Canada We acknowledge the financial support of the Government of Canada through the Canada Periodical Fund of the Department of Canadian Heritage.

From left, Ed Reichert, Marg Reichert and Rod Dixon display one of two medals and certificates they were presented November 14th at Tulameen Community Hall. The trio received the Governor General of Canada Fire Services Exemplary Service Medals for 20 years of loyal and exemplary service to public security in Canada PLUS the BC Fire Commissioner's BC Long Service Awards for 25 years of dedication to the Fire Service. Keeping these awards 'top secret' for the past few weeks proved to be a challenge and was the highlight of the evening which featured a dinner to recognize all the dedicated volunteers who make up the Tulameen Volunteer Fire Department.

Copper Mountain Mining Corporation (TSX: CUM) (the "Company" "Copper or Mountain") announced November 9th third quarter revenues of $63.7 million after pricing adjustments and treatment charges from the sale of 21.9 million pounds of copper, 7,800 ounces of gold, and 65,300 ounces of silver. Total cash cost for the quarter ended September 30, 2015 was US$1.72 per pound of copper sold, net of precious metals credits.

- Revenues for the third quarter of 2015 were $63.7 million from the sale of 21.9 million pounds of copper, 7,800 ounces of gold, and 65,300 ounces of silver, net of pricing adjustments, bringing nine month revenues to $192 million from the sale of 61.8 million pounds of copper, 21,700 ounces of gold, and 224,700 ounces of silver, net of pricing adjustments.

- Adjusted EBITDA was $14.7 million for the quarter; and $48.5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2015.

- Adjusted earnings were $2.0 million for the quarter; and $9.8 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2015.

- Cash flow from operations was $4.7 million for the quarter; and $18.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2015.

- Cash on hand at the end of the quarter was $18.5 million.

- Mine production continued at a mining rate of 160,000 tpd moved during the quarter.

- SAG mill achieved an all-time monthly throughput record of 39,100 tpd during the month of July and averaged 37,400 tpd during the quarter.

- Site cash costs for the quarter were US$1.21 per pound of copper produced net of precious metal credits, a reduction of 11% over Q2 site cash costs.

- Total cash costs for the quarter were in-line with expectations at US$1.72 per pound of copper sold net of precious metal credits and after all off-site charges, a reduction of 5% over Q2 total cash costs.

On Thursday, November 5 the Tulameen Community Club held a General Meeting in the Town Hall. In attendance was Sgt. Barry Kennedy of the Princeton RCMP and Sandra Boltz, Branch Manager for Westland Insurance. They fielded questions regarding the new laws for off road vehicles (ORVs).

Sgt. Kennedy stressed that the new registration was mainly put in place to curb the number of ORV thefts. He stated there is a big industry in

- Realized prices on metal sales for O3 2015 were US$2.39 per pound of copper, US$1,118 per ounce of gold and US$14.70 per ounce of sil-

Jim O'Rourke, President and CEO of Copper Mountain, remarked, "We are very pleased to see another consecutive quarter of mill throughput improvements that have been made possible by the addition of secondary crushing. During the quarter the mill achieved a record quarterly average throughput of 37,400 tpd, 7% above our design capacity of 35,000 tpd. The 39,100 tpd average mill throughput achieved in July provides management encouragement for further improvements. We continue to focus on maximizing production while minimizing all costs. Recent modifications have provided further gains and we are confident these gains are sustainable."

stealing ATV's and snowmobiles. The registration is mandatory as of November 1, 2015. It is not required if a vehicle is used ONLY on private land; however, Sgt. Kennedy advised to get it in case a vehicle was stolen. Registration will help identify it and return it to the rightful owner should it be recovered.

. The new regulations state acceptable, standard helmets MUST be worn when driving or riding on an off road vehicle. If the quad has seatbelts, they must also be worn. Lights must be used in low visibility conditions and 30-minutes before sunrise and 30-minutes after

Children are permitted to drive on Crown land but must be supervised and be riding an appropriately sized ORV.

There are two different types of ORV plates: red and blue. Red plates are restricted to farming, law enforcement, highway maintenance and snow ploughing. No permits are needed to cross highways or travel on highways within 100 m of where the driver is going.

Blue plates (what most will have) require special permits. Permits are needed for EACH crossing and for EACH ORV. Permits can only be issued by the RCMP of the appropriate jurisdiction where the ORV will be travelling (in this area that is the Princeton RCMP office). ORVs .. continued on Page 7

During the quarter, the company completed four shipments of concentrate containing approximately 21.9 million pounds of copper, 7,800 ounces of gold, and 65,300 ounces of silver to Japan for smelting and recorded revenues, net of smelter charges and pricing adjustments, of $63.7 million. The total cash cost of copper sold for the quarter ended September 30, 2015 was reduced to US$1.72 per pound of copper net of gold and silver byproduct credits as a result of ongoing cost cutting measures taken at the mine site.

