The candidates were officially announced March 21st. *

Town enters into RDOS agreement

A report presented at the March 19th regular meeting of Princeton Town Council by CAO Patrick Robins recommended the Town of Princeton enter into a three-year Services Agreement with the RDOS.

The agreement will be to provide Building Inspection Services - the most current agreement expired on December 31, 2011.

Following the retirement in 2006 of the local Building Inspector, the Town entered into a service agreement with the RDOS to provide those services.

As a result, RDOS provides 2-days per week service from Town Hall which includes building permit application review, routine zoning bylaw checks, preparation of build-

Crime figures show minor decrease

Princeton RCMP Sgt. Dave Clare presented fourth quarter statistics at the March 19th regular meeting of Town Council.

During the period between October and December 2011, police responding to 439 calls for service, compared with 493 calls during the fourth quarter of 2010. That figures out to a decrease of 11%. In total, Princeton RCMP responded to 1,910 calls in 2011 compared to 1,943 in 2010 - a 'minor decrease' of 1.7%.

The report, put together by the Crime Analyst in Penticton, states that reports related to thefts from vehicles declined substantially in the 3rd and 4th quarters, ending the year 19% lower than at the end of

"Unfortunately this figure has gone up in the past few weeks," Sgt. Clare added. He also said this kind of theft is easily prevented by removing valuables from plain sight and by locking vehicles.

The numbers of stolen vehicles also dropped in 2011 although five were taken from the area in the last three months of the year - the highest rate of auto thefts in the year.

Princeton RCMP also recorded a murder in the last quarter of 2011 when local police responded to a request from Penticton RCMP to check on the well being of a female resident on Osprey Lake Road on November 9th following the arrest of a 63-year old male on an outstanding Canada-wide warrant. It was at that time Princeton RCMP discovered a 56-year old female had been murdered at her residence in Area H.

"He was captured thanks to some good police work," Sgt. Clare stated.

Princeton air show receives award

The Northwest Council of Air Shows chose Princeton's air show as the recipient of the 2011 Up and Coming Air Show Award during their annual convention last month in Richmond.

Two members of the NWCAS attended the March 19th regular meeting of Princeton Town Council to present the award.

Daffydd Herman and Roy Hafeli were visibly excited to be at the meeting and after explaining more about their group; Herman shared a number of observations related to progress made at Princeton Airport. "The airport is not the airport I remember from fifteen years ago. Congratulations to the community for turning this airport into the condition it is to that of a destination."

Herman explained that for many pilots, Princeton Airport was a place to stop if all other options were either exhausted or non-existent. He says the Similkameen Valley has slowly become a place for many to stop and enjoy now that there is a welcoming airport facility in place. "You've really treated it like an asset."

Hafeli explained that the NWCAS is part of the International Council of Air Shows, which is made up of air show event organizers, performers and fans.

"When it was announced (that Princeton's air show was selected for the 2011 Up and Coming Air Show Award) there were a lot of cheers - mostly from performers."

Mayor and Council conduct priority setting workshop

On February 23rd and 24th Mayor Thomas and Councillors Armitage, Earle, Harkness and Maynard along with senior staff, participated in a workshop to set strategic priorities for the municipality.

The two-day workshop was facilitated by Gordon McIntosh from the Local Government Leadership Institute.

The workshop provided the framework for assisting council in making strategic choices and developing those choices into strategic priorities for current and future years. The workshop also provided the opportunity to identify operational improvements and determine operational strategies.

"The strategy session has provided the framework to move forward through 2012 and beyond," Deputy Mayor Jason Earle says.

"We are excited to move forward on a number of very important initiatives including our on-going advocacy to ensure a properly functioning hospital, managing human-wildlife conflict and ensuring a stable economic climate in our community."

During the workshop a long list of issues and opportunities was created by council and staff during a brain-storming session.

Following the brain-storming session council used a set of priority setting criteria to evaluate the relevance of each of the items to determine whether an issue or opportunity needed action by council.

The criteria used to determine the items relevance included resource consideration (for example: financial and human resource), the urgency of the issue or opportunity (for example: community need and public benefit) and responsibility (for example: service level). The criteria helped refine the identified issues and opportunities into a strategic priorities list and operational strategies. These strategic priorities will be transformed over the next months and years into deliverable actions that will be undertaken by council and staff and will be monitored on an on-going basis.

EMILY ALLISON - Princeton Rotary Club

Emily is a 16 year old student currently completing Grade Eleven at Princeton Secondary School. She is very excited to be participating in the Ambassador Program and is proudly sponsored by the Princeton Rotary Club. She enjoys a variety of sports; softball, volleyball, skiing and competitive swimming. Emily loves reading, drama and volunteering in the community. Like many locals she takes advantage of Princeton's beautiful location and spends her summers camping and hiking and winters on a Skidoo. After graduation Emily plans to attend University and pursue a career as a Registered Nurse.

Flip Of The Coyne

by Spencer Coyne

I had the joy of being a part of the food sovereignty forum on Thursday night with our local MP Alex Atamanenko and Colleen Ross the VP of Policy with the National Farmers Union. Although the forum itself was informative and inspiring it was later when I had time to reflect not only on the forum but the post-game discussion that I got worked up.

When you get a chance to discuss and debate issues with people who are of a similar mindset the wheels start to turn. Thursday night was one of those nights. Why is it that we even have to have forums like this? Here we are talking about the need for a revolution because we are losing control of our means to feed ourselves. No civilization can survive if it cannot feed itself. Rome fought wars over the control of food supplies yet today our governments are handing over our food production and supply to an ever increasing smaller handful of corporations.

In British Columbia the Liberal Government made it nearly impossible for small meat producers to keep afloat and local processing facilities closed leaving only a handful of facilities in a few hands.

Major biotech companies like Monsanto have their patent seeds that restrict farmers from seed saving forcing farmers to buy new seed every year.

Why is it like this? When did the government stop protecting the necessities for our society to survive? Corporations do not elect our officials, people do, so why do farmers have to fight for the right to farm the way they have done since the first person stopped being nomadic? It's sad and you should be angry. You should be very angry. My family has farmed in the Princeton area since around 1860 but every year it becomes harder and harder for family farms to exist because of government regulation and the introduction of genetically engineered seeds that are the property of some corporation.

Now Monsanto is trying to get approval to sell Genetically Engineered Alfalfa. If this happens you can kiss organic agriculture goodbye. Alfalfa is hay. Hay feeds our animals. Animal waste is composted to make fertilizer and alfalfa is important pollinator for bees. Alfalfa is a perennial that is hard to totally eradicate once it is planted, so once Monsanto's alfalfa is in the ground it will be difficult if not impossible to remove it from the ecosystem. Once it is there it will ..... continued on Page 18

My Turn

One More Reason To Love Princeton

I don't know little Emily.

I sort of know some of her family members, but I didn't know her at all.

I was out of town March 18th when I discovered various messages of condolence on Facebook only hours after the outdoor accident occurred that took her life at the age of five.

