

Town Council knocks Fall Fair

Princeton Rodeo Club hosted the West of the Rockies meeting on Saturday, where Canadian Pro Rodeo organizers plan next year's events. In no particular order, they are: Bob Matwiv, Will Senger and Jamie Rogers (Cloverdale); Harvey Carroll and Gerry Wilson (Abbotsford); Sandy West and Charlie Price (Luxton); Fred Sankey (Kelowna); Bob Falkenberg (Calgary), Tony Acland (Oliver), Roy Slavens (Williams Lake), Gerry Reid (Kamloops), Serge Paiement (Port Moody) and Stan Thompson of Princeton Rodeo Club, which held a volunteer and sponsor appreciation dinner on Saturday evening at the grounds.

Fair Board boils over

Fall Fair Association members are hot under the collar.

Town Council sent a letter to Fall Fair finding fault with the 2003 fair. Councillor Spencer Coyne attended the September 30 Fall Fair meeting to explain that he had been asked by Council to take their concerns to Fall Fair members because he is Council's appointee to Princeton Exhibition Association (PXA).

The letter did not go to the PXA, the organization which leases the fairgrounds from the Town of Princeton. The Fall Fair Association pays $1,000 a year to the PXA to use the grounds. Some PXA members are also Fall Fair Association members, and they noted that Council had by-passed the management group and had gone straight to the user group.

The letter lists the following faults:

1. Gate price was too high.
2. No weekend pass.
3. No senior discount.
4. Should not be subsidizing kids' inflatable area.
5. Not enough agriculture
6. Too much mess after the fair and was not cleaned up in a timely fashion.

President Jody Woodford told members she had requested to be put on the agenda for the October 6 Town Council meeting to respond to the criticisms. She read a brief she plans to take to the Council meeting, and asked Fall Fair members to attend, and to encourage volunteers and sponsors to attend.

Members accepted the brief with a few alterations, asking to include the results of judging by B.C. Fairs Association. The judges gave the Fall Fair some very good marks this year, and members felt Council should be aware of the marks.

Men attempt to abduct woman

On a quiet residential street in Princeton, two men attempted to force a young woman into a pick-up truck on the evening of October 1 at approximately 7:15 p.m.

The males pulled up alongside a 27 year old woman walking along the street in the 300 block of Allison Avenue. They tried to lure her into the non-descript dark blue pick-up by suggesting she go to a party with them. When she refused, the passenger got out of the pick-up and began talking to her. Then he grabbed her by the arm and tried to pull her toward the truck. She kicked him in the leg twice and broke free.

This man is described as clean-shaven, six feet tall, stocky build, blonde collar-length hair, and wearing a black tee shirt, jeans, and a black baseball cap with "I am Canadian" on it.

Police and several members of Citizens on Patrol scoured the Princeton area but were unable to locate the vehicle.

Anyone who has information which may assist in the apprehension of these men is asked to call Princeton RCMP at 295-6911.

Tulameen residents say roads are not good enough

A group of Tulameen residents travelled to Princeton on Tuesday morning to speak to Argo Road Maintenance management at Town Hall. MLA Dave Chutter arranged the meeting and chaired it. Residents had complained to him about lack of adequate road maintenance, especially on the road from Tulameen to Aspen Grove (Highway 5A).

The link to Highway 5A is important to Tulameen residents, not only for the day to day convenience of tourists coming from the north, but for the situations in which there is no other route out of Tulameen. Such situations have occurred before, in the case of snow slides and landslides. Like Missezula Lake and Summers Creek residents, who also met with Chutter and Argo the same day, Tulameen residents want to be sure they have a safe way out in case of emergency.

Gina Hall, who presented the case on behalf of Tulameen Community Club, pointed out the increasing number of residents of the area, and the deplorable condition of the road - washboard in summer, icy or snowbound in winter.

Hall and others believe road maintenance has deteriorated since the Argo works yard in the Coalmont area was closed. The crews now come from Princeton. Hall pointed out that the first six kilometres coming in from Highway 5A are seal-coated, and the next five kilometres have dust control. From the 11 km. point, the road is washboard, and this not only discourages travellers who may want access to Tulameen, it is terrible for residents living along that road. Hall told them River Road and Lawless Road are both washboard.

A letter outlining Argo's plans for the coming year will be sent to Tulameen residents via Dave Chutter's office in the near future.

Board will fire teachers

Board Chair Gordon Comeau says the School Board will have no choice but to dismiss teachers who do not pay their dues to the BC College of Teachers. The News Leader put the question to Comeau at the October 1 School Board meeting.

Payment of dues to the College of Teachers is a condition for hiring teachers. The College Council was established by the Social Credit government in 1987, and teachers elected their representatives to it. In June 2003, the government replaced elected representatives with government appointees, and raised the annual fee to $90. The fee is usually taken from teachers' salaries in October. Teachers are writing to school boards to request that the fees not be deducted this year. According to Robert Tarswell, President of Princeton District Teachers Union, the majority of local teachers have said they will make that request. They do not wish to pay for an organization appointed by government.

Comeau stated, "If the Board is notified a teacher hasn't met the requirements, the Board would be legally bound to dismiss the teacher."

Comeau added the entire issue is "driven by government" which has "pitted teachers' concerns against government issues, and School Boards are caught in the middle."

Man found half starved

A Kamloops man who had been missing for two weeks was seen on Blakeburn Road on Friday. A rancher checking her range cattle alerted police, describing the man as not appearing to want to live. Her description of the man suggested he was the missing person.

Police located the man 17 km up Blakeburn Road, near Coalmont. He was dehydrated, disoriented and on the verge of starvation. He was later admitted to Princeton General Hospital. RCMP say the call from the rancher likely saved the man's life.

Have a happy Thanksgiving!

Community Services reports to public

Community Services is a million-dollar business, and it is in good shape. The annual general meeting held on September 29 received a good review by Derek Schreurs of Cunliffe, Schreurs Tupper chartered accountants. Community Services runs several programs including Aspen Court rentals, Vermilion Court, New Beginnings, Mary Anne Court, Mary Anne Apartments and BC Transit.

Joann Gabriel, President of the society, gave a wrap-up of the year's events. She praised the quality of service given by employees and volunteers who assist with programs. She praised Executive Director Lynn Pelly for a "super job". She mentioned, with regret, the loss of Walter Wiese, who was a member of the Community Services Board of Directors for many years, as well as the loss of Vermilion Court residents Edith Baird, Olive Wilson, Lil Parkinson, and the Court's first resident, Marg Adamson. As well, she recalled the grief of losing June Marchant, who passed away in June this year after 25 years in Princeton.

