Deer problem raises antlers

Once again, Town Council has been confronted with a letter from an irate citizen demanding action on the deer problem. Council was sympathetic to the problem, but its hands are tied by lack of appropriate provincial legislation which would allow the Town of Princeton to take action.

Councillor Jim Manion expressed his feelings with considerable passion and concluded by saying, "Stop feeding the deer and they'll go away!"

Mayor Randy McLean said he was confused as to what the majority of citizens want, as some like having the deer around, and feel it is good for the tourist trade.

Councillor Ray Jarvis said he had not heard of tourists phoning to see if we have deer wandering around. Mayor McLean said he would like to have some indication from townspeople as to whether they would approve of a project to remove the deer from the town.

Councillor Manion replied that it might work for awhile, but the deer would come back if there was still food available to them, because the deer are all around the town.

Council could not resolve the problem.

Council gives thanks all round

There will be a new Town Council sworn into office on December 1. The November 17 meeting was the last for the present Town Council. When Chief Administrative Officer Patrick Robins was asked to give his report, he asked Lyle Thomas to help him. The two Town employees brought out plaques and framed photographs of Town Council to present to members of Council on behalf of the people of Princeton. Each member of Council received a plaque expressing thanks for "dedication and service to the Town of Princeton from 2005 to 2008".

Mayor Randy McLean gave a short speech thanking the four Councillors with whom he has worked for the past three years. He expressed appreciation for their willingness to work hard for the people of Princeton, and he said he will miss the camaraderie of working with them and the staff to achieve goals.

Mayor McLean mentioned feeling very positive about the past three years.

His sentiments were echoed by Councillors.

Councillor Jim Manion said, "It was great working with you guys for the past three years," and congratulated Mayor McLean and the new Councillors. He thanked Town Hall staff for their support.

Councillor Ray Jarvis said he will miss Maria Sadegur, Pam Jones and Jim Manion on Council.

Mayor McLean thanked the people who had put their names forward to run for Council, and said he is looking forward to working with the new Town Council. He promised to fulfill his duties to warrant the trust people have put in him.

At the end of the meeting, several people thanked Town Council for their work and support during their term of office.

District prepares for forest shutdown

The mountain pine beetle infestation and a report titled Labour Market Dislocation in the Interior Forest Industry prompted several BC Interior school districts to prepare for a time when employment in the forest industry may no longer be available to increasing numbers of forest industry workers.

At the November 19 meeting of the Board of Trustees of School District #58 (Nicola-Similkameen), trustees approved a plan to provide skills training for dislocated forest industry workers and district students. The plan is called the Interior School District and Post Secondary Partnership. Other schools districts involved are: Revelstoke, Cariboo/Chilcotin, Kamloops/Thompson, Gold Trail and North Okanagan/Shuswap. Post Secondary institutions involved in the partnership are Thompson Rivers University, Nicola Valley Institute of Technology, and Okanagan College.

The goal of the partnership is to provide training locally through teleconference classrooms as well as computer assisted learning programs.

No funding is available at this time, but when all partners have signed the agreement, the Partnership will apply for funding from a variety of sources. The funds will be used to set up the basic infrastructure for delivery of the training programs.

Business and industry will be enlisted as consultative resources to ensure the programs offered are current, relevant technical and trades programs.

Robins declares election results official

Patrick Robins, Chief Election Officer for the Town of Princeton, has released the 'official' results for the General Local Election held November 15th.

The results for Mayor changed slightly from the 'unofficial' results, with no change in the overall outcome.

Randy McLean was re-elected

Mayor with 386 votes (up from 371 in the 'unofficial' results). Jim Manion finished with 270 votes (up from 252), Esther Donovan had 264 votes (up from 252) and Maria Sadegur finished with 166 votes (up from 161).

In the Councillor results only one change was made: candidate Douglas Rebagliati received one more vote than had originally been credited to him in the 'unofficial' results. The final results were declared official at 4:00 PM on

Council looks at transit service

A meeting in Kamloops in January will address the issue of BC Transit on regional highways. Southern Interior Local Government Association (SILGA) will attend the meeting, and asked Town Council to provide feedback about transportation services from Princeton to the Okanagan corridor. Mayor Randy McLean stated his opinion that Greyhound bus service is inadequate.

Council partners with BC Transit and Community Services to provide weekly bus trips to Penticton for residents of the Similkameen Valley.

Council will consult with Community Services to determine whether there are ways to improve bus service through BC Transit.

PXA returns Bey

John Bey was elected President of Princeton Exhibition Association (PXA) at the annual general meeting held November 18. Carol Ruoss will serve another term as Vice-President. She was appointed Secretary as well, with Ruby Bey appointed Treasurer.

Directors are Stan Thompson, Terry Inglis, Ernie Willis, Eric Gregson, Sandy Gabor, Cathy Pusell, Judi Esdale and Peter Ruoss.

President Bey said he would like more members of user groups to attend PXA meetings in the future to improve communication between the groups and the PXA, and to discuss working together for the betterment of everyone.

Upgrades on the grounds continue. Recent improvements include a new electrical system that will save about $2,000 a year.

ATV BC has asked for a weekend to be reserved in June 2009 for another major get-together. President Bey noted some of the problems that arose last year. After some discussion, it was agreed that the PXA and ATV BC discuss how these may be resolved.

Horse racing dates are tentatively set for June 26, 2009. This will be the weekend before Canada Day.

Knowledge Network asked the PXA for permission to show photographs of Sunflower Downs on the network in 2010. The photos were taken by Gerri Logan. President Bey advised he had signed a document granting use of the photos.

A new lease agreement between the Town of Princeton, owners of Sunflower Downs, and the PXA which manages the grounds, is under negotiation. The new lease will include an annual $20,000 operating and maintenance grant from the Town.

President Bey noted a special $2,000 grant has been approved for repairs to the facades of the buildings at Sunflower Downs. The false fronts of the buildings need to be repaired and painted. Wayne Hooper has been generously volunteering to do painting required on the buildings.

There was some discussion as to whether building or buying a portable stage would be most economic. This stage proposal came up last year, and a grant application went in to Community Forest Corporation to finance purchase of such a stage. The application was denied funding.