During the quarter the Company continued with mining ore mainly from the Pit #2 area where a majority of ore will be mined from for the balance of 2015. At the same time the Company continued with the Phase 3 pushback on the west side of Pit #3. During the quarter the Company received approval from the BC Government to incorporate the Virginia and Oriole deposits into the mine plan. Mining from the Virginia area has commenced with overburden removal, while the Oriole deposit will be incorporated into the mine plan once the Virginia pit is completed. Management is now planning on first ore delivery to the concentrator from Virginia in December as a result of the delay in receiving the mine permit amendment that was submitted to government last October. Both of these deposits will provide small volumes of higher grade ore that will be blended into the mill feed. Copper head grade for the year will average about 0.33% copper or approximately 0.41% copper equivalent. During the quarter a total of 14.7 million tonnes of material was .....continued on Page 7

Flip Of The Coyne

by Spencer Coyne

After a long conversation with an old friend the other day I started thinking about politics, all politics from group politics to national politics. We all have our own definition and feelings about what politics is but really it boils down to the practice of influencing others. This got me thinking of the people behind the scenes because what you see on the surface is never all there really is when you are talking about politics and politicians. There are always those people who stand behind the curtain who wield the power and influence of those at the top. When I was more involved in the local political arena I would meet with a MLA or an MP and they would talk the talk, but after the meeting I'would talk to an 'assistant' who would provide or take your information. These assistants are not always what they seem. Some of them really influence the actions of the MLA. I liked to refer to these people as the MLAs' handlers. They were always there to assist the MLA with the meeting and keep them on point, but really they were there to make things happen and keep the MLA from saying things that they couldn't take back.

Thinking about those power players who hide behind curtains, you can't help but think about the public bureaucrat. There are many who are amazing people and do their jobs and serve their communities, province or nation, but then there are those who serve their own interests. You hear this all the time, the story of the power-hungry bureaucrat who does what he wants and the politicians seem to let it happen. We hear more about it in the United States than we do in Canada, but I think that is because we are a more passive people than our American cousins. We don't get angry like they do south of the border. We write letters before we make a stink about something. It is something to think about. These puppet masters who end up controlling the elected officials, to whom are they supposed to answer?

These types of actions are not exclusively restricted to government. They happen all over the place. Even in community or service clubs there are those who will be the face that represents the group and there will be the head of the snake hiding in the grass, controlling the actions of the group's leader. I think we have all heard it said, the line about so and so who "pulls the strings." This usually means that there is a puppet master hiding behind the curtain.

It is sad that these sorts of things happen, especially in a democratic institution. The public puts its trust in elected officials to think and act independently so they will work for the community they serve, but when they are controlled by some hidden agenda, it erodes the public trust in the political process and delegitimizes the democratic process. You can only hope that when someone tries to act as the master of puppets that there will be those who know it is wrong and that they will honour the public that they serve and cut the strings.

This makes one think of Pinocchio. All he wanted to be was a real boy, independent to do as he wished. Maybe if these politicians had the same aspirations we would see an end of the puppet masters ...continued on Page 8

My Turn...

Having A Blast

You ever notice how many earth tremors occur in and around Princeton? One earthquake recording site I looked at last week showed there had been nine different quakes in the past month with the closest one measuring just 0kilometres from town.

Oh, and they have a very unusual pattern.

For some reason these quakes only take place between 2:15 and 2:30 PM.

Okay, I know we aren't talking about 'real' earthquakes as each of the tremors listed for the past month are described as an 'explosion' and they range in magnitude from 1.7 to 2.3 on the Richter Scale.

To give you an idea of what that really means, tremors measuring 2.0 and less fall under the 'micro' category and are "not felt or rarely felt" however, they are recorded by the highly sensitive instruments known as seismographs.

In fact, one website describes an earthquake of 1.5 as having the "seismic impact of a typical small construction blast" with the TNT equivalent recorded at about 2.7-kilograms.

What makes this series of micro earthquakes interesting is that they are coming from Copper Mountain Mine, in case you didn't already put together that the blast schedule there is typically every few days at between 2:15 and 2:30 PM.

Ever since they started blasting Princeton has shown up on earthquake websites all over the world. In some cases the cause of the micro tremor is identified as a "quarry blast" but rarely are they considered unidentified.

The website I was looking at last week was curious in that the location of the past nine explosions recorded in the past month were in eight different locations and not a single one was anywhere near the Copper Mountain mine site.

This is probably what is confusing people into thinking we are on an active tremor bed I would imagine. What I find particularly unusual about the series of locations listed (ranging from 0 to 6-kilometres south, north-northeast, south-southeast and north-northwest of Princeton) is that if the recording equipment is so sensitive and technology exists to pinpoint locations within feet with GPS that these micro earthquake locations are not better identified.