This year's meeting, as Lynn Pelly pointed out, was the first meeting in 29 years in which Joyce Fraser was not giving the Executive Director's report. Pelly reviewed the many challenges faced by Community Services during the past year - budget cuts, loss of home support clients, and concerns for more appropriate housing for aging developmentally im-paired clients.

Meals on Wheels service has increased significantly, Pelly told members, and attendance at both New Beginnings and Adult Day Centre have increased. BC Transit is kept busy with local transportation demands and out of town trips. There are 20 people on a waiting list to reside at Vermilion Court.

Pelly mentioned the loss of "wonderful staff" during the year, and the competition with other agencies in hiring new qualified staff. Members attending the meeting received a package containing all of the reports from various programs and services.

Office Manager Connie Howe served as elections officer and called for the election of two new directors. Two nominations were received for Gloria Stout and Tory Small. They were elected by acclamation.

Following the meeting, members enjoyed refreshments while the new Board held an impromptu meeting.

Anyone who wishes to become a member of Princeton & District Community Services Society should go to the office on Halliford Avenue and ask to be registered as a member. Those who attend the annual general meeting must have been a member for at least 30 days in order to vote.

THE LEADER IN SALES AND LISTINGS YEAR AFTER YEAR

Farm equipment displays at the Princeton Fall Fair this year, such as those shown above, received the rank of "excellent" by judges from the B.C. Fairs Association. All of the agricultural and non-agricultural events at the Fall Fair received the same rank.

Fall Fair earns top marks from fair judge

When they go to the Fall Fair, most people are not aware of judges going around judging the entire fair. Fall Fair members are conscious of the judges, and judges' recommendations are carefully noted.

At the September 30 Fall Fair meeting, President Jody Woodford congratulated all of the members and volunteers for their efforts, and told them the results of the BC Fairs Association

Woodford praises fair volunteers

"Everybody put out 110 percent," Fall Fair President Jody Woodford said at the September 30 Fall Fair meeting. "It was a great team effort. Thank you."

There was a discussion about the volunteer and sponsor appreciation dinner. It will be at the fairgrounds in building #2 on Tuesday, October 21. Jody and Maryanne Woodford will cook beef and other members will bring vegetables, buns and desserts. The building will be heated in advance so everyone will be comfortable. The doors will open at 6:30, with dinner at 7:00 p.m. No special invitations will be sent out. An advertisement in the newspapers would issue a general invitation.

Certificates of appreciation will be given out at this dinner along with the Grand Aggregate trophy.

judges' evaluation. The results were very pleasing, and a letter from judges Irene and Don Hill was very encouraging. President Woodford read the results to the members.

The top mark is five, and top marks were given to all of the special agricultural events - chariot races, chuckwagon races, sheep shearing, 4-H sheep judging and farm equipment displays. All of the non-agricultural special events received top marks - chainsaw demonstration, mini-sawmill demonstration, demolition derby, mud bog competitions, and kids' play area.

Volunteers earned top marks for their friendliness, their knowledge, and the fact they were identifiable by the public.

The food concession received 32 out of 35, and the restrooms were rated 29 out of 30 points. Community involvement received a 20 out of 20 mark.

The entertainment section received top marks, as did the commercial exhibit areas. The leisure and art display area rated 34 out of 40. The livestock exhibit area received 38 out of a possible 40. Other static display areas, such as Junior Fair, baking and canning, received somewhat lower marks due to not enough information about the economic importance. However, all of the Junior Fair received fairly good marks.

All in all, the results were outstanding, among the best the Fall Fair has received. The comments from the judges were helpful, and members talked about how they will improve the fair next year.

Volunteers will be recruited into committees to address the areas in which marks were less than perfect.

At the same time, there is no question that the judges enjoyed the fair. They arrived early Sunday morning and stayed until the end, which is a great compliment to the Fall Fair.

This house was totally destroyed by fire, leaving nine residents homeless. The owner did not reside in the house. It is located approximately two kilometres east of downtown Keremeos.

Firemen spend a busy week

A hectic week for Keremeos Fire Department began at 11:30 p.m. on Saturday, September 27, when the entire crew turned out to fight a house fire. The house, located at 2574 Highway 3 East, demanded two fire trucks to fight the fire and two to shuttle water. None of the nine people living in the house was injured, but Fire Chief Jordie Bosscha told the News Leader they were lucky to have noticed the fire as there were no smoke detectors in the residence.

The house was totally destroyed and the investigation continues.

Hay fire

The following day, at 4:00 p.m., the Fire Department was called to a stack of hay on fire. The Clifton family lost 5,100 bales of hay with a value of $20,000 to $25,000.

A young person on a bicycle was seen leaving the area shortly before the smoke was seen. This person was wearing either a red helmet or red shirt. Anyone having any information about this person is asked to contact RCMP at 499-5511 or call CrimeStoppers.

Car crash

While fighting the hay fire, firemen were called out at 7:00 p.m. to a three-vehicle crash at the amber light in Cawston. The full crew was used on both fires and a crew from Kaleden came over to cover the fire hall in case any more fires were reported at that time.

Fire Prevention Week

After a hectic weekend, Keremeos firemen began to prepare for an Open House at the fire hall from noon on Saturday, October 4, to 3:00 p.m. This is an annual event in Keremeos. A company will sell and service fire extinguishers while local residents enjoy coffee, soft drinks and doughnuts. The Open House was in recognition of Fire Pre-vention Week, and there was plenty of information available about smoke alarms, fire-proofing your home, and staying safe in case of fire.

LSIB plans new facility

Members of Lower Similkameen Indian Band are planning a multi-purpose facility for the Band. It will be located on land south of Cawston along Highway 3.

The new facility will house a large multi-purpose room, kitchen, equipment room, archives, a large meeting room, offices and office support, and education rooms.

The new building will address some of the Band's needs. There are 333 people living in Lower Similkameen Indian Band communities. Nearly one-third of the community population is 19 years and younger. More than 10 percent of the population is 60 years and older. There are 32 people who wish to move back to one of the LSIB communities during the next 10 years. There will be a need for 93 more housing units during that period. Population projections indicate the present population will more than double in 25 years. This projection raises a lot of issues, including where houses should be placed, what services people should have, and what enterprises should be allowed for.

LSIB prepares for November elections

Gloria Bent, Electoral Officer, and Doreen Louie, Returning Officer, are busy preparing for the nomination meeting Thursday evening, and the election on November 3.

