Town Council faces doctor crisis

Dr. Douglas Reid attended the October 15 Town Council meeting to introduce Kathy Station, a recruiter for Interior Health. Dr. Reid reminded Council there are now "orphan" patients. These are patients without a physician since the recent departure of Dr. Simon and Dr. Van Immerzel.

Station is employed by Interior Health to recruit physicians, nurses and other health professionals to fill positions vacant within the region. Her job is to advertise positions and to help communities attract and keep the health professionals they need.

She told Council physicians will choose communities where they can feel they are part of the community. They need to know what the community offers in terms of their personal interests. They are also interested in the economic stability of the community, as most physicians enter a private practice situation.

Station stated she would like to work with a recruiting committee appointed by Council.

Library plans continue to move ahead

Expect an announcement in November about Princeton's public library. Don Nettleton, Financial Manager for Okanagan Regional Library, reported to Town Council on October 15 about improvements in the region, including improvements for Princeton.

He told Council he hopes to approve plans in November for the relocation of Princeton's branch sometime in 2008.

Nettleton described a number of changes in how libraries deliver information. While library members borrow the same amount of books and other materials, use of electronic information sources has increased. In addition to using internet resources, members borrow CDs and DVDs.

Popular databases include EBSCO auto repair reference center. This is used by people doing auto repairs at home. It is updated every two months. Another popular database is Ancestry.com, a reference library for geneaology with over a billion names in it.

BC building codes, plumbing codes, fire codes and BC laws, statutes and regulations are well used, along with Search-a-Surus, an encyclopedia for children's research projects.

Family

The Family Place, located in the old fire hall located next to the Legion building, has been in operation since July 23, 2007. They submitted a report to Town Council on October 15 to describe their progress.

The drop-in centre for families is open Monday, Wednesday and Thursday from 11:00 AM to 2:00 PM.

The purpose is to offer an opportunity for families with children aged 0-6 years to do arts and crafts, socialize and prepare nutritious foods.

The program encourages development of creativity and socialization Okanagan Regional Library still has an average per capita expenditure almost 20 percent below the provincial average, but this will change next year, then level off again.

The regional library is facing a personnel problem as experienced staff approaches retirement. Nettleton said the regional library will be recruiting new personnel, younger people with a different outlook on what libraries can provide.

Nettleton reminded Council that the library card allows a person to borrow a book in one place in the region and return it in another. He added the importance of a library card for every child in the region. A senior spoke up and wondered if there could be a library card for every senior. She lives in Area H, which does not participate in the library system. Because Area H residents do not pay library taxes, anyone wishing a card at Princeton library must pay $75 a year. Nettleton explained the situation and said the only way to change it is to convince Area H residents of the need to support a referendum on library taxation.

Town approves licence

Town Council has approved a mobile business licence on a pilot project basis for the Okanagan-Similkameen region.

This licence would allow the bearer to do business in many communities while paying for the licence only in the community in which he or she resides.

An example of a person with this mobile licence would be a plumber who works in Princeton, Hedley and Keremeos. If he resides in Princeton, he pays the licence in Princeton. If he lives in Keremeos, he pays there.

There may be some problems at some point, which is why this mobile business licence is being launched as a pilot project.

Town of Princeton

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Zoning Amendment Bylaw No. 793, 2007

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 893 of the Local Government Act, notice is hereby given, that Town Council will consider amending the Town of Princeton Zoning Bylaw No. 646, 1994.

The proposed Amendments are as follows:

Town of Princeton Zoning Bylaw No. 646, 1994

- a) That Lot 36, Block 18, District Lot 706, Yale (Formerly Osoyoos) Division, Yale District, Plan 55 Except such undersurface rights as are registered in absolute fees book Vol 18 Fol 123 No. 9729D, PID #006-517-251 be changed from Multi-Family Residential (RM4) to Central Business (C2)", and
- b) That Lot 37, Block 18, District Lot 706, Yale (Formerly Osoyoos) Division, Yale District, Plan 55 Except such undersurface rights as are registered in absolute fees book Vol 18 Fol 123 No. 9729D, PID #006-517-269 be changed from Multi-Family Residential (RM4) to Central Business (C2).

The purpose of which is to facilitate the redevelopment of the property at 135-137 Tapton Avenue into a single story commercial office building with attached rear living quarters.

A public hearing is being waived under the provisions of Section 893 of the Local Government Act, as the subject properties are consistent with the Town of Princeton Official Community Plan designating the property as general commercial.

A copy of the subject Bylaw No. 793, 2007 is available for examination during normal business hours 8:30 AM to 4:30 PM, Monday to Friday inclusive in the Town Office, 169 Bridge Street, Princeton, B.C.

Given under my hand this 16th day of October 2007.

Renovations to Princeton Curling Club are near completion. Last week the new walls in the upstairs portion of the building were painted. This is what the bar/snack section looks like. *

Arts Council looks at projects

Members of Princeton & District Community Arts Council have a lot of projects underway. Member groups reported their progress at the October 17 meeting. The Performing Arts Society is preparing for a play next spring, and the Traditional Music Society is planning a folk music festival for mid-August.

Traditional or "folk" music was the theme of a concert held on Sunday, October 14. Attendance was good and the concert was excellent.

Vermilion Forks Field Naturalists hosted a showing of Jeff Turner's documentary, Bears of Kamchatka, featuring Charlie Russell. The show drew 130 people who were awed by Russell's work with orphaned grizzly bears. Russell was on hand and offered his book for sale. The audience was delighted to meet him.

Sue LePoidevin reported her children's pottery classes are well attended, and six adults have signed on for lessons. The Potter's Guild is planning a clay mural for Riverside Centre. It is to enhance the artistic vision of Riverside Centre, focussing on the beauty of the Tulameen and Similkameen Valleys.

The group plans a mural workshop early in 2008, employing an expert in the field. The workshop will be advertised throughout the region and billets will be provided for out of town participants.

