municipal governing body "give. consideration to the safety of children" as the incentive to sidewalk

by Board Chair Erwin Malzer

As I mark my first anniversary as Board Chair of Interior Health, I'm looking back on the highlights and challenges of 2015. From wildfires that blazed through much of our region, to major investments in surgical care, and a change in leadership within our organization, it has been quite a year.

We saw the departure of Dr. Robert Halpenny as President and CEO and in October, we announced his successor, Chris Mazurkewich. Prior to working with Alberta Health Services, Chris was Chief Operating Services at Interior Health. It is great to have him back.

In September, we welcomed the first patients to the new Interior Heart & Surgical Centre. Located in Kelowna, this state-of-the-art facility now delivers the highest level of surgical care ever seen in the Interior. We are thrilled to offer this calibre of health care to residents from every corner of our region.

Other capital projects underway include Penticton Regional Hospital, where three shortlisted teams have submitted proposals for a new patient care tower. We expect to announce a preferred proponent in early 2016, with construction to start later that year and completion expected in 2019.

In Vernon, the top two floors of the Polson Tower, including 14 new inpatient beds, are nearing completion, while plans are also moving forward for the addition of 85 residential care beds in Vernon by mid-2017.

Kelowna is also receiving 100 new residential care beds in early 2017.

In Princeton, a partnership with Shared Care and the local Division of Family Practice has seen access to specialists almost double over a oneyear period and now spans 11 specialty areas. These specialist visits along with telemedicine support have greatly enhanced patient care.

A significant milestone was reached this year when our Board approved the Letter of Understanding with the Ulkatcho First Nation, the last of eight health agreements that create a strong partnership to improve health outcomes for Aboriginal people.

Kelowna's Adolescent Psychiatry Unit also marked a significant milestone, celebrating 10 years of specialized care for young people across the region with significant mental health, issues.

Our work to expand access to HIV testing and treatment has led to significant increases in screening for the disease. Since 2013, HIV testing in the region has increased by 50 per ...continued on Page 2

An observation shared during the December 9th regular meeting of the Board of Education for School District 58 (Nicola-Similkameen) led to a letter of request being sent to Princeton Town Council.

The issue was the lack of a sidewalk along Corina Avenue to John Allison Elementary School. As the school is K-3, the very youngest of local school students attend it. The letter to the Town will request the

This is not the first time the Board of Education has made this request.

According to Board Chair Gordon Comeau, the road is icy and the school zone is one of the largest ones he is aware of - it runs from Coalmont Road down Lapworth Street to Corina Avenue and along that street to John Allison School.

During winter and following snow removal when vehicles end up parked on both sides of Corina, a narrow passage remains that ends up being shared by both moving vehicles and children.

"It's a hazardous stretch of road," Comeau said.

Shading from the river side of Corina Avenue compounds the situation cooling the roadway to the point where black ice forms making it a dangerous place for small children on foot.

Speed bumps have been a regular suggestion from parents and local residents who claim part of the danger comes from speeding drivers. The Board of Education hopes the Town will be able to budget for sidewalks in the next round of projects slated for the public works department.

This is an exciting time in the South Okanagan and Similkameen's history as it marks a new beginning for Penticton Regional Hospital. The need for the $325 million expansion for PRH is vital. Construction will start in the spring of 2016 with completion in late 2019.

Please consider making a donation for medical equipment for the new Patient Care Tower and help us build one of the finest hospitals in BC - it's for our future.

Throughout the year I really enjoyed meeting staff, physicians, volunteers, and our elected officials. We managed to cover a lot of territory in the Okanagan including Keremeos, Oliver, Penticton, Princeton, and Vernon. These visits are a priority for myself and the CEO, and over the coming year we will visit other communities in the region.

There is much to celebrate, but we also have much to accomplish. In an effort to decrease demand on hospital and residential services, we are shifting our focus to integrated primary and community care, embracing new approaches that not only benefit our patients but also the health-care sys-

At Interior Health, every person matters and I am extremely proud of the staff, physicians and volunteers who demonstrate this philosophy every day in their dedication to quality health care. Our current board is exceptionally engaged and, for the first time, has a majority of women serving and chairing half of the board committees. I am confident that the next year will bring plenty of change for the better."