There are two Band Council seats to be filled, the seats presently occupied by Teresa Dennis and Richard (Dixon) Terbasket.

During the nomination meeting, which starts at 7:00 p.m. in the Cawston Hall, Gloria Bent will call for nominations from the floor. Those who are nominated must be at the meeting, or must have submitted a letter to Bent indicating their willingness to stand as a candidate.

There is a short period for candidates to reconsider and decline if they wish. Those declining must indicate this by a letter to Bent no later than October 14.

Voters must be age 19 to vote or to run as a candidate. A voters list is in public view at Lower Similkameen Band office and field office, the USIB office, and at Value Plus Foods.

A candidate forum will be held October 20 from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. at the Cawston Hall.

Advance poll will be noon to 6:00 p.m. at Cawston Hall on November 1, and the regular voting takes place at Cawston Hall on November 3 from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

The following day, at 10:00 a.m. at the LSIB office, the winners will be sworn in and commence their duties.

All questions on procedure or qualification to vote or run for office must be referred to Gloria Bent.

Katimavik volunteers work at the fairgrounds, building new picnic tables. Above, supervisor Peter Ruoss helps Ezekiel Rainville drill bolt holes while Driscilla Nayawatatic sands assembled table.

Victoria defers grazing fees for ranchers

Deferring payment of grazing fees on Crown land will help Interior cattlemen recover from an extremely difficult year, says Yale-Lillooet MLA Dave Chutter. "This has been one of the toughest years the ranching industry has ever seen," Chutter says. He is a rancher and has made sure the provincial government is well aware of challenges ranchers are facing. "Between finding a single Mad Cow and facing record drought conditions, the ranching industry has been hit with some tough times."

Grazing fees will be deferred until next year.

"This will mean ranchers who would face bills in November will not face them until next year," said Premier Gordon Campbell. "I have instructed our officials in forestry and agriculture to allow greater flexibility in range leases to help ranchers cope with the drought and BSE."

Chutter adds he is encouraged by the support British Columbians have shown the ranching industry through the past few months.

"I have never had so many people tell me they are making a conscious decision to eat more beef and Canadian beef. British Columbians are strong supporters of the ranching industry and I take my hat off to them for the support they have shown."

October is Community Living Month

by Lynn Pelly, Community Services Society

Once again it is time to celebrate the impressive record our community has achieved in supporting persons with disabilities.

Inclusion within the community is our primary objective for all persons with disabilities. Everyone must feel that they belong and are a valued part of the community. This must be more than just a concept. It must be proactively pursued.

Mary Anne Court and Mary Anne Apartments provide housing to nine persons with disabilities. Other individuals live within the community with family, caregivers or on their own. All contribute to the community in a variety of ways. Each person has special traits and characteristics that set each apart and makes each unique. We must learn to appreciate these differences and understand how the uniqueness of an individual works to build and strengthen a community.

Inclusion cannot be selective. It must be an integral part of daily life, a conscious decision to remove barriers and invite participation. It may be as simple as stopping to say hello or as complex as acting as an advocate. In its purest form, it occurs naturally. Other times, it requires a conscious effort on our part.

Any shortfalls we may have had in our efforts toward inclusion can easily be remedied. A conscious effort to include someone in community events can make a world of difference to someone who has never experienced the openness of inclusion.

As we celebrate Community Living Month, please take the time to reach out to those who may need a helping hand or a word of encouragement. Acknowledge contributions, big or small, and celebrate their accomplishments. Let these wonderful people know how much a part of Princeton they are and how pleased we are that they have chosen to make their homes in our community.

Backpack awareness helps your child

by Duane Drobot, MSc, DC

Strapping on the pack is a daily ritual for students as they struggle to carry the necessities of school such as books, binders, supplies, sports gear, food, drink and so forth. Recent research suggests the health risks associated with wearing a poorly designed, overloaded or heavy backpack are significant. It is estimated that 60 percent of children experience episodes of moderate to severe back pain. Physical stresses, such as a poorly designed or overloaded backpack, merely add to the problem.

British Columbia Chiropractic Association recently started a backpack safety awareness program called "Pack it light - wear it right". The program will focus on distributing safety information to local schools for discussion with students. Local chiropractors will give their time to make presentations to students on backpack awareness and safety. I believe this is an important issue for parents and teachers to discuss with all children.

The following information will help identify common mistakes parents and children make when buying and wearing a backpack and will provide solutions.

Things to look for when buying a child's backpack:

1. Look for backpacks with wide, padded and contoured shoulder straps which will form to your child's body. Narrow straps dig painfully into shoulders and can hinder circulation causing numbness or tingling in the arms which, over time, may cause weakness in the hands. Padded shoulder straps help absorb the load.
2. Look for backpacks with a waist or chest strap. This will help keep the load close to the body and help maintain proper balance.
3. Look for backpacks with a built-in back support.

If you have questions, please feel free to call me direct. You can also visit the BCCA website at www.bcchiro.com

Next week I will introduce how to wear a backpack properly.

Passing firemen fight pick-up fire

On Sunday afternoon, September 28, a pick-up truck caught fire 24 km. east of Princeton on Highway 3. Two passersby, one a fireman from Pt. Coquitlam and the other a fireman from Abbotsford, stopped and had the fire under control. Princeton Fire Department personnel arrived and put out the fire.

It was sheer luck that two firemen were passing when the fire began. Had they not acted quickly, the pick-up truck was in a position to have set nearby trees on fire.

It's a rap for World Teachers Day!

These youngsters from Ms. Tarswell's class at Riverside Intermediate were making the rounds of Princeton's schools on Friday and Monday to sing a rap song in praise of teachers. Above, the group filled the staff room to tell teachers how great they are.

Everybody needs a little help to get where they want to go.

The first years are the most important years of a child's life. They're the foundation on which all future success in school, social relationships and careers is built.

Because every parent wants to give their child the best possible start in life, there's a wealth of information, resources and tools you can turn to.

Achieve BC offers advice on prenatal care, nutrition and development guides. In addition, you can find parenting tips and information on stimulating your child's mind and body through reading and play.

Every milestone is a stepping stone for success as you strive to help your children reach their full potential.

Princeton Senior Boys played soccer against Keremeos on October 2 at Princeton Secondary School. Both teams looked good. Above, Chris Nordquist (left) moves in to block a Keremeos player. The game ended with a 5-3 win for Keremeos. On Friday at noon, the boys played a fun game with the teachers.