PXA members may go ahead and plan how to build a stage. President Bey reminded members that this would be a stage that could be used by all community groups, and he said contacts should be made with other potential users to see whether they could contribute some funds. The newest idea would be to outfit a fifth wheel trailer as a sound stage which could be moved around the community by a half-ton pick-up truck.

All of the groups who use the PXA facilities are winding down for the year. The PXA will not meet again until February 10, 2009.

NOTICE OF PRUNING

FortisBC Inc. has contracted Asplundh Canada ULC to manage vegetation near power lines within its service area. This work is necessary to reduce safety hazards near electrical wires and to prevent power outages caused by trees or tree limbs making contact with the lines.

Clearing around the low voltage lines that deliver power to individual residences remains the responsibility of the property owner. For safety reasons, FortisBC encourages homeowners to enlist the help of a qualified professional when pruning near low voltage lines.

Over the next few weeks, Asplundh Canada ULC crews will be pruning, treating and removing hazard trees in the FortisBC service area of PRINCETON-SUMMERLAND ROAD (Highway 40) FROM PINWOOD CREEK ROAD SOUTH TOWARDS PRINCETON. Every effort will be made to minimize disturbance to local property owners. If you have any questions about this project, please call Asplundh Canada ULC at 1-800-663-5860.

As a by-product of this work, free wood chips will be available in 8 cubic metre loads. If you are interested please call 1-800-663-5860.

Thank you for your cooperation.

keremeos and area news

Similkameen Country Manager Colleen Christensen looks forward to the grand opening of the Keremeos Community Resource and Information Centre. The celebration is set to take place between 3:00 and 5:00 PM on Friday, December 5th. *

Village council highlights

Here are the Keremeos Council Highlights from the November 17th regular Council meeting:

- Council heard from Bryn White of the South Okanagan Similkameen Conservation Program. White told Council and the public that the SOSCP is a unique cooperative partnership of local, regional, provincial, national and international organizations working towards shared sustainability objectives in the region while balancing human needs and aspirations. SOSCP's vision reflects both the desire for environmental and economic sustainability. She extended an invitation to the Village of Keremeos to become a partner, noting that the Regional District Okanagan Similkameen, the Towns of Oliver and Osoyoos, the District of Summerland and the City of Penticton have joined the partnership. Council thanked her and agreed to discuss the opportunity further in January 2009.
- Council heard from representatives of the Ecumenical Church Parish, who operate the Bargain Centre, a local not-for-profit second hand store that serves a wide variety of people in the South Similkameen area, offering affordable household goods and clothing. The Bargain Centre receives donations, but is also continually receiving an increasing amount of unusable and broken items that must be taken directly to the landfill. The costs to the centre continue to escalate and

- people continue to abuse the 'drop off' rules, literally using the centre as a garbage drop-off. Council suggested that while it could not offer any bylaw solutions, the Mayor would discuss the issue with the Electoral Area B and G representatives to see if a reduction in costs at the landfill could be obtained for the volunteers dropping off waste items deposited at the Bargain Centre. It was also suggested that better signage be provided at the centre. The volunteers thanked Council for its support.
- The Mayor provided his bi-weekly report and noted that he will be meeting with all members of Council in the next two weeks to get ideas and suggestions on how the Council can best work together over the next 3 years for the benefit of the community.
- Council passed a resolution to increase the mileage rate paid for use of personal vehicles while on Village business from $0.45 per kilometer to $0.50 per kilometer.
- Council passed a resolution to appoint White Kennedy to audit the Village's 2008 financial records, and agreed to review the cost of the service provider based on information gathered over the next few months from other municipalities.
- Council passed a Mobile Home Park Re-Development Policy to provide guidelines to Council if a re-development proposal comes forward for either mobile home park within the Village. The poli- cy provides additional protections to mobile home park residents for assistance beyond what is offered under the Mobile Home Park tenancy legislation, requiring potential developers to provide alternatives and in some cases compensation for relocation.

- Council tabled discussion on the Official Community Plan and Zoning Amendment Bylaws pertaining to a property at 524-6th Avenue until more information was obtained from the property owner as to what he intends to do with the current residence on the property.
- Council discussed the proposed rate for Sewer User Fees for mobile homes within mobile home parks, and agreed to keep that user fee the same as a single family dwelling user fee, being $214.50 per year. Previously they had discussed charging more for mobile homes in mobile home parks to compensate for not being able to charge each individual pad parcel tax for the new sewer collection lines recently installed in the area. The bylaw also allows the Village to charge the fees to the property owner, who will then be responsible for collecting those fees from the pad tenants.
- Council passed a new Business License bylaw, which includes more streamlined application of licensing for businesses operating only part of the year, and increased the business license fee from $80 per year to $100 per year.

Different kids need different ways to learn

All children have different ways of learning. At the November 19 School Board meeting, Sylvia Wilkins, a teacher at John Allison Elementary School, outlined for trustees the different methods of addressing each student's learning needs.

Each school in Princeton has done a study to identify students at risk of failure.

Each school has developed a variety of ways of assisting those students having learning difficulties. Wilkins presented methods at work in her school.

One of the methods is Guided Reading. The teacher works with small groups of students and the students work with each other to increase reading skills.

Math skills are taught in groups which use games and other activities and resources. Students work with each other as partners in some activities. Understanding of the Math concepts is the priority outcome.

Teachers continuously assess each

District bids farewell

Two school trustees sat at their final school board meeting on November 19.

Dina Slowikowski-Campbell, of Princeton, and Marguerite Kempen, of Merritt, will not be serving on the board for the next three years.

Kempen, who has been a trustee off and on for the past 27 years, says she is retiring.

Slowikowski-Campbell ran for a seat on Town Council and was defeated.

Both were presented with an engraved old-fashioned teacher's bell as a farewell gift from the school district.

Kempen had gifts of her own to distribute - jars of homemade jelly.

Both trustees said they had enjoyed working with fellow board members during the past three years.

Society requests your support

Princeton Crisis Assistance Society, best known at this time of year as the 'hamper people,' requests your support going into Christmas season.

