Cloudy skies affected the view of the October 23rd partial solar eclipse in many parts of North America.

Rescue lights up the night

Flares and a circling plane near Princeton kept many residents occupied the evening of October 20th trying to figure out what was happening.

What had actually occurred was that a female hiker was being rescued from Johnny's Hat Mountain, located near RockRidge Canyon.

Princeton SAR first responded to the call around 4:00 PM after being contacted by BC Ambulance Service when a female hiker in her 20s was injured by a falling rock. She had been out on a trip with a much larger group at the time of the incident.

Search and Rescue responded with nine people. They located the injured woman who was found in serious condition. With daylight quickly disappearing other SAR teams in the region and the Canadian Air Forces were contacted for additional assistance.

A helicopter rescue was planned but could not take place as a CAF Cormorant Helicopter was not available. With the injured hiker located in a remote area, crews from Penticton and Oliver/Osoyoos SAR joined Princeton's initial team and started preparing for a rope rescue at 8:00 PM.

The following eight hours saw SAR members hauling equipment and setting up a series of rope stations to slowing transport the injured hiker off the mountain.

A Buffalo Search Aircraft arrived on scene from CFB Comox and dropped flares down the mountainside for three hours. At 2:00 AM the rope rescue started and the injured hiker was in an ambulance two hours later where she was taken to Princeton Hospital for treatment and was recovering there.

Town adopts parcel tax bylaw

The Town of Princeton adopted a parcel tax bylaw following fourth and final reading of the document at the October 20th regular meeting of Town Council.

The parcel tax is being used to finance a portion of the recently upgraded Old Hedley Road and will be imposed on the property owners (Weyerhaeuser and Princeton Co-Gen) who front the portion of the road that was upgraded.

In her report to council, Director of Finance Shirley McMahon explains, "Parcel taxes are often used to recover the costs of providing local government services. They can be levied on any property that has the opportunity to be provided with a service regardless of whether or not the service is being used."

She adds, "If the property cannot be serviced by service, the charge cannot be applied."

The upgrades to Old Hedley Road included realigning the intersection with the Princeton-Summerland Road, widening and paving the road and construction of 25 metre aprons on the driveway access points.

The cost of the project was $328,495.00 with $150,000.00 of which was included in the 2014 Financial Plan for the project. A total of $28,495.00 of the Town of Princeton paving budget will go towards the overall cost with the remaining $150,000.00 to be paid through the parcel tax.

"The property owners can choose to pay the parcel tax in full or finance it over ten years at 3.18%, the current MFA rate, paying $8,873.24 per year," McMahon explains.

The affected property owners were consulted and agreed to the parcel tax prior to the road construction and on September 25th a formal letter went to each property owner explaining the parcel tax and outlining payment options.

Town ratifies landfill agreement

The Town of Princeton has entered into a renewal agreement with the Regional District of Okanagan Similkameen for the provision of landfill and recycling services for Area H property owners.

The agreement was ratified at the October 20th regular meeting of Princeton Town Council. It was set to expire December 31, 2014. The RDOS had originally established a local services bylaw for Area H in 1999 and have contracted with the town for landfill and recycling services since then.

The agreement states the RDOS shares fifty percent of the operating and annual capital expenses for the operation of Princeton's landfill and recycling centre.

And...they're off! PD continues to score

Hockey is a little different than it once was. As players laced up this season, one boy could be seen taking a picture on his iPhone of his skates with the caption, "Lacing up my skates for the first time this season...it's good to be back!" The dressing room was buzzing with excitement and enfolded in a comfortable familiarity.

Some things about hockey remain the same. One Mom comes smiling into the stands, "I missed my winter family. I feel like I have been in isolation."

New skates cut through the ice. There is little groaning as they skate lines. Even a tough first practice is welcome.

Parents scan the kids...not yet familiar with what kid is in what new jersey. "Whose that in the black jersey over there? Wow...the kids have grown over the summer." New, yet, familiar, it all flows together. There are a lot of smiles in the Princeton Arena. Parents are happy to see their kids exercising in a sport they love. Kids are excited to be playing a sport they love. It is all one big place of good juju.

The season has some differences from other seasons. A strong executive is at the helm again. After a few years of bumpy roads, not enough board members and low funding, they have risen from the ashes. The club has much to be thankful for.

Last year, a 50/50 ticket raffle was a huge success and one lucky winner went home with $3,000 cash. The club put $3,000 in their bank account and could proudly say they were in the black between that and their other sponsorship initiatives. Association President, Dan Lankinen, confirmed that due to last year's success, there will be a similar and slightly larger 50/50 raffle again this season.

"Princeton Minor Hockey wishes to thank everyone locally for last year's support and looks forward to an even better drive this year. Although, we have other smaller projects in planning this is our major fundraiser of the year and tickets will be going on sale soon with a planned draw later this season. Money raised helps keep registration fees down thereby, allowing Princeton youth to enjoy an exciting, physical sport locally. Please do your part to keep this initiative going by purchasing your ticket."