Flip Of The Coyne

by Spencer Coyne

It is Friday afternoon and the snow has been coming down on and off since Thursday and the kids are about to leave school and begin their Christmas break. Anticipation for the Big Day is in full effect. The Christmas specials have flooded the television and there isn't a shop that doesn't have Christmas songs playing. I don't know if it is the snow that has fallen or just that Christmas is only days away, but the people on the street are happy and in more of a Christmas spirit. It is really hard to be a Scrooge when you are surrounded by joyous people.

With Christmas and the new year so close it is hard not to stop and reflect on the year. George and I have been going on and on about the state of local affairs from zoning conflicts to relations with Town Hall, but more importantly George's through 'Saving Downtown Princeton,' the News Leader has been keeping our downtown area in the minds of Princetonites for over two years now. We have seen a lot of changes this year. We saw Town Hall take over the Visitor Centre and tourism which presented an opportunity for the Chamber of Commerce to focus on rebuilding who they are and step forward as a voice for the local business community. We have seen Town take on more responsibility with a change in recreation from the RDOS to the Town of Princeton. 2015 was a year of centralization and consolidation for Council. This should mean that 2016 should be a call-toaction type year for them as they now have all departments under one roof. We anticipate big things considering there must have been a master plan in place before the Town took on even more responsibility.

I hope that 2016 is the year Council surprises everyone with big announcements. Maybe they will sell off the industrial park to a developer who is going to do something up there, and at the very least be paying taxes on the properties so the services up there that cost the taxpayers each and every day are paid for. I am keeping my fingers crossed that something will happen for all those involved, both residential and commercial, on Burton Avenue. I anticipate that the Town is formulating a plan to make our downtown more attractive to new investment and that part of the Official Community Plan review is to work on zoning that allows cottage industry to incubate. This is the year we would expect these big moves to take place, or at least the ground work to be laid out so that before the term is over, Council's claim to fame won't be solely the centralization of power and moving of the Visitor Centre.

As this is the last paper before 2016, I want to look forward with optimism and hope. The City of Penticton just surveyed its community to ask for input. I would like to think that these are some of the things that our mayor is contemplating for the new year. I hope that the mayor will ask the Chamber of Commerce what could be done to help the business community in town. Maybe he will contact the Community Skills Centre and ask the staff if there was programming that they could facilitate to help Princeton become a destination rather than a pit stop. I like to think positively when looking towards a new year. It gives hope, and we could use a little of that.

Before I close off for 2015, I just want to wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a very happy and prosperous New Year.

My Turn...

Bah, Humbug!

Christmas is an odd time of year for us. It is usually a peak for business and as a result it tends to push up the stress level in our office and home.

Add to this a rather dismal year in business and you have the makings of just about anything but a Merry Christmas. I'm well aware that we are in the same boat with other residents and business owners, so I want to make that clear.

Christmas should be a happy and joyful time and once we survive the rush to finish our last paper of the year (that's right, there isn't one next week) we get a chance to de-stress and relax.

We take one week off a year. It is the week of Christmas and is the only time I get more than a day off in a row in the average year. Because this has become our annual holiday we have spent many years trying to carve out our own family tradition. Brenda and I have been together 16 years and have been married just over 11 of them. Christmas has been a time of year we have spent with family and not with family.

It is that wacky time of year where we see people around us trying to turn the season into some kind of amazing experience. In our house we don't get carried away. In fact, I am going to share with you our Christmas plans. This will be our second year of doing this.

On our first two days off we do not answer phones or the door. We spend both days on the couch, in our PJs and under covers in front of a DVD player that runs all day. We have snack food within arm's reach. The third day we get mobile. We may go for a short drive or just go outside for some fresh air. The fourth day is much the same.

We do not prepare a big turkey dinner because it's just the two of us. Last year our Christmas Dinner was home made (by Brenda) cabbage rolls. We had leftovers to last most of the week. We do not decorate the house, put up a tree or exchange gifts because each of those activities present stressful situations we don't need to add on top of the work/year-end stress.