Junior girls did well in Rattler tournament

by Susan Murray

A fourth place finish out of eight teams in the Osoyoos Rattler Tournament is a great start in the Princeton Secondary School Junior Girl's volleyball season!

Princeton Rebels were defeated by Summerland in the first game of the tournament, losing 17-25. However, they battled back, winning the next two games 25-21 and 15-13 to win the match against Summerland. The Rebels went on to defeat South Okanagan Secondary but were unable to take a game against the powerful serving team from Surrey (Fleetwood Park).

Princeton Rebels placed second in its pool and advanced to the quarterfinals where they challenged Ms. Murray's former Merritt team. Both teams won a game, but Merritt gained momentum early in the third to win the match. The Rebels finished the tournament playing the Surrey team again and although they did not win the match, they exhibited great improvement.

Nicole Thomas received the MVP for our team, while Jana McKenzie, Nadine Prince and Ashley Folk played a very strong tournament. Outstanding digs and dives were seen from Colby Whelpton, who kept the ball in play on many occasions. All girls, specifically Kayla Krenn and Tia Whincup, saw improvement.

The PSS squad should be commended for representing Princeton with outstanding effort and sportsmanship throughout the weekend. Special thanks goes to Mrs. Bertucci and Mrs. Donohoe for driving the team to Osoyoos.

The Junior Girls' next home game is Thursday, October 9 at 4:15 p.m. Come out and cheer your local team!

Boys lose in Oliver

by Ernie Tribe

The Rebels, Princeton Senior Boys newly formed soccer team, took quite a beating when they went to Oliver to play their first game of the season.

Outplayed in the first half 4-0 down and with a strong wind against them, the Rebels did not give up. The second half saw the Rebels come on strong with plenty of chances to put the ball in their opponents' net, but unfortunately, no luck! Given more time to practice and play more games, this team will improve significantly as some of the players have never played soccer before. They played well for the first time out and can only improve with time.

The team is looking for a sponsor to help with acquiring soccer balls, socks and shorts. If you can help, please contact either coach Ernie Tribe at 295-0466 or team manager Lawrence Newman at 295-7348.

School District receives Arts grant

Local schools will have $6,140 to spend on arts programming this year, thanks to the Vancouver Foundation and the BC Arts Council. The award is to all schools in District #58. The money is usually spent to pay for performers to go to the schools. Last year, a performer talked about body language, using a collection of masks and clothing changes to demonstrate to children how what people say and how they appear both convey messages to others.

In the letter advising the School Board of the grant, the Board learned the Artists In Education program is under review to discover how well it is meeting its objectives in a changing school system.

School districts lose GST appeal

On the matter of school districts' fight to avoid paying GST, the school boards of Canada (and Canadian taxpayers) have lost to the federal government. The Excise Tax Act was amended to go back to the beginning of GST, and despite a judgement rendered by the Federal Court of Appeal in favour of school boards, the House of Commons passed the amendment.

The tax consultant firm making the appeal wrote, in a letter to school boards, "It is clear that the proper representations to the Canadian judicial system had us win for all the right reasons and the disregarded judgement of the Court and the inordinate abuse of power which allowed for the application of retroactivity to be applied prior to the introduction of GST had us lose for all the wrong reasons."

RECREATION & TV GUIDE

This is how the first fight began. The Rockets player wraps his arm around Lintick's neck.

This is how the fight ended. Both players were sent off the ice to the dressing rooms.

Posse beats Rockets 5-2

Saturday night's game between the Posse and Golden Rockets was the first show of muscle seen so far this year. The Rockets have the lowest standing in the league, and are not ashamed to pull any number of dirty tricks on the ice to push forward. There is nothing wrong with the Rockets except their lack of organization, and the Posse put three perfect shots into the Rockets' goal in first period, and started second period with another goal five minutes into the game.

The score stood at 4-1 for the Posse, and it was about this time the game became a lot rougher.

The body checks by the Rockets were increasing in ferocity, but their strategy worked, as Posse players began to react and moved themselves into the penalty box.

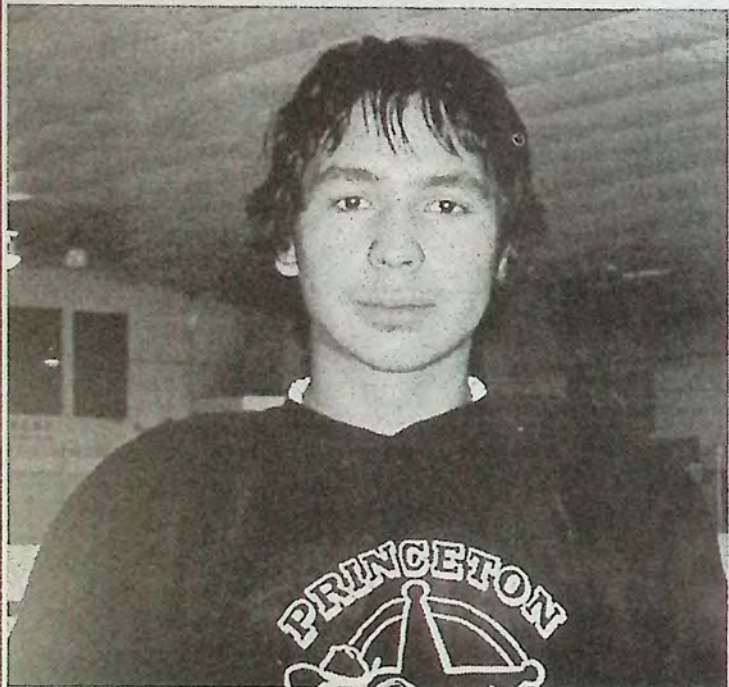

Then a little scuffle along the boards put a player from each team into the penalty box, and when they came out, the Posse's Brandon Ingraham deked goal #5 into the Rockets' net, assisted by Sandy Tyler and Rylan Kerber.

Third period opened with the Rockets scoring their second goal. They never scored another, and the play became increasingly scattered. The Posse spent more time chasing the puck than controlling it.

The fighting began in third period. The first fight involved Chance Lintick. The second fight began with some pushing and shoving along the boards near the Posse net. While the referees were busy trying to stop that fight, two other players

Posse Player of the Week #55 J.J. Holmes

J.J. Holmes comes to the Posse from Merritt, where he is a member of the Upper Nicola Indian Band. This 18 year old defenseman runs and works out in his spare time. He loves playing for the Posse, thinks Princeton is a great town and likes the friendly people. Look for him at Wednesday and Saturday home games. See schedule next page.

throwing their gloves and helmets on the ice. They were duking it out steadily while the referees looked on and the crowd cheered. When they finally lost steam, they were sent to the dressing rooms with the first two.

