

Methane exploration flags area

Local residents were very curious about these trucks and all the little roadside flags and cables.

Lay says hunting season has been good

"This has been a good season," Conservation Officer Al Lay told the News Leader. "Nobody was injured."

There were more hunters in Princeton this year, and they bagged a lot of game. There were about 60 minor violations, but the performance of the hunters was excellent for the most part.

Three bull moose and three deer were shot and left, with no effort whatsoever to use the meat.

"I don't call these people hunters," says Lay.

It was an excellent year for people reporting hunting violations. "People are watching, and that's good," says Lay, adding, "People are learning that if they do make a mistake they can call it in and it's no major crime."

The moose take was excellent this year, the highest in the region for two-point bulls. The number of elk taken was highest for legal bulls. Lay believes eight or nine were shot. The number of deer taken is up.

Bears continued to be a serious problem. Lay believes they may be over-populated for a dry year. He was surprised he was called out for two bears this month, as they should have been hibernating. Very few bears are shot by hunters these days. Only 10 bear tags were taken out this year.

It's time to help Santa

Santa Claus is running a deficit just like the rest of us, and is looking for some grants to fill his sleigh. Princeton Crisis Assistance is launching its annual Christmas Hamper Drive this year, and hopes Princeton residents are as generous this year as they have been in the past.

There will be a toy donation box at Westland (formerly Hamilton) Insurance, and Dairy Queen will be doing its Angels Anonymous tree.

Earl Driver, who has been organizing the Christmas Hamper Drive for years, says there will be boxes in many locations on Friday for donations of non-perishable foods. Driver emphasizes that food donations are always the most appreciated every year.

Approximately 100 hampers are given each year, thanks to local residents giving from the heart for those less fortunate.

Can't remember where the boxes are located? Take items to the Crisis Assistance store on Vermilion Avenue.

Speed, wildlife and icy roads kept RCMP busy

Between November 7 and November 14, Princeton RCMP attended 17 motor vehicle accidents. Of those, 15 occurred on Highway 3. Speed, wildlife and icy roads were common contributing factors in these collisions.

On the afternoon of November 13, three collisions occurred within minutes of each other on Highway 3 east of Bromley Rock. While police were investigating the first incident where a single vehicle had left the roadway, another collision occurred just a short distance away when an eastbound Nissan went out of control, struck the side of a westbound motorhome, and then collided with a west bound Dodge mini van.

The third collision occurred west of the first two when an east-bound vehicle left the roadway on a curve and overturned.

"It was only with luck that no one was injured in these collisions," said Sgt. Kurt Lozinski, OC of Princeton Detachment.

Little roadside flags arouse curiosity

Local residents from Tulameen through Princeton have been fascinated by the little blue and orange flags along roadsides. Last week, Tesla trucks followed the little flags and created a lot of noise every place they stopped. Crews had spent days stringing wire from one little flag to another, and after the trucks passed, the crews went along and picked up the wires. This seemed quite a mystery to a lot of people.

What people were seeing was a process required to map the underground structure of our area to determine where the coalbeds are and how thick the beds are, as well as how thick other rock layers are. Petrobank calls this a "seismic" exploration. The little flags mark locations, and the wire picked up responses to the vibrations sent into the ground by the truck. The system works like sonar in the ocean.

By calibrating the time between the initial surge of waves and the rebound picked up by the wires, Petrobank can "read" the underground structure. This information will be used by Petrobank to determine whether the company will further pursue coalbed methane extraction.

Interest has been expressed in the coalbed gas potential of the Tulameen coalfield. There is a public information Open House at Tulameen Community Hall Tuesday, November 18 from 4 to 8 pm. This is presented by the BC Ministry of Mines and Energy to discuss coalbed methane, natural gas rights, regulation, and what it means to local residents.

Unfortunately, Tesla suffered a theft of a seismic field box that converts analog data to digital data and forwards the information to the main computer through cables. The equipment is useless to anyone other than Tesla. RCMP are requesting anyone knowing the whereabouts of this equipment to take it to Princeton RCMP detachment office. RCMP say they will seek charges against anyone involved if the equipment is not returned. Anyone who may have witnessed the theft is asked to contact RCMP or Crimestoppers.

BCTF rep talks to Princeton teachers about the next step

Irene Lanzinger, second Vice-President of BC Teachers Federation, was in Princeton last week to talk to members of Princeton's Teachers' Union about due to the BC College of Teachers.

"This isn't just a teachers' issue," Lanzinger said. "It's about democracy. Teachers are being asked to pay for an organization in which they have no say."

Lanzinger has been a teacher for 25 years and has seen a lot of changes in the relationship between teachers and the provincial government. The latest issue with the BC College of Teachers is just the latest in a long series of issues with the government. Lanzinger says the Minister of Education has been asked to meet with the BCTF but has not responded. Ministry officials have met with BCTF representatives, but to date there is no progress on the issue.

It is a condition of employment that teachers belong to the BC College of Teachers. School Boards must request proof of membership from every teacher hired. Teachers must pay dues to the College of Teachers by December 1 each year. Ordinarily, it is automatically deducted by school district administration and forwarded to the College of Teachers. This year, due to the government appointing the members of the Board of the College of Teachers, BC teachers is recommending the dues be paid to a trust fund managed by the BCTF. Teachers across the province will vote on these issues this week.

If the dues are not paid to the College of Teachers on December 1, teachers will no longer meet the conditions of employment set by the provincial government. In that case, in theory, school boards would be obliged to dismiss all teachers in arrears. If that were done, schools across BC would be shut down.

"I am advising teachers of the risks of not paying the dues and the risks of paying them," Lanzinger said.

The risk of paying the dues is the submission to a system in which they have no say about who runs it or how much they must pay.

"If the government really wants to control the BC College of Teachers, let them pay for it," Lanzinger concluded.

Valley remembers the fallen

Remembrance Day services were held in Keremeos, Hedley and Princeton on Tuesday, November 11, and there was excellent attendance at all locations.

In Hedley, Old Age Pensioners Organization conducted the ceremonies, which included a march up the main street to the Cenotaph and the customary two minutes of silence and Act of Remembrance. Services were followed by lunch at the OAP Hall.

Keremeos marked Remembrance Day with an excellent crowd of approximately 300 people attending the service and the number of wreaths laid was outstanding. Following the outdoor ceremonies, the Legion hall was crowded with veterans and members seeking a hot meal and comradeship.