What I look forward to the most about our unusual Christmas Tradition is the fact that I get to spend it with my best friend. I'm selfish at Christmas as I do not want to share her with anyone else. We may spend most of every day together but it's different when you work together and share a life together. So when I get a chance to just be with her without deadlines looming in the background, I jump in with both feet.

On Day Five I'll probably be back in the office because a week off to me is not a week. Brenda may come back to work by Day Twelve or Fifteen. That's okay because she needs much more of a break than I do.

I hope that if you are working over this holiday that you do find some time to pause and be thankful for whatever has come your way over the past year. Good or bad, everything has a reason. I also hope 2016 is a good year

And with that I wish you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy 2016!

This Is The Best Time For Christmas

Dawn Johnson editor@thenewsleader.ca

There is a lot I don't like about Christmas, but the things I like best are the things that bring light. Christmas comes at the darkest time of year, and anything that makes it brighter is a boon. I can easily appreciate why, in ancient times, the winter solstice was celebrated with four days of bonfires, torches and candles, as well as hot food and hot drinks. The sun seems to stand still on winter solstice for four days. Then each day is a minute longer, giving us hope spring will come again.

I really hate the darkness of winter, so I enjoy all of the Christmas lights. I would be in favour of having bonfires all around town, but that would not sit well with the air quality regulations. I do like bonfires!

In addition to the dark of winter, we have cold. We have to bundle up, plug in the car, idle it to warm it up before going anywhere, then scrape the ice off the windows. This whole procedure is a pain you know where, so the fun of Christmas kind of relieves the pain.

Some people like to complain about the pain of spending money at Christmas time. I do not find that a pain as I like giving gifts. I am not rich, so my gifts to others are not expensive. I shop for Christmas gifts all year so I do not have to go through a big Christmas shopping expedition just when the weather is coldest. Besides, I really hate shopping. The only nice thing about shopping at Christmas time is the wonderful window displays and instore displays. They are bright and lively and often very beautiful, lifting the spirits.

Researchers say we should incorporate bright, warm colours into our homes in winter, as these colours lift our spirits. Christmas time is good for that. We put up a tree with shiny objects on it, sparkling tinsel, and we decorate with red, white and green. Often, people decorate with gold and silver ornaments, and bright red flowers. These bring light and brightness into our homes, and on the outside of our homes. I really like the way some truckers put big red bows on the grill of their truck, making a jolly statement of colour amid the drabness of winter.

Researchers say we should try to add bright warm colours to our wardrobes, too. Red and white are great for that, but so are yellow, pink, orange and lime green. We tend to wear too many dark clothes in winter, as if winter were not dark enough already! For safety's sake, we should be wearing bright yellow outer clothing because yellow catches the eye first, before any other colour.

Adding poinsettias to home decor is a really nice touch, too. I like to see homes with fake poinsettias on the doorstep and wreaths on the doors. They brighten up the winter.

Really, Christmas couldn't come at a better time of year for us northern folk. We live in so much darkness during the winter so we appreciate anything that lights up or brightens our lives at this dismal time of year. It is not just Canada where this is true. Most of the Christmas traditions we enjoy come from northern regions. Swedes make ice candles and put them along driveways and walkways to light the night. In Belgium, there are candles or small lanterns in windows. The lighted Christmas tree originated in Germany. Evergreen wreaths date back a thousand years in northern Europe, originating with pagan solstice celebrations.

This year, make your Christmas a time to dispel the darkness of our winter, to add brightness to our lives, to add warmth and kindness to the way we behave. This is a time of hope and renewal, a time to put the world right and appreciate the best things of life: those we love, family and friends.

I wish you a bright, warm, happy Christmas season, and the very best of good fortune in the new year.

Princeton Garden Club

by Doreen Poulsen

Just a quick update on what's been happening in our club recently. We changed our meeting place to the Arts Council meeting room at Riverside Centre. We meet most months on the third Tuesday at 1:00 PM. We are accepting new members and the club has grown quite a lot lately.

On December 1st we met a fellow members house. Our President George Harry gave us a wonderful demonstration of how to prune a young Locust tree. Everyone was allowed to give it a try. Last year the demonstration was on a very mature apple tree. We try to have these hands-on outings occasionally to learn how to actually maintain healthy trees and gardens.

After the demo we where treated to two types of home made soups, hot drinks and goodies by Jean and Frank Turner, thanks for the amazing lunch.

