and 15 more are needed.

Air Cadets Chris Newman, Robert Hurd, and Randy Morris, and their future Commanding Officer Penny Davidson were introduced.

Princeton's Youth Ambassadors, David Bell, Crystal Mosher, Sarah Johnson and Katie Norman read "In Flanders Fields."

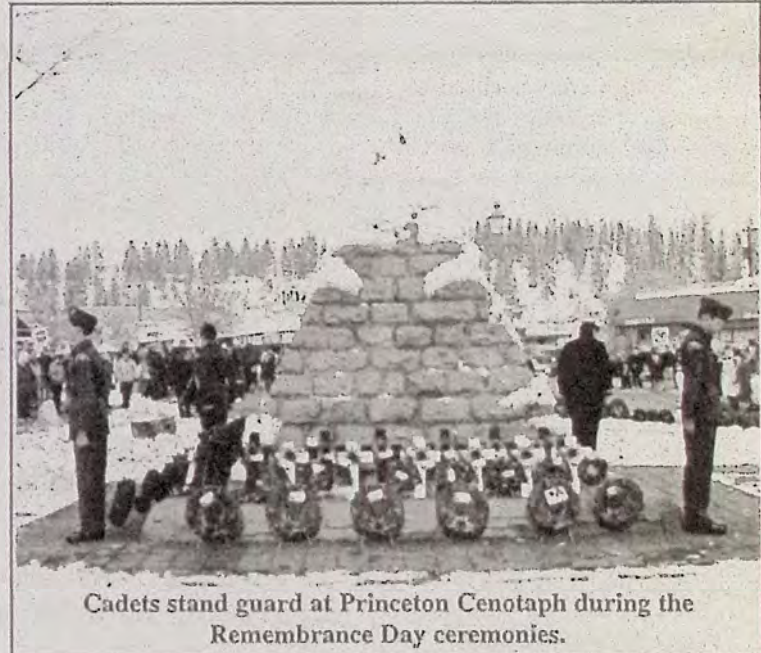

Cpl. Russ Pedersen introduced the RCMP contingent and commended the Legion's efforts to develop the Air Cadet program for local youth.

People who had done the poppy

Worthington commented, "This is a great way to kick off the Christmas Hamper Campaign." The men are in front of the Dairy Queen Angels Anonymous Christmas tree. Two jailed William Macey Macdonald and James Ira Melnychuk, co-charged in an incident of uttering threats and intimidating local youth in October, 1999, appeared in Provincial Court in Penticton on November 6 to plead guilty to two counts. Both were sentenced to two years probation, and four months in jail. Macdonald had an additional month consecutive, and a lifetime firearms prohibition.

Melnychuk, in addition to the jail term above, was sentenced to seven days for driving while prohibited on March 4, 1999, and to 14 days in jail for a second charge of driving while prohibited in August, along with a $300 fine. The judge ordered a 10-year firearms prohibition.

The first major snowfall on November 8 was perfect for building this huge fort in front of the Cenotaph. Unfortunately, local youth never considered Remembrance Day services and the snow fort had to be removed.

Driver lost licence for three years

Following a six month jail term, Dwayne Arthur Materi will still be unable to have a driver's licence for another 30 months.

Materi appeared in Provincial Court in Princeton on November 9 after pleading guilty to an impaired driving charge arising from an incident on December 18, 1999. Materi was apprehended in Penticton as a result of citizen complaints. Civilian witnesses had described a brown van weaving back and forth across the center line on the highway leading into Penticton. A breath test revealed a blood alcohol reading of .260.

This was Materi's sixth conviction for impaired driving, and he was denied access to the electronic monitoring program.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

PRE-BUDGET CONSULTATION IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

The all-party Select Standing Committee on Finance and Government Services of the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia has been authorized to examine the pre-budget consultation paper prepared by the Minister of Finance and Corporate Relations and, in particular, to conduct public consultations across British Columbia regarding provincial budgetary and financial policy for the coming year.

The committee is eager to hear your views on the challenges facing British Columbia, and alternative measures the government may consider to address those challenges as it prepares its 2001-2002 budget.

The committee is welcoming written submissions from individuals and organizations. Written submissions should contain an executive summary and be received by the Clerk of Committees at the address noted below by:

Friday, December 1, 2000 at 5:00 p.m.

The committee will also be holding public hearings throughout the province during the month of November, 2000. Information pertaining to the work of this committee can be obtained through the committees' website as noted below.

Individuals and organizations wishing to appear before the committee should contact the Clerk of Committees to obtain information about meeting dates, times and locations. Notices of public meetings will appear in newspapers throughout the province.

Keremeos Remembers

by Sherida Crane

The chilly day did not deter a great turnout for the Keremeos Remembrance Day Program. The day began with a March-off from the South Similkameen Branch #192, Royal Canadian Legion to the Keremeos Cenotaph. The Parade Marshall was Shaun Francis. In attendance were Veterans, Legion members, Honour Guard, RCMP, Color Party, and Participants. Master of Ceremonies was Legion Padre, Rev. David Hughesman who said the opening prayers.

Names of the Fallen Comrades was read by World War Two

Keremeos OAP outshoot Seniors

In the pool tournament held in Keremeos Seniors Centre on November 3, between Keremeos Old Age Pensioners and Princeton Senior Citizens, Keremeos was the clear winner after three rounds of play. Keremeos took the tournament 22 to 15. They will be in Princeton for the next round of competition.

After the Cenotaph Ceremonies and laying of Wreaths there was a March off and reassembling for Service at Victory Hall.

Millie Terbasket and son Daniel, O.A.P., Harris & Son, Pharmasave, Air Cadets, Masons, Volunteers of Fire Dept, Regional Gliding, Elks, School District # 53, K-Motor Inn, Credit Union, Village of Keremeos, CIBC, Jim Farm Supplies, Similkameen Agencies, LCB, Hilltop, Eastern Star, Lions, Guides, Brownies, Sparks.