Subway and FortisBC got the ball rolling on the club's jersey drive three years ago. They gave their wholehearted support to the club to purchase new jerseys for two of the teams. Home Hardware, Copper Mountain Mine, Superior Propane, Hayes Creek Electric, A&W, Princeton Redi-Mix, Pharmacy, Barry Beecroft, and Old Style Bins soon followed. All gave the club money to purchase new jer-

While not every team has a sponsor yet, the club is still hopeful that there soon will be. Any businesses interested in supporting PDMHA with jerseys sponsorship ($100 for one) or sign sponsorship ($500 for a 2' x 4'), team sponsorship ($500) or anything else, can contact sponsorship director Karen Fulton with the club at 250-295-1595.

Last year, PDMHA (Princeton and District Minor Hockey Association) also, started a new partnership with Sandman Inn Princeton. For every hockey room booked for Minor Hockey games and tournaments, through the Sandman Inn, PDMHA gets a kickback.

Last year, that kickback turned out to be $342. Sandman Inn Manager, Judy Cross called again before the 2014/2015 season started.

"I have a cheque for you."

This year, she held a bigger cheque in her hands for $408. PCMHA President Dan Lankinen stated "this is an example of a win-win situation between Princeton Minor Hockey and local business. Our tournaments over the season bring an influx of hundreds of players and parents spending money at hotels, restaurants, and other establishments in Princeton in an off season time of the year. Sandman Inn has recognized that and has joined into a partnership with PDMIHA that works for both groups. We thank all of our sponsors and look forward to working with you to develop other ideas that can continue to bring an economic benefit to us both. Bring on the season."

Flip Of The Coyne

by Spencer Coyne

The entire nation stood in shock as we turned on our televisions on October 22nd. Only days after the murder of Warrant Officer Patrice Vincent, the nation was coming to terms with the idea that a radicalized Canadian citizen may be to blame for senseless act of violence. The capital seemed to be under siege. As a nation we helplessly watched as they tried to resuscitate Corporal Nathan Cirillo on national television after he was gunned down by the unknown assailant that was now inside the Parliament building. Through the day, information, images and video trickled out and we watched as a gunfight inside the Parliament erupted bringing the gunman to his end.

By the end of the day the violence was over and our national leaders came out to address the nation. Our nation had survived this brutal attack on the most sacred symbols of our democracy. The next day, the nation had two new heroes: Corporal Cirillo and the House of Commons Sergeant-at-Arms Kevin Vickers had gained the respect and love of the nation.

Canada is seen around the world as a polite and quiet nation and the world watched on in shock as events in Ottawa unfolded. Americans seem more shocked at our response to it. The media for the most part took a calm and professional approach to the reporting of the attack, waiting to know the facts rather than jumping to conclusions. The next day, when Justin Trudeau spoke, Americans passed his speech around on social media in awe that we had just seen an attack on our capital, a gunfight inside the very building that they were meeting in, and as the upworthy.com captain states, "Instead of getting engulfed with fear and sensationalism, they remain who they are. They won't allow such an attack to shake them up or change them."

This may be one of the most important things about this attack, that we do not allow these acts of violence to shake or change us. Yes Parliament Hill will need some new security precautions but this does not mean that the House of Commons is no longer accessible to the commons in which it serves. Before we go making new laws to fight this new internal threat, let's fund the RCMP, CSIS and Canadian Forces so that they have the funds needed to do their jobs in the most effective manner possible. Do we have a threat internally? Yes we do. We have known this for some time as our disgruntled youth seem to be lured into the ideology of ISIS just as youth in the pastcontinued on Page 6

My Turn...

Random Days For Random Acts

Dawn Gardner's Letter to the Editor (you'll find it on this page just to the right) got me thinking. When it comes to random acts of kindness I thought the whole idea was that they were, um, random. That is to say, unexpected.

Setting aside a day to actually go out and plot random acts may be what some people need to get inspired to do something, but if that's the kind of person you are, how likely are you to continue to provide 'random' acts other than annually?

I've written about this before. We are prone to random acts in our house and business where we do something unexpected out of the kindness of our hearts practically each and every day.

I'm not even going to get 'churchy' on you because each time I even hint about that I get comments telling me to shut up about that sort of thing, so my 'random' act of kindness in this Editorial is to spare the

With that out of the way, why do we do 'random' acts?

Well, for me, it makes me feel good.

I like hearing someone say 'thank you' when I hold the door open at the post office. I also like that I have no expectation of having someone do something nice for me. It's not a requirement.

The movement of recent years where many have chosen to 'pay it forward' is all part of the random act of kindness movement. Who can resist being touched when someone says your coffee has been paid for or you wake up one snowy morning to find some anonymous neighbour has shoveled your sidewalk?

We have seen it happen all around us to the point where random acts of kindness are really commonplace in our lives. Maybe we see it so often, and do it so often, that we take the randomness for granted and need a reminder such as a special day set aside to show us that not everyone has clued into the warm, fuzzy feeling of paying it forward.

How I wish that is not the problem.

The fact that a day has been set aside to encourage random acts tells me something very different.

It tells me that a lot of people are still caught up in the 'me-me-me' world and have forgotten how important it is to play fairly in the sandbox we all share.

The sad thing is that this whole setting a day aside to encourage random acts may lead to another trend such as setting aside a day to donate to a charity or setting aside a day to say hi to your neighbour.

When it gets to that point, we're all in big trouble.

