Wow! What a weekend!

— Air Show, rockhounds, rodeo, ball games and Young Life launches ranch youth camp!

Young Life breaks ground for camp

Young Life takes big step toward youth camp

Rockridge Canyon is the official name of the former Willis Ranch, and it was a tent village on the weekend as hundreds went to see the ranch and the site for the Young Life of Canada youth camp. Four large tents provided a food preparation and mess hall area, a congregation area, and a 'time out' area for children. The visitors camped in small tents and motor homes, and the entire scene was of sharp contrast with the tents on the pasture in front of the ranch house, barn and corrals full of cattle.

The official groundbreaking ceremony was held at the site where the youth camp will be built, about one kilometre east of the ranch house on a slope facing south. A crowd gathered at the site, sitting on the slope above where the groundbreaking took place, using the natural shape of the land for an auditorium.

The ceremony began with a song "Great is Thy Faithfulness" followed by an opening prayer.

Hedley Museum Society 'adopts' Cenotaph

by Patty Harrower

Hedley - A group of approximately 60 townspeople attended a public meeting held April 23rd at the Old Age Pensioners' Hall to decide the fate of the Hedley Cenotaph, located at the end of Scott Avenue.

A few citizens were in favour of relocating it to Woodlie Park, owned by the Community Club. The Cenotaph has been the victim of vehicle damage, and they believe the park is a safer location.

A motion that the Hedley Heritage Museum "adopt" the Cenotaph and provide insurance for it passed with a majority of townspeople's support. The Cenotaph will stay at its present location.

Following the meeting, a sub-committee was formed for the purpose of repairing the town monument in memory of those who lost their lives in two world wars.

The Similkameen Valley has had quite a Victoria Day weekend! There was no end of things to do and people doing them. Princeton welcomed three large groups, one for the remote control precision flying competition, one for the rockhounds rendezvous, and the biggest group, Young Life of Canada, who launched the construction of their youth camp at the former Willis Ranch. Hedley had a ball tournament and Keremeos had a rodeo, gymkhana, antique tractor pull, and a big parade Monday morning. What a great weekend!

Dave Chutter wins landslide

Liberal candidate Dave Chutter swept Yale-Lillooet with an outstanding lead over New Democratic Party candidate Victor York and the others trailed further behind.

"I want to say thanks for the great support and for the volunteers who helped for the past few months," Chutter told the News Leader. "I also want to thank the voters for the excellent turnout. It's nice to have a clear mandate."

Chutter and his supporters spent election evening at a meeting room in a hotel in Merritt, where they watched the election on television and socialized.

"In my opinion," he said, "people are smiling a little brighter than they were before the election."

Chutter's first task is to attend a Liberal Party meeting in Victoria on May 22, as the winners prepare to form the new government. He plans to divide his time between Merritt, where his home is located, and Victoria. He wants to set up a constituency office as soon as possible, and to be accessible to his constituents.

Travelling around Yale-Lillooet is in his plans, but he says his duties at the Legislature will take top priority in the next few months as the Liberals work to fulfill their promises to the voters. For election results, see Page 2.....

Rash of B & E disturbs RCMP

Sometime between 1:00 a.m. and 2:00 a.m. on May 16, someone broke into Stedmans on Bridge Street and stole three tents. A rock was used to break the front window.

On May 17, Princeton RCMP responded to a break and enter at the Highways Maintenance Yard where a telephone, some hats and money were stolen from several offices. A pocket watch shaped like a fish was taken from one of the graders.

On May 18, Princeton RCMP attended a break and enter at the Elks Hall on Third Street in Princeton. A General Electric 4-head VCR belonging to New Beginnings drop-in centre was stolen.

There have been an increased number of break and enter crimes over the past few months in Princeton and the RCMP are asking the public to assist in keeping watch if they are out at night and report any suspicious occurrences by contacting Princeton RCMP at 295-6911. If they have any information regarding any of these crimes call Princeton RCMP or call CrimeStoppers.

Keremeos historian passes on

Wallace "Wally" Liddicoat died suddenly on May 15 in Penticton Regional Hospital as a result of an aortic aneurism.

Wally was well-known across North America for his expertise in the construction of water wheels and grist mills. He developed an interest in grist mills as a result of his passion for history, and Keremeos has one of the few functioning grist mills in North America. He wrote a detailed book on the subject, called Waterwheels in the Service of British Columbia Pioneers, and was consulted by interested persons from across the continent.

Wally was an active member of the Okanagan Historical Society, and in the past two years worked hard to stimulate more active members in the Similkameen Valley. He was well-respected for his knowledge of local history

Where's the beef? On the golf course!

Princeton RCMP received a complaint on May 16 from the owners of the former Willis ranch on Darcy Mountain Road in the Princeton area. The owners have had problems with fences being cut at the first cattle guard on Copper Mountain Road, where 4 X 4 vehicles entered the property. It appears there were paintball games played on the property.

This property is privately owned and anyone caught trespassing can be charged.

Due to the fences having been cut, cattle are crossing onto the new golf course property (no bull, there's beef on the back nine!).

Anyone with any information about who is cutting the fence is asked to call Princeton RCMP at 295-6911.

to introduce them as Princeton "friends" of Young Life, then asked Mayor McLean to speak.

Mayor McLean said, "Once in awhile, things come along in your community to change the way things have been. We will miss the Willis Ranch, but if we had a choice for change, this couldn't be a better one."

People brought forward tools to help with the building project, then Dr. Werener Pankratz, Board Chair for Young Life, spoke of what the ranch means to him, saying it is "holy ground." He said he wanted a camp with a "Canadian identity" and Rockridge Canyon would fill that role.

Hal Merwald said the camp will give "more kids the opportunity to have the best week of their lives" and added, "Once we put the shovel in the ground, there's no turning back."

Many people had an opportunity to turn a spade of soil to launch construction of the camp, which is expected to host 400-500 youth per week when it is operating.

Trevor Ball, a 1989 Princeton Secondary School graduate, has earned his Bachelor of Science in Natural Resources and Forestry from the University of British Columbia. He is employed in his career of choice and working toward becoming a Registered Professional Forester.

Youth Ambassadors and 2001 candidates presented an entertaining fashion show. Above, the grand finale showing their costumes depicting a famous person from history.