The closest seismograph station is in Penticton. It has been recording earth tremors since January 1, 1960. From what I could tell from the specifications outlined on the website detailing the Penticton recording station, it is rather high tech compared to other sites in Canada.

What does all of this mean?

Beats me.

I guess I find some comfort knowing that Princeton is showing up on international radar for something other than bad news. Because, let's face it, bad news is typically all people outside of this area hear about our community.

For a change it's earthquakes identified as explosions and I'm quite okay with that.

Yes little one, I have reserved a page for you.

When we brought you to the vet because you had problems with your hair in the rear of your body we thought it was just a question of getting shaved.

You travelled in a cage we call 'pet taxi' and meowed all the way. That was the kind of distress you felt but we had to do something.

After your examination by the vet, we were told more tests would have to be done: the hair on a short haired cat does not normally deteriorate in that way unless there is a problem with some inside organs. Moreover, arthritis from old age might prevent you from cleaning your fur since you could not reach that far in the back.

You wandered about the room trying to find a place to hide. When you could not find a place to hide, you went back into the 'pet taxi' on your own. Having found a familiar location, you were quiet once more and I could see your cute little face through the grill of the cage.

Since we could not afford the cost of the treatments, that was the last time I saw you.

You were the most intelligent cat I have ever known, always enquiring and trying to figure out new challenges to your comprehension

Within a few weeks, you were the second cat we lost. At fifteen years of age we hope you had a good

Even the vet was surprised it was your first visit.

Current Comment

Songs Can Makes History

Dawn Johnson editor@thenewsleader.ca

A couple of weeks ago I watched a documentary on the life of a famous folk singer, Pete Seeger. It was the second time I had seen this documentary, first on PBS, then on Knowledge Network. The documentary was worth seeing twice because Pete Seeger made history with his songs. In addition to bringing back memories of times I lived through, there was more significance to the songs than just listening to old folk songs.

Unlike so many of today's popular songs, it was the socially significant words that made the impact of his songs so powerful. Often, the words of songs are less important than the tune, but revising and updating the words to fit social conditions of the time was a hallmark of Seeger's work. When the young and old of a nation begin singing songs whose words call for change, history is made.

Pete Seeger's career began with trade union gatherings where he sang old songs about the lives of workers. A song, 'Sixteen Tons,' became a hit song. Here are some of the words: "Got up one morning I was feeling fine, picked up my shovel and I walked to the mine. I loaded 16 tons of number nine coal."

and the straw boss said 'well, bless my soul.' I loaded 16 tons and what do I get? Another day older and deeper in debt. St. Peter don't you call me 'cause I cain't go. I owe my soul to the company store." Those simple words resounded with workers everywhere, whether they mined coal or worked on the docks or for a railroad company, they knew the life and reality of what the song described.

Because Seeger went to trade union rallies and supported the workers, he was labelled a Communist sympathizer, anti-American, and a subversive agent. The FBI watched his every action, even going through his household garbage trying to gather concrete evidence he was engaged in treasonous activity. He was brought before Congress and asked to swear a loyalty oath. He refused on the grounds it was un-American to ask him to do so.

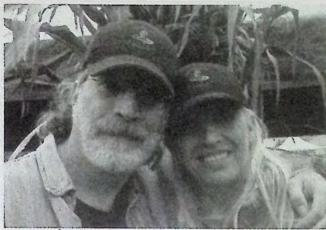

Seeger happily jumped from the frying pan into the fire of social justice issue during the American civil rights movement. He sang "If I had a Hammer" and the nation sang with him, despite the fact that he was not invited to television and radio shows. He was blacklisted from major media for 17 years! Anyone who lived in North America during the civil rights crusade will remember the impact of thousands of people standing with their arms linked, singing "We shall overcome." Pete Seeger did not write the words, it was an old song, but he introduced it to students on campuses across the U.S.A. and he sang it in coffee houses. These were songs of faith, hope, and protest against injustice. In the end, they did overcome.

The war in Viet Nam brought Seeger into a new kind of cause, and some new songs were sung with words that expressed the feelings of so many young Americans: they did not want to go to war. Songs such as "Where Have all the Flowers Gone?," "Big Muddy" and "Turn, Turn, Turn" raised the awareness of the public. One song, "Bring 'em Home," contained these words "I won't fight for oil, and I won't fight on foreign soil, Bring 'em home, bring 'em home." This was a direct call to bring American troops home from Viet Nam, as well as words of support for those who refused to go to Viet Nam. In another part of the song, Seeger states he would fight to defend his homeland, making clear the principles which led him to oppose the war in Viet Nam.

Pete Seeger played a banjo and led an army against what he saw as wrong or misguided actions or policies of his nation. He was eventually honored by President Bill Clinton.