In the days that followed it was becoming very clear to me that this tragic incident touched a lot of people. The outpouring of support from friends (and probably a number of strangers) was, to say the least, heartwarming.

There were local businesses offering a portion of sales of products to the family to assist with funeral costs. Others collected returnables and using the cash from that to offer the family. Now there's a bank account in place at CIBC for donations.

Locals from all walks of life were drawn together by this little girl.

And that is one of the great things about living in Princeton.

We can forget our differences and join one another as we focus on trying to make a bad thing a little bit easier to deal with for those directly affected by it.

Do we do these things because we are grateful it didn't happen to us?

I don't think so.

I think we become neighbours helping neighbours because it's the right thing to do and because there's always the chance that the community will do it for us if we needed it.

It does make me grateful to know that people do care about others in their community and aren't afraid to actually show it when the going gets rough.

It also reminds me why I like living here.

It's the people, who ultimately form the character of a community. And right now, you can't deny that the character of our community is it's greatest asset.

The way Princeton (and Area H) work together in the time of need is worth more to me than building a new Town Hall or solving the urban deer problem.

The heart of our community is beating strongly and it always will.

The sad thing is that it took a five-year-old girl most of us didn't know to remind us that we live in one of the best places in British Columbia, if not Canada.

Thanks, Emily.

May you rest in peace.

Your Turn

Letters and E-Mails Received This Past Week

To The Editor;

It takes a village to raise a flag!

In February this year, I replied to an e-mail from Marji Basso, inquiring if she could direct me to a new Canadian flag for our Woodlie Park flagpole in Hedley.

This was in response to a request for a new flag during an all-candidate's meeting in Hedley, before the election for Area G Director on November 19th, 2011.

Happily, Marji responded by obtaining a flag for Hedley, and sending it through inter-school mail to the Keremeos High school. There, a fellow named Marcus held onto it until Hedley resident Don Molson was able to pick it up after one of his volunteer shifts as a "meals on wheels" driver.

Then Don left the flag for me at the Hitching Post Restaurant, where the restaurant owner Brenda Gould saw it. Seeing no instruction but having been present at the meeting where the request was made, she took the initiative to hang the flag in the park, getting help from her staff member Levi Bell.

Upon completion of this project, she spoke with Doug Bratt, proprietor of the Hedley Country Market, which is next door to Woodlie Park. When he had time, he took out a ladder and secured the flagpole and pulley system so that it could not be tampered with.

This kind of cooperation and "just doing it" is what makes our valley so special. When I got home I received reports from three different people about what had happened, which is a great example of people taking care of one another, simply because they can.

On a windy day our new Canadian flag flies rather proudly, welcoming visitors to our small park. Thank you all for your contributions.

Best wishes,
Angelique Wood, Hedley

Current Comment

Free Trade And National Decline

Dawn Johnson
editor@thenewsleader.ca

I have been an opponent of free trade for about 30 years. Part of my opposition stemmed from what I learned studying basic Economics. The other part was from my study of Canadian economic history and the disaster involved in the Reciprocity Treaty. Recently, I read a book by an American, Patrick J. Buchanan, who clearly outlines the decline of the United States, and blames a good part of it on free trade. He opposes SPP, just as many Canadians have done.

Referring to the huge trade deficits of the United States since the North American Free Trade Agreement, Buchanan notes that the deficit has risen year after year, first with Mexico, where corporations moved to find cheap labour, then with China, where corporations moved for the same reason. The policy of free trade was promoted most in the United States by groups of economists with a big influence on President G.W. Bush, and by corporate lobbyists, whose masters stood to gain the most through a free trade policy.

Buchanan says the free trade advocates appear to have an almost religious fervour in crusading for a lack of tariffs or taxes on imports. Rather than tell the story in proofs related to successes of free trade in the past, the advocates talk in terms of morality, of making everyone friends. Buchanan, in contrast, points to specifics, and show free trade has always resulted in the decline of nations who engaged in free trade.

Buchanan harks back to the economic advice given to the young United States 200 years ago. An economist named Friedrich List recommended paying no attention to the advocates of free trade. Others mocked List, saying consumption is the sole purpose of production, to which List replied "production renders consumption possible". In short, if there is no production, there is nothing to consume, or there are no consumers that can afford to consume. List said the power of producing wealth is more important than wealth itself. List linked production capacity to the strength and wealth of any nation. Buchanan adds a down to earth reminder that it is not important who eats the apples, it is important who owns the orchard.

The book goes on to explain how the means of production, the factories and the labour that runs the factories, are now located in foreign lands, yet the major consumers are Americans. The imbalance, of course, means the American consumer is expected to spend money endlessly on foreign goods. At the same time, the loss of good jobs in the manufacturing sector have reduced the capacity of Americans as consumers, whereas the consumers of India and China have increased their spending.

Why did the corporations move production offshore? To make more profits, of course. They left for the cheap labour, lack of health care and social security benefits for employees. We should pay close attention to one of the side effects of this move: there is some doubt aging Americans can go on receiving social security and Medicaid because the nation, without the corporate and income taxes, will not be able to afford to pay those costs. The cost of education will no longer be met by government.

This could happen here. The next time you hear somebody talk about free trade, remember your medicare and Canada and Old Age pensions could be the price you pay for free trade and no import taxes. I recall Alex Atamenenko, during the last federal election campaign, was straightforward in responding to a question about the benefits of free trade. He answered that it had done nothing good for our riding, but had cost hundreds of jobs.

What free trade is doing to the United States, it is doing to Canada to a lesser degree. The only thing keeping our economy strong is our natural resource industries. Like the United States, Canada's job losses have been primarily in the manufacturing sector. We are losing the means of production, which will make us dependent on other nations for consumer goods.

Free trade is not 'free'. There is a cost. The loss of steady well-paid jobs means a loss of benefits like health care and pensions. It means our younger people will work to age 67 or 70 before they can retire, if they live that long. It means our nation becomes weaker because it is not self-sufficient. It means that even with a good education, university graduates may have to work at low-paying service jobs. Any nation living under those conditions will soon decline into a Third World nation.

In contrast, look at the way China has grown. By producing cheap goods for export, China's growth has been in the double digits for a decade. Along with economic growth, China has continually expanded its military strength and its arsenal. China is highly competitive on the global market. Every time there seems to be a decline in exports, China devalues its currency (the yuan) to ensure their products are cheaper in other currencies. By the same token, if we sell to China, we pay tariffs. China is getting richer and richer.

Buchanan links free trade to privatization. He sees privatization as the selling off of assets that the citizens have paid for through their taxes. In the United States, some state governments are selling off toll highways, state-owned properties and other assets paid for through taxation. This is due to not having enough money for essentials, not because it means running things more efficiently. The privatization myth is just that, a myth, especially when the assets are sold to foreign owners, thereby further weakening the nation, as is so often the case.