Ambassadors host fashion cruise

A nautical theme highlighted Princeton Youth Ambassador candidates and Ambassadors' fashion show on May 17.

Candice Low is Student of the Month at Princeton Secondary School. She is in Grade 12, headed for film school at Capilano College. She was nominated for her efforts in coaching other students, being helpful to younger students, and for helping with the Family Fair. She received an electronic organizer as a prize.

Mistress of Ceremonies Lori Thomas invited everyone to join them on a cruise ship where the young people modeled 'cruise' outfits. They modeled clothing from Work World, Fields, Anna's Closet, and Hospital Auxiliary Thrift Shop. As a final parade of fashions, they put together a costume which might have been worn by a famous person in history. The present Ambassadors were light-hearted in their choice of characters. Mr. Ambassador David Bell was Peter Pine!

Laurie Thomas sang "I'll Be There" and the school choir harmonized "St. Louis Blues", and Princeton Highland Dancers performed the sailor's hornpipe and Irish Magic, for a slate of great entertainment.

One of the features was a loonie auction for floral prizes donated by Flowers in Motion, Western Farm and Garden, Princeton Pet Supplies, Overwaitea and Kevin Acres. The bidding was lively. The evening was sponsored by A & W of Princeton.

Council approves petitions

by Patty Harrower

Keremeos - A number of petitions set before Village Council were approved at the regular meeting held Monday May 7th.

Council approved a request by Music Under The K organizers for rent-free use of Victory Hall in case of rain. Chairs will be provided for the event. Council also approved rent-free use of the Hall by the Lower Similkameen Indian Band Administration for a community workshop.

Concern for the safety of citizens walking to the Health Clinic prompted discussion with Ministry of Highways about the installation of a sidewalk on 7th Avenue between 3rd and 4th Streets. Council asked Highways for a crosswalk on 7th avenue at 3rd Stret.

Council received a letter from the Vice-Principal of Similkameen Elementary-Secondary School requesting permission to use cut-out signs of children to enhance the existing crosswalk warning signs. Permission was granted. Council received a letter from ICBC granting approval of the installation of yellow ribbons on School Zone signs.

The antique tractor pull was interesting, despite blustery weather and the odd shower of liquid sunshine. The show drew a good crowd. Above, Bill McHenry does a full pull, 250 feet, on a 1940's John Deere ("the old Deere") in the 3,000 pound division on Saturday afternoon. The weather was not the best for Keremeos Rodeo weekend, but plenty of people came to town for the fun anyway.

and his meticulous compiling of historical facts.

Wallace Liddicoat was the second son of William and Frances Liddicoat of Keremeos, early settlers in the area. Wally was born in a house owned by Mrs. Tweddle, who was midwife on the occasion in November, 1919. The Liddicoats had two other sons, Art of Keremeos and Alfred of New Westminster. Wally had two sisters, Freda Webb of Kelowna and Frances Peck, of Keremeos.

He spent his early life in Keremeos, then joined the army at the outbreak of World War II. He was in the Signal Corps. Following the end of the war, he worked in and industrial X-ray business in the Vancouver area. He later moved on to work in the space industry, residing in Los Angeles but working "somewhere in the desert" according to his sister, Frances.

Wally was pre-deceased by his wife, Evelyn. They had five children, two daughters, Shery of Williams Lake and Charlene of Kelowna, and three sons, Len of Princeton, David of Penticton, and Steven of Yakima, Washington.

His funeral service will be held May 27 at the Grist Mill, a historic site Wally made famous through his writing about it. He loved the old mill and promoted it as a heritage site.

Elks, volunteers worked hard

The annual rodeo, gymkhana, and second year antique tractor pull presents a real challenge to the South Similkameen community, as well as to Keremeos Elks Lodge. It was good to see so many people had volunteered and to the crowd it appeared everything was going well. This means there were enough people to iron out any problems that arose.

There was plenty to do in the valley this weekend, and there was plenty of traffic on the highway. Undoubtedly, the big event benefited many businesses in the area, making the efforts of the Elks and their volunteers worthwhile. Often, people forget the good side of all of the hard work - it means a lot, and made a great start to the tourist season.

Valley garbage collector quits - residents are angry!

by Patty Harrower

Keremeos - A decision by the Keremeos Solid Waste Committee to change their policy of after hours access to the landfill has resulted in termination of residential garbage pick-up service provided by local refuse hauler, Martin Brady.

Landfill hours of operation have been adjusted in order to meet the new Ministry of Environment (MOE) Landfill Regulations, specifically that garbage deposited at the landfill be covered each day that garbage is deposited there. The landfill will now operate 4 days per week, (Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday) from noon until 4:00 p.m. Changes in after hours access has been delayed until June 7 to allow Brady time to implement any schedule changes necessary to continue providing service.

Brady feels he cannot continue providing residential service within the new operating hours unless he can continue to have after hours access. Brady stated he still has a key, but feels the landfill owners do not want him to use it, so he will not, despite their permission to do so until June 7.

He says, "The area I cover is too big to be able to work within those hours, and they told me if I couldn't, someone else would."

Brady had been servicing the entire area between Keremeos, Cawston and Hedley. Brady said he purchased radio air time and space in the local paper to inform customers of his decision to stop providing residential garbage pick-up.

Keremeos residents are extremely unhappy with the Solid Waste Committee. They feel the Committee should have had a public meeting for input from the people about their concerns.

One resident says, "We don't get anything for our tax dollar anyway. The garbage pick-up service fills a void and employs a local guy. If changes need to be made, they should try a little harder to work with him. I can't believe this is the best they can do."

The biggest concern appears to be that a local citizen is "being forced out of work due to government interference." Another resident says, "we are happy with who we have, they should let him keep his job and tell the other bloke not to poke his nose in our business. Let Martin keep the key. He's a good worker and keeps himself off welfare."

When asked if they would be willing to pay more for the landfill to remain open longer hours, one resident stated, "the government already gets plenty of money to be able to afford to pay for any extra hours without taking more money out of the pockets of the people."

Brady plans to continue providing service to his commercial customers.

Students graduate from D.A.R.E.

Two Grade 5 classes, from John Allison Elementary School and Vermilion Forks Elementary School, enjoyed a celebration to mark the conclusion of their D.A.R.E. program. They gathered at the Skills Centre on May 15 to receive their certificates and the applause of parents, grandparents, teachers and community members.