Letters and E-Mails Received This Past Week

To The Editor;

Upon reading a Penticton news paper, it was brought to my attention that November 7th was deemed by the powers that be, to be "Random Acts of Kindness Day".

Living in Princeton on any given day I see random acts of kindness. People in local drive-thrus anonymously paying for the following vehicles order, at the checkout at local stores when one person is short of change, the customer behind offering to balance out the bill, helping seniors with their mail at the post office and when I was ill last year, friends would drop by with soup or a lunch and best of all, a visit to brighten my day.

Thank you Princeton, you lovely town for being here for me. We don't need a specific day to be kind to someone.

explores new date

The annual general meeting of Princeton Rodeo Club was held October 23. There was a poor turnout to the meeting, but the former Board of Directors was returned with Ken Crompton as President again.

The year end financial statement showed a loss for the year of just over $5,000, $3,000 of which was a loss for the rodeo itself. This is not to say the rodeo was not well done: the rodeo show was good, but revenues were down and expenses were more than anticipated. Sponsors were as generous as usual. Some money owed to the Rodeo Club has not yet been paid.

The concession made a good profit of $1,773, and the beer garden brought in a profit of $1,914. This amount would have been higher, but the costs associated with the band were paid from beer garden revenues. Admission charges brought in $7,427, with over $6,000 on Saturday, indicating once again that the Saturday is the favourite day to attend.

The problem of poor attendance on the Sunday is attributed to it being on Mother's Day. The club ... continued on Page 19

Ebola: Part of A Web of Evil

Dawn Johnson editor@thenewsleader.ca

With all of the talk about Ebola, I decided I should find out more about it. I discovered it is closely related to HIV and a fever called Marburg. Marburg is a hemorrhagic fever which was named after an outbreak of the disease in Marburg, Germany at the CSL Behring plant. Employees of this bio pharmaceutical company were accidentally exposed to infected grivets. Out of 31 people infected, seven died.

Ebola is much more deadly. Until 1976, nobody had ever heard of it. An outbreak in a village along the Ebola River in Zaire left medical experts without any treatment solutions. Even traditional African healers and herbalists in the Ebola River area had never seen nor heard of this hemorrhagic fever. What I found out next just blew my mind.

Bioweapons expert Jeanne Guillemin, who is a Senior Fellow at MIT, wrote a book called

Biological Weapons: From the Invention of State Sponsored programs to Contemporary Bioterrorism. She is quoted as saying a Dr. Wouten Basson undertook a project which developed biological agents such as "anthrax, cholera, Marburg and Ebola viruses"!

I promptly looked up Wouter Basson and got a lot more than I bargained for. Basson was hired by the South African government during apartheid under President Botha to find out what kinds of chemical and biological weapons other countries had. His search morphed into setting up a project to produce such weapons, in violation of an international agreement not to produce such weapons. To avoid discovery, Basson set up dummy companies: Delta G. Scientific C., Roodeplaat Research Laboratories, Protechik and Infadel. Infadel was split into D. John Truter Financial Consultants and Sefmed Information Services.

In 1990, under President de Klerk, Basson was ordered to cease the project and destroy all products of the project, including the illegal drugs Ecstasy and Mandrax. In 2013, Basson was found guilty of "unprofessional conduct" following a five year investigation. According to witnesses at the trial, Basson had been involved in drugging and poisoning anti-apartheid activist prisoners.

Daan Goossen, Director of Roodeplatt Research, testified that the company had been involved in research to find a way to introduce contraceptive medication into blacks without their being aware of it. It was all part of a way to maintain white supremacy in South Africa.

In my research, I came across a connection with an American, Dr. Larry Ford, an American alleged to have connections to Project Coast, the biological warfare project headed by Dr. Wouter Basson. Ford, who was a physician working in Irvine, California, was under investigation for alleged improprieties with female patients. He committed suicide rather than being arrested, but left information stating there were things in his house that would be interesting. Detective Victor Ray and a team of police clothed in HAZMAT suits went to Ford's home and found buried assault weapons, vials of pathogens (tetanus and C. Difficile) and documents linking Ford to neo-Nazi groups. In addition, they learned Ford had been funded by Wouter Basson at one point.

I went to a site called FTR #324 and read a transcript of a radio show called For The Record, an independent radio broadcast in California, You should read it.

Posse beat Knights...again

Princeton Posse hosted North Okanagan Knights October 18th for their second match in the Similkameen Valley in four nights. Princeton blanked North Okanagan 3-0 on October 15th.

The Saturday night game saw no scoring in the first period although the Posse had out shot the Knights 14-7. Ryan Pereverzoff of North Okanagan scored the first goal of the game at 1:08 of the second period. Christopher Motoska earned an assist on the play.

Princeton tied the game at 13:36 when Kyle Bergh snapped in a shot off a pass from Connor Sloan. Trevor Pereverzoff was credited with the second assist.

The Posse took control of the period taking the lead on the power play at 11:02. North Okanagan's Austin Fournier had just been sent to the penalty box to serve two minutes for 'Closing Hand on Puck' when Princeton's Trevor Pereverzoff scored the goal.

Assists went to Colton St. John and Eden Dubchak.

Princeton extended their lead to 3-1 when Keith Comte added a goal at 7:42. Cody Lassiter was credited for helping with an assist.