Vermilion Artists are sponsoring two workshops, November 10 and 17, for watercolours and drawing. The classes are fully booked with waiting lists.

The Princeton Waits, a group planning wassailing songs for the Christmas season, welcomed six members to their first meeting. The second meeting is this week on Wednesday at 7:00 PM at 154 Halliford. Anyone interested in joining the fun is invited to attend. The group will sing traditional English wassailing songs, not Christmas carols as we know them. Sue Alton suggested the group look at her collection of antique clothing to add to the ambience of the group.

Princeton Community Band plans a concert at Princeton Secondary in early November.

Vermilion Forks Field Naturalists are planning the annual Christmas Bird Count for December 22. This is a community-wide event in which local volunteers go out and count how many birds they see and record the species. Those who know little about birds but would like to participate will be partnered with a knowledgeable person.

The Arts Council meeting concluded with a discussion about improving the exterior appearance of Riverside Centre. A group will be formed in the spring to plan and execute beautification projects.

The next meeting of the Arts Council will be on Wednesday, November 14, at 7:00 PM. All Arts Council meetings are held in the Arts Council room at Riverside Centre. Anyone interested in the arts is welcome to attend.

Town drops parking spaces

The owners of Belaire Restaurant petitioned Town Council for a variance in the parking bylaw, and got their wish. The Belaire, which burned down several months ago, was supposed to have 24 parking spaces to serve the restaurant. The number of spaces required has been reduced to five.

Councillors and Mayor Randy McLean stated they wanted to move forward and see the town grow. They felt that the bylaw restricted development and intend to make exceptions where possible, as in the case of Belaire.

The church neighbouring the Belaire property objected to the variance due to complaints regarding transport trucks making deliveries to Belaire.

The church members found that the trucks often blocked access to the rear entry of the church. The Belaire made some changes to provide a loading zone at the rear of the restaurant, so the objection was resolved.

Kids write Garden Club

John Sandness, a member of Princeton Garden Club, visited John Allison Elementary School last spring to teach a class about planting seeds. He showed them how to start a garden, how to nurture it, and gave them seeds to plant.

The Grade 1 students sent letters to Sandness recently to talk about their experience. The letters were passed around at the October 17 Arts Council meeting. The letters were interesting, bringing smiles to Arts Council members as they read the comments.

Whether or not these youngsters will become gardeners remains to be seen, but they will remember their first gardening experience.

Grey Matters

News from Branch #30

by Monty Raine

The big news at the moment is the preparation for our elections to be held on Wednesday, November 14th at 1:30 PM. Of course, the most pressing need is for some worthy candidates to step forward and be nominated for an executive post. As with most organizations, and Branch 30 is no exception, it is often difficult to attract people to take up the challenge of having to devote the time and effort necessary in order to be a successful committee member.

Burnout is always a problem for members having held executive positions for multi terms, and we have many of those who have run out of energy and deserve a rest.

The situation also exists regarding the lack of members willing to donate even minimal time to volunteer their services to our organization. The situation has become almost static; the same individuals working month after month or even year after year. Seniors don't necessarily need a seniors club, but a successful seniors club definitely needs a good cross section of members willing to get the job done; a team effort is needed. If the volunteer force was doubled then each person's commitment could be cut in half.

We have all sorts of activities and services at Seniors Branch 30 that are all listed at the hall at 162 Angela Avenue. Someone might suggest there's nothing there that interests them; that they don't have this, that or the other thing. That reminds me of some people I've known in Princeton who perpetually complained about the lack of something or other. Within reason this can be changed. Figure out what you'd like to see happen and initiate a movement to help it come

The same can be said of Seniors Branch 30. If there's an activity you like that doesn't exist, then start one. You might be pleasantly surprised at the response that comes your way.

Thumbs up and be positive!

Museum, Chamber plan celebration

Next year, British Columbia will be 150 years old. The Colony of British Columbia was established in 1858 with James Douglas as the first Governor.

Members of Princeton Museum Society and the Chamber of Commerce plan to mark the year with a celebration. They will be encouraging local businesses to put posters and historic information in shop windows, and will encourage other forms of recognizing the anniversary year.

keremeos and area news

Although the retail part of the business has ended for the season, Harker's Organic Fruit Ranch in Cawston continues to stay active. Attention this month has shifted to the export part of the operation. Last week Spartan apples were being fed through this sorting machine. *

A total of three members of Keremeos Village Council attended the recent UBCM, including Mayor Walter Despot and Councillors Ed Minshull and Manfred Bauer.

Hotel expenses for the trio totaled $3,345.27 with Travel Costs (Mileage) costing $779.40 and Per Diem (Meals) totaling $425.00

What did the Village get out of all the expense? Apparently a great deal as members of Keremeos Village Council attended several meetings with Provincial cabinet ministers including Honourable Ida Chong to promote the Village's application for Infrastructure funding to extend sewer services to eliminate septic systems; Honourable Pat Bell regarding transient farm workers and what regulations could be implemented to reduce problems associated with farm workers who have no residence when working in the Similkameen and Honourable John Les regarding the Village's resolution to the UBCM to ask that RCMP members serving in communities be encouraged to live in the communities in which they serve.

Members of Village Council also attended various working sessions at UBCM to learn more about initiatives that exist to assist local governments, and to voice their concerns about various legislative changes directly affecting local governments.

The Keremeos committee of three also put forward two resolutions to the UBCM, to urge the provincial government to include fuel efficient vehicles under its definition of vehicles eligible for a reduced tax rate (under Division 11 of the Social Services Tax Regulations) and to urge the Solicitor General to work with the RCMP to develop incentives, policies and programs that will result in RCMP Officers residing in communities where they serve.

The convention participants endorsed both resolutions.

Village looks at amending bylaw

Keremeos Village Council will likely amend its existing Property Maintenance Bylaw following a brief presentation by CAO Joni Heinrich.

The proposed amendment would provide for one unlicensed vehicle on a property within the Village "as long as the vehicle is licensed and registered for at least one month of the year."