It was great to read a book that backed up so much of what I have been saying for years, but I do not say this out of ego. I say it because I know I am not the only Canadian who has opposed free trade and privatization. There are many Canadians who have seen the threat for what it is. We may have been labelled as uninformed, or socialist, or anti-capitalist, but let me assure you there is no better form of capitalism than that which protects the health, education and pensions of the citizens of a nation through ensuring the means of production remain within the nation to support it.

There is one Canadian who believes we are well on the way to losing what we have as Canadians. You can read all about it in Mel Hurtig's book, The Truth About Canada.

Both the books mentioned in this article are available through your public library. Feel free to learn more. Your taxes are paying for it (unless you live in Area H).

Go beyond composting!

The RDOS wants to help residents 'Go Beyond Composting'. For a limited time, the RDOS and participating member municipalities will be selling systems that can safely handle cooked foods, meat and dog feces on their property. Free workshops, on how to use the systems, will be held in Pentiction, Oliver, Princeton and Keremeos.

Most backyard compost bins, such as the Earth Machine Compost Bin, can help beautifully compost yard waste and uncooked fruits and vegetables. They are not designed to breakdown stinky or dangerous waste such as cooked foods, meat or dog feces. These items can create powerful odors, attract pests and potentially spread diseases.

Until April 17th, the RDOS will be selling Bokashicycle systems and The Green Cone. Both systems help add valuable nutrients to your soil while safely dealing with hard to compost materials.

The Green Cone takes all kinds of food waste and dog feces, and breaks it down naturally into a liquid that is absorbed into the earth. After installation, you just dump organic waste in every day. The Green Cone does the rest. The soil around it is enriched with the nutrients that come from the process. Visit this website: www.greencone.ca for details.

Bokashicycle's microbial action converts all foodwaste or petwaste into nutrient rich soil in weeks, eliminating pathogens and odours. The system creates a bokashi tea (concentrated liquid fertilizer) and a fermented material shown to promote exceptional plant growth when buried in gardens. Visit www.bokashicycle.com for details.

Cameron Baughen, RDOS Solid Waste Management Coordinator, believes both systems work as directed, but residents should learn more about the systems before buying them. Both systems require materials be buried into the soil so can only be used by homes with backyards and gardens. Neither the Bokashicycle or The Green Cone are designed to take yard waste.

"These systems require some work by the home owner," explains Baughen.

"Both use natural micro-organisms to quickly decompose materials and return nutrients to the soil. Although fairly easy to use, they are not magic. People should learn more about them before purchasing."

The RDOS will be hosting free workshops to encourage home owners to learn more about the systems before buying one. Bokashicycle workshops will be held at Princeton's John Allison Elementary on March 27th, Oliver's Quail's Nest Art's Centre on March 28th and the Pentiction Community Garden on March 29th. All workshops start at 6 PM and participants are asked to dress warmly.

The RDOS will also be selling Earth Machine backyard compost bins and worm composting equipment. Backyard compost bins are excellent at composting yard waste and uncooked fruits and vegetables. Worm composting is the cheapest and easiest way to compost indoors and is ideal for apartments and homes.

Free backyard composting workshops will be held on March 31st at the Oliver Quail's Nest Arts Centre and in Memorial Park in Keremeos on April 1st. These sessions begin at 2 pm. A free worm composting workshop will be held on Monday, March 26th, at 7:00 PM at the RDOS Main Office at 101 Martin Street in Pentiction.

For more information on this sale, on the cost for each system or on how the different systems work contact the RDOS at info@rdos.bc.ca, visit the RDOS website at www.rdos.bc.ca, call 250.490.4129 or call toll free in BC 1-877-610-3737. Brochures on pricing and how to pay are available at local municipalities and the RDOS.

The cadets are coming!

Thanks to the efforts, and interest, of a few Princeton area residents the community may see a return of a Princeton Air Cadet Squadron.

A public meeting last week brought together a number of residents prepared to commit to joining and supporting such a program.

According to organizer Dawn Gardner, "We still need another 15 or so students before we can have an official squadron here, but those really keen are welcome to car pool to Penticton until such time we get our ducks in a row and numbers up."

Gardner's quest started officially with the letter below to Princeton Legion, which explains the need and requirements.

To Whom It May Concern:

It has been brought to my attention that there are students looking for interesting activities here in Princeton, and I have been looking into bringing back the Air Cadet Squadron that we used to have. I was involved as a Civilian Instructor when my daughter was in Air Cadets Squadron 655 in Richmond for seven years until she 'aged out', and feel this is a fantastic program with many different facets.

After a telephone call was made to the Air Cadet League in Victoria, I have found out The Royal Canadian Legion is no longer responsible nor affiliated with the Air Cadet organization. Therefore, to start an Air Cadet Squadron the following are the requirements necessary to be an independent squadron.

As a Plan A scenario, the requirements:

- A non-profit society must be formed.
- 5 Adults committed to a parental advisory committee
- 30 students/cadets ages 12 to 18. If the squadron starts in September,

Crime stats show minor decrease

As for drug enforcement, Princeton RCMP investigated 11 drug offenses in the last quarter of last year. Two of them involved cocaine trafficking and two involved the production of cannabis. In one of those files, RCMP located a small 32-plant grow-op during another investigation.

"There still seems to be quite a bit of drugs available on the streets here," Sgt. Clare added. He also suspects crystal meth is now available in Princeton.

As for traffic safety, only one person was charged with impaired driving between October and December of 2011.

Sgt. Clare also reported that the local Detachment had a very busy 4th quarter with involvement in a variety of community events, which included a total of 11 events with participation from RCMP members or staff.

age 12 at that time
- 3 staff consisting of
- a Commanding Officer
- a Training Officer
- an Administration Officer

- $8,000 from a sponsoring Air Cadet Squadron. As the closest squadron is Penticton, I visited there just last parade night. Upon speaking with CO Hellyer, they are in no position to put forth $8,000 but suggested the potential Princeton Parent Committee raise the funds required, give said funds to Penticton who in turn will write a cheque for the required amount, and therefore, in a way, being a financial and supportive squadron.

- a building with -an office for two people/desks dedicated totally to Air Cadets

- 2 classrooms
- parade square

To date, by doing an initial survey, I have 7 adults, some willing to be trained in the officer positions, some as the Parent Committee, with as many students/potential cadets looking forward to having a squadron.

This Plan A hinges on two main factors, the primary one being the interest of 30 dedicated students. Once this is established, then the financial aspect must be assessed, and the rest will fall into place.

If the number of potential Air Cadets is not sufficient, then the Plan B scenario, and those interested will commute by way of carpooling parents to Penticton every week. I asked CO Hellyer if they could accept more cadets and he heartily agreed. Just an aside, there is already one Princeton Air Cadet that loves the program so much, his mother has been driving him every week for almost two years.

I was wondering if you could please notify me if there is room in Princeton police are also in regular contact with a Community Consultative Group and has five volunteer facilitators working with in the Princeton Restorative Justice Program.

Citizens on Patrol continue to work with local police and CrimeStoppers received a total of three tips in the last quarter of 2011 related to Princeton events.