Then at 6:46 the Posse bagged another goal (Kyle Bergh from Thomas Cankovic and Connor Sloan).

Princeton's domination extended into the third period with Goal #5 at 18:11 scored by Thomas Cankovic. Kyle Bergh earned a point for helping.

North Okanagan managed to capitalize on a power play with Thomas Cankovic serving an Interference call. The Knights score their second goal of the night while Cankovic's penalty was just about finished.

Austin Garrington was credited with the marker with Dryden Profeit earning an assist.

The Knights fought back scoring again at 12:30 (Logan Geefs from Ryan Pereverzoff) but could not mount a complete comeback.

By this point emotions were running high and at 11:47 North Okanagan's Mitchell Lukacs and Princeton's Craig Thompson went toe-to-toe, Both left the game with five-minute fighting penalties and Game Misconducts.

Final score: Princeton 5, North Okanagan 3. Shots on Goal: Princeton 27, North Okanagan 22. Penalties in Minutes: Princeton 7 for 25-minutes, North Okanagan 6 for 23-minutes. Princeton went 1 for 3 (33.3%) on the power play while North Okanagan earned a 25% stat going 1 for 4 in the same category.

were lured into the ideology of white supremacy or other radical ideologies. We as Canadians must remain resolved in the defence of our democracy and not allow fear to grip us. If we allow fear to take over then these cowards who attacked us win because they want us to live in fear. They want us to change the way we live. They want our government to take our liberties from us. We cannot allow this to happen. We will not allow this to happen.

Stand strong my fellow Canadians. Stand proud that we as a nation still stand here today free. Although we may have been bloodied, we as a nation stand united behind one cause, freedom. We as a nation will defend ourselves. We will shed tears, but when this is over we must stand as we were before this happened. This does not mean that we must not remain on guard, for there are people out there who would see harm done to us, so there will be times when we will need to fight to defend ourselves, but this does not mean that Canada will not remain the True North strong and Free.

Saddles 'n' Spurs

by Pastor George Donovan

Our ranch was on Houseman Road off the Forest Grove Road and a mile or two further there was an old log school house. It was quite visible from the road and in not bad shape for it's age. The logs were all in good shape, the roof leaked but I never paid a whole lot of attention to it.

One day I decided to go check it out. As you know I built log houses so I thought it would be interesting to see the type of construction. At a closer look I noticed that every corner of the rectangular building had a different style of notch.

I tried to picture this out, there obviously had been four different people working on it and they must have had their own idea of what was the best notch for the corners. There was dove tail, round notch, saddle notch, and Norwegian notch, all good notches but obviously very different.

I tried to imagine these men as they built it, were they just trying to show different styles without argument or maybe there was some fighting over which was the best. It really didn't matter because it had held up for so long, it was well done.

One day my wife and I went out there and took an old school bell and some kids and took a picture of her ringing the bell and the children running into the school.

I offered the photo to the town paper with some comments. It wasn't too long after that someone set the old building on fire so I was glad we got that neat photo.

The lowly Swede turnip (rutabaga) was once considered a food fit only for European peasants and livestock. It was a staple food of farmers and of their cattle and pigs, largely due to it being one of the easier crops to grow in a cool, moist climate. Had the richer folks known the nutritional value of turnips, they may have stopped looking down their noses at it and started enjoying it themselves.

Living Past 100

Think Turnip When You Catch A Cold

The yellow flesh of the Swede turnip is loaded with Vitamin A, the vitamin that protects the mucus membranes, such as those in the nose, mouth and throat (there are loads of such membranes in the body).

Vitamin A can be found in all red, orange and yellow vegetables and fruits. Turnips also contain Vitamin C, a known anti-virus agent.

Many people do not like the taste of a Swede turnip, but this may be due to the way it is cooked. Just boiling it and serving it 'as is' will not be appealing. Sprinkle cooked turnips with a little brown sugar and stir in some butter and you have a very tasty vegetable. Mash together cooked carrots and turnips with some butter, salt and pepper, and you may find this dish becomes a family favourite.

In the New York City area, turnips are prized as a way to stop the common cold. At the first sign of sniffles, old-fashioned mothers feed their families a special turnip soup. Here is the recipe: One box of chicken broth, 1 unpeeled Swede turnip, 3 unpeeled carrots, one red onion, 3 cloves of garlic. Chop vegetables fine, boil until soft, and serve. This should get rid of the cold with one serving, but if it does not work in 12 hours, give another Serve Swede turnips at least once a week to help reduce cholesterol and prevent constipation. To reduce the colour of a bruise, apply a poultice of grated raw turnip. Eating chunks of raw turnip once a week is believed to be a good old-fashioned way to clean teeth and massage gums.

How to Put on a Pirate Show in Princeton...in Ten Weeks

I am continuing to see great strides of progress being made in regard to the Crimson Tine Players' upcoming pirate Christmas production. The October 23rd rehearsal started with light stretching and vocal exercises conducted by Music Director Leanne Atkinson of which I participated in just to get a sense of what was going on.

The warm-ups were necessary as the evening's rehearsal was targeted at parts of the play that had dancing and singing in them.

Director Rhianfa Riel made the cast go over two different scenes repeatedly making suggestions along the way to assist with the flow of movement and positioning of each actor in the scenes.