The proposed amendment would also allow for notification of an infraction to be mailed, hand delivered or posted in a prominent place on the property.

Discussion on the proposal saw concerns raised by members of Council stating the amendment was possibly too restrictive and whether or not the amended bylaw would relate to RVs as well as other vehicles.

The definition of the term 'unsightly' as stated in the bylaw was questioned, in particular an accumulation of wood and whether or not the wood would be considered unsightly if it were intended for use as firewood.

The proposed amendment and definition of 'unsightly' were referred to an upcoming Committee of the Whole meeting.

Keremeos Village Council will conduct a daylong workshop next month in an effort to pool local resources together in what has been called a Community Vision Exercise.

Mayor Walter Despot told Council members at the October 15th regular meeting that since they usually discuss goals and financial objectives in January in preparation for the annual budget "that it may be helpful to Council to obtain guidance from various sectors of the community."

The workshop, tentatively planned for Saturday, November 3rd, would involve break out groups focusing on three or four questions with answers being summarized at the end of the day for Council's consideration.

Discussions have already taken place with Community Futures and BC Healthy Communities regarding the workshop.

Village grants tax exemption

Officially identified Permissive Tax Exemption Bylaw No. 748, 2007 and introduced by Mayor Walter Despot at a recent Village Council meeting, it provides for a tax exemption to two specific locations.

The tax exemption will be for the land and improvements for the Diagnostic and Treatment Centre as well as the Assisted Living addition to be built at the Similkameen Health Centre.

The bylaw received first, second and third readings at the public Council meeting.

Here's a ground level view of the newly finished sidewalk project along 7th Avenue from in front of Victory Hall looking towards the Tourist InfoCentre. *

MP calls clinics a success

While BC Southern Interior MP, Alex Atamanenko considers last week's passport clinics a success in bringing services closer to constituents, he stresses that the issue of better regional passport service will not go away. The clinics were held as a response to a need expressed by constituents.

"I would like to thank the Minister of Foreign Affairs and Passport Canada for making this possible," said Atamanenko.

"The fact that there was such an overwhelming response clearly indicates a need for this type of service in the southern interior. It is unfortunate that hundreds of people were turned away due to the shear volume of applicants."

According to Ann Harvey, Atamanenko's Constituency Assistant, around 2,000 applications were able to get processed.

"This need will increase dramatically if plans requiring Canadians to carry a passport when crossing the U.S. border by car come into affect next summer," added Atamanenko.

Council faces doctor crisis

...... continued from Front Page using incentives to bring doctors to Princeton, saying he had been at a seminar where people talked about incentives they had found were suc-

Councillor Pam Jones responded immediately, saying she would like to be part of that committee.

She expressed not only the need for doctors, but the need to maintain good hospital facilities in Princeton.

Mayor Randy McLean said, "We have to put it in our budget. We have to compete with other communities."

A passport is currently needed when travelling by air to U.S. destinations.

"I have contacted my MP colleagues in adjacent ridings with the intent of coordinating passport clinics in three ridings. Unfortunately for my constituents, many residents outside of my riding took advantage of the service that we arranged for the residents of B.C. Southern Interior. My proposal to my colleagues is that we hold three major clinics each lasting at least three days in Penticton, Castlegar and Cranbrook," added the MP.

"The sooner we do this the sooner our constituents will be able to obtain a passport within four to six weeks, instead of the two to three months by mail."

Atamanenko stated there is still a need for a long-term permanent solution, but added that by holding more clinics, people will be able to obtain immediate assistance.

Beware of tax shelter gifting arrangements

Ottawa, Ontario, August 13, 2007...In support of the new Taxpayer Bill of Rights, Carol Skelton, Minister of National Revenue, is urging Canadian taxpayers to be wary of promotions of tax shelter gifting arrangements promising huge tax savings. Many of these arrangements are currently being aggressively promoted.

"If it sounds too good to be true, don't fall for it. Taxpayers need to know that the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) is auditing all tax shelter gifting arrangements," said Minister Skelton. "Under the new Taxpayer Bill of Rights, you can expect the CRA to provide information to help you recognize the types of tax schemes that are out there, and to warn you about the consequences of participating in risky investments."

The minister noted that people should read the fine print even if a promoter states repeatedly that the tax scheme is acceptable. "Ask questions, and when in doubt, seek advice from an independent tax professional who is not associated with the scheme."

The CRA reviews all tax shelter gifting arrangements to ensure that the tax benefits being claimed meet the requirements of the Income Tax Act. New schemes are being marketed that claim to be different from those for which the CRA has previously issued wamings. Taxpayers should avoid all schemes that promise donation receipts equal to 3 or 4 times the cash payment.

So far, the CRA has audited over 26,000 individuals who have participated in these tax shelters and as a result, about $1.4 billion in claimed donations have been denied. The CRA will soon complete audits of another 20,000 taxpayers, involving close to $550 million in donations, and is about to begin auditing another 50,000 taxpayers who have participated in tax shelter gifting arrangements. To protect Canadian taxpayers and maintain fairness in the tax system, CRA will audit every tax shelter gifting arrangement.

Early detection of breast cancer can save your life

(NC)—Many women are alive and well today because their breast cancer was detected and treated early.

"While it's important for women to know what's normal for their breasts so they can report changes to their doctor, mammography and clinical breast exams are the most reliable methods of finding breast cancer," says Patti Payne, senior advisor of prevention at the Canadian Cancer Society, Ontario Division.

The Society recommends that all women between 50 and 69 have a mammogram and a clinical breast exam every two years.

Furthermore, women 40 and over should have a clinical breast exam every two years and talk to their doctor about mammography and their breast cancer risk; and women 70 and over should talk to their doctor about how often they should be tested for breast cancer.

More information is available from the Canadian Cancer Society Cancer Information Service, at 1 888 939-3333, or online at www.cancer.ca.

To remind women about the importance of early detection – and to raise money for research and support services – the Society sells the Thingamaboob for $5 each in all of its local Ontario offices or at www.cancer.ca/thingamaboob.