After giving his report, Sgt. Clare was asked how members cope with the stresses from their job to which he explained there are a number of resources available. The accident the previous day, which killed a local 5-year old girl, saw a series of debriefings put in place to assist all emergency personnel in contact with that incident.

"It was very tragic. It was a horrible accident," Sgt. Clare explained but added that RCMP had already completed their investigation passing it over the BC Coroner's Service to complete.

your budget to help support this worthy cause in any way. If we can keep just one student out of the legal system by offering this program, we save much more than taxpayer's $8,000 in legal fees and jail costs, and as an end result, benefit by having a responsible, well-rounded citizen we can be proud of.

Thank you for your consideration. Respectfully, Dawn Gardner

Formalized specific acceptance of designated cadet training and the related application /reporting procedures have been in place since 1997. With a major revision of the Graduation Program in 2004, Cadets may now obtain up to twelve (12) credits towards secondary school graduation, four (4) credits at each of Grades 10,11, and 12. Successful completion of Levels 3, 4, and 5 squadron training applies, as do successful completion of approved summer introductory specialty courses (Grade 10), or an approved six-week summer advanced specialty course (Grades 11 and 12). Employment as a staff cadet may be used as an alternative to a summer training course.

Additionally, the Duke of Edinburgh Awards Program also qualifies for two (2) credits at Grades 10,11, and 12 by successful completion of Bronze, Silver and Gold levels, respectively. Holding a Private Pilot License also qualifies for four (4) credits. As qualifying courses have been pre-approved by the Ministry, cadets need only to present proof of satisfactory completion of Level/Course to the secondary school guidance counsellor for credits to be applied -external credits be they for Cadets, Duke of Edinburgh, or other approved activities; each has an approved course code. These conditions also apply to students/cadets in the Yukon.

For more information on how you can get involved contact Dawn Gardner at 250.295.0869.

EVERYONE WELCOME TO A SPECIAL

EMERGENCY DEPARTMENT Temporary Service Changes

Due to limited physician availability in April, there will be times when only the most urgent cases will be seen by the physician on call.

Patients with less urgent matters will be assessed by our trained nurses but, depending on their condition, may be transferred to a nearby hospital for care or offered appropriate options.

If this is the case, it's important to come prepared: Bring your wallet, shoes, clothes and make arrangements for the return home.

Times when patients can anticipate this adjusted physician response are:

- Monday, April 2 - 6:00 PM to 8:00 AM
- Tuesday, April 3 - 6:00 PM to 8:00 AM
- Wednesday, April 4 - 6:00 PM to 8:00 AM
- Thursday, April 5 - 6:00 PM to 8:00 AM
- Friday, April 6 - 12:00 AM (Midnight) to 8:00 AM
- Saturday, April 7 - 12:00 AM (Midnight) to 8:00 AM
- Sunday, April 8 - 12:00 AM (Midnight) to 8:00 AM
- Monday, April 9 - Tentative Closure
- Tuesday, April 10 - 12:00 AM (Midnight) to 8:00 AM
- Wednesday, April 11 - 12:00 AM (Midnight) to 8:00 AM
- Thursday, April 12 - 12:00 AM (Midnight) to 8:00 AM
- Monday, April 16 - Tentative Closure
- Tuesday, April 17 - 12:00 AM (Midnight) to 8:00 AM

Catch The Spirit Festival

The Similkameen Spirit Festival is back again in an expanded version. It starts with a special display at the museum featuring the history of the powwow in the Similkameen Valley.

The museum is honored to have, as part of this special display, the powwow regalia of Oli Bent. The museum will be open from March 28 to April 14, Wednesday through Saturday, 10:00 AM to 3:00 PM.

The next phase of the Spirit Festival moves to Princeton Secondary School, with a powwow beginning at 7:00 PM April 6 (Good Friday) to 11:00 PM in the gym. Saturday will see workshops for children, and art exhibition and two powwow grand entries, 1:00 PM and 7:00 PM. Sunday will welcome the dancers again from 12 Noon to 5:00 PM. Admission is free. Oli Bent is arena director, meaning he is running the powwow portion of the weekend fun.

The powwow weekend features eight drum groups (maybe more!) and competitive dancing with some special dances. There will be intertribal dances, where everyone is expected to get up and dance. These are lots of fun. Competitive dances include men's and women's traditional, jingle dancers, grass dancers and boys and girls combined dances.

There will be a concession all weekend. The word is that there will be fried bread and Indian tacos served! Vendors are welcome at $25 a day or $50 for the whole weekend. A lot of interest has been shown for vendor booths. If interested call Vicki at 778.235.3592 or send an e-mail to: similkameenspirit@gmail.com.

Spectators are welcome to bring cameras and take photographs. If there will be a special ceremony or dance where photographs should not be taken, the ban on photographs will be announced.

This powwow should be a lot of fun for everyone. People are coming from all over B.C. to enjoy the weekend. There is plenty of parking at Princeton Secondary School in the parking lot and along the road.

This is the second year for the Spirit Festival, which is sponsored by members of Princeton District Arts Council, Upper Similkameen Indian Band, Lower Similkameen Indian Band and Penticton Indian Band with the assistance of a provincial grant and support from many volunteers.

Vendors are always an important part of any powwow. *

Living Past 100

Know Where Your Food Comes From

These days we hear a lot about genetically modified (GM) foods laced with chemicals and foods containing GM components like corn and soy, and additives. These are a real concern to those of us who like to eat foods that are natural and not contaminated.

One of the challenges we face at the grocery produce section is knowing where our food comes from. We do not know whether the country of origin has allowed use of a lot of pesticides and herbicides. When it comes to packaged foods, like cereals, flour, and pastas, we have no guarantees that they are not GM or loaded with pesticides. Canned and frozen fish is another story. Just because the fish was put in tins in Canada does not mean the fish was not caught in contaminated waters of southeast Asia or off the coast of Japan where radioactivity is still a concern.

Whole food stores sell a lot of products guaranteed to be free of contaminants. Such stores carry organic cereals, flours, pastas, and many other foods. Unfortunately, the cost is generally higher than in the supermarket.

Another way of knowing where your food comes from is to buy locally from sources you know. There are ranchers who add no hormones and feed their livestock on grass and hay. These are known as grass-fed animals, and they are the safest to eat. Locally grown poultry and eggs are generally safer and good quality. Growing your own vegetables and fruit and either freezing or canning them is another way to make sure you are eating good food. Buying organic fruit and vegetables from local producers is another way to avoid contaminants. There is another good thing about local produce: because it does not have to be imported over long distances, it is generally less expensive.

Shoppers need to be smarter these days, and families need to be smarter, too. Make eating the best foods a family project. You can involve the family in growing vegetables and preserving them, or involve them in going to farmer's markets and buying organic produce.

Do not expect your government to protect you as well as you can protect yourself. Governments seem to accede to lobbyists all too frequently, and big agri-business seems more interested in profit than in ensuring the products are free of pesticides and genetic modifications.