Approximately 400 people attended the ceremonies at Princeton's Cenotaph, where Maria Sadegur and Chaplain Chris Haugland alternated in the proceedings. At 11:00 o'clock, Jean Haugland tolled the bell for the dead.

Lunch in the hall included an outstanding program of observances.

Master of Ceremonies Bud Sadegur read a letter from Prime Minister Jean Chretien, then called on Youth Ambassadors Brittany Antonick and Christina Kovacs to read "In Flanders Fields". Janine Esdale, accompanied by Her mother, Judy Esdale, sang a song called "Remembrance Day Child".

Mayor Keith Olsen paid tribute to the Royal Canadian Legion by thanking them for "playing such a major role in our community", and asked Legion members to continue to help everyone remember those who made the sacrifice for us.

Legion President Bob Paterson spoke of the aging veterans and the need to educate the young about Remembrance Day and what it represents.

RCMP Cpl. Kate Anderson said she was "deeply humbled in the presence of the veterans" and thanked the Legion for including the RCMP in the ceremonies.

Legion Ladies Auxiliary President Sharon Beausoleil expressed appreciation to the Ladies Auxiliary for the lunch, and the Youth Auxiliary and Katimavik members for their help. She presented a $2,000 cheque to the Legion and suggested it be earmarked for a new dishwasher.

Bud Sadegur read a poem about why we wear a poppy, then introduced the Katimavik participants who say a song "The strangest Dream" about putting an end to war.

Sadegur also spoke about growing up in a generation which had not experienced war, and how important it is for people to gain an understanding of what war means.

Poppy Awards were presented to Ray Jarvis, Bob Paterson, John Haayer, Russ Pederson, Legion Youth Auxiliary, the Air Cadets, and Maria Sadegur.

Bill Cromarty, Kathy McKay, and the two pipers, Glen Esdale and Patrick LePoidevin received recognition for their contribution.

BC students scored higher on 2003 tests

Grade 12 students scored higher this year on their provincial exams. More than half the student who wrote provincial exams in Geography 12, French 12, Chemistry 12 and Principles of Mathematics 12 received an A or B letter grade.

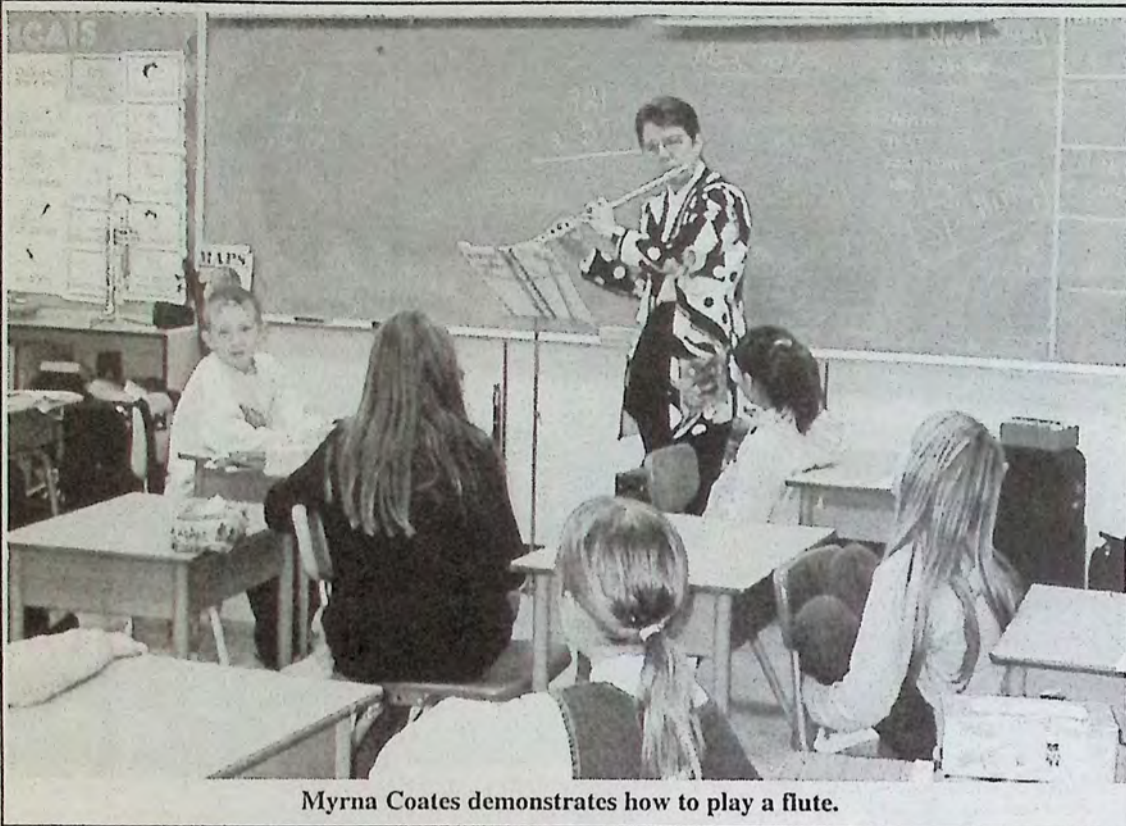

Provincial exams are one of three key provincial indicators used to assess the performance of students and the education system. The other two are the graduation rate and the annual Foundation Skills Assessment, which measures the literacy and numeracy skills of students in Grades 4, 7 and 10.

She wants to build some bands

Myrna Coates, a school trustee for Okanagan-Similkameen, was looking for a position as a substitute teacher for Nicola-Similkameen school district. Coates, a retired teacher living in her home town, Keremeos, discovered Princeton has no band program as part of the school curriculum. She is trying to revitalize the band program.

On November 12, she visited the first school in her itinerary.

She talked to students in Mr. Miller's Grade 5 at John Allison Elementary and she will visit all of the other schools in the Princeton area.

Coates is prepared to teach band to students and any interested adults after school and in the evening. She is looking for feedback from adults as to which time is better, and will be polling parents. Coates is flexible about times.

"I want to find the best time for most people," Coates told the News Leader.

There are some musical instruments in the schools, and Coates has arranged with Paramount Music of Kelowna to rent instruments.