It is amazing what a song can do if people understand the words and feel the cause is right. Songs like these still work. Before the recent federal election, I watched the music video by Blue Rodeo titled "Stealin' All My Dreams," a song of protest against Stephen Harper's Conservatives. The song spoke of so many of the issues Canadians had raised over actions and policies of the Harper government. The song was in the tradition of Seeger, Buffy St. Marie, and so many other musicians who had used songs to overturn injustice. I commend Blue Rodeo for their song, and I hope it is the beginning of more such songs being sung. There is absolutely nothing as powerful as words of protest set to music. When the tune is right and the words are right, the song takes on a life of its own and it makes history.

CMMC announces Q3 results

mined, including 5.4 million tonnes of ore and 9.3 million tonnes of waste for a strip ratio of 1.73:1. The mining rate at the end of the period was in the range of 160,000 tonnes per day moved.

Mill throughput from the concentrator continued to improve month-over-month, averaging 37,400 tpd during the third quarter, which is an improvement over Q2-2015 and about 7% above design capacity of 35,000 tpd. This improvement included an average throughput of 39,100 tpd for the month of July, thus providing management with the confidence that the budget rate of 37,500 tpd is very achievable on a consistent basis. The increase in throughput is directly attributable to the installation of the permanent secondary crusher and mine site management's ability to optimize the crushing and grinding circuit.

During the quarter the mill processed a total of 3.4 million tonnes of ore at an average grade of 0.33% copper to produce 20.4 million pounds of copper, 6,300 ounces of gold, and 64,900 ounces of silver. Sag mill availability was 93.4% during the third quarter and copper recovery averaged 82.4% which was in line with the Company's plan. Throughout the quarter management remained focused on cost reduction and capital discipline.

Exploration activities at the mine site during this period of low metal prices were minimized as part of the mine cost reduction plan. A relatively small, 4-hole, 1500m, diamond-drill program was undertaken to test for mineralization in an area immediately to the south of the Virginia deposit. The drill-hole locations were planned to test for the potential extension of economic mineralization. No economic mineralization was encountered in the area adjacent to the southeast end of the Virginia Pit. One hole was extended to test the area below the Virginia deposit for high-grade underground minable mineralization. Assay results are not yet complete but visual inspections suggests that no economic mineralization extends to depth and at this point no further drilling is planned for this area.

A second drill program has recently been initiated to test the continuity of mineralization through the upper part of the saddle zone (the area between Pits 2 and 3). The results from this drill program will provide the infill drill data for mine design.

About Copper Mountain Mining Corporation:

Copper Mountain's flagship asset, is the 75% owned Copper Mountain mine located in southern British Columbia near the town of Princeton. The Company has a strategic alliance with Mitsubishi Materials Corporation who owns the remaining 25%.

The Copper Mountain mine commenced production in the latter half of 2011, and has continued to improve its operations since startup. The 18,000 acre site has a large resource of copper that remains open laterally and at depth. The mine has significant exploration potential that will need to be explored over the next few years to fully appreciate the property's full development potential. Additional information is available on the Company's web page at www.CuMtn.com.

Virotherapy: Latvia's Gift to Cancer Patients

After years of research, Latvian physicians have developed a cancer treatment with no side effects. A virus is injected into the patient's body. The injection contains no chemicals that would be detrimental to the human system. The virus targets cancer cells and kills them.

Although this is not a cancer 'cure,' it has proven far more effective than the typical surgery-chemo-radiation scenario that has been used in North America for the past several decades. Survival rates are at least double that of traditional treatments. Many patients in Stage 4 cancer have recovered and lived for many years.

First used to treat patients with melanoma, a very dangerous form of skin cancer, the Latvian treatment, called Rigvir, has been used effectively to treat cancers of the lung, stomach, colorectal, prostate, uterine, and a few types of sarcoma. Even pancreatic cancer, considered fatal in all cases, has been successfully treated in Latvia.

You can look into this treatment by searching Rigvir on internet. There is a great deal of information available, including the fact that Rigvir is an accepted treatment for melanoma in most member states of the European Union. You will also find, if you search 'biotherapy,' the street address, phone number, fax number and email address of the treatment center.

Rigvir treatment is free to Latvian residents. Non-residents must pay for their treatment. Treatment costs vary according to the cost of medical assessments, tests, etc. Expect treatment to be very expensive.

There is a North American contact for freatment. Search the net for Hope4Cancer and you will find all kinds of information on how to contact, and the site offers other information. There is no promise of any sort of cure. In Latvia, people from 40 nations have been treated with virotherapy. The North American Hope4Cancer center began using virotherapy just over a year ago. Hope4Cancer offers other treatments in conjunction with Rigvir. One physician in Latvia, who did not have cancer, decided to take Rigvir to see what the effect would be. In three days, his immune system had become much stronger. This is the major side effect of Rigvir - it stimulates the immune system.

needed to cross at unmarked crossings (ie: where the KVR crosses the Coalmont Road). Permits are only valid for the uses an operator applies for. They are not blanket permits for everywhere. You do not need a permit to drive on Crown Land, Forest Service Roads, private property, or cross at a marked crossing (ie: stop light or stop sign). Permits are valid for TWO years. Operators are instructed to keep the permits with the vehicle when driving as proof of License plates and insurance are not required to move an ORV on a trailer or in the back of a pickup when you are moving from private property to private property. If you unload in a parking lot, the operator must have a valid plate and insur-

Sgt. Kennedy stressed that the goal of the new regulations is to curb thefts and prevent "yahoos" from wreaking havoc and causing damage with their ORVs. He stated the RCMP will not be hiding behind trees and setting up check stops to bother responsible drivers. He did state that if there are problems at an event, the RCMP will be reactive and the following year will have a presence at the event to prevent repeat incidences.