RCMP Constable Bryce Petersen, the instructor, welcomed guests Mayor Randy McLean, School Superintendent Bob Peacock, School Board Chair Gordon Comeau, RCMP Sgt. Tom Payne, Cpl. Sam Fettick, Cpl. Russ Pederson (Rotary), school counsellor L. Fisher and Princeton Lions Club. All these people were involved in some way with the 17 week anti-drug, anti-violence program known as D.A.R.E.

Sgt. Payne spoke briefly, saying D.A.R.E. is a "very valuable program." He added that the Princeton detachment hopes to have two local constables trained to instruct the D.A.R.E. program.

Each student, at the end of the program, is required to write an essay about how they will stay drug-free and violence-free, making a commitment meant to last a lifetime. From all of the essays, two were chosen from each Grade 5 class to read their essays to the crowd. From John Allison Elementary, Daralynn Ballard and Brian Shewchuk read their essays, then Cody Avery and Deanna Wong read their essays. Each of these students was awarded a medal.

Students performed brief skits illustrating lessons they had learned about how to say "no" to drugs, alcohol and smoking.

Cst. Petersen recognized three Princeton Secondary School students who are "role models" to the D.A.R.E. program students. They are Aleena Lay, Stacey Lay and Justin Gee. Each received a Role Model Pin.

To the principals of both schools, Steve McNiven and Barry Clark, Cst. Petersen presented D.A.R.E. golf shirts in recognition of their support for the program.

Dave Brum and Sandi Blair, Grade 5 classroom teachers, received pins shaped like apples that said, "D.A.R.E. teachers care."

Cst. Peterson thanked everyone for attending the graduation and special thanks to the Skills Centre for providing the facilities.

Arc On Mount Carmel, Israel

by Laurel Arnold

Noah's Ark offered hope for the survival of humanity; the Arc of buildings, gardens and terraces just completed on Mount Carmel in Haifa Israel expresses confidence in the peaceful future of humanity. Constructed mostly over the last ten years, and built to last hundreds of years, this paradise of gleaming white marble buildings, gardens, terraces, fountains and running streams has transformed this historic mountain, held sacred by many traditions. The project was funded by voluntary contributions from members of the worldwide Baha'i community, now numbering over five million, who believe that all religions are one and mankind is one family.

At 9:00 pm, May 22nd and 23rd, and at 12 Noon May 23rd and 24th, Vision TV will broadcast two one-hour specials on the opening of the terraces that surround the Shrine of the Bab, one of the most important holy places for Baha'is, and a well-known symbol of the city of Haifa. The event will also be webcast on www.bahai.org. Thousands of representatives from nearly every ethnic group and nationality in the world, many in brilliant traditional costume, will attend. For more information on the Baha'i Faith call 1-800-433-3284.

INVESTMENT INSIGHTS

By John Vaccaro Financial Consultant for Merrill Lynch and Greg Stewart Associate Financial Consultant for Merrill Lynch

Equities: The Superior Long-Term Investment

As recent history can attest, stock markets experience their ups and downs. Yet despite periods of turmoil and volatility - whether caused by recession, inflation, interest-rate changes or political uncertainty - stock markets have historically kept moving on to new highs. Thus, the potential benefits of equity ownership.

Equity ownership allows you to participate in corporate success. As part owner of a company, you benefit from the growth in value of the corporation - as management achieves greater profitability and either reinvests profits in the business or pays them out as dividends.

Of all three asset classes - equities, fixed income, and cash and cash equivalents - equities have historically provided superior capital appreciation over the long term. In fact, equities have outperformed every other class of financial assets over almost every long-term period, regardless of the starting year. The only obvious exception was in the early 1980s when the return on bonds benefited from the abnormally high interest rates that prevailed in that decade.

Having said that, it bears repeating that when it comes to equities, a long-term strategy proves most effective. In short, time moderates the impact of short-term fluctuations in the stock market. What else should you know? Consider the following:

- Diversification reduces the inherent risk of owning only one or two stocks. This essential requirement for successful investing can be achieved by spreading holdings geographically, as well as across different security types, sectors and industries - and also by investing in an appropriate number of individually selected securities.

- Stocks can offset the ravages of inflation, which, although quiescent for now, remains a longer-term threat.

- The reinvestment of dividends, often possible through Dividend Reinvestment Plans (DRIPs), can also significantly boost the total returns on successful equity investments over the long term.

For investors adhering to a conservative, long-term, buy-and-hold investment strategy, stocks have proven to be a superior way to preserve and create wealth. So what's the next step? You should start by speaking with a Financial Consultant (Advisor) who can help you determine if equities are suitable for you and your investment portfolio.

Student makes new friends in B.C. - Manitoba student exchange

by D.J. Wilson (age 12)

I wanted to let everyone know that I had the opportunity to be one of four children from Princeton to participate in the YMCA Youth Exchange Program of Canada.

My journey began on Wednesday, May 2. We drove to Merritt where we met with other native youths and then to Vancouver to meet all the kids from Manitoba. We stayed three days at the Rosedale Hotel in downtown Vancouver. It had 21 floors and we were on the ninth (wow!). I would like to thank everyone there for not throwing our stuff into the street when we got a little wild.

We rode the Skytrain to Surrey, visited the Longhouse at UBC, shopped in Metrotown and took the tram up to Grouse Mountain at night, where we watched a film. We had a snowball fight and then we saw the most spectacular sight we had seen. Lit up before us was the city of Vancouver. We toured Chinatown, Gastown and went on a tour of the Port of Vancouver. We watched them unload ships and process fish (the last requires a really stuffy nose).

We arrived in Merritt Friday night and were greeted at the Merritt Civic Centre with a huge feast and entertained by native dancers and drummers.

Saturday was spent at the Douglas Lake Reserve. One hundred and fifty wild horses were rounded up. Awesome! We did some horseback riding and had a great cookout at the corrals. Sunday was spent at the Nicola Ranch and we spent the day with our host families. I stayed with Martha Chillihitza, who I shall always remember.

On Monday, we were off to Hedley to see the pictographs. Tuesday was spent at the Aquatic Centre and then to Kamloops for a baseball game.