Students from Grade 5-12 who join the program will learn to read music, if they are beginners, and will learn to play an instrument. Adults who would like to be involved in a community band may be either beginners or experienced musicians.

Coates began her talk with Grade 5 students by saying, "I am here to talk about passion," and went on to say she is passionate about music. Her passion brings her to Princeton with a goal of creating bands.

Interior, and campus clubs.

The New Democrats will choose the party's next leader at a convention in Vancouver November 21 to 23. They will be choosing a candidate to defeat Gordon Campbell and the Liberals in the May, 2005, provincial elections.

Watch for shopping spree

Princeton & District Chamber of Commerce is planning a Christmas shopping spree on Friday evening, November 28. Watch for specials advertised in next week's News Leader.

Santa Claus will visit Princeton on the afternoon of Saturday, November 29. No details are available at this time, but we understand there will be some kind of parade, and an opportunity for children to tell their Christmas wishes to Santa.

CUPE endorses Orcherton

The 10,000 members of the Canadian Union of Public Employees of Vancouver Island District Council have endorsed Steve Orcherton for leadership of the BC New Democratic Party.

"Steve Orcherton has the commitment, leadership and track record to beat back the Liberals' anti-worker agenda and to win in 2005," said Marlene Crozier, Council President.

The Cupe membership gave Orcherton unanimous support.

Orcherton says he is gratified to see his message of standing on traditional New Democrat principles as the key to rebuilding the party is resonating, and that the notion of middle-of-the-road moderation of other candidates is being rejected.

Orcherton has received an endorsement from the youth wing of the NDP and from coordinators for the aboriginals, the

Cawston hosts kids meeting

On November 26, at 10 a.m. in the Women's Institute room at Cawston Community Hall, there will be a Community Table meeting for the Communities for Kids project in the Similkameen and a presentation from the Okanagan Similkameen Neurological Society (OSNS).

A South Similkameen area Community Table has met periodically since January to talk about ways children can be served well in the community during their greatest growth before they enter school.

Dave Cursons of Cawston has been contracted with Interior Health to work in Princeton, Hedley and Keremeos areas. He

Council will go to public for final community plan

Council is reviewing the official community plan and preparing to make changes. The public will have an opportunity to see this plan and provide input early next year. The public will be notified as to a town meeting to discuss the plan.

Creating the community plan is a long process involving consultation with provincial government agencies. Village Council will talk with the Land Commission about excluding some parcels of land from the Agricultural Land Reserve to allow for development.

Village Council is considering extending the municipal boundaries to the north.

Starts at Valley First building and goes through the main street to the Village office.

Parade Rules:

1) All entrants must be at their assigned place in the marshalling area by 5:00 p.m. December 5.

will discuss his role and invite comments and suggestions at the meeting.

For 28 years, OSNS has assisted families in our area from its base in Penticton. Many of their services have been available right in the Similkameen. In a time of funding shortfalls, OSNS and other services for children need help through creative ways to continue to support children.

Childcare will be provided during the meeting, and refreshments will be available.

Anyone requiring transportation or answers to concerns should call Dave Cursons at 499-5417.

Village Clerk Bob Lefleur says 29 building permits have been issued this year.

"There has been more growth this year than in the last five years combined," Lefleur told the News Leader.

He added there have been expressions of interest from developers but land must be available, and the services must be in place.

Correction

In last week's News Leader, we erred by giving the wrong name for the broadband service provider. It should have been Dan Pattison of China Creek internet service.

2) Due to slippery conditions and restricted visibility on some of the floats, DO NOT throw candy or other promotional items from floats. If you choose to distribute these items, have people walking next to the sidewalk to do handouts. This is a serious consideration for safety and insurance reasons.

3) Santa Claus has requested that there be only one Santa Claus in the parade in order to avoid confusing the children.

4) Parade entrants should be 50 to 75 feet apart. Volunteer Parade Marshals will monitor distances.

These rules are for the safety and enjoyment of all participants.

Anna Bartlett says, "Let's be proud to get involved in Similkameen Country's Christmas Light-up and make a special effort to make 2003 the best Light-up ever."

All entries should be faxed to Anna Bartlett at 499-5785 or dropped off at the Employment Access Centre on the bottom floor of Victory Hall Before November 24. Application forms are available from Similkameen Country.

OAP plans Xmas

Keremeos OAPO has a new executive to do the planning for 2004. Al Sowden was re-elected President, with Pat McBride as First Vice-President, and Shirley Bonneau as Second Vice-President. Alex McBride is Past President. Treasurer is Bill Merriman and Secretary is Eva Austin. Directors are Edna Brown, Marion Teu, June Fletcher, Lloyd Schaan, Alex Fomenko, Richard Schmidt and Roy Stewart. Tickets are on sale now for Christmas dinner on December 12, and for the New Year's Eve party. Tickets are restricted to members only. The Dec. 14 songfest is open to everyone.

Flu season is back.

Influenza is a serious and contagious illness.

Every year, thousands of British Columbians are hospitalized from the influenza virus (flu). While anyone can contract the flu, people over the age of 65 are at the greatest risk of developing life-threatening complications.

A flu shot is the best protection.

Flu shots are proven to be 70-90% effective at preventing infection in healthy adults. That's why people who may spread the virus to those most at risk from the complications of flu are urged to get their flu shot every year. Because even if you're able to battle the flu virus on your own, those around you may not be so lucky.

Free for those who need it most.

Some people are considered "high risk" for contracting the flu or passing it on to others. The World Health Organization recommends that anyone considered high risk should be vaccinated. That's why the Government of British Columbia provides free flu shots to health-care workers, seniors, adults, and children with chronic illnesses and their families.

Myths about flu shots.

A flu shot will not give you the flu. The influenza vaccine does not contain live viruses. Many people believe flu shots weaken their immune system. This is also untrue. The vaccine actually boosts your immune system and prepares it to fight the virus. For most people, side effects are minimal if any.

Protect yourself and the people around you.

Please get a flu shot this season. Not only will it protect you from getting sick, it will also prevent others from being exposed to the influenza virus. All of which means fewer visits to the emergency room and/or hospital. In fact, influenza immunization contributed to about 1700 fewer hospitalizations for pneumonia and influenza in BC between 1999/2000 and 2000/2001.