Terbasket said that she comes every year to lay the wreath with her son Daniel on behalf of her Uncle Louie Terbasket who served in Korea, and for the Lower Similkameen Indian Band. Margaret Kruger who was born and raised in the Hedley area said that she lost her brother Charles Lorenzetto in WW 2.

Rev. David Hughesman in his address during the Remembrance Day service discussed a story about Winston Churchill. Apparently during WW2 there was an aircraft engine that was on fire mid-flight, and a pilot crawled out on the wing and put out the fire with a extinguisher- therefore saving the lives of his crew members, and himself.

Charles Finch remembers many heroes

World War Two veteran Charles Finch agreed to be interviewed and I expressed that I was feeling nervous and was afraid I would insult him with my lack of knowledge on the subject of WW2 nevertheless Mr. Finch was very patient with me. When interviewed about his service in the war Finch said that he was a member of the Royal Canadian Armed Forces (RCAP) then when he went overseas he became a member of the Royal Airforce (RAF). Finch volunteered for service when he was eighteen years old, and was home by the time he was twenty-one. Finch was a Pilot of a Lancaster, and Captain to a six-man crew. In 1995 the crew had their 50th year reunion. "We lost one of our crew, now there is five left, I don't think we will meet again because we are all getting to old." Finch unfortunately lost two brothers in the war: Gordon Finch, and Thomas Crawford.

"The policy was that a family was not to be wiped out, and I was pulled from service before the war ended, and it was the hardest thing to leave my crew," said Finch. In Germany the Canadians, and British always got the worst thrown at them, they were put against the top Germany para-troopers in Germany. Finch said that he hated to say it but that the way things are going, "we are going to have more wars, and more are going to go and get killed." In the war, said Finch, I met people who did heroic things, but at the end of the day you were either dead, a prisoner of war or back in bed.

LSIB to host Christmas Bazaar and Health Clinic

by Sherida Crane

On Saturday November 18, 2000 the Lower Similkameen Indian Band (LSIB) is holding a Christmas Bazaar and Health Clinic. The events start at 11AM and go to 6PM at Keremeos Elk's Hall. health nurse will be in attendance for blood pressure and glucose (sugar) level testing. Also on hand will be Native artists, Native artwork & crafts, baked goods, skin care, kid's clothing and much more! Indian Taco's will be served for lunch and for dinner. There will be hourly door prizes and a Christmas raffle with 1st prize being a handmade quilt. For more information, please contact Jacki or Sandy at the LSIB at 250-499-5528.

Destination ImagiNation is a program designed to challenge students to do creative thinking to solve problems. Director Faith Garriock (far right) was in Princeton on Friday to demonstrate to students and parents how the challenges are done and how students can become involved in regional and provincial competitions. Princeton is considering having a team. Above, students at Riverside Intermediate School solve a challenge asking them to move water from one glass into another glass without moving either glass across a taped line. They created a straw and funnel.

Parents question lack of democratic process in Princeton Secondary School

At the November 8 School Board meeting in Princeton, Larry Stoochnoff, Principal at Princeton Secondary School, responded to a concern taken to the Board by the Parents Advisory Council. Parents learned there is no Student Council election at Princeton Secondary, and wanted to know why.

Stoochnoff told the Board and parents that there are 70 to 100 students involved in sports at Princeton Secondary, proof of plenty of student involvement.

"One of the benefits of a small school is that it can provide a lot of student involvement, you don't have to be selective."

Stoochnoff said that every student who wants to be on the Student Council can be involved. Princeton Secondary does not elect students to the Student Council. He made the suggestion that the school could possibly end up with a less active and weaker Student Council if elections were held. At this time, students form their Student Council from a leadership group which selects its own Student Council members.

Board Chair Gordon Comeau stated that the curriculum should model participatory democracy, but a Student Council could be just one aspect of the model.

Trustee Ken Heuser said Grade 8 and 9 students need to be involved.

Parent Advisory member Dayna Brown had heard from two students that they had volunteered for Student Council and found the positions on Student Council were pre-determined.

Councillor Kathy Clement told the Board that, in her opinion, if the members of Student Council were just volunteers, they could form a clique.

Comeau responded by saying they could be a clique if they were elected.

Trustee Bob Westran said students had no interest in having Student Council elections three years ago, and suggested the concept should be revisited annually to see what the students want to do.

Ken Brown, a parent, asked the Board, "If there is no interest, shouldn't we be asking why there's no interest?"

Clement pointed out these students are "nearly the age of majority" and should be learning the democratic process before they vote in major elections. She added, "Students need a voice. Are they aware that the Student Council is their voice?"

Later in the meeting, a student, Nykayla Stevens, arrived to give the student viewpoint. She told the Board she had been very interested in being on Student Council, but had been unable to find out where it met or when it met. She told the Board that students do not know what a Student Council is nor what it does.

Princeton Lions donations go to camp

Princeton Lions Club has been busy in our town. The park in the tunnel area, on Auburn Crescent, now sports a basketball court from donations of $3,916.11.

The Lions Club has donated $2,000 toward the mechanical lift for the disabled that is being installed for use at Centennial Pool and Ponderosa Pool. The Lions Club has supported various other charities in Princeton.

Although Timmy's Telethon has been cancelled, Lions are still collecting funds. Timmy's Telethon cans will be re-labelled to:

Princeton Lions Club. Funds continue to be donated, and the money will go to Camp Winfield, in Winfield, B.C. Camp Winfield is a camp for disabled children to enjoy the experience of going to camp.

Lions Club members hope the community will continue to support the Lions' projects. This Saturday, club members celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of the founding of Princeton Lions Club, and will mark a milestone in the history of outstanding achievement.