On Wednesday morning, I awoke to find myself covered by toothpaste. It seems that our new friends from Manitoba wanted to say good-bye (thank goodness no one had thought about all that stuff in the pastures). We said our temporary good-byes as the students from Manitoba left for Kamloops to fly home and we made our way back to Princeton.

On May 30, Quentin Lightfoot, Brett Patrick, Brian Lewis and I will fly to Manitoba. Then we will go by plane, train and automobile heading to Easterville, Robertsville, hunting and fishing in polar bear country (I hope they don't like the smell of toothpaste). I would like to say a special "thank you" to the YMCA, my chaperone Christine Squakin, and everyone involved, for giving me the chance of discovery within myself.

Making Waves is lots of fun

Local students age nine to 14 are invited to participate in Weyerhaeuser's Making Waves Community Spirit Program. Eight Princeton children can be introduced to the benefits of becoming active volunteers in their community, and will be rewarded for their volunteer efforts with a one-week trip to Silver Lake Forest Education Society's summer camp.

The volunteer work will be on the Trans Canada Trail. They will work for four hours on three separate outings, beginning this weekend. To apply, students must complete an application form available at the Weyerhaeuser office, John Allison and Vermilion Forks and Riverside schools. Weyerhaeuser will randomly select candidates by conducting a draw from the eligible applications entered by May 25 by leaving forms at the schools.

Last year, youngsters in the Weyerhaeuser Making Waves program worked on Weyerhaeuser's portion of the Trans Canada Trail, then went to Silver Lake camp for a week of fun. Above, Weyerhaeuser's Making Waves organizer, Jody Rhodes, and his own kids working on the trail last year. It is fun!

Speed and precision in flight are the trademark of remote control flying competitions like the one held in Princeton on the long weekend. The photo above shows the size of these airplanes. Wayne Powell, left, of Victoria, has the remote control gear. It is suspended from his shoulders with metal bars that hook over the shoulder, keeping the remote contro "table" steady. Paul Bedford, of Vancouver, at right, shows the wing size in relation to a man's height. These airplanes achieve a 500 foot altitude and perform breathtaking stunts at high speed, but must follow a prescribed pattern and stay with a designated area marked out on the ground, called a "box." The meet went well, and drew a good crowd when the sun was shining. The Girl Guides provided spectators with "eats." Princeton organizer of this and other air events is Steve Kovacs.

Guard against water-borne disease

Water could make you sick.

People with weakened immune systems should take extra precautions with drinking water, particularly in communities with surface water supplies. Both Princeton and Keremeos obtain their water from wells, but there are many communities that depend on reservoirs fed by surface run-off. During the summer months, when water supplies run short, Princeton draws some of its water from Tulameen River. It is chlorinated, but this does not remove all of the danger of one serious water-borne disease called cryptosporidiosis. It would be commonly called 'stomach flu' or dysentery.

Take precautions

Most communities in British Columbia are on surface water supply, including Vancouver and Victoria. When travelling, avoid drinking water except from approved bottled water. Bottled water labelled as "Absolute" 1 micron or smaller, or labelled as meeting ANSI/NSF International Standard #53 for cyst removal are acceptable. The same standards apply to household filters for drinking water.

How it spreads

Cryptosporidiosis spreads from person to person and from pets to people. It is important to wash hands thoroughly after going to the toilet or changing diapers, prior to eating or preparing food, and after touching farm animals or pets. This is particularly important for food handlers.

Swimming pools

Children in diapers and persons with diarrhea should not use public swimming pools and beaches. Swimming pools in which fecal accidents occur should be closed until clean-up measures are completed.

Children

Teach children the above rules, and make sure they understand about the dangers of putting dirty fingers in their mouths, especially if they have pets. If they are at a swimming pool or at the beach, warn them not to drink the water in which they are swimming.

Daycare facilities

As it is possible to spread cryptosporidiosis from person to person, children with diarrhea should be excluded from day care until they no longer have the symptoms. Day-care facility staff who have diarrhea should remain off work until the diarrhea has stopped.

The only sure prevention

Boiling drinking water is the only sure way to prevent disease in water. Water should be boiling for a few minutes, then cooled and put in a refrigerator in a covered container. Anyone can carry their own boiled water with them on picnics or while travelling, but be sure the bottle has been sterilized or treated by rinsing with water containing household bleach at a fairly high concentration.

Symptoms of the disease

Cryptosporidiosis is a parasitic infection of the intestines. Symptoms may include watery diarrhea, abdominal cramps, nausea, vomiting and mild fever. Symptoms may come and go and may last for several weeks in persons who are otherwise in good health. The infection can be transmitted between persons without symptoms, and by those who have apparently recovered from the infection. In other words, just because a person feels well and appears well does not mean they are not carrying the disease.

Danger!

Persons who have weakened immune systems (organ or bone marrow transplant treatment, cancer, HIV, or other debilitating chronic illness) have a greater risk of prolonged illness and death.

Outdoor recreation, such as camping, can be a wonderful experience, but remember to boil water you use from streams or lakes, or carry cleaning drinking water with you.

Living past 100

Tell your doctor the details

When you do not feel well, don't go to your doctor and expect the doctor to know what is wrong with you if you don't say exactly what is wrong. Tell your doctor the details.

If you have a pain, tell your doctor where it hurts. Don't say, "My back hurts" say "I have a pain right here." Tell your doctor when and how often the pain occurs. Tell your doctor if you have had this kind of pain treated in the past and how it was treated then.

Don't say, "My stomach hurts" when it is not your stomach, it is your gut. Show the doctor the exact spot it hurts.

Doctors are not mind readers, and they do not have a crystal ball to tell them what is wrong with their patients. If you are not sure of what the correct words are for how you feel, don't let that stop you. Describe how you feel as best you can.

You might want to tell your doctor something about your lifestyle, too. What ails you may be the direct result of not eating the right foods, or not exercising enough, or not socializing enough. Quite often, these are the reasons for that feeling of not being well all over.

Especially, do not ignore a condition that persists. Don't go to your doctor and say, "I've got a cold" as if it just started when you have been coughing for three weeks. Tell your doctor how long you have had the condition.

Often, people who are not feeling well "all over" are suffering from something else going on in their lives, and what is really wrong with them is stress, worry or grief. If you have recently lost a spouse or other close family member, say so. If you have financial problems, or if you are weary because too many demands are made on you, tell your doctor. Sometimes, all you need is an understanding doctor and a rest.