The group has distributed boxes in many area businesses for the collection of non-perishable food items and new toys for inclusion in the annual Christmas Hamper Drive.

The Society is also requesting cash donations to assist with costs associated with the purchase of items for the hampers.

Cheques may be sent to Princeton Crisis Assistance Society at PO Box 1229, Princeton, BC V0X 1W0.

The Princeton Posse will also host the annual Teddy Bear Game, set this year for Saturday, December 13th. When the Posse score their first goal of that game, fans are encouraged to toss a stuffed animal on the ice. All stuffed animals will be gathered and given to Crisis Assistance for the Christmas Hampers.

The Teddy Bear Game is sponsored by Princeton Posse, Princeton Dairy Queen and Similkameen News Leader.

Driving kids? Drive smoke-free

(NC)—Kids, cars and cigarettes don't mix. That message is spreading quickly across Canada, as more cities and provinces move towards banning smoking in cars carrying children. This past spring, Ontario became the third province in the country to introduce this legislation, behind Nova Scotia and British Columbia.

There's good reason for the momentum — children can be exposed to up to sixty times the concentration of secondhand smoke while in a vehicle, compared to less confined indoor spaces, according to a recent Ontario Medical Association report.

"Second-hand smoke is a major cause of illness, especially for children who are unable to remove themselves from exposure while in vehicles," says George Habib, President and CEO, The Lung Association.

"This new legislation is in the best interest of children and we look forward to seeing the positive impact that will result from this initiative."

Now is a good time for smokers to reduce-to-quit smoking in preparation for this new legislation, which comes into effect on January 21, 2009.

The following tips can help you on your journey to quitting smoking:

- Set a personal goal. Aim to quit smoking by early next year, when the new legislation banning cigarette smoking in cars with kids comes into effect.

- Use a smoking cessation aid. There are many options available to help smokers quit gradually including the patch, gum, lozenges and prescription medications. Nicotine replacement therapies like Nicorette gum, lozenges or the Nicoderm patch can double a smoker's chances of quitting successfully.

- Be patient with cravings. When you want a cigarette, wait a few minutes — a nicotine craving usually lasts three to five minutes. Do something else instead of smoking; try chewing gum or drinking water.

- Avoid triggers. Try to avoid triggers that increase your desire for a cigarette, including alcohol and coffee.

- Reward yourself. Plan something special for reducing or eliminating your cigarette intake — treat yourself to a nice meal or spa service.

Visit www.reduce-to-quit.ca for more helpful quit tips.

Shift to better nutrition

(NC)—About 30% of Canadians are shift workers and getting enough sleep isn't their only concern. Factory workers, 24-hour retailers, telemarketers and emergency service staff can find themselves struggling to eat healthy on the job because of their busy schedules.

Eating well can prove to be a real challenge during night shifts when the only food readily available may be from vending machines or fast food restaurants. Vending machine snacks and fast food tend to pack in a lot of fat and sugar. Though these foods provide a quick energy boost, after the initial rush you're left feeling even more tired and sluggish.

Instead of relying on your next sugar high to get you through your shift, use these simple tips to help you feel great.

Pack a lunch: Healthy meals and snacks from home will make it easier to eat well on your shift. Include a variety of nutritious foods such as plenty of vegetables and fruit and whole grain products. Choose lower fat milk products like skim, 1% or 2% milk and yogurt, lean meats and protein alternatives such as boiled eggs or peanut butter.

Watch portions: Portion control is the best and quickest way to limit calories and avoid weight gain. Instead of eating a large meal before and after work, try eating smaller meals and snacks during your shift to tide you over.

Take a multivitamin: You can't always get the vitamins and minerals you need from diet alone. So a great way to ensure you are getting all the nutrients you need is to include a well balanced multivitamin, like Centrum into your health regime.

Drink lots of water: Drink plenty of water and other fluids to prevent dehydration, which can leave you feeling tired. Remember that by the time you feel thirsty you are likely already dehydrated. Keep a water bottle close by and drink regularly throughout your shift.

Eat meals according to time of day, not your shift. If you start work in the afternoon, have your main meal in the middle of the day, rather than in the middle of your shift. If you're working nights, eat your main meal before your shift starts, preferably between 5 and 7:00 PM.

Cut down on caffeine. Caffeine stays in your system for up to eight hours which can make it difficult to fall asleep later. It's best to have caffeinated drinks before or early in your shift. Even better, switch to decaffeinated tea or coffee and enjoy fruit juice, low fat milk or water.

Reducing the effects of shift work on your body starts with good nutrition. A consistent diet of fruits and vegetables, a multivitamin such as Centrum and plenty of water and rest are the best ways to make sure your body is getting the nutrients it needs. A good nutritional foundation will help you avoid the pitfalls of shift work and allow you to work at your best no matter the time of day.

Banish those cold sores

Cold sores begin as little eruptions along the edge of your lips, but they can soon grow into embarrassing, painful large blisters. What's more, they can spread to anyone you kiss or are silly enough to share a glass or bottle with.

Cold sores are not caused by the virus that causes colds. Cold sores come from an entirely different virus called oral herpes. This is what is known as a "sleeper" virus. It is common to everyone, but not everyone will get cold sores. Some people get cold sores all of the time, and some people never seem to get cold sores. The difference may be in the amount of a specific amino acid in their diet.

Lysine is an amino acid which prevents the invasion of herpes into the cell, thus preventing an outbreak of cold sores.

Oral herpes virus can be there, in your body, just waiting for an opportunity, such as a stressful time or a time when your immune system is fighting off another virus. Then herpes will find less resistance and it stops "sleeping" and goes to work in the form of cold sores.

If you are one of those people who frequently breaks out in cold sores, lysine can be taken to prevent this condition. Lysine is an amino acid that can be taken as a supplement, but if you are a chronic sufferer of cold sores, you might want to look at what you eat. Lysine is plentiful in turkey, ricotta cheese, avocado, eggs and chocolate. Yogurt, the kind with acidophilus, is very good as a bacteria fighter, and can be consumed in large amounts (up to 3 cups) during a cold sore outbreak.