Council praises seniors

Councillor Kathy Clement was generous in her praise for local seniors' support for the skateboard park. Commenting at the November 6 Town Council meeting, she mentioned the efforts of June Kolbe, Doreen Sjolander and others who baked and made crafts for sale at the Museum flea market, and noted the efforts of the youth who had raised over $600 for the park.

"The effort of these seniors shows youth that the community really cares," Clement said.

Youth sentenced to probation

A male youth from Princeton appeared in Young Offenders Court in Princeton on November 9 to plead guilty to possession of stolen property. The youth took some tools to a pawn shop to trade for a boom box and another item to another store where he sold the item. The owner of the items identified them as items stolen from his home, and reported their location to the police, who traced the items back to the youth. The youth had a record for break and enter. Crown Counsel recommended a longer period of probation with participation in a residential program, and psychological assessment.

Judge Sinclair said to the youth, "Use the brain between your ears. To get yourself in all this crap for twenty bucks - ridiculous!"

Councillor Dan Sulentic received a certificate of appreciation from the Union of B.C. Municipalities for 25 years of service to his community as a Council member. The presentation was made on October 26 at a luncheon during the UBCM annual convention. Sulentic responded by suggesting long service should be rewarded with a pension, and received a big round of applause.

9. Larry Taylor, Canadian Action Party
10. Teresa Taylor, Marijuana Party

Both Day and Ellis ran in the September 11 by-election. Day was elected, and is leader of the Canadian Alliance Party. Ken Ellis, NDP, is a school teacher from Merritt. Tom Chapman, Liberal, is a wildlife expert who has lived in Okanagan-Coquihalla for more than 30 years. Larry Taylor, Canadian Action Party, is a Penticton business owner. Harry Naegel, Green Party, is an Okanagan resident who has run for the Greens in past elections. Dorothy-Jean O'Donnell, Marxist-Leninist, resides in Clearwater and has a law office in Hope.

Information about the other candidates is not available at this time.

Seniors elect officers

Princeton Senior Citizens held an election of officers on November 8 to serve for 2001. Ray Jarvis was elected President, with First Vice-President Adele MacDonald and Second Vice-President Joseph Dubé. Betty Golovin was elected Secretary and Juanita Huff will serve again as Treasurer.

Five Directors were elected: John Golovin, John Sinclair, Mitchell Johnson, Trixie Bartlett and Isabella Johnson.

The new executive will be installed in December.

Speed limit change

The maximum posted speed on Mayne Avenue will be reduced to 40 kmph. Town Council discussed the lack of uniformity along Mayne. Councillor Kathy Clement wanted the speed limit reduced to 30 kmph, and Councillor Keith Olsen agreed with her. Mayor Randy McLean wanted the speed limit set at 50 kmph but received no support for his position. Councillors Dan Sulentic and Lorne Esselink voted in favour of 40 kmph, and Mayor McLean was left to break the tie with his "yes" vote.