HOW TO REDUCE THE RISK OF GETTING THE FLU

- Get a flu shot.
- Wash your hands often, especially during the winter months when the flu is most prevalent.
- Keep your hands away from your nose, eyes, and mouth.
- Stop or minimize smoking. It irritates the lining of your nose, sinuses, and lungs, making you more susceptible to the virus.
- Keep your immune system healthy by eating a balanced diet and getting plenty of exercise.

To arrange your flu shot, contact your doctor or public health unit. For more information, call BC NurseLine at 1-866-215-4700 (24/7) or visit www.gov.bc.ca/healthplanning.

You can prevent Type II diabetes

by Jane Johnson, Registered Dietician and Marlyn Smyth, Registered Nurse.

To prevent Type II Diabetes in ourselves and our children, we must act now by making sure healthy eating and regular exercise become an enjoyable way of life.

Diabetes is quickly becoming an epidemic in today's society. Over the past 40 years our lifestyles have changed. People are less active and eat larger portions of processed foods higher in calories, fats and sugars, and lower in fibre, vitamins and minerals. This combination of decreased activity and unhealthy eating increases your chances of developing diabetes.

Diabetes is a serious disease. People with diabetes are 2-4 times more likely to die of heart disease. Diabetes can cause blindness, nerve damage, and kidney disease. Research suggests that more than 90 percent of Type II diabetes could be prevented if people maintain a healthy weight, exercise regularly, eat a healthy diet and do not smoke.

The following is a list of risk factors that increase your risk of developing diabetes.

The risk factors marked by * may never develop into diabetes if healthy eating, exercise and maintaining a healthy weight are part of your lifestyle.

Risk factors:

- Age 40 or older
- First degree relative with diabetes (mother, father, sister, brother)
- People of Aboriginal, Hispanic, South Asian, Asian or African descent.

* History of impaired glucose tolerance or impaired fasting glucose

* Presence of complications associated with diabetes (diabetic eye disease, kidney disease, erectile dysfunction)

- Vascular disease

- history of diabetes when pregnant

- history of delivery of a baby weighing more than nine pounds

* high blood pressure

* high cholesterol

* overweight

* abdominal obesity

- polycystic ovary syndrome

- acantosis nigricans

- schizophrenia

You cannot change some of these risk factors, but healthy eating, exercise and maintaining a healthy weight can reduce your risks and have been proven to go a long way in preventing Type II diabetes.

This is CPR Month

Cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) is a method of helping a victim or cardiac arrest. CPR saves lives. November is CPR Month. Canadian Red Cross urges everyone to learn CPR to save a life.

CPR training teaches people how to recognize the signs of heart attack and how to act quickly and effectively in an emergency situation. If a person is experiencing chest pain, nausea, or trouble breathing, that person could be having a heart attack.

More than 50,000 Canadians die each year of coronary disease. In most Canadian cities, the average ambulance response time is eight to 12 minutes. In four to six minutes, permanent brain damage can occur. Knowing what to do in those critical minutes can save a life.

CPR courses are offered intermittently in your community. Check with your local health unit to learn when the next course will be.

Wash your hands!

by Jill Rhynard, Health Promotion Coordinator, IH

Health care professionals will tell you hand washing is the single most effective way to prevent the transmission of disease. Washing your hands will often wash away germs you have picked up from other people, from contaminated surfaces or from animals and animal waste.

When you pick up germs, you infect yourself when you touch your eyes, nose or mouth. One of the most common ways people catch colds is by rubbing their nose or eyes after their hands have been contaminated with the cold virus. They also spread germs directly to others or onto surfaces other people touch. Before you know it, everybody is getting sick.

As you cannot see germs on your hands, it is important to wash your hands .....

- * before, during and after you prepare food
- * before you eat
- * after you use the bathroom
- * after handling animals or animal waste
- * when your hands are dirty
- * when you or someone in your home is sick - then was your hands more frequently!

Here are some tips on washing your hands correctly:

- * wet hands under warm running water and apply soap
- * rub your hands together vigorously for 10 to 15 seconds (longer if your hands are visibly dirty)
- * rinse in warm running water

* dry hands with a clean cloth or paper towel

* in ALL washrooms, use the towel to turn off the tap

* use hand lotion to prevent skin from getting sore.

Living Past 100

make your plan for healthy holiday meals

At this time of year, one of the problems we face is an increased demand for calories due to cold weather. The truth is this: most of us do not need more calories because we do not work that hard physically and we work in warm places. What we are doing is reacting to our Ice Age conditioning in which cold weather automatically means a need for more calories.

Add to this the tradition of stoking the fuel at Christmas time, and we can rest assured we will eat far more than we need. For those of us who consume alcohol along with our overeating, we just add the pounds we do not need.

Planning meals will take us, and all our friends, through the holiday season much healthier.

The basic turkey dinner at Christmas time is healthy. What is not healthy is the over-abundance of butter tarts, mince pie, Christmas pudding, chocolates, candy canes and so on. This is where planning makes the difference.

Offer people smarter snack choices when you entertain. The cream cheese can become a dip on a tray of veggies. The bowl of mixed nuts can become a bowl of peanuts in the shell. Popcorn served hot is better than chocolates, and a bowl of fruit can take the place of Christmas cake.

Christmas desserts can be light and fluffy mousse or fruit cocktail.

Tradition teaches us to serve certain foods at Christmas time, but tradition came from an era of no central heating and hard physical labour. We need new traditions to keep us healthy.