The game ended 5-2 for the Posse after an unspectacular third period.

The Posse is doing much better this year, and the conditioning they have been receiving is showing itself in better skating and more stamina.

Most of the game was good, fast hockey. The Posse's first three goals were picture-perfect. The first was on a beautiful set-up by Todd Gereau, who passed the puck to Tyler Gunn who relayed it to Nick Stermer for the shot into the net. The second goal went in on a set-up by Sandy Tyler to Craig Kulchyski and on to Rylan Kerber for the shot.

Brandon West set up goal three for Todd Gereau to pass the puck to Nick Stermer. Goal four went to Stu Purves from Sean McGeough and Josh Lund.

In game standings, the Posse is not doing too badly this year, ranking somewhere in the middle. Top teams are Sicamous Eagles, Osoyoos Storm, Creston Valley Thunder Cats and Columbia Valley Rockies. The Rockies lost only one game, and they lost it to the Posse.

See the Posse play Summerland Sting Wednesday night at 7 p.m. and Saturday night they play Grand Forks at 7:30 p.m.

On Wednesdays, Posse players will be serving lunch at Dairy Queen, with part of the proceeds going to the Posse. Dairy Queen is on board as a corporate sponsor and is plugging the Posse on radio.

Season tickets are on sale at a reduced rate. Check with the folks at the Posse office.

Semi crash ties up traffic

A semi unit probably trying to pick up speed for the mine hill on October 2 did not make it around the corner at the bottom of the hill. The truck carried crushed cars overturned and slid across the highway, delaying traffic for six hours. South Okanagan Traffic Services believe the likely cause of the crash was taking the corner at too high a speed.

The driver, a 37 year old Maple Ridge man, was not injured in the crash. However, he faces charges of failing to keep right, failing to maintain a log book, and driving without a license.

Horoscopes

October 7 to 14, 2003

ARIES - Things go very well with your partner these days, and there is plenty for the two of you to talk about. All of your relationships go well. However, this week may mean career troubles.

TAURUS - Your health and employment continue well, and you have a lot to say on the job. Your partner or spouse is good to you this weekend and you are enjoying life. You may run a lot of errands for work.

GEMINI - All career matters continue to be active and perhaps stressful. What you really want to do now is have fun, but your wishes are blocked. Be cautious while driving this weekend.

CANCER - This is not your best week, and you may find yourself challenged by authority figures and those who speak out critically. This weekend will be much better - you could have a lot of fun or romance.

LEO - You may do a lot of short trips and and run a lot of errands later this week. The weekend will challenge you to have a good time, which will be therapy, as you have not been feeling confident.

VIRGO - Your concerns about money should ease this week. A partner or spouse may be difficult, aggressive or demanding this weekend. Try to remain calm as sit will clear up shortly. Stay home, don't drive.

LIBRA - You are now very verbal about who you are and what you want. Money may flow your way this weekend, but you have to make the effort to get it. Expect change in sibling relationships.

SCORPIO - This week starts with a lot of mental activity, and by the weekend, you are in good humour. This is a good time to change your appearance and create a flattering new image. Money is available.

SAGITTARIUS - You work very hard on planning for the future this week. Home life settles down, and you may want to redecorate. Change takes place in how you view the future. Career is good.

CAPRICORN - This week is likely to begin with some kind of problem but it will not last long. You may feel tired and fed up with work in your career, or a partner may challenge your commitment to work.

AQUARIUS - This weekend promises to be full of fun and going places, maybe even a long trip. However, debts and work may prevent any big expenditure on travel. You need to conserve resources.

PISCES - You are still filled with energy, but it becomes strong positive energy this week. You will be keenly interested in investments now and may do a lot of talking or research on building security at home.

MONDAY MOVIES

MORNING

10:00 am CITY (29) ★★ "That Thing You Do!" (1996, Comedy-Drama) Tom Everett Scott. A small-time rock band rides a big wave of success with the help of a savvy record executive and a catchy hit tune. (CC)

AFTERNOON

4:30 pm WGN (38) ★★ "The Sunchaser" (1996, Drama) Woody Harrelson. A terminally ill teenager kidnaps his snooty doctor at gunpoint and forces him to drive to a Navajo reservation. (In Stereo) (CC)

5:00 pm WTBS (3) ★★½ "You've Got Mail" (1998, Comedy) Tom Hanks. Two rival bookstore owners are conducting a secret romance with each other on the Internet. (CC)

CITY (29) ★★½ "A Knight's Tale" (2001, Adventure) Heath Ledger. Premiere. Anachronisms abound in this tongue-in-cheek tale of a young peasant who improves his lot by masquerading as a knight. (CC)

EVENING

7:40 pm WTBS (3)

★★★ "City of Angels" (1998, Romance) Nicolas Cage. An angel must decide between mortality and immortality when he falls for a beautiful heart surgeon in Los Angeles. (CC)

8:00 pm CHBC (4) "The Lost Prince" (2003, Historical Drama) (Part 1 of 2) Miranda Richardson. Suffering from epilepsy and learning difficulties, young Prince John is exiled to Sandringham with his devoted nanny. (CC)

9:00 pm FAM (26) ★★½ "Peggy Sue Got Married" (1986, Comedy-Drama) Kathleen Turner. A woman is determined to change the course of her life after fainting at a class reunion and awakening in the past.

10:06 pm CITY (29) ★ "Bikini Summer 3: South Beach Heat" (1997, Comedy) Heather-Elizabeth Parkhurst. The flashy coordinator of a Miami beauty contest convinces a makeup artist to enter the sizzling competition.

10:20 pm WTBS (3) ★★½ "You've Got Mail" (1998, Comedy) Tom Hanks. Two rival bookstore owners are conducting a secret romance with each other on the Internet. (CC)

Happy Thanksgiving! Have a safe weekend.

APPRECIATION

GIVING THANKS

Once a year, at Thanksgiving, we can take a vacation from all of our complaints, fault finding and criticisms, and we can sit back and consider all that we are thankful for.