The Thingamaboob is a graduated-bead accessory that demon-every two years and talk to their strates lump sizes at various stages doctor about mammography and of detection:

- The four smallest beads represent the average size lump found by getting regular mammograms.

- The third largest bead shows the average size lump found by a first mammogram.

- The second largest bead shows the average size lump found by a clinical breast examination by a healthcare professional.

 The largest bead shows the average size lump found by women checking their own breasts.

This accessory helps women learn how to protect their breasts by highlighting the importance of the early detection of breast cancer.

Flu shots for everyone

(NC)—Have you had your flu shot this year? If you live in Ontario, chances are pretty good that you did or are planning to get one soon.

Convincing people to roll up their sleeves every fall for a flu shot is a big challenge. People often forget, don't get around to it, don't like needles or just don't think it's really necessary.

But vaccination is one of the most effective ways to avoid this seasonal illness, and public health officials are constantly searching for ways to get people immunized.

In 2000, the Ontario government instituted the world's first large-scale universal influenza immunization program (UIIP), offering free flu shots to all Ontarians aged six months or older.

Dr. Jeff Kwong, a Canadian Institutes of Health Research-funded scientist at the University of Toronto, has been studying the impact of this pioneering program. He has found that in UIIP's first year, Ontario's flu vaccination rate for residents over the age of 12 jumped from 18% to 36%, while the vaccination rates in the rest of Canada rose from 13 to 21%.

Most other provinces offer "targeted" flu vaccination programs, meaning that they provide free shots to health-care workers and people with a high risk of getting seriously sick if they catch the flu: the very young, the very old and people with chronic illnesses such as diabetes or heart disease. People outside of these target groups tend to opt out of getting their annual shot.

"It's true that most young, healthy people will just have a minor sickness if they catch the flu. But you have to remember that you can transmit the flu virus to people in higher risk groups," explains Kwong. "So, one excellent reason to be vaccinated is to protect the people around you."

Kwong is now studying how effective UIIP has been at preventing illness, reducing the burden on the health-care system and saving lives.

"Offering a universal program is one tool to vaccinate as many people as possible," says Kwong.

"It also builds infrastructure, so that in the event of an influenza pandemic we'd be ready to vaccinate large groups of people."

Eat well for long life

Eating well is not a story about eating the most expensive foods nor eating a whole lot. Eating well is about eating what is good for you, and eating the highest quality food.

Some foods will protect you from cancer: whole grains, such as brown rice and whole oats or whole wheat; fresh fruit such as strawberries and tomatoes, broccoli and Brussels sprouts.

Some foods will make your eyesight better, such as carrots, squash and pumpkin.

Some foods will supply calcium for a better nervous system and strong bones, such as milk, cheese and broccoli.

Some foods will provide proteins you need, such as liver, meats, beans and squash, including pumpkins.

Eating well is about not eating too many starchy foods such as pastas, breads and pastries. Eating well is about cutting down sugar content, caffeine content and staying away from foods that are overly refined, such as white sugar, white flour, and a lot of breakfast cereals.

Eating well means staying away from foods containing too much salt and too much processing, such as cold meats, processed cheese and many breakfast cereals. Eating well can mean avoiding a lot of things you find on your grocery shelves.

Eating well can mean watching for nutritional values. For example, food picked green in a distant land lacks the nutritional quality of many frozen foods grown here in Canada.

Eating well can mean choosing organic instead of the regular stuff, because you want to avoid chemicals put on the ground or sprayed on the produce. Eating well means eating a balanced diet that is good for you. Eating well leads to a longer life.

Welcome to Community Living Month

by Lynn Pelly, Executive Director

October is Community Living Month. Across BC, organizations and persons with disabilities take this opportunity to celebrate the great strides that have been made in community inclusion and promoting awareness of the unique challenges that face people with disabilities.

Our community has a long history of providing phenomenal support to persons with disabilities. Support services in our community include activities of daily living, residential, transportation, self-help skills and day programs. Community integration is out primary focus.

Everyone belongs.

However, as advocates our work is never done and there is always room for improvement. We can enhance the programs we offer and support greater inclusion.

Our role is to educate, promote and remain responsive to the feed-back provided by the community with respect to the continued integration of all people into mainstream community living. Unfortunately, we are often far more tolerant of questionable behaviour from non-disabled people than those with disabilities. A disability should not define the person.

Focus on a person's abilities rather than their disabilities.

This year our focus has been on employment opportunities for persons with disabilities and the business people of Princeton have responded admirably.

Several of our program participants have been working in meaningful jobs, with or without a job coach, earning money and gaining valuable work experience. As with any employee, an employer must evaluate the worker, identify the particular strengths of an individual and use them to achieve the greatest return on their investment. We strive to achieve workable solutions for both the employer and employee to address any challenges that may arise during the course of employment.

It is often the first job for many of the program participants and presents a significant learning curve for some. However, the smiles, joy and pride that accompany that first pay cheque are most gratifying.

We would like to take this opportunity to publicly recognize the businesses that have taken an opportunity to support persons with abilities. Your willingness to give individuals a chance and then work with them to be successful is commendable. We hope that the experience has been as rewarding for you as it has been for those you have employed.

A sincere thank you to: Sandman Inn, Princeton Golf Course, Shirley's Place, Bob Wick's Law Office, Cut Above, Mini Mike's Automotive, Princeton Posse, Similkameen News Leader, Fields, Little Folk's Preschool, Princeton Arena, PWP, Tolko, Dairy Queen, Legion, The Hut, Booster Juice, Town of Princeton – Summer Camp Program and a number of private individuals who have hired people for small jobs!

If I have missed anyone, my deepest apologies. If you are interested in hiring any of the persons we serve, please contact our office at (250) 295-6666.

Opportunities for persons with disabilities are growing by leaps and bounds. Preconceived ideas about their limited abilities are being disproved daily. Their role in the community is expanding, becoming more meaningful and more satisfying. They are more inclined to express their opinion, demand respect and believe in themselves.

