

Margaret Lubiak

It's the highest calling any of us have in life: making the world a little brighter because of the way we paint out days and hours and months and years.

We all miss you.

You were light of our life.

Love from your family