The response of those in attendance at the meeting was positive and it appeared everyone was satisfied with the new regulations. It is obvious that the concerns of citizens regarding children driving ORVs and driving along the shoulders of roads was heard and, in accordance with the worries, the regulations were modified.

Legion ladies face busy season

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion Branch #56 are looking at a busy season ahead with catering, selling fruit cakes, gift baskets, a meat draw on November 29, and their own Christmas party on December 8.

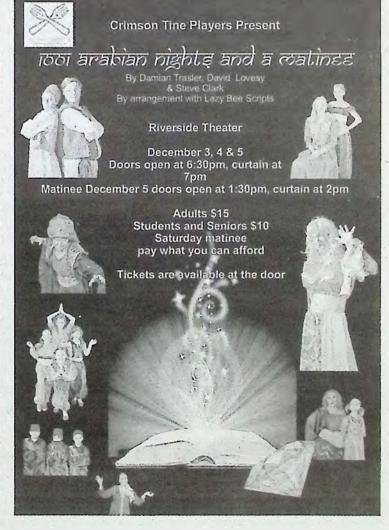

Money earned by catering and other fundraising activities go toward providing funds for many benefits to the community, the Legion, and veterans.

The Ladies Auxiliary has donated $200 toward a Christmas party and gifts to veterans living in a care facil-

On Remembrance Day, they presented the Legion with new carts used for catering.

The members who took to the street on Poppy Day raised $747 for the Poppy Fund, thanks to the generosity of local people.

There will be a break in activities during the Christmas holiday, then the Ladies Auxiliary will participate in the Installation and Honours and Awards night on January 15 with a potluck supper at the Legion Hall.

Arts Council presents Art Walk

On Saturday and Sunday, November 21 and 22 Princeton will be treated to a self-guided Art Walk encompassing six venues. Several of the venues will have handmade art and fine craft available for sale, making this a positive Christmas shopping experience.

Starting with Kathy Schneider's brand new studio at 296 Bridge Street, Red Post Art will feature The Show of Small where the expression "Small is Beautiful" has particular significance. Three local artists join Kathy in her opening exhibition and celebration. They are Sue Delatour, Johanna Nott and Merrilyn Huycke who will also be exhibiting paintings, printmaking, jewelry, pottery and handmade books.

Just across from the Town Square, at 105 Vermilion Avenue, you will find the Sunflower Art Gallery, run by Princeton Community Arts Council. This venue features a good selection of favourites as well as new works by local artists. There are wearables, greeting cards, paintings, photography, sculptures, jewelry as well as books by local writers.

If you will cross the street and walk down to 140 Vermillion Avenue, Ruth Kavanaugh will be in her home studio which will be open for visitors. Here is your chance to see a working studio belonging to a well-known artist who has been painting since she was in grade school. Her depiction of local landscapes are instantly recognizable.

The next stop will be at 162 Vermilion Avenue. There you will find Shirley's Arts and Crafts, a cornucopia of great ideas and lessons for anyone interested in learning a new technique. This is another true working studio! Shirley's workshop has just about everything under the sun that you would need to do a painting, make a ceramic piece—well, just a peek in the window should inspire you to enter her shop!

Now, walk further down Vermilion Avenue, past Field's and turn right onto Third Street. If you continue walking a short block, you will come to the old Elks Hall which has been artfully spiffed up and renamed The Cosmopolitan Gallery. (This is also a venue for musicians but that's another story!) Inside the hall you will find intarsia works, a form of marquetry using inlays in wood by Corry Oerlemans. Both the building and the intarsia work will be a treat to the eyes.

Finally, a short drive over the Brown

Bridge and up to Riverside Centre, 148 Old Hedley Road, you will find an excellent photography exhibit, Impressions of the Similkameen. These are works by Margaret Fraser, Susan Jakubec and Andrew Lawrence and feature local scenes ranging in size from small to very large, photographed in a thoughtful, beautiful way.

Now you will have seen what's been going on in the Princeton Arts Scene! Grab a cup of coffee, relax and be sure to chat things up. There are more folks out there making art and crafts and hopefully, next year the Art Walk will include even more of us!