Princeton's Colby Williams continues to contribute points to her team. *

Colby's team goes to final round

For the third year in a row, the Thompson Okanagan Female Midget AAA Rockets team is advancing to the final round of the BC Female Midget AAA Championship.

The semi-final round was played in Kelowna on the weekend of March 17-18 where the Rockets faced off against the Vancouver Fusion in a best out of 3 series.

Game 1 saw the Rockets go up on the Fusion by 2 - 0 at the 8:03 minute mark of the 2nd period. The first goal was scored by Kennedy Kneller (unassisted) and the second goal was scored by Jesse Keca (assisted by Maggie Shykula-Ross).

With 19 seconds left in the second period the visiting Fusion team got one past Rocket's goalie Jamie Grove to make the game 2-1 heading into the 3rd. The 3rd period ended scoreless and the Rockets won Game 1 by 2-1.

Game #2 on Saturday night saw a Rockets team come out determined to take the series in 2 games. At 5:58 of the 1st period Cora Sutton (assisted by Colby Williams) sent a rocket from the point to beat Fusion goaltender Cassidy Hendricks.

At 1:28 of the first period Colby Williams tipped another shot from Cora Sutton past Hendricks to put the score at 2-0 heading into the second period.

The Rockets dominated the Fusion in the second period and despite many more shots on goal were not able to put another one past Team

BC goalie Hendricks.

With 1:55 left in the third period and 6 attackers, the Fusion managed to put one past Rockets goalie Jamie Grove to put the game to a 1 goal spread. The Rockets however finished the game off strong and kept the Fusion from tying the game and won the semi final round of the playoffs.

The BC Female Midget AAA Championship was played at the Langley Sportsplex where the Rockets will faced off against the Fraser Valley Phantom in a best of 3 series on March 23rd, 24th and 25th.

March 28 - April 4, 2012

ARIES - It is time to move forward with plans you made a month ago. Bring your thoughts to the surface, talk about what you want to do. You may have some original ideas, or can express the changes you want to make. Be careful you do not say things you can't take back. You will face opposition, restrictions.

TAURUS - Make sure you are maintaining a healthy lifestyle. You need to be careful not to overindulge in sweets, alcohol or laziness. You need to be active. Explore ideas you thought of a month ago. Take time to look into your inner self. You will be able to move ahead with plans in a couple of months.

GEMINI - Put your plans on the table, express your ideas. You may see unusual ways of doing things. You could be very original in your planning. This last couple of years have been not much fun, but you can stabilize your life and move forward in the near future. Guard against respiratory infections now.

CANCER - Career matters continue to be unpredictable, and you may be forced to consider changing how you earn a living. Be practical. If your ideas include working at home, do some serious planning to make a work space in which you can do serious work. Home is not what it should be at this time.

LEO - You are really going to have to buckle down to a budget for several months. Career matters run smoothly. Take a good inventory of what you own and what you value. It may be time to rid yourself of things you can turn into cash. Move toward increasing cash flow. Travel and study go hand in hand now.

VIRGO - Do not bottle up feelings of anger. Express them in constructive ways. Often working hard physically relieves inner stress. In another ten days you should be able to make a transition and have a lot more energy to use working toward a goal. Clear up unfinished projects, prepare to move ahead soon.

LIBRA - Interaction with others is very important now. Benefits can come to you through investments of both time and effort. Problems you faced on the job last month must be solved in the next two weeks. You can gain an advantage through sharing resources with another person. Watch out for oddball encounters.

SCORPIO - People are receptive to you and treat you well but you may have a lot going on in your inner self and may not appreciate all that others are doing for you. Remember to say thanks. Your job is very demanding at this time, and is not likely to ease up for another month. Hang in there, relax if possible.

SAGITTARIUS - Plans made about home a month ago need to be reviewed now. Discuss these things with partner or friend. Career demands seem to slack off for a short time now, so you can focus on home, property, family. In two weeks the pace picks up again for another three months. Enjoy this respite.

CAPRICORN - Home and family are important to you now but may be a source of disruption or unexpected events. Certainly, home life is your focus now. Career burdens may weigh you down a bit, but you can find time for fun with youngsters, pets, creativity and recreation. Enjoy as much as you can.

AQUARIUS - This is a time to revamp your budget and plan your spending for the rest of the year. Assess what you own and make plans to dispose of anything you don't want, particularly if you can turn unused articles into cash. Talk to people, run errands, get out and about. It will pay off in a number of ways.

PISCES - This is a good time to review what your values are. Partner and friends may seem too full of ego or energy, but put up with them for a couple of months more. Interacting with others right now is not as important as outlining to yourself what you want for yourself this year. Reading, talking helps.

Cherry Upside Down Cake

(NC)—The simplicity of this cake can't be beat. Slightly caramelized sweet juicy cherries sit on a super moist vanilla cake.

Cherry Upside Down Cake

Prep time: 20 minutes / Baking time: 1 hour / Standing time: 15 minutes / Makes: 10 servings

Ingredients:

Filling:

- 3 tbsp unsalted butter (45 mL)
- 1/2 cup brown sugar (125 mL)
- 4 cups California cherries, pitted (1 L)

Cake:

- 1/2 cup unsalted butter (125 mL)
- 1 cup granulated sugar (250 mL)
- 2 eggs
- 2 tsp vanilla (10 mL)
- 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour (375 mL)
- 1 1/2 tsp baking powder (7 mL)
- 1/4 tsp each baking soda and salt (1 mL)
- 1/4 tsp nutmeg (1 mL)
- 1/2 cup buttermilk (125 mL)
- Icing sugar (optional)

Directions:

1. Preheat oven to 350°F (180°C). Grease a 9-inch (23-cm) baking pan. In small pan, melt butter, then stir in brown sugar, and cook until sugar dissolves and boils for 1 minute. Pour into pan and spread evenly. Arrange cherries in a single layer over sugar mixture.
2. Using an electric mixer, beat butter until creamy. Gradually add sugar and continue to beat until creamy. Add eggs one at a time, scraping down sides until blended. Add vanilla and beat. In a small bowl, stir flour with baking powder, baking soda, salt and nutmeg. Gradually add flour to butter mixture alternately with milk, starting and ending with flour.
3. Spread batter evenly over cherries. Bake in centre of preheated oven until a toothpick comes out clean, about 60 to 70 minutes. Check cake after 50 minutes, and cover loosely with foil if getting too dark. Run a knife around the edge of cake pan. After 15 minutes, carefully invert onto a cake plate. Serve warm or at room temperature. Just before serving, dust with icing sugar if you like.

BC funds local recreation projects

Two area communities are receiving a total of $420,000 for recreation projects that will help encourage physical fitness and provide more activity options for families, announced March 22nd by Ida Chong, Minister of Community, Sport and Cultural Development. Of this funding, $240,000 is going toward installing a roof on the Tulameen ice rink arena - the only rink in the village. A covered, outdoor skating rink will encourage families to skate together, offering an active option regardless of weather. This improvement will make it simpler to plan skating activities.