Houses for birds and bats

by John Sandness, Similkameen Valley outdoorsman

I have talked with Princetonians who fed birds through the cold January and February weather. The birds were in real trouble, but thanks to many well-stocked feeders, they made it.

I have never seen so many evening grosbeaks. These beautiful yellow, white and black robin-sized birds, with their cheery call, are welcome signs of spring. Lots of finches, siskins, robins and even bluebirds are back.

Food for birds is more abundant as insects and worms become available with warming weather. However, housing is in short supply. This is especially true for the tree nesters who depend on holes created by woodpeckers in old snags and dead trees. With more and more people using wood for heating and with higher natural gas prices, the dead firewood trees, often with nesting holes, are in short supply. They have been burned.

Why not put up a bird house? They are fun to make, and if you are not handy that way, buy one. Our local stores have many kinds to choose from. Just be sure the hole in your homemade or purchased birdhouse is 1 1/2 inches in diameter! So many are only one inch, and there are only a few wrens and nuthatches that could use those!

Most folks want bluebirds and swallows in their yards, so keep the hole 1 1/2 inches in diameter. This size prevents that curse from Europe, the starling, from nesting in your birdhouse. We certainly do not need any more of these birds which are driving away, by taking available nesting sites, our native songbirds, especially the bluebird.

If there are cats in the neighbourhood, mount the houses on wooden poles with a metal collar around the pole. I find old stovepipes ideal, as they are nearly 1 metre long. The cats cannot get their claws into the pole wood and climb to the birdhouse. You can use a metal pipe and solve the problem without a collar.

Where you put the house is important. Here are a few things to consider: 1) bluebirds like to nest five to eight feet off the ground, swallows 10 to 15 feet, 2) do not mount the house on pine, fir or spruce trees where squirrels are often found - they will eat eggs and young birds 3) put houses where they are shaded during part of the day, and provide ventilation of some sort - Continued on Page 10 .....

holes, cracks, screen, to help cool the house.

Paint the birdhouse with drab colours. Bright colours attract predators. Have an overhang all the way round the roof so rain will not drain down into the house and soak the nestlings. Make the roof or one side removable for clean-out. Use a screw to hold it closed. I have seen birdhouses with sides and/or roof dangling, or even gone, because something, perhaps even the wind, has loosened them.

Those of you who are on Internet can search the words birdhouse, bluebird or bat houses.

Besides the beauty and songs birds provide, many songbirds feed on insects harmful to crops, trees or animals. Swallows eat a tremendous amount of mosquitoes! Warblers eat many forest pests and we sure can use help with pine beetles and tent caterpillars, which do so much damage to our trees.

The insect consumption of bats is fantastic! I cannot remember exactly, but I do remember it made the birds' consumption pale in comparison.

Bats do not tangle in your hair! There are no blood-sucking vampires in our country! They are only rarely rabid. Do not pick them up, but do not kill them. They are extremely beneficial.

Bat houses are becoming more and more popular. People who want few or no mosquitoes in the yard should consider putting up a bat house. You can find plans for them on Internet, in books at the library, and if nowhere else, ask me and I will let you use my plans.

I sincerely hope you will be, like me, for the birds and bats. Our world would be poorer without them.

Helen Gallagher displays her perfect crib hand, dealt at the Friday Night Crib games at the Legion on May 11. She was dealt three fives and a jack, then drew another five - a rare hand!

Seniors' Corner: lessons from convention

by Joseph Dubé

"Well, Joseph, you went to the convention in Trail. Did you learn anything?"

"Gosh, I wouldn't know where to start. You know something? Seniors have a sense of humour. There was this roll of paper in the registration bag which treated us to a little bit of light reading. Now that I'm back, I find time to appreciate it. Here is one of the stories."

A man from the city went to a dairy farm for the first time in his life. He was watching a cow being milked. As the man was watching, a fly flew in the cow's ear. Then the man noticed a fly in the mild pail. He asked the farmer how that could have happened. "It's simple," said the farmer. "In one ear and out the udder."

Did everybody know it is the 100th anniversary of the town of Trail? The big Cominco smelter is still in operation with its giant buildings overlooking the town from the top of a hill next to Main Street. Production is slowing down, however. Only half the personnel are replaced each year. The union leaders don't feel as useful anymore. Besides facing an ore depletion in the mine, the international market for zinc offers a competitive price, which benefits the company by buying and selling without having to produce it.

We had an original presentation of the history of early Cominco by a Mr. Fish. According to him, some seniors have had a living experience stretching over three centuries. Now, that took some figuring! I don't think I know any senior who could have been born in the 1900's lived throughout the 2000, and still around in 2001. That would mean they were over 100 years old!

Free and confidential counselling service is available to any woman who has experienced sexual abuse as a child or adult or are presently living in an emotionally or physically violent relationship. Bad temper

There was a boy who had a bad temper. His father gave him a bag of nails. He told him that every time he lost his temper, he must hammer a nail into the back of the fence. The first day, the boy drove 37 nails into the fence. Over the next weeks, as he learned to control his anger, the number of nails hammered dwindled daily. He discovered it was easier to control his temper than to pound nails into the fence. Finally, a day came when he did not lose his temper once.

The boy told his father about his success. The father suggested the boy pull out one nail for each day he was able to hold his temper. The days passed. The day came when the boy was told his father that all the nails were gone.

The father took his son by the hand and led him to the fence. He said, "You have done well, my son, but look at the holes in the fence. The fence will never be the same. When you say things in anger, you leave holes just like these. You can put a knife in a man and draw it out, but no matter how many times you say you're sorry, the wound is still there. A verbal wound is as bad as a physical wound. Friends are very rare jewels. They make you smile and encourage you to succeed. They lend an ear, they share words of praise, and they always want to open their hearts to you. Don't put holes in your friendship fence."

Horoscopes

May 22 to 28

ARIES - You have many favourable influences affecting your life now. At the same time, you may feel unusually optimistic. Try to be realistic about your daily business. This is not a "lucky" week.

TAURUS - You have several elements of good fortune working for you now, especially in regard to finances and possessions. However, do not expect a windfall or winning the lottery. You may feel extravagant.