In recent weeks critical fingers have been pointed at a volunteer group and at the Princeton General Hospital Staff. These criticisms really hit home with me. Every community depends on volunteers that give their free time, effort and very often their own money to make a community a better place to live in. Every event is run by volunteer labour, every serious accident is attended by our volunteer rescue crew, every fire within town limits is attended by our volunteer firemen, etc., how can we criticize those who give so much of themselves for others? Thank you volunteers. Princeton General Hospital Staff did not deserve the public criticisms that it was given recently. My family has utilized the Princeton Hospital from the time it was built and I can't remember a time that the hospital staff has ever disappointed any member of my family. My expectations are not that they be perfect every minute or perform any miracles, just that they do the best they can. They have lived up to my expectations. Three years ago, when the Operating Room was still in existence, I needed major surgery, the specialist in Penticton wanted to admit me to Penticton Hospital for my surgery. I had already had a previous surgery in Penticton, Penticton Hospital is a fine hospital, but it wasn't home. I asked if I could have my surgery in Princeton if I could find a doctor to perform the surgery. My specialist couldn't understand why I would want to have the surgery in Princeton rather than Penticton, but she agreed, if I could find a doctor to perform the surgery in Princeton. Thanks to Dr. David Reid, Dr. Douglas Reid and Dr. Mick Whittle, I was able to have my surgery here in Princeton, surrounded by hospital staff that I trusted with my life. I could not have asked for better care and treatment. Princeton General Hospital Staff have served my family well for decades and I thank them with all my heart. Happy Thanksgiving Everyone!

POINTS OF VIEW

OUR VIEW

Is this criticism really necessary?

When Keith Olsen was a candidate for the mayor's chair, he ran on a platform of "strong, positive leadership". As a result of Council's criticisms of the Fall Fair, we are alarmed at the direction his leadership is taking Town Council.

We will leave the rebuttal to the Fair Board. Our concern should be the motivation behind Council's actions.

When Town Council voices criticism of any group, we sit up and pay attention because Council speaks for all of the people within its boundaries. Because Council speaks for the people of Princeton, and because the people of the town are owners of the property on which the Fall Fair takes place, the Fair Board must take the criticisms seriously.

Mayor Olsen was elected on his platform of "strong, positive leadership" and he is the leader of Council. The fact that he did not quash the criticisms at source makes the situation more serious.

The question we need to ask about this situation is whether Council is speaking for all of the people of Princeton. There was no discussion of the fair's shortcomings at the September 15 public meeting. There was no public presentation from any individual or group complaining about the fair. What was the source of the criticisms, and for whom was Council speaking, other than itself?

As taxpayers and citizens, we need to be concerned because we do not know what Council's motives are nor whether Council intends to level criticisms at other volunteer groups who put on events.

There is one thing all of us need to remember: volunteers do not have to do what they do. They can quit anytime. The Fair Board can walk away and there will be no fair. Any other volunteer group, when faced with criticism from Town Council, is free to walk away. Volunteers are not paid employees, and they do not have to take abuse from anyone.

These days, in Princeton, there seems to be a great deal of crappy criticism of reputable groups by less than expert people. Is there something in the air or the water?

YOUR VIEW

Nurse defends Princeton General

Dear Editor;

I would like to address the letter in last week's Spotlight (Sept. 24) "Hospital Woahs"

Firstly, I am an R.N. working at PGH. I have worked there for 23 years. Never in my life have I felt the anger and betrayal I felt after I read that column. At first I thought it must be a joke because of the glaring spelling errors (Whoahs). Is there such a word? I think the author means "woes".

Secondly, RN's and other hospital employees are professionals. In case he didn't realize it, RN's are part of the medical field. Assessment of a patient is done in many ways, not all visible to the naked eye. First by looking at the injury, questioning the patient or family regarding the mechanisms or cause by which the injury occurred, then by palpation or feel if necessary. None of us have X-ray eyes. If the limb did not appear broken or in any way deformed, the diagnosis of fracture must wait until an X-ray is performed.

In children, especially, you do not want to upset them unduly by touching the injured limb, or insisting on the use of an ice pack if they do not want one. Most people, children included, unconsciously protect the injured area and if they appear comfortable, it is usually not touched or splinted until a doctor or X-ray technician examines it. Children are very fragile and easily upset by the equipment, lights and activity in a busy ER and it is usually best to leave them alone with their parents so that they feel secure until treatment is carried out.

There are signs at the entrances pointing out there is not a doctor in the hospital 24 hours a day. They too must make a living at the office. Upon notification of a patient in the ER, the nurse reports the findings of her assessment to the physician who is usually in the doctor's office during the day and the decision for treatment is made. It is not uncommon for "non-urgent emergency" situation to wait up to two or more hours to be seen. This is just a small country hospital, not a large urban multidisciplinary hospital such as Penticton. We don't have specialists.

When our prime, before government cutbacks, regionalization etc., we were a vital 31 bed hospital with an active maternity ward delivering up to 40 babies a year. We had an OR doing surgeries three days a week and had five or more physicians, two of whom were surgeons. Then came the cutbacks. We have been cut to six beds, our maternity ward shoved into one small room, we deliver maybe three babies a year. Our OR closed, forcing our young vital physicians to leave one by one for a chance to practice medicine in larger centers.

If not for the service groups, too many to mention here but you know who you are, and the Hospital Auxiliary and other clubs and donations, we would not have the money to buy the equipment we need to carry out our daily duties. If not for the committees like the Ridgewood Lodge and Hospital Foundation, Palliative Care Society, we would not have the room furniture and money to use for patient care needs.

Believe it or not, Princeton General used to be the biggest employer in Princeton behind Similco/Newmont and Weyerhaeuser. Without Dina Slowikowski Campbell and her Save the Hospital committee and the thousands of concerned citizens, PGH would have been closed long ago, and everyone would be travelling to Penticton for treatment.

Lastly, for every story of "mal-treatment" at PGH, there are 100 stories of patients who praise the nurses and the care and treatment they received at our hospital. Maybe the editor (Spotlight) should think twice about his negativity and "take two teddy bears and call Penticton in the morning." I would invite the writer to spend time at PGH and see how the health care system works despite the cutbacks. In answer to his final question, "Will the community support a hospital where disgruntled staff take their issues out on patients?" Yes.

Will the community support a newspaper whose editor takes unsubstantiated reports of bad experiences out on its hospital? You tell me.

I suggest the editor (Spotlight) save himself time and money and move to Penticton where he can get "quality health care" and a "teddy bear" while the rest of the community fights to keep our hospital alive. O, yes, there is a spellcheck button on a computer.

Sincerely,
Catherine A. MacDonald, RN,
CPN (C)

Will Paul Martin really pay down Canadian debt?