Everyone belongs.

This is not a one-way street and to be true community members, they must generate respect, listen to other opinions and learn from their mistakes.

To be equal, everyone must be treated equally – just as you would anyone else. If their behaviour is inappropriate, tell them. If their attitude is unacceptable, let them know. If they need a word of encouragement, give it. Include them in community life and extend the compliment of equality.

Celebrate Community Living Month with us by making a difference, one person at a time.

Princeton shares $$$

2010 Legacies Now has awarded $580,000 from its Measuring Up Accessibility and Inclusion Fund to help 30 communities throughout the province improve accessibility for people with disabilities. Princeton receives $15,000.

"Each community submitted a plan for improvements to accessibility that could really make a difference to people living with a disability," explained Carla Qualtrough, Director of Inclusion Initiatives for 2010 Legacies Now.

"This funding and these projects are an important step toward enabling people with disabilities to participate and fully contribute in their communities."

These grants will enable the communities to complete the Measuring Up process, a grassroots assessment and planning tool which guides communities in identifying priorities for improving accessibility.

"As a blind resident of Kimberley and a member of our Accessibility Committee, I can say that the Measuring Up process has been a real eye opener for us," said John Houston.

"Accessibility and inclusion are not just about wheelchairs and ramps, but about full participation in all aspects of community life by all. We have a long way to go, but Measuring Up and the Measuring Up Fund will help us to continue to identify needs and implement solutions."

The funding ranges from $15,000 to 25,000 per community, based on the community's population size and their action plan for implementing Measuring Up. These grants will assist communities in completing a variety of accessibility-related projects including establishing committees, conducting public awareness campaigns, creating wheelchair ramps, and completing assessments.

The Measuring Up Accessibility and Inclusion Fund was made possible by a grant from the Province of British Columbia earlier this year.

"People with disabilities have the ability and desire to contribute as employees and active community members," said Employment and Income Assistance Minister Claude Richmond.

"We have made removing barriers a priority, and this fund is helping accomplish that. Our goal is to increase the number of people with a disability in the workplace by 10% by 2010 - we call it the 10 x 10 Challenge."

This announcement marks the first round of grants awarded under the Measuring Up Accessibility and Inclusion Fund. Intake is ongoing; the next round of funding will be awarded in February 2008. Application form and guidelines are available at www.2010legaciesnow.com/measuring_up/.

2010 Legacies Now is a not-forprofit society that works in partnership with community organizations, non-government organizations (NGOs), the private sector and all levels of government to develop sustainable legacies in sport and recreation, arts, literacy and volunteerism.

Princeton open house postponed

Our plans for two new coalbed gas (CBG) exploration wells near the Town of Princeton are not quite ready for us to begin the steps leading up to full drilling activity. Land approvals and the availability of drilling equipment have forced us to push back our timelines.

Because of this, we have decided to postpone our scheduled Open House until a later date. We have always said we want to ensure we manage this project and engage the community as best we can — postponing the Open House is part of this approach because it should provide the community with the most current information possible.

In the meantime, we will continue to share information with the community about CBG and our plans to evaluate this resource in the Princeton area. For more information about our plans and our previous experience, please go to www.petrobank.com/princeton.

Team thanks local supporters

PSS Junior Girls Basketball thanks Overwaitea and everyone who supported their Car Wash Fundraiser held September 22nd.

Despite the foul weather, donations exceeded $500.00, with all proceeds going towards their tournament fund.

PSS expects to field two Junior teams again this year. Tournament dates have been set for a total of eight tournaments scheduled for the teams, one a joint event with the Senior Girls team.

This requires a huge financial commitment, and the team has embarked on a multitude of fundraising dates to offset the cost. Out of town tournament dates are already booked in Ashcroft, Williams Lake, Prince George, Abbotsford, Sardis as well as St. Ann's in Kamloops.

It all starts with the PSS home tournament November 23 and 24 with both teams entered.

Other teams competing in this event include Keremeos, Summerland, Pen-Hi, Ashcroft, Grand Forks and Lumby with Chilliwack and Princess Margaret (Maggie) on the waiting list.

With the majority of-last year's upstart team here for another year, many other returning second year players, as well as a promising crop from last years grade 8 team this promises to be both an exciting tournament and year.

Mark the date on your calendar and you won't be disappointed!

The residents here are doing last minute projects before their bazaar on Saturday, October 20th.

Of course, this sale will be over by the time this is published. Home baking, flowers, knitting and other projects are being completed and assembled. We do hope to have a successful sale.

Have you ever heard about the elderly person who was rescued by two handsome young men recently? She fell off her scooter while attempting to pick up her cane that fell in the middle of Bridge Street. No harm done - only a few bruises! Thanks, gentlemen!

We were pleased to have Grade 3 students to visit us. They were all very nice children who behaved well, so we look forward to future visits

We were also pleased to have a group of friends join us for coffee one morning. As we've known each other for many years (40 to 70 years) it felt like family. We'll do it again in the Spring.

It is so nice Ruth is with us again after several days in hospital. And we are all pleased to see Audrey back after several weeks with a sore shoulder. More next time!

Posse beat Fernie in OT

Valley First Princeton Posse welcomed Fernie Ghostriders to their first visit to the Similkameen this season on Friday, October 19th.

On paper both teams looked evenly matched and the first period flew by quickly with no scoring and plenty of fast paced hockey action.

The second period was much the same as the first except Fernie managed to sneak the puck past Posse goalie Andrew Walsh at 18:56.

The third period saw both teams looking a little tired until 11:10 when Brett Van Riper slipped Logan Johnston the puck and he blasted it from the blue line to tie the game at one apiece. The score lit up the Posse and 40-seconds later Kyle L'Arrivee, a returning veteran in his third game back in a Posse jersey, won the face-off in Fernie territory, fed it back Cody Sutherland at the blue line who's line drive sent the puck sailing into the top stick side corner for the go ahead goal.