On December 15 we had a great potluck Christmas gathering at my home. We have many plans for the new year so if gardening is in your soul or if you just want to learn more or meet new friends join us on January 19th at Riverside. For more information give me a call at 250-295-1577.

Merry Christmas and a Happy Gardening New Year.

Municipalities. Each successful local government receives up to $20,000 to help undertake a variety of activities that address the needs of older residents from setting public policy to delivering information and services.

For the 2016 grants, communities were encouraged to consider projects that focus on accessibility, elder abuse prevention, dementia and non-medical home support.

Applications were reviewed by a committee from the UBCM and the provincial government. To date, age-friendly community planning and project grants have funded 268 projects in 142 local governments in all areas of B.C., totalling $5.25 million.

Princeton Health Care Steering Committee

by Edward Staples

On Tuesday, December 15, the Princeton Health Care Steering Committee (PHCSC) held its monthly meeting at Princeton General Hospital. The meeting was attended by representatives from the Town of Princeton, Area H (RDOS), health care practitioners, Interior Health, BC Ambulance Services, and Support Our Health Care (SOHC). The meeting was chaired by Area H representative, John Akerley.

As part of the Steering Committee's Community Outreach initiative, Heather Eriksen, Executive Director of the Princeton Family Services Society, was this month's invited presenter. She gave an overview of the many programs and services provided by the Society:

The Community Worker Project is a pilot project that assists family physicians with their patient's nonmedical needs. Funding for this important program is through the South Okanagan Similkameen Division of Family Practice and United Way.

Community Action Program for Children provides a warm and inviting place for children to learn to play and share with others. This program is open Tuesday through Thursday from 10:00 to 2:00 at the Family Place located at 56 Kenley Avenue. Pre-natal classes are also offered by the Community Nurse on Thursday morning.

Child Youth Special Needs supports children with special needs that are referred through the Ministry for Children and Family Development.

Children Who Witness Abuse program offers one-on-one counseling for children who have witnessed abuse.

Infant Development Program provides a consultant who works with infants (ages 0-4 years) and their parents on a therapy program requested by their family physician.

Protective Family Services Program offers family support workers to assist children and families where needed.

Safe Homes Program helps mothers and children who feel unsafe and need to leave their home. This program provides safety while appropriate resources are identified to help families make better choices moving forward.

Stopping the Violence provides one-on-one counseling for adults who have experienced violence and abuse in their lives. This program is funded by the Department of Justice.

Eriksen concluded her presentation by stating that, "there are twelve staff members providing these services and we work together as a strong team."

She also emphasized that, "all of the programs offered by Family Services are free of charge."

John Akerley thanked Heather for her presentation and Susan Brown summed up the feelings of the Committee by stating, "I knew about these programs, but I wasn't aware that they were all available in Princeton."

Karen Reader, BC Ambulance Unit Chief for Princeton, and Susan Brown, IH representative, gave an update on the Community Paramedicine Program being prototyped in Princeton. The training program is being developed and Reader is working with various groups to identify the areas where service is needed. It was suggested that the monthly Interagency meeting, organized by Princeton Family Services, might provide valuable information to BC Ambulance Services as they develop their community plan.

Dr. Ella Monro reported that last week the laboratory services at Princeton General Hospital went through an assessment program conducted by Interior Health aimed at collecting information on the sustainability and retainability of services to our community. Dr. Monro said that it was a "very positive experience."

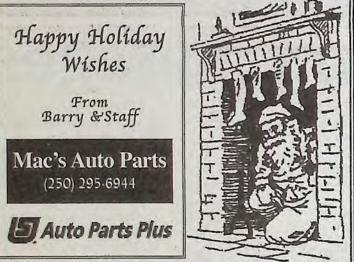

She pointed out that the biggest challenge for rural remote communities is the chronic shortage of trained laboratory professionals.

"There's just not enough trained people to fill the need," stated Monro.