I asked why the back-to-back repeats and Riel told me it was so the cast could "get the blocking down."

For those who don't know what that means, it's a general term used to describe the small hand and body gestures, actions and placement of everyone in a scene. For example, for a part of a scene that involves saying good night to an actor playing the role of a child, Riel fine tuned where each participant in the scene stood, where they moved and if they were leaving the scene, where and how to do that after interaction with the 'child' actor. In this case, kissing the actor goodnight, tucking them into their bed, sitting on the side of the bed for conversation and any other natural activity that would happen in any other family home.

All of this was worked out with timing meant to hit particular lines and statements. It's no wonder the three minute scene was repeated several times as there was a lot for everyone to remember in addition to lines.

In Riel's words, "Practice makes perfect," and clearly the little nuances were being picked up each time the scene was redone.

The bulk of the evening rehearsal was a big step for actors and first-time Choreographer Layne Robillard. Robillard had put together a series of dance moves for the 'pirates' to follow during their big song and dance routine. Everyone on stage paid attention to her every word and when a couple of the moves proved to be a bit more complicated for some of the actors, a lot of collaboration took place and Robillard was able to improve changes that will make this part of the play look quite professional and polished.

Meanwhile, I became a target.

Riel left the Director's chair to "test some props" with Stage Manager Dianne Rainer, which piqued my interest. Without giving away the details of why a couple of props were being tested, I was the 'test dummy' used to verify that the prop indeed did as advertised. I was also part of a discussion that revolved around fake snow which reminded me of the conversation I had prior to this rehearsal with Brazilian Rotary Exchange Student Rui Ferreira da Silva who had told me he has never seen snow other than up in the hills as it doesn't snow in Brazil.

If you were to ask me what stands out most about the progress I have seen since following this production I would have to say I'm most impressed with the passion each and every member of the cast and crew is showing for this event.

We are truly blessed to have so many people willing to be a part of such a small theatre group and volunteer their talents to entertain the rest of us. No one gets paid for anything related to this or any other production but still plays are produced and still there are some people in the community who continue to complain that there is nothing to see or do in Princeton.

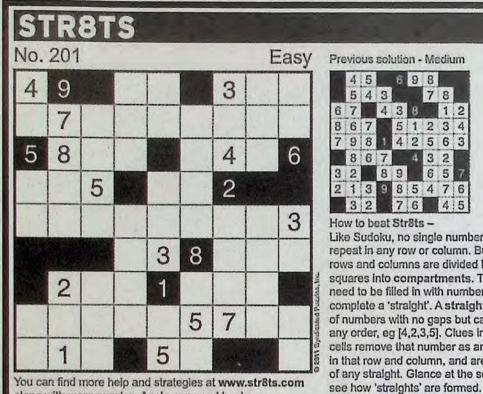

I understand that live theatre may not be your thing. It isn't really something we rush out to see ourselves in our home, either but we have a great deal of respect for the driving force of volunteers in Princeton and support as many as we can through discounts on advertising in our business, Back to the play. There still is no Santa Claus.

And, no, it won't be me although they keep trying to convince me I'd be perfect for the role. They have no clue that I am naturally not a jolly fellow. By the end of rehearsal it sounded like I may have succeeded in dodging that bullet.

Like Sudoku, no single number can repeat in any row or column. But ... rows and columns are divided by black squares into compartments. These need to be filled in with numbers that complete a 'straight'. A straight is a set of numbers with no gaps but can be in any order, eg [4,2,3,5]. Clues in black cells remove that number as an option in that row and column, and are not part of any straight. Glance at the solution to

Highway 3 Improvements

ICBC Says Fatalities Dropped 50%

Fatalities on Highway 3 have been reduced by approximately 50 per cent from a decade ago, thanks to ICBC's road improvement program, in partnership with Ministry of Transportation and Infrastructure and RCMP.

In the five-year period after ICBC's High Risk Corridor program for Highway 3 (Hope to Princeton) was established (2008-2012), eleven people were killed in crashes, compared to the previous five-year period (2003-2007) when twenty people were killed in crashes, according to police data.

The High Risk Corridor program—part of ICBC's road improvement program—was established for Highway 3 between Hope and Princeton to address fatal crashes and consists of representatives from ICBC, Ministry of Transportation and Infrastructure, RCMP, BC Coroner's Office and road maintenance contractors.

ICBC's Paul de Leur and Mike

Weightman received the 2014 Transportation Association of Canada (TAC) Road Safety Engineering Award for their work on reducing crashes on Highway 3 (the Hope-Princeton Highway), as well as their work on another highrisk corridor, Highway 1 (Fraser Canyon).

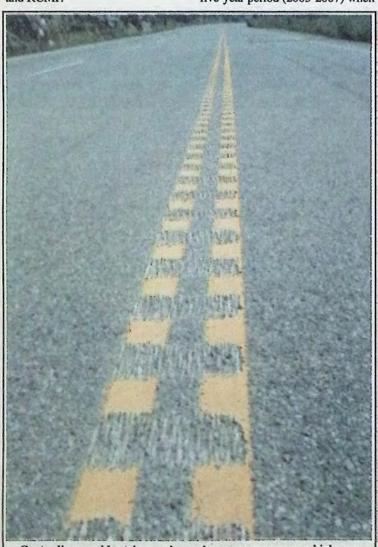

Key improvements on Highway 3

• Engineering – centerline and shoulder rumble strips, new passing lanes, improved passing lanes, LED chevrons and speed warning signs, speed reader boards at high-risk locations and curve delineation.