Bzdel has more reviews

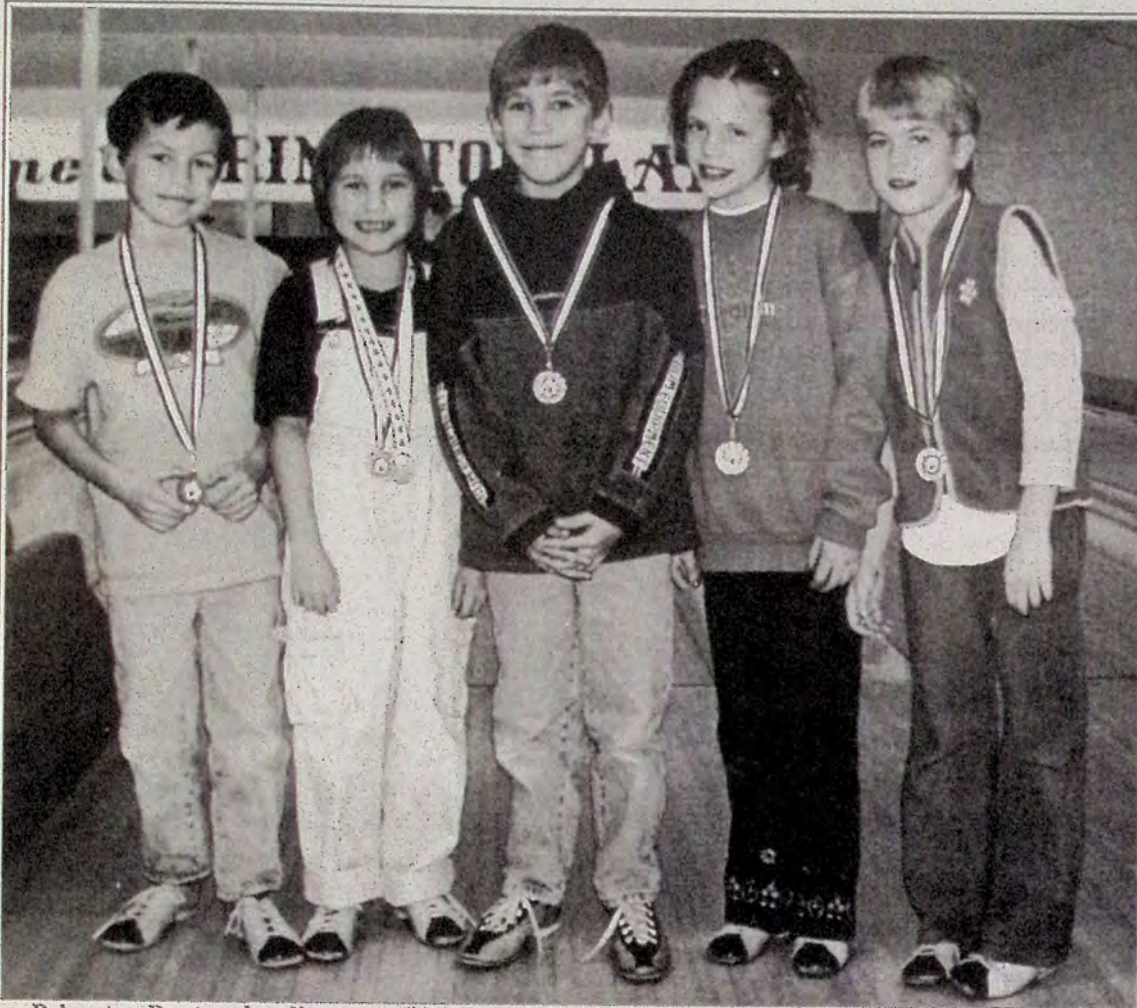

Mark Bzdel appeared before Judge G. Sinclair on November 9 for a review of his behaviour. Bzdel admitted he had not been abiding by conditions he was given for his conduct, and was taken away by the sheriff to "think it over."

Bzdel returned to the courtroom in handcuffs and Judge Sinclair warned him to behave or go to jail. Bzdel's next review will be in February. Bzdel was released on condition he not associate with persons named by his Probation Officer, and not to contact two individuals named by the judge.

Thanking the judge, Bzdel said, as he stepped down from the custody box, "If I don't see you before Christmas, you have a Merry Christmas."

Bantam bowlers bring home silver

Princeton's Bantam bowlers competed in the Frostbite Tournament at Sun Country Bowling Centre in Penticton and came home with medals. Princeton was able to send two mixed teams to the tournament.

Princeton's #1 team placed second in the tournament. Each received a silver medal, and coach Barrie Wright said they bowled extremely well.

Princeton's other team bowled well, but placed tenth out of the twelve teams. Gene Stadler is the coach of this team.

Princeton saw individual winners take medals. Kelci Walton won the girls' high single with handicap, and Jennifer Walton won the

Mayor wants ambulance in same region

Mayor McLean had several remarks to make regarding a recent meeting in Princeton where local citizens expressed their concerns to a representative of the Ministry of Health. He reported at the November 6 meeting of Town Council that the meeting promised better communication between health authorities and more local decision-making.

Councillor Dan Sulentic expressed concern about the rescue truck, and said the province should help fund the truck, as it is important.

Mayor McLean agreed, but said the ambulance service was a topic of concern for all citizens at the meeting.

"If we're going to have a health region where the big hospital is in Kelowna, and the next big hospital is in Penticton, then ambulance service is essential to get people

Mayor Randy McLean

to a major hospital," Mayor McLean stated. "Our ambulance service ought to be in the same health region as our hospitals, and it's not. It is run out of Kamloops. Remote communities need an ambulance service run out of the same health region."

Mayor McLean would like to see lobbying done to have ambulances in the same jurisdiction as other health services, and at the same time as he would lobby for that, he would lobby for funds to support the rescue truck.

Councillor Kathy Clement suggested Council should ask for an update on the condition of the rescue truck and funding for a new truck.

POINTS OF VIEW

OUR VIEW

Education is a question of priorities

There was a shocking contrast between two events this newspaper covered last week. One event was the November 8 school board meeting. The other was Remembrance Day. At the school board meeting, we learned that local students are not interested in holding elections for student council. On Remembrance Day, we honoured those who sacrificed their lives and their youth to preserve the principles of the democratic process.

At the same school board meeting, trustees (who we elected through the democratic process) defended the lack of student council elections on the basis that a group who wanted to be on student council emerged out of leadership classes and many other schools in British Columbia follow this practice. Students are told about student council, but one student tried to become involved and could not find where it met or when. We wonder what the reaction of the school board would be if students were told about mathematics, but never actually experienced doing mathematics unless they showed a lot of interest in doing so. Would the school trustees not be concerned about lack of mathematics skills?

Trustees and the school superintendent talked about the improvement in academic achievement. There is nothing wrong with academic achievement as a school goal, but all the bright students in Canada could not defend democracy if they have had no education in the democratic process, and if that process is not recognized by education authorities as a priority for citizenship. Academic achievement does not replace social principles, ethics and involvement in the fundamental process of democracy.

If our secondary school students are not interested in the democratic process, then we had better find out pretty damned quick how to get them interested, lest they forget. Those who died for democracy should not have died in vain.

We have a pharmacist shortage!

Dear Editor;

Everyone has heard of the doctor and nurse shortage. What hasn't come out is the real shortage of pharmacists in B.C. I am Wen Wong, Pharmasave owner, and I recently attended the annual BC Pharmacist Convention, where this real problem was discussed to try and come up with possible solutions. The consensus of opinion was that there is NO EASY ANSWER.

First of all, not enough pharmacists graduate each year to meet the demand. In B.C. alone there are 180 to 200 vacancies. The Canadian Association of Chain Drug Stores (CADCS) reports 1000 vacancies nationwide.

Second of all, the pharmacists who do graduate each year have plenty of choices, including hospitals, the U.S. (where salaries are higher and taxes lower), drug companies, and university posts such as teaching and research. The remaining graduates seem to want to live in the larger centers, and there are few enticements that can lure them to the smaller towns or the north.

Three solutions that were presented were costly. These include automated computerized dispensing, and interactive telephone refill systems, and centralized adjudication and refill dispensing.

Three other solutions include hiring of more pharmacy technicians (making them do more work), pressing into service retired pharmacists, and restricting pharmacy operating hours.

The public is disappointed in hours restrictions, and retired pharmacists can only continue for such a few more years. Pharmacy owners face a real dilemma. What to do?

Until the shortage is solved, the public may have to put up with reduced pharmacy operating hours and service, a poor option.

Yours truly,

Wen Wong, Princeton.