Dear Editor;
 It is high time Canadians were made aware of the truth as to why we have a national debt of over $650 billion with the annual interest debt of over $44 billion while the federal government boasts about operating on a balanced budget. Canadians pay over 170 types of taxes besides the illegal collection of the feds income taxes. The majority of Canadian citizens are brainwashed into believing they have to dutifully pay their portion but are ignorant of the fraud and conspiracy perpetrated by the world's money master who plan to enslave and deny our rights and freedoms.

Taxpayers should ask Paul Martin, the former Federal Finance Minister who is being set up as the next Prime Minister of Canada, exactly why he will burden the lower/middle class taxpayers and small businesses. When P.E. Trudeau and the Liberal government came into power in 1969, there wasn't a federal deficit and the government debt was only $23 billion. During that reign, the Liberal government reduced or eliminated taxes on the wealthy, gave corporate tax breaks and ran up a national debt of $95 billion. The central governments have continued their out-of-control spending.

By exposing the past illegal skullduggery of politicians, I hope to wake up the readers and educate them as to the true cause of our national debt. Martin shouts from podiums across Canada that 'we' have to pay down the debt that 'we' didn't create. It was 'they', the legislators, who put us in debt. When Martin was Finance Minister, he was in a position to remove the burden of debt from Canadians but his plan is to enslave us forever.

To me, Paul Martin is on a dangerous mission when he recently was seen on TV co-chairing a meeting at the U.N. to discuss Third World debts. Both he and Chretien insist Canadians help pay to the IMF the fortunes given to many countries. Why should we bail out other countries whose leaders squandered the money when we are possibly the highest debtor nation in the whole world, per capita, next to the U.S.A. The reason for our debts is because citizens in both countries were betrayed.

On July 6, 1913, the Canadian central government passed 'The Bank Act', thus enacting a law known as 'An Act Respecting Banks and Banking' giving the exclusive jurisdiction for the control, creation and issuing of the nation's currency to the Bank of Canada, who passed that power on to the Canadian Bankers Association, causing the exorbitant deficit for Canada. The big question is: should Paul Martin reverse the national debt to the bankers or should Canadian taxpayers go along with his debt solution?

Is this a living wage?

Dear Editor;
 In a recent information sent to the major media, a leader of the IWA sheds some light on the status of the current bargaining process in the BC forest industry.

It seems that his employers (the work force) are willing to go on strike to maintain the status quo regarding wages. However, he states that the union is willing to make major concessions regarding hours of work and overtime, all the while drawing much heat from the membership over capitulation on this issue.

The union has published some revealing and rather startling statistics to make their point.

Of the three major players in our forest industry, last year the CEO of Interfor received the miserly sum of $750,000. Meanwhile, the boss at Timberwest earned just over a meager million while the biggest of the big boys over at Weyerhaeuser had to make do with $1.775 million U.S.

To earn their wages the CEOs had to gain the present government's approval to increase log exports in each of the last two years by 2500 percent while decreasing the manufacture of lumber by 250 percent. So, did the CEOs earn their salaries? After all, was it very hard to convince the government of the company's need since the Liberals are strapped for cash to balance their budget?

When we compare 25 dollars per hour as a living wage for working 24/7 against management salaries, it becomes evident that it's not the fault of the CEOs or the workers but a major flaw in our so-called 'free enterprise' system to adequately address the distribution of wealth.

 Sincerely,
 HP Toews

(Editor's note: Perhaps there is a lesson in this: the Board of Directors of the New York Stock Exchange recently fired the President of the exchange because his salary went up to $1.4 million per year, and the Board said that salary was far too much to pay any executive.)

Heart Food

by Dave Machin

The whole New Testament centers around a term that Jesus used in talking to a Jewish religious leader one night. He said that in order to enter the kingdom of God you must be "born-again". This man, being a religious leader, could not understand this. He was trying with his natural understanding as many today do. The actual Greek word "again" means "from above". Just as every person is born physically into this planet, Jesus was saying that to enter the kingdom of God, you must be born from above (a spiritual birth). This new birth qualifies every person immediate entrance into the kingdom of heaven. To understand this, you must know that God is a spirit and He created man in his image or likeness, therefore that makes man a spirit also. He has a soul (mind, will and emotions) and lives in a body. However, he separated himself from God in the beginning when he disobeyed and as a result lost his relationship with God. That is why Jesus talked about the new birth, because he was saying you can't enter heaven your way. You can only do it God's way. This is not hard, nor religious. It simply consists of your believing in your heart and confessing with your mouth that God raised Jesus from the dead, that He is your doorway to enter into heaven. When you believe what you say, God instantly acts on that, recreates your spirit and gives you new life. That does not make anybody perfect but you have this wonderful peace on the inside that your eternal destiny is secure. Likewise, God's word, the Bible, becomes alive and real to you. Again, Jesus is saying you don't enter heaven by living a better life or by following some religious way but simply by being born from above. Anybody anywhere anytime can do this. God is waiting to hear your voice. Eternity is forever and the key to your entrance there is one sentence long. God is good, His word is good and good all the time.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Looking For High Income During Market Lows

Your investments are maturing. Markets are volatile and GIC rates low but you need to draw an income and preserve capital for the future.

At first blush, high income funds may be the answer to your prayers. High income funds invest in some combination of high yield common stocks, preferred shares, corporate bonds, income trusts, real estate investment trusts (REITs) and/or energy royalty funds. The funds provide promised payouts at pre-established times.

But with promised payouts as much as eight cents per unit or more, the funds may not offer the value they appear to. In fact, the promised income can quickly become a mortgage against your future.

Income fund investment earnings are made up of both income (interest) and price appreciation or depreciation of the value of your investment (capital). It is those earnings that theoretically provide your payout while leaving investment capital intact. But with new lows in today's markets, the promised payouts can quickly wipe out returns and erode capital. It is important to look beyond short term income received from these funds to the true cost - and returns - for your investments.

One alternative for conservative, long term investors is a combination of GICs and growth-oriented income funds. GICs provide a secure foundation for investment growth. Mutual funds offer an income-generating vehicle with market growth potential. By reinvesting GIC interest payouts into mutual funds on a regular, scheduled basis, you can enjoy the best of both.