Susan Brown reported that the Princeton Telehealth initiative is moving ahead with a focus on three speciality areas. Tele-dermatology provides assessment by skin specialists with a rapid three to four day turnaround. Tele-respirology focuses on the diagnosis and treatment of diseases of the respiratory system. The main challenge to overcome in this specialty area is doctor-to-patient followup. This part of the pilot program will be trialed in the new year. In the final specialty area, tele-maternity will identify one expectant mother who agrees to work with one of the family physicians at Cascade Clinic to initiate a trial program.

The next meeting of the Steering Committee is scheduled for January 19, 2016.

matches

The Princeton Posse hosted two afternoon home games recently and ended up 1-1 as a result. The first match, December 13th against North Okanagan Knights, ended up with little action on the scoreboard but a lot of activity in the penalty boxes.

The Knights scored first on the power play at 9:53 of the opening frame. Credit went to Cameron Welch with assists going to Mitchell Lukacs and Jack Berger.

The Knights pummeled Posse goalie Stephen Heslop in the first 20-minutes out shooting the home team 17-1.

The second period showed a lot more parity with Princeton trailing by just one shot (11-10) and tying the game at 1-all at 15:53 with a short handed goal scored by Drew Carter. He had help from teammates Joshua Dickson and Bradly Palumbo.

The third period was also more evenly matched on paper with Princeton just out shooting the Knights 7-6.

North Okanagan ended up winning the game with a tie-breaking goal at 5:49 (Mitchell Cobbett from Cameron Welch and Scott Latwat).

Final Score: North Okanagan 2,

Princeton 1. Shots on Goal: North Okanagan 34, Princeton 18. Penalties in Minutes: Princeton 13 for 59-minutes, North Okanagan 11 for 44-minutes. The Knights went 1 for 8 (12.5%) on the power play while Princeton was unsuccessful in 8 tries.

The second match was December 16 against Summerland Steam.

The Posse scored first at 10:35 of the first period. The power play goal was credited to Joshua Dickson who had help from Keith Comte and Connar Peers.

Princeton added a second goal with 3:04 left in the period. Keith Comte got the point with Morton Johnston earning an assist.

Summerland out shot Princeton 13-8 in the first 20-minutes but it was all Princeton according to the scoreboard.

The second period saw the home team continue to make their shots on goal count with Morton Johnston grabbing Princeton's third goal of the game at 11:54. Linden Gove and Matthew Monk both received assists.

The third period saw Princeton only get two shots on the Steam net, but that was all they needed as they scored with one of them. Keith Comte earned the goal at 12:47 with help from Kirt Fortney and Connar Peers.

Final Score: Princeton 4, Summerland 0. Shots on Goal: Summerland 45, Princeton 17. Penalties in Minutes: both teams tied at 8 for 32-minutes each. Princeton was 1 for 5 (20.0%) on the power play with Summerland having none.

The last game of December for Princeton will be December 31st at home against North Okanagan.

Previous solution - Tough

How to beat Str8ts --Like Sudoku, no single number can repeat in any row or column. But ... rows and columns are divided by black squares into compartments. These need to be filled in with numbers that complete a 'straight'. A straight is a set of numbers with no gaps but can be in any order, eg [4,2,3,5]. Clues in black cells remove that number as an option in that row and column, and are not part of any straight. Glance at the solution to see how 'straights' are formed.

Saving Downtown Princeton...

...An Ongoing Series by George Elliott

I've discussed often over the past twelve months the things Town Council has been doing - often pointing out the good - but here's a twist for you. What have you been doing to help move Princeton into the future?

I hear a lot of comments in an average day about there being nothing to do here.

Spencer and I have debunked that myth more than once and have actually listed a number of the activities that currently are available to be enjoyed. There really is a lot going on and I think there is a possibility of a theme coming from that which could be adopted by Town Council for Princeton.

Let me explain this a bit better.

The community has always been loosely promoted as a recreational playground. There is no doubt that this is a fact when you consider the offerings in each season of the year. If you don't believe me you need to look a bit harder at the pages of the Leisure Guide published quarterly by the Town of Princeton.

With this 'recreational theme' already in place, how would you promote it?

I think that instead of trying so hard to attract people to Princeton over the next little while we need to engage with those already living here. I think there is potential for a stronger push in making Princeton a healthy community through the promotion of recreational activities.

I mean, think about it, we have just about everything we need to do that already within the community and surrounding area - except maybe an aquatic centre.