Fernie called a time out immediately after the score and came out blazing tying the game up at 2-all at 15:19.

Both teams battled back and forth to take the lead and at one point Fernie had a two-man advantage but could not capitalize on it and the game went into overtime.

Only 1:45 into the extra frame Princeton took the win with a goal scored by Brett Van Riper. Assists went to Kyle L'Arrivee and Anthony Leardo.

Not only were fans treated to an excellent game of fast hockey full of quick moves and bursts of speed skating, the contest was fast in running time lasting just over two hours from opening face-off to the goal scored in overtime.

Shots on goal: Princeton 34, Fernie 22. Final score: Princeton 3, Fernie 2 (OT).

Posse clip Eagles wings

Valley First Princeton Posse hosted Sicamous Eagles Saturday, October 20th in their only match up in the Similkameen this season with the realignment of the league structure. In the past, Sicamous used to be a frequent visitor to Princeton, and a tough opponent.

The Eagles looked pretty good on ice, while the Posse appeared a little tired and disoriented, although both teams played a good game.

Sicamous opened the scoring at 2:47 to set the tone for the rest of the match.

Princeton's first goal came on the power play at 9:09 when Kyle L'Arrivee fed the puck in front of the Sicamous goal to Brooks Christensen who crossed the ice from the glove side, took a shot, which was stopped by the goalie, then managed to get his stick on the rebound which inched past the goalie's outstretched stick and skipped along the ice into the corner of the net. Returning veteran Jeremy Wagner, in his second game back in a Posse jersey, also received an assist.

At 15:20 Princeton took the lead with a fast goal by Taylor Stuart, with assistance from Kellin Brown and Brad Goss.

Only 24-seconds later Princeton widened the gap with a power play goal by Tyler Martin who's goal was the result of a rebound that went right to him. Assists on the play went to Anthony Leardo and Brett Van Riper.

The second period saw Princeton looking better than they started, and they continued to dominate the game scoring their fourth goal at 6:04 (Wade Masch from Dan Hillman and Cody Sutherland) and a fifth goal, a power play goal, at 8:26 (Garrett Pfiefer from Taylor Stuart and Anthony Leardo).

Sicamous finished the period with a goal at 17:01.

The third period was all Princeton and the twenty minutes sailed by without any further scoring.

Shots on goal: Princeton 26, Sicamous 20. Final score: Princeton 5, Sicamous 2.

Horoscopes

October 24 - 31, 2007

Aries - Review plans you made earlier this month and check to see if you have the resources you need to carry out those plans. Health is good, job runs smoothly. Focus mind on practical matters.

Taurus - Go back to things you said at the end of September. You may have to change your mind. Focus now on relationship with partner, spouse and good friends. If you feel down, stay active. Speak gently.

Gemini - Problems with money and possessions continue. Focus on health, job, spend only on necessities. Partner, spouse is good to you. Home life may be a burden or require a lot of work.

Cancer - Your energy level keeps on climbing. You can do a great deal around home this week. Finish old projects, make major changes, catch up on neglected chores. Cleaning and renovating make good use of energy.

Leo - You are in the mood for impulse spending, but this is a bad idea. You must conserve your resources for the next two years. If you feel a need to spend, take a deep breath and wait til next week.

Virgo - You are happier now, but watch out for romantic interlude this weekend. Make sure it is more than just fun, that it is sincere. Focus should be on self-renewal and rejuvenation. Time for self.

Libra - Concerns about career and parents continue. Assess your resources, be cautious in planning. Things can come together well if you maintain balanced approach. In doubt? Consult professional.

Scorpio - Watch out for messages being misunderstood or communications going haywire. Problems you thought were resolved come back to be dealt with. Watch what you say - keep foot from mouth.

Sagittarius - You can have a lot of fun this weekend, or you can just be lazy and enjoy a break. Be cautious about what you say to people now. Do not enter any schemes or underhanded action.

Capricorn - Partner/spouse continues to be difficult, but will cooperate if you suggest making plans together for the future. Career matters you thought were resolved are not, and you must deal with issues.

Aquarius - You loved to daydream this week, and it can do no harm as long as you focus on your career and save dreaming for after hours. Plans you dream up now could be made manifest later.

Pisces - Relationships go really well this week. Enjoy times with friends. spouse. Bank, debt or investment matters you thought were settled last month need to be checked now. Read fine print.

Sudoku Challenge

CREATED FOR THE NEWS LEADER BY CARTER BOSWELL

HOW TO PLAY:

Sudoku is a game of logic. There is no math involved. The object of the game is to fill the grid so that the numbers 1 through 9 appear only once in each row, column and 3 x 3 box. The numbers can appear in any order and Carter has left you some clues below.

CHALLENGE #33 - Rated Easy

card of thanks

On Saturday, October 13th, 2007 Darryn Langstaff and Debbie Caldwell surprised friends an family by getting married at a party that the guests thought was just a family gathering. The wedding was held at their home (The Bit Ranch Bed 'n' Breakfast) and the Langstaffs would like to thank the following people and organizations of Princeton for their contributions:

Royal Canadian Legion Branch #56 (for the use of the tables) - Princeton & District Multi-Purpose Arena (for the use of the chairs) - Princeton Castle Resort (for accommodating the overflow of guests) - Paulette Boyd (for the delicious wedding cake) - Josie Schmithammer (for doing a wonderful job on the hair of the bride, the bride's mother and grandmother) - Heart To Heart Flowers & Gifts (for the beautiful bouquet).

A special thanks to Eric Goodfellow for a most beautiful marriage ceremony.

And finally, an extra special thanks to Sonja Gronen for helping with all the catering duties.

Thank you, Sonja, your help was extremely appreciated!

my turn

More than a one trick pony

Remember the group formed locally called SOS?

The name stood for Save Our Similkameen and they basically banded together when a company named Compliance was snooping about in the area with plans to build a coal-fired power plant upstream from Princeton.