Some other points to consider:

- When calculating your income needs, be sure to leave room for unexpected expenses.
- Determine how often you need income withdrawn with how often your investment pays out. Money market funds may pay weekly or monthly; bond funds distribute income monthly or quarterly, and mortgage funds pay quarterly.
- Each investment has a separate list of advantages and disadvantages. Consider all of your options before making your choice.
- The option you choose will affect the taxes you pay. Interest income is taxed at your marginal tax rate; distributed capital gains may be taxed at a lower rate and Canadian dividend income qualifies for the federal dividend tax credit.
- Work closely with your investment professional and tax advisor to determine the most effective way to balance your personal portfolio with your need to draw income today and protect your capital for the future.

In times of turmoil, it is the basics that endure. A balanced portfolio that includes GICs and mutual funds, plus quality stocks and bonds, protects your capital, provides the income you need and keeps your portfolio poised for the markets' return to sensibility.

Isn't it time to get back to basics and find the balance right for you?

Rebekahs host B.C. President's luncheon

by Dorothy Stenvold

Our Assembly President's visit was a great success. The cold plate lunch of turkey, ham, salads, etc. was much enjoyed by all.

Sisters came from many other lodges and enjoyed our program as much as the food. Was it all the errors we made? Or was it the scooter used in our addendum? There was much laughter and genuine happiness, so our efforts were appreciated.

BC Rebekah Assembly President Marion Ferguson gave an informative talk that ended with her singing her own words to a familiar tune. She also enjoyed the song all members sang to the tune of "Five Foot Two". As she is that height, she is often teased about it.

Tea, cookies and squares were enjoyed as the Sisters prepared to leave on their homeward journeys.

Writers and PLP sponsor youth contest

by Monty Raine

The Princeton Writers 2003 Youth Writing Contest will start within two weeks. We are happy to announce that Princeton Light and Power is sponsoring this year's contest. Total prize money of $250 will be shared by three age categories. The overall winner's name will be engraved on our Youth Writing Contest plaque, presently on display at the PLP office, and the story included in our next Princeton Writers' publication.

Our first Youth Writing Contest was held in 1995 and we hope it will continue to flourish for many more years. Of course, all those who enter the contest are winners

Firemen plan a new Halloween

At the September 30 Fall Fair meeting, Tophy Hanna raised the question of the upcoming Halloween party for local children. This year, it will be held at the fairgrounds. Hanna asked if the firemen could do a walk-through for planning. In addition, the firemen hope to present fireworks organized by Andrew Nordquist, who is certified for setting up and executing fireworks displays. Fair members agreed to help.

by virtue of the effort needed to create a story.

Writers should do well to remember - we can think about writing, read about writing, dream about writing and talk about writing, but success will come only by writing.

Our new slogan, in keeping with our sponsor, is See the Light through Literature.

Watch for posters. Entry forms are available at the PLP office and Princeton Library. Good luck to all who enter.

Asset Development

What can youth do in Princeton?

by Nadine McEwen, Asset Development Coordinator

What do you mean there is nothing for youth to do in Princeton? There is a lot to do!

Young people have signed up for many organized activities such as minor hockey, dance (highland and hip-hop), Guides, Cadets, school activities such as volleyball, track and field, soccer, yearbook, student council and more.

Along with structured activities, young people need time for unstructured activities. They need time to spend with their friends in comfortable, safe places where they can be themselves, places to hang out, enjoy some snacks, and have some fun, places where they are trusted and treated like real people, places where they are welcomed!

A variety of caring individuals and groups in Princeton offer such places. These activities are for young people in grades 8 to 12. Why not check them out?

On Mondays, young people can join Princeton youth Action

Team after school at the arena mezzanine from 3:15 to 4:15 p.m. PYAT meets to plan late night activities in the community for youth, volunteer their time in the community at local events, and are trying to make a difference for themselves and their peers. Come check it out.

On Tuesdays, the BACKDOOR is open from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. at the Baptist Church. Young people can hang out with friends, win prizes, play games, watch movies, compete in contests and eat some grub during these great Tuesday nights.

Every second Wednesday the Princeton Legion is open to youth who want a place to hang out, play some pool and help organize some monthly activities at the Legion for their peers. The next meeting is Wednesday, October 8, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Open Gym happens at PSS each Friday after school to 5:00 p.m. If young people need to blow off steam or just enjoy playing sports to loud music, then this is the place to be. There are approximately 30 young people in this great program.

Country Chapel hosts X'treme U'th each Friday at 7:30 p.m. X'treme U'th is currently presenting The quest, a video series designed to engage youth in a discussion of spiritual issues that relate to teen issues.

Princeton arena hosts a public skate on Fridays from 7-8:00 p.m. and Teen Stick 'n' Puck from 8:15-8:45 p.m. Fridays. There is girls drop-in hockey each Sunday from 6:15 to 7:15 p.m. and more public skating times are available at the arena.

Princeton Bowling Centre hosts Youth Night every second and fourth Friday evening from 7 - 10 p.m. starting October 10. Young people can enjoy an evening of bowling with friends, loud music and munchies. Cost is $10 for the evening and includes bowling and pop.

Anybody else? If you have something happening for young people and need help getting the word out, please call Nadine at 295-7222.

Join a girls hockey team! They play Friday evenings at 5:15 p.m. and Sunday from 6:15-7:15 p.m. Left to right, standing: Shelby Mack, Jessica McCarthy. Kneeling: Christina Smyth, Jenn Dunn. Missing: Britts Clifton and Jessie Cook.

What are the 'K' kids doing around town?

When Katimavik participants arrived in Princeton again, it was not long before everyone was talking about the K Kids. Here's what they are doing for our community:

* Etienne Garon and Patrick Deacon are building and repairing fencing around the Swan Lake wildlife preserve. They varnished the bird blind and did bird counts and grass identification. Their work is for Vermilion Forks Field Naturalists.

* Danielle Gonsalves assists with speech therapy, play groups, computer work and classroom activities.

She assists with speech therapy.

* Josiane Boisvert assists with childcare, learning centre, activities, clerical duties, fundraising and improvement projects at Little Folks Nursery School.

* Luc Blanchard works for the Chamber of Commerce. He varnished and painted the building and started a rock wall. He also answers questions for visitors.

* Jaime Purgavie helps a teacher and does some paperwork at John Allison Elementary School.

* Ezekiel Rainville and Driscilla Nayawatatic work for Princeton

Exhibition Association. They are building picnic tables and repairing windows and sidewalks at the fairgrounds.

* Karlee Garand and Tom Serwaczek assist staff with developmentally disabled adults and seniors at New Beginnings. Tom works some days with the Chamber of Commerce.

* Andrea Burwell works two days for the Chamber of Commerce and three days at Princeton Museum. At the museum, she assists with labelling, cataloguing and archival research.