So now that I've said that, let's toss that into the mix.

I look at the small Keremeos Recreation Centre whenever I drive by it on Highway 3A. I know it does not look like much is going on there but have you ever been inside? We were given a tour about a year ago and I had no idea it had so much inside. Sure, there's no swimming pool (there is an outdoor one in Memorial Park in downtown Keremeos) but there is a lot of other attractions.

The list includes a small bowling alley, meeting rooms, weight rooms, climbing walls, social areas and more. Call it a healthy place all under one roof

Princeton has some of these things already, and I would never suggest amalgamating them all under one roof, but maybe its time I took another look at a recreation centre (with a pool) instead of an aquatic centre (with other stuff).

Maybe we all need to consider what something like this can do for our community. At the very least it could attract some more investment. Possibly some of the staff working at the mine or mill who only rent in town and live elsewhere may be inspired to bring their families to town.

When the Town of Princeton stepped up over two years ago to bring local business people together to work on ways to improve the community I remember CAO Rick Zerr coming up with the very simple, yet attainable goal of "increasing the population to 5,000." We're talking the population within the Town of Princeton Town Limits and the fringe area of a few kilometres of that.

I think there are enough commuting employees coming to Princeton already to help bring that number a bit closer to reality and hopefully there is a spin off that adds to that momentum.

I see 2016 as a real big year for Town Council and this is why: supposing they have spent a good part of their first year in office developing relationships and planting seeds, the second year should see some of these things geminate and grow. The third year should see some harvest. Naturally there should be some harvest in Year 2, but Year 3 should be huge. Or at least that's how I see it.

Here's how you get to play a part in moving Princeton into the future.

Start thinking about what these changes can do for the community. Talk to your neighbours, friends and co-workers. See if anyone in your circle would find a recreation centre (with a pool) something that would be of interest to him or her. If you do, tell Town Council. If we don't tell them what kinds of things we want to see in our community we can't really blame them for doing something else. We all have to get engaged with moving our community forward as we can't wait for it to happen on it's own.

How does this save downtown Princeton?

I'm not sure why things fizzled with the regular meetings of local business owners. There was a buzz for many months that just eventually died once summer arrived. Maybe this function could be resurrected by the Chamber of Commerce to get the ball rolling. If they do, business owners also need to get engaged in the process to support the Chamber.

I sincerely hope for good things for our community and business core in 2016. Possibly actively turning Princeton into a community of healthy living may play a role in saving the community and injecting life into downtown.

Keremeos - Cawston - Olalla

After a week delay the students of Mrs Johnson's grade 5 SESS class finally got to step on the ice at the Keremeos outdoor skating rink. Unseasonable warm temperatures and rain caused a delay to the start of the season at the rink. What makes this facility so unique is that it is completely dependent on the weather which determines opening days and length of skating season. Photo: Marty Menzies

Keremeos - Cawston - Olalla

Fruit trees of today are spaced much closer than they used to be and modern fruit trees produce a lot more fruit per cubic metre of tree. McGill University's "Ecological Agriculture Projects" website http://eap.mcgill.ca/CPTFP_7.htm states: "Correct training and pruning are essential for early production, sustained high yields, optimum fruit quality, and efficient management." The online resource advises that the wood of an apple tree competes with the fruit: "The woody tissues of the tree compete with the fruits for the products of the leaves, and excessive vegetative growth is made at the expense of the fruits." In addition, the shade from an adjacent apple tree plus the shade within an apple tree must be carefully considered: "A layer of fruit and foliage on the outside surface of the tree receives a high proportion of the available light far in excess of tree requirements. A second layer further down has adequate light, and a third layer or core in the center of the tree has insufficient light for the production of quality fruit. The solution to greater productivity lies in eliminating the unproductive area of inadequate light, which will improve the overall efficiency of that area of the orchard occupied by a tree." Other factors are soil types, and drainage, and grass, and fertilizers, and pollination, and pests, and weather... Photo: Arlene Arlow

The unknown artist is back! Although the 2014-2015 winter was void of artistic touches to the waterfall on Highway 3A, we are already blessed with water-based art this year. All we can do is wait and see whether more colours will be added to the icy tapestry. Photo: Arlene Arlow