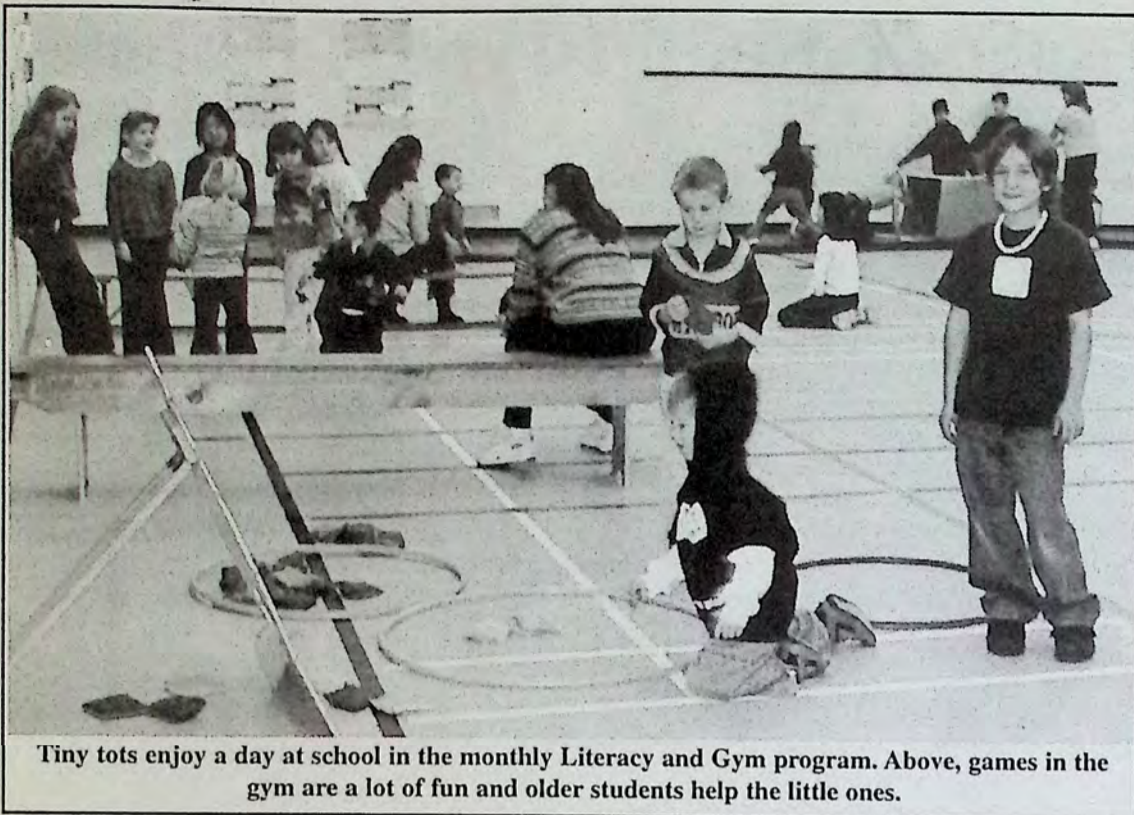

If you are cooking turkey, learn safe handling of poultry.

Tiny tots enjoy a day at school in the monthly Literacy and Gym program. Above, games in the gym are a lot of fun and older students help the little ones.

Program helps pre-schoolers get ready

The pre-school early literacy and gym program is not about teaching pre-schoolers to read and do sports. The program is about helping parents prepare their child for success in school. The tots and toddlers enjoy a visit to Vermilion Forks Elementary with Mom or Dad. While there, they interact with all of the students in the school. Older children help the little ones in the classroom and in the gym. All of the youngsters appear to enjoy it immensely.

The pre-school early literacy and gym program happens just once a month, and is just one of the programs offered in Princeton for parents and pre-schoolers. All of these are part of the Communities for Kids initiative, which encourages parents and children to participate in expanding children's horizons and teaching them skills. One of the features of these programs is the opportunity for children to learn social skills. The other is of benefit to parents who would like contact with other parents of pre-schoolers.

The little folk may be from age one to kindergarten level.

Anyone who is interested in joining the program, or finding out more about it, should contact Princeton Health Unit at 295-3133 for referral to a parent in charge. As some parents find transportation a problem, organizers are trying to make arrangements for public transportation to and from the activities.

Auxiliary prepares for first Christmas bazaar

by Betty Gauvin

Santa's helpers are busy buzzing around the Thrift Shop getting ready for the Hospital Auxiliary's first annual bazaar at the Thrift Shop on Saturday, November 22. Mary Bird made beautiful aprons for all of Santa's helpers.

The Auxiliary appreciated the generous donation of beautiful hand-crafted articles by Rosemary Woodruff, Gladys Webster and Marge Houghton.

Our annual Christmas dinner will be held December 8 and we look forward to seeing everyone there.

The Auxiliary deeply regrets the passing of Irene Foster, a Life Member of the Auxiliary. Her memory will live long in our hearts.

K & M Trucking Bantams start with a bang

by Kyle Markin

On Sunday, October 5, Princeton had their home opener against Penticton 2. Princeton's first goal of the season was scored by Cody Leonard who wristed in an awesome shot that beat the goaltender. The assist went to Beau Wilkinson. Jay Bell scored Princeton's second goal unassisted, ending first period with a 2-2 tie. Second period started with a goal by Brandon Campbell assisted by Jay Bell. Shortly after, Kyle Markin tapped in the first of his three goals this game, with assists going to Jay Bell and Adam Dunford. Then Josh Scarpelli got his first unassisted goal, the first of his five goals that game. Princeton dominated third period, scoring six more goals to a final score of 11-3 for Princeton's first victory of the season.

The following weekend, Princeton took on Merritt in an exhibition match. Merritt scored early in the first and tapped in two more in the second. Princeton did not score until third period when Josh Scarpelli, assisted by Jake Greening, let go a dandy shot and beat the goalie. Soon after, Josh got his second goal of the night pulling Princeton closer to tying the game. Assists went to Luke Pusell and Jay Bell. Jay scored the third goal, assisted by Josh. Unfortunately, Princeton could not find the back of the net again and had to settle for a 6-3 loss.

That same weekend, Princeton bounced back with a 12-3 win over Penticton Three. Josh Scarpelli and Luke Pusell made unassisted goals to open scoring. The Jake Greening and Josh took turns setting each other up for another two goals which ended first period with a 4-1 lead for Princeton. In second period, Princeton scored another four goals led by Kyle Markin, then Jay Bell and Luke Pusell assisted by Josh, Adam Dunford and Devin Lilly. Third period was a devastating show of superiority with Princeton scoring another five goals by Adam, Luke, Kyle, Jake and Nigel Mack. Assists went to Josh, Adam and Cody Leonard. The game ended 12-3 for Princeton.

Penticton scored halfway into first period with Princeton tying it shortly after with a goal by Jake Greening assisted by Beau Wilkinson. Princeton fell behind when Penticton responded with another goal. Princeton fought hard and with a last ditch effort when Jake, assisted by Steve Schwarz, scored a goal at the end of first period, tying the game 2-2. Second period was full of fast skating and hard shots but the goaltenders had come to play and the only goal given up went to Penticton. Princeton did not give up and halfway through third period, Kyle scored the tying goal assisted by Brandon Campbell and Cody Leonard.