· Enforcement – increased enforcement targeting speeding, additional resources for alcohol and drug checks, and focused enforcement on aggressive driving in high-crash locations. Enforcement signage also added.

• Education – all agencies communicated the hazards of the corridor to general public. – submitted

Centre line rumble strips are becoming more common on highways throughout British Columbia as a safety measure. - photo submitted

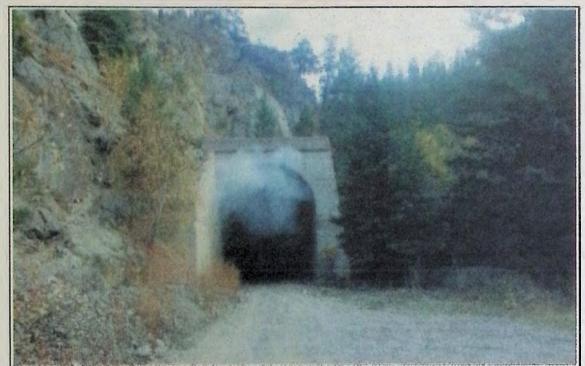

Another high risk area identified along the Hope-Princeton Highway was the approach to Whipsaw Creek Bridge.

Additional speed warning signs were installed as on of the educational tools used by ICBC. - photo submitted

HOSHI SUDOKU - About The Puzzle

Sudoku - also known as "Number Place" - is a logic-based, combinatorial number-placement puzzle. The aim of Sudoku is to enter a number from 1 through 9 in each cell of a grid, most frequently a 9x9 grid made up of 3x3 subgrids. Each row, column and region must contain only one instance of each number. This Sudoku variant is called "Hoshi Sudoku". It contains six large triangles. The numbers 1 to 9 must be placed into the cells of each large triangle. Every line of any length - even uncontinous - must contain every number not more than once.

The wheels of progress for the Town of Princeton are controlled by this roomful of officials representing the interests of local taxpayers.*

Saving Downtown Princeton...

...An Ongoing Series by George Elliott

I've been trying to hold off on writing this particular column thinking another week would change my feelings about what I want to discuss.

It hasn't.

The volume of discussion that circulated around town and online over the past few months regarding changes needed in the community in order to attract business and new residents has been staggering at times. I have been amazing and somewhat impressed with the various unique and inspired ideas that I have heard. I was pretty pleased to hear/read that locals were not relying on recycling the same four or five ideas with hopes of someone latching on to one or two and running with them.

The potential of greatness existed and with a municipal election looming on the horizon the time seemed right for new, fresh ideas to propel newcomers onto Town Council to push our community boldly into the future skipping over roadblocks and blazing a trail that would force other British Columbian communities to stand up and take notice. I fully expected the election campaign to be full of realistic, attainable goals rather than pie-in-the-sky dreams. I expected to hear reports coming from outside the Similkameen Valley with the statement of "What happened to Princeton? We Can All Learn From Them."

Instead, we are still whining about deer, marmots, empty store-fronts and the price of gas.

Where were all the loud, outspoken members of the community who were preaching to anyone who would give them a 'LIKE' that they were going to bring about change in our community? What happened to the plans of an apparent 'slate of candidates' representing the business interests of Princeton?

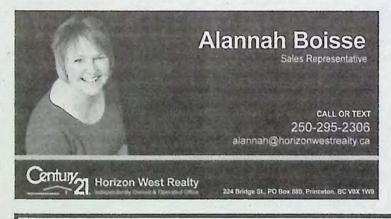

I'd like to think they are still out there, hiding in the shadows, plotting their moves in and around the coffee shops preparing for their assault at the end of the new four-year term. The reality is that those who were doing the talking were not prepared to do the walking. It's okay, I understand. Four years is a long time to spend doing something that may not achieve the goals desired as fast as most of us want them to be achieved.

My point is that while I'm very disappointed the vocal minority did not even file paperwork for the municipal election, I am still glad to see some new blood on Town Council, even if they won their seats by acclamation.

In my mind, winning by acclamation is like kissing your sister.

The upside to the way the nonvoting election went in Princeton is that there remains a great deal of consistency on our Town Council. The benefits of this are many. The major plus is that the learning curve part of the job is already under the belts of three of our elected officials. The newbies won't slow down much of the process as the wheels of the bus are already and are still turning. Another plus is that the majority of our Town Council is already recognized by peers in other communities and at higher government levels. The 'getting to know you' stuff has been done and things like UBCM and SVPS meetings are not spent trying to get up to speed with where things are.

The newbies will have to attend what I have always called 'Alderman School' but when theycontinued on Page 20

Carol Ruoss

March 15, 1943 - October 22, 2014

Carol passed away peacefully on October 22 at the age of 71, in Princeton General Hospital with loved ones by her side. On the wings of angels she has been called to the open arms of her loving husband Peter, her son Petey, her Mom and Dad, and many more family and friends, who she has greatly missed for a long time. She leaves behind her daughter Susy (Pat), her grandson Brady, Dani who has been an amazing friend and a support, Carrie aka Weezie, Sister-in-laws Gemma and Assunta (Willie), Brother-in-law Alfonz, and many cousins including Mary and Evie, nieces and great-nieces and nephews. For those of you who knew Mom, you know she has never been the same since Dad died three and a half years ago.