Schneider opens Red Post Art

There will be a new business in town that will be opening on November 21. The name is Red Post Art and the proprietor is Kathy Schneider, Many may know her as an artist who has done excellent watercolour portraits of several of our local citizens. She also works in acrylics and more recently, with coloured inks on a variety of substrates.

Kathy is a self taught artist who enjoys testing the different mediums, experimenting with techniques. For many years Kathy had a studio space at Riverside Centre with potter Sue Delatour and multi-media artist Merrilyn Huycke which allowed her to share ideas, materials and methods in an inspired group setting.

However, for the past several months, Kathy and her husband John have been renovating the old Similkameen Vending building, creating a wonderful space full of light and energy for her to work on her paintings, collages and drawings. Even though she has the proverbial day job, she will be working in this lovely space as often as possible. She also hopes to see other artists feel comfortable to drop in to paint, sketch or discuss ideas in a group.

Kathy is delighted to be opening her studio to the public on November 21 and 22. Best of all, she is proud to be a host for the first Princeton Art Walk, providing maps and simple refreshments on Saturday, November 21 and November 22.

Flip Of The Coyne

and a beginning for independent politicians ready and willing to serve their constituents and not those who they are beholden to. Thinking back to the United States, we see politicians raising millions upon millions to run for office.

They have to pay up when elected. They no longer work for the people but their new puppet masters. Sadly it happens all the time at all levels of government. It doesn't mean we can't dream of the day when your local politician stands up and says enough and starts acting independently from the rest of the herd and does what is best for the community he represents, when those puppet masters who want to run things without being the face of the organization decide to put their names forward to let their peers say yea or nay to their agenda.

Previous solution - Medium

How to beat Str8ts — Like Sudoku, no single number can repeat in any row or column. But... rows and columns are divided by black squares into compartments. These need to be filled in with numbers that complete a 'straight'. A straight is a set of numbers with no gaps but can be in any order, eg [4,2,3,5]. Clues in black cells remove that number as an option in that row and column, and are not part of any straight. Glance at the solution to see how 'straights' are formed.

Vermilion Forks Field Naturalists

Naturalists Visit Barcelo Falls Near Cawston

by Janis Wright, VFFN

Vermilion Forks Field Naturalists'
November 7th field trip took us to Cawston, where we hiked to Barcelo Falls and beyond. Six of us, led by Rika Ruebsaat, walked through aromatic sagebrush to reach the entry to Barcelo Canyon, a path that was covered with a layer of golden aspen tree leaves as we began our journey, and became rock-strewn as we continued.

The trail is a 4-kilometre gentle incline that runs alongside Barcelo Creek, which is but a trickle at the moment.

It took us 1 1/2 hours to reach the waterfall, a picturesque setting, despite the minimal water flow. We explored a little behind the falls, then sat and enjoyed our lunch. We needed the extra energy to climb higher, along a steeper trail that leads to grasslands and a viewpoint overlooking the valley floor to the south. On our descent we noticed a small section of volcanically created columns, where basalt has contracted while cooling, after already solidifying - this is identifiable by the characteristic vertically-hexagonal columnar jointing.

Although we were prepared for rain, we were thankful to have nary a drop. The day was dry, calm and mild, while our 4 hours on the trail were invigorating, interesting and good fun!

Feel free to join us on our November 21st field trip, when Joan Kelly will lead us on an easy walk along the KVR at Otter Lake. We will meet at Billy's Restaurant parking lot at 9:00 AM to carpool. Please phone 250-295-7743 to confirm participation, and bring a lunch.

We will have no December meeting, but our January 12th meeting will feature local archeologist, Brenda Gould, who will discuss recently found evidence of early

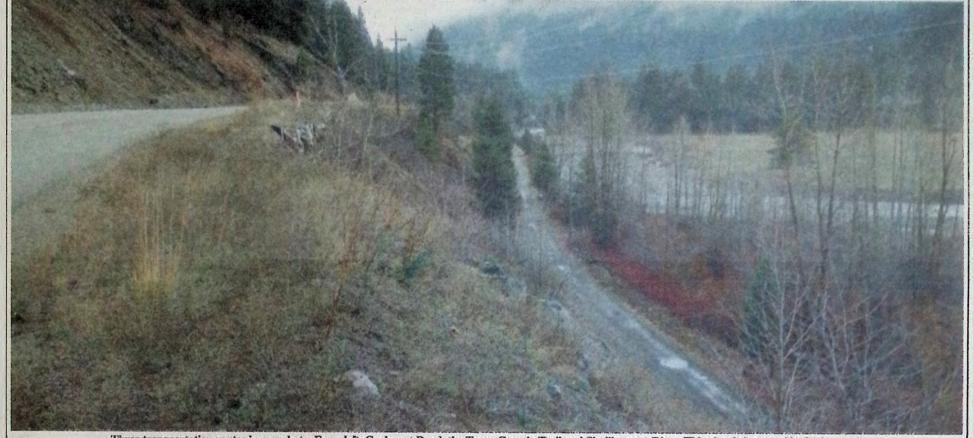

First Nations occupation at Haynes Point campground, near Osoyoos. Please view our website, www.vffn.ca for news of upcoming events and much, much more!