The Town of Princeton will see construction of a pedestrian stair and path system, thanks to a $180,000 investment. The pedestrian walkway and sidewalk improvement project will replace the existing trail, creating easier grades for pedestrians.

This will give residents better year-round access between the residential area and downtown, while offering spectacular views for visitors to the community.

Under the $30-million Community Recreation Program, the Province is funding up to 80 per cent of eligible costs for 98 projects that will enhance recreation infrastructure provincewide. Projects include trails, bike paths, walkways, playgrounds and other indoor or outdoor recreation centres.

The total value of approved projects is more than $70 million, which will create an estimated 458 direct jobs and 251 indirect jobs.

Quote:
Ida Chong, Minister of Community, Sport and Cultural Development - "These investments will allow residents improved access to recreation amenities, enhancing the availability of local fitness options. Encouraging healthy, safe physical activity is a priority for the Province, and projects like this go a long way towards getting people engaged in staying fit. They make small rural communities more attractive to families and businesses around our province." - submitted

RCMP report hydrant crash

During the early morning hours of March 18th an unknown motor vehicle went off road colliding with a fire hydrant at the corner of Tulameen Avenue and Asp Street in Princeton. The operator of this vehicle left the scene without reporting the incident.

As a result of the collision, the fire hydrant was ruptured. The water supply to the affected hydrant was shut off by a worker from the Town of Princeton, but not before flooding the street and causing damage to residential property in the area. The involved vehicle will likely have extensive body damage. Police are asking for assistance from anyone who may have information regarding this incident. You are asked to call the Princeton RCMP Detachment at 250.295.6911 or CrimeStoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477).

Food Sovereignty Tour

BC Southern Interior MP Alex Atamanenko & Guests

"Food is sacred" says farmer

The Food Sovereignty meeting hosted on March 22 by Alex Atamanenko, MP, brought together four speakers in addition to our Member of Parliament. The key speaker was Colleen Ross, a farmer from Ontario, along with Area H Director Brad Hope, market gardener Spencer Coyne, and activist for safe food, Solana Allison.

Colleen Ross explained food sovereignty: people have the right to decide what their food will be.

Ross farms 200 acres in Ontario, but she makes most of her income from 12 acres of market vegetables she grows. She raises chicken and beef as well, and the entire operation is organic. She feeds her family from her farm.

When she is not farming, she is working with the National Farmers Union of Canada, and the Via Campesina organization, an international body that deals with farm issues worldwide and lobbies the United Nations. She talked about "technology" farming where farmers make contracts with corporations who then dictate what the farmer will grow, what fertilizers and chemicals will be applied to the crop, and where the farmer will sell it. Ross attends international conferences to ensure the moratorium on terminator seeds will not be lifted, and she fights trade agreements that are bad for farmers.

"Food is sacred" is the defining motivation of Via Campesina. In short, we are not to mess with our food supply in any way. The "food is sacred" philosophy applies to all aspects of food production.

Ross is a great believer in buying food produced locally. There is less waste because it is fresh, and most local producers are likely to take pride in what they produce, ensuring the food is not only good, but safe.

She firmly believes consumers must begin a revolution by buying locally, and by resisting the corporate agenda of today's government.

Brad Hope spoke next. He has been trying to persuade Regional District to make the district a GMO-free zone. Regional District has been somewhat resistant to his efforts because most of them know very little about GM (genetically modified) products. He wants to see local politicians more aware of food sovereignty. He said it requires a revolution of thought.

Spencer Coyne spoke about his efforts to produce vegetables for the local market at Princeton Plaza.

Solana Allison spoke about the centralization and corporate control of our food supply.

"It is a moral issue," she said.

Alex Atamanenko said a secure food supply made civilization possible, and civilizations collapse when the food runs out. He stated the issue now is industrial agriculture versus organic farming, and a study by several scientists showed organic farming is the best way to feed the world.

He spoke about the lack of protection for our farmers who must compete with American subsidized products. Free trade agreements are bad for farmers, and the federal government does not support local food production, using free trade as an excuse.

"We need to take action through political process," he said. "We can take back our food supply."

There were many comments from the more than 50 people who attended, all of the questions focused on the role corporations and government regulations are putting farmers out of business and making our food supply less secure.

A local food security group is being formed. If you are keenly interested in your food supply, and want to take positive action, contact Spencer Coyne.

Flip Of The Coyne

by Spencer Coyne

contaminate nearly every corner of our food system.

Toxins from Monsanto's Bt corn (the Bt stands for Bacillus thuringiensis, a biological pesticide) are being found in fetuses. When the biotech industry started they told us that their products were safe. When Monsanto brought out Roundup they said it was biodegradable, now they can no longer use that claim because it isn't.

Now our children are being born with the genetically modified organisms already in them. What does this mean for fertility rates, long term health, and the overall safety of my son's generation or his children?

Growing up I was taught that we are only the stewards of the land for tomorrow's generation. At the rate things are going I have to wonder if there will be anything left for my son's generation or the next.

We need a revolution. We need people to stand up and say NO to GMO foods.

We need people to say NO to the import of food stuffs that could be supplied locally and we need people to stand up and say NO to further government regulations that hinder the family farm. Look back in your own family history. I don't think it would take too long before you find that your relatives were farmers once.

Farmers feed the world, not corporations. Without the family farm even those massive corporations would have nothing to sell.

Children's author Duane Lawrence was in Princeton March 22nd. Lawrence, who grew up in Princeton and still has family here, dropped into John Allison Elementary School where he spent the morning reading from his book series 'Sammy Squirrel and Rodney Raccoon.' Both books involve animal antics centered in Stanley Park and reviews from Resource Links Magazine call the books 'absolute treasures' and recommend them for children aged 7 to 10. Copies of Lawrence's books ("Sammy Squirrel and Rodney Raccoon - To the Rescue" and "Sammy Squirrel and Rodney Raccoon - A Stanley Park Tale") are available for $12.95 each at the Similkameen News Leader office at 226A Bridge Street, Princeton. *

Sego! Resources - Miner Mountain

Sego Resources announced March 12th the results of its January 2012 diamond drilling program at its Miner Mountain Project near Princeton.

Eight HQ holes totalling 1621.97 metres were drilled along the surface trace of an accurate chargeability high known as the Cuba Zone, which has been the focus of Sego's 2011 exploration program. The hole locations were chosen to twin reported percussion drill holes to confirm the grade of, and test for extensions of copper-gold mineralization reported from the 2011 percussion drilling program (See NR . Jan 23rd 2012, Nov 28th 2011, and April 5th 2011).

The drilling consisted of 6 vertical holes (DDH 21-26) and 2 (DDH 27-28) angled holes collared at 120° to test for extensions of mineralization between the vertical holes. To view a map of the drill holes visit our website.