Look at our choices

Dear Editor:

Here we go again, another election we neither want nor need, an ego trip for a man who wishes to make history by winning three consecutive elections and hopefully have his name on a mountain at a future date. Here we have a man who held up his red book and shouted, "Jobs, jobs, jobs!" while sending all the jobs to Mexico. He promised to get rid of the hated GST and NAFTA and instead gutted "elit care", the EI fund and government workers' pension funds to create a budget surplus. Now for his third term he promises to cut taxes for people who don't need it. Somehow, you just know that this is the first promise he intends to keep.

Unfortunately, the second most popular guy, the leader of the opposition, wants to cut even more taxes than the first guy, all the while increasing the military, the police presence and building more jails. He also says that he will fix health care by providing stable funding but he does not tell us in what stable he will find the funding. In the years that this modern day dinosaur has held office, he has proclaimed that (1) the earth is 6,000 years old - this revelation comes from the Bible (2) he would turn child abusers loose in the general prison population so that the moral convicts could kill them (3) he made a point of patronizing holocaust denier Jim Keegstra's garage because Keegstra is a good mechanic (4) as a religious leader in Alberta, he led parishioners to the local bar where they placed their hands on it and prayed for the walls to collapse.

Seniors want the facts

Dear Editor:

From the residents of Vermilion Court and probably a lot of other seniors: could we please have a listing of the candidates and their parties and their policies. We would like to know their background, their platform and especially their policies re health care. I'm sure most of us do not want a two-tiered system which the Alliance seems to be favouring. Even the Liberals might be heading in that direction. Please enlighten us so we will make a well thought out decision on voting day.

Thank you,
Edith Baird, the Court reporter

Letters to the Editor

Public must be vigilant now

Dear Editor;
I attended a meeting on Nov. 1 in Princeton Health Unit. There was an interesting mix of people there, including a ministry rep, several OSHRB reps, our mayor, doctors, a nurse, Action Committee reps, CHAC reps.

This meeting was a first for our area, and the fact that we sat down together to hear the different perspectives on health services in Princeton was very worthwhile.

My understanding at the end of the meeting was that PGH keeps its acute care beds; however, the problem is the same as it has been for a long time and that is we need full-time nurses to staff these beds. I came away frustrated that more progress has not been made after such a long time - does this mean regionalization is not working for us?

We, the voting taxpayers of Princeton, need to send the message to the Ministry of Health that our health services have not been a priority with OSHRB. It seems, instead, that their priority is that Board employees have their salary increased. This seems very not try to force his beliefs on us, when his record shows otherwise. Voters, you do have a choice, but it's none of the above!

Sincerely,
HPToews, Princeton.

Please return the healers

Dear People of Princeton;
With darkness coming earlier, Halloween, and misused energy, my energy would like to speak to you.

Gratitude to the doctors in this town who have helped me, especially my Dr. Reid, he once told me that the way to heal my pain was to go to school.

I would also like to thank Dr. Joyce Goodrich in New York, and the research doctors in California for opening my gift by involving me in a long distance healing study for AIDS patients.

To the people who believe in my gift, a very special thank you. Also, thank you to Papa for letting me hear "If you have the guts, go for it."

Once again I ask you to help Papa and me to sprinkle our town, the pain that is here, 50 per cent.

Be honest. Could you please return my 40 healers? take to this paper.

Love,
Emy Smith

insensitive when Princeton is still fighting for basic services such as nurses and home support, etc.

Suzanne MacLellan, the Ministry of Health representative, heard some proposals such as different funding formula for rural areas like Princeton that show reasons for higher utilization of acute care beds. This seems in line with a funding proposal she made which takes things other than utilization into consideration. However, what do we do in the meantime and how long will this take and will this new funding filter down to where it is desperately needed?

Open letter to Stockwell Day

Dear Mr. Day;

I am writing this letter in order to ask why some seniors on pension (CPP) and some people on disability (CPP) have to pay income tax.

I know people on disability who have sent the required T2201 tax form and are still forced to pay income tax. They never see their GST cheques because they are kept by the government to cover their income tax payments. Most people on disability, as well as the seniors, have trouble enough paying their bills with the small amount of discretionary funds at their disposal. In addition, many of these people need special diets and are unable to eat healthy enough to live any kind of decent lifestyle.

I am on disability. My T2201 tax

I was pleased to note that Ms. Harkness, the administrator of Princeton General Hospital, has indicated that she will collaborate with doctors and nurses regarding bed numbers, staffing and other decisions that affect staff.

All in all, I think progress was made. I think the Ministry will be made aware that Princeton is a remote rural town that has different needs than other small towns in our region. We, the public, need to continue our vigilance on this issue.

Yours sincerely,
Dina Slowikowski-Campbell

form was accepted but, unfairly, others are not. I also get a diet allowance, but buying food is even more difficult because of the gas increase. My gas bill doubled in one month this year, by the time it gets colder it probably will have tripled.

I would like answers to the following questions:

1. Why are some people's T2201 tax forms accepted and others rejected if they are legitimately on a disability pension?
2. Why do seniors with CPP as their only income have to pay income tax?
3. What are you going to do about the increase in gas prices, and in particular, its effect on low-income citizens?

Sincerely yours,
Beverly Atlas, Princeton

Heart Food

by Dave Machin

Last week, I wrote about truth and defined the word as something which a person may confidently stake his-her life upon through the recognition of or by personal experience. Let's think about this truth. Every human being will one day leave this planet, through an appointment with a thing called death. You will not leave with your body, but your body will remain here, most likely buried in the ground somewhere. The question is, "Where will you be?" Many different religions, and even philosophies, have a great variety of things to offer on this subject. It truth is something recognized by personal experience then no one is really able to give us the assurance that we want or need. Let me throw this out to you. If Jesus, as the Bible declares, rose from the dead and is indeed alive right now, and if He, as the Bible says, loves us, then would He not, through His "personal experience" want us to really know the truth. You might say, "I don't believe in Jesus - He's never talked to me." You, of course, have a free will to believe or not to, however, please allow me to challenge you with this thought. If you will pick up a Bible and begin to read His words in the New Testament, you will find He is talking to you. He is just waiting for you to listen and pay heed to His words. He, through His "personal experience," wants to impart truth to you personally, so you will never have to wonder again about your final destination. I write these things to simply "stir" up your thinking in these areas and by being stirred up, you may come to know the truth for yourself. God is good all the time.