The following day, Princeton met Summerland. Princeton took control of the game off the draw and two minutes later opened scoring with an unassisted goal by Adam Dunford. Josh Scarpelli knocked in two more with assists by Jake Greening and Devin Lilly. By the end of first, Princeton had a commanding lead of 4-1. Jake scored the fourth goal with an assist by Luke Pusell. In second period, Josh and Adam knocked in two more, with assists by Cody and Josh. Princeton led 6-2. In third period, Princeton did not ease up and shovelled in four more goals before the end of the game. Scoring was led by veterans Luke Pusell, Adam Dunford, Josh Scarpelli and rookie Steve Schwarz. Assists went to Jay Bell, Adam, Jake and Steve. Princeton took the win 10-4.

1. Your bedroom light _____ watts ( _____ kilowatts) 2. Your bathroom light _____ watts ( _____ kilowatts)
 3. Your clock radio _____ watts ( _____ kilowatts) 4. Your electric toaster _____ watts ( _____ kilowatts)

PETER'S ACTIVITY NO. 2
 We know that large cars use more fuel than small cars. Well, it's the same for electrical appliances. A large appliance, such as a refrigerator, uses more electricity than a small appliance, like an iron. To calculate the amount of electricity an appliance uses. Multiply the wattage by the length of time it operates. For example: If the light bulb in your bathroom used 100 watts and it is on for 10 hours, it consumes: 100 watts x 10 hours = 1,000 watt hours of electricity = 1 kilowatt hour (kWh)

1. A 600 watt coffee percolator operating for 1 hour. _____ kWh (kilowatt-hours)
 2. A 100 watt electric iron operating for 30 minutes _____ kWh
 3. A 200 watt VCR operating for 6 hours _____ kWh

RECREATION & TV GUIDE

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 18 THROUGH MONDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 2003

This is an example of the kind of saves the Nitehawks goalie made Saturday night. As the Posse player (white jersey) took his shot, the goalie was right on top of the puck and stick.

Posse faced tough games

Last week may have been a bit discouraging for the Posse because they lost both games, but both opponents were teams at the top. On Saturday evening, the Beaver Valley Nitehawks won due to an outstanding goalie. Posse players made one excellent shot after another on the Nitehawks goal and at least one of them should have gone in, but the goalie made some incredible saves and shut them out for the entire game.

Catcalls to the referee were a big factor in both the Nitehawks and the Sting games, and fighting broke out in both games in third period.

The Nitehawks are fast and rough, and risk penalties all the time. During third period in Saturday's game, they had three men in the penalty box. If the Posse was going to score, it should have been at that point, but try as they might, they could not put one shot past the Nitehawks' goalie. The game ended 4-0.

Both Peter McDonald, Posse assistant coach, and Chance Lintick sat out Saturday's game due to game penalties from Wednesday's match with Summerland Sting. That was an exciting game!

Summerland Stings Posse

Last Wednesday's Posse game was great for the fans who love to see a real scrap develop. The game was choppy and chippy right from the start as the Posse met Summerland Sting.

Sting opened scoring three minutes into the game and one minute later the Posse's Nick Stermer answered. Eight minutes later, Sting scored again, then scored a third goal on a fluke shot. Sting put heavy pressure on the Posse net.

The Posse had a lot of trouble holding onto the puck and maintaining control. Sting was all over every pass.

In second period, the Posse held Sting back for seven minutes, then Josh Lund scored goal #2 for the Posse, assisted by Craig Kulchyski, changing the score to 3-2 for Sting.

The score changed quickly when Sting came back with a fourth goal.

One of the prettiest goals of the season was The Posse's third goal, when Rylan Kerber scored a picture perfect goal, assisted by Seth Armitage and Alex McPhee.

With 3:49 left in second, Sting scored their fifth goal. This was no shame for the Posse, as they made some great shots and Sting's goalie saved their skin.

Third period was turbulent and full of hostility. Before the period was finished, Posse fans were shouting insults at the referee.

Sting had serious problems in third period. The Posse shut them out for 12 minutes straight, and Sting was increasingly pushy. Sandy Tyler took a penalty for a minor infraction, and when play resumed, Sting became more aggressive. The Posse's David Ammerman would not be pushed and a fight broke out. Ammerman was "jerseyed" and dumped on his butt. He and the Sting player went to the dressing room.

Peace was not lasting. Craig Kulchyski, who has few penalty minutes on his record, was attacked by a Sting player, jerseyed and dumped. Again, both players were sent off the ice.

When play resumed, Chance Lintick was on the ice. After a minor push, Chance threw down his gloves and helmet, put up his fists, and challenged the Sting player to fight. The player backed off as the crowd cheered Lintick. Then the player went into the fight, and this time, it was the Sting player dumped on the ice. Both went off the ice, but that was the end of the fisticuffs. However, Princeton was given a penalty and the fans became hostile. So did Assistant Coach Peter McDonald, who gave his opinion of the ref rather loudly. McDonald was sent to the dressing room.

When the game ended, the Posse had nothing to be ashamed of. Sting is tied for top spot in the Okanagan Shuswap division of KIJHL, and the Posse shut them out in the last period, despite rough tactics. Fans were not disappointed.

The second home game last week was with Beaver Valley Nitehawks, the top team in the league. This would prove a big challenge for the Posse.

OUR VIEW

Save the dead trees – kill the forest industry

The attack on B.C.'s efforts to sell wood to China is absolutely appalling. To take the environmentalist stance in China at a time when B.C. softwood is beaten up by tariffs is even worse. What is even more unbelievable is the sheer stupidity of including fire-damaged and beetle-killed wood in the ban. Environmentalists showed their hand: they want to destroy B.C.'s forest industry.

There is no point in arguing the reality of dead wood being dead and useless unless it is used. The environmentalists know all this. What is really stupid is that they do not care at all about the environment.

The biggest single problem right now is pollution of our atmosphere by the burning of fossil fuels, with oil as the number one culprit. You can bet your next paycheque all these environmentalists drive gas-powered vehicles even on their way to anti-logging rallies.