There are some foods you can avoid because they contain arginine, another amino acid, which oral herpes loves. Avoid nuts, seeds, pork, milk and all cheese except ricotta.

Protect others

If you have a cold sore outbreak, please protect others from your virus. Do not share a glass, or a kiss, or a towel or face cloth with anyone else while your blisters are weeping. In fact, it is not a good idea to share any personal care products with anyone at any time, because they could be spreading disease to you!

Follow the rules for preventing the spread of flu or colds: wash your hands frequently, do not touch your eyes or nose unless your hands are very clean. Disinfect doorknobs, and other surfaces you touch frequently, and wash your dishes in very hot water.

Princeton Lions Club President Wayne Passey, standing, greets members and guests to the club's 38th Charter Night Dinner November 22nd. The event celebrates the birth of the club in Princeton. *

From The Hip

Opinion by Ed Vermette

Another time in Princeton

After our recent civic election, I was reminiscing about another time in Princeton, the 70's and early 80's. A time when jobs were plentiful and our community prospered.

In the 1970's Princeton had two main employers, the mill and the mine. We had a proud and functioning hospital with many doctors, a local forestry department, a full school board department and also a local unemployment office.

As a teenager and young adult during the 70's, I can remember Princeton having the services of two drug stores, two barber shops, two television repairmen, two small engine repair shops, two grocery stores, three banking institutes, four clothing stores, a jewellery store, a portrait photography shop, a furniture store, a large dry cleaners, a meat market, a shoe store, a car dealer, two ski hills and a movie theatre. This was just some that easily come to mind.

The community spirit was extremely strong and our corporate leaders made huge contributions to the area and its residents. It was an easier time with opportunity and hope.

So what is the big difference with today? We had two major employers and a variety of minor employers that made for a stable and growing economy. Although the closing of the mine had a big impact on the slow demise of some services, Princeton has managed to continue on in a slow housekeeping fashion.

Perhaps with the potential of the mine opening, opportunity knocks at the door once again. Or will we remain economically vulnerable by having all our eggs in one basket? Small or large industry has to be looked at seriously to help rebuild a sleeping village because it's difficult to keep up when you take two steps backwards for everyone else's one step forward. Our success or failure is dependent on having the foresight to plan for the future.

I wish all our newly elected officials success for our future.

Now that our civic elections have been completed, and the voters of Princeton have spoken, I offer my hearty congratulations to Mayor Randy McLean and to all members of Town Council.

During my term on council, I have made many friends, including members of the various boards that I have had the pleasure of serving on, our town staff, and members of other town councils. To all of you, I offer my thanks for your assistance and friendship. Good luck to you all.

In closing, I offer my thanks to the citizens of Princeton. It has been an honour serving you. I wish all of you, the very merriest of Christmases, and all the best for a healthy, happy, and successful new year.

Maria Sadegur

THANK YOU!

British Columbia's Wet Birth Day! INSIGHTS INTO BC'S HISTORY

Published by: Similkameen News Leader

by Nick Mills, Princeton Museum & Archives

Friday, November 19th, 1858 was a damp, rain soaked, day in the Fraser Valley. The pounding rain had left large pools of water in the muddy square that was enclosed by the timber palisades of Fort Langley. The Hudson's Bay Trading Post had been standing there next to the Fraser River for over thirty years.

It was that year the British Parliament had created the Colony of British Columbia and decided to appoint James Douglas who at the time was Governor of the neighbouring Colony of Vancouver Island and also Chief Factor of the western portion of the Hudson's Bay Company, a position he was asked to resign from when taking on the Governorship of the two Colonies.

Judge Matthew Begbie, together with a contingent of Royal Engineers had been sent out to help Douglas maintain order and upheld British law in the area.

On this wet November day, the Royal Engineers were dispatched to give the ceremony that was about to take place on, the behest of Queen Victoria, it's proper measure of Royal pomp and circumstance. Since there were already two New Caledonia's in existence, the Queen had decided that the new Colony should be named British Columbia, combining the notion of a British North America with the name of the Columbia District for which Fort Victoria was the administrative centre.

The ceremony at Fort Langley was to formalize the actions of James Douglas who, as Governor of Vancouver Island, had unilaterally exerted authority over the mainland north of the 49th Parallel. He had done so without the permission of the British Government as a way of establishing sovereignty and of maintaining civil control in the face of a gold rush.

The rain continued to pound down as the paddle steamer Beaver made its way up the Fraser River towards Fort Langley. Originally it had been planned that the new Capital should be called Derby, but the army objected and said the planned town site was indefensible. As a result the following year New Westminster was chosen as an alternative.

Besides James Douglas, guests onboard The Beaver included Rear Admiral Robert Baynes who was Commandeer of the Royal Navy's Pacific Station at Esquimalt, Douglas' brother-in-law David Cameron - Chief Justice of Vancouver Island and Judge Matthew Begbie. In addition there was the honour guard of Royal Engineers under the command of Captain John Marshall Grant.

It had been planned to hold the inauguration ceremony outdoors, but the torrential rain put pay to that! As a result the guests, over 100 people, were crowded into the dining room of the "Big House" at the Fort.

The British Columbia that came into being by proclamation on November 19, 1858, was totally different than the Province that we know today. Six months prior the population of Victoria had been 35 and there were fewer than 150 people of European descent living west of the Rockies. Soon all was to change as over 30,000 miners and camp followers made their way up the Fraser River in search of gold.

Legion hosts annual doubles crib tournament

On Sunday, November 2nd the 9th annual Jean Smith Doubles Crib Tournament was held in Princeton Legion Hall.

A total of 32 teams participated, which made it a great day of fun for all. Two teams came from Okanagan Falls to try to win their share of the big money.

Tournament organizers thank all the great volunteers who helped out. Ron, Ed and Stan set up the tables Saturday night.

Jean Borud made two soups for the lunch and Jan Terepocki helped her make all the sandwiches for a

RCMP report

Princeton RCMP have released information to the media on two incidents - one dating back to summer.

On July 5th, following a night of watching 'Extreme Fighting' on TV at the Brown Bridge Pub on Vermilion Avenue, a fight erupted which resulted in other patrons of the establishment getting involved.