Please know that she thought of you all often but couldn't bring herself to connect anymore, as life was not worth living without her true love by her side. He was her strength and support and it comforts me to know that they are now together, dancing, laughing, holding hands and watching over us.

There will be a Celebration of Life to be announced at a later date. In lieu of flower, donations can be made to the Hayley Huff Fund, Children's Hospital, or Breast Cancer Research (these were all causes that touch her heart).

To Heather, you are and have been like a mom to me and I am so blessed to have you in my life. Knowing that you are just a phone call away gives me comfort. Thank you for being you and always being

Council teaches anatomy of a rollover

Weyerhaeuser with the support of the Logging Contractor Safety Committee is sponsoring a course called Anatomy of a Rollover through the B.C. Forest Safety Council.

If you drive for a company or organization as part of or all of your occupation, the law considers you to have a greater standard of care to drive safely and defensively. Criminal courts have established that professional drivers have a greater standard of care when operating vehicles. Bill C-45 has created corporate criminal liability.

Organizations have always had to deal with civil liability (fault) and the torte process in civil courts. Bill C-45 has established a specific section within criminal negligence that imposes criminal liability upon an organization. As a result, directors, managers, supervisors and other persons in authority within an organization can be charged criminally. An organization must take reasonable steps to prevent bodily harm to employees and/or any other persons arising from work conducted by the organization.

Anatomy of a Rollover (AOR) is a dynamic presentation designed specifically for any driver who operates a heavy commercial vehicle, as well as for supervisors and fleet managers. The presentation focuses on the dynamics of a rollover and the five specific causes. Each contributing factor is discussed and drivers are given the tools/knowledge to prevent rollover type incidents from happening to them.

Advantage Fleet Services Inc.(AFSI) has developed the AOR presentation to deal specifically with logging truck rollovers.

Council presents anatomy of a rollover the disruption to traffic. Large commercial vehicles are not designed to be on their sides and offer limited protection to the driver when not on their wheels.

The saying "keep the rubber part down and the metal part up" came from the transportation industry and was specific to rollover-type incidents.

There are many different configurations of trucks that have been approved over the years and are still currently being used in the transportation of both long and short logs.

It has been shown through detailed analysis that a log haul professional driver with 30 years' experience will never haul the same load (dynamically) twice. It is critical that the loader man and the driver work together to build the best load possible to improve overall stability during the transportation process. Topics include:

- Dynamics of a rollover
- The five causes of rollover
- Specific case studies with supporting physical evidence
- Importance of load securement and the dynamics of various loads
- Tire and road surface considera-
- Incident examples

Rob Marshall of Weyerhaeuser Princeton told the News Leader last week, "Our expectation is that all contractor principles, log truck owners, log truck drivers, plow operators and loaderman working for Weyerhaeuser will attend at least one of the sessions." The Princeton session will take place between 1:00 and 4:00 PM Thursday, October 30 at Riverside Centre.

Rodeo Club explores date is seriously looking at changing the date to the third weekend of June. The club decided to apply for that date, providing rodeo personnel hired for the rodeo are available.

Despite the loss this year, the Rodeo Club has enough in reserve to be confident of being able to hold a rodeo next year if the same level of sponsor support is maintained.

Little Britches is eager to have their rodeo in Princeton in 2015. No date has been assigned to it yet.

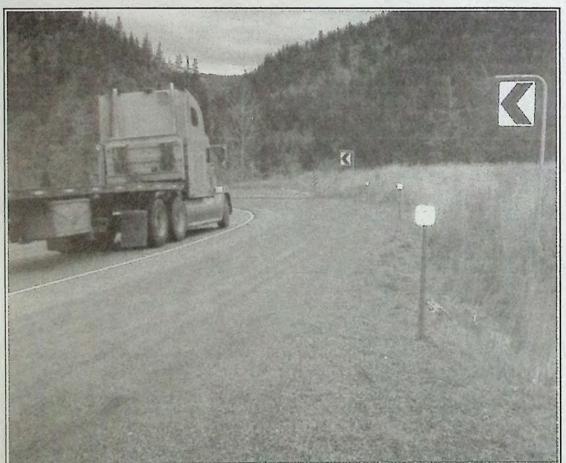

Members agreed to hold two Best Butt contests in 2015 in conjunction with the rodeo. There will be a Ladies Best Butt and a Gents Best Butt. Volunteers will be needed to assist Dawn Johnson in putting on the contests.

Bob Lind has a new idea for the rodeo, but he needs more information before proceeding. He will be looking for a committee to help him. If his plan goes ahead, it will make the rodeo a lot more exciting.

Entertainment for half time is under consideration. Members will be looking for suitable entertainment.

The next meeting of the Rodeo Club will be at the call of the chair. President Crompton says he hopes to call it for sometime during the month of December.

Delineation on high risk corners have been one of many improvements conducted on Highway 3 recently.