Geology

Core logging has indicated the presence of a large package of highly altered Nicola group volcanics (flows and tuffs) to a depth of 300 metres. Alteration varies in intensity from whole rock replacement to lightly altered rock with preserved textures. Alteration styles identified in hand specimen, included potassic, albitic, and propylitic, which have also been identified in thin section from previous drilling. Overprinting all is gypsum-albite-calcite-pyrite in a late stage event which crosscuts all other alteration/mineralization.

Mineralization ranges from chalcopyrite-bornite ±pyrite to chalcopyrite-pyrite, to pyrite only. At the highest grades, chalcopyrite and bornite occur in fine grained net-textured to massive disseminations throughout the rock, at lower grades they preferentially replace the mafic minerals in volcanics. Notably the highest grade material is close to surface in all drill holes. Pyrite is ubiquitous outside the highest grade material, occurring with chalcopyrite in veins, as fracture fillings as replacements of mafic minerals or as fine grained disseminations. In the gypsum-calcite-albite phase described above the amount of pyrite can be over 10% in select intervals.

The drilling indicates that mineralization remains open in all directions,

Mayor and Council set priorities

Priority

1. Town hall office relocation
2. Urban deer management
3. Service capacity review
4. Zoning bylaw update
5. Hospital business case development
6. Airport business plan update
7. Economic development strategy
8. Long-range capital plan
9. Recreation master plan

In addition to the above priorities, the following department operational strategies were identified:

Public Works

- Outdoor swimming pool inspection
- Zig zag trail tendering
- Landfill improvements (scale)
- Recreation
  - Urban deer management options
  - Recreation master planning
  - Aquatic centre initiative final report
- Corporate Services
  - Paper less council
  - Bylaw enforcement strategy
  - Capital asset plan
- Administration
  - Town office relocation approach
  - Zoning bylaw review scope
  - Service capacity review workshop

Town enters into RDOS agreement

-ing permits for issuance, building inspections and site monitoring, issuance of Stop Work Orders and Do Not Occupy Notices and issuance of occupancy permits and file closures when completed.

Councillor Marilyn Harness

made the motion to proceed with the recommendation, which was seconded by Councillor Frank Armitage.

The main change in the new agreement is clearer terms and conditions for the provision of services from the RDOS.

Fair plans move forward

Plans are now underway for the 61st Annual Family Fair, which raises funds for bursaries for the Graduating Class of Princeton Secondary School.

The first Family Fair was held in 1951, put on by the PTA to raise funds for equipment for the school. It has evolved to be an annual fundraiser for bursaries for each year's graduating class at Princeton Secondary School. Last year we were able to award over 27 students with a $ 300.00 bursary to help further their education.

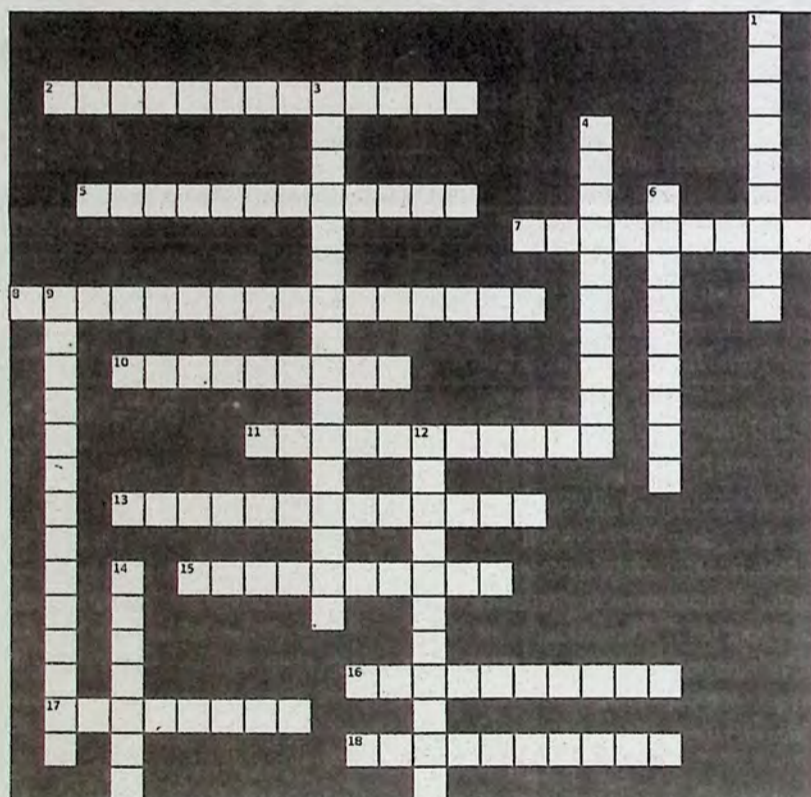

Community participation has been great in the past years and once again we are calling on the community for support with this annual event. While you are doing your spring cleaning you may find articles that you may wish to donate to the Fair. We appreciate all "garage sale" items (no used clothing please), toys, puzzles, plants, books, jewellery and handicrafts - preferably in good clean condition. As well we need donations of breads, buns and baking. Articles may be dropped off at Princeton Secondary School or call Tracey for pick - up at 250.295.7215.

Tickets are also being sold for the popular "Taste of Princeton" raffle. Tickets will be available from any grad or at the Fair. The draw will be 3:00 PM April 26th. Be sure to mark April 26th on your calendar and come to the Fair and support the Graduating Class of 2012! - submitted

Princeton Racing Days will indirectly benefit from a $5,000 'energy efficiency' upgrade at Princeton Fairgrounds if Princeton beats Keremeos in the Municipal Challenge as part of FortisBC's Earth Hour program. Keremeos has won the Challenge in the past, so Princeton area residents it's time to register your pledge online at www.fortisbc.com.*

Have you made your pledge?

Princeton is doing well in the Earth Hour Challenge and moved to second place, but being second is not going to win $5,000 for our fairgrounds.

If you have not made your pledge yet, do so right away. All you have to do is go to fortisbcearthhour and click on pledge, then fill in the blanks - name, address. You are pledging to turn off your lights and electronic gizmos for one hour, 8:30 to 9:30 PM on March 31 (that is this Saturday).

If you are wondering what you can do for that hour, take a jaunt down to Veterans Square and have a hot dog and some fun, courtesy of Princeton Exhibition Association.

There are games for the children, and a glow in the dark parade. Allan Kovaltsenko (The Troubadour) will be there playing his guitar and singing your favourite old tunes.

Mining News - Sego! Resources

Relation to Percussion Drilling

One of the goals of this program was to confirm the grades of the assays reported in the 2011 percussion drilling. Comparison between the copper - gold ICP Geochemistry intercepted in diamond drilling and the percussion drilling (where twinned) indicates that, on average, diamond drilling core geochemistry, the grade was 20% higher for copper and 10% higher for gold. This is undoubtedly due to the better core recovery from diamond drill holes.