"A patron suffered severe head trauma - fractured skull and jaw - resulting in surgery to repair the damages," says Princeton RCMP Detachment Sgt. Gary Macahonic.

"A resident of Princeton is facing charges of Causing a Disturbance and Assault."

A tentative court date has been scheduled for December 11th.

And on October 4th a young male was stabbed in the lower leg in front of 185 Luard Avenue.

"The victim received medical attention and was released shortly thereafter," Sgt. Macahonic says.

A Princeton resident is facing a charge of assault with a weapon. A tentative court date has been scheduled for January 8, 2009.

Lali runs for 4th

Yale-Lillooet NDP MLA Harry Lali launched his candidacy for the May 12th provincial election from the Nicola Valley Institute of Technology. Joined by many friends, family and supporters the crowd urged him on as he seeks his 4th term as MLA, this time within the new boundaries of Fraser-Nicola.

"Rural British Columbia has been abandoned, ignored and forgotten by the Gordon Campbell Government in Victoria," said Lali.

"When they came into office the Campbell-Liberals falsely promised a brighter future for all, but conveniently forgot the hinterlands of BC."

Lali said, "Premier Campbell is out-of-touch with the needs of Rural British Columbians and average families across the province. After squandering the provinces riches during good economic times, Mr. Campbell arrogantly believes that British Columbians will trust him with a third term."

Lali adds, "The people of Fraser-

Cec Anderson came out and helped Kim Herzig check and total up all the scores for the crib. Chuck Whitlock had the coffee on early so it would be ready when everyone showed up.

Last, but not least, Jeanette Lee and Cam Powley sat all day selling tickets for raffles and side pot prizes. What would we do without our volunteers?

After 19 games of crib the winners of the tournament were:

1st Place: Bob and Sharon Paterson (with Flossy Parsons 2nd half) -

$400.00 - 2226

2nd Place: Fred Kline and Derek Winter - $250.00 - 2222

3rd Place: Marg Weatherup and Bob Huckell - $150.00 - 2207

4th Place: Jack Powell and Joe Beausoliel - $100.00 - 2202

5th Place: Swany Bernier and Dell - $60.00 - 2189

Low Score (and free entry into the

Dorothy sends her court report

The temperature is cool but the beautiful blue skies are so pretty. The forecast tells us that clouds and snow will soon be here - probably by the time this arrives.

We residents have been enjoying our usual activities. Surprising how many words we made from the brief phrase "When will it snow?" Our horoscopes were read and for once they were complementary for each of us.

Of course we did exercises to the organ music played by Ruth with many of us quietly singing along.

Then on Tuesday we were treated to a two-hour film with the action happening about mid-1880's. Horses of course, a love affair naturally and vast open fields and mountains with herds of cattle on the run.

The title was, "Return To Snowy River." Many of you will have seen the film but I haven't. It was much enjoyed.

Next week, weather permitting, we'll go on a shopping trip and have lunch out. The stores will probably be decorated for Christmas. That should be very interesting and tempting.

Nicola are a lot smarter than what Campbell gives them credit for."

Lali said, "My constituents are telling me that they have had enough of the Campbell-Liberals uncaring and mean-spirited policies. They are telling me that Mr. Campbell and his Liberal Government have abandoned seniors and rural health care, Aboriginal people, students and youth, and forestry workers and small towns."

NVIT has long held a special place in the local MLAs heart.

Lali said, "This building is a far cry from the classes I used to address in the Basement of the I n d i a n Administration building in the eighties. In 1999, I convinced my NDP Government to build this $11-million campus. It showcases what I can do when we have a government that cares about rural British Columbia and its development!"

Lali, the longest-serving MLA for Yale-Lillooet, said since 2001 the Campbell-Liberals have shut down 60 sawmills and pulp mills and eliminated 30,000 forestry jobs.

"Forestry is in a crisis with record number of jobs lost, real wages in decline, and more and more people having to fight harder and harder to survive," said Lali.

"The uncaring BC Liberals have done absolutely nothing to protect forestry jobs and communities."

Lali adds, "My constituents from Princeton to Logan Lake, Merritt to Lillooet, and from Ashcroft and Skeetchestn in our new Fraser-Nicola constituency are telling me to continue to stand up to Gordon Campbell and his friends and insiders in Victoria and to continue to fight for their local, rural issues such as long-term care beds, lower tuition fees, hospital operating rooms, forestry jobs and Aboriginal issues."

Lali said, "I am honoured to take up the challenge again and continue to stand up and fight on behalf of my constituents as I have done for most of the past 20 years, as a councillor in the City of Merritt and former Cabinet Minister and MLA for Yale-Lillooet."

Actors give big ticket

Young actors attended the November 17 Town Council meeting to present a big ticket to Mayor Randy McLean. The young people, and some older actors, were there to encourage Town Council to attend their upcoming production of children's plays.

The plays will be performed at Riverside Centre on December 4, 5 and 6, three evening performances with a matinee on Saturday, December 6.

Monsters Under the Bed is a play about facing fears and overcoming them. The Prince Who Wouldn't Talk is an entirely different kind of play in which the audience is asked to participate in finding whether there is a moral to the story.

There are 21 youngsters and several adults involved in the play, from stage hands to actors, under the direction of Susan Kerr.

Mayor McLean said he would be pleased to bring the giant ticket to the play, but he was given a wallet size ticket instead. The big ticket created by the young people will be used as a poster to advertise the plays at Town Hall.

New season brings new feature

Fans in attendance at Princeton Arena may not be aware of it, but when the Valley First Princeton Posse started the 2008/09 season, they added a new feature to their home games – internet webcasts.

The KIJHL website, located at www.kijhl.com is where the webcasts can be located and if you miss a live one, you can always access an archived game from this season. The webcast equipment includes a handycam camera mounted on a tripod, a mixing board, a laptop computer and two headsets with microphones.

"It sounds pretty simple, but with technology the way it is these days, that's all we need to get the show online," says Posse internet play-by-play announcer George Elliott.

"I'm actually quite impressed with the clarity and detail the small camera can produce."