OBITUARIES

MILLER, DAVID JOHN

David John passed away on Wednesday, November 8th, 2000 after a lengthy and courageous 4 year battle with cancer. David was born in Vancouver on November 16th, 1948. He is greatly missed by his family and friends. He is survived by his loving wife Beverly and sons David and Daniel, mother Violet, brother Ken (Karen), brother Doug, sister Dorrie Miller and sister Val (Bob) Miller, and numerous nieces and nephews.

David was employed at Weyerhaeuser for 35 years. He enjoyed camping and fishing and was a dedicated husband and father, son, and brother.

A memorial service will be held on Thursday November 16th, 2000 at 2:00 p.m. at the Princeton Similkameen Funeral Chapel. Family and friends can gather at the Legion Hall for refreshments following the services. In Lieu of flowers please donate to the Princeton General Hospital/Ridgewood Lodge Foundation.

APPRECIATION

We would like to take this opportunity say thank you to the Doctors, Nurses and Staff at the Princeton General Hospital for the excellent care and consideration given to Dave through out his long and valiant struggle with cancer. The respect and dignity shown to Dave cannot be expressed in mere words alone. The gentle and loving care given to Dave made it so much easier for all of us to make his journey so much more comfortable. We sincerely appreciate all of the hard work and diligent efforts from everyone who was involved in Dave's illness. Your kindness and generosity will never be forgotten.
 The Miller Family

APPRECIATION

We wish to show our appreciation to the following people for their help in launching the 'GO' for Skatepark, held at the Museum Flea Market, on November 4th, 2000:
 Ron Armstrong, Marg Beattie, Gayle Comeau, Al & Vi Hill, Mary Johnson, Grace Lawrence, Barb MacDonald, Sue and Scott Michaud, Doreen Sjolander, Vera Subotin, Ruth Vermette and all the "Penny-collecting" students involved. The Skate is 'on its way' but keep helping when possible.
 Thanks,
 LYLE THOMAS, Recreation Director, and J. KOLBE, Senior Citizen

NOTICE TO PARENTS

Parents are reminded that road and/or weather conditions may be such that school buses picking up children may not be able to make their regular scheduled run(s). As much notice as possible will be given over local radio and where necessary, the school will attempt to contact parents by phone. However, when weather conditions are such that buses may be cancelled, parents should ensure that their children do not wait extended time periods at the stop. If parents are leaving home, please ensure that the students have boarded the bus prior to parent departure.

Similarly, parents are reminded that if they are not going to be at home or unable to receive their children when they return home they should make arrangements for their child's/children's care.

Princeton Seniors were treated to free bowling and lunch by Princeton Bowling Centre to show them they can enjoy bowling as a recreational activity. Barrie and Sherry Wright, owners of the bowling centre, say too many seniors think they are too old, or have too many health problems, to allow them to bowl, or they may be afraid they are too old to learn. Wrights say bowling is fun and it's good exercise.

The high price of prescription drugs

by Ben Swankey, Consultant, B.C. Old Age Pensioners Organization.

Did you know that the single most expensive item in our health care system is prescription drugs? And that they are costing us even more than doctors or hospitals?

We're being gouged by the pharmaceutical industry which on a world scale is dominated by a small number of huge corporations. The prices charged by these corporations has little to do with cost. They are based on the maximum price the market will stand.

In Canada, prescription drugs amounted to 8.7 per cent of the health care costs in the 1970s. Today the figure is 16.2 per cent. How did this come about?

It started in 1993 when the Mulroney government passed Bill C-91 which gave the pharmaceutical industry a 20-year monopoly on brand name drugs. (It has been well-established that it takes only four years on the average for a drug company to recover the costs of research on a new drug.)

The purpose of this bill was to keep out the growing Canadian generic drug industry which could and did produce drugs of equal quality that sold at half the price charged by the pharmaceuticals. Pressure to pass Bill C-91 came from the international pharmaceutical industry and the Mulroney government caved in to the pressure. The OAPO and senior groups across Canada under the leadership of the Canadian Health Coalition campaigned strongly against Bill C-91. We had the support of the majority of Canadians, but the government just ignored us.

Shortly after the Mulroney government despite massive opposition endorsed the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) which included a clause similar to Bill C-91.

The Mulroney government also established the Patent Medicines Prices Review Board. Its alleged purpose was to control the price of drugs. It was a face; in practice it acted just the opposite.

The inevitable result was to increase the cost of medicare by hundreds of millions of dollars a year, and drain away money that could have been used to maintain hospital beds, hire nurses and reduce waiting lists.

The federal government led by Jean Chretien did not correct this situation.

In the meantime, the World Trade Organization (WTO) has made things worse by extending the 20 year monopoly to 23 years on many drugs.

During the federal election campaign, where health care quickly emerged as the main concern of Canadians, we did our best to make all parties and all candidates aware of how we felt about price gouging by the pharmaceutical industry. We joined the Canadian Health Coalition in proposing that:

- The prices of all medicines and drugs be placed under public control.
- Establish a drug approval process that will protect Canadians against harmful drugs and which is publicly accountable.
- Enforce the existing ban on drug advertising.
- Establish a national universal pharmacare (drug) plan to replace the current patchwork of provincial plans.

This is an effort that will continue after the elections no matter who forms the next government.