Saving Downtown Princeton...

...An Ongoing Series by George Elliott

I'm still thinking about the OCP. According WikiPedia an Official Community Plan is defined as, "a comprehensive plan created by an incorporated municipality which dictates public policy in terms of transportation, utilities, land use, recreation, and housing. OCPs typically encompass large geographical areas, a broad range of topics, and cover a long-term time horizon. The process of creating an OCP is today often referred to as a Community Vision."

This is exactly as I've always understood this document to be, a plan for the future.

As you already know, the Town of Princeton will be updating the current OCP at a cost of $42,500. I'm sure it's probably pretty easy to come up with an argument related to value versus cost and I am certainly not equipped to step into that pool however, I do think there needs to be more consideration placed on input from within the community.

Yes, the OCP update process has a component that allows for a public meeting for residents to have their say. Typically this occurs after a draft has been completed and I'm not sure how much influence the public has at that point.

I think Councillor Jerome Tjerkstra was on the right track when he pointed out at a recent Town Council meeting that the public should be consulted during the process. I have suggested many times in the past that (to their credit) our elected officials need somehelp. They are only five individuals carrying the weight of the day-today operations of the business of running the municipality. Sure, that's not entirely true as the municipality has people on staff to handle these things, but Town Council is the face, eyes, ears and voice of the community.

Or that's how I always thought it

So when the OCP is ready for an update, how do we get our face, eyes, ears and voice involved since the document will have a direct and indirect affect on what happens to the community and community services that you and I pay for?

Well, if Town Council represents you and me, it makes sense to me that they should be consulting with us throughout the entire process. This is what I'm pretty sure Councillor Tjerkstra was getting at. I'm not convinced that an "open house-style" public meeting after a draft has been drawn up is going to get the job done. I say this for two reasons. My first one is that I know how poorly attended these events are. It's easy to confuse poor attendance with acceptance and that becomes an issue down the road. Just ask the property owners who pushed for OCP and zoning amendments that resulted in a public hearing before Town Council on November 16th.

My second reason I've already touched on. If the public meeting is held with an OCP Update Draft already in place, who's really telling who what direction the community is going to move? At least with public consultation throughout the process, as I believe was Councillor Tjerkstra's point, when the public meeting is held the OCP Draft at that point would have had input from within the community already and poor turnout at that meeting misinterpreted as acceptance would be a fair assumption.

So, how do you and I get a chance at being part of the OCP Update?

Keremeos - Cawston - Olalla

fast charging station /illage installs valley's first E/V

The Village of Keremeos is proud to announce the opening of the Similkameen Valley's first electric vehicle fast charging station located just north of the Village Municipal Office at 702 4th Street.

This station has been installed as part of an initiative supported by BC Hydro, the Province of British Columbia, the Government of Canada and various municipal and industry stakeholders to increase electric vehicle refueling infrastructure in our Province. The Village of Keremeos has agreed to play host to one of these fast charging stations in an effort to both promote electric vehicles as a viable mode of transportation in our valley while enabling electric vehicle owners to reduce their overall carbon footprint by utilizing such infrastructure.

The station located at Keremeos is equipped with both the CHAdeMO and SAE combo fast charging standards and will be able to serve most electric vehicles including the Nissan Leaf, Chevy Spark EV and BMW i3. The Tesla Model S may also be charged at this station but will require a special adaptor. The station will be able to charge electric vehicles up to 80% in about thirty minutes time, which is significantly less compared to other electric vehicle charging stations in the Similkameen Valley and surrounding area.

Users of this station will pay for charging transactions through a pre-registered account with a company called Greenlots Sky Network, which offer a flexible station management platform through their Smartphone app. The Greenlots app is available for free download on the Google Play and Apple Stores and enables users to locate charging stations, view their availability, start and stop charging, check charging progress and pay for electric vehicle charging transactions. Customer support and any questions related to charging will be directed to Greenlots through a toll free number located on the station.

The Village of Keremeos is proud to play host to this electric vehicle charging station as doing so will support the Village's Climate Action Plan by directly reducing greenhouse gas emissions in our community. The station also has potential to increase electric vehicle tourism in our valley by connecting the British Columbia southern interior transportation corridor to an international network of electric vehicle highways spanning from British Columbia to California. We are excited to be a part of this initiative and look forward to the impact this new infrastructure will have on our community.

ORL meeting confusing to attendees

by Marty Menzies

It's almost impossible to get a hundred people in Keremeos to come out to a anything without wine and plentiful food involved but that's exactly what happened November 6th at Victory Hall.