Admitting that this season has so far been filled with trial and error with dropped signals, varying microphone levels and incorrectly identified players, Elliott says the 'work in progress' is coming along just fine.

"Posse Assistant Coach Kevin Robillard deserves much of the credit for getting the webcasts online. He's usually got the equipment set up and ready to go by the time I arrive and he handles the camera work and provides valuable insight during games, so I really appreciate his presence during the webcasts," Elliott adds.

A normal hockey night starts an hour before the game when Elliott arrives at Princeton Arena.

"I do some homework the afternoon of a game where I'll get the visiting team line up from the internet, and pull out a few stats from both teams, lay the information out on 'cheat sheets' and then I'll compare the names and numbers during the pre-game warm-up. That's usually where I'll discover if I've missed anyone so I'll add them to the list and I'm pretty much ready for the opening face-off."

Elliott says the webcasts have made him look at the local team in a different light.

"I see the webcasts as an excellent opportunity for us to promote Princeton in a way that isn't already being done and I see how many volunteers give so many of their weekends to the community by doing something at the arena during game night. Without them it would be difficult to host a home game."

Elliott also sees the webcast as filling a slightly different role for the team.

"At first I thought we were doing this as a league requirement, then after I started getting e-mails from family members watching the webcasts from all over BC, Alaska and into the United States it became apparent that we were providing a pretty important link for families separated due to hockey. When one parent wrote to say Princeton was over a thousand kilometres away and that they never missed a game their son had played at home and how grateful they were to be able to see the game in the comfort of their own home - that really put it into a different perspective for me."

As for the mechanics of play-by-play announcing, Elliott says it's been fun.

"I had never done a play-by-play broadcast of any kind in my radio career so I was pretty excited about the challenge, and although I got off to a shaky start, it's actually been a lot easier than I thought it would be."

He's also made other observations about the game.

"Even a not so good hockey game looks differently from the webcast booth as we are up high and can see things developing on ice that maybe can't be as easy to spot from the stands. I've also noticed there's a lot of chatter on ice you can't hear in the stands."

And the number one difference? "Doing the play-by-play makes the average hockey game go by far faster than sitting in the stands watching it."

Horoscopes

November 26 - December 3, 2008

Aries - You are full steam ahead on projects involving matters related to foreign countries, spirituality, and education. Guard against appearing opinionated or self-righteous.

Taurus - Everything seems to be related to your debts, investments, or dealing with matters of ultimate concern. You may need to lighten up! Learn new skill or study new information.

Gemini - Interaction with others is important now. You may have to stand up for yourself to deal with other's ego trip. This is not your best time of year. Rest, find quiet corner.

Cancer - Your job is just to hectic and you need to spend time with cheerful friend and happy mate. Take good care of your health and guard against cuts and burns. Expect surprise gift.

Leo - If life were just fun, you're ready for it! This weekend could be great for any fun, or any creative activity. Maybe you should decorate for Christmas this week. Enjoy!

Virgo - This week is all about your home and your family. It could be hectic, and you may overdo Christmas shopping this weekend, especially when shopping for kids. Relax with a book.

Libra - Home and family are your greatest source of happiness this week. All matters related to information, errands, and communication may be stressful. Be cautious in traffic.

Scorpio - What you own and what you would like to own are on your mind these days, and perhaps your possessions are causing you worry. Think about what you really want, then act.

Sagittarius - This is your best time of year, when you can go full steam ahead and achieve what you want. Make sure you do not turn it into an ego trip that trips you up in future.

Capricorn - You may be at your laziest this weekend, and maybe you will spend time updating wardrobe and appearance. Take time to plan a more positive outlook, and dream a little.

Aquarius - You can have a good time this week. Your mind is full of good thoughts about friends and family, but you may have problems expressing it. Look at spiritual side.

Pisces - You need to focus on career this week. Groups you belong to are source of pleasure. You could surprise somebody with a gift or special favour on Friday. You gain by loving.

my turn

The two-way street

Before the 'new' Town Council is sworn in I need to get this off my chest.

One of the criticisms we receive often in our office about our elected officials is the perceived lack of communication with residents.

I am thinking off the top of my head about the changes to the intersection of Bridge Street and Vermilion Avenue.

From where I'm sitting, I think there was a lot of information shared about the project, yet, when changes were being made a lot of our customers voiced their displeasure over what was being done and that "nobody asked for input" on the project.

I know that is not entirely true.

And I'm not going to point fingers as I am pretty sure the plans for that particular project went through the proper channels. A drawing of the completed project was still posted in the window of the former Goldion Restaurant the last time I looked, so there's information available.

But the constant feedback received in our office about what Town Council was or was not telling the public tells me something. Maybe the 'new' Town Council will have to examine how they release information to the public. One newly-elected Councillor suggested to me the possibility of regular 'town hall-style' meetings where the public can attend a casual, informal meeting where items are discussed and plans reviewed.

I think that's a step in the right direction.

Another suggestion from the same source was a monthly (or more often) report from each Councillor on activities they are involved in, projects being worked on, concerns from committee meetings attended, etc.

These reports would be publishing in local media.

Again, I think that's a step in the right direction.

Although current members of Council may feel they were being 'transparent' during their term, based on what we've heard in our office, maybe they were not transparent enough.

I think that's a fair assessment to make considering what we've been hearing. Personally, I think they told us what they wanted us to know, and on occasion, told us a little more. Maybe there's a lesson to be learned in that which hopefully the 'new' Town Council acts upon.

Nobody wants to be told only part of the story, but by the same token, we all owe it to ourselves to listen a little more carefully to what we are being told.

Reading between the lines only happens when the message is unclear.

And if the 'new' Town Council hears this message loud and clear, they may actually prove to us that communication is indeed a two-way street.

your turn

In reply to Mr. Dietz

Mr. Dietz;

How differently we see Princeton.

You see a town of run down buildings, overbearing real estate signs, rough trails and ineffective town councillors. I see a town of caring, responsible people working individually and together to the benefit of our small community.

Princeton is certainly not perfect. We need to promote sustainable, environmentally responsible businesses. We need to create strategies that encourage attainable housing.