These groups want to save our forests? When was the last time you heard them protesting in Detroit or Chicago or Washington about global warming that lets our mountain beetles gain ground every year? When was the last time you heard them take out advertising against the United States not signing the Kyoto agreement to reduce the air pollution killing eastern forests?

Look into who finances these groups for the answer.

Forests are a resource we can keep on using as long as we keep on growing trees. There is no real need to save old growth beyond what we have already saved. Leave any tree long enough and it is old growth.

What these environmentalist jokers want is for every forest to look like Manning Park and then catch fire and pollute the air. Manning Park should have been logged long ago. By now we would see beautiful young trees manufacturing oxygen for our polluted atmosphere. Instead, we have a beetle-infested old growth forest dying as it stands.

Where is our major media on this issue? How about splashing "before" and "after" photos of Manning Park all over Vancouver? How about asking Kelowna residents how fast dead trees burn?

Oh, but beetle kill and forest fires are natural! the environmentalists will say. It is also "natural" for young human beings to bite anything that moves and crap anywhere they please, but is this desirable?

It is natural for companies that cannot sell their product to go broke, but is it desirable?

Ranchers can register now for funding from steer and heifer BSE market transition program

Ranchers can now register to qualify for funding under the British Columbia Steer and Heifer Market Transition Program announced this month. The program is a provincially funded extension of the Canada-BC BSE Recovery Program.

Ranchers must register now how many qualifying animals they have so the province can deliver the program accurately, effectively and fairly. The program is demand-driven, meaning payments and amounts will depend on the number of animals registered. The program also applies to other ruminants covered by the earlier national BSE Recovery Program – bison, caribou, deer, sheep, goats and veal animals.

The steer and heifer market transition program will help offset some of the loss due to inability to find markets for the many pre-BSE animals still in feedlots. It will help ranchers who sold slaughter-weight animals since the national program ended on September 1, 2003.

Registrations received after November 30, 2003, will not be eligible to receive program benefits. Forms and information are available online at www.gov.bc.ca/agf or by calling 250-260-3017 or toll free 1-888-576-3276.

To qualify for the program, animals must have been on a high-energy ration in a feedlot on May 20, 2003. The registration does not include inventories of cull animals, bred heifers, animals that were on grass or a backgrounder program, or cows and bulls in a finishing feedlot as of May 20, 2003. Random inspections will verify registration numbers.

B.C. has committed more than $10 million in BSE funding for B.C. farmers and ranchers since a single case of BSE was found in Alberta in May. The BSE funding is in addition to the $25 million available in provincial business risk management programs. As well, the provincial commitment triggers federal funds, giving B.C.'s cattle and dairy industries access to almost $70 million in total this year.

Veteran thanks Legion for outstanding service

Dear Editor;

I am a veteran of the Second World War and I was most impressed by the efforts of Maria and Bud Sadegur of the Canadian Legion. It was the most impressive service at the Legion I have ever witnessed. I have been waiting for some change over the years and it came forth Tuesday the 11th of November, 2003.

The poems about the Poppy, why we wear them, the son by a young Princeton girl, Janine, and her mother at the piano, the youth group singing, the silence in the hall – everyone was listening and not talking.

When the service started outside, the leaves on the trees started to fall, as if waiting for this very moment in memory of those who passed on before us.

I was very moved. Someone up above was listening to our prayers and our loss of friends and family.

Thank you, Princeton Royal Canadian Legion and those who helped to make this a very memorable day.
Sincerely,
Navy Overseas Veteran,
Cathie Orser.

Do you remember where you were?

Dawn Johnson, Editor

Italians were out in the street weeping, frightened and shocked. I remember seeing the film of the assassination on Italian television. It was narrated in English with Italian dubbing, fed directly from a television station somewhere in the United States.

Days later, we were to see the assassination of Lee Harvey Oswald on television. That, too, is burned into my memory.

There have been endless conspiracy theories about the assassination, but the lone gunman was what the Warren Commission decided was the truth. Not everyone believes the Warren Commission's findings.

In Italy, we shared our recreation facilities with American Coast Guard personnel. The morning after we heard the news, I went down to our rec centre and met a young Coast Guard member, who had his mother visiting. I expressed my sympathy at their having had a president assassinated. The response of the mother shocked me.

"I'm glad he's dead!" she said. "He deserved to be shot!"

Her son shushed her and they went on their way, while Canadians looked at them in amazement. What kind of people who prize democracy can be glad when bullets replace ballots?

Forty years later, we have many images burned into our memories. Kennedy's assassination was the beginning of a decade of violence that included the assassinations of Martin Luther King Jr. and Robert Kennedy. Canadians were appalled at what they saw happening to the United States.

More recently, we saw the destruction of the World Trade Center by some kind of terrorists. I doubt any of us will forget the scenes on television from the initial footage of the planes to the collapse of the towers. There are a lot of unanswered questions about that event, too, and a few conspiracy theories. We have seen Americans become less free in their own democracy as a result of the attack and we can ask why the PATRIOT Act (which was really an executive order) treats all Americans as if they are subversives until proven otherwise.

Kennedy was like a breath of fresh air in the world of his time. He cut through a lot of the prejudices and crap to lead the nation for which his brother had died and for which he had nearly died. Kennedy wanted a bright, shining America filled with opportunities for everyone, and he wanted to see a world at peace, safe and secure. What he wanted, all of us wanted. We do not have it yet. Might the world have been closer to those dreams if he had lived?

I remember where I was on November 22, 1963. Some events are burned into memory, and everything about that event, including where you were when you heard about it.

This week marks the fortieth anniversary of the assassination of John F. Kennedy. For those of us who are old enough for the event to have had impact, most will remember the assassination as a major shock, and they will remember where they were when they heard the news.

I was living in Italy at the time. It was evening when my girlfriend rushed up the stairs to tell me President Kennedy had been shot and killed. She had been sitting on her patio when an Italian neighbour ran out to her balcony to shout the news to the neighbourhood.

NDP

candidate blasts Human Resources Minister over cuts

Cuts announced November 13 by the Ministry of Human Resources received a strong criticism from NDP leadership candidate Nils Jensen. He claims the cuts are "further evidence of budget chaos" and added Minister Murray Coell "has lost control of his budget and botched his plan to overhaul income assistance. It's clear the Minister should be replaced."