GEMINI - You are in your element this week, but you may have a feeling of loneliness early in the week. You are emotionally vulnerable most of the week. Take a look at past actions, soul search.

CANCER - You are mentally overworked this week, and you will feel stressed due to worries - too fast a pace, too much information coming your way. You will feel better this weekend if you take time for #1.

LEO - The pace will not slow down for you until the weekend, when you may spend time worrying about whether or not you did everything you needed to do. Relax on Sunday - do as you please!

VIRGO - You may have hoped your pace would slow down, but not this week! You are still going full tilt. Don't expect any relief before July. There is an element of luck in career matters if you can hack the pace.

LIBRA - Interesting developments take place in matters connected with travel, advertising, publicity and/or education this week. Your neighbourhood will be lively, and so will your home front.

SCORPIO - Things continue to go well on the job, and your health is good until the weekend. Watch out for fevers and respiratory infection this week. Treat yourself gently. Do not ask a bank for a loan this week.

SAGITTARIUS - You might have wished things would slow down a bit, but not this week! Partnership matters become very lively, and romance is definitely in the air. Take some time for fun.

CAPRICORN - Your job keeps you extremely busy this week, and you may be feeling tired. You do not have time to waste or relax. Fortunately, your energy levels are good, but you are running on nerves.

AQUARIUS - Friends and groups you belong to keep you busy all week, and you may be spending time with younger people or become involved in youth sports. At the same time, you may be tired. Rest.

PISCES - Home and family absorb much of your time and energy this week. You may find them a source of entertainment as well. Keep busy around home, and avoid arguments on the job.

2 OBITUARIES

Distinguished Similkameen Historian and Author
WALLACE LENARD LIDDICOAT
October 5, 1919 - May 15, 2001

Passed away suddenly, at the age of 81 years, in the Penticton Hospital.

He is survived by his two daughters Charlene - husband Rob Lintott of Kelowna, BC, Sherri Ost of Williams Lake, BC; his three sons Steven - wife Leanne of Yakima, Washington, David - wife Margaret of Penticton, BC, Leonard - wife Yvonne of Princeton, BC; ten grandchildren, two brothers Arthur - Wife May of Keremeos, BC, Alfred of New Westminster, BC; two sisters Frances Peck of Keremeos, BC, Freida - husband Burt Webb of Kelowna, BC; and many nieces and nephews.

Sadly he was predeceased by his wife Evelyn in 1992. Memorial Services will be held Sunday, May 27, 2001 at 2:00 pm at the Grist Mill in Keremeos, BC.

In lieu of flowers donations can be made to the Keremeos Museum Building Fund.

7 APPRECIATION

THANK YOU!

Pat Lueke and family would like to deeply thank, Dr. Erasmus and Dr. Bosomworth; nurses - Wendy Stratman, Tracy Tessier, Diane Lalonde, Dorothy Westfall, ambulance attendants - Skip Jones and Craig Naylor for the expert care and love and understanding in our time of need, you were great!!

Blaine and Dylan want to say thanks to Barb Hilton for taking care of them, you're a great person!

Thanks to all the people who sent cards, flowers and food, we appreciated this so much. Miracles do happen!

THANK YOU!

The Family Fair co-ordinators would like to thank all the people and businesses for their generous donations and giving of their time to the Fair. The assistance and support of the local businesses and of the community greatly helped in making this year's Family Fair a huge success.

PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA
MINISTRY OF FORESTS

AMENDMENT TO TIMBER SALE LICENCE A66962

Pursuant to Section 20(1) of the Forest Act, a Timber Sale licence is being offered for sale, authorizing the harvest of Mountain Pine beetle infested timber. The advertisement for this Timber Sale Licence has been shortened in order to address the Mountain Pine beetle prior to flight.

Closing Date: June 1, 2001 District: Merritt
Geographic Location: China Creek
Volume: 2205 cubic metres, more or less
Upset Stumpage Rate: $32.79/cubic metre

In addition to the payment of the upset and bonus stumpage (if offered), agree to pay a levy of $5.56 per m<sup>3</sup>, in accordance with The Forest Management Fund Regulation - B.C. Reg. 3/99.

The upset stumpage rate was determined by the Market Pricing System, and is applicable only to coniferous green sawlog grades.

Term: 6 months

Tenders will only be accepted from individuals at least 19 years of age or corporations registered in British Columbia. Applicants must have at least one year of logging experience or, if a corporation, must have a shareholder or employee who has at least one year logging experience.

Comments:

1. Species: Douglas fir 8%; Lodgepole pine 90%; Spruce 1%; Yellow pine 1%; more or less
2. Billing method: scale based
3. Logging system: Conventional ground skidding
4. Logging season: Summer/Fall, there is to be no hauling during the beetle flight.
5. Directions/Access: From Princeton Hwy 5A, proceed to China Creek Road, the main block is 8.3 km on the China Creek Road.
6. This License is part of the 550,000 cubic metre increase in the allowable cut made by the chief forester in the rationale titled "Merritt Timber Supply Area Rationale for allowable annual cut (AAC) uplift determination", signed December 17, 1998 and made effective January 1, 1999. Therefore, in addition to the payment of upset and bonus (if offered) stumpage, the successful applicant must also pay a levy of $5.56 per m<sup>3</sup> in accordance with The Forest Stand Management Fund Regulation - B.C. Reg. 3/99.
7. This License is restricted to the mountain pine beetle infested stands of Lodgepole pine as permitted in the uplift determination. The successful applicant will supply beetle probe information as required by the District Manager to ensure eligibility of proposed cut blocks.

Applications will be accepted by the District Manager, Merritt Forest District, Hwy 5A & Airport Road., P.O. Box 4400, Station Main, Merritt, BC, V1K 1B8 until 2:00 p.m. on June 1, 2001.

There is additional material which the applicant must consider in their application. This material, application forms, and other information about the Small Business Program can be obtained from the above Forest District Office. Specify Timber Sale Licence A66962.

Winds of change sweep across province

The landslide victory by BC Liberal Party on election night marked a major change in direction for British Columbia. It was good news for the majority of voters, and the BC Liberal Party candidates obviously felt overjoyed at the triumph. At the same time, some voters have expressed concern at the overwhelming majority of seats taken by Liberal candidates because the Loyal Opposition has been decimated.