PXA takes a look ahead

Members of Princeton Exhibition Association (PXA) had a long meeting October 21. Much of the meeting involved a review of work done and events held during the past year, but the members discussed plans for the winter and projects for spring. The PXA is the Board of management for Princeton's fairgrounds complex. Lyle Thomas, Town employee responsible for recreation and cultural activities, attended the meeting, and is expected to be part of future discussions as the fairgrounds complex is now part of the Town recreation plan.

Following the annual community Halloween party, the west end of the complex will be shut down for the winter. The east end, containing the barns and the major indoor arena, will see more activity. President Paul Bedard said winter bookings are well underway for barn accommodation. Stephanie Antonick offered proposals for activities for the indoor arena. Members were pleased to hear there are plans from the Princeton Riding Club for utilization of the indoor facility. Princeton Riding Club has nearly 100 members. A fun event will be held November 2 with a fee of $10 per participant.

Motor sports

PXA members have given approval in principle to Bill Allinott to hold a motor sports event at the fairgrounds on Labour Day weekend 2015. President Bedard said there is adequate room at the west side of the infield for two 200 foot mud racing pits, but the demolition derby would ideally be held in the rodeo arena. He said the plan would be to scrape off the existing sand cover of the rodeo arena during the demolition derby, then put it back in place and groom it after the event. He met with representatives of Princeton Rodeo Club who appeared to be in favour, but planned to discuss the matter with all members at the Rodeo Club annual general meeting.

Halloween party

Jennifer Bernard reported everything ready for this year's community Halloween party. This party is hosted by Princeton Rodeo Club, food at the concession stand is donated by the PXA user groups, and other expenses are covered by the Town and local business and industry. Bernard said she has doubts as to whether there will be more Halloween parties in the future, as there are so few volunteers to help with the set-up and clean-up. Emergency services personnel and other community members volunteer during the event, but there is a six-week lead time during which only three or four people come out once or twice a week to do all the work required.

AGM

The annual general meeting of Princeton Exhibition Association will be held November 18 at 7:00 PM at the library conference room. Dues are $5.00 per year and new members welcomed. A poll of present members indicated positions on the Board of Directors will be filled.

Saving Downtown Princeton...

......continued from Page 16 are doing that, the business of running the town will continue without interruption thanks to the solid office staff already in place.

Town Council meetings will continue to flow without a lot of delays and by the time everyone is comfortable with the new faces on Town Council progress will have still taken place and the four year term will be just about over.

While I am stunned that more people did not seek election to Princeton Town Council, and those of you who complained so bitterly in my office, on the street and online about the apparent ineptness of town council are the ones who dropped the ball – not our elected officials.

Like them or not, we are going to have to accept them and work with them.

The newbies also deserve credit for jumping in with both feet to get involved and possibly have some influence on change.

How does this save downtown Princeton?

The best thing about not having an actual election campaign means none of us had to listen to election promises and try to sort out fact from fiction. The new Town Council gets officially sworn in in December. They will be in the driver's seat for the next four years — possibly the most important four years in the future of our community.

You can bet they will want to make Princeton a better place for all of us and when those changes start to take place they will involve the downtown core. It won't be fast, but by the end of this four-year term there is a very good chance none of us will recognize Princeton.

Hopefully it'll be because the changes resulted in growth and prosperity.

Clocks fall back this Sunday

Before going to bed on Saturday, November 1, remember to "fall back" by setting your clocks back one hour. (The exceptions to DST are Arizona, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and American Samoa.)

Credit for Daylight Saving Time belongs to Benjamin Franklin, who first suggested the idea in 1784. The idea was revived in 1907, when William Willett, an Englishman, proposed a similar system in the pamphlet The Waste of Daylight.

The Germans were the first to officially adopt the light-extending system in 1915 as a fuel-saving measure during World War I. The British switched one year later, and the United States followed in 1918, when Congress passed the Standard

Time Act, which established our time zones. This experiment lasted only until 1920, when the law was repealed due to opposition from dairy farmers (cows don't pay attention to clocks).

During World War II, Daylight Saving Time was imposed once again (this time year-round) to save fuel. Since then, Daylight Saving Time has been used on and off, with different start and end dates. Currently, Daylight Saving Time begins at 2:00 A.M. on the second Sunday of March and ends at 2:00 A.M. on the first Sunday in November.

Clock 'spring ahead' again 2:00 AM on Sunday, March 8, 2015 and 'fall back' at 2:00 AM Sunday, November 1, 2015.

LUMP OF COAL REPELLENT!

Remember hearing the story about the kid who found a lump of coal in the bottom of his Christmas Stocking? Sure, for a long time you didn't believe it could be true but then one year you were quite certain you were going to be that kid. You did just about anything possible to avoid the dreaded lump of coal. You went to bed early. You did all your homework. You cleaned up your room. You took out the garbage. You washed your dishes. You even washed behind your ears at bath time. There was no way Santa's spies were going to be able to pin that 'Naughty' label on you and leave you with nothing but a lump of coal in your Christmas Stocking.

At JamBusters we can relate to that having seen our share of coal - always at someone else's house, by the way - so we created a way to prevent you from ever seeing coal again in your life. We have just come out with our Christmas Tubes! Fill them with up to three of