Douglas Ronald Letendre appeared in Provincial Court in Princeton on November 1 to plead guilty to two counts under Section 271 of the Canada Criminal Code. He was sentenced to four months in jail, three years probation with conditions, and a 10-year firearms prohibition.

ONE DAY ONLY!Council okays alley closure

An alley located between Lachine Avenue and Riverside Avenue on Allison Flats will be closed at one end to allow the expansion of Mary Ann Apartments to connect with Mary Ann Court. Princeton and District Community Services sent the request to Council, and Council decided to allow the closure as long as emergency vehicles and utilities services could have access.

Council checks landfill operation

Councillor Keith Olsen, who is responsible for matters pertaining to the landfill operation, reported to Council on November 6 that he had done an inspection at the landfill to see how the new operator was handling the job. He expressed satisfaction, and said he was "extremely impressed with the work done." He added that the recycling people working at the site seem to be pleased with what is being done by the new operator. Mayor Randy McLean said he had inspected the landfill operation, and found improvement. He suggested the next step is negotiating a recycling agreement, which would require working with Regional District. He added that tipping fees seem likely in the future.

PeeWees triumph in first-of-season home tournament

by Steve LePoidevin

Princeton arena was the site of action-packed metal on ice as the Princeton PeeWee team hosted their first tournament of the season the weekend of November 4 and 5. The visiting teams were Penticton, Langley, Lumby, Surrey, Cloverdale, Clearwater and Lillooet.

The battle began at 8:00 Saturday morning as the Princeton Flyers took on the Penticton Sharks. Penticton opened the scoring with an early goal but Princeton quickly retaliated with two great goals by Chantelle Vermette, both assisted by Lewis Smith, to bring the score to 2-1 by the end of the first period. Back and forth action through second period came to an end with a breakaway short-handed goal by Josh Scarpelli. Two more goals in the last period by Kevin Blank and Patrick LePoidevin brought the numbers to 5-1. Penticton came back with a quick goal near the end of the game to finish with a score of 5-2.

At 2:00 p.m. the same day, after a short rest, Princeton was up against Surrey. It was obvious from the start this was going to be a fast-paced game. In the first period, Kevin Blank came up short as he rang one off the post

Tulameen wonders "Will Works Yard close?"

by Anne M. Passey

Residents of Tulameen attending the monthly meeting of Tulameen Community Club expressed great concern over a rumour suggesting the Highways Department Works Yard in Tulameen might close.

"We get little enough service now!" one resident complained. "If they close our works yard, we'll never see them!"

There was great concern regarding snow removal if the yard closed.

"Will an ambulance be able to make it out to Tulameen if necessary?"

"Will we be able to get to Princeton in an emergency?"

Residents were urged to write to Highways Minister Harry Lali to express their concerns.

on a rushing pass from Josh Scarpelli but Surrey scored twice. Soon into the second period, Surrey scored again, but this was to be their last kick at the can. Princeton went on to win the game 7-3.

They still had to play Langley before they could go home. Princeton closed down the arena with a game at 8:00 p.m. The Princeton Flyers had almost flown enough for one day. Despite a hat trick by Jake Greening, and goals by Lewis Smith and Nigel Mack, Langley went on to win the game 8-5.

After a day's rest, Princeton played their final game of the weekend late Sunday afternoon against Cloverdale. Early in the first period, Adam Dunford opened the scoring for Princeton. Great netminding by Tanner Gunn and Rylan Mogge and outstanding defense defused the opposition's attempts. The Flyers went on to win the game 6-3.

One or two players were selected from each team as Player of the Game for each match. Princeton selections were Rylan, Jake, Chantelle, Beau and Kevin.

Weekend scorers were as follows: Jake (7 goals, 5 assists), Kevin (4 goals, 3 assists), Chantelle (3 goals, 3 assists), Lewis (1 goal, 5 assists), Patrick (2 goals), Nigel (1 goal), Adam (1 goal) Beau Wilkinson (3 assists), Daniel Wanner (2 assists), Luke Pusell and Rylan (1 assist each).

The team is grateful to its tournament sponsors from the community: MacLind Logging, Mohawk, Overwaitea, Chevron, Princeton RediMix, Subway, 2 for 1 Pizza, Forget-Me-Not Antiques, Princeton Bakery, Radio Shack, Gold Water Florists, Game Time Sports.

The great turnout of all the parents and fans helped make the tournament a success.

Communities share wood worry

There is a lot of concern among resource communities in British Columbia regarding the upcoming softwood lumber tariff negotiations. Mayor Randy McLean met recently with mayors of resource communities during the annual Union of BC Municipalities. They listened to eight different speakers, and softwood lumber drew a lot of attention.

"There's a lot of work to be done to get Canada a better deal," Mayor McLean told Council.

Laine Westran wears her University of British Columbia women's hockey team jersey so Dad can take a photo.

Sherwood Maiden plays hockey for UBC team

Laine Westran, a graduate of Princeton Secondary School in 1999, is playing hockey for the University of British Columbia women's team. She took a year off, last year, to focus on her studies and make sure she could succeed academically. This year, she was among 30 women who tried out for the hockey team, and among the 18 women selected. She does not play every game but it is still very demanding.

The team plays Calgary, Lethbridge, and Regina. In a game against Calgary, the U.B.C.

team won one game and lost one.

Westran played hockey in Princeton for many years, and was one of the top players on the local women's team called The Sherwood Maidens.

"She's playing a high level of hockey," says her father, Bob Westran. "She has to work hard, especially after a year off."

Those who know Laine's competitive spirit and high energy level also know she will work hard and soon be as valuable to the U.B.C. team as she was to The Sherwood Maidens.

Timberline Cruisers plan winter fun outings

Princeton - Timberline Cruisers held their first meeting of the snowmobile season, and complained there was still no snow. Somebody must have heard, as snow fell all the next day.