This is the second time in just over a decade that the voters have literally trashed a party in an election. In 1990, the B.C. Social Credit Party was so thoroughly defeated it died. One could argue that the BC Liberal Party is a re-run of the Social Credit members of the past, but that would be incorrect. Most of the candidates for the Liberals are new to the political scene and represent their ridings in an entirely different political philosophy than the Social Credit Party believed in. The BC Liberal candidates are largely untried, and will be threading their way through a minefield of potential disasters awaiting the unwary. Politics is a tough game made tougher by inexperience. Being the Opposition is not really training to govern. Accepting the responsibility for leadership and direction in government leaves plenty of room for bad decisions and no room to blame the other guy.

There is need for concern when a party holds such an overwhelming majority in the Legislature, because every government needs a strong Opposition. At the same time, we wish the newly elected candidates the very best, because we know we pay if they make mistakes. We always do.

While we may be cheering for the change, and welcoming a new era in British Columbia's political history, all of us need to exercise the same critical judgement of this new government as we did of the previous government, because we have a responsibility to ourselves.

YOUR VIEW

Neighbourly help would have been nice

Dear Editor;

Last summer I noticed some trees turning red in my lovely stand of pines. A friend who knows about such things told me it was the dreaded pine beetle. It was too late to save the trees as, by the time the tree turns red, the little parasite has departed to do what he does best on other trees.

I made some inquiries and found there was help available free of charge through Forest Renewal BC. I contacted the forestry to see what could be done, and they sent out a contractor to find any presently infected trees to destroy them, thus halting the spread of the infestation.

Well, as luck would have it, there were no more infected trees on my property, but the parasites had moved just over the property line into an absentee landowner's property. I did what I could to help them locate the absentee owner, as they said they could do nothing without the owner's permission.

Grandmother thanks student

Dear Editor;

Thank you for printing the picture of A.J. Doyle giving his scooter to Braydon Mare. Congratulations to A.J. on his win and my sincere compliments to him for his generosity. We need more giving and less taking in this world of teens and young adults. A.J., you are to be commended for your generosity. From a pleased grandmother, E. Baird.

As the middle of May approached, I became anxious because I had been told that is the time for the little bug to relocate. The tree was still standing, so I phoned the Department of Forestry again, only to be told that they could do nothing. They had contacted the owner, who had become incensed that someone had trespassed onto his property to tie a ribbon on the diseased tree. As the first of June nears, the tree is still standing, and I suppose that the little bugs have moved on, hopefully not back onto my land.

Game Club calls for help

Dear Editor;

Due to personal reasons Ron White has resigned as President of the Otter Valley Fish and Game Club. Ron has committed countless hours to the club and has provided his club with leadership that has been greatly appreciated.

On behalf of all our members I would like to thank Ron for all of his hard work and success as President. It may not be obvious to the members who enjoy events like the Ice Fishing Derby, Pike Mountain Fishing Derby, Harmon Lake Campout, The Big Buck Contest, Open Houses and so on, but Ron White has provided his services for all of these and other events. He has spent more hours on the phone getting people involved and aware of club activities than anyone would like to. As a small token of the Club's appreciation, the executive have voted Ron White in as a Lifetime Member.

Unfortunately we now have a large pair of shoes to fill at the Otter Valley

This brings me to the point of my story. Forest Renewal BC was brought into existence to help in managing our forests for future use, so I have no quarrel with them. What I do have a problem with is ineffectual laws that will allow an ignorant landowner to stop the forestry from saving our forests. Why do one ignoramus' civil liberties take precedence over the common good? We do not need less government, what we need is a strong, effective government that will work for everyone. HP Toews, Princeton.

Fish and Game Club. We need more members to become involved in the club and in organizing events. without your help we will not be able to continue as we have. We have a monthly meeting at the Club House in Tulameen and the same group of 6 to 8 people come! We have over 200 members! Please get involved.

I am currently sitting in the President's seat but I am unable to fulfill this position. I have a new business that I am starting and many existing commitments, I will remain involved in the club but I cannot take on the responsibility of President. We will be having our next meeting on May 27th (Sunday) at 6:00 PM, the Club House is located above Reichert's Ski-Doo Shop, if you need direction please phone 295-4191 (Paul or Trina). If you enjoy the Otter Valley Fish and Game Club BE THERE!!! A special election will be held in September but we need members to get involved NOW. Thank you. Paul Adams (Acting President)

Mining report paints gloomy picture

Despite an increase in gross revenues last year, the losses in mining in B.C. paint a gloomy picture, says Gary Livingstone, President and CEO of Mining Association of British Columbia.

The overall losses last year would have been $248 million, except that a $77 million one-time gain resulted from forgiveness of a debt, and a $163 million revenue from the sale of excess power by Cominco.

What troubles Livingstone most is the decline in exploration spending. He says, "The amount of money spent on finding new mines is dangerously low."

Exploration spending last year was just $17 million, down $2 million from the previous year. This is cause for alarm, says Livingstone, because it takes $75 million worth of exploration to open one new mine. The majority of exploration spending by major mining companies is taking place in and around existing operations, to search for new minerals to extend the life of existing mines.

Compared with the rest of Canada, B.C. has lost approximately three-quarters of a billion dollars in mineral exploration spending since 1992, spending which ought to have statistically led to the discovery of eight new mines, which would have resulted in over $2 billion in additional capital spending and provided more than 7,000 new jobs.

Mining companies in B.C. were able to raise only $35 million in capital funding last year, down $15 million from the 1999 level.

In the 1980's, 27 new mines opened, eight mines closed, for a net gain of 19 mines. In the 1990's, seven new mines opened, 14 mines closed, for a net loss of seven mines. There are just 16 metal and coal mines left operating in B.C.

On the plus side, gross revenues from mining were up by $600 million, a 17 per cent increase.

B.C. shipped more mining product last year than in 1999, and the industry spent more on machinery and equipment.

Mining remained the #2 resource industry in B.C., employing 30,000 people and paid the highest wages and benefits of any industry in the province. Revenues to the provincial government jumped from $311 million in 1999 to $382 million in 2000. Mining in B.C. is responsible for generating approximately $1 billion in tax revenues for all levels of government.

The Ridge View

The importance of being a bullfrog

by Joe Schwarz

Early on a spring morning there was a little bird attached to the side of a tree and pecking away in the same manner as a red-headed woodpecker, only it was a little sparrow. Our conclusion was it was raised by a woodpecker or, as they say "there was a woodpecker in the woodpile."