We need to upgrade many buildings, especially in the downtown area. As a community volunteer, I had interactions with the last two town councils. While I sometimes disagreed with their decisions, I appreciate and respect the time and effort they gave to improving Princeton.

You see a town that could be vibrant, a word defined by the Oxford Dictionary to mean thrilling and lively.

I see a town that is dynamic which according to the same dictionary means energetic and active.

On occasion Princeton is, and will continue to be, thrilling and lively; for example, Racing Days and the Heritage Music Festival. But the Princeton I see is energetic and active every day.

To exemplify the energetic and active nature of our town, I have prepared a list of dynamic groups and activities.

I realize this list is not complete and I invite others to help complete it.

- Community Services Society - New Beginnings, home care, assisted living
- Princeton Crisis Assistance Society
- Princeton Accessibility Committee
- Princeton Volunteer Fire Department
- Princeton Ground Search and Rescue
- Programs for children and families - Princeton Child Care Society, Communities for Kids, Family Place, Little Folks Nursery School, Strong Start, Preschool Support Program, Literacy Now
- Seniors Centre
- Arts programs - drama, community band, singing, painting, potting, quilting, art gallery
- Recreation Programs - Riverside Centre, Princeton Arena, community and school sports, China Ridge Cross Country Ski Association, Curling Club
- Vermilion Forks Field Naturalists - Swan Lake reserve
- Vermilion Trails Society - Weyerhaeuser gazebo, Bridge of Dreams

- Sunflower Downs group - Fall Fair, Racing Days, Rodeo
- Hospital Auxiliary
- Museum Society
- Service Clubs - Legion, Lions, Rotary

- Church groups
- Community garden committee
- Posse Hockey Club
- Individuals who give their time and effort to paint or roof a building for a non-profit group, or drive an elderly neighbour to an appointment in Penticton, or volunteer in so many kind ways to help friends and others.

You see a town whose only long term asset is our heritage town and surrounding area. I see a town whose most important asset is the caring nature of the people that live here.

Princeton is not, and may never be, the most affluent small town, or the fastest growing small town, or the prettiest small town. But we are already an amazingly caring small town.

As we work to improve Princeton, we need to appreciate and nurture what we have that makes us such a caring place because that is why many of us choose to live here.

We don't have to live in Princeton.

We want to live in Princeton.

Yours truly,
Susan Hamilton, Princeton

Our plastics are destroying boys

Dawn Johnson
editor@thenewsleader.ca

What happens to the human race if there are no men who can reproduce?

This is a serious concern of many medical researchers today. Baby boys are being miscarried, or born with substandard sex organs, or developing reproductive problems as they mature. This is an alarming, accelerating medical danger which can be traced back to the petrochemical industry. In short, plastics are destroying male reproductive capabilities.

We are the garbage dump

Perhaps you do not know the full story of plastics. We have had them around so long we forget why the plastics industry developed. We do not associate plastics with the oil industry. Raw petroleum comes from the decomposed bodies of dinosaurs. The bodies were covered with silt and sediment and the body fluids became compressed, forming crude oil or tar sands. When crude oil is refined, a number of fuel products are derived, beginning with the most pure aviation gasoline, through regular gasoline, down to diesel and things like axle grease.

When all of the good gasoline, oil and usable greases (like axle grease and petroleum jelly) are removed, the sludge left at the bottom of the tank forms the basis for a wide variety of plastics. The development of plastics was a boon to the petroleum industry because it gave commercial value to a substance that was literally garbage. In short, plastics are the waste material of the oil refining process.

That is a very simple explanation for a very complex industry known as the petrochemical industry. This industry has given us such things as detergents, plastic tubing, creams, shampoos, shower gel, pop bottles, garbage bags, grocery bags, pantyhose, fleece, imitation fur, antron, dacron, and all kinds of footwear and footwear parts.

Plastic is one of the most versatile of products, but unfortunately, some plastics have biological side effects. Some cause cancer, and some alter the sex and sexuality of males.

It starts in the man

For a child to be conceived, a man's sperm must be plentiful and it must be strong and properly developed. To achieve this condition, the man's testosterone level must be high. The side effect of some plastics is to reduce the ratio of male to female hormones, because these "rogue" plastics leach synthetic female hormone (estrogen). Every human produces both male and female hormones, so when a man is getting a lot of synthetic female hormone, it reduces the male hormone level, and reduces the number, strength and development of the sperm he produces. Increasing numbers of young couples are going to fertility clinics, and male infertility is an increasing reason for conception problems. Male sperm counts are down dramatically compared with 40 years ago, and researchers are blaming it on the rogue plastics.

Women are part of the problem

When a baby is conceived, it is female for the first few weeks. It is only when a flood of male hormones surrounds the embryo that the embryo can become male. There has to be enough testosterone (male sex hormone) to do the job right. If the mother's body is flooded with synthetic female hormones, the embryo may remain female, or a male may be produced having inadequate male sex organs. This is happening with increasing frequency.

It doesn't stop in the womb

More damage is done when little boys are exposed to plastics that leak synthetic female hormones. Testicles and penis may not develop properly, and painful surgery may be required. The full effects are not yet known. Increasing numbers of grown men are showing less than optimal levels of male hormone, which is essential to male health. Some researchers blame the synthetic female hormones leached from rogue plastics for the increasing levels of prostate problems and prostate and testicular cancers.

Forecast for the future

Unless we act now to ban the use of plastics that leach synthetic female hormones, the day may come when the only males born who can reproduce will be males from non-industrialized areas of the world, such as the upper Amazon, the Himalayas, and various wilderness areas where people are not exposed to these plastics. As it is the industrialized nations of the world where most people are exposed to these synthetic female hormones, we may, in the next three generations, see the end of the white race.

What can we do?

The first thing we must do is demand laws banning the use of any plastics that leak synthetic female hormones. As it takes government so long to change legislation, we must avoid buying any drinks or food stored in plastic bottles or in tins lined with this plastic. We should encourage every manufacturer to use glass (liked they did 20 years ago!). Our food is a primary source of synthetic female hormone, but don't forget shower gels and shampoo. Use ordinary soap containing animal fat. Avoid most creams and lotions and oils on the skin unless you are sure they are purely vegetable or animal in origin (like they used to be!). Wear 100 percent cotton or wool against your skin, if at all possible. Most important, keep your children away from synthetic fabrics, shower gels, and shampoos. Don't have any drinks stored in plastics, and keep those soft plastic and fleece items away from them, unless your health nurse tells you it is safe.