Two guests from other clubs attended, one from the Kootenays and one from the Whistler area.

The first item of business was the fee structure. Due to new regulations requiring that children have insurance coverage, the new fees are: single - $30, couple - $50 and $8 for each child.

The club thanked Reicherts for the opportunity to be part of their Open House, so they could sell memberships. The total number of members last year was 94, but a high percentage of these members do not live in the area, they merely snowmobile here.

The club has received trail maps from B.C. Forest Service recreation division, and there was a lot of discussion about various kinds of snow groomers and costs for each. The club intends to groom the major access roads but not all of the offshoot trails. Members will review the maps and see if the maps define what the club wants.

The Sno-X 2001 was discussed. There will be cash only for winners this year, as adults do not want trophies. Sno-X will be on January 20 & 21.

The club had few outings last year due to lack of snow. This year, a committee will bring a proposed schedule of outings to the December meeting. A newsletter to advise members was proposed.

The need for a winter survival course was a topic all agreed was important. Members felt there had been needless loss of life in some areas and do not want to see it here. The idea was to train members on what to do in emergency situations. They are looking for a person to instruct them.

The visitor from the Kootenays concluded the meeting with a demonstration of specialized equipment that can save lives in an avalanche situation. Members asked for a lot of details about how the equipment worked, and what costs were involved.

Field Naturalists enjoy field trip in snow

by Joan Kelly

Saturday was a wet morning but by zero hour, the "hole in the sky where the sun always shines over Princeton" prevailed.

We began our "Mystery Field Trip", led by Ken and Kathy Yingling, by turning off the Merritt Highway at the Hornet Lakes Forestry Service road, not far beyond Allison Lake.

A 10 minute drive, gaining steady elevation, brought us to Loosemore Lake, where the vehicles were parked.

It was a very pleasant, easy stroll around the lake, then we followed the pipeline. As we were walking, large snowflakes were falling, and we all enjoyed walking in the first snowfall of the season.

On returning to Loosemore Lake, our leaders lit a wonderful, warming fire to enjoy while we had our lunch.

We watched two skeins of Canada geese, over a hundred in each skein, getting into formation for the flight south. It is always sad to see them go.

We stopped at Dry Lake to observe four Tundra swans.

Saturday, November 18, is the date of the next field trip. Phone Linda at 295-7013.

Next meeting of Vermilion Forks Field Naturalists is Monday, November 19, at 7:00 p.m., at the Skills Centre. Guest speaker is Bill Cutfield giving a presentation about Birds of Eastern Canada.

The Garden Hackle expert

by John Sandness, Similkameen Valley outdoorsman

I am not a purist. What's a purist? Webster's - rigid adherence to, or insistence on, purity or nicety.....

My definition is one applying to fishing. Traditionally, a fly fisherman only, not one who tosses hardware, trolls, or uses bait.

I was talking with a Princeton fisherman, a real veteran. He shares many of my opinions, not all of course, but many on the subject of trout fishing. So I am going to devote this column to what we talked about - Trout Talk.

If I had one season a year to fish, it would be the fall. John agrees with me. He told me, "This is the best time to fish our local lakes."

I have written a column previously about fall fishing, but briefly repeating my reasons, they are: beautiful weather, big fish, no competition to speak of, as many fishermen are hunting, and the fish are hungry.

John and I (we share that most common male first name) love to fly fish, but John can't anymore due to a bad shoulder. This won't allow casting the fly, so he is restricted to the less active (for the shoulder) type of "garden hackle" fishing.

Did you know this type of fishing has been developed in Europe to an art? They use tackle in Britain and Ireland every bit as refined as a dry fly fisherman in North America! In fact, if it weren't for garden hackle (the lowly earthworm), there would be many in Europe who could not fish. Trout are not able to live in many of the polluted waters of highly industrialized Europe. There, baiting fish is the only fishing.

Back to Princeton now. John has been having the best fishing of the year this fall. He and his partner Russ Bernard, caught seven Kamloopers one Saturday. She ranged from one pound to three pounds. The following day, he caught another of three pounds. Those are excellent fish anywhere and anytime, especially in the heavily fished Allison Lake.

John has a recipe for his bait. It involves garlic. The Berkley Power bait uses some of the same ingredients John has used for 20 years. This Princeton veteran soaks bacon fat in garlic and the result is deadly on trout. You can get a sample from John, if you are out at Allison when he is there with his partner. He is very open about his methods of catching trout. I appreciate a man who shares so others can enjoy the sport.

Next week: Tips on Bait Fishing.

PETER'S ACTIVITY NO. 1
How much electricity do the following appliances use?
(Check the nameplate. Remember 1 kilowatt = 1,000 watts)

- Your bedroom light _____ watts (_____ kilowatts)
- Your bathroom light _____ watts (_____ kilowatts)
- Your clock radio _____ watts (_____ kilowatts)
- Your electric toaster _____ watts (_____ kilowatts)

PETER'S ACTIVITY NO. 2
We know that large cars use more fuel than small cars. Well, it's the same for electrical appliances. A large appliance, such as a refrigerator, uses more electricity than a small appliance, like an iron. To calculate the amount of electricity an appliance uses, multiply the wattage by the length of time it operates. For example: If the light bulb in your bathroom used 100 watts and it is on for 10 hours, it consumes:
100 watts x 10 hours = 1,000 watt hours of electricity = 1 kilowatt hour (kWh)

- A 600 watt coffee percolator operating for 1 hour. _____ kWh (kilowatt-hours)
- A 100 watt electric iron operating for 30 minutes _____ kWh (kilowatt-hours)
- A 200 watt VCR operating for 6 hours _____ kWh (kilowatt-hours)
- A 100 watt stereo operating for 2 1/2 hours _____ kWh (kilowatt-hours)

Thanks for joining me and my friend, Professor Meter. We hope you've had fun learning about electricity.