We know the environment is changing and we're seeing many strange phenomena. This even spills over into politics and politicians. We're aware they are birds of a different breed and now the political environment has been markedly coloured by the Green Party, especially its leader, Adriane Carr, soft-spoken, focused, determined and refreshing. Jesse Ventura, a bald professional wrestler and unorthodox colourful Governor of Minnesota, observed that, after two years in power, politicians lose touch with reality, himself included - something to muse over. With the environment such a determining factor in our lives, it's worthwhile to reflect on when Harcourt was running for Premier. One of his commercials showed how responsible the NDP would be with provincial spending. He said it would be the same as running your own home.

The commercial ended with "you can count on it" and he deposited a coin into a piggy bank in the form of a green bullfrog. Many say the frog is an indicator of the health of the environment and in B.C., obviously, of political parties also. I or my friends have never seen the frog since and are concerned as to its well-being. Whether it starved to death or pigged out, we don't know. It's gone and so is the NDP. We've seen nothing in the obituary column. We believe the bullfrog hopped onto Harcourt's desk when things got too hot in Vander Zalm's Fantasy Gardens. Vander Zalm and the Socreds are gone too. Perhaps the bullfrog has taken refuge with the Liberals! They should nurture and care for it, for you know what becomes of it when kissed by the Princess of Good Fortune? It's us!

Heart Food

by Dave Machin

If a man, who was a known millionaire, was to stand before a groups of people, of whom you were one, and say, "I am able to give each of you $1,000.00", you would believe what he said because you knew he was able to do the very thing he said. If God said, "I am able to heal you," you would no doubt believe what He said because you know He is able. If the millionaire said, "I will give fifty of you in this crowd $1,000 each," again you would believe him, but with no assurance it would be you who would receive it. If God said, "I will heal some but not all who are sick", you likewise would believe Him but with no assurance it would be you. Now, if the the millionaire said, "It is my will to give each of you $1,000," you would immediately see yourself with $1,000 in your pocket, believing you had received $1,000. If it says in Luke 4:40, "Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with various diseases brought them unto Him, and He laid His hands on every one of them and healed them," surely this was God's doing and a revelation of His will toward people who were sick. Can you see through this verse that it is His will for you to be healed? There are many more references in the gospels about the sick being healed by Jesus. In fact, if you go through the gospels and note the "all" and "every", you will discover it was always His will to heal. There was never a multitude large enough to have in it even one who Jesus refused to heal. He is the same today as He was then. Not only is He able, He is also willing. The problem is that we do not believe the simplicity of His word or we try to find excuses or reasons why it will not work for us. Back to the millionaire. He will not force you to take something he offers if you don't believe him. It's the same with God. Why not believe Him, especially when it come to healing for yourself. God is good, His word is good, and good all the time.

Parents and students found the computer lab interesting at Open House at Princeton Secondary.

French language students welcomed visitors to Café Paris at Open House at Princeton Secondary School.

Open House

Students and teachers at Princeton Secondary School welcomed the public to Open House on the evening of May 17. They did a good job of presenting all of the interesting things happening in the school. The school band played in the foyer, and there were displays in classrooms. The art department showed what students had created, and visitors saw students actively engaged in pottery-making, air-brush painting and print making.

The mechanics shop was working on an entirely different project - racing student-built model cars powered by jet propulsion.

There was a video of the students' trip to England this year, and for those who wanted a feeling of France, Café Paris was open, offering coffee, tea and dessert.

Every department has attractions, but the computer lab proved to be irresistible visitors. People could look at the yearbook on screen and ask questions about the training students receive in the lab.

Vermilion Rebekah news

by Dorothy Stenvold, p.c.

The table at the Seniors' Flea Market proved successful and enjoyable.

Sister Caronan will present our bursary to a graduating student this year.

Next month, Sister Caronan with other Sisters will be planting flowers at the Senior Citizens Hall.

Several Sisters are having medical problems, from abscessed tooth to painful joints and pneumonia. Should we blame it all on the weather?

A memorial service was held for our deceased Rebekahs. Sister Moore said two lovely prayers and Sister Marsel assisted her by reading names of previous members from a scroll and placed flowers in a vase. All members stood at attention during the ceremony.

We are looking forward to our Open Meeting June 7, when hopefully many others will join us for friendship, tea and silent auction.

Hospital Auxiliary update

by M. Trehearne

There were broad smiles at the recent meeting of Princeton Hospital Auxiliary as we recalled the May 8 Florence Nightingale Tea and Fashion Show. True, it was a financial success, thanks to the capacity crowd in attendance and supported the Silent Auction, but equally important were the very positive comments we have received, that it was a colourful and enjoyable afternoon.

Special thanks was expressed by President Betty Reheis as she presented a flowering plant to pianist May Clement, who provided light-hearted music during the fashion show.

Carol Seaman noted that the Thrift Shop will be open Saturdays from early June to September 1. More volunteers are needed for staffing on this extra day. Regular hours will continue, Wednesday to Friday. It was another member who told us that Dan and Carol Seaman had washed the outside of the shop, so now we have a sparkling building inside and out. Do come and see!

Thoughts turned to more serious matters when guest speaker Pat Flick, a nurse at Princeton General Hospital, spoke about the training and responsibilities of Hospice volunteers. These are quiet, caring people who offer emotional support to terminally-ill patients and their grieving families. Members asked if the necessary training sessions could be held in Princeton. This is already being looked into.

A review of our constitution is underway - changes will be discussed further at our June 11 meeting.

The Lapidary and Mineral Society of B.C. held a rendezvous in Princeton on the long weekend. Rockhounds and jewelry makers from around B.C. attended, and several showed their work. More than 200 converged in the arena mezzanine on Saturday morning. Many departed on field trips to Whipsaw Creek, Vermilion Bluffs, Sunday Summit and Blakeburn. Others stayed to set up displays and swap information. On Sunday, members enjoyed a catered dinner then held their annual general meeting. This rendezvous is an annual event held, generally, in a south central Interior community. Many of this group went to Princeton Museum to see the fossils in the Pollard Wing, and no doubt enjoyed seeing some of Joe Pollard's extensive mineral collection.