Jensen said Coell has been unable to communicate honestly with the public about the impact of his cuts to income assistance. As a result, Jensen affirms, the Minister has contributed to the growing fear that tens of thousands of people will lose assistance when the two-year rule kicks in next April.

Heart Food

by Dave Machin

Words can curse or words can bless, words can discourage or encourage. Words can destroy or words can bring life. Words you hear will linger with you throughout the day. Biting, stinging, hurtful words your children or spouse hear as they leave the house can rob them of efficiency during the day, but gracious, tender, loving words can lead them to victory. Do we really understand the power of words the way we should? Our words, whether they be written, spoken or seven set to music are far more powerful than we may realize. Death and life are in the power of the tongue and they that love it will eat its fruit. There is power in the words you speak. Your words have the power to motivate people and create a positive or negative atmosphere. For example, the atmosphere in your home is, to a large part, a product of your words. Your children can fail or succeed in life because of the words spoken to them. Children who become successful in life were probably told, somewhere along the way, they could do anything they wanted to do. Your status and background in life make no difference. If you want to succeed you can do it. Your words can BUILD a positive self-image into your children and motivate them to succeed. However, if you tell them long enough that they are not good and will never amount to anything, then that is what will happen to them. It is important what you say as you relate to your family. You can make your home a loving place where family members enjoy being together, or a place where everyone stays just long enough to grab a bit to eat and change clothes. You charge your home negatively or positively with your words, for words register in people's HEARTS and influence the course of their lives. So who controls the words coming out of your mouth? You do. Not God, not the devil, but YOU. The are part of whoever, or whatever you allow to influence you. Luke 4:22 says, "They marveled at the gracious words that came out of His mouth." God's words to you are always full of grace and love and if you will let them, they will always build you up every time you hear them. The first ones are "I love you." Think about that. God is good, his word is good, and good all the time.

All of the teams competing in the Pee wee AAA Quebec Qualifying tournament gathered in Princeton arena Friday evening for the opening ceremonies and a welcome from Princeton. It was the end of the day for players and they departed to have a pizza.

Tournament decides BC reps in Quebec

The ninth annual tournament to decide which Pee wee team will represent B.C. in the Quebec International Pee wee Tournament was held in Princeton last week-end. The official opening ceremony was held Friday evening. Teams from Kelowna, South Delta, Cranbrook, North Shore Winter club, Burnaby Winter Club, Saanich and the Vancouver T-Birds assembled on the ice.

Carol Mack acted as Ice Ambassador, and introduced flag bearers Jenn Dunn, Shelby Mack and Christina Smyth. Carol Mack led the singing of O Canada, then introduced Lyle Thomas, who gave the official welcome to Princeton as Mayor Keith Olsen was not available.

Rick Boekestyn of BC Amateur Hockey Association welcomed all of the teams and reminded them the spirit of hockey should be the spirit of fair play. He wished them luck in their games.

Jim Coyle, who is the BC Representative for the Quebec International Pee wee Tournament, and a face we always see at this time of year, introduced three North Shore Winter Club team members. This B.C. team won the Pee wee Hockey World Championship in February 2003 after qualifying in Princeton in November last year.

Coyle asked them to describe their experience in Quebec.

One of the boys said, "It was awesome!"

Another said, "It was a great experience. We played in front of 10,000 people!"

They had a good gallery for their games in Princeton, and Sunday's games ended with Kelowna Junior Rockets and North Shore Winter Club Winterhawks winning a place at the Quebec International Pee wee tournament.

Vermilion Forks Field Naturalists tour pine reserve

A small but enthusiastic group of field naturalists turned out on Saturday, November 8, to walk to the Whipsaw Creek Ecological Reserve #27. The weather was sunny and crisp. Our leader started off confidently but soon led us astray by heading up the wrong road. His excuse was the snow covered the right road. We soon realized our mistake and turned back to travel on the correct road. Everyone was in great spirits and enjoyed razzing the leader.

One might wonder, "What is an ecological reserve?"

British Columbia is the most geographically and biologically diverse province in Canada. The history of the reserves is that areas throughout British Columbia would be set aside to preserve representative and special natural ecosystems. Scientific research and educational purposes are the principal use of ecological reserves.

Ecological reserves contribute to the maintenance of biological diversity and protection of genetic materials. The reserves are not created for outdoor recreation and should not be confused with parks or other recreation areas. BC Parks Service is responsible for the management and protection of ecological reserves. There are 132 reserves in the province and 55 volunteer wardens give their time to supervise this project.

Visitors are asked to cooperate in caring for this area.

We found lot of pine trees and a few fir trees. As snow covered the ground, we could not identify plant diversity and we heard just a few birds in the area. A trip in the spring would be helpful to identify plants and bird population. We did encounter some cattle on the trip. We are concerned about cattle in the reserve.

One of the highlights was the find of a fossilized fern by one of our hikers and we were all excited about the possibility of fossils in that area.

Hot coffee was well appreciated at the end of the hike. The next hike of the Vermilion Forks Field Naturalists is Saturday, November 22 to Link Lake Loop. Phone Madelon Schouten at 295-7078 to register and meet at the bus depot at 9:00 a.m.

The Valleys volleyball tournament at Princeton Secondary School drew a crowd that filled the bleachers and as many chairs as could be spread along the sidelines. Princeton girls received some great rounds of cheers and applause.

Princeton Rebels host tourney

Members of the public crowded the gym at Princeton Secondary School on Friday evening for the opening games of the Valleys Volleyball Tournament. This tournament, hosted by Princeton Senior Girls Rebels, determines which of the region's teams goes to provincial finals. Spectators saw some excellent volleyball played. Princeton placed fourth among the eight teams competing for the provincial spot. Top spot went to the Immaculata Mustangs of Kelowna, with Kelowna Christian Knights in second place. Osoyoos Rattlers were in third place.

The final games between the two Kelowna teams was simply outstanding. After two matches, the teams were tied at one win each. They had to go back to the court for a deciding match in which the score had to be 15 with two ahead of the other team to win. The Knights led 4-0 to begin, then the Mustangs caught up and passed the Knights. As the scores climbed toward 15, the teams were tied again. The final winning points went to the Mustangs, who won 17 to 15.

Following the games, Principal Bill Lawrence presented the trophy and pennant to Immaculata Mustangs, a pennant to the Knights, and the MVP awards to each team. Princeton Rebels' MVP went to Nicole Bertrand.