Look to old ways

When I was a kid, we washed with soap, and we had fabrics made from cotton, wool or rayon (rayon is made from wood). Our milk and other liquid foods came in glass bottles, our bread was wrapped in paper (and didn't go moldy so fast), and when we went shopping, our groceries were put into paper bags or boxes. Our biggest concern during our child bearing years was that we not have too many children!

Explore The History Of Mining - Gold, Copper and Coal

Recently re-elected Town Councillor Ray Jarvis brought greetings on behalf of the Town of Princeton to the Princeton Lions Club 38th Charter Night November 22nd. Jarvis told the group, "I want to wish the Lions Club much success. Keep up your good work."*

Fairgrounds groups say thanks

The three user groups at the fairgrounds, and Princeton Exhibition Association (PXA) got together Friday evening for a roast beef dinner at the Legion Hall. The occasion was an opportunity to say thank you to the people who do the work for horse racing, rodeo events, and the fair.

Rodeo Club member Mike Theal acted as MC, with PXA President John Bey as host. A representative from each group spoke briefly to express appreciation to all of the volunteers who give their time and effort to put on these major community events. More than 130 people attended the dinner, giving a clear indication of how many people are involved in the three big events held each year.

After dinner, Mike Theal entertained everyone with western music, Theal on guitar and lead singer.

Letter To The Editor

Reader offers suggestions

To The Editor;
 We now have a new Town Council and Mayor that have all promised good things.

I have a few suggestions as priorities (not necessarily in the order presented).

- 1) Safe and decent, foot, wheelchair and buggy access to downtown facilities from the Tunnel, Allison Flats/Deblyn areas and East Princeton.
- 2) Replace the decrepit and inadequate Brown Bridge.
- 3) Secure affordable shelter for pensioners and other low-income residents.
- 4) Surface and ballast our dykes before the ice tears the rest of the rip-rap away.

- 5) Promote Princeton nationally and internationally as a town with clean air and water, every kind of outdoor activity, a central location and an ideal place for an value-added industry.
- 6) Easy access to temporary parking, complete with water and sand-dump for RV's, close to shopping.
- 7) Lobby together with the other concerned towns to have major upgrading done to the Hope Princeton Highway.
- 8) Add a few more basketball/badminton courts and benches to the ball fields and playgrounds.
- 9) Devise a plan to get all the fruit picked around town so that the bear and deer are not attracted so much.
- 10) More disposal bins complete with doggie bag dispensers in problem areas.

There's more stuff, like noxious weeds, toxic chemicals, etc. that need attention and education, and enforcement of existing bylaws.
 Respectfully,
 J. W. Noppe, Princeton

USIB will dig on water line

The construction of new water lines to extend service to the airport area and East Princeton is of interest to the Upper Similkameen Indian Band. At the November 17 meeting of Town Council, an Archaeological Impact Assessment fund was approved.

Upper Similkameen Indian Band archaeological team will work on areas of the proposed water line where there have been significant archaeological finds.

Letter To The Editor

This is not your average Joe

Editor;

I was thinking of running myself in our city election but with a name like 'Joe' the opposition wouldn't have a chance and that's not very Christian or charitable.

Just imagine the negative advertising and slogans - Joe Who? Joe the Plumber? Joe the Bummer! That Joe - you don't get them much dumber.

Where is the perk when you vote for this Joe - a well-known jerk?

It's really a Joe job but not any Joe can do it.

Remember, this Joe is compassionate, keeps his promises - such as cutting the taxes on those not working (easy one to keep when not paying taxes if not working). His common sense approach, this Joe wears pocketless pants. You never have to worry about this Joe filling his pockets with your hard-earned tax dollars.

An advocate of law and order, Joe would outsource all repeat criminal cases to Saudi Arabia and the savings used for a Princeton homeless deer shelter and bylaw officer.

Joe will not leave you disillusioned. He promises you nothing. You can be sure anything you get beyond that is a bonus.

As our ranchers, Joe's a strong believer in the use and accomplishments of the shovel.

Joe's a real brain when it's working - methane gas operated - is suffering a serious malfunction since being cut off in Princeton.

This Joe is not short-sighted, always wears tinted glasses and sees nothing but a rosy future for Princeton - VOTE JOE!!! (Joe Who?).

However, with so many candidates anxious to care for the happiness and well being of me - 'Joe the Taxpayer' - I am so deeply humbled and filled with gratitude to all, that common decency and courtesy demands I not run and impede such a priceless process.

- Joe Schwarz, Princeton

Greyhound operator issues warning

To The Editor;

We are writing this to inform the citizens of Princeton and surrounding areas that Princeton Greyhound will be closing its doors December 31, 2008.

We regret to have to make this decision, but due to drastic cuts from Greyhound management, we are one of several small agencies unable to afford to keep open. We will be open longer hours in December to help with Christmas shipping and traveling which we will post at Greyhound in the following weeks.

We would like to take this time to thank all our loyal customers and apologize for this inconvenience to you.

We are guessing that passengers will continue to be picked up and able to buy their tickets at the next depot available but are unsure of where this bus stop will be.

Hopefully Greyhound gets back to us as soon as possible so we can relay this information on to you to make the travel changes as smooth as we can.

Esther's deer solution

To The Editor;

During the Mayors' All-Candidate Forum the question came up again about deer control.

As everyone is aware, we have a huge deer population in our area and it is such a problem. I forgot to tell you (during the Forum) my secret.

We purchased some organic deer

For all your freight and shipping needs in the new year or any other questions, please come in the Princeton Greyhound and speak to Lynette, who will try to get your answers from Greyhound.

Thank you!

spray and spray all the ornamentals and flowers around the yard. I haven't had ANY problems with the deer eating ANY of the sprayed flowers or bushes. It really works and I would recommend it.

You have to spray following a rain otherwise it lasts a long time. Good luck!