Long story short: SOS (along with Friends of the Similkameen in Keremeos) made a lot of noise, hosted meetings, information seminars and collected signed petitions.

Then the BC Liberals went green and pulled the pin on proposed coal-fired power generation at about the same time SOS was starting to make some tracks.

Blame it on melting ice caps if you will, but suddenly a lot of people wanted to go back to just leaving boot marks in the snow rather than carbon footprints on the planet.

While SOS wasn't entirely responsible for Compliance's decision to move away from it's original project concept, the group did have something to do about it and will probably be best remembered as a voice of the community.

Even if you didn't side with them, like their methods or totally understood what they were doing shooing away those apparently high paying jobs we were promised you had to admit that at least for once in recent memory someone decided to stick up for Princeton in ways we've never seen it done before.

After Compliance folded it's tent and left, SOS soon did the same, which we have stated in the past, was probably a bad idea.

We need a group like SOS to keep sticking up for Princeton.

There have also been other local issues since SOS disappeared that we thought would be a perfect fit for an SOS-inspired forum or public information session or insanely expensive and comprehensive advertising campaign.

Issues that come to mind at the moment include the landslide into Similkameen River, which occurred on former Similco Mines property and the problem with recruitment and retention of doctors in Princeton.

That's just stuff on our minds today.

There's probably a file folder full of other concerns, issues and causes just screaming for the attention of a group such as SOS.

We hope the group suddenly reappears and starts kicking up a fuss because as far as we're concerned, there's never a bad time to stick up for Princeton.

Always good reading, but it would be nice if your headlines would scream at the top of your News Leader Pages:

OUR HOSPITALS AND DOC-TORS NEED OUR HELP

The hospital can only be as good as the doctors, nurses, lab and xray technicians and other staff that work there.

Unfortunately two doctors have left and one or two are thinking of retiring.

That leaves the people of Princeton in a position of possibly not being able to get medical help when needed.

The doctors and nurses that are left, are paying a hell of a price in dedication, in burning themselves out, no family time, no rest.

If they do not get help pretty soon, that means no doctors, no hospital. Then what happens? The doctors of this town have dedicated many years to our health and well being. Now it is our turn to try and help them.

If you care at all about what is left of our health care system here in Princeton, then e-mail the Prime Minister, The Federal Health Minister, the Premier of BC and Provincial Health Minister and members of the Provincial NDP. Here are the names and e-mail addresses of the above mentioned people.

To The Editor,

Against the will of their people, P.M. Harper wants to extend Canada's military presence in Afghanistan from 2009 to 2011 while his apparent mentor in the U.S.A., President Bush, presents his version of WW3.

Afghan opium will do it every time - just ask Bin Laden.

Are there opium dens also for the public in our Parliament Buildings and in the White House and more importantly are they environmentally friendly?

Current Comment:

Has Canada the will to act?

Dawn Johnson editor@thenewsleader.ca

I watched a television special about Darfur, where genocide continues despite one resolution after another by the United Nations. I have been sitting back confident that the U.N. was putting a stop to the massacres. The U.N. has proven it has no teeth in its resolutions and no majority to respond to another Rwanda or Bosnia. In fact, in Darfur, the U.N. is doing less than it did in Rwanda or Bosnia.

I wondered, "What can Canada do?"

One thing we cannot do is invade the Sudan and put a stop to the genocide. That is not one of Canada's capabilities.

I pondered on what Canada could do.

I thought about what Canada did after the Hungarian revolution when thousands of refugees flooded into Austria. Canada went to their aid.

Most of the refugees from Darfur have crossed the border into Chad. There are about 100,000 refugees in Chad. The United Nations is trying to help them, but conditions are dreadful. Just providing enough water and minimal medical help is a huge task.

Most of the refugees are women and children. The women go to the hills to get wood to burn to cook the food the U.N. supplies, which is poor quality but filling. When the women go for wood, Sudanese soldiers and others attack them and rape them. The Sudanese soldiers raid the refugee camps.

Canada could ask if Chad would like soldiers to patrol the woodlands to protect the women and could protect the refugee camps from the Sudanese invaders. Canada could fly in supplies of fresh fruit and vegetables to Chad. Canada could help both Chad and the refugees. The U.N. just can't cope well with the situation

Refugees are sleeping on the bare ground, begging for food, risking rape to find wood for cooking the meagre meals. Canada has the means to help, and probably Chad would agree to allow Canada to help. This must be a huge burden on Chad's government.

What makes me think Canada could do this?

Experience tells me we could do it, and do it well.

I remember Canadian pilots flying into the Belgian Congo in 1960 to rescue people during the Ibo genocide. Our military pilots did a great job at considerable risk to themselves.

There was a woman who lived in Princeton many years ago. She was a refugee from Uganda. President Idi Amin Dada rounded up everybody who was not ethnically Ugandan (even if born in Uganda but the child of an immigrant). Idi Amin told the world that if nobody came to rescue these people by midnight on a certain day, he would have them killed. The woman who lived here was one of those destined to die.

This woman was one of the unwanted people who were put in chain link compounds at the edge of the runway. They waited days for somebody to come. The time had nearly run out when, in the darkness, the people in the compounds heard planes coming. They were Canadian planes. Our pilots did not know what might happen, but they were willing to take the risk to rescue people.

Our peacekeepers have been on the scene in Rwanda and Bosnia, largely hampered by United Nations rules which prevented them from being effective in stopping the genocide. At the same time, Canadians did what they could to help.

I believe Canada does not have to wait for the United Nations to do something. If we have the will to help these refugees, we have the resources and expertise to do it. All we need is Chad's permission.

The big question is – do we have the will to act on our own? Do we have a strong enough belief in doing the right thing to just go ahead and do the job? Do we have the courage to set an example in our world?

Instead of arguing about why we are in Afghanistan, we should be asking why we are not in Chad.

Spiritual Dog Obedience Classes?