In almost all cases diamond drilling confirmed the depth and grade of the previously reported mineralization in percussion holes. The only exception to this is DDH's 25 and 26 which were collared near what may be a narrow structure. They intercepted only part of the well mineralized chalcopyrite-bornite breccia indicated by PDH 94, before continuing down into less well mineralized albite-pyrite altered volcanics.

Sego Resources is permitted for five years of exploration.

Sego Resources Inc.'s only project is the Miner Mountain Project a Copper Gold Porphyry Project near Princeton, 15 kilometres north of Copper Mountain Mining Corporation's - Mitsubishi's Copper Mountain Mine. The Miner Mountain Project is situated within the Traditional Territory of the Upper Similkameen Indian Band with whom Sego has an MOU. The Miner Mountain property is 2,056.54 hectares in size. -submitted

Naturalists honour Kelly

by Janis Wright

Joan Kelly was presented with a lifetime membership with the Vermilion Forks Field Naturalists at the club's March meeting.

A valuable and active member of the club since its inception 21 years ago, Joan has been and continues to be involved in numerous activities:

leading field trips, participating in birding programs, serving as club secretary, organizing the annual Meadowlark Festival, and together with her husband Frank, hosting the club's Christmas parties.

This dynamo is greatly deserving and most appreciated by her fellow naturalists!

Deer Wars Continue - Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

Yes – you have probably read some of this before, but it bears repeating!
THE PRINCETON LAMENT

Oh Dear – Oh Dear – those dreadful deer,

*What can we do if they come near?
Our kids and dogs must run in fear!
Those wretched deer are out to get us*

*Our roses, tulips and our lettuce.
They lay in ambush – attack our cars!*

*Put these scoundrels behind bars!
Fence in the town to end the threat
If that doesn't work – just shoot them dead!*

I dedicate this little jingle to Kay Goglin and Murray Carter, both victimized by our wildlife and abandoned by our Mayor and Town Council who have failed to wave a magic wand and make the deer disappear.

Both our weekly newspapers have provided them ample space to vent their hostility to the inconvenience of rural life. Both have presented the same tiresome complaints and irrational fears we have seen regularly in both newspapers. However, Kay and Murray have introduced new elements to the discussion – humor and hypocrisy!

Kay gets my funny bone aawrd when she claims, in all seriousness, that the deer that have foraged at the dump “have muck on their feet and clean their feet in our yard” – LOL!

Murray claims he is an animal lover – as long as they don't inconvenience or annoy him. He goes to great length to explain that deer are not merely a Town problem but are pervasive throughout the area - just waiting to be hit by cars to ruin our day. By his reasoning then, it follows then that, ideally, they should be removed from the environment entirely! I sense no compassion in Murray's words – only typical human self-interest.

Surely, Murray must know that an overall deer population control system does, in fact, exist! It is called HUNTING SEASON. Deer fall into the domain of the Ministry of the Environment and the local Conservation Officer. Their treatment and care is governed by Provincial Regulations. Even Town Council is bound by these laws. We should also not forget that hunting is at the heart of our winter tourist season!

Both Kay and Murray claim, in their gardening efforts, they have followed all recommendations for best practice – choice of plants and optimal fencing, but to no avail - and they live in constant fear that a deer will harm or kill them, or one of theirs – what needless paranoia!

Both Kay and Murray roundly chastise our civic officials for wasting the Town's money on the LIVING WITH DEER brochure – a minimal, but helpful guide to wise conduct for coexisting with deer; in my view a very wise and worthwhile effort!

I urge everyone to read the little brochure and follow the advice offered, and remember that CULL is just a euphemism for KILL!

Let me be clear – I love the deer. They are part to the reason we moved here! I consider them a natural resource – and as much mine as they are yours.

My sentiments in this issue are obvious. Some individuals have irrational fears - of dogs, bees, and yes - deer. I have empathy for these folks! However, we should not let the fearful or impatient few turn Princeton into a killing field – as Kimberly, Cranbrook and Invermere did, despite strong, active opposition. It has left these communities divided and, has them making the news for all the wrong reasons!

Before anyone launches a campaign to kill my deer they had better be prepared with solid figures from our Conservation Officer, showing without doubt, that the deer population within the Town limits is highly disproportional to the surrounding wilderness.

Last summer a group of four deer showed up on the little lawn at the Chevron station and caused a sensation – two tour buses were in the parking lot. Dozens of Oriental tourists rushed out to take their pictures! They will take home this treasured memory of Princeton and show them excitedly to their friends – publicity you could not buy!

Deer are NOT naturally aggressive as any literature on wildlife will attest. In any case, how are defining aggressive behavior? Failure to run away does not equate to aggression – neither does standing your ground in defense of your offspring; as any good mother would.

If individuals learned to use commonsense when the encounter a deer, much distress could be averted! If you encounter a deer, on a hike or in your garden, for Heaven's sake, stay calm and move along quietly. If the deer paws the ground and lowers its head it is upset. Stop whatever you are doing and back off!

Do not allow your dog, regardless of size, to harass a deer. To do so is both illegal and risky. Dogs are canines. In the wild, canines like wolves and coyotes hunt deer. To a deer your dog is just another canine. The deer will probably run BUT it may strike out in panic and injure the dog.

I have spent hours on the Internet searching for serious human physical injuries and deaths caused directly by deer. Roughly a million deer die on North American roads every year and - yes – these collisions take a small number of people with them. Whose fault is that?

Can deer threaten life and limb? Yes, I found two fatal attacks by male deer in rut. I found about fifteen other reported minor injury incidents – various bumps and bruises. That is all I could confirm for the entire North American continent with a population of 331,473,276 million or more people. If we assume half of these people live in metropolitan areas and have zero chance of encountering deer, your chance of being injured or killed by a deer appears to be one in about 10 million.

On the other hand, a recent study showed that 1,000 Americans per day are treated in emergency rooms for dog bites. In 2010 there were 34 fatal dog attacks in the USA. Most of the victims who receive medical attention are children, half of whom are bitten in the face. Dog bite losses exceed $1 billion per year, with over $300 million paid by homeowners insurance. So, which is the greater potential threat, a deer or a dog?

The landscape and gardening complaints irritate me the most. This is NOT the Lower Mainland! It took me one season to learn that tulips and tea roses, peas and beans, are deer catnip! There is an abundance of marvelous shrubs, perennials and annuals of equal beauty that thrive here - of absolutely no interest to deer. If you don't have landscaping success, do some research or visit Don and Anna's Garden Centre in Keremeos. They are wonderful about explaining what survives and thrives in Princeton. To me Princeton seems like gardening heaven – no slugs, few aphids and lots of sun!

Once when the gate was left open a deer nibbled on some of the beans and peas in my hobby garden – so what! Would I support the death of even one deer over my veggies – absolutely NOT!

From the deer perspective Princeton sits where, since time immemorial, they have come to look for food and water. I suspect deer will be coming here for the rest of my days, and yours – so – let us hope we can come to a state of peaceful co-existence. Even better – let us embrace them as the novel, and absolutely free, tourist attraction they can be!