It was a meeting called by the Okanagan Regional Library, ORL, and all of the people who arrived felt it would be a discussion...it wasn't.

It was organized 'Cafe Style.' For the uninitiated that's broken into small separate groups. Although people wanted to comment publicly, as they are genuinely concerned about the direction of the library, the ORL wouldn't allow them, so about 20 odd just went home.

Those who remained were told to jot down their thoughts on large poster size paper. The thoughts were to be on three themes, predetermined by the ORL, for 15 minutes and then they were to move to another differently themed table. Problems with this structure showed up at the second table. Our group had no idea how, or why, the terms 'hours,' 'computers' and 'washrooms' were important to the previous group. The third move showed our group two separate large sheets of paper with apparently unrelated random thoughts jotted on them. It was more an exercise in futility than, "The ORL wants to hear your thoughts..." as was stated in the first line of the paper given to about half the people attending, as they ran out in short order.

Stephanie Hall, Chief Executive Officer of the ORL, admitted the format was "not ideal" and that their previous survey, "had failed to respond to those that had filled it out." This failure to listen to the residents of Keremeos both in the survey and in the meeting has left a bad taste in many mouths. There was a much better way to deal with this, by having a Town Hall style meeting and just laying it all out on the table and talking about it, as was conducted in Princeton many months ago.

The things people wanted to comment on were a need for more computers, lack of parking, increasing hours, a larger space, the increased use of the library in the summer, and pay by use options for non-residents. None of this was debated and just ended up on a piece of paper with no one to explain these cryptic phrases left for the ORL.

Hall also confirmed a meeting between the ORL, the Village, and the RDOS in which they had all but decided on a tax increase option for our library.

Mayor Manfred Bauer said before the meeting, "We can keep our existing service if we raise taxes seven to eight dollars per household." That sentiment was argued ......continued on Page 20

Saving Downtown Princeton...

...An Ongoing Series by George Elliott

... continued from Page 16 Councillor of your choice. Contact all of them if you wish. Tell them you want to have input on the OCP and not just during an "open house-style" public meeting. You want to be a part of it from the ground floor and be included in the planning process.

Is there a part of your neighbourhood you want to see changed or left alone? That can be your contribution to the OCP. I'm sure there's people in Town Hall laughing right now as they read this but if the OCP is supposed to be a visionary tool to push the community into the future, don't you want to have a say

If you agree with what I am saying you owe it to your future, the future of your community and the future of your local investment in the community (if you are a homeowner and/or business owner) to be a part of the future changes to our community.

Start contacting Town Councillors and Town Hall saying you want to have input. If we don't act, we can't blame anyone for not listening. Clearly Councillor Tjerkstra is open to the idea. I would start campaigning with him.

How does this save downtown Princeton?

I'm more and more convinced that the OCP has everything to do with what our community becomes. Whether it turns into an industrial base, haven for entrepreneurs or a retirement community whatever format the new Princeton follows will have a direct affect on the retail/commercial core of our community. If we want changes in the form of progress, we need to get involved to help the five individuals at Town Hall who represent you and me to truly understand what you and I want our community to become.

Confusing C meeting

....continued from Page 19 by the three regional ORL employees at the individual tables as they came around to help. Even one Village Councillor stood up at the end of the meeting, after an explanation that he wasn't commenting as a Councillor, and echoed the same exact statement. The people around me commented they felt that it had all been predetermined.

To make it clear, no one begrudged a $10 a year increase for library funding. What the residents present objected to was the way the meeting was laid out without any substantial public input and no right to speak in a public forum. The meeting structure was designed to blunt the residents of Keremeos from speaking out on a very polemic topic, not as the ORL put it, "to prioritize meaningful, important and relevant ideas." It may well have been arranged just that way, considering there was a meeting between the ORL, Village and RDOS and those involved shrewdly neglected to publically tell the taxpayers present anything about their plan.

The weather was sunny and seasonal for the Keremeos Remembrance Day Ceremonies at Memorial Park. Mother Nature sent a few blasts of Similkameen Wind just as the ceremonies were winding up. When it came time to retrieve the wreaths and ceremonial crosses, most were toppled: the wire stands don't seem to stand up. One can bet the same thing happens every year in other towns and cities across Canada. Photo: Arlene Arlow

The cross-country running season has ended at PSS and was highlight-recently when Silbernagel ran in the Provincial Championships in Jericho Park in Vancouver on a cool, wet and muddy Saturday, November 7th.

Out of the 229 runners, Silbernagel finished 27th in the 5kilometre race recording a time of 19:31. As these 229 are the top runners from each zone around the province, this race is truly a best of the best. Silbernagel's time had him about 30-seconds off a top-10 fin-

Nathan has done a lot to reinvigorate interest in cross-country running at PSS and the school looks forward to seeing the program develop in the years to come.

Credit also goes to PSS staff for their encouragement and support plus training opportunities.