Early in November a few years ago, I thought that I had had a heart attack and wound up in the hospital for 5 days. It scared the stuffing out of me. I haven't eaten any stuffing since. Actually it scared the mash potatoes and gravy and all the desserts that I used to eat as well. Life hasn't been the same since.

I had had chest pain before due to stress and would change my lifestyle for a few days but would soon revert back to my old ways of doing things. Actually some of my friends had had heart attacks, some had made it, while had others had passed away. I told myself at these times, you'd better change your lifestyle or you'll end up just like them. This was the incident that was a real wake up call for me and this time I heard the bell.

My doctor, after my release from the hospital, suggested that I attend a cardio rehabilitation program. He said it would be like attending dog obedience, indicating that I was indeed an old dog that needed to learn some new tricks about diet and exercise. I am happy to be able to report that I am involved in an exercise program which helps me to lose weight and reduce stress.

My doctor said that the scare of possibly having a heart attack had caused me to lose confidence in my health and that the discipline of the cardio program would reestablish my confidence. I remember reading somewhere where someone said, If I knew that I was going to live this long, I would have taken better care of myself.

Just turning 50 and out of shape were major contributors to my hospitalization. I am now on a diet that is easy to identify. If it tastes good, I spit it out and I found that I could eat all that I want, I just can't swallow any of it. The cardio program that I just finished was so good that I think that everyone should take it; it teaches you how to eat right, read labels, and exercise, so that you will be healthier and live longer. So you are probably saying, that is if you are still reading this article, I though this was a religious column, not a health column.

It is, but we all think about our health and the day when we will die. Someone said that we are not going to get out of this world alive and so we need to come to grips with the reality that we only have certain number of days to live, David wrote in Psalm 139:13-16:

For it was you who formed my inward parts; you knit me together in my mothers womb. ¹⁴I praise you, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made. Wonderful are your works; that I know very well. ¹⁵My frame was not hidden from you, when I was being made in secret, intricately woven in the depths of the earth. ¹⁶Your eyes beheld my unformed substance. In your book were written all the days that were formed for me.

I actually believe that we can hasten our demise by abuse and neglect to bodies. So when we find out something that works and makes us feel better, we want to tell the world, kind of the way I feel about the good of this cardio program I just finished.

There is something that is even more exciting and more important than looking after yourself while you are alive and that is what happens to you after you die. Well, have I got a program for you, well not really do I have one, but Jesus does and that is eternal life with Him. The program is recommended by God the Father and takes some serious life changing decisions as well.

The first and most important decision is to accept the gift of salvation through His wonderful grace and receive His forgiveness allowing you to become a child of God. John the apostle writes these words: But as many as received Him, to them He gave the right to become children of God, to those who believe in His name: who were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. John 1:12-13.

Maybe it is time that you listened for the ringing of the bell concerning your spiritual health. Do you have confidence in your eternal destination? If not, maybe its time to enroll in a program that will teach you about the benefits of knowing God.

The text book was written some 2,000 years ago, its called the Bible. Check out any church in our community that preaches Jesus Christ and His salvation through his Love and you'll receive all the coaching and support that you will need to finish the program well. After all, you are never too old to learn some new spiritual truths.

postpones open

Ltd. has decided to postpone its community open house.

The company's two planned coalbed gas (CBG) exploration wells are now scheduled for drilling in early 2008 and the associated open house will be moved to be closer to periods of activity.

"We've always worked to carefully manage this project and our communication with the community," says Gregg Smith, Vice President Canada, Petrobank.

"Our decision to postpone the open house reflects our interest to ensure we share accurate, up-todate information near the times we intend to be more active in the community."

Smith adds, "Petrobank's plans for two new coalbed gas (CBG) exploration wells near the Town of Princeton are behind schedule due to the timing of approvals for our drilling activity and the availability of drilling equipment."

The open house was originally scheduled for the afternoon of Tuesday, October 30th. Petrobank will run ads in 2008 to announce the new date for an open house about its continued CBG exploration plans. In the meantime, the company will continue to share information with the community about CBG through advertising, news releases and meetings with local community leaders.

"We continue to be proud of our track record in this community," says Smith.

"In all our operations, we have always said what we were going to do and then done exactly that. Changing our timelines is a fact of life in this industry, and we feel it makes sense to share our plans near

The company maintains a dedi-4571) for Princeton residents to ask questions about CBG and the company's role in the community. The company also posts information about the project on its website at www.petrobank.com/princeton.

Letter To The Editor

Stefan shares inspiration

Dear Editor;

Just a short "Do not read this!" this week....

It is great to hear from all sides that it's not just me thinking that this town needs a facelift. I see people working on their properties, businesses and rentals more than ever since I moved here but it is just not moving fast enough to the two major streets in town where it is needed the most to attract people.

Remember we need money to come into this town to support all of us...that is only possible if we try to make the difference between people coming from Vancouver etc and remembering 'nothing' about us except the kindness of people and gas stations...and people remembering 'lots' about us because of our kind and friendly people PLUS a tidy nice town and places to hang out and sit in parks and along the rivers...places where they can just stand in front of some buildings in downtown and take pictures while shopping and the pictures actually turn out great because the town has been painted in some fresh western town colors and decorated all year round with western theme items.

It will be important to get YOUR opinion to the Editor of this paper about how we can achieve this goal fast - I think personally that we should just draw a map with all buildings in downtown in our newspapers each week and start coloring each one of them the way the owner likes it.

So it would be a very important first step to see building owners step up - and/or tenants of course to see who wants a fresh color we don't need to know right now who is paying for it or how much will it be - just who is willing to be part of it.

Let the Editor know please as soon as you can! E-mail: george@thenewsleader.ca.

That way we find out who is thinking similar here and at the same time every week from now that map may become more and complete colorful....that is all for this week - I am trying to inspire people to get this town on the map for 'most wanted places to visit' in BC.

And that is exactly what one town councillor said last Monday...we all love this town but we have no pride in this town!....Yet - let's change it !!

Thanks for your time! - Stefan Dietz, Princeton
